A. Morton, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson, Toronto; Mrs. Edith Craig, Brighton; Mr. D. C. Plumpton and Miss Vera Plumpton, Codrington; Miss Florence Hill, Peterborough; Miss F. Taylor, Toronto; Mrs. William Steinkrauss, Peterborough; Miss Violet Steinkrauss, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Gorslin, Picton; Mr. and Mrs. W. Nelson, Picton; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Webber, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. H. Carr, Morganston; Mrs. Ella Plumpton, Morganston; Mrs. G. Alcomb, Peterborough; Mr. Adam Livingston, Oshawa; Miss Grace Ingram, Peterborough; Miss Vera Donaldson, Peterborough; Mrs. A. Carr, Morganston.

Miss Kathleen Oake, Port Hope, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bygott, Sepastopol Street.

A. MacLean Haig, Toronto, is spending the week-end with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Haig, Saskatoon Avenue.

Miss Zita Rellis, Toronto, is visiting relatives in town over the week-end.

Carl Maguire, Toronto, is at home for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hay were in Stirling yesterday on the occasion of their forty-first wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Louis Cox and daughter, Miss Bessie Cox, Gainsboro, Sask., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, Rannie Street.

Mr. A. M. MacDonald attended the convention of Ontario Horseshoers in Trenton on Friday afternoon.

Mr. Ed. Mostoff, Montreal, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nadoo, Inkerman Street.

The four-piece orchestra which dispensed the music at Community Hall on Saturday night was the most popular this season, if the number of dancers may be taken as an indication of popularity. It is understood that if suitable terms can be arranged, this orchestra will play at this pavilion during the entire season. Their initial appearance did much to increase their favor in the opinions of the dancing crowd.

PRIZE SPEECH IN CONTEST

In 1792, Hastings county was formed by proclamation of Governor Simcoe, by which proclamation Upper Canada was divided into nineteen counties, the eleventh being named Hastings. The proclamation, although very interesting to those belonging to the respective localities to which the various sections refer, is too voluminous to quote at length and so we give only the section as recorded belonging to the County of Hastings.

Hastings county is bounded on the east by the County of Lennox, on the south by the Bay of Quinte until it reaches the eastern line of the river Trent, then along this river until it intersects the rear of the ninth concession; then by a line running north, sixteen degrees west, until it intersects the Ottawa or Grand river, then descending along this river until it meets the westernmost boundary of the County of Addington.

Hastings county is comprised of twenty-four townships, the southern of which are adapted for agriculture and dairying, the northern part characterized by rugged, rocky hills, forests and numerous lakes. The scenery attracts many tourists in the summer, as the fresh water lakes are teeming with fish of all kinds and many beautiful cottages dot the shores. Mineral deposits are being developed and the marble from the Bancroft section has taken a very important place in our parliament buildings.

Pulpwood and lumber are being exported in great quantities from the northern part of the county, and dairy products are not equalled anywhere, and so, citizens of Hastings, there is a very bright future for this county and with the educational advantages which we have in our schools and descendant of a progressive race of people as we are, why should not the county have a bright future as the greatest asset of any county are the girls and boys such as you and I.

Therefore I will close my remarks with the hope that we will all do our part nobly in whatever vocation we may be called upon to fulfil.

UNDERNOURISHMENT is not peculiar to the poor. You've seen children who live in luxury as sickly, actually as mal-nourished as street urchins. Because it's not how much food you eat that decides the energy and health of your body. It's what kind!

You must choose carefully in these days of highly "refined" foods. For most present day foods are made attractive to the eye and to the palate—with proper nourishing qualities sadly neglected—often entirely lost.

A famous food expert designed one food which combines the essentials of a right food. It's one of the most delicious foods. Indeed, you'll love the unforgetable nut-like flavor of Grape-Nuts right from the start. And it gives your body, in very easily digested form, these five vital elements of nutrition: dextrine, maltose and other carbohydrates for energy; iron for the blood; phosphorus for teeth and bone; protein for muscle and body-building; and the important vitamin-B.

All grocers have Grape-Nuts in wax-wrapped packages. Ready to eat. One serving—4 teaspoonfuls—costs less than one cent. Serve with milk or cream.

Your Teeth Require Exercise!
Doctors and dentists are today constantly warning us that we must eat some crisp foods that require chewing. The crisp kernels of Grape-Nuts must be chewed—and their pleasant "crunchiness" and delightful flavor tempt you to chewing.

DELORO GETS ONLY RUN OF GAME; SHEA WINS DUEL WITH HARDILL HOLDING THE PETES TO ONE HIT

A TOUGH BATTLE.

(By F. D. C.)

Somewhere in the baseball records there may be cases where a ball team has only made one hit and yet grabbed the verdict, but the Petes found the feat impossible on Saturday afternoon at James Stevenson Park when they were blanked one run to nothing by the hustling Deloro club new entry in the Central loop.

It was about as smart and tight a battle as local fans will see this season.

Shea came as close as a Texas Leaguer from Shiner Johnston's bat of achieving that dream that every pitcher, in the majors as well as in the sticks, cherishes—a no-run, no-hit game.

Days have not been unknown when with the rest of his team mates hitting in clusters, the Petes' veteran third baseman couldn't collect a bingle, but Saturday, when the balance of the home talent failed to break through Shea's delivery, Mister Johnston elected to loop a Texas Leaguer into safe territory in centre field and that one blow represented the Petes' total of hits for the day.

Shea was a bit wild, walking five men but he kept the passes scattered and with the Holyman gang unable to punch in a hit or two behind the complimentaries his generosity in this respect did no harm except in the summary. Shea's performance entitles him to all kinds of credit, for it is years since the Petes have been held to one hit but just what baffled the home hitters was somewhat perplexing from the side lines. The Deloro twirler looked to be "laying them in there" and the Petes missed plenty right down the allaye, but in spite of that Shea was on top of them all afternoon, and aside from Johnston's no-hit-game killer, two hard slams by Hardill and Harrison were about all that even looked like hits. Shea was well handled by Lambert Collins, last year with the Petes.

Jeff Hardill pitched the kind of ball that would win 99 out of 100 ball games, and with a little more help in left field would not have been scored upon. It was a misjudged fly from Art Quinn's bat in the seventh, badly played by Turner, that paved the way for the only counter of the game, and but for that break the teams might have battled until dark, so complete was the mastery of the pitchers over the attack. Hardill had perfect control, issued no passes and was rarely in trouble, and it was a hard luck game for him to lose.

Both teams performed like seasoned campaigners in the field. Hardill got support de luxe from his infield, the Petes' inner guard handling thirty-two chances without the semblance of an error, while he took care of four batters himself, and Swanston cut down the only two Deloro base runners who tried to steal.

The pitching and fine defensive work were all the more striking because of the strong and chilling wind that belw aross the field

The Game by Innings

The first was soon over. Hardill tossed out Scott and Collins and fanned Quinn; while in the Petes' half, Turner flied to Brown; Rose grounded to Shea, and Ash was thrown out by Regan.

Jack led off Deloro's second with a single between short and third, but was immediately doubled upon Hughes' grounder to Johnston, who started a twin-play killing via Rose. Johnston also tossed out Regan.

Bad base running cost the Petes a chance. Holyman fanned. Johnston goth the Petes' only hit, a Texas leaguer to centre, and was forced at second by Turner. The latter stole second, as Rose drew a walk, but Turner tried to steal third on the last one, and was out.

Deloro threatened in the fourth. Scott was easy, Holyman to Harrison, but Turner dropped Collins' fly to left and the batter reached second. Quinn flied to Turner. Collins reached third on a wild pitch, but when the squeeze play was attempted Jack bunted foul on the third strike and was out.

Ash was safe on Regan's wide throw and was sacrificed to second by Heckman, moving over to third on Hardill's infield out. Swanston flied to Brown in left.

In the fifth, Hughes rolled to Holyman and Regan to Rose. Burgess single to centre, but was out by feet when he tried to steal second.

For the Petes, Harrison fanned; Holyman rolled to Shea, and Johnston, after drowing a pass, was caught leaving first too soon.

The Petes did nothing. Turner flied to Brown, and Rose to Burgess, and after Ash got a life on Scott's fumble Heckman hoisted to Quinn.

Deloro won the game in the seventh. After Swanston tossed out Collins. Quinn doubled to left. Jack's short single to left scored Quinn and the batter reached third when Swanston, Hardill and Quinn got tangled at the plate. Hughes hit a fast one at Harrison, who deflected it to Hardill, and the Petes pitcher threw Jack out at the plate. He came into Swanston high and hard and the Petes kicked vigorously about rough tactics. Regan fouled to Johnston.

The Petes didn't move a wheel. Hardill fanned, Swanston flied to Jack, and Harrison flied to Collins, a nice catch near the stand.

In the eighth, Burgess rolled to Holyman, Swanston went back and grabbed Brown's foul fly and Shea struck out.

Holyman flied to centre and Johnston was tossed out by Regan. Bert Hall, who had replaced Turner in left, walked, but was out stealing. The Petes kicked at Shea's quick delivery on this play, but lost the argument.

Rose was out on a fine catch by Hughes back of first, and Ash grounded to short. Hackman drew a walk and Wilgar was sent in to run for him but Hardill tapped a mild one to the box and it was all over.

GIANTS POUND THREE HURLERS

New YorKers Open Home Season by Defeating Chicago 10 to 5.

FOUR HOMERS MADE

NEW YORK, June 4 (Canadian Press).—While Fred Fitzsimmons held the Cubs at bay and himself gathered a double and a triple, the Giants pounded Artie Nehf, their old team-mate, and Hal Carlson and Ed. Holley, who followed him, to defeat Chicago by 10 to 5 here yesterday. A crowd of 40,000, the largest of the Giant season, saw the home team open its stand against the Western clubs with a victory.

Bill Terry and Andry Reiz hit home runs inside the park, each with a man on base. Hartnett's homer was one of Chicago's eight hits.

Pete Scott's fifth hit of the afternoon drove home two Pittsburgh runners in the fourteenth inning of a wild and wooly game at Brooklyn and the Pirates opened their Eastern invasion with a 9 to 7 victory over Brooklyn.

The game was a knockdown and drag-out affair, featured by 12 extra base hits and a near-riot. Umpire Charles Moran ruled that Statz had trapped Pie Traynor's short fly in the ninth after a sensational run. With two out and two runs scored on the decision of the umpire at least a hundred pop bottles were thrown from the upper tiers of the grandstands at the officials. Nobody, however, was hit. After some semblance of order had been restored among the 25,000 spectators, the Robins scored twice to tie the score in the last half of the ninth and the game continued for five extra innings.

Paul Waner and Wright opened the 14th with singles and Barnhart sacrificed. After Traynor had been purposely passed, Scott singled, sending Waner and Wright across.

Both Grimes and Petty shone as relief workers. Grimes pitched the last nine innings and allowed only three hits.

YANKS TAKE SIXTH GAME

Hammer Five Runs in Seventh to Defeat Tigers 7 to 2.

HOMER FOR GEHRIG

NEW YORK, June 4 (Canadian Press).—Hammering across five runs in the seventh inning, the New York Yankees defeated the Tigers for the sixth successive time at Detroit yesterday. The score was 7 to 2. Lou Gehrig drove the ball over the left field fence in the fifth innings for his eleventh home run of the season. The bases were empty. From the time of Gehrig's blow, Whitehill began to weaken and he was taken out in the seventh after the Yankees had clinched the game with their seventh inning rally.

The paid attendance of 38,751 was the largest of the year at Nevin Field. Babe Ruth played only half of the game yesterday, retiring in the fifth because of an injured ankle that has been troubling him for several days.

Boston pounded Hudlin for twelve hits and won the second game of the Cleveland series yesterday. Charlie Ruffing held the locals to seven hits but the Indians bunched them. Boston played a fast fielding game behind Ruffing and Tait's catch off the right field wall and a resultant double play helped him.

Fox's home run with two on in the ninth was not quite enough to win for the Athletics at Chicago, and the White Sox nosed out a 6 to 5 victory behind the pitching of Alphonse Thomas.

The victory evened the series at one all.

The Sox jumped into a three-run lead in the third and were never headed.

LEAFS LOSE TO ROCHESTER

WIN BY 4-3 SCORE

ROCHESTER, N.Y., June 4 (A.P.).—Rochester defeated Toronto, 4 to 3, here yesterday, despite the two-base hits rung up by Dale Alexander, league leading hitter. Alex. drove in the three runs of the losers, while Art Decatur shackled the attack of the first place club in other cases.

BALTIMORE, June 4 (Canadian Press)—Jack Dunn and his Baltimore Orioles packed up their belongings and moved out of last place in the International League here yesterday, when they trimmed down the Newark Bears in both ends of a double header, 18 to 10 and 5 to 1. The first blow came to the Bears in the initial edition when the Orioles bagged 14 runs on 11 hits in the third frame. The nightcap was a much tighter affair with sharp fielding supporting seven innings of fine pitching. The first game saw six circuit smashes. Fournier accounted for two, with Clark, Brewer, Carroll and Malone tallying one each. Lutzke got a homer in the second game.

READING, Pa., June 4.—By rallying for six runs in the seevnth inning, Reading overcame a 4 to 0 Jersey City lead and won its fifth straight game, 6 to 4. It was Socks Seibold's seventh consecutive victory. Reading pounded Jackson out of the box in the seventh by grouping three hits and a base on balls and then found Bagby for four more consecutive hits to win the game.

MONTREAL, Que., June 4.—A home run in the ninth with one out and none on bases by first-baseman Stapleton gave the Royals a 6—5 triumph over the Buffalo Bisons in the second game of the series here yesterday afternoon. Sensational hurling by Paul Hopkins, who relieved Doc Dunagan with the score tied at the beginning of the sixth, kept the Royals in the race. Thirteen thousand people, the second largest crowd since the record opening day attendance, saw the most thrilling game of the season here to date.

SPORT CHATTER

(By F. D. C.)

As a result of Saturday's defeat the Petes start this week in fourth place with Belleville and Oshawa to meet, the Railroaders in Belleville Wednesday and the motor crew here on Saturday.

Deloro played snappy and steady ball behind Shea's good pitching and were full value for their win on the day's play.

Only three men reached third base during the afternoon, which is somewhat of a record in itself.

Base stealing was an unprofitable policy Saturday. Turner purloined second, but was out trying to steal third. Swanston tossed out a pair of Deloro runners who attempted to make the middle station and Collins snuffed out a Peterborough effort.

The Petes had the only double killing and it was reeled off in lightning fashion, with Johnston starting the fireworks and Rose acting as pivot.

Jack was the only player in the game to get more than one hit. He peeled off two singles and came near having a third, his bunt with Collins on third rolling foul by inches.

and had been articled to his father's office. But during a noted lawsuit resulting from the building of the Grand Trunk Railroad between Stratford and Shakespeare, there came to Stratford, as a representative of the railroad company, the man who later became known as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court in Manitoba, Lewis Walldridge. Walldridge persuaded the elder Stewart to send D.E.K. to his Belleville office and there the latter finished his time. Incidentally, it might be mentioned that a brother of Lewis Walldridge married D.E.K.'s half-sister, whose father had been the founder of Trenton.

After finishing his time, the young man went into partnership with a man named Gilbert and later with the federal member for West Hastings, Alex Robinson. For the next ten or eleven years the two practised together. During this time, he had been studying geology and assaying, and so it came about that, following his release from the militia, he joined the gold rush to Madoc in 1866. Several years passed, during which he took interests in various mining propositions; there were long horse-back rides, sometimes of forty miles from Malone to Belleville, Saturday nights, and numerous hardships yet during the excitement, he set up and became established as a barrister in Madoc, his office beln over the well-known Dale Bank on Durham street. He married in 1868 and when the "gold excitement"—as he termed it—had died down he went, with his wife and parents, to Chicago, where he practised law for some twelve years, during which a daughter (now Mrs. Cross, of Belleville), and a son, Kinnear, were born, and Mrs. Stewart, Sr., passed away.

D.E.K. recalled that on occasions he visited in Philadelphia and other eastern cities, and mentioned particularly his only experience in ocean travel. It was on a summer night that he had taken the boat to New York, travelling down the coast, but lo, a sudden storm developed, the boat was carried out to sea and it was three days before New York appeared to the eyes of the weary voyagers.

Returning to Madoc, Mr. Stewart again became interested in mining, as well as practising law, and he purchased the little Gladstone gold mine, a five-stamp outfit at Malone, for which he paid $2,500, and so successfully was it operated that he was ahead $11,000 at the end of the first year. Adjoining properties were purchased and a company, comprising Harry Corby, member for West Hastings, a man named Walker and Mr. Stewart was formed. Interest became centred about the "Diamond" mine near Queensboro. Neighboring property there was obtained and when the shaft was sunk, a splendid free gold veir over twelve feet wide with gold on it in six feet next to the foot wall (British scientists here within the past couple of years were enthusiastic over its prospects) was found, while an arsenical gold vein, richer, though smaller, was also found. In later years other properties were obtained so that at the present time Mr. Stewart has interests in well over six hundred acres. He has had to do with tale, copper and lead mines as well.

Longevity Record.

That he is likely to enjoy many more years of health is indicated by the splendid ages reached by other members of his families. His grandmother and grandfather on the Stewart side both passed the century mark; his father's oldest brother lived 98 years, his father, 97, another brother, "Six-foot-four" Joe, lived 95 years and another brother observed eighty-nine birthdays. D.E.K.'s father-in-law, Capt. Kinnear, died at the age of 99. Captain Kinnear had been in the battle of Waterloo, and had settled at Perth on coming to this country.

Still in Business.

Mr. Stewart is still practising law in Madoc, doing a large Surrogate and collection business for clients scattered all over the continent. He recalls when Madoc was but a small hamlet of white-washed buildings which grew "over night" as a result of the gold excitement and when asked about any floods which he might have seen, told of seeing the Moira River sweep down the main streets of Belleville, carrying away the lower bridge to Murrayville and doing heavy damage to property. That was in 1867.

Mrs. Stewart died in Madoc a couple of years ago, the family surviving being the son Kinnear, a daughter, Mrs. Cross in Belleville; Mrs. Major Smith of Ottawa, and Emily, the youngest daughter, a nurse in the home of Senator Root of New York, while a daughter and son are dead.

Believes in Moderation.

Mr. Stewart believes that moderation should be the keynote of every man's life. He has not touched any form of liquor for many years, but enjoys a pipe following breakfast, lunch and dinner. This year he hopes to go abroad, looking forward with special interest to visiting Ireland. He is interested in motor-cars, too, and discussed with his visitor the relative merits of various makes.

Car Crashes Into Ditch Near Hamilton After Hitting Another Machine.

HAMILTON, Ont., June 4 (Canadian Press). — When their automobile ran into another car early this morning, swerved from the highway, and upset in the ditch, George Wright, aged 22, was killed, and William Drake and Alexander Aitcheson were injured. All are of Hamilton.

The young men were rushed to the General Hospital here, where in the emergency ward Wright was pronounced dead, and the injuries of the others attended to.

OBITUARY

HON. C. W. CROSS.

CALGARY, Alta., June 4 (Canadian Press).—Hon. Charles Wilson Cross, K.C., 58, of Edmonton, the first Attorney-General of Alberta, and as a Liberal a prominent figure in Alberta political life for many years, died in a Calgary hotel Saturday. On his way home from the coast he had arrived in the city earlier in the week. On Friday he was taken ill with heart trouble and did not recover. His wife was with him at the end.

Mr. Cross was last in the political limelight in 1925 and 1926, when he contested Athabasca for a seat in the House of Commons. In the general election of 1926 he was successful, and held a seat in the House until the dissolution of that Parliament the following year. In 1926 he was defeated by D. P. Kellner, U.F.A.

As a young Edmonton lawyer, Mr. Cross was taken into the first Government of this province when it was formed by Hon. A. C. Rutherford in 1905. From that time onward for many years he sat in the Legislature, taking an active part in the tasks of building a new province. He was elected at the general elections following the formation of the Rutherford Ministry, and was re-elected at the general elections of 1909, 1913 and 1917. In 1913 he was elected for both Edmonton and Edson, and in the latter year for Edson.

Mr. Cross held his portfolio in the Government until March, 1910, when the difficulties following the award of a contract to build the Edmonton, Dunvegan, and British Columbia Railway threatened to wreck the Ministry. Charges had been made, and although when investigated by three members of the Alberta judiciary Mr. Cross and his associates were exonerated from blame, they nevertheless resigned their positions in the Cabinet. A. L. Sifton then resigned his position as Chief Justice of the Province to become the new Liberal Premier.

On May 4, 1913, Mr. Cross was made a King's Counsel, and taken into the Sifton Ministry as Attorney-General. On May 27 he was re-elected after accepting office. From that time until August 23, 1918, when he retired from the Cabinet, he held the position of Attorney-General.

Mr. Cross was born in Madoc, Hastings County, Ontario, on November 30, 1872, of Scottish ancestry. His father, Thomas Cross, was a native of Aberdeen, Scotland, while his mother, who before her marriage was Miss Maria Mouncey, was born in Canada of Scottish parentage. Thomas Cross was a prominent merchant of Madoc and a leading man in the life of that community.

ADOPT SOFTBALL LEAGUE RULES

Millbrook, June 2.—The executive of the local softball league held a meeting and adopted the following rules:

1. Each team to be limited to fifteen registered players.

2. If a player or players, retires from any team an equal number of players may be added to the registered list. However, such players may retire only with the consent of his own team and the executive.

3. If any team is short of players at the commencement of a scheduled game, the opposing captain will pick enough players from the spectators to make up the shortage. Such players must be replaced by the team's registered players when the latter arrive in the field.

4. Captains must decide upon the number of innings to be played before the game begins, and inform the umpire of their decisions. Otherwise the game will be nine innings.

5. Spectators are asked to use the grand stand and leave the field clear for the players.

At present the league standing is: Cadets, won 2, lost 0; Town Team, won 2, lost 0; Boy Scouts, won 1, lost 1; Clerks, won 0, lost 1; I.O.O.F., won 0, lost 2.

A schedule game was played on Friday, June 1, between the Clerks and the Tuxis Square. Tuesdays and Fridays of each week have been officially chosen for the scheduled games.

QUAKER OATS BEAT DE LAVAL THREE TO TWO

Opening Exchanges Were Fast —Wilson Was the Marksman For the Quakers.

C.G.E. MEETS QUAKERS.

The De Laval soccer eleven went down to defeat on Saturday afternoon to the Quaker Oats in the Phelan Charity Cup by three goals to two, after playing with ten men against eleven. It was a real cup tie game that was full of thrills from beginning to end. Strudely made a great improvement in the Quaker attack. In the closing minutes W. Curtis was carried off the field through an injury, T. Foster taking his place in the goals. Quakers now meet the C.G.E. in the final.

Opening Fast.

Quakers won the toss and their men were the first to make ground and Strudely, from a Logan pass, sent narrowly past. De Laval, playing with ten players, soon settled down to a perfect defensive game to offset the accurate passing of the winner's forwards. A faulty clearance by Cross should have been made more of by James, who fired straight at De Laval goal-keeper, and the latter punting upfield. Mid-field play continued for a while until the Quaker forwards initiated combination on the right wing which penetrated the loser's goal-area, but found Fowler unbeatable with long drives, then they tried low shots at him that seemed to be no trouble at any time to clear.

Fowler Brilliant.

After an abortive comer to the De Laval, Craig sent James away at a fast pace while the opposing halves closed in upon him and a score seemed sure when Warde gave him the legitimate shoulder to upset his attempt. The pace was fast and furious, with Quakers in the ascendency and caused no surprise when Wilson opened the scoring.

An Unlucky Break.

Aided with the wing at their backs, the Quakers added pressure through combination tactics. James evaded the defence cleverly and bobbed the ball into the air in below the bar. Fowler jumped up and saved cleverly with two men upon him but unfortunately his clearance was not enough because the Quaker outside right touched it against the goal-keeper's foot to roll over the goal-line. Half-time came with De Laval struggling for the equalizer—Quaker Oats 1, De Laval 0.

HALF-TIME

With the breeze behind them in the second moiety, the De Laval at once made headway and a shot from Hanson grazed the upright. The De Laval men kept the Quakers confined to their own ground and Curtis had a busy time, in fact, he was in position to fisted over the bar from Mitchell. The flag-kick was unsuccessful as Craig cleared up-field. Wilson trapped the ball from mid-air on the line, passed back to Strudely who manipulated for an opening, Downer spoiling his anticipation many a time.

Well-earned Goals.

On mid-field tactics the De Laval halves dominated over the Quaker forwards. Mitchell along with his right wing out-classed his opposition in the corner and Watkins surprised the Quakers' defence when he rattled a hot shot across the goal-mouth that Evans diverted into the net. From the kick-off the Quakers retaliated with a barrage of shots, ultimately James accepted an opening to harass the full-backs inside the goal-area where he passed back to his team-mate—strudely—whose lightning left-footer landed in the net, inside two minutes' play. Each goal latterly went under a siege without anything culminating therefrom.

Watkins' Surprise Goal.

Finally, Dyer and Watkins combination brought results through the latter when he lifted the ball into the far corner of the net, away from Curtis. Encouraged by their success, the De Laval time and again paid Curtis a visit and on one of these attacks a De Laval player was ordered off for some infringement. With only nine men the losers put up a grand rally in the closing minutes. The Quaker forwards paying an occasional visit to the De Laval goal, while the whole De Laval were down in the winners' area trying to gain the equalizer. The end came with Quakers holding their one goal lead. Quakers 3, De Laval 1.

Referee: J. C. Russell.

BELLEVILLE WINS SLUGGING MATCH

Defeats Oshawa 15-8, Each Team Using Two Pitchers.

OSHAWA, June 4.—In a game which was interesting only at times, Belleville defeated Oshawa in a Central Ontario senior baseball fixture here Saturday afternoon, 15 to 8. Both teams used two hurlers, all of whom were hit hard, although Utronki, who replaced Gerow for Belleville, was more effective, holding the Oshawa batters down in the pinches, while his team-mates piled up a formidable lead.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT.

"SKEETS" GALLAGHER COMING TO THE REGENT IN WITWER COMEDY

Youth's conceit and its triumph form the theme of a fast moving comedy of city life which opens an engagement at the Regent Theatre to-day. It is an F.B.O. special adapted from H. C. Witwer's short story by Dudley Murphy and also directed by Mr. Murphy.

Many a hick has arrived in New York convinced that the city and the world in general were waiting to see him perform. Some have been disillusioned and beaten, others have succeeded, but all have been razzed. There's some high-powered razzing in this story, but it doesn't stay one-sided very long, and that is what makes it twice as funny as it might otherwise be.

"Alex" is a Vermont farmer boy in the beginning. He is convinced life holds something for him besides feeding cows. His city cousin has confidence in him, but her husband, a baseball manager, can't visualize anything in Alex's future except free meals. The action begins when Alex reaches the Grand Central station. It continues through a laughable series of adventures in a riding academy, a de luxe hotel, a department store, and concludes on a Long Island estate.

Richard "Skeets" Gallagher puts the farmer boy role over with a bang, and Albert Conti is a close second in the mirth production as the baseball manager. Two feminine leads, one a beautiful society girl and the other the charming wife of the baseball manager, are played by Patricia Avery and Ruth Dwyer, respectively.

There are some eye-filling backgrounds for the women who like to see gorgeous gowns and luxury. Every wife who has ever longed to tip her husband off as to which was the oyster fork and dessert spoon should not miss it. The problem is solved with an average of a laugh to every two feet of film.

AT THE CAPITOL.

"LOVE,"

John Gilbert and Greta Garbo — the couple who made new film history in "Flesh and the Devil"—appear together again, this time in a world classic, and one of the most poignant human interest romances of all literature, in "Love," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's huge filmization of Tolstoi's "Anna Karenina," now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

It is a more romantic Gilbert than even appeared in "The Merry Widow" who gives the remarkable portrayal of Count Vronsky, the Russian lover, in the vivid new photodrama, and Miss Garbo, as the tragic Anna has a role that one might well imagine was written especially for her

The story is a tense human interest tale—the story of a great love that sacrifies all, and that is dogged by sinister fate and dramatic tragedy. This story is set in gorgeous surroundings; the pomp and circumstances of the Russian aristocracy before the revolution, when Russia's court was the gayest in the whole world.

Gorgeous uniforms, gay costumes, vivid reproductions of famous Russian materpiece, and the cast is well balanced and in settings in which the central theme of the love of the two main characters is so vividly enacted.

AT THE GRAND.

WINGS.

Manager "Wings" Company,
Grand Theatre,
Calgary, Alberta.

Dear Sir,— After witnessing your performance of "Wings" along with the members of the Calgary Aero Club, I would like to express to you what impressed me most. It was the accuracy of detail and the realism of the whole thing.

I went to see more or less of a drama, but so vivid and real is the whole story that I found myself living all over again the scenes of 1918. I am at a loss to know how these scenes were actually filmed without the loss of many lives. I most heartily congratulate the Paramount Pictures on their colossal achievement, truly a most wonderful film.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) N. R. MAY,
Capt. "Wop" May, D.F.C.

TUMMON LEAGUE PLANS MATCHES

Will Attempt to Get Entries From Several Other Clubs.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 4.—Three members of the Campbellford Tennis Club attended the executive meeting of the Tummon League held in Belleville on Thursday night. Only two of them were allowed to vote as official representatives. The local players who were in attendance were J. H. Bell, Hilton Beatty and Wilbert Kingston. Only four clubs were represented, but invitations have been extended to four additional clubs to enter the league. Two of these have previously been members.

In an effort to start the league off with a good session of play, arrangements are under way to hold a tournament in Tweed on Monday, June 4th. Players from all the clubs will be present but will not play as a club unit. Their victories or losses will be individual. The tournament is under the direction of T. E. Moffat of Tweed, and will have as its events, two men's doubles and three mixed doubles. It is understood that Campbellford will have players entered in each of the events.

So far there are only four teams in the league, Belleville, Campbellford, Point Anne and Tweed. Trenton, Madoc, Napanee and the Holloway Club of Belleville have also been invited to enter the league. Of these, Madoc and Napanee have been members previously.

This year there has been a slight change made in the program for tournaments. Last year, a tournament team consisted of six men and five ladies. This season there will be one more man and one less lady player, making the numbers seven and four. The list of events will be, two men's singles, two men's doubles, one mixed double, one ladies' double and one lady's single. According to the schedule now in force, the first home event in Campbellford will be played Saturday, June 9th, when Peterborough will visit the local club.

The officers elected at the Tummon league meeting were: T. E. Moffat, Tweed, president; J. H. Bell, Campbellford, vice-president; and Alphonse Black, Belleville, secretary. The trophy to be contested is the Tummon Cup.

C.G.E. CLUB WINS FRIENDLY MATCH

In an exciting match at the Oval on Saturday afternoon the C.G.E. Cricket Club defeated the Peterboro Cricket Club by the narrow margin of five runs. The weather was more suitable for football than cricket, and this no doubt contributed to the fact that not a batsmen on either side reached double figures. The bowling and fielding of both teams were excellent, runs always being difficult to get. Some fine catches were made by Thorpe, F. Dyer and Leach. Jack Wade bowled magnificently for the C.G.E., capturing five wickets for 11 runs. Dyer (R.) and Jefferson also took two wickets each at a small cost.

For the Peterboro team Elliot took six wickets for 23 runs; he also placed his field skilfully, getting four of his victims on catches. Dunkerly claimed three wickets for 9 runs. Gore played well behind the wickets. Regarding the batting, Carpenter was top scorer for the C.G.E. with 8 runs, made in brisk fashion. but perhaps the best performance was the uphill stand made by Monkman and Elliot, these two players almost pulling the game out of the fire for the Peterboro Club. The game was keen, and all the players were "on their toes," and a few more games like this one will do well to boost cricket in Peterboro. A team selected from these two clubs would give an argument to any club in Ontario, and this is not said in a boastful way. The C.G.E. have a fine nucleus of players to choose from. The Peterboro Club is not quite so fortunate in this respect. The next game between these teams will be played at the Oval on July 7, and will, no doubt, be keenly looked forward to.

One Box Relieved Terrible Backache

Dodd's Kidney Pills were Recommended by Friend

"I suffered with Rheumatism and very bad Backache when a friend advised me to take Dodd's Kidney Pills," writes Mrs. G. S. Freese of Annidale, Queen's Co., N.B. "My Mother had used lots of them with good results. I tried them and found improvement after half a box. Before I had taken a full box I was better."

When you have Backache it is often a timely warning that the kidneys are not working as they should. Do not delay, but make and keep the body healthy by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. For over a third of a century they have been highly recommended as the best treatment for ailing Kidneys.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

To-day's Bedtime Story

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate)

UNCLE WIGGILY'S DECORATION DAY

Once upon a time, as I told you in the story last night, Uncle Wiggily saw Squinkle Winkle, a little lost pig, standing in front of a sign board, thinking it would tell him the way to get home. But just then the Bob Cat, who had been chasing Squinkle Winkle, popped out of the bushes and was going to bite the little pig. Only Uncle Wiggily said:

"How dare you pick my flowers?"

"Unless you tell me the longest word on that sign, not a nobble or a nibble shall you have!" The sign said:

FAR AWAY BIG SMILES ARE LONGEST.

"Wrong!" cried Uncle Wiggily.—"Smiles is the longest word, for there is a MILE between the first and last letters! Ha! Ha!"

The Bob Cat was so surprised at this old puzzle (for it is old) that he didn't know what to say. So, while the Bad Chap was still in front of the sign, trying to see the joke, Uncle Wiggily took little Squinkle Winkle by the paw and ran home with the little lost pig.

"I think you're terrible smart, Unkie Wig!" grunted Squinkle when he was safe in the pen house.

"Thanks," answered the rabbit gentleman. "Sometimes I don't think so myself." Then he hopped along to have another adventure.

"I hope I have a real exciting one this time," said Mr. Longears.

"You may meet two Bad Chaps instead of one," squeaked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy at the hollow stump bungalow, where the bunny uncle stopped to get a cup of tea. "Then what would you do?"

"If I met two of the Bad Chaps, like the Skillery Scallery Alligator and the Pipsisewah, I'd give each one of them a hard puzzle to do, and while they were trying to think of the answers I'd hop away."

"I hope it works out that way," said Nurse Jane.

"I'll take some paper and a pencil in my pocket in case I have to draw puzzle pictures," said Mr. Longears.

So away he hopped over the fields and through the woods and pretty soon, down in a meadow, he saw Jingle and Jangle, two of his little bunny girls, gathering daisies and buttercups.

"What are you going to do with the flowers, my dears?" he asked.

"Why, Daddicums! Don't you know that this is Decoration Day?" asked Jingle.

"Dear me! I had almost forgotten," answered Mr. Longears. "I had better go gather some flowers myself."

Leaving Jingle and Jangle picking daisies and buttercups, Uncle Wiggily hopped down toward the brook where he knew some old-fashioned flowers grew. He was picking them to make a pretty bouquet when, all of a sudden, up out of the water popped the Skillery Scallery Alligator with the double-jointed tail.

"Gurr! Wah! Zoop" gargled the 'Gator. "How dare you pick my flowers?"

"Are these your flowers?" asked Uncle Wiggily politely.

"Of course they are—every one!" snarled the Bad Chap. "And, just for picking them, I'm going to bite you!" and the 'Gator opened wide his big mouth.

"Just a moment, if you please, before you bite me," said Uncle Wiggily. "If these are your flowers you ought to know their names."

"Then I'll draw three little puzzle pictures, each one being the name of a flower and see if you can guess them," spoke the rabbit.

On the piece of paper Uncle Wiggily drew this puzzle for the Bad Chap who had to guess the answer just as you must do. Can you do it? I hope so.

Guess the names of these flowers.

3-Year-Old Boy Starts Fire While Smoking

MONTREAL, Que., June 4 (Canadian Press). — A three-year-old cigarette addict is believed to have caused the fire, which did several hundred dollars damage to the home of his parents. Witnesses told Fire Commissioner Quinn in the Fire Court. Mrs. Henry Lamarche, mother of the boy smoker, said that all efforts had so far failed to divorce the lad from the weed.

Mrs. Lamarche said the boy was out of sight when the fire started on Wednesday last, and she was convinced he had caused it lighting a cigarette. The insurance company refused to pay her claim for insurance.

PIANO RECITAL WELL PRESENTED

Pupils of Miss Mary Harstone Play Pleasingly From Memory.

Pupils of Miss Mary Harstone gave a very interesting piano recital last evening in St. Andrew's Sunday School hall. There was a good-sized and appreciative audience, who responded with enthusiasm to the efforts of the well-trained and clever young players, who had memorized their selections and gave a splendid demonstration of ability on their own part and of excellent tuition on the part of their teacher. The stage was very attractively arranged for the occasion with a profusion of lilacs.

Prizes for the year were presented by Miss Harstone to Reginald Yelland and Dorothy Strong, and the pupils in turn presented their teacher with a pretty bouquet of flowers.

(a) Ivy, Grahame; (b) Snowdrop, Grahame—Fred Hooper.

(a) Crocus, Grahame; (b) Narcissus, Grahame—Norman Green.

Rainbow Fairy, Krogmann—Joy Walker.

Red Rose, Grahame—Tom Hooper.

LOCAL CHAMBER ENTERS RESOLUTION

Asks Dominion Chamber to Press for Federal Daylight Saving Law.

At the executive meeting of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, the following resolution was decided upon to be introduced by Peterborough representatives at the annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, being held in Quebec city June 4-9.

Whereas: Daylight-saving, as now experienced, is conducive of embarrassment to commerce and to the travelling public.

Resolved: that the Canadian Chamber of Commerce recommend to the Federal Government the early enactment of such laws as will give Daylight-saving Dominion scope, believing that in this way the measure will very shortly have the approval of the Canadian people as was found in England and other European countries.

The secretary submitted to the meeting, a report in connection with the Chamber of Commerce—Trent Waterway Development Association exhibit at the Ohio Second Annual Sportsmen and out-door show held in Cleveland, May 17-23 at which Walter Fowlds, of Hastings, president of the latter association and G. K. Fraser of Burleigh Falls had represented this section. Mr. Fowlds reported wonderful results in a wire which was read, intimating that the exhibit, in addition to being the best in its class in the show, had been very well received. The transparencies and illuminated map of the Trent System had been "farmed out" in Cleveland and New York for the entire summer to fulfil mission as silent salesmen for the Kawartha Lakes and Trent Waterway, serving the dual purpose of attracting not only tourists, but industries seeking locations.

Robert Abbott's committee on publicity and advertising gave a good account of itself, Mr. Abbott reporting a signing program of the city and on highways leading to the city, welcoming visitors and indicating to them where information may readily be gained at the Chamber of Commerce Touring bureau. This bureau is now fitted up with equipment displaying maps of Canada and the United States and with a cabinet containing a goodly supply of booklets descriptive of different interesting holiday sections in the two countries.

In discussing the hotel situation, Charles Lacheur pointed out that embarrassment to the city is the result of inadequate hotel accommodation. He emphasized the efficiency of the local hotels but pointed out that now, and for some time back hotel accommodation has been a problem which results in the city being adversely advertised.

The secretary received permission to complete a mailing list of tourists who have corresponded with the Chamber during the past several years, such a list, kept up-to-date would enable the Chamber to forward seasonable greetings as well as maintain valuable friendly contacts throughout the two countries.

The permanent engagement of Miss C. Wood as chief clerk; succeeding Hector McLeod, who has taken another position, was announced. Fred L. Roy, president of the Peterborough County Fish and Game Protective Association reported relative to the confusion which has resulted from the impression that stringent fish and game legislation was now in force while, as a matter of fact, he forecast many changes in legislation before it becames effective. The suggestion of Fred Hills that the organization foster a "Just Kids" Safety campaign, brought forth the information that another community organization had the matter under consideration.

At the close of the meeting, President Dutton, on behalf of the executive and members, expressed the wish that delegates to the annual conference of the Canadian Chamber might have a pleasant and profitable journey, not only from their own personal viewpoints but from the standpoint of contacts made beneficial to the city and local Chamber. The delegates are Vice-president A. J. Reynolds and Secretary Frank G. Stinson.

CAPTURE PYLE'S 26-HOUR TEAM RACE

Granville and von Flue, relieving each other at various intervals during the 26 hours that began at 9 o'clock Friday night, covered 183 miles, six laps, a mile and three laps ahead of their nearest competitors, Arthur Newton, of Rhodesia, South Africa, and Pete Gavuzzi, of Southampton, England.

The New York team of Arthur Richman and Sam Richman; brothers, were third, and Roy McMurtry, Indianapolis, and John Salo, Passaic, N.J., Finn who finished second in the cross country run, fourth. The next place went to the team of Andrew Payne, Claremore, Okla., who won $25,000 by leading the Derby field on the long trek from Lo Angeles to New York; and August Fager, of Ashtabula, Ohio.

Less than 500 persons were in "at the death" of the Metropolitan District's first demonstration of indoor cross-country racing.

Granville and von Flue will divide $1,000 for their victory.

The awards for others places were as follows: Second, $750; Third, $500; Fourth, $400; Fifth, $350; Sixth, $300; Seventh, $255; Eighth, $200; Ninth, $150; Tenth, $100.

Campbellford

Campbellford, June 4.—Mrs. A. B Imrie, Toronto, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross MacLaren, Bridge street. Mrs. Imrie is spending a few days in Campbellford before going to Ottawa for a brief visit prior to leaving for Regina, where she will rejoin her husband, who has recently been appointed manager of the Regina branch of Toronto General Trust Corporation.

At the preparatory service, held in St. Andrew's church on Thursday, seven new members joined the Presbyterian church, and two children were baptised.

Although the firemen responded instantly to the alarm which was sent in at 1:02 p.m. on Friday, there was no work for them to do when they arrived at a residence on the west side of the river.

PILES GO QUICK

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds, because it relieves this congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has given quick, safe and lasting relief to thousands of Pile Sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee.

Catchacoma News

Catchacoma, June 4.—Dr. Sutton, District M.O.H., was here on May 24, making a preliminary inspection.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Curtis, Miss Curtis and party, spent the day at their cottage.

Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald and party came up to his cottage for the day.

Dr. Rushworth, of New York, and party are at "The Mississauga Lodge," which is being completed with a view to being ready for the season.

Mrs. Lehner, who is in charge of "The Westlake Inn" for the Kawartha Tourist Co., was in Peterborough on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Downing and family spent the week-end at their lodge, "Come Inn."

The free and spacious campingground here, with sand bathing beach, is likely to prove very attractive to parties of lads or boy scouts who want an old-time outing under the stars with meals near by.

Don't Discard Too Hastily

"Let's look them over!" That's the retort diplomatic of the wise Mother when dear daughter declares: "My last year's things are a sight. There isn't a thing I can ever wear again."

"How about your flannel coat, apparently ruined? I know, but send it to a good dry cleaner, and he can undo the harm. He'll send it back like new."

"All right for the coat. But here's my sport hat, it's dirty and stained."

"I think I can save that, too," said Mother. "The cleaner can clean and re-block it so it will do for months' wear."

"My double crepe romain! The color came out when I washed it. That's hopeless, I know."

"Never," and Mother's eyes twinkled. "It can be dyed the exact shade of the Paris frock you saw."

Don't discard last year's wardrobe too hastily. Many favorite garments can be reclaimed by Expert Treatment. Our Establishment understands thoroughly the restoration of textiles of every kind, to their original freshness. Or where color has gone, and dying is necessary, you may be sure it will be a beautiful job. 'Phone or call for further information.

LADY BOWLERS BEGIN SEASON

Large Attendance at First Meeting On Greens— Rules Changed.

The Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club got away to a good start on Friday, with a large attendance at the first meeting on the green for the season of 1928. H. Martin, vice president for the men's club, was present, and explained the rules the men were adopting for the new season. The ladies decided to adopt the same rules with the exception of the number of ends to be played. The ladies will play twelve-end games, and will meet Friday and Tuesday afternoons, at 2.45 sharp. All prospective members are asked to be present to be initiated into the game. On Friday a number of scratch games were played. Mrs. H. Graham's rink defeated Mrs. Lottie Allen's. Mrs. G. Coleman won from Mrs. Gimblett, and Mrs. Greenslade from Mrs. Miller.

On Tuesday afternoon a tournament has been planned. Prizes will be presented to the rink with the highest plus score. The draw is:

Mrs. Graham vs. Mrs. Gimblett.
Mrs. Greenslade vs. Mrs. Coleman.
Mrs. Allen vs. Mrs. Miller.
Mrs. Freeman vs. Mrs. Wright.

The greens are in good condition and improved. The clubhouse has been enlarged and modern conveniences have been installed.

The ladies anticipate a very successful season. A number have purchased their own bowls, leaving more on the rack for the new members. Plans are being perfected for having scheduled games for evening bowling and a number of girls have signified their intention of joining.

The ladies work with the men's executive, having a social committee consisting of Mrs. F. Miller, Mrs. W. A. Greenslade, Mrs. G. A. Borland, Mrs. Mark Bredin, Mrs. T. Johnson, Mrs. C. Wright, Mrs. C. Coleman and Mrs. H. Graham.

BIRTH.

SOUTHERN CROSS LANDS AT SUVA AFTER FLYING FOR 34 HOURS; NEXT HOP COMPARATIVELY SHORT

Finishes 3,138 Mile Flight Across Ocean at 9.23 E.S.T. Last Night.

ROUSING WELCOME.

SUVA, June 5 (Associated Press).—The trans-Pacific monoplane Southern Cross arrived to-day from Maual Island, Hawaii, 3,138 miles to the north. The time was 6.23 p.m., Pacific Coast time, Monday.

In arriving, Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and three companions put behind them 5,538 miles of their overseas flight of 7,800 miles from Oakland, Cal., to Sydney, Australia, but they lost 20 hours in crossing the international time meridian.

Obstacles Surmounted.

The courage of Kingsford-Smith, commander; of Charles Ulm, fellow-pilot, Australians, and Navigator Harry W. Lyon, and James Warner, radio operator, Americans, triumphed over storm clouds through which they drove their stout plane. It conquered the thousands of miles of menacing seas, and brought to an end the aching suspense of hours of uncertainty as to their position.

Before them stretches another long overseas flight—1,700 miles to Brisbane, Australia — but with the achievement of the 2,400-mile air passage from California to Hawaii and the overseas flight ended to-day, the longest ever made above the ocean, the fliers to-night were supremely confident of success.

The fliers were greeted by thousands, representative of the nations of the world, gathered in this far corner of the South Seas to do honor to human intrepidity—exemplified in the performance of the Australian-American crew—for love of courage and accomplishment rising over nature's tremendous obstacles, made brothers for the time being of that great throng of Americans, Europeans, Fijians ,and Polynesians. They were united in one great kinship.

Government Lends Aid

The British Colonial Goverment of Fiji had lent its aid in preparation for the welcome to the fliers. Albert Park has been made into an aviation field of 450 yards in length, trees being sacrificed to the axe, wires removed and other obstructions removed. Upon a park lawn like a bowling green the huge bird of the air came to rest after breasting the thousands of miles and stormy winds that beat against it.

With the islands in sight, there was a period of waiting for the word that was to inform the world of the triumphant landing at Suva. This was due to the radio antenna being reeled in to permit the landing to be made.

This act was made kown in the last message from James Warner, radio operator, before cutting communication. That message contained a friendly greeting to fellow-operators. It said:

"Southern Cross is in sight of Fiji Islands now. Seventy three (best regards) to all operators. I guess I'll reel in now. 30."

No Fuss Made

Disaster threatened throughout the flight. In the long sweep of 3,138 miles of water there were only two landing places at which it was thought passible to alight without smashing the plane and killing the crew; and, having landed, they could not have take flight again.

The Southern Cross began its great air journey from Oakland, Cal., at 8.51 a.m. Thursday after a preparation of many months, including many endurance flights. With little display of the dramatic the great plane soared away, unaccompanied by the usual escorting planes, and alone headed out over the Pacific without fuss, without ostentation.

FLIERS RESTING.

SUVA, Fiji, June 5 (Canadian Press). — The Southern Cross fliers rested to-day and made plans for the hop-off to Brisbane, en route to Sydney, Australia ,a distance of 1,700 miles. oN time has been set for the take-off.

CYCLIST COLLIDES WITH AUTOMOBILE

Billy Wheeler Badly Shaken Up in Collision On Murray Street.

Billy Wheeler, son of William Wheeler, 166 McDonnel street, collided yesterday afternoon with the car of K. S. Wightman, principal of the Central School. The boy suffered many scratches, but was not seriously hurt. At the time of the accident, Mr. Wightman was turning his car around in front of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, when the boy came down the Murray street hill on his bicycle. His brakes refused to work and he crashed into the car.

Wind Prevents Fueling Of Plane

TREPASSEY, Nfld., June 5 (Canadian Press). — The Fokker monoplane Friendship in which Miss Amelia Earhart and her two male companions hope to cross the Atlantic, was buffeted by strong north-west winds here to-day, which made plans for the completing of fueling impossible.

Seven more tanks of gasoline remained to be poured into the plane's reservoirs. The fliers announced the take-off, which last night seemed likely upon the completion of the fueling operation, had been postponed. Aside from the wind, the weather was clear and fine.

125 WORKERS FROM BRITAIN GIVEN PLACES

G .A. Gillespie Has Found Farm Positions For 110 Men and 15 Boys.

MOSTLY SATISFACTORY.

Shifting Boys Round Eliminates Any Trouble Because of Lonesomeness.

G. A. Gillespie of the Peterborough Milk Products for some time has been placing men from the British Isles new in this country with the various farmers of the district. With 135 men and boys he has placed so far, 90 per cent of the men and 100 per cent of the boys have turned out a success.

Mr. Gillespie kindly explained the system of placement to The Examiner. The men are placed through the Department of Colonization and Development of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Toronto. The boys are placed through the Department of British Immigration and Colonization at Montreal. Mr. Gillespie has connections with both of these bureaus. The applications are sent to Mr. Gillespie by the farmers of the district. He assigns each boy or man to a farm as he arrives from headquarters at Toronto or Montreal.

The boys so placed on farms are given a month's trial when an officer of the British Immigration and Colonization Association calls to find out what success the boy is making. If the boy is making good the officer leaves him with the farmer he is associated with and makes a contract for him for a year. If the boy is not contented and is not making a success of his work or is not satisfactory to the farmer, he is given a change, which is found to cure most of the trouble. Loneliness has often been the cause of their discontent and a move often helps this. Since 100 per cent of the boys have proved themselves worthy, this remedy seems to be in the best interest of all. The association looks after the boys up to the age of eighteen, when it considers them as men and capable to make their own contracts.

The men once placed are deemed to be able to look after their own interests and to make their own contracts once they are placed in employment.

There have been placed to date 110 men and 15 boys. There are still applications for 15 more men and 10 more boys. All the boys and men come from the British Isles and never have been in this country before.

Sedgwick Penton, from Stockton-on-Tees, a lad about fifteen years of age, who was waiting for William Howden of Omemee, was one of the boys to be placed by Mr. Gillespie, and told The Examiner about his experience in Canada for the first time. He came to Canada with eighteen other boys who had met at Liverpool and crossed on the Montcalm to Quebec. The crossing was very rough and he did not enjoy it very much as he was sick nearly all the way over. After landing at Quebec the boys all journeyed to Montreal, whence one of them left for Winnipeg. The remaining number went to the Hostel of the British Immigration and Colonial Association. They stayed here for a day and then departed for various sections throughout the country, four coming to Peterborough. These have all been placed.

He liked Canada very well for the short time he had been here, and said that everyone had been very kind to him. So far, he had not felt homesick. Sedgwick was very polite and represented the type of boy coming here to make his home, which should prove very satisfactory.

Trouble Expected If Dictator Dies

TOKIO, June 5.— (Canadian Press.)—Because of the secrecy being maintained in official quarters, it was impossible to confirm reports of the death of Chang Tso-Lin, former Northern dictator, in Mukden. If they should prove true it was feared that the wounding of Chang in the train bombing might lead to serious consequences, threatening the peace of Manchuria.

CHANG'S DEATH KEPT SECRET?

Japanese Papers Receive Reports of Death of Dictator.

ADVISERS BADLY HURT.

TOKIO, June 5. Canadian Press.—The Mukden correspondent of the Japanese newspaper JiJi Shimpo today reported that Chang Tso Lin, once northern dictator, had died from injuries received when his train was bombed yesterday.

The report was not confirmed from any other source except that another Japanese newspaper had received the same news. The correspondent said that the news of Changs death was being kept secret.

Moteh-Pui, Changs minister of agriculture, and Yo Kno-han, one of Chang's advisers, were in a serious condition to-day. Premier Pan Fu was reported to be suffering from shock.

City Gates Closed.

PEKING, June 5. — Canadian Press. — Because of many deserters from the Kuden Armies of Chang Tso-Lin wandering about the north side of the city, the gates of Peking were closed this morning.

The order was issued by the committee of public safety which Chang requested to arrange for peace and order in the city before he abricated.

Practically all of the Mukden troops on the Peking-Hankow Railroad have now been evacuated. General Yen Hsi-Shan, the Governor of Shansi province, and military ally of the Nationalists, was expected to arrive to-night to occupy Peking.

Bridge Blown Up.

SHANGHAI, June 5.— (Canadian Press.)—The railway bridge at Yank Tsu, 18 miles north-west of Tientsin, is reported to have been blown up, thus holding up the withdrawal of two Manchurian army corps to Mukden.

The bridge was said to have been destroyed by 20,000 troops which formed part of the Northern armies, their action being influenced by intrigue and bribery.

Southerners in Peking.

SHANGHAI, June 5.— (Canadian Press.) — Japanese reports from Peking state that Southern troops entered Peking this evening, the troops consisting of the vanguard of General Ten Hsui-Ling's Shansi army.

Reports Unconfirmed.

PEKING, June 5. — (Canadian Press.— No confirmation of Tokio newspaper reports of the death of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin at Mukden was received in Peking to-day and reports were not believed since previous information had the former Northern dictator only slightly injured.

TIME TOO SHORT FOR CELEBRATION

Dominion Day Committee Decides, However, to Have Some Water Sports.

A meeting of those who are interested in having a celebration here on July first was held last evening in the Chamber of Commerce, and the general opinion was that the time was too short to get up anything worth while for this year.

It is the intention, however, to run some water sports on Little Lake, the first of which will likely be held at an early date.

Further particulars will be announced later.

His Information Was Wrong

WARSAW, June 5. — When a tombstone agent called upon a lady in this district a few days ago, he was surprised to find no market for his wares. The lady's husband is still alive.

HOUSE OPPOSES CHANGES MADE IN PENSION BILL

Will Tell Senate That Amendments Made Are Not Acceptable.

GREAT PROBLEM.

Hon. Dr. King Declares Bill Passed By House Agrees With Committee Report.

OTTAWA, June 5 (Canadian Press) —Amendments to the Pensions Bill made by the Senate are unacceptable to the House of Commons. A motion by the Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Pensions, that a message to this effect be sent to the Upper House was adopted at this morning's sitting of the Commons.

The Pensions Bill recently passed in Commons, Dr. King declared, has been in accordance with the recommendations of the special committee of the House, and this report had been unanimous. "The matter is one which deals with one of the greatest social problems of the Canadian people," Dr. King continued. The measure had been sent to the Senate and certain amendments had been made by that body which were unacceptable. The whole question was of sufficient importance for a disagreement," Dr. King stated.

POOL CONFERENCE OPENS AT REGINA

More Than 100 Delegates Register For International Wheat Parleys.

REGINA, June 5 (Canadian Press) —More than one hundred delegates registered for what some officials declared to be one of the most important events in the history of agrarian merchandising when the second international wheat pool conference opened here to-day.

Representatives of various organizations, either producers or consumers are concerned with some sort of co-operative marketing or purchasing were present.

There were delegates from the Uited Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, the United States, Italy, Argentine, and Russia.

PICNIC PLANNED.

Queen Alexandra H. and S. Association Holds Regular Meeting.

The June meeting of the Queen Alexandra Home and School Association was held on Monday evening in the kindergarten room, with the president, Mrs. R. Parnell, in the chair.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held at Nicholls Oval on June 22nd.

The program for the evening consisted of an interesting and instructive talk to the mothers by Miss Amy Wood. Vocal solos by Miss Cain, accompanied by Mrs. Smith, and readings by Miss Evelyn Miller, all of which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Egypt Bars Public From Seeing Mummies; Royal Remains To Be Put In Private Hall

CAIRO, June 5. — Modern Egypt has awakened to the necessity of preserving the dignity of its ancient Kings, whose mummified remains are no longer to be exposed to the view of curious visitors.

Some time ago a proposal was made by Ismail Sidky Pasha, the well-known Liberal leader, to the effect that all mummies of the Egyptian Kings should be reinterred in their original tombs and sarcophagi. The proposal did not meet with official approval, but a commission was appointed to study the question.

The chief argument adduced by Sidky Pasha was that there was no scientific object in exposing the mummies, the only justification being the satisfaction of the vulgar curiosity of visitors. He drew a parallel with the memory of Julius Caesar, whose mummy, if discovered by the Italians, he contended would never have been exposed to the public gaze. He further appealed to the conscience of independent Egypt by pointing out that one of the mummies exposed was that of Amasis I., who drove Hyksos from Egypt, thereby restoring the country's independence.

While the arguments appealed to the commissioners, they found the proposal impracticable, owing to the fragile nature of some of the mummies and also because most of the tombs are now unfit to receive the royal remains.

They finally decided that the mummies should be collected in a special hall of the Cairo Museum, which should be accessible only to Egyptologists and visitors of mark, armed with the special authorization of the Minister of Public Works. This ruling will be put into force within a few days' time.

At the same time the tomb in the Valley of the Kings, containing the exposed mummy of Amenophis II., which before the Tut-ankh-Amen discoveries was the chief attraction in the valley, will be closed to the public.

Immigration Committee to Make Recommendation For Annual Return.

CHANGES PROPOSED.

Improvements in Overseas Inspection Proposed in Report to be Tabled

OTTAWA, June 5 (Canadian Press) —A recommendation for an annual return to Parliament within 15 days after the opening of each session, showing all special immigration permits granted, may be made in the report of the parliamentary immigration inquiry. It will probably be suggested that such yearly return give the addresses of persons making application for each permit and of persons who endorsed or made representations in support of the application.

Improvement in the new medical inspection of immigrants will also it is understood, be recommended, in the report which will be tabled in the House to-night or to-morrow. It is understood the committee will suggeas be made by local British doctors, seas be made by local British dotcors, who would form part of the Canadian organization. A recommendation may also be made for a conference of representatives of the British and Canadian Government and the steamship companies, with a view to securing a reduction in ocean rates for British immigrants.

FIRST PORT HOPER TO HAVE MONUMENT

Descendant of Town's Founder Arranges For Memorial in Cemetery.

PORT HOPE, June 5. — Somewhere among the towering pines on the wind-swept hill of the town park lie the remains of Myndert Harris, the first Port Hope settler. Efforts of years to locate the grave and raise a memorial on the spot to the town's founder have failed and it has now been decided to build the memorial in St. Mark's cemetery.

Dr. Walton Ball, Toronto, a descendant of the first Port Hope citizen, is behind the move, and not until every inch of the town park had been scoured did he decide to locate the memorial in the cemetery.

Myndert Harris, born in 1748, at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., was one of the first of the United Empire Loyalists, to seek a new home under the British flag in Upper Canada. At Newark (Niagara) he was entertained for some days by Governor Simcoe, and by the Governor's advice determined to settle at Smith's Creek. He and his party were taken in a gunboat to their destination. The little warship was commanded by Captain Jonathan Walton, after whom the main street of the town is named.

Two hundred Indians and a white fur trader camped at the future townsite greeted the "Yankee" invaders with decided hostility and it took all the persuasion of Captain Walton to assure them that the family from the States were loyal subjects.

Restauranteurs Sue City For Damages

REGINA, Sask., June 5 (Canadian Press).—Three Moose Jaw restauranteurs—M. Micas, Sam Marings, and Yeg Foo—have filed a writ, making the Attorney General and the City of Moose Jaw as defendants, and statement of claim for damages of $15,000 because of refusal of Moose Jaw's City Council to grant licenses for their businesses.

The restaurant men claim that certain sections of the city act are ultra vires of the powers of the province.

WOMAN BACKER OF FRIENDSHIP

Mrs. Frederick Guest Will Fly To Southampton To Greet Aviators.

MAY FLY FARTHER.

LONDON, June 5 (Canadian Press). —Mrs. Frederick Guest, formerly Amy Phipps, of Pittsburgh, and wife of Frederick Guest, Secretary of State for Air from 1921 to 1922, to-day was revealed as the backer of the flight of the monoplane Friendship from North America to England. She will fly to Southampton to-day to greet Miss Amelia Earhart and her companions on this year's first trans-Atlantic airplane flight to Europe.

May Pass England.

TREPASSEY, June 5 (Canadian Press).—An intimation that the Friendship might fly beyond England was given by Miss Earhart, Pilot Wilmer Stultz, and Mechanic Louis Gordon in conversation here this morning. They said that their plans for a landing place on the other side of the Atlantic were indefinite. Their purpose, they added, was to fly until their fuel was exhausted and then descend. They hoped to make a longer flight than any of their predecessors over this route.

Race In Prospect.

NEW YORK, June 5 (Canadian Press).—A race between two American women for the honor of being the first to fly the North Atlantic was in prospect to-day.

With Miss Amelia Earhart waiting at Trepassey, Nfld., for the take off in the seaplane Friendship, Miss Mabel Boll was making hurried preparations at Curtiss Field for a take-off in Charles A. Levine's trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia.

Although Miss Boll announced that she would take off to-day, indications at the field were that the take off would not be possible for some time. Levine said it would be several days.

MAY START TO-NIGHT.

TREPASSEY, Nfld., June 5 (Canadian Press). — The re-fueling of the Fokker monoplane Friendship was completed this afternoon, and it was expected that the trans-Atlantic hop to England would be started this evening.

CROP PROSPECTS ENHANCED BY RAIN

WINNIPEG, Man., June 5.—General crop prospects in the west have been greatly enhanced by the liberal rainfall during the past week, according to the weather and crop report of the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the past seven days issued here today.

All crops are now in the ground except some required for green feed, which is a considerable contrast to last year when it was well towards the end of June before seeding was finally accomplished. Earlier wheat is showing well above ground ranging from four to six inches in height, and showing a healthy stand and color indicating a good reserve of sub-soil moisture. Later seedings of wheat oats and barley were in more or less urgent need of rain and the generous downpour during the week has immeasurably improved the prospects for these crops.

Cut worm depredations are reported in one or two districts but so far the west has been singularly free from this pest and the damage done is of small importance.

Pastures are now affording plenty of feed for live stock and the recent showers have freshened them considerably.

MARRIAGE.

Radio Messages Heard From Nobile

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 5 (A.P.).—Radio messages in English and Italian, repeated frequently, were heard at midnight last night by mateurs at Gaevle, Upsala, Sjaernum, and Trelleborg. The messages said:

"Italia Nobile SOS King's Bay east."

The message finished with "Radio Bordeaux."

It is inferred that unless a hoax was being perpetrated, the dirigible Italia, lost in the Aretic since May 25, was trying to inform the world that it was able only to hear Bordeaux.

The amateurs received the message on wave lengths varying from 800 to 1,000 metres.

POINCARE MAY SET FRANC AT FOUR CENTS

Expected to Stabilize at That Rate Between July 15 and Aug. 15.

MANY WANT HIGHER RATIO

Move to Raise Money's Value Before Fixing It Is Strong.

PARIS, June 5.—(Canadian Press.) —It is believed that the Poincare Government will stabilize the franc at five paper francs to one gold franc, and that it will take this step not sooner than July 15 nor later than Aug 15. The question of what the Premier would do with the franc has loomed as the biggest issue in French politics, an issue not only national in its interest but internation as well.

Although during the campaign which ended in the elections of May 24 it was generally accepted that a vote for M. Poincare meant a vote for stabilization, since the favorable result of the elections the Premier has been the target of a strong movement for further revalorization of the franc, a movement which has assumed an importance probably not fully realized outside of France. And the leaders of this movement have known enough to invoke the one argument which would appeal to the exact, legal mind of M. Poincare, namely, that stabilization now would mean 80 per cent. bankruptcy for the State. This argument has had its appeal in the ears of the Premier.

However, the proponents of stabilization at the present rate of the franc have not been idle, and, having back of them the vast majority of financial and business leaders of the country, they have made a defence of their cause which seems due to be victorious. Between the two arguments M. Poincare has come to see that the real choice lies between the producers and the non-producers of the country.

Producers Want Stabilization.

For it is the producers who wish stabilization at the present rate, while it is the non-producers, who are living from rents and other investments, who wish the franc to mount higher, for they would benefit from the additional burden such a movement would place upon the industry of France.

It would be indeed easy for M. Poincare to place the franc at a higher figure. With his signature he could put the franc at 100 to the pound and twenty to the dollar, in-

SIX MORE BODIES FOUND ON ISLAND

DULUTH, June 5. Canadian Press. —Six more bodies of members of the crew of the Canadian Steamer Kamloops have been found by fishermen on the shores of Isle Royal, where it is believed that the freighter went ashore last December.

This brings the total number of bodies found,RFP .edetnotr-eing,fold ing been discovered May 24. Captain Martin Christianson, of the steamer Winysh, which returned from the Isle Royale to-day, told of the recent findings.

Ald. Ackerman Presses For Decision—Rescinding Vote Turned Down.

Rule Regarding Corners Where Traffic Lights Are Operated To Go Into By-law.

Ald. Ackerman re-introduced the full time Medical Officer of Health matter to the attention of the council at the regular June meeting last night, and a great deal of discussion ensued, but all that materialized was a six-four vote against a motion by Ald. Phelan that the Provincial Department of Health be notified that the city council was not in favor of appointing a full time officer.

Before entering on the discussion of the health problem, which closed the meeting, the council passed a by-law creating an area bounded by Sherbrooke street, Murray street, the river, and the west side of Aylmer street in which no curb gasoline pumps will be allowed, ordered four pumps, two in this area and two outside it, to be removed before July 1, and ordered the preparation of a by-law to amend the traffic by-law to make effective all the signs recently placed on the streets. This by-law will also forbid left turns at corners where there are traffic lights and render the through street laws inoperative at such corners.

"I'd like to know what action, if any, the council is going to take in the matter," declared Ald. Ackerman, after recounting the steps which had been taken in regard to having a full time M.O.H. The council, he said, had committed itself to the department, which had agreed to leave the Provincial Laboratory here.

"The city billed all the surrounding municipalities for their share, pro rata, and they ignored it," remarked the mayor.

"What good is this laboratory to us?" asked Ald. Phelan. "What did we do before we got it?"

"It's good for those who need it. You might need it yourself tomorrow," replied Ald. Hamilton.

"Aside from the laboratory, didn't we pass a resolution that we have a full time Medical Health Officer?" asked Ald. Macdonald.

"When will it cost to have a full time M.O.H?" asked Ald. Cotton.

Ald. Ackerman—"We went into it and the council passed a motion. A week later some of the aldermen took a different view and voted it down."

Ald. Hamilton—"We pay $2000 and the school board $1800. It wouldn't cost more than $700 more."

Mayor Denne—"You have no motion saying the council had the co-operation of the board. Their committee didn't even report back."

Ald. Ackerman—"Their committee was appointed to sit in with us and not to report back."

Ald. Hamilton—"Hasn't the Board some say?"

The Mayor—"Who is running the Department of Health?"

Ald. Ackerman—"The work under the Board is the most important point."

Ald. Huffman—"Wasn't it the wish of the council that the matter be thrown open rather than the appointment handed out to one man?"

Mayor Denne—"We should get rid of Dr. Young first, then throw the matter open."

It was explained that the Act governing the appointment of medical officers of health calls for a two-thirds vote of the council to dismiss such an officer, and it must then receive the approval of the Department. Ald. Ackerman declared that the wish to appoint a full time officer would be sufficient reason to gain the Department's approval. Ald. Phelan contended that a court might decide that it was not sufficient reason and grant Dr. Young an injunction.

"Am I to believe that you are afraid the council would get involved in a lawsuit if Dr. Young were asked for his resignation?" asked Ald. Ackerman. "The department said it would accept the proposed change as a reason."

"It's what the courts would say," retorted Ald. Phelan.

"We should pass a resolution asking to get rid of both Dr. Sutton and Dr. Young," remarked the Mayor.

"The Provincial representative here investigated and laid certain charges against Dr. Young. Let us complain. If the charges are right we should get rid of Dr. Young. If they are wrong the provincial man should be withdrawn. The responsibility is on the Board of Health and through it to the council," suggested Ald. Ackerman. The Mayor responded that the Board of Health had heard the matter and taken no action. He urged Ald. Acker-

TUDOR TOWNSHIP MAN FIRED AT 35 BEARS; HIT EVERY ONE

DODGING DEER

Recounts Tale of Deer That Played Hide-and-Seek Around Trees.

MARMORA, June 5.—To have never missed a bear of the thirty-five fired at during a long lifetime, though missing other quarry at times, is the claim of William Ray who for the past seventy-one years has lived along the North Hasting Road. Thirteen years ago, at the age of sixty-eight, this veteran hunter decided to lay aside his goodly stock of rifles and let others try if they would, to equal his own record. Another exceptional claim made by him is this: He has himself taken the hides off thirty-three of his thirty-five victims. In reflecting upon his past performances, he remarked to his interviewer that he would have liked to have had a crack at grizzly's pate. He also has several wolves to his credit which after several unsuccessful attempts, were finally imprisoned in steel traps which offset the cunning of the marauders. In deer hunting Mr. Ray has also had his share of success.

Unarmed; Met a Bear.

One adventure with bruin stands out in his memory. Some years ago after doing road work on a particular day, he stayed with fellow workmen for a game of quoits. It was dark before he left for home. Passing through the woods he at length came to where fallen timber lay, the effect of a windstorm a day or so previous. He heard something fussing, as he says, on one of the logs. He thought it must be a porcupine so he ventured forward to discern and found out it was a cub. At this time the old bear was lying on the grass on the opposite side of the road. Two other cubs came dimly to view and the trio ran along the logs ahead of the hunter by about six or eight feet. This took the old bear's attention and going round a turn in the road, Mr. Ray found himself between the bear and her cubs, the former having raised up on her haunches in threatening attitude. Reaching for a stick with one hand and his pocket knife with the other, the hunter advanced. He carried out the thought which came to him to plant the stick in the ground, holding it with his right hand until the bear would grab it, then stab with the knife and dodge. The bear came to closest quarter, the rancid breath of the animal turning the hunter weak for a little while. After what seemed an age, though only five or ten minutes, the bear wilted. Taking hesitant steps away from Mr. Ray for the length of a rod, the bear then broke into a canter with its three young offspring close behind.

How it took nine shots to kill a deer, an event in which another participated while Mr. Ray was paddling his two fathom bark canoe on Lake Hennessey, and the story of a deer that would dodge behind a tree and finally elude his shots were also interesting ones out of a large supply. Mr. Ray has served for eight years as a councillor on Tudor and Cashel Council, his son Henry, being the Reeve. Sixty-two years ago he joined L.O.L. 1111 then meeting in Glanmire, and when that Lodge was removed to Maynooth, he transferred to Millbridge L.O.L. 1070 of which he is at present an honorary member. He is known over a wide area for his cheeriness and hospitality.

DROVER FINED UNDER NEW ACT

Western Ontario Man Did Not Comply With Hog Grading Regulations.

IN TEST CASE

In a recent trial before a London magistrate a Western Ontario drover was found guilty of neglecting to grade or mark the hogs bought from farmers as called for by the new hog grading regulations. These regulations came into force some three months ago, but the Department has until this time not sought convictions against drovers who refused to follow them, it being hoped that all the drovers would rearrange their business methods to conform with the new procedure. The great majority of drovers have adopted the methods called for by the regulations. Hogs have been either graded at the country points and a manifest forwarded with the shipment, or each lot of hogs has been marked with distinctive signs before shipment. But some drovers have neglected to adopt these new methods, which constitute another forward step in the betterment of our hog industry, and the Department found that only through court convictions could these men be brought into line. This conviction at London assumes the form of what may be termed a test case, and supplies evidence that enforcement of the regulations is within the power of the Department.

The idea embodied in these regulations is simply to give the producer information as to the grade and the quality of his hogs, and the drover's return is necessary to the Department, which has undertaken to supply this important information to the farmer.

The Least Excitement Made Her Heart Palpitate and Flutter

Mrs. Ambrose Orser, Elginburg, Ont., writes:—"I suffered for some time with a bad heart which seemed to be controlled by my nerves. The least little excitement would cause it to flutter and palpitate, and at times I would have real bad spells. I suffered in this way for some time when, one day, I saw MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS advertised, so decided to try them. I had only taken a few boxes when I noticed that I felt better, so I continued taking them and in a short time my heart felt entirely different."

NORHAM LADY CELEBRATES NINETY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary Jane McClelland Visited by Family on Friday.

FORTY YEARS HERE

Mrs. McClelland (nee Reddick) was born in Prince Edward County where she lived till the age of twelve years.

At that age, upon her mother's death, Miss Reddick moved to Castleton where she lived at the home of B. Gould for some years.

After marrying Wm. McClelland she lived for some time on the property now belonging to J. Woodard.

At the present time Mrs. McClelland has three children; Mrs. Geo. Goheen of Brighton, Mrs. Alice Tweed of Norham, and George McClelland of Norham. She has one grandchild, Claude Tweed of Toronto, six great-grandchildren, Irene, Evelyn, George, Hubert and Gordon Tweed and Mrs. Tuck (formerly Ella Tweed), of Michigan, and one great-great-grandchild, Charmelaine Tuck.

Mrs. McClelland has resided in Norham for nearly forty years. Until a year ago last November she enjoyed fine health. At that time she fell from a chair and broke a limb. Since then she has been confined to her bed.

The friends of the community join in hearty congratulations on this, Mrs. McClelland's ninety-fifth birthday.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peebles, and two daughters, of Colborne visited Mrs. Peeble's aunt, Mrs. Mary Jane McClelland, on Friday, to celebrate her 95th birthday.

Mr. C. Tweed, of Toronto, visited his grandmother, Mrs. McClelland of Norham, on Friday.

Miss Margaret Clare returned to Toronto on Thursday to attend the Victoria College Senior's week-end party.

Mr. Leroy Newman, of Victoria College, is home for the summer.

Rev. D. R. Clare left on Thursday for Conference at Smith Falls. Mrs. Clare accompanied him to Lanark where she is visiting friends.

Miss Alma Gummer and Cecil Gummer have been ill, this week.

Mrs. Dingman has been staying at the parsonage while Mr. and Mrs. Clare are away.

LEGION DESERTERS.

Former Captain J. A. Martin (LEFT) and his companion, T. W. Marshall, Britishers, who deserted from the French Foreign Legion in Africa and are now seeking to work their way across Canada. Wednesday they were in Toronto. Marshall at one time had to swim out into the Mediterranean to escape his pursuers. Martin fled with a companion across the desert and managed, when almost exhausted with effort and starvation, to reach Spanish Morocco. Martin, 31 years of age, saw service with the British army in France. Marshall, 27 years of age, was a bugler with the Royal Engineers at 14 years of age. He was in Germany with the army of occupation. They joined the Foreign Legion for excitement. Both declared that they had deserted because of ill-treatment.

HOPES TO BE FIRST WOMAN FLY ATLANTIC

Miss Earhart and Companions Preparing for Trans-Ocean Hop.

MAY TAKE-OFF TO-DAY

Will Use Plane Byrd Had Prepared for Antarctic Flight.

TREPASSEY, Newfoundland, June 5 (Canadian Press).—Weather permitting, another trans-Atlantic flight will be undertaken this morning. The huge tri-motored Fokker monoplane which was forced down at Halifax, N.S., by fog Sunday while attempting to fly from Boston to Trepassy, made a quick and uneventful hop from the Novo Scotia capital to this place yesterday, and after arriving here it was announced that with favorable weather conditions, the plane carrying Wilmer Stultz, pilot; Lew Gordon, mechanic, and Miss Amelia Earhart, aspirant for the first successful trans-Atlantic flight made by a woman, would take off on its hazardous attempt this morning.

Yesterday's hop from Halifax to Trepassey, a distance of approximately 450 miles, was made in four hours and twenty-four minutes. The "Friendship," recently acquired name of the former machine which Commander E. Byrd formerly was preparing for an Antarctic flight, landed gracefully on Trepassey harbor at 2 o'clock Atlantic daylight time yesterday afternoon, and proceeded to moorage under its own power. Miss Earhart and Etultz were brought to shore in a dory and were joined later by Gordon. The inner man claimed satisfaction first as the fliers had not had any food since 6.30 yesterday morning. Miss Earhart refused everything but sandwiches and coffee. She visited the Roman Catholic Church here and spent half an hour with the nuns.

Pleased With Harbor.

Stultz expressed his pleasure with the local harbor as a landing place, the fact that it was free of fog, and other ideal conditions that attended the Fokker's arrival. He said that the trip from Halifax was uneventful but a fog bank was struck fifty miles off that city, and from that time the fliers saw no land until they passed over Peters River, at the entrance to St. Mary's Bay, about ten miles from Trepassey.

Weather Good.

The weather here last night was excellent and a very favorable forecast for today presaged a start over the Atlantic this morning. The exact destination in England was uncertain, but previous advices indicated Southampton as a probable terminal, if convenient.

It was learned last night that Miss Earhart's mother was not informed her daughter was attempting a trans-Atlantic flight until after the Friendship had left Boston. A message wishing her every success was received by Miss Earhart from her mother after the monoplane arrived here.

W.M.S. CONDUCTS SERVICE AT MADOC

MADOC, June 5.—June 3rd being Conference Sunday for the United churches, the morning service in Trinity United Church in Madoc, was conducted by the members of the W.M.S. The members of the Missionary Society had full charge of all arrangements. The president of the society, Mrs. Ashley, being the organist; Mesdames McMechan and Huffman, vice-presidents, with Mrs. Rivers, and also Mrs. Gay of Foxboro were on the platform.

The choir was made up of missionary society members: Mesdames, Bristol, Thompson, Dingman, Moorcroft, Shane, Hough, Moon, Blakely, Dafoe, S. Ashley, Fair, Maybee, F. Tumelty and Bailey, with Mrs. L. Ashley as organist and choir leader. Old familiar hyms were sung: "Jesus Shall Reign Where're the Sun," and "We Have heard the Joyful Sound."

The scripture readings were given by Mrs. Huffman, who chose Psalm 103 for the responsive reading, and read James 1: from the 17th verse. Mrs. G. W. Rivers led in a very earnest prayer, after which the offering was taken by Mesdames Brown, Harris, Tumelty, and Miss Wood.

The anthem following was "Lovest Thou Me?" very softly and sweetly rendered, and then Mrs. Gay, as chairman of the Belleville Presbyterial, was introduced and gave a very earnest and thoughtful message on "The undeveloped possibilities there may be in our W.M.S. Auxiliaries." She said: "There are three primary objectives in the organization of our Auxiliaries,", and dealing with these in order she spoke to the women of the possibilities of service.

Two thoughts seemed to sum up the message. "The measure of the success of our own lives, and of our Auxiliaries, depends on the depths of our own consecration." "Love gives service, and gifts. We may give without loving, but we cannot love without giving." She closed with the familiar "Not by might, nor by power, but through God's spirit these things may be accomplished."

The choir then sang, "He Will Lead Me," and the beautiful hymn, "From Ocean Unto Ocean," with the Mizpah Benediction, closed a most beautiful service.

The platform decorations of lovely purple lilacs, and white narcissus were also the work of some of the missionary members.

In the absence of the regular organist, Miss Mears, at St. Peter's Church, the place was supplied by Master George Maybee, of the United Church, one of Miss Mears' most promising pupils. George is fourteen years, and shows exceptional musical ability.

CAMPBELLFORD COUNCIL PASSES EXTENSION OF PAVING PROGRAM

Will Pave Front and Mill Streets From River To Bridge.

RAISE FOR POLICE FORCE.

Campbellford, June 5. — All the members of the town council were present at the regular meeting last night with the exception of Councillor Wiggins. Councillor Stone arrived about nine-thirty but was in plenty of time for a say in the proceedings since the meeting did not adjourn till 11.35. Several requests were granted when presented to the council and then the members settled down to the question of the hour —namely paving. Front street will be paved south of Bridge street as far as River street, and Mill street will be given similar treatment. The police officers of the town were granted a raise in salary to the amount of one hundred dollars per year, to take effect during the month of May. J. D. Cumming presented and was relieved of the tax roll for 1926. He was also appointed a tax collector for the year 1928 at a salary of $500.

Regarding the pavement certain small changes are to be made and some slight additions to the original program were authorized last night.

At the conclusion of business and after the council had formally adjourned, Warden Davidson issued an invitation to the members of the council, the clerk included, to be his guests on the warden's excursion, which is to take place June 15 across the lake from Cobourg.

Following the reading of the lengthy minutes, Charles Keir requested that a sanitary sewer pipe of six inch tile be laid along Church St. in the same excavation as the storm sewer tile were laid. He pointed out that the service would include three houses and that practically the whole additional cost would be the cost of the tile. After brief consideration the request was granted.

Mr. Crosson requested permission to use part of the road allowance on Isabella street as a garden. This section of the street is on the outskirts of the town and is not being used as a street. Permission was given him as he had requested.

George Third pointed out that the scales provided for the weighing of cheese were not satisfactory and recommended that another set be purchased. He pointed out that cheese weighing must be extremely accurate, and that the 25,000 boxes weighed last season were expected to be increased to 30,000 this year. On motion the clerk was instructed to purchase a new set—a set specially adapted for this work and manu

NEW ASSOCIATION DELEGATES GATHER

Proponents of All-American Route Meeting at Albany, N. Y.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 5.—(United Press).—Unalterably opposed to the St. Lawrence ship canal as against the all-American route, one thousand deeper waterways advocates met here yesterday in the first annual convention of the Great Lakes-Hudson Waterways Association. Colonel Edward C. Carrington, president of the Hudson River Navigation Corporation, and chief sponsor of the move, will preside.

Governor Smith.

Among those listed to address the convention are :Governor Smith, Col. Frederick Stuart Green, State superintendent of public works; Representative J. Wallace Dempsey, of Lockport, deeper Hudson advocate in Congress, and J. Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia, president of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association.

In view of Herbert Hoover's endorsement of the St. Lawrence ship canal project, more than ordinary interest will attach to the address of Governor Smith.

To Demand Statements.

Resolutions will be passed demanding both major political parties adopt planks in their platforms endorsing the all-American canal.

The delegates will discuss methods for improving the barge canal service to aid middle west shippers seeking an outlet to the sea.

CHANGES MADE IN ASSESSMENT

Douro Council Sits as Court of Revision—Insurance Policy Renewed.

ROAD WORK DISCUSSED

DOURO, June 5.—Several appeals were heard when Douro Township Council met last Monday as a Court of Revision, with J. J. Lesby in the chair. With the following changes, the roll was confirmed:

Russell Little asked to have the business assessment on his cheese factory struck off, the factory being idle this year. No action was taken, Mr. Little not being rated for business tax.

James Crowley appealed to be assessed as a separate school supporter. No action taken, as Mr. Crowley was already assessed as a separate school supporter.

H. Ayotte appealed against assessment on business and buildings. On motion, this was reduced by $150.

Hilliard Reid appealed against assessment on land and buildings. On motion, assessment on land reduced by $100.

On motion, William O'Leary was assessed as tenant for Lot 1, Con. 2, and Alphonsus Condon's assessment for dog was struck off roll.

The Council went into regular session for the transaction of ordinary business.

Mr. Plaxton of the Globe Indemnity Co. applied to have policy No. 102,504, insuring the township against liability for accidents on township roads renewed for one year. This was done.

Moved by J. A. Crowe, seconded by R. Bolton, that $25 be granted the Lakefield Agricultural Society. This was solicited by Messrs. Herbert Abbott and Alex. Graham.

Two deputations from the boundary between Otonabee and Douro, one being made up of William O'Leary and Samuel O'Brien, the other of James Sweeney, Howard Quinn, Thomas Rogers and Robert Heffernan, interviewed the Council in regard to having this road repaired. The Reeve and township road superintendents were authorized to look after this work.

Joseph Garvey, Michael Sheehan, and John O'Brien were interested in having roads in their neighborhood put in better shape, and laid their troubles before the Council.

Moved by T. J. FitzGerald, seconded by J. A. Crowe, that Douro meet Otonabee Council with a view to settling the dispute over expenditure on boundary.

The following accounts were passed, viz.: A. J. Moher, salary as assessor for 1928, $80.00; postage, $3.00; Workmen's Compensation Board, half assessment for 1928, $28.61; Globe Indemnity Co., insurance, $134.50.

FARMER DROWNS IN NORTHERN LAKE

Swims Ashore From Sinking Boat ,But Is Caught in Muskeg.

COCHRANE, June 5 (Canadian Press).—Matti Ylinen, 54, and married, was drowned Friday in a small lake in Dundonald Township, south of here, according to report to the Provincial Police to-day. Ylinen and Sylvio Tremblay, both farmers in that section, were crossing the lake when their boat filled with water 200 feet from shore. Tremblay stayed with the craft and was washed ashore but Ylinen, a good swimmer, got within a few feet of safety and tried to walk the rest of the way. He was caught in the soft muskeg bottom, could not free himself, and was drowned.

Teeth may be flashing white STILL . .

they are only as Healthy as the Gums

SO long as you neglect to combat the disease of neglect (Pyorrhea) health is jeopardized.

This grim foe which ignores the teeth and attacks the gums takes as its victims 4 out of 5 after forty and thousands younger.

Take this precaution: See your dentist every six months. And start using Forhan's for the Gums, today.

As a dentifrice alone, you would prefer it. Without the use of harsh abrasives, it helps to keep teeth clean and restore their natural whiteness. Also it protects them against acids which cause decay.

But Forhan's is more than an ordinary dentifrice. If used regularly and in time, it helps to firm gums and keep them sound and healthy. And Pyorrhea seldom attacks healthy gums.

Get a tube of Forhan's today! Use this dentifrice every morning and night. Massage your gums daily with it, following directions in booklet that comes with tube. This good habit is health insurance. Two sizes—35c and 60c.

Royalty Will Attend 143rd Derby; Fairway Continues Favorite In Betting

LONDON, June 5 (Canadian Press Cable). — With the 143rd Derby only one day off, Lord Derby's colt Fairway has consolidated his position as favorite in the betting. Last night the odds on Fairway remained at five to two, but against the second choice, Flamingo, had moved up to six to one. Sunny Trace comes third at 15 to two against.

The Aga Khan's Ranjit Singh is fourth at 100 to seven, but the adds against one of the French candidates, Bubbles Second, have shortened to 18 to one. Royal Minstrel, Craven Stakes winner, is also at this figure.

Next come Gang Warily, 20 to one; Camelford and Palais Royal, 25 to one; Prot Hole and Black Watch, 33 to one; Felstead and Fern Kloof, 40 to one; The Wheedler, 50 to one; and O'Curry, 66 to one. Eight more are at 100 to one.

The field was reduced to 25 yesterday with the withdrawal of Sir Abe Bailey's Heirloom. The Epsom course is in fine shape, and all the multifarious arrangements necessary in connection with the great race are proceeding apace. A record crowd is expected this year, and preparations are being made accordingly. The King, Queen, Prince of Wales, Duke and Duchess of York, and Princess Mary and Lord Lascelles will watch the Derby.

The actual race meet opens to-day, the feature of the rather ordinary first day's program being the Woodcote Plate at six furlongs for two-year-olds.

CAMPBELLFORD COUNCIL

factured by the Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Company, was recommended.

Joshua Archer asked a rebate of taxes on his property on the Hastings road within the corporation. He claimed that he had not owned the property but that it had belonged to the town for 30 years. The matter had been discussed previously by other councils, and the matter was considered a more or less complicated affair. The Mayor expressed the opinion that the entire council should visit the locality and decide on the matter.

Few Tax Arrears

The next item of business was the tax roll for 1926. This was presented by J. D. Cumming, the tax collector for the town. His statement showed that there were taxes on the roll to the amount of $70,226.85. There had been added $42.94. Interest amounted to $292.39, making a total of $70,562.18. Of this amount, he had turned over to the treasurer, $67,863.13. There were in arrears $900.34, while the discounts for prompt payment, etc., were $891.42. Total, $70,562.18. After reading the list of taxes in arrears, Mr. Cumming read the list of abatements. These were twenty-nine in number and were dealt with separately. They included abatements on general taxes, business tax, income tax, and oil tax as well as sewer frontage tax. The motion to accept the roll was moved and seconded by Councillors O'Sullivan and Abernethy and passed by a unanimous vote. The balance of the collector's salary was order paid on motion of Councillors O'Sullivan and Wilkinson; Mr. Cumming was granted a bonus of fifty dollars. He was later appointed tax collector for 1928 at a salary of $500. On motion of Deputy Reeve Davidson and Councillor O'Sullivan, all properties which were three years or more in arrears in taxes were ordered to be advertised for sale.

At this juncture of the meeting, paving came up for discussion, when Reeve Bygott asked regarding the end on the pavement on Sebastapol street. This was in front of the residence of the Baptist minister and was too short a turn, the reeve thought. He was of the opinion that it should be tapered off so as not to form such a sharp turn. Also where the twenty-foot strip passed the intersection of Simpson street and again at Palliser street, the reeve thought that the pavement should be widened as far as the sidewalk and also that the walk should be lowered about six inches to make the proper grade. This was to combat the destruction done by the rain and snow water which came down the hill on these streets on the north side of Sebastapol street. It was estimated that the cost would be about $150 in each case, and after some discussion the council recommended that the work be done. Councillor O'Sullivan asked that the intersection of Bridge and Booth streets be paved in order to make a more finished job at the top of the school hill. This also was recommended done.

Reeve Davidson advised the council that the gravel pit on the Gibson property and the property itself might be bought for a reasonable sum. The matter was given favorable consideration, but it was decided that the council could not afford to make the purchase this year. Mr. MacIntyre reported that he had already ordered the suggested alternation to be made at end of the pavement on Sebastapol street, and had laid out the new curb line for the paving crew.

The next item for consideration was the location of the Bell Telephone Company's poles on Ranney street. Since the ditch has been tiled and filled, these poles are well out into the roadway. On motion of Councillors O'Sullivan and Abernethy, the clerk was instructed to request the telephone company to move the poles closer to the sidewalk, inside the recently laid tile.

At twenty minutes after ten, the correspondence was opened for consideration. The first letter was from P. Fairman regarding the storm sewer recently installed near his property and which he claimed would damage his land. The matter was referred to the road and bridge committee. A circular letter from the Department of Agriculture was received and filed. It had to do with the cutting of weeds along the roads and the appointing of a weed inspector. A notice regarding the settlement of a claim against the town for $100 was received and filed. The clerk was instructed to reply to a letter from the Dow Chemical Company, stating that the town did not anticipate using any of their product this season. The Mayor pointed out that he had met a representative of a Canadian firm which was marketing the same product at the same price. He was of the opinion that the purchase should be made in Canada.

Regarding a letter from Peterboro with reference to the proposed visit of the Hon. Charles Dunning, the Mayor stated that he had been in Peterboro at the meeting mentioned in the letter and had expressed himself as being in favor of the Minister's visit. This was with the intention of having him travel the full length of the Trent Canal and thus possibly induce him to sanction its completion at the Severn River. This would open up a new and attractive route for tourists. A resolution requesting that the Hon. Charles Dunning be the guest of this municipality during his visit to the water system was passed by a unanimous vote.

Petition Propesly Signed.

The clerk reported that he had investigated the petition for the Front Street sewer and had found it sufficient. His formal report was read and accepted. Regarding the paving, Mr. MacIntyre, the engineer, estimated that the cost of paving Mill Street as far as the Fire Hall would be miles. No time has been set for the twenty-four feet wide. The cost of forty-one foot pavement on Front Street as far as River Street would be $7,942.00. Thus the total cost would be $13,134.00. There would not need to be any sewer installed on either street south of Bridge Street. A resolution by Councillors Cole and Wilkinson to carry out the work under Plan D of the Local Improvement Act (21 day notice) was passed by a unanimous vote when the yeas and nayes were called for by the clerk. Councillor Stone and Deputy Reeve Davidson moved that the solicitor be instructed to prepare the necessary by-laws, and that the engineer furnish him with the required estimates. The solicitor was also to attend to the required advertising. The motion was carried.

In a sort of round table discussion, it developed that the sewer work was not keeping pace with the pavement progress and that unless something were done to relieve the situation, there was a strong possibility of a tie-up in the next few days. Rock which had not been anticipated in some of the diggings, was given as the cause of the delay. The Mayor was authorized to interview the paving company on the matter of Front Street sewer, and whether or not they would undertake the work and at what cost. He will report at the next meeting.

Deputy Reeve Davidson and Councillor Abernethy presented the by-law appointing J. D. Cumming tax collector for the town of Campbellford for the year 1928 at a salary of $500.

Mr. MacIntyre asked whether or not the town intended to surface the bridge. He pointed out that he had been spoken to on the subject by one of the canal officials and was not certain as to his proper procedure. He pointed out that the surfacing of the lift bridge would add ten tons weight to the bridge, and would have to be counteracted in order to keep the structure in the proper balance.

Increase For Policemen.

There were several accounts on the list which had not been certified, and while these were being inspected, Deputy-Reeve Davidson moved that the salaries of the policemen be raised one hundred dollars per year. The motion was seconded by Councillor Abernethy, and was passed by the Council. The increase will date from May 1st for Chief Light and from May 15th for Officer Duncalfe. The accounts and pay-sheet were passed with the exception of the accounts which had not been verified. These were ordered paid by the clerk when they had been verified by the Mayor and the chairman of the Finance Committee.

The Council adjourned at 11.35.

Obituary

WILLIAM WALLACE MENZIES.

HAVELOCK, June 5. — The Township of Belmont lost another pioneer resident on Sunday evening, in the person of William Wallace Menzies, who passed away at the home of his son, Charles Menzies, in his 81st year.

Mr. Menzies was born in the Township of Rawdon, but had resided in Belmont for over fifty years. In 1872 he married Miss Rose Arnie Hubble, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hubble, of the Township of Methuen, who predeceased him ten years ago.

The funeral takes place this (Tuesday) afternoon from the residence of his son, Charles Menzies, Belmont, to Maple Grove Cemetery.

ARTHUR JOSEPH THOMSON.

Arthur Joseph Thomson, aged 80 years, died yesterday at his home, 102 Stewart Street, on June 4th. Mr. Thomson was born at Great Yarmouth, England, and has resided here during the past eleven years. Mr. Thomson was a widower. He retired from business some years ago.

The funeral will take place to-day, June 5, from 102 Stewart Street, at 3 p.m., to Little Lake Cemetery. Rev. William McDonald will be the officiating clergyman.

THE TRAFFIC LIGHTS.

The signal lights at Charlotte and George streets were in operation all day yesterday, and the system promises to give good results in avoiding congestion and limiting possibilities of collision at this corner, although The Examiner welcomes the announcement that the dangerous left turn is to be barred.

It is the duty, however, of motorists to adopt themselves to the conditions, and of pedestrians to keep their eyes open at all times at this intersection, as under the present system the man on foot has not as much protection as is desirable.

THE WEEK-END TOLL.

Over the week-end in Ontario nine people were killed and many others injured, fourteen of them seriously, as the result of automobile accidents.

Such an appalling toll should tragically emphasize the appeals that are being made by the Highway Safety Committee to the people of Ontario for greater care in driving.

The situation is becoming so serious, especially on Sundays, that people who expect to spend their vacation in a motor trip are planning to start their holidays in mid-week in order that the dangerous conditions at the end of the week may be avoided.

Even now, before the influx of tourist traffic has really begun, the congestion on Ontario's highways at certain hours is so great that extreme care on the part of drivers is necessary, and when the army of visitors arrives at the end of the month the casualty list established on Sunday, grievous as it was, will be exceeded unless motorists generally endeavor to adjust themselves to the conditions.

As a sensible people we cannot allow this slaughter to continue, and every effort should be made by motorists generally to cope with a problem that demands solution.

THE BOYS' TRAINING SCHOOL.

The Rotary Clubs of Ontario, always alive to their self-assumed responsibility of helping to take care of the underprivileged boy, are to donate a gymnasium to the Boys' Training School at Bowmanville, an institution that seems destined to play a big part in making good citizens out of boys whose start in life is not promising.

The school, it should be understood, is not a reformatory or a jail farm.

It has been organized as a preventive measure, and any boy who has been getting out of hand at home or has become unadjusted in his community so that he is a truant at school or is committing petty misdemeanors which may or may not bring him before a police magistrate or a juvenile court judge, is considered eligible for admission.

So, too, is the boy whose parents have died and who is without any adequate supervision.

The school authorities are not so concerned as to what a boy has done or been so long as he has mentality and personality which would suggest potential manhood of a worthwhile type if properly developed.

Great things are expected of this institution, which is partially a Government and partially a service club enterprise, and the action of the Rotary Clubs in making possible a gymnasium will be of material assistance in carrying out the objects for which the training school was established.

HANDWRITING ON THE WALL!

The warning of the provincial authorities that liquor exporters are infringing on the Liquor Control Act in maintaining large stocks of wet goods in their waterfront warehouses, and that the stuff is liable to seizure and the owners to prosecution at any time, looks like the beginning of the end for the international rum trade, so far as this Province and the United States are concerned.

The export men are prepared to give legal battle, of course. They have the money and adroit lawyers are available for their purposes. At the same time there are many signs that an outraged and long-suffering public opinion will not stand for the existing situation for any length of time. The law is being gradually tightened up, and it is not too much to say that the finish of what is known as the "export racket" is not far away.

Bill 192, designed to strengthen the hands of the provincial authorities charged with the enforcement of the Government Control Act, is expected to come into force within the next few days. It does not interfere with shipments passing through the Province for bona fide export, but it strikes at the present system of accumulating stocks and releasing them at any time that seems opportune. Indeed, it is estimated that if the Ontario Government goes through with its intention that liquor cannot be held in warehouses for export, but must be shipped straight through, full 50 per cent. of the business carried on here and elsewhere will be stopped. The "cash and carry" idea is very generally employed in this district, reports say, and obviously it will suffer a grievous blow if the "wholesalers" on this side of the line are not permitted to keep booze on hand for their American customers who steal across in boats and sally forth again when the coast looks fairly clear.

As remarked in these columns not long ago, the highly organized export of liquor from Canada to the United States, is not a pretty picture. This country is deliberately engaging in a conspiracy to break the laws of a friendly nation, laws that that nation is trying hard to enforce. Our own Government, through the maintenance of the existing regulations on this side, is lending active support to the breaking of the American statutes and actually securing a profit from the business. The situation is a nasty one from any angle, and there is a growing feeling in this country that it should be ended with all possible haste. The utter contempt that people engaged in this line have for regulations is well known. Law means nothing to them, and this has been demonstrated on a thousand occasions.

The United States is spending millions annually in an attempt to enforce its prohibition Act. At the same time Canada is engaged in importing and producing liquor to be shipped across the boundary for the purpose of breaking the American law. That is the whole situation and certainly it is not one of which to be proud.

Attorney-General Price, who has accomplished much for the betterment of conditions in this part of the Province and elsewhere, points out that under the new Federal bill, Inspector Gardner is giving warning to the liquor exporters that stocks cannot be kept on hand. The law says there must be continuous shipment, the Attorney-General adds. The new Dominion legislation does not come into effect until Parliament rises, but already the provincial authorities are advising the cross-river booze merchants what is going to happen.

Canada has been in the liquor export business too long. It is time that we got out of it for good.—Border Cities Star.

ASQUITH'S VIEW OF KITCHENER.

The legends and myths that cluster around the name of Lord Kitchener have so far stood in the way of an appraisement of the great soldier which can be regarded as either authoritative or just. To some, they bear the significance associated, from time immemorial, with the knights of chivalry who, as crusaders in a great cause, and deliverers of their people, sacrificed their lives while their work was half accomplished. To others, they represent a halo more or less fictitious, and reflecting a popular belief rather than a conception based on fact.

Lord Beaverbrook, in his book on "Politics and the War," expresses the view that "the people did not reason about Kitchener; they just trusted, and that mere trust was a priceless asset when life was being torn up by the roots." Whereupon the bitter comment of a London critic is that Beaverbrook's estimate simply confirmed the impression gained from other war histories that it was as well for Britain and her allies, and for his own reputation, that Kitchener died when he did.

What the final judgment will be on the soldier who went down in the "Hampshire" in the dark days of 1916, the present generation with its war predilections and prejudices cannot fairly determine. But it is of importance to note that among the historians of the great conflict, one at least has had a sufficiently high appreciation of the qualities and services of Kitchener to place on record what many will regard as a handsome and authoritative vindication of his memory.

Nothing that has been written about the political phases of the war will probably carry greater weight with the future historian than the diary of Asquith (Lord Oxford) now appearing in instalments in the London Daily Telegraph, prior to its publication in book form. Its value lies not so much in the disclosure of what went on behind the scenes during the critical years Asquith was at the head of the Coalition Government, as in its calm and dispassionate review of events, and its discriminating characterization of the personalities who played a leading part in the drama of war and politics.

Of Kitchener, Asquith had no preconceived opinions. Previous to August, 1914, his acquaintance with the General had been, as he says, very slight. But from the day of the latter's appointment at the War Office, they were "in the closest and most intimate contact," and the conclusion arrived at by the then Prime Minister in his analysis of events and personalities associated with his regime is that "the man who came best out of it all" was Lord Kitchener.

He was, writes Asquith,

> "A great man with certain obvious limitations; some of them congenital, others the natural, perhaps the necessary results of the environment of his past career. He was disposed to be secretive, and did not find it easy to throw his knowledge and judgment into the common stock."

But to say that at the War Office "he neither asked, nor took, the advice of any man" is, writes the diarist, "an absurd travesty of the facts."

Equally emphatic is the rejoinder of Asquith to the critics who in high military circles, as well as in the press, blamed K. of K. for the supposed shortage of munitions in the early stages of the war, and sought in a vicious publicity campaign to impeach his capacity to control operations. "Never was there a case in which the charge of apathy or lethargy was worse founded" in Asquith's comment upon the attacks made upon himself and his colleague at the War Office, than whom, he claims, no one worked harder and more effectively to arouse public opinion to the gravity of the situation at the front, and to organize, direct and inspire the forces of resistance against the enemy.

Throughout the campaign of criticism and abuse designed to overthrow him, Kitchener bore himself, we are told, with the composure of a man who never allowed anything to ruffle or rattle him. He was "entirely without the drawback of personal vanity or self-consciousness. He did not pose for posterity; he never laid himself out for contemporary or posthumous applause." These are qualities which cannot be said to have been common among the war lords and war leaders, and they may be taken as indicating that Asquith could have told more than he has in his diary when he wrote that "if the 'Hampshire' had not been struck and sunk by a hidden mine, there would have been a problem the less for the writers of hypothetical history."—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

It is perhaps not to be wondered at that in the Bell Telephone controversy politicians should be getting away from party lines.

Peterborough's electric traffic lights are now being used in the daytime. The change is in the interest of public safety.

Tourists are to be warned against drinking in automobiles. They should understand that very little Ontario scenery can be observed from a jail cell.

It is worthy of note, in considering the week-end casualty lists, that very few people are killed in church.

Perhaps Mr. Cardin thinks that the fewer people that can be reached by a radio station the more time on the air that station should receive.

The fact that the Canada Cement Company's plant at Point Anne has gone 522 days without a "lost-time" accident is "concrete" proof that attention to accident prevention pays.

Unlike the bird in the hand, the blossom on the tree is worth two in the hand. A sweetly solemn thought for Blossom time.—Hamilton Herald.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS.

The Evening Examiner.

Dear Sir: May I beg a little space in your paper to air my views on our traffic problem.

A great deal has been said about the new traffic lights, but it is without doubt the greatest aid to traffic control that we have experienced in years. The only difficulty at the present time is that one doesn't know just when the signals are working. I would suggest that they be operated all the time. It might be more expensive but it would be more reliable.

Another difficulty is that the buses intercept the view of the lights, which makes it very confusing to the motorist. The buses could be moved to the far side of the crossing or the lights might be suspended in the centre of the intersection.

During the past few days a great number have been in court on a charge of speeding. I would suggest that the members of our worthy police force should keep an eye on the trucks and buses. I would recommend the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets as a convenient place to increase the revenue of the city.

In regard to the inspection of permit cards—that is just as it should be.

Yours for the relief of our traffic troubles,

The Question Box

P.C.—Q: To settle an argument: When did the notorious 4.4 beer arrive,

A: May 21, 1925.

A: Yes. There was a big camp at Exhibition Park in August, 1920, with 500 boys under canvas.

A.M.—Q: Does the Warden of Peterborough County conduct an excursion such as we read of in the United Counties?

A: No, it has not become a practice here. The Council of Northumberland and Durham meeting in Cobourg, is called the "Little Parliament," because of its size and its parliamentary way of conducting business. A presentation (usually of a gold watch) is made to the Warden at the end of his term. At the same time, it is open to question whether any more business is transacted at Cobourg than in Peterborough.

C.O.—Q: (1) Can Alberta coal be purchased in Peterborough? (2) When was the first Alberta coal made available here? (3) Is it as good as anthracite?

A: (1) Yes. The Examiner regularly carries advertisements of Alberta coal. (2) September 19, 1923. (3) A survey conducted by The Examiner in 1923 would indicate that the answer is "Yes," but it is a matter of individual preference. People have become accustomed to the habits of anthracite, and if they wish to encourage the Canadian product they must learn to use it.

GOD'S MINUTE

Make confession unto the Lord God of your fathers.—Ezra 10:11.

* * *

Our Father in Heaven, we bow before Thee in gratitude for the care of the night, and for the light and hope of the new day. Grant that we may enter upon it in the joy of forgiven sin. Bring us to its close with souls unstained by conscious disobedience. Give us wisdom through the indwelling of Thy Holy Spirit that the choices of the day may be right. Keep us from the follies into which we shall be tempted to fall: preserve us from harm and danger of every kind. Bestow upon us the grace of love. Help us to love Thee and Thy Kingdom, and our fellowmen. Let Thy gracious presence today attend all with whom our lives are linked. Give them every blessing we ask for ourselves. Be in the hearts and homes especially present to our daily thoughts. Keep from sin and shame and harm all who are dear to us. Have mercy upon Thy people of all creeds and tongues. Build up a holy Church throughout the world. Give victory to those who in hard places witness for Christ. Deal tenderly with men everywhere who have missed the way. Minister to the poor and the sick, the prisoners, and the oppressed. Rebuke and save those who plot evil against their neighbor. Win victory for Thyself in the affairs of our nation, and the nations of the earth. We offer these our morning prayers in the Name of Thy Son, our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., June 5 (Canadian Press).—Owing to it being a holiday (King's Birthday) in Canada and England, the export trade in grain here yesterday was extremely dull. Trading in car lots of grain on spot was also of a limited character, but the tone of the market was steady.

Prices for all grade of Spring and Winter wheat flour were well maintained under a moderate demand.

The market for millfeed was quiet but prices were unchanged. The trade in standard grades of rolled oats was slow, but values were steady.

The trade in eggs was rather quiet owig to the fact that a number of wholesale and retail houses were closed, but the tone of the market was about steady. In a wholesale way there was some business done in Ontario extras at 30c per dozen in export cases, and at 31½c per dozen in light cases, returned. The receipts were 3,914 cases.

The market for potatoes was without any new feature to note, prices being about steady under a moderate demand.

The trade in imported beans was rather quiet, but prices were unchanged, with car lots of choice white hand-picked selling at $3.90 per bushel, ex-track, and smaller quantities at $4.10 per bushel, ex-store.

The feature of the butter trade was the weaker feeling that developed and prices scored a decline of ¼c per lb, which was attributed to the lull in the demand from the local buyers and the prospects of increased receipts in the near future. The receipts were 827 packages.

In sympathy with the strength that was displayed at the cheese boards in the country at the close of last week and the higher prices paid for the offerings, the undertone to the local market was strong and prices were advanced ½c to ¾c per lb. The receipts were 4,308 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, June 5 (Canadian Press).—Wheat scored a sudden big upturn in price yesterday, but reacted sharply at the finish. Sensationally pessimistic crop reports from the Spring wheat belt Northwest led to aggressive buying. On the other hand, heavy sales to realize profits ensued when the market bulged. Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at ⅞ to 1c net gain, with corn ¼ to ¾c off; oats varying from ¾c decline to 1c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10c.

According to one of the foremost unofficial crop experts in the country, the Spring wheat crop is deteriorating at a rapid rate now over a wide extent of territory, as a result of drought. In his opinion, the greater part of the acreage he has seen on various tours could not make more than four or five bushels if rain came at once.

A few days more without rain, he says, would bring about total failure in many places. Instead of having a good start in April and May, the wheat has largely stood still over the American and Canadian Northwest.

Prior to announcement of this information, the wheat market yesterday as a rule was ranging downward, influenced largely by reports of scattered rains in Canada, and by Liverpool quotations lower than due.

It was at this juncture that speculative demand broadened out in a hurry and predictions became current that the Spring wheat situation as a whole indicated a light crop at best.

Corn ruled relatively weak throughout the day. Weather over the corn belt was much more favorable, with rains prevailing north from Texas into Nebraska and covering Illinois and Indiana. Oats prices at times developed much strength on account of complaints of excessively dry weather Northwest.

Provisions were firmer, affected more or less by official reports that hog production is on the decline.

Millbrook

MILLBROOK, June 4. — Harold Hunter, who has been assistant at the C.N.R. station for several years past, has been moved to Port Hope to take a similar position at the station in that town, and left with his family to take up residence in the lake shore town on Wednesday evening of last week.

The "West end" group of young people, who meet each week at J. W. Hutchinson's, held its regular social gathering the evening before Mr. and Mrs. Hunter left for their new home, when a very pleasant social time was spent in music, dancing, etc., with the service of dainty refreshments, filling the time happily until the closing hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughey have moved into Mr. Hunter's house at the west end of the village.

Rev. Joseph and Mrs. Wilks motored to Toronto with Mr. Will Jones and spent a few days visiting friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hatherly, Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones and baby girl, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jones and two children, of Newtonville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Hatherly for dinner on Sunday. Mr. W. Little, of Canton, Mr. and Mrs. Hatherly's guest, was also of the party.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sayles have taken a furnished house in Toronto for the next four months, and left by motor for the city on Friday morning. Mr. Sayles will return to complete his contract of painting O. B. Johnston's house at Centreville, and other work promised, before staying permanently in Toronto; George Sayles is staying with his aunt, Mrs. William West, until his examinations at the Continuation School are over.

Edward Budd, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Budd, has taken on as junior on the local bank of Toronto staff.

Mr. George Cochrane of Burketon was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Henderson this week.

Mr. William Little, of Canton, spent the week-end, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Hatherly.

Mr. and Mrs. McDowell, of Toronto, are visiting this week at the home of their son, Mr. M. McDowell, Main street.

Rev. F. H. Howard is attending the annual United Church Conference at Smith's Falls this week. Rev. Joseph Wilks will take the services in the United Church here on Sunday, preaching morning and evening. The service at the Falls Line appointment is withdrawn for Sunday afternoon.

Rev. P. C. and Mrs. Howard are in Toronto this week, the former attending the sessions of the Anglican Synod.

Mrs. E. Whyte is in Toronto this week representing the W.A. of St. Thomas' Church at the annual Diocesan meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society.

Mrs. William Ridge, who has spent the winter with her son in Sarnia, returned here this week, and is re-opening her home for the summer months.

Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong left for Seattle, Washington Territory, on Wednesday upon receipt of a telegram informing her of the serious illness of her son. Mrs. Armstrong has made her home for some time with her brother and sister, Mr. David Hampton and Mrs. (Dr.) Rae. Her many friends will join in wishing that she may find her son improved in health at the end of her long journey.

The Millbrook Agricultural Society is preparing a good program for its annual sports day on June 7, the attractions including a softball tournament, foot races, horseshoe pitching contest, etc. In the evening the dramatic club of Christ Church, Bailieboro, will present the play, "A Rustic Romeo,' 'and a dance in the Armouries at 9:30 p.m. will complete a full day's program.

Miss Mamie Fisher, who has spent the winter with friends in Toronto and other points, returned here this week, and has re-opened her home for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. McCullough, whose marriage took place at the Presbyterian manse, on Thursday, May 24, Rev. John Riddell officiating, have taken up their residence on Main Street, and will be at home to their friends on Friday, June 8, afternoon and evening. Mr. McCullough has recently had his house thoroughly renovated, the improvements including wiring for electric lighting, and other changes. Before her marriage, the bride was Mrs. Ethel Yeomans, of Toronto. The witnesses to the marriage were Miss Audrey Yeomans, the bride's daughter, and J Steele, of town.

The picture shows Premier Stanley Baldwin and Mrs. Baldwin arriving at Burlington House, London, for a private view of the Royal Academy's salon, one of the greatest art collections ever assembled.

J. P. Bickle of Toronto has purchased a set of five splendid Aubusson tapestries for $11,100 at auction. One of the set pictured above is emblematic of spring and shows the dance of Flora with attendant cupids and nymphs, bearing baskets and garlands of flowers in the garden of a palace. The size of the tapestry is 11 feet, 11 inches by 15 feet, 6 1-2 inches. For some time it was exhibited in the Royal Ontario Museum as a loan from the S. H. Janes' collection.

Maria Montero, lauded by European courts and famous on the New York stage, was shot to death by Horatio Colombres, wealthy scion of an Argentine family, when she spurned his lover after learning that he had a wife and family. Some time ago the beautiful Spaniard broke a mirror and ever since expected a calamity to happen. The other night, just as the senorita was finishing her day's lessons, Colombres came into the apartment. She was in another room. He joined her there. Misses Mina Macedo and Estelle Montallo heard them quarrelling. Their voices became louder and then there was a pistol shot. "I shot her because I love her. I always did and always will", Colombres murmured as police lifted him on to a stretcher. Senorita Montero's striking beauty and brilliant performances made her a favorite in Europe and later in New York, where she appeared first in Raymond Hitchcock's "Pin Wheel" and subsequently in numerous revues.

Dying a slow and painful death from radium poisoning the five young women shown are attempting to sue the United States' Radium Corporation for $250,000 each. They painted the dials of 250 watches a day over a period of years, wetting the brushes with their lips. This left radium in their system which is slowing eating the bones away and drying up the blood. Doctors say there can be no cure and that some of the women will die before the court hears their plea in September. The corporation defends itself by the statute of limitations, which provides court action must begin within a certain period after the damage was incurred. The young women are: 1, Miss Catherine Scaub of Newark 2, Miss Albina Larice, Orange, N.J.; 3, Mrs. Edna Hussman, Hillside, N.J.; 4, Mrs. Quinta McDonald, and 5, Miss Grace Fryer, of Orange, N.J. One of the girls is still working, her back being supported by steel casts.

Miss Jean Browne Scott, Pennsylvania girl, and champion driver, is to marry Nigel Claudian Colman, member in the British parliament for Lambeth. Miss Scott has been a persistent winner at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, often driving her own horses to victory. She is equally skillful in the saddle.

Alice Brady, noted film and stage actress, who when visiting Toronto on Wednesday, stated her belief that a trade union for film actors and actresses is the probable future development in the movie industry. She believes in plenty of rest and home life. "Business should augument one's life, not monopolize it", she says. Miss Brady is shown with one of her three pet dogs included in her entourage.

The new giant monoplane L'Arc-en-Ciel, which was built by the young French inventor, Rene Couzenet, and which, it is expected, Maurice Drouhin will attempt to fly across the Atlantic from west to east this summer. It was given its first trial at Orly recently by the famous French pilot. The plane is of a unque streamline design and entirely different from any other three-motored plane yet built.

The implications of the Japanese memorandum, handed the warring Chinese generals are believed to be the most momentous of any far eastern development since the great war. Tokio has stated that Japan will "prevent as far as possible, defeated troops or those in pursuit of them regardless of whether they are north- er nor southern troops from entering Manchuria." The Japanese are likely to establish a military barrier at Shanhaikwan, sea terminus of the great wall, to enforce this. The northern general, Chang Tso-Lin, has indicated he will not heed Japan's warning ,and will attempt to hold Peking and Tientsin in the face of the Nationalist drive. The phrase, "Manchurian protectorate" is being freely used in speaking of the position of Japan in relation to that territory. On the map is shown the relaitve positions of the northern and southern armies.

With an absence of pomp and ceremony, the last portion of one of Canada's early landmarks, the old Toronto Union Station, was demolished recently. After a cable attached to the huge girders had broken a workman climbed to the peak and attached two new steel cables to the 82-foot beams. These were connected to the couplers of a locomotive which started to go steadily ahead. The cables became taut. The engine tugged hard, her wheels skidding, then the west wall crumbled, bringing the girders and remaining wall with it. When the dust cleared away only two bleak corners remained.

M. J. Coldwell, Regina alderman, who stirred a storm at Ottawa by his testimony regarding alleged trafficking in immigrant permits. Hon. Robert Forke, minister of immigration, has flatly denied that he gave Coldwell certain information which the latter claims to have received from him, involving an ex-member of parliament in such traffic.

Wallace, a two-year-old, 100-pound Belgian police dog went on a rampage in Toronto, gouging the right arm and forehead of Philip Magi, aged 9 (right), and then ripping open the right arm of his master, John McQuiggan, aged 34, necessitating eight stitches. Moquiggan, an imperial veteran who went through the war practically unscathed, is shown with the dog, which, pending developments, was placed in a steel cage before execution.

WILKINS PLANE LANDS

ICE CREAM FOR 4,000,000 CONES IS MADE IN ONE P LANT ANNUALLY

Peterborough People Use Great Deal Produced in Other Places, However.

43.4 CONES PER CAPITA.

Herd of 26,000 Cows Needed to Supply Canada's Demand For Ice Cream.

Peterborough Milk Products, Limited, last year made 50,000 gallons of ice cream. This was distributed throughout this section of Ontario, going into practically every little town and hamlet. This ice cream consumption is equivalent to 4,000,000 cones and at the usual retail price of 5 cents a cone this amounts to $200,000.00. But the Peterborough Milk Products does not make all the ice cream used in this district and it had been estimated that one-fifth of the ice cream used in Peterborough and district comes from elsewhere. Hence, the 62,500 gallons of ice cream retailed in this district last summer on account of so many fancy dishes demanded by the public would sell at a much higher figure.

On the basis of the 1927 population the per capita consumption of ice cream amounts to 43.4 cones. Canada's annual ice cream consumption is equivalent to 413,868,600 cones.

Ice cream is now used by all classes, every day of the year, and in a comparative short time has passed out of the luxury class and taken a very definite place in our diet.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture is interested in the matter of ice cream consumption from the standpoint of the dairy industry. In 1926 over 206,934,300 pounds of milk was used in the manufacture of ice cream. This does not include the milk used in powder form, a quantity of which is always used to supply milk solids, not fat. This powder form is dry skim milk.

According to the dairy branch of the department, the average production of milk in Canada is about 4,500 pounds per cow. Based on these figures it requires a dairy herd of 25,985 head to produce the milk for Canada's ice cream supply.

701 RADIO SETS LICENSED HERE

One to Each Eight Homes Authorized, According to Local Inspector.

FEES USED IN WORK.

Licensed radios, according to the government report of 1927, in Peterborough were numbered at 701. This means, with a population of 21,768 people, about one to every thirty-one persons. The estimated number of cars in the city for last year was 2,600—or a radio to every three or four car owners. The number of occupied houses is 5,715, which means a radio to about every eight houses. The number of telephones for this district is 5,200, which means ar adio for every seven or eight telephone users.

Beside the licensed radio there are many sets that are not licensed, said the local inspector. The money received from radio licenses is spent wholly by the government ineliminating interference that is disagreeable to the listener, he pointed out. No matter how expensive a set one may own, if there is a faulty transformer or bare wires coming in contact with each other or limbs of a tree, such noise, often mistaken for static, is set up and the reception will be very poor. It is not only a matter of complying with the law to procure a license but a matter of fairness to the other radio owners who have paid their fee and are paying for the service of eliminating disagreeable noises.

During the past winter reception in the city was very good, local and distant stations being received with clearness. There was the interference of many stations on the lower wave lengths and now that the Federal Radio Commission of the United States has ordered a number of the poorer stations and some of the interfering stations off the air, all radio fans in Peterborough, as in all of Canada, are anxiously waiting the results.

But the Summer period of broadcasting has been entered upon, so fans will not really know until next Winter when reception will pick up again with the colder weather and longer nights, how successful the plan really is.

It is hoped that in the spirit of co-operation with others, that all unlicensed sets will be licensed, in the hope of eliminating interference around the city when necessary, he concluded.

AGREE TO DISAGREE.

The Earl of Northesk, who arrived in New York last week on the Majestic, has announced he has separated from his "Follies girl" wife, formerly Miss Jessica Brown, of Buffalo. They are both shown here. The marriage, five years ago, caused a sensation in London and Edinburgh, and the young earl, then 22, had to resign from the Coldstream Guards. The Countess of Northesk, the earl's mother, welcomed her son's wife and it was freely said at the time that she did so because she believed a bride from across the sea would raise the curse which is said to have been laid on the family's matrimonial fortunes 300 years ago. At that time one of the founders of the Northesk line pronounced a peculiarly efficacious curse upon posterity because his son married a girl from across the sea.

MOSCOW EXPLAINS GRAIN EXPORT CUT

Stalin Says Fall to Twentieth of Pre-War Margin Due to New System.

MOSCOW, June 5.—At last the real facts of the Soviet grain situation have come out, emanating from Joseph Stalin himself. These redoubtable yet splendid facts comprise not the immediate prospects of the coming harvest, which naturally still depend upon the weather, but a lucid exposition of the reasons for the reduction of Russia's grain exports.

The grain export has fallen to less than a twentieth of the pre-war figure, and this year it will be for less, while the available surplus over the needs of the Peasants themselves, the "trade surplus" as M. Stalin calls it, has dropped to half of the pre-war amount despite the fact that the total grain production almost equals the pre-war average.

Change In Production Source.

The explanation of this, boldly stated by M. Stalin may be regarded as the Soviet Union's greatest pride and, economically speaking, its greatest weakness. It is as follows:

Before the war, one-half of the annual production came from the big estates of the rich peasants. Two fifths of this was surplus available for urban needs and export. The remaining half was produced by the rest of the peasants, who consumed seventh-eighths of their crop themselves.

Now the big estates, the vast Soviet State farms, and the rich peasants produce only one-seventh of the total, the remaining six-sevenths coming from the rest of the peasants who, as before the war, consume almost all of their product, to be exact, nine-tenths of it.

Meanwhile, says M. Stalin, the position of the working class is improving annually and this regularly increases its demand for grain and thus reduces the margin for export.

ST. GEORGE'S W.A. CLOSES FOR SEASON

Presentation Made To Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Hughes By Guild.

The W. A. of St. George's church held their closing meeting for the season yesterday afternoon in the church basement, with Mrs. E. G. Brown, president, in charge. The main item of importance was the report of the W. A. annual meeting held in Toronto last week, given by Mrs. Hughes, deanery officer. Following the report a gift of money was made to Mr. and Mrs. Hughes by Mrs. Monk, president of the Guild. An address was read by Mrs. J. Brownlee, secretary of the W. A., expressing the wishes of the two organizations for a safe and pleasant voyage to the old country, and asking their acceptance of the parting gift. Sincere hopes were expressed that they would make a safe return to Canada. A gift was also sent from A.Y.P.A., extending the same good wishes to the rector and his wife. The rector and Mrs. Hughes responded suitably and the meeting closed by the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Refreshments were afterwards served and a social time spent.

More than 280,000,000 gallons of milk are conveyed annually by British railways.

CAME IN ON PERMITS

Following the immigration committee disclosures, Rabbi S. H. Silverstein of Toronto, who has been five years in Canada, said he had received two of the special immigration permits now under scrutiny. With these permits the rabbi stated, he had been able to bring his two daughters from Poland to join him here, an event that had brought him great happiness. "I just made regular application for the necessary permit, and everything went smoothly and without difficulty," said the rabbi. "I think perhaps that because I am a rabbi the authorities helped me as much as possible. There could be no question about my application." Rabbi Silverstein said that he had never heard of anyone trafficking in permits. "Here I am busy with my books and with my work. I have my girls with me and we are happy together. I know very little of what goes on in the outside world." These pictures show the rabbi in the centre with his daughters, Miss D. Silverstein, left, and Miss E. Silverstein, right.

Treasure from the Tropics

Nature endowed many districts with petroleum containing a high gasoline content. Such oil fields are common. But nature was less generous in providing raw materials for motor oil manufacture. In one oil field she stored a crude petroleum ideal for the requirements of a fine motor oil.

That field is in Peru, and the virtues of its yield were discovered by IMPERIAL OIL scientists. Today, IMPERIAL OIL controls the Peruvian field, and alone has access to its rich crude. Because Marvelube is made from Peruvian crude, it is an inherently better oil that more fully meets the requirements of complete and efficient lubrication under all conditions of motor operation.

Back of Marvelube are the experience, resources and integrity of IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED, for forty-seven years Canada's largest refiners of petroleum products.

Standard Exchange Returns To Former Hours To-day

TORONTO, June 5 (Canadian Press). —Returning to continuous trading from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., the market on the Standard Stock Exchange to-day was firm. Noranda was again the feature of the morning's trading and reached a high mark of 30. Around noon it sold at 29.85, where it was up 30 cents.

Teck Hughes was also in demand and moved up 14 cents to 10.39, while Dome, less active, advanced 20 cents at 9.40, a similar gain being recorded by Sherritt Gordon at 6.45.

A few stocks showed declines, Sudbury Basin declining 18 at 9.27.

Weakness in New York Reflected In Toronto

TORONTO, June 5 (Canadian Press).—Weakness on the New York Stock Market was reflected in this morning's transactions on the local exchange when the declines far outnumbered the advances, although in most cases the selling was well absorbed.

International Nickel was the most active stock on the board, and on transactions of nearly 10,000 shares, dropped 3-8 points to 95, but bounded back before the close to 98¼, where it showed a net loss from last Saturday's final quotation of 2¼. Page Hersey Preferred was down a similar amount at 205, while losses of a point were sustained by Brazilian at 57½, Cosmos Preferred at 98, and Page Hersey at 103. Distillers--Seagrams at 20, Walker's at 58, and Imperial Oil at 67.

Gains of a point were registered by MacKay at 128 and Cosmos at 23, while in the unlisted section English Electric jumped three points to 30.

In the Banks, Commerce and Royal were down three cents at 295 and 390 respectively, while a gain of a similar number of points was made by Standard at 258.

Rains in Northwest Cause Drop in Wheat

CHICAGO, June 5. Canadian Press. — Rains in the Canadian northwest gave wheat values a decided set back early to-day. General selling took place actuated by failure of the Liverpool market to follow advances which took place yesterday on this side of the Atlantic. Chicago prices for wheat, after opening 1 to 2 1-8c off, underwent a further decline. Corn and oats were easier, with corn starting at 3-8 decline to 1-8 advance and later showing a general sag. Provisions held about steady.

Opening prices were: Wheat, July 147 September 148 1-8; corn, July, 105, September 104¼; oats, July 56 5-8; September 46½.

Sensational Shifts In New York Market

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Canadian Press.)—Speculators for the advance regained control of the price movement in to-day's stock market. The "money scare" late yesterday brought fresh liquidation into the market at the opening, which carried many issues down one to seven points, but a brisk rally set in before mid-day which wiped out many of the early losses and sent a number of issues one to six points above yesterday's final quotation.

There was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement. The sale of pig iron at the lowest price since 1915 tended to dampen speculative enthusiasm for the steel shares.

The persistent efforts of Federal Reserve authorities to force a reduction in broker's loans inspired caution in Conservative brokerage circles.

Highly erratic fluctuations took place in some of the high priced specialties. Radio, for instance, opened unchanged at 197, advanced to 198¾, broke to 192, rallied to 204, dipped to 196½, and then shot up around 205. Case Threshing rallied from a low of 313 to 324, Curtiss Airplane from 120¼ to 127¾, General Motors from 188½ to 194¾, American International from 109 to 114, International Harvester from 275 to 284 and International Combustion from 62½ to 67½. Western Union dipped to 144¼, the lowest price since 1926, and then rallied to 150.

OBTAINED MANY PERMITS

W. J. Egan, Deputy Minister of Immigration, submitted to the Parliamentary Committee on Immigration at Ottawa, a list of the immigration permits issued to members of Parliament and others since April, 1926. The Deputy Minister declared that all the permits had been legally granted. Included among those who secured large numbers of permits were the following: (1) Brig.-Gen. Hervey, Montreal, 300; (2) Thomas Shipway, Toronto, 13; (3) Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Immigration, 208; (4) S. W. Jacobs, Montreal, 143, and (5) G. W. McPhee, Sask., 120.

Lennox Warne, who was remanded a week ago on the charge of theft from the Canadian General Electric Company, was granted a further remand until Thursday.

Frederick Bran pleaded guilty to issuing a forged cheque for a suit of clothes and was let go on suspended sentence. Joseph Wearing acted for the boy and explained that a lot of the blame rested with the man who sold the clothes, as he knew Bran was a poor pay, and although he issued a forged cheque the boy immediately saw his error, and recovered teh cheque and tore it up.

A local man who celebrated the King's Birthday by going for a buggy ride, appeared charged with being intoxicated in a public place to which he pleaded guilty, and was fined $10 and costs.

Wesley Devall was remanded until Monday on the charge of manslaughter. The same bail of $10,000 was granted. The Crown Attorney said that he had been in communication with the Attorney-General's department and was not ready to go on with the preliminary hearing.

TWO SHIPS SENT TO PROBE CALLS

Soviet Orders Vessels North To Franz Joseph LAND.

KING'S BAY SCEPTICAL.

MOSCOW, June 5. Canadian Press —The Soviet authorities to-day ordered two ships, the Persey and the Taimir, to proceed as soon as possible to Franz Joseph Land in the belief that the radio messages received by amateurs yesterday, were sent out from the dirigible Italia. The vessels will be provided with airplanes and aero-sleighs.

Sceptical at King's Bay.

KING'S BAY, June 5. Canadian Press. — Reports from Russia that wireless messages had been picked up from the dirigible Italia stating that she had landed on Franz Joseph Land, are meeting with much scepticism here.

The theory supported by Lieut. Holm, the Norwegian flier, who is now en route to North Spitzbergen to take up the search by air, is that the Italia descended on the polar ice, north of Spitzbergen and that there was very little chance that she was blown to Franz Joseph Land.

The Hobby with Lieut. Holm aboard, was believed to have reached Virgo Bay this forenoon and it was thought probable that the Norwegian plane would make a reconnaisance since the weather was favorable for flying.

S.O.S. Picked Up.

MOSCOW, June 5 (Canadian Press) —A Soviet meteorological station in Siberia reported to-day that it had picked up what was believed to be an SOS from the missing dirigible Italia, but that the location could not be secured.

TORONTO CHEMISTS' SEARCH SUCCEEDS

Prof. Miller and Associates Find Element Which Causes Growth.

TORONTO, June 5. — After years of research, Professor W. Lash Miller and his chemistry staff at the University of Toronto have discovered one of the elements of which Bios—the astonishing substance which causes growth and reproduction in yeast and other plants—is composed. This element is termed inactive Inosite, and is regarded as an extreme rarity, although Professor Miller has been able to make it artificially in his laboratory. Well on the way to discovery of a second element, Professor Miller hopes to be able to announce this before Christmas.

U. of T. Winner.

Work of Professor Miller and his staff in this connection is generally regarded as one of the most important research achievements accomplished during this century. Of the achievement the University of Toronto is particularly proud, for it has won out in competition against a great many other research laboratories, all with the same objective in view.

One result of the discovery, it is stated, may be a revision of the whole theory of diet from the vitamine standpoint. While it has been proved by Professor Miller that Bios is not a vitamine and does not have the remarkable effect of certain vitamines in the cure of scurvy and other effects of malnutrition, it has been definitely proved that it is essential to all plant growth and reproduction.

JURY RETURNS OPEN VERDICT

Recommends Further Investigation Into Fatal Fire Near Woodstock.

VICTIM DRINKING.

WOODSTOCK, June 5 (Canadian Press).—An open verdict, with a rider recommending that a further investigation be made, was returned last night by a coroner's jury inquiring into the death of James Lefler of South Norwich, who is preseumed to have been burned to death in his home at Cornell on May 25.

Roy Winters, of Simcoe, who is being held on a liquor charge, told how he and Lefler had been drinking together on the night of the tragedy. He had left the house for a few minutes and on his return found it a mass of flames.

STORES CLOSING ON WEDNESDAY

At a meeting of the Peterborough Retail Merchants' Association held in the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon, it was decided that for this year the stores would be closed on Wednesday afternoons during June, July and August. It was suggested that 12.30 be the closing hour.

IN POLICE COURT

V. J. McElderry, K.C., E. H. D. Hall, K. C., and S. T. Medd, K.C., were congratulated on their appointments as Kings Councillors, when His Worship Magistrate O. A. Langley took his place on the bench this morning. Mr. McElderry was the only one of the honored gentlemen present. Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton, K.C., Joseph Wearing, J. A. O'Brien, Alex. Elliott and W. F. Huycke all made short remarks, congatulating Mr. McElderry on his appointment.

THE NATIONAL CITY COMPANY OF CANADA

Character

WHEN buying bonds for investment two factors should be taken into consideration—

FIRST—Property values, revenue producing powers and other tangible elements of security;

SECOND—The character and experience of the investment house which sponsors the issue.

Experienced investors everywhere recognize that the second factor is just as important as the first.

A LESSON ON THE DIGESTIVE TRACT.

Very few human beings actually experience hunger. When you feel hungry from missing a meal, it is probably due to breaking the habit of eating which you have formed. Those who have actually experienced real hunger know that it is a terrific craving coming from the very cells of the body. This only occurs after a person has missed several meals. This deep-seated craving actually comes because of the need that our body cells have for food to grow, multiply, and function.

The food we take into our mouths is in much too crude a form to these delicate cells to use as nourishment, and it must be prepared and broken up into certain chemical forms before they can make use of it. This work is performed by the digestive system. Of all parts of the body, it is most important that we understand the digestive organs, for if these fail in their work we are sure to have a loss of health.

Our digestive system includes the entire digestive tract, which begins with the mouth and ends with the rectum. The food passes through the tract in this order: Mouth, esophagus, stomach, and valve of the stomach known as the pylorus, and the small intestine which is divided into three parts. The first, in which the liver, gall-bladder and pancreas empty, is known as the duodenum, the second part of the small intestine is known as the jejunum, and the last part of the small intestine is known as the ileum. The end of the ileum joins onto the lower part of the ascending colon which is a portion of the large intestine. Where the ileum joins onto the colon there is a valve located, known as the ileo-caecal valve. This part into which the food empties forms a kind of pouch called the caecum. At the bottom of this pouch is located the famous vermiform appendix.

The large intestine or colon is about four feet in length and it begins at the appendix in the lower right side of the abdominal cavity and ascends upward to a point just below the liver where it makes a bend known as the hepatic or liver flexure. It then runs transversely from the right to left side of the abdomen, where it makes another bend downward near the spleen, known as the splenic flexure. This portion of the colon is now known as the descending colon. As it reaches the bottom of the abdominal cavity it makes a peculiar S-shaped bend known as the sigmoid flexure after which it enters the rectum and then out of the body.

I would like you to keep this picture of the digestive system in your mind because it will help you very much in understanding many of the rules of diet. This muscular tube which we have just studied only acts as a receptacle for the carrying of food. The digestion is performed by the means of glands which empty their digestive secretion into the digestive tract.

The first important digestive glands to throw their alkaline secretions into the food are the salivary glands which are located within the mouth and assist in the digestion of starch by converting it into a form of grape sugar so that it can be absorbed by the blood. If you have had mumps you know where the salivary glands are located, because they are the ones which become inflamed and swollen in this disease.

Questions and Answers.

Question—W. K. L. asks: "Will you please tell me what is the cause of a cataract over the left eye? Haven't had it long. Would like to know if there is an absolute cure without an operation. Am 55 years old."

Answer: A cataract can sometimes be stopped by the fasting cure and the wearing of properly fitted glasses. Most cataracts would never start if the afflicted one did not wait too long to put on glasses. Continued eye strain brings about an inflammation of the eye which is the first cause of cataract. After that, injudicious living feeds the trouble and if proper treatment is not taken in time, an operation is the only thing that will restore the sight.

Question—Mrs. D. W. asks: "Could I get a copy of one of your articles that I have lost? I am making a scrapbook of them and would like the one on the use of cooked and raw foods."

Answer: Any article which has appeared in this column will be sent to you if you will name the article and send a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Question—Alice B. asks: "Do you know of any good home treatment for goitre?"

Answer: A goitre is an enlargement of the thyroid gland, and is generally caused by congestion in this gland of morbid waste products. A fruit fast will eliminate such deposits and return the gland to practically its normal size. The diet after the cure should be free from all grain foods and an acid fruit meal should be used once a day.

IN PETERBOROUGH CHURCHES

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

"Without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of life nor end of days, but made like unto the Son of God, continueth a priest for ever," was the text, taken from the 7th Epistle to the Hebrews, which Rev. Francis Carroll, Professor of Scripture at St. Augustine's Seminary, used as the basis of his sermon at the half-past ten o'clock Mass at St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday morning, with special reference in his remarks to Rev. Charles J. Begley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Begley, of this city, whose ordination to the priesthood took place on Saturday morning, and who celebrated his first High Mass at the Cathedral on Sunday morning, assisted by Rev. P. Costello, Rev. G. Maher, and Rev. K. Corkery.

Father Carroll's sermon was couched in flowing, eloquent terms, and was a spiritual exposition of the inner meaning of the priesthood.

"Such an occasion as this," said Father Carroll, referring to the ordination of the young priest, "brings home to us with great force two characteristics of the Catholic priesthood, the first, that the priest is primarily one of yourselves and the second that he has been taken from amongst you and set apart in order that he may stand before men in the things that belong to God.

"According to the provisions of the Old Law, the priesthood was the property of a caste and descended from father to son. But in the New Law, no race of people, no kindred and no condition of life is debarred from the sanctuary. The one thing necessary is that the Lord hath need of him, for let no man take unto himself the honor except he be called of God. It is a divine vocation and the one requirement of the priest, when he receives the call, is that he must be ready to leave his home, his country, and his people. By his ordination he has been adopted unto the Son of God. Henceforth and for ever, he is a fellow-laborer with Jesus Christ.

"When you bring your child to him and he pours over its brow the regenerating waters of baptism, when, in the tribunal of penance, his sentence is ratified on high, when he offers the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, he is working with God and in God's name.

"There is no more mysterious or wonderful thing than the love of God for the souls of men. In spite of man's sins, God will continue to stoop to him to tempt him with the treasures of His mercy and His love, and He sent His only begotten Son to redeem man from the consequence of his iniquities. He might have sent Michael, or Gabriel, or Raphael, but, although heaven was purged by angels when Lucifer fell through pride, it needed the Son of God to redeem a sinful world from sin.

"But who would stand in His place, when generation after generation beat like the waves of the sea against Calvary? Judas sold Him, Peter denied Him, the Apostles fled away from Him. To the men who were to be His priests He gave the awful burden of the priesthood, to follow in His steps and do His work among the souls of men."

Speaking briefly before the sermon, Rev. P. Costello extended his congratulations to the two young priests, to Father Begley, also to Father Welsh, saying his first High Mass at the Church of the Sacred Heart on Sunday morning. Father Costello also announced a Corpus Christi procession for next Sunday afternoon, on the grounds of the Sacred Heart Church, the beginning of the Forty Hours' Devotion at the same church on Sunday, and the holding of First Holy Communion for the children and Confirmation, at the Cathedral, on the second and third Sundays following.

Rev. Father Begley said Vespers at the Church of the Sacred Heart on Sunday evening and Rev. Father Welsh was the celebrant at the Holy Hour at the Cathedral.

Around the City

An automobile caught fire outside 571 Romaine Street at 4.38 p.m. on June 4. The cause of the fire was a short circuit. Little damage was done.

The firemen had to use gas masks to shut off a leaky pipe containing sulphur and ammonia at E. F. Mason's store, 429 George Street, at 8.23 p.m. yesterday. The pipe was one used in the cooling system in the show cases of the store.

BRILLIANT YOUTH DIES.

Arthur William Lightbourn, who died from pneumonia in Toronto Thursday, was a young Canadian whose future held brilliant promise He was engaged in journalism following editorial work with the Canadian Churchman and Canadian Insurance Journals. His father is Canadian manager of the Maryland Casualty Co. His elder brothers, Rev. G. O Lightbourn of St. Paul's cathedral, London, and Rev. F. G. Lightbourn of St. Lambert, Quebec, were prominent graduates of Toronto University. He himself attended Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ont., and engaged in farming before starting literary work. He was 26. He leaves a young wife.

PALE, LANGUID GIRLS.

When a girl grows languid and dull, when her color fades and nothing seems to interest her, you may be sure she is becoming bloodless. Before long breathlessness and palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Unless prompt measures are taken there is danger of a decline. What is needed is new, good blood, such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills add to the system. The new, rich blood created by these pills will quickly banish anaemia and bring about robust health, keen appetite and high spirits.

There are throughout Canada thousands of girls who owe their present good health to the blood-enriching qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Among this host is Miss Annabel MacDonald, Churchview, N.S., who says:—"I feel it a duty to tell you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was pale and very weak. I was generally greeted by my friends with, 'My, how pale you are.' The least exertion would leave me breathless and depressed. One day my mother bought a few boxes of your wonderful Pink Pills and I began taking them. I did not notice any improvement from the first box, but before the second was finished I knew they were helping me, and by the time I had taken three or four more boxes, I was feeling in the best of health, was no longer pale, but had rosy cheeks. My advice to all weak girls is: "Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills'."

A little booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free to any address. All medicine dealers sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Mohammedan religion specifically forbids the use of intoxicating liquors.

ST. ANDREW'S WINS FROM MILL TEAM

CAMPBELLFORD, June 5. — By defeating the Mill team last night, St. Andrew's are now tied with the Outlaws. The churchmen got off to a good start with one run in the first inning and four in the second, while the Mill men failed to score at all. Not till the third time up to bat did they get their first count. In the third and fourth they held St. Andrew's to a zero score. From then on it was a case of only one or two runs between the teams, and in the seventh, F. Blake brought in the run which put the Mill on an even footing with the church. Bill Blue returned the compliment when he came to bat in the latter half of the innings for St. Andrew's. Then the Mill team literally blew up and St. Andrew's scored twelve runs. The Mill went to bat again, but it was too dark for the churchmen to take their turn at the stick. The score ended at 24-17 in favor of St. Andrew's.

To-night may also see a drastic change in the league standing if the Legionaires manage to put it over the Outlaws. The three home runs made last night all go to St. Andrew's, two to DeCarroll, and one to Reynolds.

Mill — Cochrane, p; Wilkes, c; Montgomery, 1b; Booth, 2b; W. Blake, 3b; F. Blake, ss; Anderson, cf; Reynolds, rf; Reid, lf.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while bathing at Ocean Town, N.J. It is thought at first he is a stroke victim, but investigation shows he has been stabbed to death beneath the water.

Folsom's swimming companions had been ROGER NEVILLE, a business partner; MRS. HELEN BARNABY and CARMELITA VALDON. It is established that Folsom, just before his death, had been standing next to NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

ANASTASIA FOLSOM, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, arrives and takes command. At the inquest it is learned that the death weapon was a pichaq, an Oriental knife, and that it had been bought on the boardwalk.

It is also established that one CROYDON SEARS is a fancier of curious knives. Anastasia engages TITUS RIGGS, an architect, to work on the case. DAN PELTON, the dead man's nephew, arrives, and takes over Folsom's rooms.

MYRTLE, a chambermaid, and TUBBY, a bellboy, sneak into the rooms and Myrtle is enthralled by the strange French dolls that had been Folsom's. Pelton later accuses Myrtle of opening his luggage.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXV.

"No, sir," and Myrtle's eyes, raised to Pelton's face, fairly shone with truth. "No, sir, I didn't touch your luggage or your things at all. I did pick up the dolls and pet them, but, honestly, I didn't touch another single thing."

Myrtle was telling the truth, of course, and it rang in her voice, and Dan Pelton believed her.

"If there's one thing I can do," he said, "I can always tell when people speak truthfully. And I know you did. So, that's that."

"How queer. Can you always tell, Mr. Pelton?"

"Yes. Nobody can lie to me, and get away with it."

"And—and did you say—something about—" her courage gave out and she looked at the dolls in mute appeal.

"Did I say I'd give you a dolly?" he laughed. "Well, I half said so, didn't I? Which one do you like best?"

"This one," and Myrtle pointed to the dark-eyed one, the one with the lure of a siren in her sweet, haunting face. "That's the one Mr. Folsom liked the best."

"Oh, he did, did he? Then, take it! I'm glad to be rid of it. Take it, girl, and now, clear out. Don't look so hesitant. I've a right to give away the doll. They're all mine now. Take that one, and go."

"Yes, sir. Thank you, sir, very much."

And clasping her precious gift to her heart, Myrtle hurried away, almost afraid the donor might regret his act and ask the doll back again.

As ill luck would have it, she met Miss Folsom just coming toward her nephew's rooms.

"Here, you," the lady said, sternly, "what are you doing with that doll? It is my brother's doll."

"Mr. Pelton gave it to me, ma'am. He—he told me to take it."

"Well, you come back here with me, till I make sure of that."

Her sharp knock gained her immediate entry, and Dan Pelton scowled to see Myrtle and the doll back again.

"Get out," he cried, crossly. "What are you doing back here?"

"Hush, Dan," said Miss Folsom. "I brought the girl back. She says you gave her that doll."

"Yes, I did. Now I'm sick and tired of hearing about the doll. Go away, Myrtle. Come in, Aunt Stasia. Yes, I gave the poor child the doll, as she seemed to want it so much. I don't suppose she ever had a doll in her life."

"She never had one like that, surely. Why, Dan, those dolls cost an awful lot."

"I don't care. I don't admire them myself, I find, and if you want the rest of the bunch, you're welcome to them."

"Well, I'll see about them later—but don't give any more away to servants. She didn't select the best one."

"No, she said she'd choose the one Uncle Garry used to like the best. Fancy her being sweet on Uncle!"

"I don't believe she was. But she thought it must be the most valuable."

Meantime, the astute Tubby, who had long ago learned to distinguish between the sides of buttered bread, was out on the hotel deck hanging around the chair that contained the portly person of Titus Riggs.

Privileged in many ways, Tubby was allowed free access to the deck, but he was not supposed to speak to the guests unless on an errand.

"What's it all about, sonny? What do you want to say to me?"

"How do you know?" and Tubby gasped his admiration.

"Oh, well, when a boy looks as if he'd just naturally bust if he didn't get something off his chest, I assume that it's a weighty matter. And when the said boy looks at me furtively now and then, yet with the expression of a dying fish, why then I just call him over and demand the truth."

"Well, you see, Mr. Riggs, I know sumpin'."

"You do! Really?"

"Now, don't kid me. I mean about this here now murder business."

"I know it, I ain't jestin', sir."

"Well, then, what is it that you know? And why haven't you told before?"

"Well, I didn't know it before. And I dunno as I know it now. It's just a—a—"

"A suspicion?"

"Not even that. More like a—a—"

"A surmise? An indication—"

"No, no. I mean more a hint, a clue, a—a way to look."

"Ah, a way to look! That's fine, Tubby. Now, careful, tell me about it."

They were in a corner by themselves, and with lowered voices ran small chance of being overheard.

"Yes, but, Mr. Riggs, if—if it is any good—if it does help you—"

GUIDES SHOW GREAT SKILL

Demonstrate Ability in Many Lines During Rally in Campbellford.

PLEASING PROGRAM.

Campbellford, June 5.—Anyone who has witnessed a Highland Tattoo will have some idea as to just what took place this afternoon at the Seymour Agricultural Grounds on the occasion of the Girl Guide Rally. Generally it was a complete display of most of the innumerable accomplishments of which a first-class girl guide is capable. She is apparently able to take part in sport, she understands woodcraft, she is observant and highly trained to be mentally alert, she is able to speak her part with skill when placed on a stage, she knows a dozen or so folk dances and as many folk songs, she is an artist along first aid lines and, in fact, there is very little worth knowing of which she has not more than an inkling of understanding. At the rally on Friday afternoon all these items were displayed and the fascinating way in which one display led directly to the next showed a marked executive ability. Those who were present were well pleased with the program.

Following the opening ceremonies of guide games and songs, the Reds and the Yellows played a short, snappy game of basketball, in which the Reds were victors by a score of eight to nothing. The Red team, Marjorie Ackerman and Mary McGregor, forwards; Marion Haig and Dorothy West, centre; Muriel Kingston and Mary Phillips, defense; Reta Palliser, Dorothy Henson, Marguerite Davy and Elsie Bertrand, subs. The Yellow team, Thelma Hall, Margaret Frederick, forwards; Helen Thomas, Grace Irwin, centre; Dorothy Bullen and Winnie Saunders, defense; Ivey Ray, Nellie Haig, Ethel Horseman and Flossie Henson, subs. Cherrie Turner and Enid Richardson kept the score and the timekeepers were Miss Hoover and Elsie Smith. Miss Kathleen O'Shaughnessy was referee, and the first basket was short by Dorothy West. The score by periods: Reds, 2—4—2—total 8; Yellows, no score.

The May-pole, which the Brownies were to have woven in red, white and blue, was not as great a success as it would have been had there not been such a strong wind blowing. The little girls showed that they had been carefully trained, but the wind played mischiefously with their streamers and eventually the number had to be dispensed with.

A patriotic pageant was greatly appreciated and won loud applause. The entire British Empire is represented, with Miss Irene Stephens as Britannia. To her side, as she stands talking with the Queen of Dreams, come the saints of the four countries, which are usually considered as comprising the "Motherland." Reta Palliser, as St. George of England, appears bearing the cloak for Britannia. St. Andrew of Scotland (Margaret Frederick) presents a shield. St. David of Wales (Dorothy Barnum), donates a helmet, while St. Patrick of Ireland completes the dress with a trident. The Brownies as fairies, under the leadership of their queen, appear to pay homage to the great lady and the overseas dominions, follow in turn, Canada, Australia, Africa, and India, each bringing gifts symbolic of that which each country contributes in greatest quantities to the Empire markets. The entire cast was in costume. The pageant is a part of the "Masque of Empire" by Hugh Mytton.

The Morse signalling with flags by twenty of the guides under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Bell, showed that the girls knew their dots and dashes in any order required. As each word or letter was called by Mrs. Bell, the signallers wigwagged the corresponding dots and dashes. Folk dancing on the green to the music of Fern Weatherill's violin was very pretty and well executed. This number won the loudest applause of the afternoon.

As a novel form of demonstrating first aid when and as required, the guides staged a chariot race. There was a crash and the injured were at once given first aid. There was no more realistic number on the entire program than this, which might really be called the final number. After a few contests and games, the rally ended by the Guides standing at attention while they sang God Save the King.

The rally was under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Bell, district guide commissioner; Mrs. C. W. Turner, president of the local association; Mrs. A. C. Connor, secretary-treasurer, and the senior officers of the companies in the troop. During the afternoon, refreshments, both hot and cold, were served at the booth in the judges' stand.

CROP REPORT

The following bulletin issued by the Statistics Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture is summarized from returns received from nearly five hundred of our regular crop correspondents under date of May 25th, 1928.

Statements supplied by the Meteorological Office show that April was 2.4 deg. below the normal, but the mean of the six months, November to April, was 0.8 deg. above the average for forty-six years. The rainfall for April was .39 inches above the average, making the total precipitation for the six months 20.12 as compared with 14.26 for the same period in the previous year, and 15.51 as the average for 46 years.

Wintering Crops.

Fall Wheat.—Apprehension expressed in the April Bulletin concerning the prevalence of a backward spring was by no means groundless. The weather up to the beginning of March had been promising, but from the early days of March to May 15th was a cold period with dry winds from the north preventing growth. On May 17th some sections in the western counties experienced a little rain and on the 19th there was a general downpour of warm rain that brought on vegetation with a rush and clothed trees with the first dress of foliage. However, the weeks of night frosts and dry days worked a great deal of harm to all fall wheat, some few districts reporting an almost total failure, and reports in the main varying from 25% to 75% damage. It is the unfailing experience that exceptions stand forth in such conditions as prevailed over the entire fall wheat growing part of the province this spring. In some places wheat is reported to be the best in years, and it is certain that all fields that came through uninjured to May 17th made a fine recovery. But this fact being taken account of, Ontario fall wheat of 1928 may not be better than half a normal crop, although it had been but little injured by winter conditions. Its set back came principally in the extremely cold days of April. Following the rain of the 19th, the weather of the remaining days of May soon turned cool and dry again and farmers were quite anxious and uncertain in their forecasts of summer. All over those counties from Essex to Lennox, where the limit of the fall wheat land occurs, the killed-out fields were worked over and replanted with spring grain, barley for the most part being drilled in where the land was not ploughed up. It is remarkable on the whole that but a small percentage of land was torn up. It was not possible everywhere to get enough seed and in some sections oats took the lead in the resown land. No injury was reported from worms or insects.

Conditions for spring seeding throughout Western Ontario were very good, and with favorable June weather, the crop was expected to give a very good accounting.

Alfalfa.—Alfalfa and clovers fared much the same as fall wheat. In the east and north districts, where the cover of snow remained till the middle of April, clovers came through very well and, generally speaking, on high and sandy ground but little damage was done. The spring conditions were especially severe on old seeding of alfalfa and the damage suffered is not at all slight, even in the line of extra work that must necessarily be done. Alfalfa that came through looked very good towards the end of May, but many ploughed up both clover and alfalfa.

Red Clover.—Red clover was severely injured by the spring conditions on low lands. On high lands the injury was not so evident; but 50% of an average crop expresses the more hopeful opinions of correspondents as a rule.

Alsike.—This crop is said by a number of correspondents to have been hurt more than any other. On low land it is considered to have looked perhaps worse than in the previous experience of most districts sending in reports of injury.

Sweet Clover.—Though injured like other crops by spring conditions, sweet clover has largely taken the place of alsike and to a considerable degree this spring its advocates are not much discouraged. The Agricultural Representative in the County of Prince Edward says the fields that were seeded with sweet clover were generally on lower land and more susceptible to winter injury.

Spring Sowing and Vegetation.

It has been a decidedly backward spring throughout Eastern Ontario, farmers allowing their operations to be from ten days to twenty days late. The rain of the 19th, so desirable in the western counties by Lake Erie, delayed operations in the counties of Eastern Ontario a few days more, and just when seeding had headway. However, the tenor of the reports from along the St. Lawrence would indicate seeding to be fairly well accomplished under exceptionally delayed conditions. As in the western counties, the seed-bed was in good condition, and there was no noticeable diminution of acreage in any class, seeding being active from May 10 to the finish of operations. Barley will have an increased proportion of the acreage sown. There is no doubt a good catch of seed. The green grain reported by several correspondents had a promising appearance. The late season will probably mean more buckwheat.

The Corn Crop.—It is more apparent that corn will before long approximate its former status. Control measures are attended to with fidelity as a rule, and but little criticism is voiced among growers who feel that the situation is being taken capably in hand. Such opinions as are given of the efficacy of the measures recommended and adopted are constructive when critical. Thus an Essex county correspondent writing of the borer says:—"The compulsory ploughing of corn stubble lands is causing irritation among farmers, even those trying to live up to the Act. It will need an educational campaign explaining why it is necessary." Other correspondents are looking forward to a gradual return of normal corn crops.

Fruit.—The later reports of correspondents in the fruit districts vary but little. All trees wintered well and there is a general abundance of bloom, though delayed by spring conditions. Pears and plums are of notable promise and the apple bloom is described by several in "the pink." Cherries also have come through the winter and spring in true form. Small fruit wintered very well and there are expectations of a good all-round crop, except for strawberries and raspberries that have suffered considerably from frost. The outlook for McIntosh, Spies, and Delicious varieties is particularly promising in the apple orchards. Top-grafting operations in the eastern orchards by the lake and Bay of Quinte are described as assuring results after several years of practice and experiment. Correspondents also describe more attention to spraying methods.

Fodder Supplies.—Even supplies of coarse fodders were barely enough to put the farmers through the needs of a long drawn out and tardy spring with very late grass. Nowhere was there much hay for shipping, whilst grain, high in price, was also rather insufficient in supply. In some of the eastern counties there was a little hay available. Livestock in all sections of the province have been too long off the grass. With increased attention to dairying, good husbandry was demanded by the conditions of the month of May, and the reaction to increased sowing of oats and barley was seen in practically every county of the province, especially in eastern districts.

REV. JAMES GRIER CALLED TO LINDSAY

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Wants Campbellford Minister.

LINDSAY, June 5. — Having been without a minister for some time, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Friday decided to send a call to Rev. James C. Grier, of Campbellford.

Rev. Mr. Scott, of Cannington, acting as interim Moderator of the Lindsay Presbytery, read the provisions made in the call, and suggested that ballots be passed around, each one to write the name of the minister he or she would like to see in St. Andrew's pulpit. He also announced that Rev. Mr. Soules, of St. Thomas, had asked for a $200 increase on the stipend of $2,500 offered to the minister of St. Andrew's Church before he would accept the position.

After a vote had been taken, it was found that out of 140 votes, 124 were for Rev. Mr. Grier. The congregation then passed a unanimous vote that the name of Rev. James C. Grier be placed in the call.

Commissioners from the various bodies of the church to the next Presbytery meeting were then appointed.

On a motion, Rev. Mr. Scott and Messrs. D. J. McLean and J. E. Anderson were appointed commissioners from St. Andrew's Church, to prosecute this call at the next meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery.

After the meeting had been brought to a close, practically all present signed their names to the call.

stead of the current rate of 125 to the pound and twenty-five to the dollar.

The Treasury and the Bank of France have had to use some $50,000,000 in the past week on the exchange market to prevent the franc from rising. These purchases, largely from abroad, are due in no small part to propagation of a rumor that M. Poincare had decided to stabilize at 110 to the pound instead of 125.

Not a day passes without stabilizers and revalorizers placing their arguments before the Premier, and now he has come to see that no matter which way he decides he is bound to harm some interests. Nevertheless, it seems that he has decided in favor of stabilization in the near future.

It is plain to M. Poincare that if he stabilizes at 125 to the pound he will do better for industry, especially exporters, than if he allows the franc to go higher. Since the franc has been stable at around 125 French industry has not been particularly prosperous, but still at 125 to the pound it is figured by the Finance Ministry that French industry would have a 7 or 8 per cent. advantage in production costs over competing countries, especially Germany.

Higher Cost of Living Feared.

Furthermore, it is realized by the Premier that a certain advantage lies in taking the ratio of five to one, for that will allow the exchange of a gold louis against a hundred franc note, something counted as no small consideration in dealing with French peasants.

But, on the other hand, M. Poincare is deeply concerned with the effect stabilization at five to one may have on the cost of living in France. Many salaries, especially those of State employes, have not mounted five times above the war level, but once it is definitely established that the paper franc is worth only one-fifth the gold franc the cost of living, it is feared, will soar so as to make it unavoidable to face large salary increases not only for Government but for industry. An inevitable increase in rents looms as an additional factor to be considered.

Yet the rise in the franc to 110 to the pound would mean an enormous loss for the Bank of France, which even at 125 faces no mean debit because of its enormous purchases of foreign exchange which now amount to well over a billion and a half dollars. Not only that, but there would be involved a 12 per cent increase in the gold value of more than 300,000,000,000 francs of the interior debt of the country.

Summer Resort Property For Sale on Upper Stoney Lake.

In order to close an estate, there is for sale on Upper Stoney Lake a fully furnished Six-Roomed Cottage with boathouse and boats, including one outboard motor and boat.

Excellent sandy beach for bathing.

The property has a lake frontage of over 337 feet, is 145 feet deep, on a large island which has no other cottages. Steamers make daily calls. This is the best buy in Stoney Lake and should be picked up quickly.

We have several other cottages for sale in different parts of the lakes, and on enquiry we would be pleased to give all particulars.

DRESS
By MARY MARSHALL

This useful one-piece garment from France was made of fine Japanese silk, trimmed with Breton lace, hand embroidery and hemstitching. The colors in which it is made are black, ivory, pink, mauve, salmon, coral and champagne.

The sketch shows a little under-garment of a sort that seems to be especially popular at present in France. It consists of a slip with short pleated drawers beneath, and in the shop where it was bought it was obtainable in black and a number of pastel tones. With a black frock you might wear this foundation garment of black. With shades of lavendar or purple you would choose mauve, with greens you might choose ivory or champagne. With a rose or red costume you would select the light pink. It does give one a feeling of being particularly well dressed to know that one's lingerie is in harmony with one's outside costume.

It is possible to get similar garments in this country and almost as simple to make them yourself, and for travel or holiday wear they are decidedly convenient. It is better not to have the undersection pleated, however, because of the difficulty of replacing the pleats properly after the garment is washed.

The French woman who indulged in dainty garments of this sort would take it for granted that they were to be sent to one of the skillful laundresses who seem to delight in all sorts of fancy pleating and fluting. But in this country practically every woman wears dainty underthings whether she can send them to a high-class laundress or must contrive to launder them herself.

Some Americans in planning their trip to Europe carry only enough lingerie to tide them over the passage over—mended old things sometimes that may be worn and then discarded. To carry more than this would seem like carrying coals to Newcastle if part of the European sojourn is to be spent in Paris. Other women carefully calculate every possible need, doubting whether it would be even possible to buy a decent safety pin in European shops.

Personally I would advise a sort of middle course. Little accessories can always be bought—and in a surprisingly large number of cases they are of American make. If I were to spend most of my time abroad in actual travel I would certainly take enough shoes, and underthings to last through the trip. It is always possible that you will find things that suit and fit you to a tea—sometimes one is disappointed. And what profit can it be to spend two or three mornings of the short stay in Paris hurrying around trying to find a comfortable pair of shoes, or a bit of lingerie that precisely suits your American taste and figure?

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE ARE AFFECTED BY CLIMATE.

(By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D., Author, "The Springs of Human Action.")

Is there anyone who is not affected by climate? Can you truthfully say that it makes no difference to you whether the sun shines or not, whether it snows or rains, whether it is warm or cold? If so, you are the exception which proves the rule that most of us are greatly affected by the weather to the extent of constantly talking about it.

Every bill collector will tell you that it is much harder to get money out of people on a dreary, dark day. The weather plays havoc with our moods and temperament.

The influence of weather and climatic conditions runs deeper than most people imagine. It affects the glands of internal secretion which, in turn, affect the whole organism through the quickening of some activities and retarding others. The overactivity or sluggishness of one gland makes a great difference in the way a person feels and acts. The juices given off by these glands get into the blood stream and determine one's readiness to react to the outside world as well as to establish a definite type of feeling attitude, of mood, and of temperament.

Climate affects civilization even more profoundly than it does physical features. The tropical heat is too intense for the development of an energetic civilization such as you find in Europe and North America.

There is no activity of man that is not directly and indirectly affected by climate. All our food, all our clothing, and practically everything that goes into the making of our dwellings is directly dependent upon climate. An expert on the subject points out how "A rainfall of six or eight inches in the three summer months seems insignificant. Yet it made all the difference between savagery and barbarism. Its absence caused the Utes and the California Indians to be as much below the Hopis and the other Pueblo tribes as the Pueblos are below modern Europeans."

We are affected by climate because from time immemorial man has been dependent upon it for life itself as well as for every advance of culture and civilization.

HOROSCOPE
The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

FOR WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1928.

This is read as an unimportant day in planetary government and should be a time for staying in the beaten path.

There is a fairly promising rule for workers who will find the summer profitable. Unusual channels of activity will bring in money, the seers foretell.

It is wise to exercise self control under this direction of the stars which makes for irritability and nervousness.

Quarrels are easily started under this sway which is menacing to domestic harmony.

Although divorces will multiply all through the year astrologers predict that marriages are to become less fragile in their ties.

The pendulum which is already swinging back to fine standards of behavior and of attire will affect modern wedlock, it is prognosticated.

One of the stabilizing factors in marriages of the future will be the exaction of business methods in arranging domestic partnerships, the seers prophesy.

In the future economic justice will rule in marriage contracts, if the stars are rightly read.

In this year many women who possess immense fortunes will wed and they will find happiness wherever they have let logic as well as love direct them.

Neptune rising will encourage factional strife in political parties and in churches, it is predicted.

Again dissatisfaction regarding taxes is foreshadowed and scandals will be uncovered showing waste in public trusts, astrologers foretell.

Violent storms as well as earthquakes against are prognosticated and this country may suffer severe losses.

Babies whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good luck, but they should avoid extravagance.

Children born on this day probably will be keen and clever, but inclined to take too many risks.

PREMIER IN LONDON.

Hon. G. H. Ferguson Will Leave For Paris On Thursday.

LONDON, June 5.— (Canadian Press.) —"Never in better health," Premier G. H. Ferguson, of Ontario, will leave London for Paris on Thursday. He is at present visiting Britain and Europe, largely in the interests of the Province and the Dominion generally.

HAIL AT CALGARY.

No Damage Done to Crops By Slight Stormy Yesterday.

CALGARY, June 5 (Canadian Press).—The Calgary district was visited by a slight hail storm late yesterday. No damage to crops occurred.

LITTLE KING TAKES SALUTE

Roumania's six-year-old king, Mahai, took the salute at a review of the Roumanian troops upon the occasion of the first celebration since he ascended the throne of the national independence day. He is seen standing solemnly with hand upraised while directly behind him is his mother, wife of the exiled Prince Carol and formerly Princess Helen of Greece. At the LEFT of the picture is Dowager Queen Marie. Her health recently forced her to take a prolonged holiday, but she apparently has quite recovered now.

USE OF WATER IS RESTRICTED

May Be Used For Gardens Etc., Between 5 and 9, Morning and Evening.

PENALTIES PROVIDED.

The watering of lawns and gardens is in the mind of everyone now, and the regulations regarding the use of garden hose is something in which everyone will be interested. Section 11 of by-laws and rates of the Peterborough Utilities Commission states: "No person or persons shall sprinkle or use in any manner whatever the water supplied for lawns, gardens, grass plots, boulevards or grounds of any description except between the hours of five and nine in the forenoon and five and nine o'clock in the afternoon, except where water used for this purpose is supplied through a meter."

Section 43 reads: "The Commission shall have the right to shut off the water from the premises of any person guilty of a breach or of non-compliance with these or any future by-laws or because of waste, breakage or defects in the pipes or fixtures and not to turn on the water again until the penalty of fine imposed has been paid and until satisfactory evidence is received that the necessary repairs have been made."

Section 36 reads: "Every person taking water must at his own expense keep his service pipes and all appliances and fixtures connected therewith which are within his premises in good order and condition and well and sufficiently protected from frost and also keep in repair and replace by new ones when necessary the stop and compression cocks and other fixtures placed within his premises.

Consumers may require meters according to section 38: "Any persons preferring to pay for water by meter may have a meter attached to his premises. Such meter shall be supplied and set by the Commission or its superintendent or its officers, and except with its consent previously obtained shall not be discontinued or removed from the premises; and all water used on the premises shall pass through the meters or such charges paid for additional uses as the Commission shall decide upon after making an inspection of the premises.

LYRICS OF LIFE

WHAT FATHER THINKS ABOUT

You think that Father thinks about
The way the harvest will turn out,
But, Sonny, that's not half his bother,
Not he, nor any other father.
Although he speaks about the grain,
And talks about the need of rain,
There's something else he's worried over
That isn't oats or corn or clover.

You may think Dad thinks about
The way the business will turn out,
The spring demand, the summer buying,
New ways of selling, or of trying.
But, though he speaks about the trade,
About the changes to be made,
There's something, if you only knew him,
Immensely more important to him.

When Father wants a boy to sit
And talk of crops a little bit,
Or tells a boy about a pulley
Or plan that isn't working fully,
Of course he's wondering about
The way that something will turn out,
But not his harvest, not his money,
But something—can't you guessit, Sonny?

Miss Helen Wills and Cochet Win Tennis Titles

HENRI COCHET BEATS LACOSTE

MISS WILLS VICTOR

AUTEUIL, June 5. — Henri Cochet won the men's singles championship in the international hard court tennis tournament by defeating his countryman ,Rene Lacoste, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

Cochet's victory was something of an upset, as Lacoste, who holds the championship of France and the United States was a popular favorite before the match. Cochet however had one of his inspired days, and played unbeatable tennis after dropping the first set in characteristic manner. In the last three sets he kept Lacoste constantly on the run with trap shots and sharply angled returns.

Miss Wills Returns.

Roland Garros, Stadium, Paris, June 5. — Miss Helen Wills of California won the women's singles tennis championship of France yesterday, defeating Miss Eileen Bennett, of England, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Wills thus became women's champion of two countries—France and the United States—and on her present form was expected to win the British championship and become the titleholder in all three leading tennis countries.

AUTEUIL, France, June 5. Canadian Press. — Here are the new tennis champions of France crowned in the international hard court tournament which concluded yesterday:

Mens singles: Henri Cochet, France.

Women's singles: Miss Helen Wills, United States.

Mixed doubles: Miss Eileen Bennett, England, and Henri Cochet, of France.

KINGSTON WINS BY FINAL RALLY

Scores Three Runs in Ninth To Beat Belleville, 7-6.

KINGSTON, June 5.—Kingston scored a brilliant victory over Belleville here yesterday, when they staged a ninth-inning rally to beat the Nationals by the score of 7 to 6 in a C.O.B.I. game. Kingston were leading by 4 to 0 in the first inning, when Belleville started to take advantage of Smith's wildness, and finally tied the count. He was replaced by Van Young, and the Nationals went into the lead with two more runs.

In the ninth two men walked, and Jeffery was relieved, Gibson taking up the box burden. A single filled the bases, and Ada's hit scored two runs. Cherry then won the game when he counted on Tetro's sacrifice.

The game was witnessed by the largest crowd of the season and was a contest in which slugging and good outfielding played a major part. The box score:

CRICKETER INJURED FORCED TO RETIRE

LONDON, June 5 (Associated Press).—After making the tremendous score of 282 not out for Surrey against the champion county of Lancashire in a cricket match yesterday, Sandham, the noted professional batsman, was compelled to retire owing to a strained muscle. He will not be able to take any further part in the match.

Tea-time scores in English county cricket matches yesterday were: Middlesex vs. Yorkshire, at Lord's—Yorkshire, 437 (Oldroyd 108, Mitchell 105, Durston, seven wickets for 133); Middlesex, 140 for three wickets. Surrey vs. Lancashire at Manchester—Surrey, 567 (Sandham 282, retired hurt); Lancashire, 156 for one wicket (Watson 67 not out, E. Tyldesley 50 not out).

Kent versus Northamptonshire at Folkestone: Northants, 234; Kent, 276 (Woolley, 76; Wright, four wickets for 55; Jupp, four wickets for 67). Derbyshire versus Essex at Chesterfield; Essex, 232; Derbyshire, 350 for six wickets (Bowden, 82; Hutchinson, 91). Nottinghamshire versus Warwickshire at Nottingham: Notts, 433 (S. Staples, 59; Mayer, five wickets for 100 runs); Warwickshire, 157 (Croom, 52); followed on, 66 for two wickets.

Worcestershire versus Sussex at Worcester: Worcester, 264 (Wright, 62; Quaife, 77 not out; Bowley, five wickets for 68); Sussex, 409 and 70 for two wickets. Somerset versus Hampshire at Portsmouth: Hampshire 254; Somerset, 250 for seven wickets (Young, 92; Rippon, 112). Gloucestershire versus Leicestershire at Bristol: Leicester, 291; Gloucester, 280 for five wickets (Dipper, 115; Hammond, 55).

VIEWS ON SPORT

The Lock Works and Royals will clash to-night in a junior league fixture at the Exhibition Grounds. The game will be called sharp at six o'clock.

* * * * * *

So far as is known, the playing grounds problem in the city softball league has not been settled, but it is expected that the executive will reach an agreement with the authorities some time this week.

* * * * * *

Owing to their inability to secure enough players for a regular line-up, the East City entry in the juvenile group were forced to default last night's league fixture with the Moose. The executive of the league believe that three teams are necessary for the operation of a successful group series, and are making a final appeal to the ball players of the juvenile age to take an interest in the third entry for this group. The league game between the Kiwanis and Moose slated for Thursday night will be played as per schedule.

* * * * * *

The Canuck bantams were unable to hold the Grafton entry in the league fixture played at Sacred Heart Grounds last night. The Clothiers played fast ball, and although the Club boys put up a stiff fight, they went down to an 8-6 defeat.

* * * * * *

New bunkers have been erected by the Meadowbrook Golf Club, and the course has been put in excellent shape for the season's play. Sveral new members have joined this year, and the executive have every expectation that a successful year will be enjoyed by the club.

* * * * * *

Apparently the Kiwanis Juniors are not as good as they believed themselves to be, going down to the Juvenile team for a 12-5 defeat in an exhibition game played last night. Bill Carey's crew are a fast stepping crowd, and showed the Juniors something in the way of good baseball. The juveniles will hold a practice tomorrow night at six o'clock in King Edward Park.

* * * * * *

A successful year is expected by the members of the Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club, judging by the enthusiasm shown at the official opening held recently. New rules have been adopted, and plans are being perfected for having scheduled games for evening bowling, a number of girls having signified their intention of joining.

BIG SIX.

(By the Associated Press.)

All but two of the Big Six were kept idle by rain yesterday, but these two, Rogers Hornsby and Ty Cobb, did a full days work on the ball field. Both hit safely twice in four times at bat, and in a large measure were responsible for the victories of their teams.

Hornsby broke up a tie game with Cincinnati by driving out a homer in the last half of the ninth inning after Sisler had singled, to give the Braves a win. His .500 average for the day made his hold on first place in the Big Six standing even more secure, raising his season's average to .418.

Cobb started o ffwith a single and a triple in the first two innings, which drove in three of the Athletics' six runs and brought the veteran back into the .300 class.

Hornsby (Braves)—Games 41, at bat 146, runs 36, hits 61. Percentage .418.

P. Waner (Pirates)—Games 45, at bat 179, runs 36, hits 64. Percentage .358.

BRAVES DEFEAT CINCINNATI 5-3

Hornsby's Drive Over Centre Field Bleachers Wins Boston Victory.

GAMES POSTPONED

NEW YORK, N.Y., June 5 (Canadian Press).—In the National League game played yesterday Manager Rogers Hornsby took things into his own hands, and in the ninth inning at Boston won a baseball game from the Cincinnati Reds by a 5 to 3 score. After Dressen's homer had tied the score in the first half of the ninth, George Sisler singled, and Hornsby followed with a tremendous drive over the centre field bleachers that went for a home run. Hornsby also drove in a run with a single after Sisler had doubled.

Two of the Cincinnati runs came on homers, by Dressen in the ninth and by Pitcher Rixey in the seventh. Ford, Cincinnati shortstop, ran his string of consecutive chances accepted without an error up to 101 by making two assists yesterday.

TEAMS CROWDING LEADING LEAFS

TORONTO, June 5. — The Leafs are still hanging on to first place, but their margin is of the most tenuous nature and with the high stepping Royals of Montreal coming here to-day for a four game series, anything may happen. Stalling's team are right on the heels of O'Hara's men and the Bears and Bisons are close enough to be dangerous. As a matter of fact the contention is so keen that the loss of three or four games by any of the occupants of the first division is apt to upset the standing completely.

It has been a season of surprises. Baltimore for the first time in 19 years slipped down into the cellar for a day or two, while Reading, which like the Boston Red Sox, has had a lien on last place for several seasons, has finally graduated from the basement and promises to make it interesting for all comers. Incidentally the once despised tail enders had the best record of any of the clubs in the International, capturing six games and losing two, which is pretty nearly being a flag-winning pace. Montreal won 4 and lost 2; Newark 5 and 3; Toronto 4 and 3; Buffalo 2 and 3; Baltimore 3 and 5; Rochester 3 and 5; and Jersey City, 2 and 6.

Reading also led in hits, with 103, and in runs scored with 61. Montreal permitted the opposition the smallest total of markers, 27, and Jersey City led in homers with ten. Newark hit eight more home runs. Montreal and Buffalo each made only five errors.

With a long road trip before them, which will take them to the far corners of the league, the Leafs will make a strenuous effort to entrench themselves firmly in first place at the expense of the Royals in the series beginning to-day at the stadium.

A clean sweep of the Stallingites at this juncture would dispose of their most serious threat, taking the standing as a criterion. It would also give them much additional confidence in their ability to face the ordeal that is before them. With all the clubs sharpening their knives for the pace setters the Leafs will not have an easy task retaining their hold on the top row.

Johnny Prudhomme is beginning to think that he is the unluckiest pitcher in the business. He was around yesterday bemoaning his ill-fortune in losing Sunday's game at Rochester. With Gelbert at the plate he delivered a near wild pitch which struck the latter's bat as he pulled away to avoid it, and popped over Alexander's head for a two-bagger, a pair of tallies resulting.

Manager O'Hara has decided to retain Frank Riel, the young right hander, on his staff for a little while longer. It was planned to send the stocky twirler to Nashville, but the rookie pleaded for another chance, and the deal was called off. Reil won twenty games for the Wilson Club last season and with warmer weather may show improvement.

"Hoot" Gibson, the Collegian, who was added to the list on the trip north, coming from a southern college, and who was sent to Patsy Donovan's Attleboro club for seasoning, has been returned along with Outfielder Harry Burdine and Fred Whitehouse, the bulky infielder. The veteran manager regretted the necessity of sending back the young athletes, but financial considerations were such that he had to do it in order to make ends meet. The players held their end up in good style, Burdine's batting being first rate. Fraser, the other member of the quartette, will finish the season with the New England League club, providing the newcomer in the loop manages to make the grade, which is doubtful. Burdine and Whitehouse will be farmed out to some other club, but Gibson will be carried for emergencies.

RAIN BREAKS LEAGUE GAMES

Chicago and Philadelphia Only American Clubs to Play Yesterday.

ATHLETICS WIN 6-3

NEW YORK, N.Y., June 5.—Chicago was the only American League city open for business yesterday and an early attack which netted six runs in the first innings was all the Athletics needed to win the third game of their series with the White Sox 6 to 3.

Walberg pitched good ball for Philadelphia until the ninth when he walked two batters and let three hits get by for two runs. Until then Kamm's home run in the second was all the Sox had gathered.

Ty Cobb led the A's team with a single and a triple which drove in three runs in the first and second innings.

Faber was credited with the Sox loss.

SPORT CHATTER

(By F. D. C.)

Although the Central League has not been operating two weeks, yet every team in the loop has been beaten at least once. With a twenty-four-game schedule anything can happen, and the man who tries to pick a winner now is handing himself a real job.

From the side it looked as if the Petes might have made a better job of it Saturday if they had made Shea work more. The Deloro pitcher's control was far from good, but the majority of the Petes helped him out by slamming the first ball that came near them.

Oshawa, under the joint direction of Walter Schultz and Stan. Burgoyne, the well-known hockey coach, will be here on Saturday. The Motorists have most of last year's team still in action, and are strengthened by the addition of Herb Wolfe, the former Peterborough outfielder, and Sutton, a fast infielder from Flint, Michigan. The veteran southpaw, Duke Dainty, will in all probability go to the hilltop for the visitors, while the Petes will likely send Al. Heckman in for his first home start of the season. It should be an interesting game all the way, and with the Petes needing a victory to get back up the ladder, there will be plenty of fight all the way.

Baseball is a funny old game. The Deloro team has only made one run in two games, but at that has broken even on its first two starts. As a matter of fact in the game against Belleville and in the fixture here Saturday only three Deloro runners reached third base in eighteen innings.

The Petes have not done a great deal of fence busting as yet, but they probably have had less practice than any team in the league, and they will find their batting eye before long. Their fielding has been good, the team fielding average for their first three games being .944, which is excellent defensive work, but in team batting there is a different story, the club's average being .219.

Manager Holyman's crew will invade Belleville on Wednesday, their first appearance in the Quinte City in two seasons. It should be a red hot battle as the Petes need a win, while the Railroaders always work their heads off to turn back their old rivals.

ROYALS WIN DOUBLE BILL

Defeat Buffalo 11-9 and 6-1 to Win the Full Series.

POUND BISON HURLERS

MONTREAL, Que., June 5.—(Canadian Press.) — Montreal Royals swept the four game series here with with Buffalo by taking the afternoon game 11-9, after capturing the morning contest, 6-1. One big inning, the second, in which the Royals scored 10 runs, spelled defeat for Leo Mangum, who went the route for the Bisons despite a shower of 19 hits. Sherrid, who started for Montreal, showed signs of being unable to hold his huge lead and Rufus Smith and finally Hopkins, were hurled into the breach. Hopkins capped Sunday's fine performance by turning in some sensational relief hurling, striking out the last man in the ninth to retire the side after the Bisons had scored two runs and had come within two of tying the count.

DERBY CROWDS ARE GATHERING

FAIRWAY STILL FAVORITE.

EPSOM, Eng., June 5. — (Canadian Press.)— England was suffering from its annual attack of racing fever to-day as the sporting world turned its entire attention to Epsom Downs, where the season's choice three-year-olds fight it out in the historic Derby to-morrow.

The King came to Epsom to-day to view the first day's racing. To-morrow he will witness the Derby with the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, and Princess Mary ad her husband, Viscount Lascelles.

The Downs already are occupied by an army of campers, hawkers and gypsies ready for to-morrow's big show and incidentally a big trade.

All the transportation facilities in Southern England will be brought into play to carry the half million or more enthusiasts to Epsom and home again. Twenty-three slim colts are entered in the struggle for supremacy over a course of a mile and a half. The favorite is Fairway, owned by Lord Derby.

ASHBURY DEFEAT LOWER CANADA

Play Steady Game to Win Easy Victory.

MONTREAL, Que., June 5.—(Canadian Press.)—Playing their annual match, Ashbury College eleven easily defeated Lower Canada College in a match played on the Lower Canada College grounds yesterday.

Ashbury won the toss and batted first. They soon lost Guthrie, who played on at 2, but MacBrien then joined Elmood and a good stand was made, 50 runs being added to the score before the latter was bowled in attempting a leg hit. Three more wickets fell rather cheaply, but Perodeah and MacBrien affected a further stand, and the total reached 104 before Perodeau ran himself out. Of the others both Kelly and Coristine batted well and the total eventually reached 135.

Lower Canada then went in to bat and their first innings was a procession. Three wickets well before a run had been scored, and the whole side was dismissed for 12 runs. It was obvious that they were short of practice, but the Ashbury bowling was steady and was well handled by Craig, who captained his side with judgment, while the fielding was really keen

Lower Canada followed on and did better at their second attempt, and at one time it seemed doubtful whether Ashbury would succeed in getting them out again before time. However, wickets fell at more or less regular intervals, and the last man was caught in the slips with ten minutes to spare.

NO PERSON HERE CALLS ENGLAND

Local 'Phone Subscribers Not Making Use of Atlantic Service.

STILL A NOVELTY.

The Trans Atlantic telephone service from Peterborough has not yet been called upon to perform its services.

The local manager, W. C. Beamer, explained this to The Examiner as being something new to the citizens of Peterborough in the way of telephone service. He compared it with the first long distance telephoning with regards to its use. People were not used to long distance fifty years ago and would rather use the old methods of communication, letter or telegraph, than to attempt to use the telephone for transacting business in a short time over long distances. So to-day the trans-Atlantic phone is a novelty and people have not become used to it. It has had only a year in the commercial world and Peterborough has only had the service six weeks.

Long distance telephony started fifty years ago and now the average business man would not think twice before using the telephone to transact business with a Toronto or any other customer a long distance away. In a shorter time than fifty years the modern business man will not think twice to call England. When they once become educated that it is practical as has been proven in the larger cities, Peterborough people will then use this new service. It needs someone with courage to make the first attempt.

England can be reached in a few minutes from here on the telephone if circuit conditions are O.K. If they are not, no time is lost as central reports the unsatisfactory conditions as soon as possible.

When England is reached it eliminates the use of at least two cables, one each way and eliminates confusion arising to coded cables. Moreover, it introduces the human element into business transactions. It is possible to talk back and forth with ease and a clear understanding and agreement can be reached with the telephone across the ocean in a manner so satisfactorily that it is no different than telephoning Toronto.

The route the conversation follows is from Peterborough to Montreal to New York, then to the radio transmitting station at Rocky Point, L.I., where it is broadcast to the receiving station at Cupar, Scotland. Then by long distance to headquarters for long distance in England at London and then sent to the various centres your call requests. The return to your "Hello" comes by an almost entirely different route. From the long distance headquarters in London, England, it is sent to the sending station at Rugby, England, then transmitted to the receiving station at Houlton, Me., then to New York and then to Montreal, then to the local office and the phone in Peterborough. The charge is $45 for three minutes.

Years of experiment have proven that the locations of the sending and receiving stations are the best, and while no interference would result if they were side by side the present arrangement gives the best results for trans-oceanic telephoning.

Telephone subscribers in Peterborough may also use their telephones to communicate with the various telephone users in Germany, Belgium, Sweden, Scotland and Wales. The rate increases slightly with the distance.

Lighthouses controlled entirely by mechanical means are planned for the English coast.

COUNCIL OUTLINES FORBIDDEN DISTRICT

man to make a motion in the matter

"There's one on the books," was the reply.

"You've got to pass a two-thirds resolution to get rid of Dr. Young," pointed out the Mayor.

"What makes you say that?" was Ald. Hamilton's query.

"Look at Toronto," answered Ald. Phelan.

"There's no question that Toronto has a fine system," returned Ald. Hamilton.

The Mayor resumed his advice to Ald. Ackerman to put the motion and the latter appealed for co-operation. "You had the cart before the horse before," His Worship declared, "let us do what Dr. Bell said at the meeting."

Opposes Full Time M.O.H.

Ald. Ackerman pointed out that he hadn't been at the meeting and wanted to know what Dr. Bell's advice had been. Ald. Phelan intervened, stating his continued opposition to the idea of a full time M.O.H., which he felt was unnecessary, and moving that the department be informed that the council did not intend to appoint one. Ald. Cotton seconded the motion.

"I think there is discord and the Provincial Department of Health should clear up the charges that have been made," said Ald. McIntyre.

"I would second such a motion if you would make it," agreed Ald. Ackerman, but Ald. McIntyre declined.

"We should get a motion from the Board of Education saying they will co-operate," proposed Ald. Huffman.

Ald. Phelan opened a discussion with Ald. Hamilton as to the value of the laboratory here to the city. It had been placed here, he said, on condition that the city did certain work. Then it had been decided to remove it. The city made arrangements which cost $6,000 a year and it was left. If the government decided to take it out because the city refused to appoint a full time M.O.H. he didn't see much loss. A vote was then taken on his motion. On the show of hands the count was six to two, Aldermen Lowe and McIntyre apparently being undecided. When the yeas and nays were called they voted with Aldermen Phelan and Cotton, making the vote six to four. The Mayor did not vote.

The vote taken, Ald. Macdonald moved that the Provincial Department of Health be asked to investigate the charges made by Dr. Sutton. The Board of Health should take action, responded Ald. Phelan.

"I think both should be out," added the Mayor. As the discussion showed signs of continuing indefinitely, he asked if the aldermen were content to sit there and talk all night. Ald. Greene moved that the council adjourn and Ald. Stocker seconded it. The motion was not formally put, all the aldermen rising and gathering their papers together in assent before the Mayor could ask for a show of hands.

Gasoline Pumps Restricted.

"All the outside pumps will get it in due time," was Mayor Denne's assurance to the aldermen after the report recommending the closed area for gasoline pumps had been presented and several aldermen had asked why certain pumps had not been included in the area.

Ald. Greene moved in addition that any tanks not in continuous use be removed at once.

This, said Ald. Ackerman, was ambiguous as it was hard to define what was continuous use.

"Daily use," said Ald. Greene.

"What if nobody drives up to buy gasoline?" asked Ald. Huffman.

Asked for a ruling on Ald. Greene's motion, Mr. Wearing stated it was ambiguous. Ald. Greene therefore, refusing to let them stand until September 30, moved that the pumps on Charlotte street in front of Atkin's tire repair store and Carter's cartage office, which, he said, stood idle for several months, be removed in 21 days.

By-laws were passed as follows:

2779—To close the south eight feet of Lansdowne street between Lock street and Park street, and lease it to the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. This is in accordance with a similar by-law passed by the Township council of North Monaghan.

2780—To amend the agreement with D. Hayward. This was to cover the changes made in Mr. Hayward's contract under which he took over the cutting of grass in Victoria Park and Confederation Square.

2781—To order all gasoline tanks and pumps removed from the curbs in an area in the centre of the city before September 30, and four tanks removed before July 1.

A large number of eating house licenses, all renewals but one, were granted as favorable reports had been received.

Sixteen of the rails taken from the streets will be sold to the Township of Douro for one cent a pound.

The Johnson Motor Company will be allowed to erect a boathouse near the end of Dalhousie street for testing purposes. The company will pay $1.00 a year and be required to remove the building when given notice.

City Solicitor Wearing was instructed to take steps to have the cottages removed from the sewage disposal property. Several have been removed already.

More Paving Tenders.

"The pavement on Aylmer street from Charlotte to King was laid in seven hours at $2.90 a yard," said Ald. Stocker, when Ald. Hamilton moved that tenders be called for paving Reid street from Hall street to the northern limits and for the strips where the tracks run on Park and Water streets.

"We could have done it ourselves for $1.50."

"We haven't the equipment," replied Ald. Hamilton.

"It's time we got some," retorted Ald. Macdonald.

"Certainly," replied Ald. Stocker.

The motion carried, although Ald. Stocker refused to vote. Ald. Huffman was opposed to calling for tenders, thinking that the company now working in the city should get the contract for the asphalt portion. Asphalt pavement will be laid on Reid street from Hall street to a point on the crest of the hill a few feet north of London street and on Park street where the rails now are. Concrete will be used on the Water street strip and on Reid street north of London.

Barbers Want By-law

A petition was presented by the barbers of the city asking the Council to pass a by-law closing all barber shops from 12.30 p.m. each Wednesday to 5 a.m. the next day during June, July, and August. This was referred to Ald. Phelan, who will check up the number of signatures and, if the required three-quarters of the barbers have signed, will have a by-law prepared for a special meeting next week.

Regiment May Come.

Ald. Ackerman will discuss with Toronto Regiment officers regarding the proposed visit to the city of that unit. The letters read would indicate that the unit expected the city to pay for transportation and meals for 400 men, which would be approximately $2,000. To offset this the regiment would arrange a display of gymnastic work and a band concert which would provide a certain amount of revenue.

No Left Hand Turns.

Ald. Hamilton wanted to hear expressions of opinion about the left hand turns at Charlotte and George and he heard them. To precipitate things he moved that left hand turns be forbidden.

Ald. Ackerman seconded the motion and then withdrew, declaring that he was in favor of left hand turns there.

Ald. Cotton stated that he had been at the corner for five hours watching conditions and was aghast at the things he saw. He favored the "No left hand turn" rule.

Ald. McIntyre stepped into the breach caused by Ald. Ackerman's withdrawal and asked for the addition of a clause calling for the removal of the stop signs on Charlotte street.

Mr. Parsons asked what effect the removal of the stop signs on Charlotte street would have on the through street by-law, and a further clause was added that the through street clauses should not apply to any corner where there are signal lights. The motion carried and a by-law which will be introduced next week at a special meeting implementing all the signs being placed on the streets will include clauses calling for a "no left hand turn" rule at any intersection where there are traffic signals and the cancelling of the through street rule at all these corners.

A letter of appreciation for the civic welcome to their guests and other courtesies extended during their Silver Jubilee Celebration was received from Peterborough Council, Knights of Columbus.

NEW GOSPEL HALL IS CONTEMPLATED

Congregation Will Worship in Canadian Legion Hall For a Time.

Meetings in Gospel Hall after this week will be discontinued in their present hall, corner of Brock and George streets. Next week meetings will be held in the Canadian Legion Hall, Mr. George W. Mulligan told The Examiner that the present hall was too small and that plans were being made to build a hall on Hunter street soon. The present Gospel Hall will remain vacant after this week, according to Miss Kelly, representative for H. A. Morrow, president of Morrow and Beatty Ltd., owners of the building.

COMING TO CANADA.

Miss Bina M. West, founder and supreme president of the Women's Benefit Association of North America, is coming this summer to Canada. She will inspect various branches. The Dominion insurance department in 1921 granted the Women's Benefit Association a permanent license to transact business of fraternal benefit insurance in the provinces of the Dominion. Miss West was a young Michigan school teacher when she began her work. To-day her society is the largest of its kind in the world, with over a quarter million members, with 3,000 members in Canada.

AT THE REGENT.

"ALEX THE GREAT" A SIDE-SPLITTING COMEDY.

Score Another Hit For H. C. Witwer.

"Alex, the Great" is a howl. It opened last night at the Regent Theatre with a barrage of laughs. It is an F B O special directed by Dudley Murphy and deals with the adventures of a farmer boy who invades New York with a high opinion of himself and a thirst for success. Some young men lose their watches and their shirts when they land in New York this way, but Alex not only knows he is good, but proves it, and the laugh is on the city slickers who try to take the conceit out of him.

The audience begins to chortle about the time Alex enters the Grand Central Station and is told the Mayor's car is waiting outside. It becomes uproarious when Alex's city cousin-in-law sees him riding away in a Rolls Royce with a beautiful woman. After that there is just one funny situation after another. Alex takes the society girl for a ride in Central Park; he sells her father a fleet of trucks and he keeps his cousin-in-law and his wife reading the book of etiquette.

Alex is played by Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, a young man who has had years of experience on the vaudeville and legitimate stages as a comedian, and has also done considerable work in pictures. He touches a new high spot in his career with this role. The society girl part is played by Patricia Avery. She is a beautiful dark haired girl with pleasing poise and grace. The other feminine lead is Ruth Dwyer, who helps out the comedy as the cousin of Alex and the wife of a baseball manager who can see no future for Alex except as a boarder in his modest flat. Albert Conti is splendid as the baseball manager. During a dinner scene in a fashionable hotel he does more funny things with the table silver than most people would think possible. Charles Byer, a well known stage and screen actor, appears as the suitor for the society girl's hand who loses out before the uncouth but effective technique of Alex.

The story was adapted from H. C. Witwer's short story by Mr. Murphy, who also directed the picture.

AT THE CAPITOL.

"LOVE," WITH JOHN GILBERT AND GRETA GARBO

One of the intense Russian dramas which bring to the moving picture screen a distinctive and unusual type of story is filmed in the feature picture showing at the Capitol Theatre for the first three days of this week. Lyof Tolstoy's famous novel, "Anna Karenina," has been used as a basis for "Love," which owes its dramatic interest and attraction mainly to the art of the two stars, John Gilbert and Greta Garbo. The handsome Gilbert, with his bright, bold eyes, and the beautiful, exotic Greta, with her orchid-like fairness and mouth like a red smear, suit the passionate element which is paramount in the picture.

Set in the midst of the glory of White Imperial Russia of the days of the Czarist regime, the tale gives the lady a much-loved child, a cold, ambitious husband who neglects her, and a sudden wild wooing by a vital youth. In it are episodes that include a wild drive through a Russian snowstorm; a wolf hunt with the lean white Borzoi dogs chasing the swift quarry, and a Russian horse race, swift and furious.

Anna Karenina (Greta Garbo) is the wife of Senator Karein, a proud and ambitious noble. Count Alexei Vronsky (John Gilbert) is captain in a crack regiment and aide to the Colonel. They meet and fall in love immediately. After considerable dallying with the inevitable, they go away together, but Italy finds Anna yearning for her child and they return to St. Petersburg, where she goes to her former home to see the little boy and is forbidden further visits by her stern and unrelenting husband. Then, discovering that Alexi is about to be disgraced by dismissal from his regiment, because of his affair with her, she promises the Colonel to leave him forever. This has all the appearance of a very tragic and heart-rending tale and would have made an extremely artistic and Russian-like ending, but the movie director intervened and chose a different finale, which will be more pleasing to the movie fans.

Th comedy is ntitled "The Family Group," with the smooth-faced Charley Chase as the main fun-maker and is a hilarious affair that gets many real laughs.—Jeanette.

AT THE GRAND.

"WINGS" COMING TO THE GRAND

Colonel Lindbergh, Clarence D. Chamberlin, Commander R. C. Byrd, Charles A. Levine, and Arthur Goebel are a few of the eminent figures of aviation who have been thrilled by "Wings," the much heralded flying film which comes to The Grand Theatre Saturday, June 9.

"Wings" gives the man in the street a perfect idea of what the hazards of aviation are really like, declared Commander Byrd, who, before winning fame for his flights across the Atlantic and over the North Pole, was a naval aviator hunting submarines in the World War.

Lindbergh saw the film with his characteristic modesty. "The Wings" management heard from numerous sources that the lone pilot of the Atlantic had expressed a wish to see it. He was invited, but unable to accept, because he was in Virginia on a hunting trip. Two weeks later he slipped into the Criterion Theatre, New York, with a party of six—they had purchased seats through an agency. He did not speak once during the showing of "Wings." His eyes were riveted upon the screen.

Chamberlin, who was the guest of honor at the 100th showing of "Wings" was accompanied by Mrs. Chamberlin. At the end of the film he was very enthusiastic. "It was wonderful," he said. "I enjoyed it tremendously. The scenes were certainly realistic. I don't see how they could have made "Wings" without killing at least fifteen men in the plane crashes."

Mrs. Chamberlain said: "I enjoyed 'Wings,' but it showed the terrible hazards of aviation and it made me, as the wife of a flier, feel sad."

Goebel, a former movie stunt pilot, who crashed spectacularly onto the front pages last summer by finishing first in the Dole air derby from San Francisco to Honolulu, was keenly interested in seeing "Wings." Having been a "stunt" 'aviator himself, he naturally wanted to see how his associate, Dick Grace, had succeeded in the highly technical job of cracking up several planes for thrilling scenes in the picture. "It was great," he said. "Grace and all the rest of the boys took their lives in their hands many times to make the film.

NEW U.S. RUM FLEET

A new rum-chasing fleet of 15 armed speed boats has been put into action on Lake Erie by the United States authorities. Picture No. 1 shows the fleet passing through the dredge canal at Bufalo. No. 2 shows Capt. M. W. Ramsussen, commander of the fleet, and No. 3, Chief Boatswain's Mate Erline, at one of the one-pounder guns with which each boat is equipped.

SIR FREDERICK FIELD TAKING OVER FLEET

Will Succeed Sir Roger Keyes As Commander in the Mediterranean.

LONDON, June 5. — Within the next few days Admiral Sir Roger Keyes, commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean Fleet for the last three years, will relinquish that post and be succeeded by Admiral Sir Frederick Field, according to a message broadcast by the official British Station to-day.

Admiral Field is exyected to hoist his flag on the Queen Elizabeth at the end of the week. Only a few weeks ago Admiral Keyes' second in command, Admiral Collard, was retired after a dispute with two of his officers which led to their court-martial.

Admiral Field is expected to hoist during the Boxer trouble in China in 1900. At the battle of Jutland he commanded the battleship King George V. He has been deputy-chief of the naval staff and was one of the British delegates at the Geneva conference last year.

COURT CHEMONG HOLDS CONCERT

Members Enjoy Fine Program of Music, Recitations, and Speeches.

A pleasant evening was spent at the Woodmen of the World Hall on Thursday evening, May 31, when the Independent Order of Foresters put on a splendid concert, which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. The hall was filled, and Bro. Inch was chairman. The concert opened with the audience singing "O Canada." Miss Hilda Storey then played a pianoforte solo and had to respond to an encore. Billy McKinley, Scottish comedian, sang "She's the Lass For Me" and "The Boss of the House. Mrs. Scholey, in her song "Idle Words," received great applause and sang "I'm A-Wearying For You" in response. Companion Mrs. Poole and Sidney Parkins played an instrumental duet, piano and banjo, "The Cromartie," and "The Skipping Rope Dance" as an encore. Thomas Stazicker then sang "Absent." The audience paid a great tribute to this splendid singer by the silence during the singing, and the loud applause at the finish. He sang "Two Grey Eyes" in response, accompanied by Mr. Hotson. Mrs. Frank Flagler sang "Hymns of the Old Church Choir." The rendering of this beautiful song was greatly appreciated by the audience, and she sang "Pal of My Dreams" in response. Next was Miss Isa Thompson, who danced the Highland Fling. A fine dancer, she responded to the applause with the Sword Dance. Brother Inch sang "The Wee Hoose," by request, and had the audience laughing with his encore, "There Was a Bee."

Brother Snelgrove made a short interesting speech, telling of the good fraternal work the Independent Order of Foresters did, the wonderful place at Oakville near Toronto for the orphans, which was well worth a visit, and the sanatorium at Rainbow Lake, N.Y., where over 1,500 members have been treated at no expense to themselves, and a large proportion of whom had been restored to home and family. The I.O.F. enters its 54th year with a membership of 150,000, backed by a sound system of life insurance. It is strong in resources; reserves and surplus total over 39 million dollars. He concluded his speech by wishing further success to the I.O.F.

Next was a quartette, "Loch Lomond," by Mrs. W. McKinley, Mrs. Clarence Scholey, Mr. Inch, and Mr. McKinley. Thomas Stazicker recited "The White Man," and responded with "Mr. Macrue." Mrs. W. McKinley sang "An Old-Fashioned Town." She is a new singer in Peterborough. To finish the program, there was a duet by Brother Inch and Mrs. W. McKinley, "When Ye Gang Awa', Jamie." The pianist was Companion Mrs. Poole.

ADVICE FOR TILLIE

The Examiner Office,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sirs: I am going to tell you what I would do if I was in Tillie the Toiler's present predicament.

I would ask Mr. Simpkins if I could serve as Mr. Harrington's stenographer.

If he refuses, I'd leave and work in some other office. I hope Tillie will do that.

Yours truly,
JEAN WEIR.

48 FIRE BOXES IN USE IN CTY

Scattered Across City From Exhibition Park to Isolation Hospital.

SEVERAL IN FACTORIES.

Forewarned is forearmed, hence the publication of the recently revised and completed list of fire alarm boxes, a copy of which The Examiner has received through the courtesy of Fire Chief George Gimblett. The chief, in discussing the matter, was of the opinion that many Peterborough residents were not aware of the fire alarm box nearest their homes and on occasions have been known to lose precious seconds in hurrying to boxes further away than was necessary.

"To send in an alarm, Break Glass, open large door, pull hook down once and let go. Remain at Box and direct firemen to Fire" are the instructions to be followed in case of emergency. Citizens would be wise, said the chief, to study the following list and to impress upon the minds of their children, the location of the box nearest their homes. A copy may be obtained at the fire hall.

The list:
5—Canadian Packing Co.
6—Simcoe and Queen.

A CORRECTION.

In the last insertion of the article "Truth vs. Error", signed by M. T. Butcher, a short paragraph was left out more or less changing the meaning.

That portion of the letter affected is being reproduced herewith.

TRUTH VERSUS ERROR.

"There is no such thing as soul" in the commonly accepted idea of the word; that is the sense or nonsense of an indestructible something within and yet separate and distinct from the organism of man. Psychologists and those who use reason and common sense have come to the conclusion that the Bible definition of "soul" is and always has been correct. The preachers of the immortal "soul" idea have been and are wrong.

SAYS CABIN MATE KILLED HER DOG

Woman Seeks "Justice" For Death of Pet On Board Ship.

PARIS, June 5. — Mrs. Mary Thrasher, wife of Major Thomas E. Thrasher, serving with the marines in Nicaragua, is seeking to punish Miss Marie Udell, whom she accuses of killing her little Belgian Griffon dog out of spite. The two women were cabin mates on the Red Star liner Lapland, where the alleged killing took place, but Captain Harvey refused Mrs. Thrashers demand that he place Miss Udell under arrest.

"The ship was crowded," Mrs. Thrasher explained on her arrival here, "so my travelling companion and I were glad to have Miss Udell, whom we knew in New York, share the cabin. Miss Udell had no objection to my two Griffons, but took a violent dislike to me, and knowing the way to hurt me most was through the dogs, and feeling bitterly hostile to me at the moment, seized a water carafe and threw it at the head of my dog, Fifi, crushing the skull.

"If there is any way to get justice for the wanton killing of my Fifi, I am going to have it. I could not find out whether Miss Udell debarked at Cherbourg. The ship's officers tried to placate me and kindly offered to take the little body back to New York, but they naturally wanted to avoid scandar and kept from me where Miss Udell went."

Mr. Thrasher had her dog's body embalmed here. It is believed that Miss Udell continued on the Lapland to Antwerp.

WEDDING BELLS

KENNEDY—NIEDERAUER.

Roland Kennedy of Simcoe, son of Mrs. E. M. Kennedy, of Peterborough, and Miss Geraldine Niederauer, daughter of Mrs. L. Niederauer, of Simcoe were united in marriage at the United church, Simcoe, on May 23. Rev. Wray L. Davidson officiated. The young couple will reside in Simcoe.

CASSAN—PATTERSON.

A lovely house wedding took place at one o'clock to-day at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patterson, 463 Hunter street, when their second daughter, Gladys Irene, became the bride of Harold Ellesmere Cassan, son of Mr. A. W. Cassan, of this city and the late Mrs. Cassan. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave, took place in the living room, which was beautifully arranged with a profusion of mauve and white lilacs, palms, ferns and sunset roses.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a charming gown of orchid pussy willow crepe-back satin, made in sleeveless style, with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt, which was formed of flounces of the material joined by rows of orchid tulle. The tulle also fashioned the round yoke, which was outlined with French flowers in pastel shades. Streamers of orchid velvet ribbon fell from the neckline at the back of the frock. Slippers of orchid satin and matching hose were worn, with long white kid gloves. The bride's bouquet was of mauve orchids and lily of the valley.

The guests, about fifty in number, were entertained after the ceremony at a dainty wedding breakfast. The table was done with filet cloth and silver vases of Madame Pernet roses and lily of the valley, with the bride's cake on a side table. The dining and reception rooms were arranged with quantities of rose tulips and mauve and white lilacs.

Mrs. Patterson, mother of the bride, wore a gown of Venetian blue georgette, with panels of wheel embroidery and long vestee of finely-tucked pale pink georgette. A corsage bouquet of mauve sweet peas, pale pink sweetheart roses and lily of the valley was worn.

Miss Mabel Patterson, of New York, sister of the bride, was in beige chiffon velvet, with slippers and hose to match and corsage bouquet of cream roses.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Cassan left by motor for a honeymoon trip, to reside on Lansdowne street on their return. The bride travelled in a dress of navy crepe and georgette, the skirt made with knife pleating, the bodice of crepe with figured pattern of sand and red coin spots, and vestee of sand crepe, edged with lace. A navy hat trimmed with motifs of sand-colored straw, sand kid shoes with matching hose, a white basket cloth coat, collared with white fur, white gloves and white moire bag, completed the travelling outfit.

Ernst Vierkoetter, winner of the Wrigley marathon last year at the C.N.E., Toronto, is reported as saying that his entrance in this year's marathon is unlikely unless his manager "gets down to brass tacks" and makes some satisfactory arrangement within the next two weeks. He says instead he may take part in a race in the English channel.

FINE OF $25.00 FOR MOTORIST

FOLLOWS ACCIDENT.

Charles Harrington, of Ennismore, was found guilty this morning by Magistrate Langley of reckless driving with criminal negligence, and was fined $25.00, and costs, which in all amounted to $93.95. Harrington some weeks ago struck down Mrs. Michael Twomey in the drive way into the Ennismore Church sheds.

His Worship, in delivering judgment, said that he found Harrington had been guilty of recklessness and an utter disregard of the rights of others, and hence was criminally culpable. "If he had not done all in his power to help the woman after the accident, I would have been inclined to give a term in jail as the sentence," he said. J. A. O'Brien asked for the minimum fine, but His Worship replied: "There must be a lesson taught in these cases."

Harrington was given three days to pay his fine, and in default one month in the common jail.

24 MILES BUILT ON H. B. RAILWAY

SOME FOR TEMINALS.

OTTAWA, June 5. Canadian Press. —A statement as to what has been accomplished in connection with the construction of the Hudson Bay Rail way, was made to the House of Commons to-day by the Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways, when the house was considering a vote of $6,500,000 for the railway and terminals.

The Minister explained that it was proposed to expend $3,000,000 of this on the railway and three and a half on the port. The steel had now been laid from mile 332, the former end of the line, to mile 356. Mr. Dunning stated that there was still 154 miles to be laid before Churchill was reached. The capital cost over and above the cost of building the road into Nelson would be $5,085,000.

QUARREL OVER WAR CAUSE OF HOMICIDE

John Dutz Confesses That He Hit William Reynolds With Iron Pipe.

DETROIT, June 5. — (Canadian Press.)—John Dutz, 36, arrested last night, has confessed, police announced to-day, that he killed William Reynolds, 41, of Windsor, in a fight in a blind pig here June 2.

Dutz told the officers, they said, that he and Reynolds had been drinking and that an argumetn started over the World War. Dutz said he struck Reynolds three titmes on the head with an iron pipe and followed him outside to the alley, where Reynolds dropped dead.

CANADA LEADER IN COMMERCIAL USE OF AVIATION

W. T. McDonough, Famous Flier, Staggered By What Is Done.

ENGLAND BEHIND.

TORONTO, June 5. — "Wake up, England!"

This seems to be the gist of a message W. T. McDonough, internationally famous racing pilot, who is at present in the city, sends back to his Motherland. Anxious that Britain should take her rightful place in the commercial flying world, and zealous of her flying interests in Canada, Mr. McDonough fears that England is not sufficintly aware of the tremendous scale on which Canada is at present conducting flying operations. To-day at noon the intrepid pilot, with his uncle, W. F. Bullock, United States' represetnative of The Daily Mail, London, England, flits to Hudson, the jumping-off place for Red Lake.

Meanwhile, the pilot will fly north to the Great Slave Lake district, while Mr. Bullock returns by train. The latter's next big assignments will be the Democratic and Republican conventions. Mr. McDonough, by the way, has a great flying record, having flown in Egypt, Iraq, Mesopotamia, Palestine, Transjordania, United States, British Isles, France, Germany and now Canada. So when he speaks of aviation matters, his opinions are based on world-wide experience.

Says Canada Leads World.

"Canad leads the world in commercial aviation," was his first utterance. "I came here expecting to find only a small development along this line. I knew the country had a future but I was not overy sanguine of the present. So, if I, who am supposed to know something of aviation conditions, was taken by surprise at Canada's progress, and therefore knew very little about conditions before I actually came here, you can imagine how appallingly little the average man on the street over in Englnd knows about air development here. I must armit I have been positively staggered—that's the only word I can think of—by Canadian air progress.

"The companies organized in Canada really have work to do, and some of them have more work to do than they can handle. The development here has been so rapid that many companies have never been able to get either the machines or the personnel to operate them in the numbers they require.

Pilots Are Needed.

"I find there is a dearth of really experienced pilots in Canada to fill the number of vacant berths that are constantly cropping up. This is cramping the development and operation of the companies by reason of the fact that many of these pilots are needed to fill executive positions, positions that naturally crop up when a company keeps building up. Instead these pilots have to fly machines instead of filling executive posts. They are piloting instead of organizing.

"In contrast with Canada's success, we have Britain's comparative failure in commercial aviation. Commercial aviation there has been by no means a paying proposition because the English people have been slow to appreciate and learn from the rapid strides aviation has made in this country. No organization of arly size can run without proper capital, particularly this business. In England, the people will not put up the money. In Canada, where there is any sign of it being a sound business investment you can get any amount of money.

Making Aviation Pay.

"Canadians are making aviation pay. That to me is the striking thing. The only British air line that is running any considerable service is heavily subsidized and up till recently has shown heavy losses for more than seven years. On the other hand, companies in Canada are showing a profit after less than four years' operation. And there is not any company getting a single cent of Government subsidy. As long as the British companies are spoon-fed, they will have little possibility of running successfully.

"It is my opinion that if a company cannot be run without subsidy, it should not be run at all."

To-day the pilot starts on his first leg of his long dash to the very rim of the Arctic circle.

CADET TRAINING IN SCHOOLS AROUSES KEEN DISCUSSION IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

Effect of Training on Children Discussed by House Members.

SYSTEM OUTLINED

Miss MacPhail Moves Vote of $500,000 for Services be Reduced to $1.00.

OTTAWA, June 6 (Canadian Press) —Defence estimates aroused keen discussion in the House yesterday. Miss Agness Macphail (Prog.-Southeast Grey) moved that a vote of $500,000 for cadet services be reduced to $1.00.

Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of Nation Defence, outlined the system of cadet training. Selected personnel were given special courses in physical training and cadet training, he declared, and this was further developed by courses at the Royal Military College in ingston. These became instructors and were loaned to the Provincial governments to instruct in physical training in the Normal schools. If, in the normal schools there were those who desired cadet training, a special course for them was prescribed from headquarters.

Miss Masphail asked how the minister accounted for the fact that the Department of National Defence was the only one which "interfered" with education, which was under Provincial jurisdiction.

To this the Minister replied that no training was carried out without the consent of the provincial governments.

Miss Macphail then asked if there was anything to prevent peace teaching being carried on as aggressively as cadet training.

Colonel Ralston replied that he knew of nothing to prevent the establishment of any special chairs for peace teaching. He thought that the government was operating along these lines in the showing of films which inculcated a love and appreciation for Canada among the youth of the country.

Miss Macphail asked if the cadet training was not "aggressive" when rifles and uniforms were provided free.

Not Under Compulsion

The minister answered that Miss Macphail could call it anything she liked. No teacher was compelled to take cadet training nor were any of these schools under compulsion to do so. There were many schools where physical training alone was given without cadet training, and the instructors in these schools had themselves been trained by the department.

Miss Bacphail asked if there would

AGREE ON STEPS TO STOP LIQUOR

Customs and Railway Officials at Border Appoint Committee to Consider Plans.

MAY UNLOAD CARS.

BUFFALO, June 6. — (Canadian Press.) — A gentleman's agreement between railway and customs officials that will further tighten the barrier against the smuggling of contraband liquor is forecast as an outcome of the conference here yesterday between Federal officials and representatives of the Canadian and United States' roads.

The conference appointed a committee to formulate plans to make a more effective check-up of the freight cars crossing the border at Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Detroit. The preliminary verbal report indicated that measures to provide more information on manifests of shipment under seal will receive considerable attention. Most of the ideas which the committee are expected to advance will be kept secret, however, so that their plans cannot be circumvented by liquor smugglers.

Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of customs, took special pains to point out that the parley dealt primarily with liquor smuggling from the point of view of customs law enforcement rather than prohibition. His intimation that if smuggling could be checked in no other way that all freight cars crossing the border under seal would be unloaded, was regarded by railroad men as only a last resort idea and one that it would never be necessary to adopt. Such a course, it was said, would mean a practical embargo on international traffic over the railroad lines.

Grain Selling Wave Breaks Wheat Market

CHICAGO, June 6 (Associated Press).—A selling wave, the heaviest that the wheat trade has witnessed in some time, caused a notable smash in wheat prices yesterday. The break amounted to nearly five cents a bushel in Chicago and Minneapolis, and nearly as much in Kansas City.

It was difficult to trace where the immense selling of wheat finally lodged, and traders were skeptical about following the selling side too far, after a decline of 22 3-8 on September and 27 3-8 on July from the high point at the end of April.

Rains in Canada outweighed all other influences yesterday and were generally accepted as perhaps marking the end of the prolonged dry weather which has been threatening to curtail spring wheat yields on both sides of the Canadian boundary. Yesterday's reports, however, continued to indicate poor prospects for a large area.

JUDGMENT HELD IN LIQUOR CASE

Harry Johnston Appears On Charge of Keeping Beer For Sale.

ALL EVIDENCE IN.

Harry Johnston of Young street, North Monaghan, appeared before Magistrate Lanigey in police court this morning, charged with selling liquor on May 24th. J. A. O'Brien conducted the case for the accused, and Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton, K.C., prosecuted.

The evidence of both the prosecution and accused was heard, but the arguments of the two lawyers and the judgment were left over until some day next week. Four witnesses in all gve evidence.; three for the prosecution and the accused himself.

The charge of selling against Johnston by Provincial Officer Joseph Stewart was laid as a result of the accident which resulted in the deth of Graeme McMillan on May 24.

Johnston, in his defence, denied receiving any money for the beer which he gave S. McManus on that day.

S. McManus of th Township of Smith, was the first witness called by Mr. Hatton. McManus told of going twice to the home of Johnston on May 24, and on each occasion receiving home-made beer. "On the first occasion I threw down half a dollar on the kitchen table, and on the second a quarter on a little side table," he declared.

Asked by Mr. Hatton why he threw the money down; he said, "I just threw it down and said there was some money for the children."

"Did Deva get anything to drink?"

"Beer was brought to him."

"Did you see him drink it?"

"I saw him put the glass of beer to his lips, and then put it on the stove."

"How many glasses of beer?"

"Just the one."

"Did you have anything to drink that day except what you got at Johnston's?"

"No."

"You pleaded guilty recently to being intoxicated in a public place?"

"Yes."

In cross-examination, McManus said on each occasion before going to Johnston's, he and Devall had gone to A. Frick's as he had some business with Mr. Frick.

"Did you go to Johnston's to see about some pigs?"

"No."

"What did you go for?"

"A drik of beer."

"Was Devall in the house all the time you were there?"

"No, he was in and out playing with the children."

"Whom did you intend to have the money?"

"Johnston."

Mr. O'Brien told witness he previously said he gave it to the children.

"Well, I look upon them as one."

Wesley Devall was then called. He said he had known Johnston since 1920. He denied seeing money pass between Johnston and McManus, and also said he had nothing to drink.

Provincial Constable Harry Thompson gave evidence as to seizing a bottle of beer from a barrel in the cellar and having it analyzed by the Government analyst. The report showed the strength was 6.41, and was put in as an exhibit.

Six questions were asked by Mr. O'Brien in his defence from his only witness, Harry Johnston.

"Are you the accused?"

"Yes."

"Do you remember the two occasions spoken of by McManus?"

"Yes."

"Did you see any money being handed out by McManus?"

"No, sir."

"To your knowledge, did he have any money in your premises on May 24?"

Conservative Members Of Two Houses Gather At Dinner In Honor of Bennett

OTTAWA, Ont., June 6. Canadian Press. — Conservative members of the two Houses of Parliament gathered at dinner last night in honor of Hon. Mr. Bennett, leader of the Conservative party. The dinner marked the close of Mr. Bennett's first session as Conservative leader. "We all admire our chief, not only for his natural endowments and his great personal attainments," declared Hon Hugh Guthrie, who proposed the health of Mr. Bennett," "but for the zeal and enthusiasm which he has inspired in the ninety followers who sit around him in the House of Commons," and Senator Ross, the Conservative leader in the Senate echoed the words.

The occasion was not one of political speeches. There were songs and banter and good-humored comment. In his reply to the toast, Mr. Bennett had the gathering in continuous laughter with entertaining sketches of those gathered about the board. In closing he emphasized the importance to the country of Conservative policies. It was a tribute to the Conservative party that its opponents had in so many cases adopted its policies, and to the extent Conservative policies had been adopted.

PRESCOTT SITE OF TERMINALS

Hon. J. C. Elliott Makes Definite Announcement in House Today.

WILL COST $4,000,000.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 6 (Canadian Press).—Subject to an arrangement with the United States as to the work to be done in the channel of the river, the Government has decided to establish the Great Lake terminal near the town of Prescott. This was announced in the House of Commons to-day by the Hon. J. C. Elliott, Minister of Public Works.

Mr. Elliot made this statement in answer to questions when an appropriation of $1,500,000 for the Lower Lakes terminal was under consideration in the Committee of Supply. He said that the decision was based on the recommendation of the engineers engaged in investigating the locality to determine the best site. He was reasonably certain that arrangements with the U.S. Government would be successfully completed. This might take a couple of months and the work would probably begin this fall. The cost of establishing the terminal would probably be in the vicinity of $4,000,000.

A number of sites had been considered and reported upon, declared Mr. Elliott, but serious consideration had not been given to the others after it was decided to accept the Prescott site. The item then carried.

DOG SAVES WOMAN FROM ANGRY COW

Intervention Not in Time, However, To Avoid Serious Injury to Mistress.

STIRLING, June 6.— The valorous part played by her collie dog probably saved Mrs. Arthur Richardson from death at her farm home in Anson, near here on Saturday, when the 69 year old lady was attacked by an infuriated cow in the barn and suffered severe internal injuries. The dog, sensing the plight of his mistress, attacked the animal and while it was being counter-attacked and chased through the yard, help arrived from the house. Mrs. Richardson also received injuries to her head and shoulders and though some hope for her recovery is held, her advanced years make survival doubtful.

The woman had entered the stable to begin milking and had found the cow standing quite peacefully. However, on approaching two calves to which the cow had recently given birth, Mrs. Richardson was attacked by the cow, which was apparently infuriated by an instinct to protect her young. She was knocked down and frightfully gored until the dog entered the scene and attracted the attention of the enraged bovine.

BODIES BROUGHT TO PORT ARTHUR

Five Men and One Woman Taken From Lake Near Isle Royale.

MEN UNIDENTIFIED.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., June 6. Canadian Press. — The steamer Champlain of the Dominion Towing and Salving Company slipped into the harbor last night with the bodies of five men and a woman, members of the crew of the ill-fated Canada Steamship Lines freighter "Kamloops." The bodies were found on Sunday afternoon near Isle Royale, where two bodies were found ten days ago.

The body of the woman is believed to be that of Netty Grafton, the stewardess, of Southampton, Ont.

The bodies of the five sailors have not been identified.

Columbia Held Up By Soggy Runway

CURTISS FIELD, June 6 (Associated Press). — A runway soggy with rain held the monoplane Columbia earthbound yesterday as last preparations were made for its second trans-Atlantic flight, this time with a woman aboard.

Miss Mabel Boll, known as the Queen of Diamonds, for the profusion of her jewels, chafed at the delay and closely watched all reports concerning the activities in Newfoundland of Miss Amelia Earhart, who also hopes to be the first woman to span the ocean by air.

The Columbia, in which Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine flew to Germany last summer, will make its second attempt with the engine with which Chamberlin and Bert Acosta set an endurance record prior to the first Atlantic flight.

SIX MEN ROB PAPER OFFICE

PATROLMEN SHOT.

DETROIT, June 6 (Canadian Press). — Six men armed with sawed off shotguns held up more than 150 persons in the Detroit News building shortly after 11 a.m. to-day, and escaped in an automobile with the greater part of the newspaper's week-up pay roll, the total of which was $65,000.

Some of the money was dropped in the dash from the building, and during a gun fight in the street in which two patrol men were probably fatally wounded.

Leaving their car parked in front of the newspaper plant, the robbers dashed up the stairway to the second floor of the newspaper building. Some of them covered the 150 or more employees in the business office with shotguns, while the others leaped over the top of the cashier's cage and hurriedly scooped up all the money in sight.

Warning the employees to "stand back," the robbers then rushed from the building into the heavy traffic of Lafayette Boulevard, where they were engaged in an exchange of shots with two officers. More than a dozen shots were fired, but none of the bandits was believed wounded.

C.P.C. BUYS COBOURG BUTTER BUSINESS

Cream Will Be Collected There As Usual and Shipped Here.

Of local interest is the recent announcement by the Cobourg World to the effect that the Canadian Packing Company of Peterborough had purchased the butter business of the Cobourg Creamery Company.

Discussing the transaction this morning, an official of the former company stated that it would mean the shipment to Peterborough of the cream which will be collected, as usual at the Cobourg Creamery and manufactured here. The Cobourg Creamery will continue the milk business.

CHANG STILL ALIVE BUT BADLY INJURED

Dictator Still in Serious Condition, Says Japanese War Minister.

TOKIO, une 6 — Canadian Press. —The Japanese war minister told the Cabinet to-day that Chang Tso-Lin, the former Peking dictator, was still alive, but was in a serious condition from the injuries he suffered in the bomb explosion near Mukden on Monday.

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIERS PREPARE FOR FINAL HOP

1,750 MILE FLIGHT.

SUVA, Fiji, June 6 (Associated Press).—With two victories over sea and sky already perching on the study wings of their monoplane, the Southern Cross, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and his three companions hastened preparations yesterday to hop off for Australia.

Friday, Suva time, has been tentatively set as the date of the take-off for Brisbane, Australia, some 1,750 miles to the south-west. This time depends largely on the success of the fliers in finding a suitable runway for the hop. The plane, in addition to its own weight and that of the men, must carry 900 gallons of gasoline, estimated as necessary for the trip to Brisbane.

British army officers here believe that Naselai Beach, a long, level sandy stretch, sixteen miles from Suva, will be suitable.

The improvised landing place at Albert Park here on which the airmen descended at the end of their epochal 3,138-mile flight from Hawaii, does not provide sufficient space for a heavily loaded plane to get into the air.

Having covered 5,536 miles in two hops on their aerial odyssey from Oakland, California, to Sydney, Australia, the fliers were confident of success on the last two stages of their journey. After reaching Brisbane, a final stretch of 500 miles lies before them.

Little Known Area.

The course to Brisbane is over the relatively little known south-eastern corner of the Pacific Islands, coral or volcanic in origin, dot the surface of the ocean. Many of these are inhabited by natives who until recent years were cannibals. Many of them to-day are primitive savages, who never even heard of an airplane, much less seen one.

Normally, the sea itself in this portion of the globe is pleasant enough. Opal and topaz when winds and sun are kind, it can become as ugly as Neptune's worst mood in a storm.

All of the fliers have unsolicitedly praised each other since their arrival here yesterday. Each agrees that without the others "it couldn't have been done." The Australians were especially liberal in their praise of their American companions. It was once rumored that Lyon and Warner would go no farther than Fiji. There is no thought of that now, apparently.

Referring to the Americans, Kingsford-Smith is reported to have said in Honolulu:

"Lyon told us where to go and Warner told the world where we were going."

In Suva, Lyon and Warner said:

"If it hadn't been for the skillful piloting of Kingsford-Smith and him through clouds and storms we never would have made it."

LEAVING TO-NIGHT.

SUVA, Fiji, June 6 (Canadian Press). — The Southern Cross will hop off at 3 p.m. to-morrow from the beach at Naselai, 16 miles from here, on its 1,750 mile flight to Brisbane, Australia, Flight-Commander Kingsford-Smith announced late to-night. This would be 10 o'clock on Wednesday night, eastern standard time.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF SOUTH AMERICA

R. H. Storey Gives Illustrated Address at George Street United Church.

On Monday evening R. H. Storey, B.A.,B.D., returned missionary from South America, gave an illustrated lecture in the Sunday school auditorium of George street United Church.

A very large audience was present and listened with rapt attention to his description of places, scenes and people of South America. He showed over one hundred pictures of conditions among the natives of this continent and explained the situation there very minutely.

THE WEATHER

Temperature this morning 50 degrees; highest yesterday 64 degrees. The gentle and continuous rain of last night and to-day should be of the greatest value to the agriculturist as well as the more humble city garden owner. Rain is prevalent at present from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic seaboard in Canada, and also covers some of the northern states of the union.—W.P.

Stresses Necessity Of Co-operation In Address At Wheat Pool Conference

REGINA, Sask., June 6. Canadian Press. — "Present world conditions prove that the hope of the future depended on the overthrow of competition and substitution of co-operation," H. W. Wood, president of the Alberta wheat pool and vice-president of the Canadian pool central selling agency, told the delegates to the second annual international wheat pool conference in an address here last night.

All competition was warfare, Mr. Wood said, and this warfare was raging in the industrial field and becoming more and more efficient and more destructive. Individual was in competition with individual and class with class. Nations were drawn into conflict and war followed as a grand climax to industrial competition.

Stressing the necessity of co-operation, the speaker declared that in industrial competition the masses had never been successful and never could hope to be. Their only hope was to overcome competion by establishing co-operation, involving a process of development that must be begun at the beginning and carried forward systematically.

Have Not Yet Decided Great Lakes Terminal

KINGSTON, Ont., June 6 (Canadian Press). — In answer to a query from the Whig-Standard as to the truth of the published report that Prescott had been decided on as the eastern Great Lakes terminal, Hon. J. C. Elliott, Federal Minister of Public Works, yesterday sent the following telegram from Ottawa:

"Nothing new has occurred recently which would justify any such statement."

At the same time the Whig-Standard telegraphed Gen. A. E. Ross, the member for Kingston, regarding the report, and his reply from Ottawa was:

"Nothing new. Just the usual rumors."

FELSTEAD WINS DERBY TO-DAY

FAVORITE UNPLACED.

EPSOM, June 6 (Canadian Press). —Felstead, owned by Sir H. Cunliffe-Owen, won the historic English Derby at Epsom Downs to-day.

Felstead, a rank outsider at 33 to 1, duplicated the feat of his sire, Spion Kop, which won in 1920, in leading the field of 19 horses over the famous mile and a half course.

Flamingo, quoted at 9 to 2, was second, a length and a half behind the winner, while Black Watch, quoted at 33 to 1, was third, six lengths behind Flamingo.

It was the 148th running of the great English classic, and the usual great crowd of English racing enthusiasts was on hand at the course, some of the spectators having waited 24 hours for favorable positions.

Felstead's victory was before a record crowd of nearly one million spectators, who massed Epsom Downs and it was estimated that the equivalent of at least $15,000,000 was wagered on the race, including the great Calcutta Sweepsakes.

Flamingo, which was second choice to win, led all the way to Tatenham Corner. Sunny Trace, which was also among the favorites, pressed hard, but at the last quarter Felstead drew ahead, and led the rest of the way, winning fairly easily by a length and a half. The official time was 2 minutes 34 2-5 seconds, equalling the record made last year by Call Boy.

Fairway, owned by Lord Derby, and favorite over the rest of the field was never up in front during the entire race, and did not threaten the leaders.

So great was the crush of spectators that the King and Queen had difficulty in getting to the royal box, and had to leave their automobile and make their way through the crowds on foot to the doorway leading to the stand.

The Prince of Wales, with two big bobbies, had to fight his way through the throng to reach the royal party, while the Duchess of York needed the assistance of the Duke to squeeze through the great jam of people.

Cyclone, Luveneran and O'Curry were last minutes withdrawals from the twenty-two probable starters. H. Wragg, a veteran among English jockeys, rode the winner.

FINDS NOTHING.

Norwegian Flier Makes Flight North of Spitzbergen Seeking Italia.

OSLO, Norway, June 6 (Canadian Press).—Advices from Spitzbergen today said that Liutenant Luetzow Holm, Norwegian flyer, had made a flight in search of the missing Italia and found nothing.

13 MOTORISTS FINED TO-DAY

Police Check Up Results in Convictions On Various Charges.

ENTERED ON PERMITS.

As a result of the check up that the police department has been making on motorists throughout the city, there were thirteen traffic convictions registered in Police Court this morning by Magistrate O. A. Langley. Some were for speeding across Hunter Street Bridge, others were for operating a car without a permit, while others were for operating a car after dark without the proper headlights. There was one case of reckless driving.

Lorne Armstrong pleaded guilty to speeding across Hunter Street Bridge and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.

R. D. Bacon pleaded guilty to driving at a greater rate of speed than 15 miles an hour across Hunter Street Bridge and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.

Michael Minicola pleaded guilty to speeding on Water Street and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.

W. Juniper pleaded guilty to operating a car without having two lights in front and one behind, and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.

William Devlin pleaded guilty to speeding across Hunter Street Bridge and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.

Robert Hatton pleaded guilty to operating a car without a permit and was given the minimum fine of $10.00 without costs.

S. Killenbeck pleaded guilty to operating a car after dark without lights and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.

Robert G. Northcott pleaded guilty to speeding across Hunter Street Bridge and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.

George Tweedie pleaded guilty to operating a car without a permit and was fined $10.00 without costs.

John Smith, an out-of-town resident, pleaded guilty to reckless driving on London Street on the evening of May 23rd, and was fined $20.00 and $2.50 costs. Smith's son was driving the car at the time, and while going down London Street he collided with a truck and Fire Chief Gimblett's car and also drove over the fire hose.

Clifford Lowe pleaded guilty to operating a car after dark without lights and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.

Thomas Gordon pleaded guilty to driving at a greater rate of speed than 15 miles an hour across Hunter Street Bridge and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.

Jack Pulkinghorn pleaded guilty to speeding across Hunter Street Bridge and was fined $5.00 and $2.50 costs.

In each case where the information was laid under the Ontario Highway Act the convictions were registered on the drivers' permits by the Magistrate.

CHOIR ASKS HELP OF EX-MEMBERS

Would Like Them To Sing in Park Concerts This Summer.

The 1928-1929 executive of Peterborough Male Voice Choir met in the Y.M.C.A. Reading Room last evening—President J. A. White in the chair. Many items were discussed and passed upon, in the interests of the choir. Among the matters of immediate import was the attendance of members of earlier years of the organization at the concerts in the park this summer. It was thought by the officers that a fine showing could be made if as many ex-members as possible could assist; and it was hoped that they would be present at all these concerts, which will be held on June 15, July 13, and August 10, in Victoria Park.

The next rehearsal will be held on Tuesday evening, June 11, at eight o'clock sharp. The practice will be followed by a short business meeting, and will be held in St. Paul's Church Hall.

P.C.I. TEACHERS ARE PRAISED BY INSPECTOR

Principal and Staff Commended For Carrying On Well Under Difficulties.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS.

Group Insurance For Teachers Is Again Discussed—Doctor Asks For Second Nurse.

Peterborough Collegiate Institute staff comes in for some high praise from Inspector A. J. Husband, who, in his report, congratulates the city on having such a fine staff which is carrying on and doing good work in spite of the handicap of having an addition built to the school during the term. The Principal, H. R. H. Kenner, is congratulated on keeping together a staff of experienced teachers. The report was read at the June meeting of the Board of Education last night.

An appeal for an extra nurse was made by Dr. A. W. McPherson, school medical officer, who called attention to the wide range covered by this work in the schools of the city.

The matter of group insurance for the teachers was laid over for further consideration when information has been received from London and Toronto while the supervision committee will deal with the matter of school music classes.

The rate charged the ratepayers of school section three, Smith, was reduced to seventy per cent. of the cost to the city.

The inspector's report read in part:

"The people of Peterborough are to be congratulated on having solved in a very satisfactory way the problem of providing adequate accommodation for carrying on the work of secondary education, both cultural and vocational. It would have been regrettable had this result not been obtained, as for manya year s the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, under the inspiration and guidance of Principal Kenner and other gifted teachers, has enjoyed an enviable reputation among the schools of the province. When the building under construction is completed and equipped, the boys and girls of Peterborough will enjoy opportunities in the matter of getting an education that are not excelled in any part of Ontario. It will be a constant source of satisfaction to the people of the community to know that the equality of opportunity that is very desirable in a democratic country has been brought within reach of everyone.

"So far as the present organization and administration of the school are concerned, the favorable report of a year ago stands true to-day. Principal Kenner has endeavored to arrange the work so as to obviate, as far as possible, the difficulties incidental to building an addition during the school year. Both teachers and pupils, too, seem to be working hard so that the reputation of the school for fine scholarship and success at the departmental examinations may not suffer because of unavoidable interruptions of the work.

"I am pleased to be able to report, too, that a high degree of efficiency is being attained by many of the pupils of the commercial classes.

"It is a pleasure for me to be able to speak very favorably of the staff as a whole. None of the teaching that I observed could be regarded as poor. Rarely, too, does one find a staff of twenty-one composed practically entirely of experienced teachers. The happy relationship between Principal Kenner and his staff has, I think, enabled the Board to retain certain teachers who, otherwise, might have been attracted elsewhere."

The Insurance Matter.

"I think it is an imposition on the part of insurance agents to ask the Board to go into this matter of group insurance," declared J. F. Strickland, when this matter was brought up. It is a different matter with eachers from that of industrial workers, whose employment is precarious. He felt that the usual grant in the case of death would be continued, while the teachers are a high type of citizenship who knew what they were going into."

Mrs. Morris felt that the teachers did not think they lost anything in self respect in signing this application. For years the older men had struggled along on salaries which did not allow much for insurance, while their services to the public were not limited by their salaries, being largely personal.

Mr. Thompson read the proposition showing a cost of some $250 to the Board each year for 70 teachers.

Dr. Yelland asked if the janitors would come under the scheme and was told that all employees are included.

Ten minutes was allowed J. A. McKone and Mr. Hooper, agent of the London Life Association over opposition by Mr. Strickland, who felt that the Board should, if it favored such a policy, advertise for tenders.

Mr. Hooper answered several questions. The rate, he said, usually remained stationary. It varies with the general age, but this has a tendency to remain fairly well fixed.

He told of the experience of the London Board, which found that money and trouble was saved. The plan, he said, gives protection to those who cannot obtain individual policies.

Only one payment to a teacher would bring back to the city as much as the Board would pay out in four years, said Mrs. Morris.

Mr. Reid moved that information be asked from Toronto and London. Mr. Wilson seconded it. Mr. Strickland moved, seconded by Dr. Yelland, that no action be taken. Mr. Reid's motion carried.

Charge Reduced.

The recommendation of the [illegible] Committee that the rate charged S.S. No. 3, Smith, be seventy per cent. of the cost to the city for each pupil

FOKKER PLANE MADE READY FOR FLIGHT

Miss Earhart and Companion Await Favorable Weather For Take-off.

DESTINATION UNKNOWN.

TREPASSY, June 6.— (Associated Press).—The Fokker monoplane Friendship in which Miss Amelia Earhart of Boston hopes to be the first woman to fly across the Atlantic ocean was ready for the long and hazardous flight late yesterday and awaited only the abatement of unfavorable winds before taking to the air.

While Miss Earhart and her two companions, Wilmer Stultz, pilot, and Louis Gordon, mechanic, grew impatient over their enforced delay, northwest winds swept the harbor here throughout the forenoon and made it impossible to refuel the plane until yesterday afternoon, when the tanks were finally filled during a lull in the gale. Except for the high wind, the weather conditions appeared favorable for the flight. The visibility was excellent.

Miss Earhart and her companions made it known yesterday that their destination was indefinite.

POOR FLYING CONDITIONS.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 6. (Canadian Press). — A report from Trepassey last night stated that it was unlikely the Fokker monoplane Friendship would take off for the trans-Atlantic flight last night. A high wind had delayed refueling yesterday, and three hundred gallons of gasoline remained to be pumped into the tanks. Wilmer Stultz, pilot of the tri-motored plane, received an unfavorable weather report last night indicating poor flying conditions over the Atlantic, and resumption of the flight has been postponed indefinitely, but will be made as soon as conditions and circumstances permit, Stultz said last night. Miss Earhart, passenger on the Friendship, and hopeful of being the first woman to fly the Atlantic, was said to be chafing at the delay and anxious to get started at the earliest possible moment.

70 FARMERS SHIP CATTLE

Shipper at Norwood Has Busy Day Weighing Many Animals.

IMMIGRANTS VISITED.

NORWOOD, June 6.—Owing to the fact that there will be but one shipment of live stock next week, R. D. Sedgwick, local representative of the United Farmers' Co-operative Company, Toronto, was a busy man on Monday and Tuesday as a long line of farmers' wagons awaited the opportunity to unload cattle, young calves and some sheep into the pens previous to shipment from the Canadian Pacific yards here.

In all, some seventy farmers drove into the line-up which reached far back from the pens and beyond the station, and Mr. Sedgwick was kept busy weighing the animals and recording their weights opposite the names of their shippers. Over ninety calves went onto the scales, while a few larger cattle brought the average weight to a higher level.

Next week there will be a shipment of hogs on Monday.

Personals.

A. Bell of Brighton was in Norwood on Tuesday with a truck load of garden plants, which were immediately sold to merchants as well as private citizens.

Mrs. Harrison and Miss Margaret Harrison, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cuthbertson, here, leave on Thursday for Crowe's Landing, Stoney Lake, where they will spend the summer.

Immigration Agent Here.

During the past two days, D. S. Morrison, special immigration agent, whose work it is to inspect and report on the progress made by English immigrant lads located on farms throughout the province, has been in Norwood and vicinity. Mr. Morrison, an employee of the British and Canadian Governments, called upon some fifty-five young men in this district, and on this occasion found them all well satisfied with their work. Several are over the age of eighteen, and therefore assume a certain amount of independence, but as a general rule, they prefer to remain connected with the Department of Immigration, which has enabled them to reach Canada with very little, if any, expense to themselves.

HOURS OF SERVICE CHANGE FOR SUMMER

Bethany People Will Hold Sunday School at 10.30— Rain Needed.

BETHANY, June 6.— The United Sunday school has changed its hour of meeting from 2 o'clock p.m. until 10.30 a.m. for the summer months. There was a splendid attendance on Sunday morning and a full staff of officers.

As the pastor was attending Conference in Smith's Falls, there was no evening service in the United church on Sunday, but many of the congregation availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing the Rev. Archer Wallace, who was conducting anniversary services at the Cavan United church.

Dry Weather.

Rain is badly needed in this district. There has been no rain to speak of for weeks and the soil is very dry, making growth slow. There was a splendid showing of bloom on apple, plum and cherry trees, but there was several heavy frosts during bloom time which may cause damage to the expected fruit. Garden and other seeds are slow at making appearance owing to the drouth. The lilac trees are things of beauty this week with their bloom, also the tulips beds on various lawns.

Presentation.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farren were the guests of honor at a social evening in the town hall on Friday. The community had gathered to show their eesteem and appreciation of the service which Mrs. Ferren (Miss Bertha Fallis) had given while head operator at the telephone switch board. A lovely casket of silver and a Chesterfield table and chair was presented to the bride and groom of a month. The evening was spent socially in cards, music and dancing.

The young people of the village gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Monk on Saturday evening and gave them a miscellaneous shower of many useful and beautiful things.

Personals.

Dr. Louis Bigelow, of Edgar, was called home owing to the sudden serious illness of his mother, Mrs. William Bigelow.

Rev. Alfred Poulter is attending Conference at Smith's Falls.

Mrs. Ashley of Madoc and Miss Flora Wooten, of Belleville, were guests of Mrs. Poulter over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lee and Miss Verna Belle were visitors to Peterborough on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tolbert of Toronto, spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fallis and attended the presentation to their sister on Friday evening.

Miss Elsie Richardson spent the week end with Cavan friends.

Mr. R. W. Price was a business visitor to Millbrook on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis of Bowmanville, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff. Davis.

Mrs. Bert Rae and children, of Peterborough, spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Reg. Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rogers and children of Lindsay spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Davis.

Many of the citizens are suffering from grippy colds, thought by many to be the result of the continued cold and unspringlike weather.

Mrs. William Byers, who has undergone the third operation in Nicholls Hospital within the past few months, is doing as well as can be expected.

The quarantine is being lifted from the homes where measles and mumps have been in the family.

Mr. Allin Cody, of Newmarket, was in the village on Monday renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jarvis and children of Brantford, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Sisson for a few days.

Trent River

TRENT RIVER, June 6.—Rev. Mr. Totten of Cavan took charge of the service Sunday afternoon instead of Rev. Forbes Stillman of Norwood who was expected to supply for the pastor, Rev. W. R. Archer, who has been attending conference.

Mrs. Mitchell, Miss Jessie, R.N., Miss Marion, Mrs. Donald and son Clare, motored from Toronto Saturday and spent over the holiday at the former's summer home, "Raeden."

Mr. E. H. Fairbrother, Toronto, spent over the week-end and holiday with Mrs. Fairbrother, at their cottage.

COMMUNITY HALL PETITION LOSES OUT

Opponents of Project, Though Fewer in Numbers, Own More Property.

The members of the Municipal Council of the Township of Smith met on Saturday, June 2nd at 10 a.m. for general business, and at 2 p.m. as a Court of Revision.

By-law No. 858, appointing Thomas H. Graham as "Weed Inspector" for the township for the year 1928 received its several readings and was passed.

Mr. Beavis was present to solicit a grant for the Lakefield Agricultural Society.

On motion of H. D. Coons and G. Fitzgerald, the sum of forty dollars was granted.

John C. McConkey appeared asking for the privilege of leasing a portion of Braden's Point road for a term of years at $1.00 per annum. After consideration, this request was negatived; the clerk being instructed to write Mr. McConkey stating that the cost of legally securing a lease of the road allowance above mentioned would be much in excess of revenue.

The Council considered the matter carefully, but is taking no action.

No Community Hall.

In the matter of the building of a Community Hall at Young's Point, and of the relative strength numerically and as to assessment of the two petitions for and against the building of such hall received by Council, the clerk reported that the petition in favor of building the hall presented by Rev. Mr. Dwelly and Mr. Young contained fifty-two names and represented an assessment of $40,615; while the petition against the building of such hall presented by Messrs. W. E. McIlmoyle, Jos. G. Ayotte and W. J. Tedford contained forty-two names and represented an assessment of $58,175 which sum does not include the assessment of five ratepayers from Douro, whose assessment has not been ascertained.

From these facts, council deemed it unwise to pass a By-law authorizing the erection of a community hall at Young's Point.

The clerk was instructed to notify the Sawyer-Massey Co. of Hamilton that the short pole necessary to haul the stone crusher by a tractor had not been shipped in the original shipment.

Moved by Councillor Mann and seconded by Councillor Mullen that deputy-Reeve H. D. Coons, Councillor G. Fitzgerald and the Road Superintendent be a committee to inspect the road allowance from 15th concession line north to Lovesick Lake in relation to the feasibility of opening the road. Carried.

Moved by Councillor Mann and seconded by Councillor Millen that the Wolsley street sidewalk committee appointed by council meet the residents of said street on Saturday next, June 9th, to obtain information re the financing of the project; that council meet at the stone-crusher at a day to be set, about June 12th, and that council meet in the council chamber in the afternoon of the day of meeting at the crusher for general business. Carried.

Moved by Reeve Middleton and seconded by Councillor Mann, that the following accounts be paid: Percy T. Udy, $6.50; Examiner Publishing Co., $2.45. Carried.

Appeals Heard.

Council adjourned to meet at 2 p.m. as a Court of Revision.

After the members had taken the oath of office, the following appeals were heard:

Burleigh Falls Fishing Club Inc., appealed against over-assessment of three dogs. Appeal allowed.

Harry Bradburn appealed against over-assessment on both land and buildings on cottage. Assessment confirmed.

Harry Fowler appealed to reduce assessment from two dogs to one dog. Appeal allowed.

Charles Herkimer appealed against over-assessment on land and buildings; and for his tenant, Arnold Bennett. Both appeals allowed.

Mrs. E. McFadden appealed against over-assessment on buildings. Assessment confirmed.

Kenneth Sweeting appealed to reduce assessment from two dogs to one dog. Appeal allowed.

Moved by Councillor Mullen and seconded by deputy-Reeve Coons that the above corrections in the assessment roll for 1928 of the Township of Smith be made by the clerk, and that he be instructed to sign the roll as thus amended.

Oshawa Taxi Service Purchases Fleet of Pontiac Sedans

On June 5, 1928, the Johnson Taxi Company of Oshawa, after trying other makes of cars, placed an order for eleven Pontiac Sedans. Past experience in service costs accounted for Mr. Johnson's decision on Pontiacs.

HOWARD JORDAN A.Y.P.A. LEADER

Is Elected at Annual Meeting of St. Thomas' Branch, Millbrook.

BRIDGE BEING BUILT.

MILLBROOK, June 6.—The A.Y.P.A. of Saint Thomas' church held its annual meeting the last of the week and elected the following officers for 1928-29:

Honorary President—Rev. Canon Allen.

Honorary Vice-President—Rev. P. C. Howard.

President—Howard Jordan.

Vice-President—R. J. Stone.

Secretary—Miss Ada Attwooll.

Treasurer—Mrs. L. S. Morton.

Pianists—Misses Marcella and Marguerite Lang.

The newly-elected officers will not be formally installed until October when the meetings are re-opened for the fall and winter months. The present officers will continue to function until fall, the usual plan of having probably but one meeting a month for the summer months being followed.

There will be a gathering of a social nature in June, a picnic in July, and possibly a corn roast in August, or September. The annual district picnic comes in July.

Schools Have Holiday.

Both the Continuation and Public Schools had a holiday here on Monday, the King's birthday falling on Sunday. Several of the citizens showed their loyalty by having flags in evidence at the front of their residences in honor of the King's birthday both on Sunday and Monday, while at the Town Hall and the Armouries the town flags were flying on both days.

Bridge Being Built.

Construction work on the new bridge on King street is now in progress, and there is considerable adverse criticism because of the unfavorable condition of the detours made necessary while this work is under way. It will apparently be imperative to choose the road up Distillery street and through the Medd property in place of the detour by way of Bank street around by the Octogon mill, as the bridge is unsafe for heavy traffic by the latter route. The county road superintendent, George Greer, was here and went over the detours with the council, recommending the Bank street road, before the King street bridge was taken down. Mr. Greer was asked by Reeve Wood to come here again on Monday and decided what change should be made in the interests of safety and of public convenience.

I.O.O.F. Holds Service.

Members of Millbrook Lodge I.O.O.F. No. 308, who motored to Port Perry on Sunday and joined Warriner Lodge I.O.O.F. No. 75, of that town in its annual parade to attend divine service were: Brothers P. I. Bentley, P.G.; W. E. Ball, P.G.; C. C. Garside, J. N. McGill, E. Morden.

Attendance was at the United Church, and there were approximately two hundred Oddfellows from People of District Hold Bee at Apsley United Church.

Those who took part in the renovating of Apsley United Church and the building of the fence were Mrs. Ogden, Mrs. William Hales, Mrs. William Earnshaw Sr., Mrs. John Tucker, Mrs. William Earnshaw Jr., Mrs. Frank McFadden, Mrs. Ella Tucker and Misses Bertha Earnshaw and Ella Brown, Rev. Mr. Ogden and Messrs. S. Carr, William Earnshaw, A. Downing, Herbert Tucker, D. Brown, Roy Brown, Russell Hales, Gordon Earnshaw, George Carr and B. Coones.

WIN PRIZES FOR GUESSING WEIGHT

Havelock People Come Close to Estimating Weight of Steers.

HAVELOCK, June 6.—Mrs. D. A. Forde and C. H. Roberts won the prizes given by A. Forde for guessing the weight of eight three-year-old steers which he purchased from Robert Gardner of Dummer Township last week. The largest steer weighed 1,200 pounds and the prizes were a five pound roast and the heart of this steer. Seven were put to pasture on J. Cochrane's farm and will be slaughtered as required for sale in Mr. Forde's butcher shop.

Mr. Forde's guess was 8,700 pounds, only 15 pounds over the correct weight which was 8,685 pounds. Mr. Roberts' guess was 8,649 pounds.

Personals.

Rev. T. J. O'Conor-Fenton of Norwood conducted the morning service in St. John's Anglican Church on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Tyler, Mrs. J. Massey and Mr. Russell Weaver of Consecon are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. R. Wrightly.

Rev. W. R. Archer and Mr. A. C. Denike attended the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church in Smith Falls last week.

MINOR REPAIRS AND ADDITIONS

Little New Building Being Done in Norwood This Year.

PARKS WELL KEPT.

NORWOOD, June 6.—That there is little building of consequence going on in Norwood or the surrounding district this spring was the opinion of several Norwood residents, among them W. C. Cuthbertson, assessor, when interviewed by The Examiner to-day. Beyond minor repairs to buildings already standing such as roofing or an addition such as a private garage, carpenters and contractors have gone further afield for their year's work.

Memorial Park.

The small but impressively beautiful Memorial park situated on the west side of the village is seen to advantage to-day with its freshly cropped grass and neatly trimmed terraces. Some time ago, there was discussed the idea of a row of trees as a background to the plot but whether the discussion will have any material result is problematical at the present time. The two lights placed on the large massive stone columns are kept burning throughout the day as well as night and impart an unusual effect.

The Norwood cemetery, located near the station has also been cleared up recently, the grass cut and numerous flowerbeds cultivated. Compared with those of many villages, the Norwood cemetery is a subject of pride to local citizens.

WEDDING BELLS

McPHEE—REA.

OMEMEE, June 6.—The marriage of Evelyn S. Rea, eldest daughter of Mrs. Rea and the late David Rea, of Omemee, to Dr. W. H. McPhee, of Omemee, formerly of Orillia, was solemnized in the Eaton Memorial Parsonage, Toronto, on March 2nd, 1928, by Rev. Trevor Davies.

OBITUARY

MISS KATHERINE DOAK.

STIRLING, June 6.—News was received by relatives here, on Tuesday of the death of Miss Kathleen Doak, in Toronto, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Doak, former residents of 4th Concession, Rawdon, and Stirling village.

The death is made sadder owing to the serious illness of her mother at the present time. The body will be brought to Stirling for interment on Wednesday afternoon.

H. LE BRUN & CO. STOCKS PASS INTO HANDS OF UNITED SELLING SYSTEM FOR LIQUIDATION

It became known this morning that a representative of United Selling System, merchandisers and adjusters, arrived in Peterborough to take charge of the liquidation of stocks and winding up of the affairs of this city's oldest and finest men's clothing and furnishings store, namely, H. Le Brun & Co., 396 George street.

The U. S. S. adjuster states that a crew of competent merchandisers will be employed to appraise and revalue every article in the stocks, and the store will be closed for this purpose Thursday and Friday of this week. All stocks will be reduced to prices so low that only enough money will be realized to pay the creditors.

After fifty-five years of unsullied reputation for style, quality, honesty and value, the liquidation of so popular a store will prove a sensation among men of Peterborough and surrounding country. The store will be closed Thursday and Friday. The public will be admitted and selling will begin Saturday, June 9th.—(Advt.)

CADET TRAINING IN SCHOOLS

not be a less demand for cadet training if those teachers were not paid by the Dominion Government, and to that the minister replied that he had never been a teacher but Miss Macphail herself ought to know.

Miss Macphail asked if there would speech on the matter, contending that since the minds of the children were moulded in the schools it was at that impressionable age when they received whatever germs of militarism might be instilled into them. She moved that the item be reduced by $499,999.

Enter Civil Life

Colonel Ralston remarked that Miss Macphail had the idea that in some way or another cadet training or physical training had a bad effect on the mentality of boys. There was a complete answer to this and it was that if military training was such as to teach boys and girls to enter a military career, why was it that the students of the Royal Military College "who obtained a full course in military training for the most part entered civil life?" Only ten per cent. of the R.M.C. students entered the army. It was also found that when the time came for this country to defend itself, 65 per cent of those who had entered the Royal Military College were ready and went overseas. The military training taught those young men to become good citizens and while much was being said of the natural resources of this country, it taught them that those things were good enough to defend. The strongest advocates of peace were those who had done their share of military training in their youth, they had not had their peaceful instincts stultified.

The minister was asked if he really believed the military training would be of value under modern conditions of warfare. Col. Ralston replied that the department was endeavoring not to do experimental work, but to train in the fundamental principles of warfare, which were as sound now as ever. Artillery of course, still played the same part in military tactics as before. When Miss Macphail's amendment was defeated the committee proceeded to pass rapidly the following items: Contingencies, $40,000; engineers' services, $500,000; general stores, $691,000; manufacturing establishments, $537,000; on-permanent militia, $2,316,000, and permanent force, $4,850,000.

Royal Military College.

There was some discussion on a vote of $375,000 for the Royal Military College. J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Winnipeg North Centre) mentioned that a proportion of the graduates of the college take commissions in the British Army. He wondered whether it was a wise thing to spend a very large sum of money in order that men should be trained for the British Army.

Col. Ralston replied, that over 90 per cent of the graduates remained in Canada, and the great majority of them were in civilian life.

This item carried, and also a vote of $215,000 for transport and freight. An appropriation of $2,723,000 for the naval service passed without discussion. This is an increase of $1,000,000 over last year's appropriation.

An item of $1,166,694 for the Royal Canadian Air Force prompted Mr. Woodsworth to ask why the civil air service should come under the department of national defence. Col. Ralston replied that all flying had started as a branch of the department of militia and defence. Subsequently it seemed wise to separate civil and military flying, and this had been done. It was true that most of the officials in the civil aviation branch were military men, but this was because it was impossible at present to obtain civilians. There was a great demand in Canada for airmen, said Col. Ralston. The department was making the transition from military to civil airmen in the civil aviation branch as rapidly as possible.

Immaculate but perspiration odour is no respecter of persons

To perspire is natural, every one does . . . one to two pints daily say the doctors . . . but perspiration need not be offensive, not while there's Lifebuoy Soap for face, hands and bath.

This delightful aid to a beautiful skin is more than an exquisite toilet soap; its mild, antiseptic lather cleanses and purifies the pores and keeps them sweet from bath to bath.

There's no price penalty, because Lifebuoy costs no more than the toilet soap you have been using.

The Long Look

ONE of life's greatest problems was solved when business men carried over into domestic life the "long look"—the practice of looking and planning ahead, which has proven the secret of every successful business enterprise.

The college days ahead, clearing off the mortgage on the home, comforts for the sunset years of life—all can be planned with definite assurance of happy consummation.

Such is the great contribution of modern life insurance! And London Life policies on the "reduced premium" idea are built for the purse of the average family man.

For example, a man age 30 can purchase $10,000 life insurance on the famous Jubilee plan for $3.52 a week (payable annually) and subject to reduction by dividends. Your premiums when reduced by dividends could never total the amount of this policy; yet all the while the cash value is steadily mounting and the protection is always there. Ask any of our representatives for particulars.

PHONE SYSTEM GROWS RAPIDLY

Board Being Extended To Care For 500 More Subscribers.

NEW 'PHONES USED.

Peterborough's telephone system has shown a phenomenal growth since the first of the year. Since January there has been an increase of over two hundred subscribers to the local office.

"A few years ago," W. C. Beamer, local manager, told The Examiner, "the city was surveyed and the growth in telephone service was estimated for the next twenty-four years. Besides this survey four-year surveys and estimates are made. The year 1928 was estimated as a year for a change, and the growth warranted it. Nearly $19,000 is being spent in rearranging and extending the Peterborough switchboard. The work provided for by this expenditure will ensure the central office equipment being sufficient to care for growth for the next two or three years. The rate of expansion, carefully surveyed, permits planning in advance of the requirements so that applicants for service will not be incommoded by delays due to insufficient provision for growth."

Mr. Beamer also told The Examiner that these surveys were necessary to ensure an economical operation of the service. Such expenditure as is being made in Peterborough means if it were not necessary and had been rushed into headlong, and a lack of subscribers made the increased accommodation useless, the extra equipment would have to be carried at any cost. Once a switchboard is installed, it remains. It is not moveable, like factory machinery, and is useless unless, when connected, it really is needed.

Beside the increase in equipment to accommodate five hundred more lines, a rearrangement of the existing equipment will be made to assure faster service. The new "Thank You" system now familiar to all subscribers, which is used by Central instead of the repetition of the number as formerly, has been so successful and satisfactory to telephone subscribers that to make full use of this improvement a change in the existing equipment is to be made which, when completed and combined with the new response by Central to your number, will further increase the speed of the service.

The work in making these changes will require the work of several men for at least three months, when the Peterborough office will be well prepared to cope with the demands for service.

A new telephone is making its appearance in Peterborough also. That is the hand telephone or the cradle type, resembling somewhat the European type of telephone. But in the foreign type it is necessary to hold a button all the while one is using the telephone. This has been eliminated in the Canadian type. The receiver and mouthpiece are in one piece, which enables the user to talk directly into the mouthpiece without using both hands or leaning over in an uncomfortable position, leaving one hand free to take such notes as may be required.

The high standards set by the Bell Company did not allow the European type to be used at first, as it did not prove adequate for the average user. Realizing that this type was more suitable and more convenient, especially for office work, the company devoted years of experiment to the perfection of it. Now a satisfactory type has been developed, and is in great demand. So great is the demand that it cannot be filled. Peterborough is lucky in getting a few in the allotment.

The Canadian type is more graceful in appearance and more sturdy in build than its European cousin. Instead of a slim handle with a projecting mouthpiece and receiver in either end, these are moulded in a graceful cradle which, when lifted from its base, automatically connects the telephone with Central. Telephones of this type have been installed in several places. Two of those noticed were in Mr. Beamer's office and in the office of J. I. Allen in the Prudential Insurance Company offices.

Peterborough is progressing both in the number and type of telephone being used.

MANY WOMEN VICTIMIZED

WRONG ROBIN HOOD

MONTREAL, Que., June 6 (CP).—Operating a supposed employment agency for women, and being caught by the police, a man appeared before Judge Enright on five charges of victimizing women, and got a stiff sentence.

"Robin Hood used to rob the rich and give to the poor," Judge Enright remarked; "You reverse the process and keep the money. You have robbed poor, unfortunate women who were seeking work and I can think of nothing more contemptible."

According to the complainants, their names were obtained from a legitimate employment agency and they were then approached with offers to obtain work for them as stewardesses aboard lake steamers.

Another man, also sentenced to a year with hard labor "specialized" in nurses seeking positions. He watched the female "want-ads" in the newspapers and got into communication with them in this way. Introducing himself as an "inspector" for the Royal Victoria Hospital, he offered, on payment of $10, to obtain posts for them at that institution. When they presented themselves there on the following day they found that he had no connection with the hospital and was not known there.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1928.

WEDNESDAY HALF-HOLIDAYS.

Peterborough's stores observed to-day the inauguration of Wednesday half-holidays.

The change from Thursday to Wednesday and the extension of the half-holiday system to include June as well as July and August is favored by the majority of merchants, and was approved by a vote of the Retail Merchants' Association held yesterday.

The selection of Wednesday puts Peterborough in line with other Eastern Ontario municipalities, and is welcome not only for that fact but because a mid-week holiday is preferable to one closer to Saturday.

The weekly half-holiday during the three summer months will be a boon to store staffs and to the merchants themselves, and judging by the experience of merchants in other cities, will have in the long run no appreciable effect upon business.

Business men and their employees will be all the better off for a few hours away from the weekly grind during the summer.

THE SENATE STEPS IN.

The Senate has killed the bill passed by the House of Commons making a change in the system of naturalization in Canada, and this is one occasion at least when the Upper Chamber has acted in accordance with public opinion.

The measure, which proposed to put the granting of naturalization certificates in the hands of the Secretary of State instead of leaving the proceedings in charge of the judges, was viewed with some alarm when presented in the Commons, and there is little doubt that had it not been introduced as a Government measure it would have been rejected, inasmuch as the introduction of a system by which the Government could create citizens or reject applications as it saw fit was regarded as rather a dangerous system.

The possibilities of such a plan when an election is being held are obvious.

The Senate has done well to kill the measure.

The existing system by which foreign residents of Canada who desire to become citizens make their appearance before a county judge and are examined by him is preferable to the method proposed, and the whole has worked out excellently.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

The City Council seems to find it difficult to arrive at anything like unanimity in regard to the best health policy for Peterborough.

It is perhaps inevitable that there should be a difference of opinion among the Aldermen, just as there is a difference of opinion among those outside the Council on this question.

At the same time it will do no harm perhaps to call attention to the fact that in the long run the most efficient health department is the cheapest, and that while chances may be taken in almost every other municipal activity, it never pays to take chances when the health of the community is at stake.

In short, this whole question of public health deserves deeper and more close attention than it has been given.

As a community we have been more or less content to drift along, satisfied, so long as no serious outbreak of disease materialized, that we have been doing all that is necessary to protect our citizens.

It is a striking commentary upon our intelligence that we have paid far less attention to health matters than we have to paving or bridge-building, or other activities that cannot possibly effect us so much as would an epidemic.

Public health deserves more consideration than it has up to the present received.

FIGHTING FOR THE PEOPLE.

Surely it must be evident, even to those front benchers on both sides of the House who seem so eager to serve a privately-owned public service monopoly and so lethargic in defending the interests of the people, that members of Parliament who try to steam-roller the Bell Telephone Company bill through the House without safeguarding the public against exploitation will have a difficult task to convince their constituents of the straightforwardness of their attitude.

The people are watching this battle of private grab versus public good in Parliament, and members who put the welfare of a private enterprise before the protection of their constituents are going to find themselves in a very nasty position.

It may be necessary that the capitalization of the Bell Telephone Company should be increased, and there is no serious objection to such an increase being authorized, but why in the name of common sense should there be any hesitancy among the elected representatives of the people about insisting that before the Bell Telephone Company is given this authority the interests of the public should be protected?

Remembering that this private organization has a monopoly in a public service and its melon-cutting must be done at the expense of the company's customers, the men who have been entrusted with the responsibility of handling the affairs of the public will be derelict in their duty if they do not see to it that the welfare of the people is safeguarded.

Public opinion is alive to the situation; the people realize that the Geary bill, which would allow the affairs of the Bell's subsidiary, the Northern Electric Company, to be investigated by the Board of Railway Commissioners, should be passed before the Bell bill goes through, and are impatient at the red tape which is delaying consideration of the Geary measure.

Fortunately for the public, men of all parties have ceased to look to their front benches for leadership in this fight.

"The phalanx of public-spirited members—men of all parties and groups who are the henchmen of no interests other than those they were elected to support and who are seeking to give their constituents service—may be depended upon to continue the fight. They are adding to their ranks in the House and have the tremendous force of aroused public opinion behind them in the country. They are tearing the camouflage—the mask of pretense—from the front-benchers on both sides; from the practical, clever, sophisticated party managers who revel in their ability to play, at one and the same time, WITH the People and FOR the Interests—words for the one; acts for the others. They are forcing a show-down in the open."

WHAT SHALL WE DO ABOUT OUR AMBASSADORS?

This business of being a nation is going to cause us a confounded lot of trouble. We can see it coming. In the old days, when we got along with a dingy office on Victoria street in London and with nothing at all in Washington or Paris or Tokio, there was one pestilence we were free of. We didn't have to worry about diplomatists. The nearest we got to that sort of thing, precedence and the like, was when a dinner was given for somebody at Rideau Hall, and some religious creed, with true Christian spirit, got into a towering rage because the representative of some other creed was nearer the head of the table than its own. That, however, soon passed. There would be an editorial in the Orange Sentinel, and another in the Catholic Register, but after poor Joe Pope, rest his soul, issued a solemn communique about it, we all settled down to the lesser subject of patronage. We knew more about that, anyway.

* * * *

Now it's different. Having been made a nation at least fifty times in the past five years, and going about with a status chip on our shoulders, we've got to worrying about diplomacy. Now there's nothing in the world that worries a democrat quite as much as diplomacy. Your real democrat, in fact, has a shrewd suspicion that diplomatists are the source of all evil. There was once a sturdy Ulsterman who said that the Pope of Rome might be a very good man, for all he knew, but that they had a very poor opinion of him in Portadown. It's pretty much that way with the diplomatists. They may be charming fellows, and good, and all that, but if you are going to be a real democrat you've got to suspect them. It was that sort of thing, we believe, that produced what came to be known as American "shirt-sleeve" diplomacy. They wanted their diplomatists to be different.

* * * *

All of which is a clumsy sort of introduction to what we want to say, which is this: that we can see ourselves fated for an appalling lot of argument about the character of our diplomatists. The dispute, in fact, has begun already. Only last week, our good friend and fellow-craftsman, Senator John McLennan, took up eleven columns of the Senate Hansard trying to tell the Government and the country how diplomatists should be made to behave. The Senator, we rather judged, has a nervous feeling that the ambassadors we send abroad may think the Alps are men instead of mountains, that the Entente Cordiale is a drink, and that their technique of deportment may not come up to the standards of Mrs. Emily Post.

* * * *

Then there was the complaint of Mr. Stevens. Harry (as a good democrat he will pardon the familiarity) was over in London recently, and called at Canada House. According to his story, indignantly told to the House the other day, he had a terrible time getting past the footmen. First of all he was met by a man who looked like a Knight of Pythias, and all this fellow could do for him was to pass his card on to another chap who looked more like a Knight of Pythias; the result being that by the time Harry's card reached a fellow at the end of the hall who looked like an officer of the Polish army—well, both his morning and temper were lost.

Here, we can plainly see, is the foundation of a mighty controversy. Are our diplomatists, when we send them abroad, going to be bluff fellows who will tell it to the foreigners straight—and through interpreters? Or are they going to be sleek gentlemen, unerring in picking the right spoon, and who will wear spats, one-button coats, and the inevitable gardenia?

* * * *

It being the duty of all to take a stand, let us say at once, and without hedging, that we're for spats and gardenias. Diplomacy, after all, is not a profession. It is a fine art. A good hander-of-tea-to-a-Duchess often fits neatly into a crisis where an abler man who made a noise with his soup would be hopelessly inadequate. He is, to begin with, likely to know two or three languages, including his own; and in the present fallen state of the world a talent for saying musical nothings to the wife of a Foreign Minister may actually be of the most practical service with the most august and dominant Power. If any of our he-men doubt this, then we advise them to go up to the Parliamentary Library and get Mr. Burrell to oblige them with a load of memoirs by diplomatists. We have neglected our work and family as much as any man reading such books, but they at least convinced us that most treaties, wars, compacts, covenants and intrigues of all sorts originate in the atmosphere of teas, tennis and dinners. A real ambassador has simply got to have "It."

* * * *

Not that we care for gold braid. Gold braid, as we see it, is more for American fraternal conventions and for hotel porters than for diplomatists. It really has nothing to do with the superculture or exotic spirit or languorous arts that are essential to diplomacy. The only time we recall having a pronounced inferiority complex was when we suddenly found ourselves one day in the presence of the head porter at Claridge's, in London. Doc. Tolmie, who was with us, said that nobody but a hero would dare offer such a personage a tip, and that all he wanted to see in England after that was the High Admiral of the Channel Fleet. It's the memory of this, and nothing else, that makes us sympathize with Harry Stevens.

* * * *

But we don't want to conclude this article on a note of levity. For the matter is really a grave one. When Parliament meets next session, Charley Stewart, who was at the League last year, and Peter Heenan, who is at it this year, should take the House and country into their confidence and tell them just what it means to walk correctly across a ballroom floor in Geneva. Neither Peter nor Charley has the appearance of having been brought up under glass; but if our democrats are going to start insisting that we want something or somebody rougher than they, then it behooves those of us who believe in the white spats and the cutaways and the gardenias to put on our armor.

STREET TRANSPORTATION.

Dear Mr. Editor,—As one who lives far enough from the centre of the city to make it necessary, especially at the noon hour, to use a conveyance of some kind, either street car or bus, I would like to call the attention of the City Council, and all others interested, to the importance of leaving the street car tracks in the position in which they are at present, with the possible exception of Park Street North and Albert Street.

Very many people who formerly used the street cars would welcome their return with open arms, and are anything but satisfied with the bus service, and if the City Council would by bonus, or otherwise, spend as much money to keep a street railway system running as it has cost them to repair the roads and keep them in condition for the busses to run on, we could easily have a system of good one-man cars with a ten-minute service and a five-cent fare. I have been told that certain small cities in the United States who have been using busses for some years are coming back to street cars, and certainly there is need of better than a twenty-minute service.

Would like to hear expressions of some of those who live long distances from their work as to preference of street cars or busses. I certainly think the Council would be well advised to pave between the rails on Water Street North, but by all means leave the rails there, as a good many people are of the opinion that street cars will "come back."

In reference to the parking by-law, does it not seem that by permitting angle parking on one side only of certain streets and with no parking within certain distances from corners, hydrants, lanes, etc., that the problem is still going to be very complicated. My idea would be to allow parallel parking on these streets with a time limit, and by using both sides for parallel parking, the streets would not be narrowed as much as they appear to be with angle parking.

May say I am also in favor of using traffic lights at George and Charlotte Streets at all hours.—Yours for anything to help Peterboro, OBSERVER.

The Question Box

J.E.—Q.: What is wrong with Peterborough?

A.—Nothing except the mental attitude of the people who ask such questions. Peterborough is ideally situated in many ways; it has the diversified industries upon which true prosperity is based; it does not fluctuate with every changing wind of the stock market and individual whim; and it is an ideal home town. Religious disturbances are unknown and political wrangles do not break in to disrupt the business life of the city. If everyone would admit these things and buckle down to boost the city, then we should see Peterborough grow. It is axiomatic that a city cannot rise above the vision its people hold for it.

C. S. Q.—Why don't you publish all names and particulars of court cases?

A.—Because The Examiner endeavors to be a newspaper with a heart. Sometimes it makes mistakes on both sides, but more often the policy is upheld by popular opinion. Some court cases, in which the rights or safety of the people are affected, will not be suppressed for anyone, high or low—such as speeding on the streets, driving a car while intoxicated, etc. But family rows, cases affecting girls and young men who have a chance to come back, are not given the publicity that might blast the young people's chances or bring the family into disrepute without serving any public good.

S. G. Q.—How long has Peterborough had a filtration plant?

A.—Since March, 1921.

J. F. Q.—Is bobbing the hair really new?

A.—No. The Normans introduced the bob into England centuries ago. Since then the fashion has swung from one extreme to another.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, June 6.—Buyers yesterday were making a determined effort to get prices down from present high levels, while sellers were just as obstinately standing out for no change. The result was almost a deadlock in the early hours for trading, except for butchers cows, calves and lambs, these moving out freely at steady to firmer prices. A rather heavy carry over of heavy steers and medium weight butcher steers and heifers favored buyers in their fight for lower prices, but at noon hour it was still an uncertain market, with just a probability that, to effect a clean up for the week, some price recessions may have to be made.

Early transactions showed cows steady, lambs firmer at 19c to 20c per lb., and calves about 50c higher at $15 tops. Fancy grade steers and heifers steady. Hogs steady.

Choice fat cows in demand at $7.60 to $9.

Good choice butcher bulls, steady, $8 to $8.50.

Calves steady at $14 to $15.

Spring lambs sold by the pound weight at 19c to 20c. Sheep yearling, wool, $8 to $9; clipped, $5 to $6.

Stockers and feeders, active demand, with small supplies; stocker steers, $8 to $9; short keep steers, $9 to $9.50.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., June 6 (Canadian Press).—There was some demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba Spring wheat here yesterday and as local exporters were in a position to accept some of the orders on the break in prices at Winnipeg, a moderate amount of business was done. In addition the inquiry for wheat was better on spot and sales of over 100,000 bushels of No. 3 Northern were made at ½c per bushel over the Winnipeg July option, c.i.f. Montreal, but the export trade in coarse grains was very slow.

Owing to the pronounced weakness in oats futures at Winnipeg a weaker feeling prevailed in the local trade, and dealers reduced prices two cents per bushel.

In sympathy with the break in prices for contract grades of wheat at Winnipeg an easier feeling prevailed in the local market for Spring wheat grades of flour, but there was no actual change in values. A moderate amount of business was worked with English importers, but the domestic trade was quiet. The demand for Winter wheat flour was dull but the undertone to the market was steady.

The feature of the millfeed trade was the weaker feeling that developed and prices were reduced two dollars per ton. This was attributed to the lull in the demand and the more liberal supplies available. The demand for rolled oats was quiet but values were unchanged.

There was no actual change in the local egg situation, prices being steady with supplies ample for all requirements. There was some demand from dealers and packers for car lots and sales of Ontario extras were made at 33c, firsts at 31c, and second at 26c per dozen, f.o.b. shipping points in export cases, while British Columbia shippers offered extras at 31c, and firsts at 27½c per dozen f.o.b. A fair trade was done in a jobbing way. The receipts were 3,949 cases.

Owing to the continued liberal offerings of potatoes from country shippers and the fair stocks on track here a weaker feeling developed and prices scored a decline of 10c to 15c per bag. At this reduction there was a steady demand from local buyers for supplies to meet immediate wants and sales of car lots of Quebec varieties were made at 65c per bag of 90 lbs. in bulk; New Brunswick Green Mountains at 70c to 75c per bag of 90 lbs. in bulk, and New Brunswick White potatoes at 75c per bag of 90 lbs. in bulk, ex-track.

There was no change in the condition of the market for imported beans, prices being steady with a moderate amount of business passing in car lots of choice white hand-picked grades at $3.90 per bushel, ex-track, and in broken lots at $4 per bushel, ex-store.

Owing to the continued liberal supplies of butter coming forward and the absence of any important demand at present the weakness of the market was more pronounced and prices scored a further decline of ¾ to ½c per lb. The volume of business was small, the demand being principally for broken lots to meet actual wants. The receipts were 126 packages.

On the local curb market producers offered 1,500 packages of creamery butter for which 33½ to 33¾c per lb. was paid for No. 1 pasteurized, 32½ to 32¾c per lb. for No. 2, and 32¼c to 31¾ per lb. for No. 2 delivered here.

The demand from English importers for cheese was somewhat disappointing at the advance in prices asked, and in consequence the volume of business in this direction was smaller than generally expected, but on the other hand there was a steady demand from spot buyers for supplies and a fair trade was done. The undertone to the market was firm. The receipts were 6,392 boxes.

The offerings of cheese by factorymen on the local curb market amounted to 1,000 boxes and the settling price for Eastern No. 1 white and colored was 18¼c per lb.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, June 6 (Canadian Press).—In a semi-demoralized market, wheat prices collapsed yesterday on account of partial relief from widespread drought Northwest. General urgent selling and a dearth of buying carried the market downward almost continuously from start to finish.

Closing quotations on wheta were weak at about the lowest point reached, 4¾ to 5¼ cents a bushel under Monday's latest figures. Corn closed ¾ to 1⅛ cent down; oats ¾ to 1¼ cents off, and provisions varying from 5 cents setback to a rise of 10 cents.

Word that some Canadian wheat territory had received rain in torrents and that moisture was copious elsewhere in the Spring wheat belt north of the International line put values on the down grade as soon as the market opened. No rain of importance was reported south of the Canadian boundary, but the official forecast pointed to showers for various sections of the region that has been parched. Under such circumstances, the majority of traders had little patience with continued advices of crop damage which poured in from some districts.

Augmenting the pressure to selling was the fact that prices at Liverpool had not only failed to follow Monday's advances on this side of the Atlantic but had shown unexpected downturns yesterday. Moreover, numerous standing orders to sell out and stop losses were forced into action here at critical times, and this accelerated the downward swing of the market. Another bearish factor was an apparent halt in export demand, with handlers asserting that as yet very little new crop domestic wheat has been yet sold abroad this season.

Corn and oats sympathized with wheat weakness. Good rains over a large part of the principal corn and oats producing areas were also a bearish factor.

Provisions showed firmness early, but afterward reflected the setbacks in the value of grain.

Speaking of Operations

There are two kinds of operating costs in connection with a car—the cost of operating it yourself and the cost of having it operated upon by the repair man. 75% of these repair "operations" that cost motorists hundreds of thousands of dollars each year, are usually due to one cause: neglected or faulty lubrication—the failure of some oil to do its duty.

In action, only a thin film of lubricating oil safeguards your motor from destructive heat and friction. And that oil itself has to endure continuous and terrific punishment. If it fails to stand up—if it breaks or burns—at once the hot, whirling, sliding surfaces of your motor begin to chafe against each other. Friction does its destructive work and repairs follow.

To produce an oil that would have the greatest possible resistance to engine heat, Tide Water technologists experimented for years with many different oils and oil films. Every kind of crude oil was tried; every known refining method. Finally, in Veedol they perfected an oil that gives the "film of protection"—thin as tissue, smooth as silk, tough as steel.

The correct oil for the new type motors—the best for any motor—is the new improved super heat-resisting Veedol. It has been reformulated and adapted to high-compression motors and affords the extra protection your motor requires. Heavier, tougher, longer-lived than ever, Veedol is the "lightingest" oil that ever tamed heat. Have your crankcase filled with the new Veedol and let this heat resisting oil give your motor the extra protection it requires.

The World's Highest Paid Short Story Writer

Author of "Humoresque", "A President Is Born"

She was voluble, illiterate, beautiful. She was impudent, affectionate, naughty. She had neither reverence nor poise nor presence.

She was untamed.

She was one of those rare authentic beauties that can sometimes seem to blossom out of strange backgrounds.

FOR a long time, the Donalds had disturbed young Ostenso. On the records of The Social Workers Organization, the history of the Donalds was a varied one. Their domestic altercations had them frequently under the surveillance of the court and more or less constantly under the paternal eye of the welfare society in which young Ostenso was an active member.

Indeed, he was more than that. At an early age, long before he was to inherit the Ostenso millions, his equipment and preference for social service began to manifest itself. He was a born sociologist if ever there was one. It was with some trepidation that the members of the Ostenso family regarded the day when young Hamilton Ostenso would come into his money. Their worst fears were realized.

Ostenso's field work in social service was merely a part of his preparation for his life work. There were already on his desk blue prints of what was to be one of the most startlingly modern and efficient institutions of social philanthropy that had ever been attempted.

IT was during his regime in The Social Workers Organization in lower New York that the Donald case came more and more to pass disturbingly before his mind's eye. Mat Donald was a switchman in the employ of a street railway company. A big, red-haired fellow of about thirty-six, with the heft to him of a young bull and a wide, blue-eyed, good-looking face across which the moods danced more rapidly than was good for his equilibrium. That was the trouble. That was probably the answer as to why the Donalds were so constantly airing their domestic infelicities.

He was married to a girl named Sadie. She was one of those rare authentic beauties that can sometimes seem to blossom out of strange backgrounds. Sadie had blossomed out of the wrapping department of an East-Side artificial flower concern.

She was voluble, illiterate, beautiful. She was impudent, affectionate, naughty. She wore her titian hair pulled back off her smooth white brow with a total disregard for effect and then, perversely enough, her naturally pretty face sprang out with the lovely placidity of a nun's. She had neither reverence nor poise nor presence. She was as untamed, in her way, as Donald.

NOT infrequently one of her violet-colored eyes was apt to be surrounded by a black and blue area of discoloration. That was when one of the altercations that had come to be the dread of The Social Workers Organization became a matter that transcended the confines of the little flat which the Donalds occupied in the rear of a model tenement.

Once young Ostenso could have sworn that, as he mounted the stairs of their home, he heard screams and the sound of Donald beating his Sadie. This they both denied when he entered.

On another occasion, when Sadie and Donald had been hauled to court for lacerating the peace of the neighborhood, the tear-stained, impudent little imp of a wife did openly indict Donald and admit that he beat her frequently.

A disgusted judge sentenced him to thirty days and costs, during which period he lost his job. It took the cooperation of Ostenso to get him another after he had emerged sheepish and repentant from his brief period of imprisonment.

It was with a feeling of relief, however, that Ostenso observed the young pair resume life together on a fresh basis, because Donald, with the cloud of the law still upon him, knew only too well the penalties of a second commitment.

FOR weeks, the home life of the Donalds followed along with a placidity that somehow seemed ominous. Passing Sadie on the street one day, Ostenso observed a long cut above her left eye, which she explained as an accident due to a fall from a ladder.

Making his rounds one evening, Ostenso again could have sworn he heard a shriek in the Donald flat. When he entered, Donald was smoking his pipe and Sadie frilling a bit of ribbon which she was sewing about the neck of a dress.

Time and time again the little elfish face of Sadie with the wide-apart childish eyes and the moist-looking lips and the habit her little chin had of trembling like a child's before it is going to cry, flashed before young Ostenso. She was too beautiful and too unutterably appealing to be caught in the hopeless backwash of what was sure to be her life with Donald. And yet, her little game was so obvious. So pitiful. Sadie was putting up with the abuse of Donald because she knew that his next commitment would mean a matter of years. The struggle would be too hard for her alone.

ONE night, to his surprise, even though he was forever half expecting it, there crept up to his apartment, where she had come once before on a similar errand of terror, the battered little figure of Sadie Donald. This time, there was an open wound clear down the smooth cheek of the girl and her lip was bleeding.

With a sense of outrage, disgust and the kind of anger that he had never before experienced, Ostenso washed out her wounds and then finally, when he could not stop the bleeding, called in a physician who took a stitch along the lovely, smooth pallor of Sadie's cheek.

It was agreed that night while Sadie sobbed bitter sanction to Ostenso's plans, that things had come to their final pass between her and her husband.

For two hours, as she sat in Ostenso's apartment, they mapped out her future.

Before midnight, Ostenso had arranged by telephone for Sadie to spend the night at the home of a woman relative of his who occupied an enormous stone house in Gramercy Park. He took her there himself in his car, wrapping her body, which seemed so pathetically slim and broken to him, in one of his topcoats.

FOR the rest of that night, after Sadie was safely tucked into a lovely early American bed in the home of his relative, Ostenso sat in front of the fireplace, a prey to the strangest thoughts that had ever been permitted to walk across his mind. Strange, because up to this time, Ostenso had not allowed himself to think or face the truth.

Ostenso was in love. Sitting there throughout that night, he boldly planned the future. Once he could succeed in freeing her of the legal ties that held her to Donald, Sadie was so magnificently worth conferring of all the advantages he could pile upon her. Sadie had a quick and easy mind. A year's training under the proper tutelage would transform her. She had beauty, personality and charm. Ostenso was going to develop these given qualities into the fine kind of maturity that would equip her for her position as his wife.

OSTENSO was thrilled to the soul. When he told Sadie, as she sat next to him on the divan the next day, his plans for their future, he thought he had never beheld anything so appealing and so pathetically pure as the eyes of wonderment she turned upon him. It seemed to Ostenso, who was head over heels in love, that he walked upon air. Yet his sense of honor forbade him the slightest encroachment beyond the formalities that her situation created.

Donald must be dealt with. It was to that end that Ostenso arranged a conference between Sadie's husband, himself and his lawyers, to take place in his office the following day.

All very well except for one condition with which Ostenso had failed to reckon.

When Ostenso called around the following morning at the large house of his relative to escort Sadie for a walk in the park, and acquaint her with these procedures, he discovered to his amazement that the early American bed had not been occupied.

Sadie had apparently crept out of the house shortly after she had entered it at midnight. With panic upon him, Ostenso's first dash was for the flat of Donald. Had Donald abducted her? Had he forced entrance? What could have happened?

What had happened was that Sadie had gone back home.

HE found them arm in arm, Sadie and Donald, sitting in the squalor and the sordidness of the little back room they called home. The long scar on Sadie's cheek was in the act of being kissed passionately by Donald. So were the tears along her lovely eyes.

When Ostenso peered in, she was in the reciprocal act of whispering soothing and endearing nothings to Donald; she was sobbing her joy and relief at homecoming.

VOCAL RECITAL MOST PLEASING

Mrs. Fred Free and Miss Margaret Dickson Sing in Splendid Voice.

VARIED PROGRAM.

(By Jeanette).

A large and appreciative audience listened last night to a very interesting vocal recital given in the hall of the Conservatory of Music by Mrs. Fred Free, contralto, of Campbellford, and Miss Margaret Dickson, soprano, of Peterborough. The two singers are sisters, but their voices are of different type, and the recital was made especially entertaining by a comparison of the contrasting tones. Both are pupils of Dorothy Allan Park and exhibited a high degree of careful attention to good training in the manner in which they presented a very ambitious program. The majority of the songs were in English, but Miss Dickson also sang in German, Italian and French and Mrs. Free in German, and the compositions were, without exception, of a difficult and exacting type. A great deal of arduous preparation was manifestly necessary before a program of this calibre could be presented in the thoroughly satisfactory manner which distinguished it. The audience was very appreciative of the efforts of the two singers, and both received a large number of beautiful floral tributes. Their teacher, Mrs. Park, and their accompanist, Miss Agnes Logan, who provided a very satisfying pianoforte accompaniment for the vocal numbers, also received bouquets of flowers. A lovely setting for the stage was carried out with quantities of mauve and white lilacs.

Applause was general for each number in the vocal groups, with reiterated enthusiastic appreciation for the final trio of songs given in turn by each singer, both responding with dainty encores. Mrs. Free, possessor of an organ-like contralto voice of great depth and power in its lower register and sweet timbre in the upper tones, was possibly at her best in Henschel's "Morning Hymn," Schumann's deliberately worded composition, "I Blame Thee Not," and the resonant vibrancy of Del Riego's "Sink, Sink, Red Sun." The aria from "Samson et Dalila," entitled "Softly Awakes My Heart," in which the charmer seeks more strongly to enslave her victim, was dramatically rendered, and Sanderson's "Glory of the Sea" was another deep-toned, sonorous number that was remarkably effective.

Mrs. Free's program also included "How Shall I Sing that Majesty?" "Die Mainacht" (May Night), two compositions from songs by Elizabeth Barrett Browning, entitled "Sabbath Morning at Sea" and "How Do I Love Thee?" a song of travel by Robert Louis Stevenson; "The Roadside Fire" and James Thomson's "Song of Thanksgiving."

Miss Dickson's program appeared more exacting, on account of the songs in foreign tongue which colored it. In exceptionally fine voice last night, this singer was triumphant in every number and exhibited a quality of bird-like sweetness and coloratura range in her singing that even her constant hearers must have found rather remarkable. It is a voice of very high, but sweet, type, with a fine control to the crystalline tones and a ringing, flute-like timbre. Haydn's aria, "With Verdure Clad," from "The Creation," and Bishop's "Bid Me Discourse," were examples of the sort of portamento music in which a voice of this type excels, the sorrowful cry, "Visi d'Arte" of Tosca was dramatically interpreted and the concluding song, "Villanelle," was a remarkably successful demonstration of ease in the rendition of exacting, high-pitched music, with lovely color in the half voice used for the trilling cadenzas of bird-like, floating tone.

Miss Dickson also sang Schumann's "Du Bist die Ruh," Liszt's "Loreley," the aria, "Batti! Batti!" from Mozart's "Don Giovanni," "Solveig's Song," "The Little Fish's Song" from Lermontoff's poem, an aria from "La Boheme," entitled "Si Mi chiamano Mimi," and "Le Cri des Eaux."

In duet, the two fine voices were heard to much advantage in the dainty Flower Song from "Madam Butterfly."

P.C.I. TEACHERS ARE PRAISED

was accepted on a 4-3 vote, Messrs. Strickland, Reid and Turner voting against it.

J. F. Strickland believed that the people of S.S. No. 3, Smith, are receiving now all the consideration to which they are entitled when they are getting accommodation at 80 per cent. of the cost of each pupil to the city.

Mrs. Morris agreed with this on principle but thought that it was found money, as there is no over-crowding in the schools affected, and that the decrease should be made.

The sixty pupils are scattered through eighteen rooms, with no more than five in a room.

Wants Extra Nurse.

Dr. A. W. McPherson submitted his report showing 329 children examined and 79 defect slips sent out.

He recommended that the Board engage a second nurse in view of the great increase in preventative work which, he says, results in neglect of the follow-up work.

Dr. McPherson appeared in support of his recommendation and pointed out the expansion which had taken place in school health work in the eight or ten years since he 'became school medical officer. All of this was beneficial to the health of the children. He recounted the routine work performed by the nurse, much of it of a clerical nature, in addition to her examination of pupils and her follow-up work in the homes. Recently, work of a preventative nature has been undertaken, largely in connection with contagious diseases, of which a great deal has fallen on the nurse. The adding of the Schick test and diphtheria inoculation has meant a great deal of work, and 2000 have been treated.

The follow-up work is of great importance, said Dr. McPherson, as many of the defect slips are ignored.

She visits the homes in an endeavor to counteract ignorance or carelessness on the part of the parents and try to bring about an improvement.

The Supervision Committee will confer with Dr. McPherson and report at the July meeting.

Dr. J. C. Green, school dental officer, reported on the survey at the Central School. There were 485 examined and 185 cavities were found in permanent teeth. Fifty-seven permanent teeth needed extraction and 59.6 per cent. of the pupils were found with teeth OK.

Miss Jory, school nurse, reported 267 pupils examined and 17 excluded for colds and rash. None had been found unclean.

The attendance report follows:

Music Teaching.

Capt. J. E. Atkinson, director of the Canadian Bureau for the advancement of music, addressed the Board on the matter of school classes in music. The proposition is to have the Board grant the use of a room with a piano for an hour and a half after four for two nights a week. There would be no expense to the Board and he felt that a great many pupils would get training under teachers of a class they could not otherwise afford. He wished the Board to make some statement so that any teachers wishing to take up the plan might attend a series of lessons in group teaching in Toronto next month.

The Orange Orange Celebration committee was given permission to use the ground in front of the Collegiate for parade formation purposes July 12.

FAMILY UNITED BY AN OLD QUILT

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 6 (CP).—By means of an old quilt shown at The Olde Tyme Quilt Show in British Columbia, arranged by the Provincial Women's Institute, a mother and daughter were united," writes Charlotte Gordon.

A woman studying the quilts, suddenly exclaimed: "That quilt was made by my mother. It is an old family quilt." The tears ran down her cheeks. She had been lost to her family for many years. Yet mother and daughter were living in Vancouver.

A domineering male, followed by a meek, sad-eyed wife, viewed the 300 quilts on display. Coming upon a fine specimen of woven coverlet, the worthy man raised his voice to declare: "That was done by my first wife. A fine, industrious woman was my first wife. She never wasted her time." And the sweet-faced partner of the present nodded approval.

The oldest silk quilt on exhibition, in a star pattern, was made a hundred years ago. A "crazy quilt" shown, was made during the Riel rebellion by the grandmother of Mrs. Milton Carter of Vancouver. One quilt of this style was made from the neckties of a great grandmother's "beaux." It was large and had hundreds of different distinct pieces sewn in. This great grandmother was as popular as our own beloved flappers, if each piece represented a new "beau."

SEYMOUR COURT HEARS APPEALS

Several Changes Made in Assessments, While Others Are Confirmed.

SECOND SITTING NEEDED.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 6.— Seymour council met in the Ferris block yesterday as a Court of Revision to adjust matters relative to taxation and properties in the township In two cases the assessment rate was lowered. Several transfers of property were brought to the attention of the court and the ownership of several dogs was established. Owing to the fact that the township clerk is seriously ill, some of the appeal notices had not been properly filed and the appeals were not in order. In order that the matters such as these might not have to be laid over for another year, the court did not consider its duty finished but adjurned till Tuesday, July 3.

Charles Keir asked that the assessment on his ten acres in the township be reduced. He suggested that it be cut in half, from $400 to $200. The assessment notice read that the property was asssessed as a garden lot, but he had never used it as such. It was only used as pasture land. The court pointed out that the property was near the town and that the rate would be higher than further in the country. After considering the fact that other properties adjacent to Keir's were assessed for a somewhat lower figure, the court granted a seventy-five dollar decrease in the amount, bringing the assessment down to $325.

An appeal from William Watson was considered irregular since no notice had been filed. John Martin's assessment was reduced by $200. The transfer of the Allan Watson property to L. A. Burbank was entered on the roll. The transfer of property from J. McAvella to William Watson was also formally entered. The John Connelly property was transferred to the name of Martin Lee. The ownership of two dogs was changed from the James Tinnie property to the Martin property.

There being no further appeals to be heard, the court adjourned at 11.30 to resume its sitting again at 1.00 p.m. Tuesday, July 3.

OMEMEE PASTOR AT CONFERENCE

Four Elders Conduct Services at Trinity United Church.

OMEMEE, June 6. — In the absence of Rev. E. W. Rowland, who is attending Conference in Smith's Falls, the morning service on Sunday was in charge of four elders of Trinity Church. H. Lamb conducted the service, assisted by T. C. Ivory in the reading of the lesson, and P. Race, who offered prayer. F. G. Sandy gave the address, which was much enjoyed, taking his text from John 10, 10: "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly." The choir was unusually small in numbers, but their music was much appreciated.

How words do blind us

WHAT barriers they set before us. Mere words. How much they make us miss!

"I was hearing about yeast for years before I realized it is food, as much as any other food we are accustomed to.

"Just a vegetable—one of the tiniest vegetables known—and grown from a clean, pure vegetable base, instead of from the soil.

The THRICE-A-DAY Health Custom

A very interesting booklet, "Regaining Health," will be sent to you, gladly. Write to The Fleischmann Co., Dept. 233B 1449 St. Alexander Street, Montreal, Que.

"Today, this vigorous, growing little vegetable is part of every meal we eat. For no other food we eat can do for us what yeast does. We have proved it.

"Without going into the 'how' and 'why,' may I just say that the sunny, happy well-being — the strength, and fitness, and all-around health of the whole family —are better than ever? Such gains are too precious to be lost — or even risked. We wouldn't leave yeast out of a single meal now. Nothing could induce us to give it up."

Families by thousands have adopted it—and more and more are adopting it daily—this HEALTH CUSTOM of eating yeast before or between meals. In the lives of men and women of understanding, and higher standards of physical cleanness and fitness, it is as much a matter of course as brushing their teeth

Tell your grocer to add your name to his list for regular delivery of as many cakes as your family requires, three for each member.

"FOR ABOUT TWO YEARS I suffered with indigestion and gas on the stomach. This was not only very troublesome to me but a great handicap during the rowing season, as I am a member of a boat crew in Halifax. I read about Fleischmann's Yeast in the newspapers, and decided to try it. I have been taking three cakes a day, one before each meal, for several months now and find my indigestion has left me. I row every evening and find that I have a great deal more strength than I had before. I sleep soundly, and my entire health is so much improved that I have started giving Fleischmann's Yeast to both my children as I believe that it will undoubtedly benefit them also."

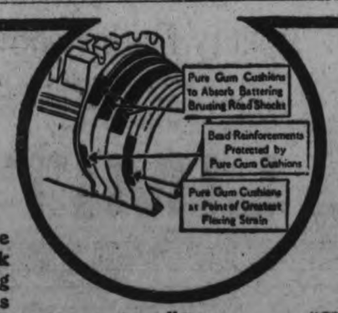
A New Tire
with sinews of Pure Rubber



Every "GP" Gum Cushioned Tire is an athlete—always in the pink of condition—capable of enduring the long grind of many thousands of miles without cracking under the strain. "Gum Cushioned" is the term applied to the sinews of pure gum placed between the cord layers to cushion the tremendous shocks of the road. Think of the advanatage of entrusting your car to four such athletes as these, knowing your "GP" Gum Cushioned Tires are meeting and overcoming the adverse conditions of the road. The nearest "GP" dealer will attend to your tire requirements.

"GP" Pure Gum Tubes
The price of "GP" Pure Gum Tubes is no higher, but the quality of the material used in the manufacture of these tough, flexury tubes is of the very best.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while bathing at Ocean Town, N.J. It is thought at first he is a stroke victim, but investigation shows he has been stabbed to death beneath the water.

Folsom's swimming companions had been ROGER NEVILLE, a business partner; MRS. HELEN BARNABY and CARMELITA VALDON. It is established that Folsom, just before his death, had been standing next to NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

ANASTASIA FOLSOM, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, arrives and takes command. At the inquest it is learned that the death weapon was a pichaq, an Oriental knife, and that it had been bought on the boardwalk.

It is also established that one CROYDON SEARS is a fancier of curious knives. Anastasia engages TITUS RIGGS, an architect, to work on the case. DAN PELTON, the dead man's nephew, arrives, and notices the curious French dolls in Garrett Folsom's room. He tells Titus Riggs that if the murderer is discovered, some unpleasant things may come to light about his uncle.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Will you be paid? Yes, Tubby, you will. But only if it's good evidence or a real clue. Or a true way to look."

"Yes, sir. But if it IS all of those things, will you—"

"Yes," a little impatiently, "yes, I'll see to it that you get paid. My Lord, Tubby, what a school for young grafters a big hotel is! Well, go ahead."

"It's only this. You've been all through Mr. Folsom's papers and letters, ain't you?"

"Pretty much. There's some of that work still to be done. Why?"

"Oh, only that Mr. Pelton has a big suitcase full of papers and letters and important looking documents—"

"And you think they're connected with Mr. Folsom's estate?"

"They's lots of 'em addressed to Mr. Folsom, and some of 'em in Mr. Folsom's writing."

"This is interesting. Where is this suitcase?"

"Up in Mr. Pelton's rooms. The rooms Mr. Folsom used to park in."

"How did you come to spy them out?"

Tubby looked duly and properly insulted.

"Nothin' like that, sir. I saw them when I took up some ice water."

"Oh, I see. I beg your pardon. Very careless of Mr. Pelton to have them in sight when you came in. Well, never mind, you did right to mention it, Tubs, and if anything comes of it, I'll remember you."

It was a pleasant place to muse. The comfortable chair was placed just at a point where Riggs could command the boardwalk or could let his gaze go farther afield, and view the wide expanse of blue ocean.

But with a little sigh of regret, he rose from the big wicker rocker, and betook himself up to Dan Pelton's rooms, having first acquired information by telephone that he was there and alone.

"I thought at first, I'd go for a confab with your aunt," Riggs said, as he took the seat and the cigar that Pelton offered. "But I felt that these first hours after the services for her brother, she ought to be left in peace."

"I see you don't know Aunt Stasia," Pelton responded, with a little smile. "She could go to the funerals of all her relatives and still be fit for any sort of interview with anybody. Shall I call her, or shall we go to see her?"

"Presently. Perhaps we might have a little chat by ourselves first. You're with us, Pelton? I mean with your aunt and me in this search for her brother's murderer?"

"Of course, Riggs—sure I'm with you, in that I want you to find him if you can. But I'm not so keen to have him found as Aunt Anastasia is."

"Why not?"

"For a very simple reason. Because I fear if the motive for Uncle Garrett's death, or the identity of his murderer should be discovered, it—well, it might react unpleasantly on the —er— the family dignity, if not—honor."

CHAPTER XXVI.

"Then, I shall have to speak plainly," said Riggs. "You don't place your late uncle on quite so high a pedestal as his sister does?"

"No—to be equally frank—I don't never liked my uncle, but aside from that, I always felt he was—oh, pshaw, I hate to say it—was a little—"

"Go on."

"Well, understand. I mean I thought, I feared, rather, that there were some transactions in which he was engaged that wouldn't stand the light."

"Dishonest?"

"Not in the generally accepted sense of that word, no. But dishonorable—oh, I don't know just how to express it."

"Have you any proofs of these accusations?"

"Oh, they're not really accusations. But I always suspected uncle was up to some deviltry, and after I got aunt's wire about his death, I nipped down to his room, where he was staying in New York, and I found a bag full of papers, and letters, and I brought it along here with me. Now—well, Mr. Riggs, those documents go to prove that my respected uncle was deserving of very little respect, and that whoever did him in, really rid the world of a pretty black old scoundrel."

"And so you think it might be better to let sleeping dogs lie—"

"Yes, just that. I'm sure that to open up the hidden life of Garrett Folsom would bring to light truths of such a nature that my aunt would sink under the load of guilt and shame that would attach to his memory."

"You're not exaggerating, this, Mr. Pelton?"

"No, I don't think so. I daresay you can guess the sort of nefarious business he carried on."

"From what you say, or rather from what you don't say, I can't help thinking it must be some form of blackmail."

"Yes, that's right. But not any common, ordinary blackmail, or any small jobs. It's merely that he knew a few secrets concerning the lives of several people, mostly his friends—I mean, apparent friends—and over these he had such a fearful hold that they were forced to pay him his price or be exposed."

"This is strong talk, Mr. Pelton."

"But it is true talk. And I have proofs—that is, some proofs. However, I hesitate to bring them forth, because any of them would suffice to throw suspicion on a man who may be entirely innocent."

"And, too, for your aunt's sake, you hesitate to bring forth this new side to the tragedy?"

"Oh, partly for aunt's sake, but more because I feel this way about it. It seems to me that the men my uncle made miserable suffered enough, without being brought to the bar to answer for a murder that they didn't commit. For, naturally, only one man stabbed him, and to let loose a lot of facts that would bring suspicion hot upon the heels of a dozen others, seems a terrible thing to do."

"All this is logical and even ethical from the standpoint of your uncle's victims. But, on the other hand, he was murdered, and his murder ought to be avenged. No matter how great a villain Garrett Folsom had been, it doesn't exculpate the man who killed him."

"I suppose not, but as I said, I'd hate to bring unjust suspicion on a lot of innocent men, and then perhaps not strike the right man among them."

"It's a big question, and it will require some thinking over before we can settle it. Look here, isn't Roger Neville an associate in business with your uncle?"

"He was—in some ways. You see, Uncle Garrett had several lines of business and many varied interests, all of which brought in money. Neville was with him in some of these schemes. But I've no reason to think or assume that Roger Neville had any part in or even any knowledge of these things I speak of."

"Well, we must ask Neville."

"Do it guardedly, for if he knows nothing about it all, we don't want to enlighten him."

"Then again, would it not be wise to let your aunt in on this secret? To be sure, she would be dismayed to learn of your uncle's wrong-doing, but as you have said yourself, Miss Folsom can stand shocks with fortitude. And it may be she would rather know the truth, however bad, than to be kept in ignorance of it."

"I daresay it may be so. But my aunt so reveres and cherishes her brother's memory, that it would go hard with her to learn he was less than she thought him."

"Well, leaving that question for the moment, let us get down to brass tacks. You see, your aunt has engaged me to investigate this case for her. Now, have I a right to lie down on the job, because it seems to be leading into an unpleasant field? Moreover, is there not a possibility that you are mistaken, at least to the extent or weight of these judgments your uncle held over his victims' heads?"

"You don't see it quite straight, Riggs. I have reason to believe that my uncle, while not what may be called a professional blackmailer, yet had a few victims whose secrets he knew, and whom he ground down to the last degree. I believe that any one of these—say half a dozen—would have murdered him gladly if they had thought they could do it without getting caught. And now one of them did murder him and get away with it, and to bring forward the evidence I speak of would be to arouse suspicion of the whole six—though that's only an approximate number—and lay a black accusation for life on the great majority of innocent ones. And, at the same time, probably not get the real criminal at all."

"How many of these victims you speak of are down here at Ocean Town?"

"That's just the worst of it. I know of two or three, but there may easily be more whom I do not know. Any one of them may be the murderer."

"Complicated situation. And yet, have we a choice in the matter? Must we not follow where the way is pointed out? At any rate, old man, I guess you'll have to let me look through those letters you speak of."

Tite Riggs chuckled to himself at the thought that Tubby's precious secret was thus openly announced by P

Riggs had looked forward to a dramatic effort on his part to get the nephew of the dead man to exhibit his uncle's papers. And here he was fairly thrusting them on Riggs' attention.

Was he, though? Was he the ingenious, straightforward character he appeared to be?

His attitude about wanting to shield his uncle's memory as far as possible was all right, but could Riggs be sure that the letters and documents he was now about to inspect were intact as when Pelton had found them, or had he tampered with the lot and abstracted any he chose?

It was largely imagination or instinct, but Tite Riggs did not trust Pelton. He didn't suspect him of having any hand in his uncle's death, but he did think the nephew was glad to inherit his legacy, and that if he could further feather his nest in any way, he would so so.

So, together, the two men went through the suitcase full of letters and papers.

ODDFELLOWS MAKE TWO PRESENTATIONS

LAKEFIELD, July 6.—At a recent meeting of Lakefield Lodge No. 358 I.O.O.F., two popular members were honored, Bro. J. S. Montgomery, the popular manager of the local branch of the Standard Bank, who leaves this month to take a similar position in Napanee, was presented with a scarf pin and a pair of solid gold cuff links as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the Lakefield Lodge. Mr. Montgomery has been in Lakefield three years and has won many friends in that time.

The presentation was made by Bro. David Miller (a charter member of the Lodge) assisted by Bro. J. R. Hill.

Mr. Montgomery replied suitably, thanking his friends for their gifts and assuring them of his appreciation and also of his continued interest in the village and the lodge.

Mr. W. W. Yale of Unity Lodge, St. Catharines, who has been a resident of the village for the past two and a half years was presented with a beautiful lodge collar from his mother lodge. Bro. Yale had taken the longest journey to attend the 85th anniversary of the founding of Unity Lodge and the collar was sent to recognize suitably his faithful performance. Bro. F. J. Burgess, the veteran secretary of Lakefield Lodge made the presentation, assisted by Bro. W. G. Morrison.

Play Repeated.

On Thursday evening the Dramatic Club of the 7th Line of Smith are giving their play, "The Eye of Love" in the basement of the Regent street United Church under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid.

An Appeal to all Civic Officials

Millions of dollars damage to Ontario's crops are caused by weeds. The Weed Control Act seeks to control this menace. Municipal councils and officers have important responsibilities in carrying out this act. Weeds on highways must be destroyed by the "Road Authority." Weeds elsewhere must be destroyed by the owner or occupier of the land. An Inspector shall be appointed by each municipal council to see that these terms are complied with.

Most civic bodies are energetically discharging this obligation and when action is not being taken, residents should communicate with the members of their municipal council.

Every precaution is needed to wipe out the weed menace. Clean seed plus weed destruction at the proper time to prevent spread of weed seeds will bring your district greater profits from clean successful crops.

Rev. W. F. Elliott preached an appropriate sermon from the text found in 1 Samuel 18.1: "And it came to pass when he had made an end of speaking unto Saul, that the soul of Jonathan was knit to the soul to David and Johnathan loved him as his own soul", the subject of the discourse being "Friendship." The pastor of the church, Rev. R. T. Richards, was absent attending the annual Conference at Smith's Falls.

Seeding Well Advanced.

Spring seeding has been pretty well finished in this section of the township. Mangels have been sown and some corn, though not much of the latter, was planted during the past week; more will be put in this week.

Potatoes are almost all planted now though there are some farms on which the putting in of this crop has yet to be completed.

Some fields which have been overrun with quack, and other grass, are being prepared for sowing with barley this week; in other fields this work may not be done for another week or ten days, in which case a mixture will likely be sown of barley and buckwheat. Not very much of the latter grain is sown by itself in this vicinity.

Most farmers who had summer fallows have now cultivated these fields, and are covering them with manure before plowing.

Work on the farm, generally speaking, is progressing very well in spite of the late season. Several farmers are anxious for rain, while others insist that heat is needed as much as moisture.

Personals.

Mrs. (Rev.) F. H. Howard visited her mother, Mrs. William Johnston, in Belleville the last of the week, some cousins from Ireland being in Canada and guests of Mrs. Johnston for a brief stay.

Mrs. P. I. Bentley and Mrs. W. R. Ball were in Port Perry on Sunday and attended the special service at the United Church at which the Oddfellows of the district were in attendance.

Miss Gladys Gray spent the week end in Janetville with her friends, Miss Lois Richardson, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Heaslip.

Mr. Ronald Hutchison, and his aunt, Miss Sadie Might, R.N., of Toronto, spent the week end at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hutchison, Cavan. Miss Might's many friends will be glad to learn that her health is fully restored and she has resumed her position at the Christie Street Hospital.

C. B. Sutton has purchased a new car, F. H. Smith being the sales' agent.

Miss Shirley L. Muir, principal of the Continuation School, spent the week-end at her home in Toronto.

Mr. A. J. Henderson left for Jacksonville, Michigan, on Sunday evening upon receipt of a telegram informing him of the serious illness of his eldest, and only remaining, sister, Mrs. George Clarke, who had suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Griffith, of Weston, spent the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Devitt and two children, of Orillia, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fallis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fallis, Mr. and Mrs. James McMillan and other friends, returning home on Monday.

Rev. F. H. Howard arrived home from attending the annual Bay of Quinte Conference at Smith's Falls on Monday.

Rev. William Higgs, a former pastor on this circuit, and now of Beachburg, has announced the engagement of his second daughter, Eileen Estella, a teacher at the O.L.C., Whitby, to Harry Spence Ramsay, of Toronto, the marriage to take place on June 30.

Several members of the Men's Bible Class, of the United Church Sunday School, motored to Uxbridge on Sunday and attended the annual rally of the Men's Class of that town, W. W. Staples, of Lindsay, being the speaker for the occasion. There were over five hundred men in attendance.

Among the changes made by the Conference at its annual sessions just concluded was the exchange of circuits between Millbrook and Warkworth, Rev. F. H. Howard going from here to the latter town, and Rev. W. W. Jones taking the pastorate of the local charge. Mr. Howard, in returning to Warkworth, is resuming a former pastorate having been located in that town some years ago as pastor of the then Methodist church.

The change of circuits throughout the Conference takes place about July first.

Arriving Nationalists Say Nanking Will Rule China and Tientsin the Province.

PEKING, June 6.—While the evacuation of Marshal Chang Tso-lin's troops to Manhuria was steadily progressing yesterday toward its conclusion, the ancient capital of China received the first indication of its future from advance spokesmen of the Nationalists arriving in the city.

These spokesmen declared that the Kuomintang (the Nationalist political party) would keep its national capital at Nanking and would move the provincial capital from Peking to Tientsin and maintain merely a Commissioner for Foreign Affairs here for contact with the legations.

Such a move, if carried out, would be inspired by the fear that Feng Yu-hsiang, the so-called Christian General now allied with General Chiang Kai-shek, the Nationalist Commander-in-Chief, might attempt to control Peking and the Nanking leaders are opposed to this.

Another motive underlying such a policy is the hope of persuading the legations to move to Nanking, where they would not be allowed to have a private legation quarter with armed guards. The foreign diplomats do not now consider such a move likely for some years to come.

The Hankow leaders have issued a manifesto admitting with startling frankness that the time is now at hand when the three factions comprising the Kuomintang are in danger of splitting through interecine warfare.

Northern Rout Menaces Tientsin

Order is still being maintained in Peking and the city remains calm, but the guards at the gates and on the walls of the Legation Quarter have been doubled.

Tidings have come that 60,000 Northern soldiers under General Sun Chuan-fang, the commander of the Shantung army, are retreating pell mell in great disorder upon Tientsin from Pehsien, only thirty kilometers distant.

All of the foreign forces at Tientsin have been busy since dawn preparing for emergencies. Sand bag and barbed wire defense works, long in readiness, are being pushed into place and the International Guard has taken over supervision of the power house and water works. The narrow streets leading into the foreign area are being closed with sand bag barricades and the wider avenues are being kept open to traffic only under strict vigilance.

All of the Japanese living in the Chinese quarters have been called into the Japanese Tientsin Concession. Japanese troops have been sent to the town of Tangku at Tangku Bar and to the Yuta cotton mills.

Due to the glut of traffic and the cessation of regular rail communications between Peking and Tientsin the legations are considering the revival of the practice of operating international trains for the first time since April, 1926.

The situation throughout the country is one of uncertainty. The anti-Japanese feeling is spreading in the upper Yangtse region. At Wanhsien one rich Japanese merchant has been murdered by a mob and another seized and held for ransom.

GOSPEL HALL.

Last night Gospel Hall was taxed to its capacity with an interested crowd to hear Harold Patrick Morgan. His message was very searching and forcible, the subject being "The Absolute Necessity of Vision." The Scripture reading was John 3, where Nicodemus came to the Lord to ask Him if He was from God, but the Lord Jesus turned the tables on him and told him he must be born again. Man is an enemy or a friend to God. If he is not saved or born again he is God's enemy. Mr. Morgan stated that the greatest difficulty was to get people to admit guilt when God has declared all have gone astray. All have turned each to his own way, and if men and women do not get saved while here, when death comes there is no escape from hell.

Mr. Morgan defied any man to show him from either Greek, Hebrew, or English Bibles any place where it was even hinted there was no hell. God is very emphatic on that point. If a man dies without having trusted Christ, Hell for eternity is his portion and there is no escape, he said.

HERTZOG ENDORSES KELLOGG'S PLANS

South African Premier Says Outlawry of War Only Basis For League.

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa, June 6 (Canadian Press). — Premier Hertzog, interviewed to-day, heartily endorsed the proposal of Frank B. Kellogg, United States Secretary of State, for the outlawry of war.

The Prime Minister said this plan was the only sound basis upon which the League of Nations, which aims at peace, could be built.

SANDE RETIRING.

NEW YORK, June 6.—(Canadian Press.)—His health impaired by the task of taking off weight, Earl Sande, one of the greatest American jockeys, will probably retire at the end of the present racing season. He may ride in Europe, where jockeys' weights are higher.

DRESS
By MARY MARSHALL

Correct summer riding habit of white linen worn with a blue crepe de chine shirt. Natural-colored straw hat and black riding boots finish the ensemble.

It has been the fashion of late to dress very much as one pleased. If there is a tendency to return to stricter convention it is decidedly recent.

As someone said the other day, "Everything goes. If you happen to wear a tweed sport suit to the theater anyone who notices will think you have been playing golf and have not had time to change. If you appear in a tennis costume for dinner at a smart restaurant, you will be regarded as an embryo Lenglen who has missed her train." After all it isn't what you wear but the way you wear it.

But, as this observer remarked, though we may often get away with murder as far as evening dress goes, it is much more difficult to persuade the world that you know what is what if your riding costume is not rigidly conventional. These things are important—and if your riding coat doesn't have just the right number of buttons or if your hat brim is not of precisely the right width someone may note the fact to your discredit.

Fortunately we are not quite so fussy about riding togs here as they are in France or England—still the girl who wears any sort of knickers, a negligee shirt without a coat and a gay bandana by way of a collar and another by way of a hat isn't so readily forgiven as she was a few seasons ago.

The cut shows a suit of white linen useful for very warm weather. Here the same material us used for both coat and breeches. In the cloth suits there is usually a difference between the two pieces. The coat of cinnamon-brown whipcord may be worn with fawn-colored breeches or the black whipcoard coat may be worn with black and white shepherd's plaid breeches.

For summer riding at the cooler resorts the so-called tropical-weight whipcord may be used. Linen for warmer climes has the advantage that it may be washed satisfactorily, and shantung silk worn with the regulation gloves, shirt, tie, etc., will pass muster.

LYRICS OF LIFE

WHAT YOU'VE GONE AND DONE

Folks all around me, who, don't mean a thing,
Music around me, but don't want to sing,
Flowers around me, but don't want a one—
My goodness gracious, what you've gone and done!

Morning is sunny, or so I have heard,
Someone said something concerning some bird,
Breezes are blowing, it's pleasant, no doubt—
You're about all I am thinking about.

Things to be doing, I really should do;
Here I sit dreaming—I'll never get through.
Happy, unhappy, for that's how I get,
Remembering maybe you maybe forget.

Folks all around me, but I never care;
Folks all around me, but you aren't there.
Now nothing matters, and nothing is fun—
My goodness gracious, what you've gone and done!

HOROSCOPE
The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

For Thursday, June 7, 1928.
(Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Again the stars seem to frown as well as smile upon the inhabitants of the Earth, according to the reading of this day's horoscope.

It is a hazardous day for buying lands, especially those devoted to agriculture, astrologers announce, but later there is promise of great profit.

Real estate will advance sharply in the early autumn, it is forecast, and all through the summer there will be an urge to acquire homes.

This is not a propitious day for employees who desire to demand raises in salaries. Persons who enjoy success and wield authority are likely to be exceedingly arrogant while this rule prevails.

With the changing seasons there is no change in the aspects making for egotism and selfishness. Both men and women are likely to be inclined to overestimate their talents and virtues.

This is a away likely to produce mental depression and even severe discouragement. It is well to count one's blessings and to forget one's troubles.

There is a good sign for men and women who meet for the first time under this planetary rule, but romance should be forgotten.

Under the government of the stars plans should be made, but they should be kept secret. Ideas are precious and are often stolen.

Again astrologers foretell the rise of a new political organization that will complicate campaign activities.

Those who will sojourn on the Atlantic coast this summer are promised many thrilling scenes, for there will be unusual storms, it is forecast.

The conjunction of Mars with Jupiter, July 4, is interpreted as likely to stimulate the movement toward immense business combinations that circle the globe.

Persons whose birthdate it is will prosper most by continuing in old paths of business and social activities.

Children born on this day probably will be restless and ambitious. The subjects of this sign usually are bright of mind and inclined to scatter their energies.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE BLAZE NEW TRAILS.

Blazing a trail means going through the woods where there are no roads or paths of any kind and being the first to open a passage. It is done by chipping a bit of bark on the trees so that othe s coming after you will be able to get out of the woods by following the markings which seem to "blaze" in the dark.

Pioneer work in every field of human activity is referred to as blazing a trail. Columbus discovering America and proving that one could reach the far east by sailing west, blazed a new trail. Lindbergh's flight was epoch-making because he blazed a new trail. The exploits of Perry, of Wilkins, and of the German-Irish airmen are likewise trail blazers. Harvey's discovery of the circulation of the blood and Pasteur's remarkable exploits in the discovery of disease germs are further examples of pioneers and trail blazers in the field of medicine and sanitation. Every inventor and innovator blazes a new trail.

All of us would like to blaze new trails if we could. The incentives are tremendous. We like to blaze new trails for the sheer joy of the enterprise. We like to pit our strength and skill against the forces of nature and the greater odds we give the greater will be the satisfaction if we succeed. Difficulties and dangers only add fuel to the desire to conquer.

The social motive is also a factor in the desire to blaze a new trail. The stakes are in proportion to the risks. If the pioneer succeeds he joins the ranks of the immortals in the pages of history. And none of us is averse to being acclaimed by posterity as benefactors of the race.

We like to blaze new trails for practically every one of the strongest drives that motivate the human breast, the thrill of adventure, curiosity, ambition, thirst for fame and fortune, the desire to do something new and impressive, to gain the applause of the whole world, and to have our name and fame handed down from generation to generation in the history books.

SENATORS WIN AT ST. LOUIS

Washington Take 4-1 Victory in Only Major League Game of Day.

PLAYERS RELEASED.

NEW YORK, June 6.—(Canadian Press).—Braxton had the better of Ogden in a pitching duel and the Washington Senators won at St. Louis yesterday, 4 to 1. It was the only major league game of the day.

Reeves and Goslin hit home runs. After the first inning, when the Browns got three hits and one run, Braxton allowed only four hits.

The game was played in a mist and witnessed by less than 500.

PLAYERS RELEASED

BOSTON, June 6.—(Canadian Press).—The Boston Red Sox management yesterday announced the release on option of Bob Cremins, a right-handed pitcher, and Bob Asbjornson to the Akron club in the Central League. Both players left yesterday afternoon.

SIX LADIES WIN AT GOLF

FOR ONTARIO HONORS.

WINDSOR, June 6. — Two players, representing the Hamilton Golf Club and the Essex Golf Club, were left to contest the right of a Toronto player to succeed Miss Ada MacKenzie as Ontario ladies' golf champion, after the first round of the championship flight had been completed shortly before one o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Six of the eleven Toronto ladies who qualified were winners in their matches yesterday. The others who survived were Miss Edith Ellis of the Hamilton Golf Club and Miss Catharine McKay, club champion at the Essex course, where the championship is being decided.

In spite of a rain which started a few minutes after the first had teed off and which grew heavier as the time went on, every match started on time, and the majority of them produced gruelling battles and fair golf. One match went to the nineteenth hole, and three were settled on the home green.

Mrs. McKeough, of Chatham, who qualified with the second best score of 95 and who won the net prize, suffered elimination in the extra-hole match. Her opponent, Miss Ellis, of Hamilton, fought an uphill fight most of the way. She was two down at the tenth, but took the lead later on, losing it at the seventeenth and starting the last hole one down. She won the eighteenth by sinking a 15-foot putt.

The Hamilton lady's putter also decided the nineteenth, when both were on the green in three. Miss Ellis had laid her approach putt dead to the pin and Mrs. McKeough lay three feet away. When the Chatham champion failed to get down Miss Ellis had only to tap her ball in the cup for victory.

Catharine McKay, of Essex, had almost as stiff a fight to win from Mrs. D. Coulson, of York Downs. She was up early in the match, but had to take the seventeenth to square the game. Then she won the home hole to advance into the second round.

The best scoring of the round was done in the first match, which Miss Hazel Hudson, leader of the qualifying round, was the winner. Mrs. Hector Cowan, of Sarnia, had a fight all the way and finally lost out only at the seventeenth, two and one. Miss Hudson was out in 47, very good scoring considering the terrible weather.

Mrs. Gouinlock, of the Toronto Golf Club, staged a great finish to defeat Miss Mary Millichamp, of Rosedale. She was two down with four to go, but rallied to win on the last green, one up.

Maud Smith also won by the smallest possible margin from Mrs. N. C. MacPhee, of Beach Grove. She was one up coming home and the local player failed to take advantage of a chance to square the match by sinking a fairly long putt.

Miss Cecil Smith scored the most decisive win, defeating Mrs. Lefroy, of Rosedale, six and five. Mrs. Fisher of Lambton, conquered Miss Christie, also of Lambton, on the fourteenth green.

Mrs. Haywood, of Rosedale, was four up when she beat Mrs. D. A. Reid, of Lambton, on the fifteenth green.

Though there were a few defaults the majority of matches in non-titular flights were well under way at 1.30. The weather was clearing at that time and apparently better conditions were promised for late afternoon.

The Kiwanis will practice with the Cogs at 6 o'clock to-morrow night in the Exhibition grounds. A full line-up from both teams should be present.

The City Softball League will meet on Thursday night at 5.30 p.m., in the Belmont club rooms to discuss the playing grounds problem. The league is all ready to open a schedule but is held up for lack of grounds. As this is an important matter a representative from every team, as well as the full executive, are asked to be in attendance.

The Public school hard and softball leagues are nearing completion; the scheduled games finished on June 3rd when King Edward school played with Central on the latter's grounds. Yesterday's games were postponed on account of the weather.

New uniforms have arirved for the Riley and Hickey outfit in the bantam league and the groups leaders put up a smart appearance. The Clothiers have played some good ball so far this season and Manager Wolfe has called a practice for Thursday night at 5.30 in preparation for their tilt with the East City Beavers on Friday night.

The weatherman stepped in last night to stop two games in union and intermediate hardball, the Royals-Lockworks tilt at the Exhibition grounds and the Crescents at Bethany in the E.P.L. Yesterday's games would have been the first these clubs had met each other in a league fixture this season.

ROCCO CAPTURES CANADIAN TITLE

Challenger Gets Decision, Although Crowd Thinks Champion Best.

TORONTO, June 6.—Steve Rocca won the Canadian flyweight title from Frenchy Belanger, former world's flyweight, last night, while Cliff Graham was given the call over Chris Newton. In both cases the judges and referee were unanimous in the decision, but at the end of each bout the practically unanimous opinion at the press table was that the boys who lost the decision had won. However, the referee and the judges had ample room from which to view the proceedings inside the ropes while the occupants of the press row had to share chairs in order to make room for managers, promoters, and seconds from across the line.

Rocco and Belanger both staged the best battle they have shown in local rings, and the winner's showing was exceptionally good; but while he goes into the records as the new holder of the title, his most impressive weapons were a roundhouse overhand right to the head and his bounding style of attack, which, by means of the momentum it carried with it, drove Belanger back a number of times. He was also aided by the cheering of his supporters, and they were numerous. Added to the many who have been pleased by his aggressive tactics in both amateur and professional bouts were those who like to see a champion dethroned. His right landed frequently, there is no doubt about that, and on numerous other occasions it appeared to have landed when it had been blocked by the defending champion. He did not land more than half a dozen straight punches to the body during the ten rounds, and, in fact, appeared to have the idea that everywhere below the neck was out of bounds for challengers.

Belanger is Aggressive

Belanger was more aggressive than has been his wont in recent bouts, and Rocco, who has a reputation for aggressiveness, had little on the loser. His style was more aggressive in appearance, but that of Belanger was more satisfactory, as far as results were concerned. Belanger used his straight left to great advantage, and at close quarters landed more hands solidly to the body, which Rocco failed to protect until towards the close of the bout. After one of his bounding attacks which ended with his swing to the head, the challenger fell into a clinch, and Belanger ripped both hands to the body with telling effect, although this was apparently overlooked in the scoring.

The defending champion fought a well-planned attack, but several times he was a trifle careless and permitted his opponent to stage an attack which drove him back. In the seventh and eighth Belanger apparently elected to rest up and let Rocco do more of the attacking, and while "Frenchy" fought a cautious defensive battle in these two rounds Rocco had a slight margin in the seventh, and perhaps in the eighth, and thereby came up fairly close, but in the ninth Belanger took the honors, and the tenth was a torrid affair and farily even, first one and then the other going to the front with a rally.

IN POLICE COURT

CAMPBELLFORD, June 6.—Father and son appeared before Magistrate Payne yesterday afternoon in court to answer to a charge of breach of the Liquor Control Act. The son pleaded guilty to the charge of procuring liquor on his father's permit while he was still under the age of twenty-one. He gave his age in court as nineteen, and was fined fifteen dollars and costs. The father pleaded not guilty to a charge of having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling, and was remanded for a week for judgment to be given. During the session, a recess was granted while the court visited the scene where the charge originated. It was claimed that the portion of the building where the liquor was found was used by several men and the owner could not assume the responsibility for articles left there. The charge was laid following an investigation by Provincial Officers Storie and Noble. J. A. O'Brien, Peterborough, appeared for the defence. W. F. Kerr, K.C., Cobourg, prosecuted for the Crown.

LEADERS WILL MEET PETES ON SATURDAY HERE

Oshawa, Back at the Top, Are Next Crew to Play in Peterborough.

DAINTY TO PITCH

Veteran Southpaw Expects to Grab His Second Win Over Petes.

Oshawa, temporarily disposed from the Central Ontario League leadership are back again in first place, although their tenure of office depends upon what happens in the Kingston-Oshawa game to-day.

The Motorist will be here on Saturday for the first visit of the season to James Stevenson Park and the game should be one of the best of the year. Oshawa beat the Petes on Victoria Day in Oshawa but Saturday will be another day and the local gang are confident that they can wipe out that early defeat by taking the Burgoyne-Schultz outfit at James Stevenson Park.

Duke Dainty will take his old left arm out there Saturday and do his best to hold the Petes in check. He has beaten them once this season and the veteran figures he can do it again. Perhaps he can, too, anyway Saturday will tell.

It will be a battle in any case.

The first two home games of the Petes have been featured by good baseball under miserable weather conditions and if Saturday shows some warmth and sunshine the best game of the year should ensue.

Twenty-Two Will Go To Barrier In England's Annual Turf Classic

EPSOM, England, June 6. Canadian Press Cable. — Lord Derby's Fairway held priority in the final call-over of betting odds on the eve of the Derby last night, just as he has held first place since last autumn. The odds against him last night were a trifle longer than Monday, with Sunny Trace second favorite and Flamingo, Sir Lawrence Phillips' Two Thousand Guineas winner, a close third in the betting.

The betting: Eleven to four against Fairway; eleven to two against Sunny Trace; 13 to two against Flamingo, 100 to seven against Gang Warily, 100 to six against Ranjit Singh, 22 to one against Royal Minstrel, and Bubbles Second; 28 to one against Camelford and Black Watch; 33 to one against Fernkloof and Palais Royal; 40 to one against Invaneran and Felstead; 50 to one against Port Hole; 66 to one against O'Curry; 100 to one against Advocate, Constant Son, Cyclonic, Grangeview, Royal Crusader, Scintillation and Yoomanstown.

The probable starters were reduced to 22 by the withdrawal yesterday of the Duke of Portlands, The Wheedler.

A vagabond army camped last night on Epsom Downs where today the year's finest three year olds will match speed and stamina for Derby honors in the world's most famous horse race. Within sight of the stables where spirited colts received their training ministrations, gypsy and tenderfeet from the city gathered around watch fires to debate the merits of their favorites.

In accordance with the traditions of the Derby eve these nomads, professional and amateur, had come as the vanguard of the horde which will swarm the downs to view the supreme turf classic.

The names most heard about the fires were Fairway, Sunny Trace and Flamingo, a trio of grace and power, full worthy to share the glory of Derby Day.

Cloud Hangs Over Turf Classic Entry

EPSOM, England, June 6.—(Canadian Press).—A ghost of a cloud will be hanging over the head of Royal Minstrel when the gray colt goes to the post in the derby to-day. His owner, Captain G. P. Gough, who is 2,000 miles away on big game hunting expedition in the African jungle, has not been heard from a month and there is some speculation on the possibility of his having been killed in an accident.

If Royal Minstrel should finish first in the Derby and news of his owner's death should arrive later a question arises as to who will receive the honors in the classic race. According to the ancient rules of the Derby the death of the owner automatically cancels the entry of a horse. Gough's relatives are quite sure that the captain is safe but their certainty has not stopped speculation on the unusual possibility.

PROTESTS DECISION OF LEAGUE HEAD

Brooklyn Captain Maintains That He Was Within His Rights.

NEW YORK, June 6.—(Canadian Press).—Under suspension for the first time in his long baseball career, Max Carey, captain of the Brooklyn Robins, is protesting far more vigorously against the decision by President Heydler that sent him to the bench for three days than he did against the ruling by Umpire Moran which was the cause of his fall from grace. Carey was charged with inciting the Brooklyn fans to a near riot during the game with Pittsburgh Sunday. In rebuttal, he maintains that he merely acted within his rights as captain of the team in protesting a decision that he believed was wrong on the matter of whether Statz had caught or merely trapped Pie Traynor's short fly. After Umpire-in-Chief Wilson refused to reverse Moran's decision, Carey says, "I started back to right field and as I passed Moran a second time I told him that it looked raw to me and from then on everything proceeded normally."

(By F. D. C.)

Belleville's hold on the Central Ontario League's leadership did not survive a trip to Kingston and the Ponies first win tumbled the Railroaders out of first place and put Oshawa back on top. The Central race is a merry old mix up as the League standing shows:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Oshawa	3	1	.667
Belleville	3	2	.600
Deloro	1	1	.500
Peterborough	1	2	.333
Kingston	1	2	.333

Games to-day:
Peterborough at Belleville.
Kingston at Oshawa.
Friday:
Deloro at Kingston.
Saturday:
Oshawa at Peterborough.

\+ \+ \+

Belleville taking advantage of being out in front gambled with Jeffrey their left-handed twirler in Monday's game at Kingston, the strategy being to save "Hoot" Gibson their unbeaten ace for use against the Petes to-day. The move came near to succeeding perfectly for Jeffrey was in front until the ninth when he was removed with two on the sacks in favor of Gibson who promptly proceeded to pick up his first loss. He will get the assignment against the Petes nevertheless.

\+ \+ \+

Irvin Bailey, former Peterborough hockey star and right wing the last two seasons with the Toronto N.H.L. team, was in town on business on Monday. His host of friends here will be sorry to learn that he suffered a bereavement last week in the death of his mother who failed to recover from the effects of an operation. Irvin is in business for himself operating a filling station in Bracebridge.

\+ \+ \+

Another former Peterborough athlete who has been here for a few days is Roy ("Hank") Smythe who was a ball players and hockeyist of note in Peterborough a few years ago. Roy, who has been living in Oklahoma City for some time, has been transferred to Pasadena, Cal.

\+ \+ \+

Herb. Wolfe who made five hits against Kingston in the game previous, failed to get a hit in the Belleville fixture and made two errors in the outfield. The old baseball saying is right—a hero one day, a tramp the next.

\+ \+ \+

Feeney Mills, besides hitting for the circuit in Oshawa last Saturday, had three other safeties. The big Belleville catcher always did take a mean cut at the old pill.

\+ \+ \+

It is a long time since so many pitchers have got their names into the Central League box scores. Kingston had already used five, Del Cherry, Smith, Jamieson, Buck and Van Young while Belleville is next with four, Gibson, Uironki, Gerow and Jeffrey, and Oshawa with three. Dainty, Matthews and Morrison. The Petes and Deloro have each used two twirlers making a total by the League of sixteen twirlers inside the first two weeks.

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town, and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

Dry Weather In West Causes Gains In Wheat

CHICAGO, June 6 (Canadian Press).—Persistent dry weather over the greater part of the American North-West helped to bring about sharp early upturns in wheat values to-day. The relative firmness of Liverpool wheat quotations tended also to strengthen the market here. Opening unchanged to ⅜ cent higher, Chicago wheat afterward scored substantial general gains. Corn, oats, and provisions all likewise showed an advancing tendency, with corn starting ¾ cent off to ⅛ up, and subsequently rising all around.

Opening prices were: Wheat, July, 143 7-8, September 145 5-8; corn, July 104 3-8, September 103½; oats, July 55 7-8, September 46.

Sharp Drop In Pend Oreille Features Mining Market

TORONTO, June 6. Canadian Press. — Pend Oreille featured the trading on the Standard stock exchange this morning, dropping sharply to 15.50 for a loss of 1.30. More than four thousand shares changed hands and the stock opened with an overnight loss of 40c at 16.40. Elsewhere in the list price margins were narrow with gains and losses about evenly distributed.

Noranda lost 40c at 29.40 and McIntyre and Dome each declined 20c at 26.75 and 9.20 respectively. Hudson Bay at 18 lost a similar amount.

Hollinger was a strong point, advancing 40c to 14.25, and Sudbury Basin also moved up, selling at 9.25 for a gain of 25 points; Sherritt Gordon was up five at 6.10.

Advance Is Steady On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, June 6 (Canadian Press). — Prices moved steadily forward in a strong buying movement on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning, several issues gaining more than a point. International Nickel was again the leader in point of activity, but it was closely followed by Brazilian and Canada Dredging.

Twin City was tightly held, and on sales of less than two hundred shares advanced three points to 49½. Gypsum was another strong spot, up 2¾ to 70, while Canada Dredging jumped 2¾ to 38½. Bell Telepohne, after a period of weakness during mid-session, recovered to 172 for a pain of one point.

International Nicked declined in sympathy with Wall Street trading, and at noon was selling 1¼ lower at 97⅜. The greatest loss was sustained by Consumers' Gas, off three at 202, while Building Products was down 1¼ at 36.

Royal Bank soared ten points to 400, and was the strongest of the investment issues, while among the unlisted stocks Dominion Bridge was the leader, gaining 3¾ at 91½.

SHORTS FOR MEN.

English Doctor Urges Reform in Men's Dress For Health Value.

LONDON, England, June 6 (CP). —Dr. C. W. Saleeby, writing in "Overseas," demands reform in men's clothing: especially does he want "shorts" for male tennis players. He urges that all men would not look well in shorts, but other considerations are more important.

"We men must really begin to do something about our clothes. We are becoming ridiculous and threaten to become effete. Our sex is chiefly responsible for modern discoveries about the value of sunlight and air for the human body and mind, acting on and through the skin; but it is the other sex that has benefited. Hence, in no small measure, the practical disappearance of chlorosis, simple anaemia, the green-sickness of Shakespeare, from among our young women; and the great reduction in tuberculosis; whilst wonderful records in sport, and notably in the water, are being put to their credit. But, indeed, these contentions in favor of short skirts, the pneumonia blouse, falsely so-called, free arms and necks, which a few of us have been urging for half a generation or more, are now widely accepted and even repeated as new discoveries of a startling order."

BELLEVILLE GAME RAINED OUT

The Petes for the second week in succession have been rained out of a ball game. The Holyman outfit was billed to play in Belleville to-day but shortly before the time to leave the club received word from the secretary of the Belleville club that it had rained most of the night there, and was still raining, and that the game would have to be postponed The Petes thus will have two battles to work in later on, and will probably have to play a flock of games with not much rest between. Next week their program includes a double header at Deloro on Wednesday and a game here against Kingston on Saturday.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT.

PRESENTS ROLLICKING HIT

Anybody who likes to see the "home town boy make good"—and who doesn't—should join the rush to see "Alex. the Great," now playing at the Regent Theatre It is a great mixture of chuckles, giggles and plain old fashioned roaring laughter. It has its serious moments too when a great ambition and a great love seems to be hanging in the balance.

The central character is Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, a new comer to F B O pictures, but an old timer as far as the vaudeville and legitimate stages are concerned. He has also had plenty of picture experience.

"Skeets" leaves a Vermont farm determined to show his talents to New York. Lots of others have done it, and have had the conceit knocked out of them, but "Skeets" accepts the kidding and the knocks and has his baseball manager brother in law (Albert Conti) gasping for air before he knows anything is wrong.

There is an uproarious scene in a hotel dining room when Conti tries to get through a de luxe dinner with the aid of the book of etiquette on ihs lap. "Skeets" bluffs his way through, makes a deep impression on a high society girl, sells her father a flock of motor cars and winds up by giving him advice on how to raise pedigreed cows on his Long Island estate.

The story is punctuated by a laugh a minute.Patricia Avery plays the society girl. Ruth Dwyer is attractive as the city cousin of "Skeets," and Charles Byer is the man about town who seems to have the inside track on the society girl's favor until the country boy breaks into the scene. Byer is an exceptionally fine actor. He has appeared in some of the big pictures of the past year.

The screen play was adapted from H. C. Witwer's short story by Dudley Murphy and was also directed by him.

AT THE CAPITOL.

"SPORTING GOODS", RICHARD DIX'S NEWEST COMEDY FEATURE WHICH OPENS AT THE CAPITOL TO-MORROW, GREAT.

Did you ever play poker?

And did you ever have a woman stand behind your chair and ask questions—out loud—about your hand?

And were you ever three or four stacks behind and wondering how you'd ever catch up and then get one of those marvellous hands that come once in a lifetime?

If so, put on your hat and coat and hurry down to the Capitol Theater, when Richard Dix's new Paramount picture, "Sporting Goods" opens tomorrow for a three-day run.

It has in it one of the funniest poker sequences ever screened. It wouldn't be fair to the Capitol management to reveal the details of the hands by which Dix wins. It is enough to say that it will be a hilariously funny picture for every man, woman or child, who knows the difference between a pair of deuces and a straight-flush.

But poker isn't all that's in "Sporting Goods." It is just a very funny picture, in which Dix plays a golf suit salesman who is mistaken for a multi-millionaire and is forced to make good to win a girl he loves. He has some terrible obstacles—terrible to him but extremely comic to the audience—to overcome, including a trying situation on a beautiful California golf links, but he finally emerges on top.

Gertrude Olmsted plays the girl, and the rest of the supporting cast boasts such names as Ford Sterling, Myrtle Stedman, Philip Strange, Maude Turner Gordon, Claude King and Wade Boteler. The picture, one of the funniest in which Dix has ever played, was directed by Malcolm St. Clair, director of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

"WINGS"

Lorenzo del Riccio, the brilliant young cinema engineer responsible for the magnascope, or triple-size screen, presented with such startling effects in "Old Ironsides", arrived in New York yesterday from Hollywood to prepare some revolutionary projection effects for "WINGS", Paramount's epic of the air, which comes to the Grand Theatre on Saturday, June 9th.

Immediately following the successful presentation of "Old Ironsides" with the aid of the magnascope, Jesse Lasky placed del Riccio under contract and sent him to San Antonio, Texas, and Hollywood, to co-operate with those making and cutting "WINGS" so that he might work out certain amazing effects which he had outlined to Mr. Lasky. Now, after eight months, del Riccio is back in town, making his headquarters at the Grand Theatre.

Although he declined to reveal his effects in advance of the "WINGS" public presentation, del Riccio is reported to have developed and improved upon the magnascope process to such a degree that audiences viewing "WINGS" are going to experience the dizzy, terrifying sensation of actually flying 10,000 feet up among the clouds and engaging enemy planes in a reckless duel for life, and then of dropping to earth with the plane in a mass of flames.

"WINGS" was directed by William Wellman, who was a flyer in the Lafayette Escardille during the war. The story was written by John Monk Saunders, an instructor in flying back in 1917-18. The cast includes Clara Bow, Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Richard Arlen, Jobyna Ralston, Arlette Marchal, Gary Cooper, H. B. Walthal, Hedda Hopper, Julia Swayne Gordon, Gunboat Smith, El Brendel and a score of well-known character players of Hollywood, as well as more than a hundred daredevil aviators and 10,000 enlisted men who enacted the battle of St. Mihiel.

LADIES' AID HOLDS CLOSING MEETING

George Street Church Society Will Not Meet During Summer.

The closing meeting until September of the Ladies' Aid of George Street United Church was held in the board room of the Sunday school hall on Tuesday afternoon, with an attendance of seventy-three.

The president, Mrs. C. Z. Smith, occupied the chair and made a few remarks, expressing her appreciation of the splendid attendance at the meetings.

The devotional exercises were in charge of Mrs. E. E. Harvey. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Squire, and Mrs. MacFarlane led in prayer.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Staples and approved, nd the report of the treasurer, Mrs. S. Oke, was adopted.

Several letters of appreciation for flowers received were read by Miss Mary Elliott, corresponding secretary.

Miss Lillian Morrow, convenor of the flower committee, reported that thirty-five bouquets had been sent out from flowers received on Mothers' Day, and four other bouquets sent during the month.

The convenors of standing committees reported. Mrs. J. Stubb for the sick and visiting, reported over forty calls made during the month by herself and her committee.

Mrs. Shortley reported for cupboard; Mrs. Foote for furnishings, and Miss Miller for the rummage sale held recently by the society.

Miss Mary Elliott gave the report for the Christmas Fair Committee, announcing that a meeting of the convenors of booths and their committees would be held on June 15 at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Staples read a report of an executive meeting of the society bringing in a number of recommendations, which were adopted. It was decided to serve meals on July 12 at the Orange celebration here and arrangements were left in the hands of the executive and the social committee.

Mrs. Shortley and Miss Miller were appointed as delegates from the Society to meet the men's organization to arrange for the congregational picnic to be held the latter part of this month at Nicholls Oval, the exact date to be announced soon.

A short program consisting of a vocal solo by Mrs. L. Ingram and a talk by F. H. Dobbin on the early history of Peterborough was much appreciated.

At the conclusion of the meeting afternoon tea was served on the third floor of the Sunday school hall. The large tables were very attractively decorated with baskets of white lilacs and red tulips. Mrs. P. Hetherington and the social committee was in charge, assisted by Miss M. Elliott and Higgins, representing the Sunday school teachers of this floor who wished to show their appreciation for the help the Ladies' Aid had given them when they held the shower for the furnishings of the kitchenette on the third floor. Tea was poured by Mrs. Long and Mrs. Lindsay.

NEW MINISTERS ENTER CABINET

Dougald Donaghy and Ian Mackenzie Sworn in at Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, June 6. Canadian Press. — Dougald Donaghy, former member of the House of Commons for Vancouver north, and Captain Ian Mackenzie, Liberal member of the Legislature for Vancouver City, last night were sworn in as members of the British Columbia government, the former as Minister of Finance and Industries and the latter as Provincial Secretary.

MORTALITY HIGH.

Many Maternal Deaths For the City of Toronto.

TORONTO, Ont., June 6 (CP).—In the matter of Toronto's poor record in maternal mortality the splendid service rendered by civic and other social organizations as a means of alleviating conditions generally is evident, but the fact still remains that while the general death rate has been comparatively low, maternal mortality rates in this city are unfavorable in comparison to many other centres and have shown a steady and decided increase in each of the past three years.

No cases of maternal mortality have been registered among the cases coming under the observance of the Fred Victor Mission clinics, explained Miss Jones, one of the nurses belonging to the staff. Miss Jones, who is a graduate nurse from England, referred to the alarming rate of maternal mortality known in England. So alarming was the condition that the doctors, realizing that their numbers were insufficient to provide care necessary to maternity cases, instituted the training of a certain percentage of graduate nurses in maternity practice. The training was particularly stiff and a nurse qualifying must officiate at 20 cases under supervision and 20 cases "on her own" as well as pass examinations, before she was allowed to practice. Maternal mortality had shown a remarkable decrease of late years since England had awakened to a realization of conditions.

Canada's problem in combating maternal mortality, Miss Jones thought, was with the immigrant and ignorance brought by people of foreign birth to their home of adoption.

From experience in prenatal clinic work at the mission and home-to-home visits among maternity cases Miss Jones was of the conviction that the question of diet was of great importance. In the homes of unemployment, with the family depending upon the city for relief supplies, the mother's diet was painfully restricted. She believed that if, in relief cases, the expectant mother's diet could be supplemented by special and nourishing articles o food, the problem would be lessened.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE JOLLY BUGS

"There, my dears! I think we have played enough games!" said Uncle Wiggily to the forty twelve little bunny boys and girls who were dancing around him singing songs. "I must go in now and rest, so I shall be ready for more adventures tomorrow."

"Tomorrow is Saturday and there's no school!" cried Baby Bunty.

"Then Daddicums can take us adventuring with him!" said Jingle.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Mr. Longears. "All the adventures in the woods and fields might run and hide if they saw me coming to meet them with forty twelve little rabbits tagging after me."

"Let's play another game of tag," begged Tooter. "We haven't had half enough fun playing London Bridge Is Falling Down and Ring Around the Rosie and Dominoes."

"No, I can't play any more," said Uncle Wiggily. "You children were quite smart to guess the names of those three games for which I drew puzzle-pictures. Very clever indeed!"

For the little bunnies had guessed, as I suppose you did, that the bridge falling was the name of one game and the other games, Ring Around the Rosie and Dominoes, were just as easy. Leaving the little bunnies to jump about and shout and shout and sing, Mr. Longears hopped into his bungalow.

Bright and early next morning he was up and when he slid down the banister railing he took good care to look and see that his wife wasn't standing at the foot of the stairs where he once bumped her over.

"Well, now for a wonderful adventure!" cried the rabbit gentleman as he started off after breakfast.

It was a fine, warm, sunshiny day. The wind was blowing in the leaves of the trees, the birds were singing and all was peace and happiness.

But somewhere in the woods around Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow there was trouble. Out of his den, which was in a deep, dark cave near a tumbling waterfall, slunk the queer old Pipsisewah.

"It is a long, long time since I have had the pleasure of chasing Uncle Wiggily," said the Pipsisewah, who had a big name in four syllables—Pip-sis-e-wah. "A long, long time. I feel just like catching a rabbit this morning."

"Oh, did you hear that?" whispered one jolly little bug to another as they crawled along a tree leaf.

"You mean what the Pipsisewah said?" asked the second bug.

"Yes," buzzed the first one. "The Pip is going after Uncle Wiggily. We ought to stop the bad chap."

"But how can we little bugs stop so big a chap as the Pipsisewah?" asked another bug, crawling out from beneath the bark of an old log.

"There are many of us bugs," said still another crawling chap. "If we all flew together and told Uncle Wiggily the Pipsisewah was coming to get him, the bunny gentleman could run and hide. And if the Pip chases after him we can tickle the Bad Chap so he'll laugh and when he laughs he can't run fast."

"Let's do it!" buzzed the first bug. So the jolly little bugs started together to fly through the air ahead of the Pipsisewah, who didn't notice them; for he was thinking of rabbits.

Soon the jolly bugs arrived at a place where Uncle Wiggily was sitting on a log, wondering if he would have an adventure.

"My goodness!" cried Uncle Wiggily, jumping up; and just then the Bad Chap burst through the bushes. But Uncle Wiggily was ready for him. Quickly taking out pencil and paper Uncle Wiggily made some puzzle pictures which he held up in front of the Pipsisewah.

"These pictures are the name of four jolly bug friends of mine," said Uncle Wiggily. "Guess their names or I'll call the Police Dog!" Well, you should have seen that Pipsisewah! My; he was surprised!

ONE MESSAGE FALSE ALARM

Murmansk Station Mistook Instructions For Italia's S.O.S. Signals.

VAGUE DOUBTS SPREAD.

MOSCOW, June 6 (Canadian Press).—Elation in Moscow caused by the growing belief that the Italia had come down on Franz Joseph Land gave way to vague doubts to-day, when at least one of the SOS messages thought to have been picked up in Siberia turned out to be a false alarm.

It appeared that the Murmansk station, which yesterday reported hearing the Italia, mistook the radio instruction sent out from Moscow concerning rescue plans for the missing dirigible's call.

BODY OF BOY IS RECOVERED

One of Lads Who Tried To Swim Ashore For Help Found in Lake.

NOT IDENTIFIED.

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 6 (Canadian Press). — Word was brought to the city this morning of the finding off Grindstone Point, eight miles this side of Batchwanam, by three fishermen yesterday, of the body of one of the two boys who jumped overboard from the steamer Lambton in an attempt to swim ashore after the vessel went aground on Parisian Shoal last December. The two boys were Elmer Baird, of Wiarton, and Ivan C. Moon, of Owen Sound.

A portion of the rubber life-saving suit which the unfortunate boy had donned before jumping into the lake, tied with a rope to his companion, was still clinging to the body with the rope tied around his chest. It was impossible to tell which of the boys it was.

T.T.C. EMPLOYEES REQUESTS REFUND

Commission Says They Would Mean Million a Year—Strike Possible.

TORONTO, June 6 (Canadian Press).—The Toronto Transportation Commission has refused all seven requests presented by the Toronto Street Railwaymen's Union. The employees will meet to consider the situation on Saturday night, and a strike is said to be a possibility.

The men's requests are mainly concerned with pay for holidays, an increase of wages for maintenance men, and full pay for car crews whether they work full time or not. Commission officials state that acceding to the requests would involve an additional expenditure of $1,371,000 annually, which the Commission does not consider was justified, and an increase in fares. In the event of a strike, 3,200 men would be involved.

WINNING TICKET WORTH $1,310,000

Holder of Calcutta Sweepstakes First Prize Unknown —Syndicate Owns Second.

LONDON, June 6. Canadian Press. —Somebody somewhere is halding a slip of paper worth approximately $1,310,000 by reason of Felstead's Derby victory. This is the first prize in the Calcutta sweepstakes. The holder of the ticket has not yet been discovered.

lamingo's number, second in the Derby, is held by a Calcutta syndicate, and will pay $655,000, while $325,000 will go to the person holding the ticket on Black Watch, the third horse.

Cleveland Man Wins.

QUEBEC, June 6. Canadian Press. —C. E. Grimes of Cleveland, Ohio, is richer to-day by more than $29,000 by holding the winning ticket in the Derby lottery conducted by the Quebec branch of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada. W. Salter, of St. Johns, Nfld., had the second horse and wins $9700.

PROPOSES CHANGE IN WHEAT GRADING

Commons Committee Would Make Protein Content Basis For Grade.

OTTAWA, June 6. — (Canadian Press.)— A proposal that a protein content be made the basis on which wheat be graded was dealt with by the committee on Agriculture in its report submitted to the House of Commons to-day. It came to the conclusion that the nearest approach to an ideal index of the baking strength of bread was by determining the variety and quantity of the protein, the latter to be ascertained by a chemical test. At present the baking strength is determined on the variety and percentage of hard vitreous kernels.

The report stated that so far as the export trade was concerned there was not sufficient evidence as to the effect of the proposed change from the present way of grading to that of protein content to warrant the recommendation that it be adopted, but it di recommend that a full inquiry into that phase of the question be made.

FOUR BILLS LIKELY TO BE LEFT OVER

OTTAWA, Ont., June 6 (Canadian Press). — With the prorogation now expected within a few days, the fate of four important private bills lies in the balance. They are the Bell Telephone Bill, the Sun Life Bill, the Port Burwell and London Bill, and the Bill to construct a canal from Cornwall to a point near Montreal.

There is so little time left for private Bills that unless a day is granted especially for them, it is doubtful that they will be passed.

Lucy Kitchen Gives No Explanation of Strange Absence.

STIRLING, June 6.—Walking calmly into the Parsley Hotel, whence she had absented herself early Friday, Lucy Kitchen, a domestic servant, late Saturday night dispelled fears for her safety, though she could give no explanation for her disappearance. The young woman had left the hotel, presumably to make purchases at a nearby store, but beyond a single report that she had been seen with a male companion, Mrs. Fletcher, wife of the hotel proprietor, was unable to locate her, and consequently had notified the Provincial Police at Belleville, as well as Miss Kitchen's parents, who reside at Warkworth.

"No, sir."

"Did you expose or keep for sale liquor at your premises in North Monaghan on May 24?"

"No, sir."

"Did you sell or offer for sale liquor on May 24?"

"No, sir."

In the cross-examination by Mr. Hatton, witness said he was on friendly terms with McManus. He had known him for two years, and in that time he had been at his residence between 10 and 15 times. He declared he made home-brew for himself, but did not sell it.

"You were a member of the Great War Veterans?"

"Yes."

"Do you know why you were expelled?"

"I do not."

"Was it not for bootlegging?"

"It was not. They never told me."

This concluded the evidence.

WEDDING BELLS

COLLINS—HEFFERNAN

A pretty wedding took place at seven o'clock yesterday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Norah Isabelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Heffernan, of 208 Lake street, became the bride of Alfred Charles Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. Maher.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white georgette trimmed with white lace, with white veil and orange blossom wreath, long white gloves and white kid slippers with silk hose, and bouquet of pink roses and maidenhair fern.

The bridesmaid, Miss Rosaline Collins, was in pink georgette with small pink hat. She wore black satin slippers with matching hose and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and maidenhair fern.

Mr. Joseph Collins acted as best man.

After the ceremony, a dainty wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, attended by thirty-five guests, who spent several hours in the enjoyment of music and dancing. Late in the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Collis left by motor for a trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a gown of blue georgette with matching hat and black slippers and hose, tweed coat and fox fur scarf.

PERRY—BROKENSHIRE.

A very pretty wedding took place on Saturday, June 2, at 2.30 o'clock, in the First United Church, Lindsay, when Florence Amelia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brokenshire, was united in marriage to Mr. Henry Perry son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Perry, of Manchester, England, the Rev. Dr. Holling officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, consisting of calla lilies, snap dragons in pastel shades and large potted palms.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Henry A. Brokenshire, of Windsor, (who gave her in marriage) to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mr. C. W. Taylor, organist of the church.

The bride looked lovely in her wedding gown of white satin and radium lace, with large court train of white satin faced with pink, which was gathered slightly across the shoulders and over which fell her wedding veil, arranged in coronet effect, with small orange blossoms and seed pearls.

Her bouquet was of pale pink roses, lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern. The bridesmaid was Miss Rheta Brokenshire of Toronto, cousin of the bride, who looked charming in a frock of pale pink and orchid chiffon with picture hat to match, and silver shoes. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas, and wore the gift of the groom, a bracelet of antique design, set with tourmaline stones.

The dainty little flower girls, nieces of the bride, were Dorothy Blanche Brokenshire of Windsor, and Helen Lola Joyce of London, who wore bouffant dresses of pale blue taffeta, with pink bonnets, and carried baskets of sweet peas and forget me nots. They also wore the gifts of the groom, small butterfly brooches.

Mr. James Mark of Lindsay was best man and Mr. Melville Copp and Mr. Ray Brokenshire were ushers.

The groom's gift to the best man was a diamond tie pin.

Before the bridal party entered the church, Mrs. W. Ressor, in her usual charming manner sang "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," and during the signing of the register "O Promise Me."

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Glenelg street, Lindsay, the guests being received by Mr. and Mrs. Brokenshire and Mr. and Mrs. Perry. The bride's mother wore a gown of midnight blue crepe romaine, with a corsage bouquet of ophelia roses.

A buffet luncheon was served to about one hundred guests. The bride's table was prettily decorated with white satin streamers and bows, with the wedding cake in the centre. Rev. Dr. Holling proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom very suitably replied. A table of lovely gifts showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held.

The bride's going-away costume was a sand lace dress with navy blue tricotine coat and beautiful fox fur, the gift of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry left on an extended honeymoon trip to the coast, returning by way of the States, and will be at home to their friends on Cambridge street, Lindsay, after July 15.

The wedding is of interest to Peterborough, as the bride was a graduate of the Normal School here, and is a niece of Mrs. W. H. Copp, Elcome Crescent.

FITZGERALD—KYLIE.

St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Wednesday morning, June 6, when Mary, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Kylie of Keene, was united in marriage to Mr. James Fitzgerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fitzgerald of Peterborough.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Finn, and the wedding music was played by Miss L. Hurley. Miss Simons sang very sweetly during the progress of the nuptial mass. John Burke, cousin of the bride, served the wedding mass.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of corine shade of georgette over sunset silk crepe, with blonde shoes and hose and matching hat. Her bouquet was of mauve sweet peas.

The bridesmaid, Miss Nellie Kylie, was in pale green flat crepe, with cream colored hat and shoes, and bouquet of rose sweet peas.

Mr. Leo Fitzgerald, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

After the ceremony a dainty breakfast was served at the "Elite Tea Rooms" to the bridal party and immediate friends.

For travelling the bride wore a dress of grey and blue georgette over blue crepe, a blue coat trimmed with mole and small rose hat. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald will reside near Keene.

Obituary

MRS. ARTHUR DUNFORD.

Annie Beatrice McClure, wife of Arthur Dunford, died this morning at 9.45. She was born in Apsley and had resided at Beachwood Farm, near the Golf Links, for the past year. The funeral will take place on Friday at 2 p.m. from Beachwood Farm to Warsaw cemetery.

MRS. FRANK PETTIT.

TORONTO, June 6.— A quiet but impressive funeral service yesterday morning marked the close of the life of Mrs. Margaret Pettit, a well-known and deeply respected resident of Toronto, who died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Lola Craig, in her 80th year.

Although she had been in impaired health she was always genial and able to be around till death came peacefully. Her unfailing cheerfulness and her consideration for the comfort and happiness of others earned her a very wide circle of acquaintances, who invariably admired her kindly spirit and amiable manner. The profuse floral tributes around her casket provided silent evidence to the memory and esteem of a kind-hearted soul. She was born in Simcoe. Her husband, Mr. Frank N. Pettit, was editor of the Jarvis Record and Delhi Reporter newspapers for many years.

The remains were conveyed to Goodwood, where the deceased lived for some years. The funeral service was held in the United church and conducted by Rev. Mr. Otton. Interment took place in the family plot at Goodwood cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest beside those of her husband and daughter.

Her immediate survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Lola Craig; four grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, and one sister, Miss Minnie Griffin.

Mrs. Pettit once lived on Charlotte street, Peterborough, and had many friends in this city and vicinity.

TRANS-OCEANIC FLIGHT DELAYED AGAIN BY WIND

Miss Earhart and Companions Unable to Get Under Way.

ANXIOUS TO START.

Not Known Defintely What Time Departure Will Be Made.

TREPASSEY, Nfld., June 7 (Associated Press). -- Disturbed weather conditions in mid-ocean yesterday combined with unfavorable winds here to hold the trans-Atlantic plane Friendship in Trepassey Bay. After a day of vain hope that a way would be found to lift the big three-motored Fokker off the water, Miss Amelia Earhart and her two companions received weather reports which decided them against an immediate start on their long journey across the Atlantic.

Plainly chafing at the enforced delay, the fliers maintained their wonted reticence with regard to future plans. While indicating that no attempt would be made to take off last night, they left the probable time of their departure indefinite.

The weather reports which finally decided the issue were relayed here from the United States Weather Bureau, and told of strong easterly winds and an approaching storm along the Great Circle course from Newfoundland.

Early in the day the plane was all groomed for the flight, and the only bar to a take-off was the strong wind from the north-north-west which made it impossible to get the heavily loaded plane off the water.

CO-OPERATION IN TRADE RELATIONS

REGINA, Sask., June 7 (Canadian Press). — The importance of Imperial co-operative trade relations was the high note sounded in the sessions of the world wheat pool conference here yesterday.

Last night the Saskatchewan Government was host to the delegates. It was then that the finest Imperial co-operative commercial spirit was loosened. And it was reciprocal. For instance, when Sir Thomas Allen said he was present first as an Imperial Government representative, and second as members of the British Empire Marketing Board, adding: "The United Kingdom is Canada's best customer. If you think it worth while, buy your imports from us," there was marked applause. A moment later, when Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta, said: "There may be difficulties in the way of our merchandising, it is too often forgotten that it is not merely as a business device that co-operation claims our devotion, although we have no longer to argue that that system is essential to the fulfilment of even our purely business ends. It is the spirit of co-operation that matters most—that alone will ensure the loyalty that makes effective whatever laws and contracts are required to overcome the difficulties of organization."

Ask Many Questions.

Old Country delegates, as well as those from other countries, asked many questions of George McIvor, general agent, when he delivered his address. They wanted most intimate details of how the big job was handled. The American pool representatives particularly wanted every detail that would help their co-operative merchandising efforts. The same alert interest in the Old Country wholesale co-operative organizations' problems was displayed by the Canadian and American delegates when they were addressing the conference. Especially were they interested in the prospective increase in demands for farm products from this continent by the co-operatively operated consumers' associations.

Unable To Identify Body Of Sailor

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 7 (Canadian Press). — The body of the steamer Lambton sailor, which was recovered on Tuesday by fishermen near Grindstone Point, reached the Sault yesterday afternoon, but so far it has not been possible to identify it definitely. It is that of either Elmer Baird, of Wiarton, or Ivan Moon, of Owen Sound, the two boys who jumped overboard in an attempt to swim the eleven miles to shore when the steamer grounded on Parisian Shoal in White Fish Bay in the storm of last December. Gavin H. Shanks, of the New Ontario Dock, received a wire from the Matthews Steamship Company, owners of the vessel, asking him to endeavor to have the body identified, and to make arrangements for it to be looked after. Coroner McCaig stated that he did not think an inquest would be necessary.

FOUR ACTIONS ARE ENTERED

Two Jury Suits and Two Non-Jury To Be Heard Next Week.

NO CRIMINAL CASES.

Four cases are on the docket to come before His Honor Judge Huycke at the June sittings of the County Court, which commence next Tuesday. As yet, no criminal cases have been entered. Of the four civil actions, two are jury and the other two non-jury.

William Henry is suing the city of Peterborough for $5,000 and costs as the result of a fall which he sustained on Brock Street on the 20th of February, 1927. The city claims Henry did not keep a proper lookout and did not exercise due care, hence it is not responsible. Gordon and Elliott are acting for the plaintiff and Joseph Wearing for the city.

Percival V. Hansman and Jean Hansman are plaintiffs in an action against Thomas J. Moore. The action is over a strip of land between the defendant's and plaintiffs' homes on Stewart Street. The plaintiffs are claiming $500 damages for wrongful interference and for placing obstructions on their property by the defendant. The defendant on the other hand has entered a counter-claim for $500 damages when he and the Hansmans got into a scrap which resulted in a police court action. Peck, Kerr and McElderry are for the plaintiffs and Gordon and Elliott for the defendant.

Gertrude H. Smith, a clerk, and Robert Hull, a horse buyer, are suing John C. Poolman, manufacturer, for damages as the result of a motor accident on the 12th of October last, at the corner of Romaine and Park Streets. Miss Smith had her collar bones fractured, and is claiming $1,000 damages and costs. Hull claims $350 damages and costs. Mr. Poolman has entered a counter-claim for $200. Hall, Hall and Stevenson are acting for the plaintifffs and Hughes and Agar of Toronto for the defendant.

John R. Bothwell, of the Township of South Monaghan, is suing Harry J. Sarginson of this city for $500. Bothwell is asking for damages for injuries received when he was hit on the head by a rifle bullet on February 17, 1927. He claims the defendane had unlawful possession of the rifle, was negligent, and that the bullet cannot be removed from his head without injury to the skull, and at great danger to his life. Defendant claims he had nothing to do with the discharging of the rifle and that plaintiff refused to have an operation performed. Gordon and Elliott are acting for the plaintiff and Joseph Wearing for the defendant.

MISSIONARY IS CHOSEN AS MODERATOR

Rev. Dr. John Buchanan, of India, Heads Presbyterian Church.

PROGRESS REPORTED.

Gain of 12 Per Cent. in Membership Mentioned in Acting Moderator's Address.

REGINA, Sask., June 7.— (Canadian Press.)— By acclamation, the Rev. Dr. John Buchanan, B.A., M.D., of Amkut, Ali Rajpur, Central India, and member of the Presbytery of Paris, Ont., was elected to the Moderatorship of the 54th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada at the inaugural session held here last night. For the first time in the history of the General Assembly, only one name was submitted in nomiantion for the highest office in the gift of the Assembly, Dr. Buchanan's election was acclaimed by prolonged applause.

Dr. Buchanan, who is at present on furlough from his mission field, was nomiantedby the Rev. E. G. Thompson, of Woodstock, Ont., the seconder being Rev. Dr. S. Banks Nelson, of Hamilton, Ont.

In a brief speech of acceptance Dr. Buchanan declared he regarded his election as an "expression designed to convey to the world that we are cognizant of the great importance of the foreign mission field."

At the opening sederunt, which was attended by 250 commissioners, Rev. Dr. A. J. MacGillivray, of Guelph, acting moderator, declared there were few reasons for discouragement and many reasons for encouragement. Although the work of the church was handicapped by lack of men and money with which to prosecute a forward movement there had been a notable advance all along the line, including a gain of 12 per cent in the membership in two years and the erection or purchase of more than 200 church buildings since disruption.

Veteran Missionary.

TORONTO, June 7. —(Canadian Press.)— Dr. John Buchanan, who last night was elected moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly in Regina, is one of the oldest missionaries in the field, being founder of the Bhil mission in India which with the Gwalior mission, makes up the only mission fields in India which the Presbyterian church now controls. He graduated from Queen's University, in 1887 in Arts and Theology and had been missionary all his life.

C.W.L. APPOINTS SIX COUNCILLORS

Arrangements Made For Graduation Exercises of Nursing Class.

Appointed as Councillors of the Catholic Women's League at a meeting of the society held last evening in the assembly hall of St. Alphonsus' Lyceum were Mrs. W. Duffus, Mrs. M. J. Roche, Mrs. J. Paquette, Mrs. W. Grady, Mrs. P. Burke, and Miss Nellie Brady.

Mrs. J. J. Lynch, president, was in the chair for the meeting, during which arrangements were discussed for the graduation exercises of St. Joseph's Hospital Training School for Nurses, the League being in charge of the exercises, which take place on Friday night.

Reports were given by Mrs. B. Law and Miss Norah Shevlin, and Miss Mamie McCarthy read a letter from D. A. Costello, Grand Knight, thanking the ladies of the League for assistance with the recent K. of C. celebration.

NINE LADIES JOIN OTONABEE CHAPTER

I. O. D. E. Branch Decides to Furnish Sun Porch at Protestant Home.

Nine new members were added to the roll at the regular meeting of the Otonabee Chapter, I.O.D.E., held yesterday afternoon in the green room of the Y.W.C.A., with the president, Mrs. F. L. Robinson, in the chair.

It was decided to furnish a sun porch for the old ladies resident at the Protestant Home, and plans for the Hope Chest, which will be drawn for some time in the Fall months, were also discussed.

Mrs. F. L. Robinson gave a brief summary of the proceedings of the annual meeting of the National Chapter of the I.O.D.E., held recently in Toronto.

A woman can be looking at a man ever so sweetly and thinking of some one else.

Race Looms Between Two Women Fliers For Honors In Crossing Atlantic Ocean

CURTISS FIELD, N. Y., June 7. — A race between two women for the honor of being the first of their sex to fly across the Atlantic grew warmer last night as Miss Mabel Boll, "Queen of Diamonds," aided her two man crew in preparing the monoplane Columbia for an immediate ocean flight.

Charles A. Levine, owner of the ship in which he and Clarence Chamberlin flew to Germany last summer, intimated that the plane would take off "some time this morning," for Old Orchard Maine, and that the actual start of the ocean hop would be from there "later in the week."

"There's no hurry," Levine said. "We'll have good weather for a while yet and that's all we need."

Meantime, Miss Amelia Earhart, rival for the laurels Miss Boll seeks, was marking time at Trepassey, Nfld., where her trimotored plane was waiting favorable conditions for a start on a flight to England.

They were not sure last night that the Columbia could take off here with a full load and intimated that fuel for the long ocean hop would be taken aboard at Old Orchard.

The full weight of the ship, loaded with 487 gallons of gasoline and carrying his three passengers, Le Boutillier said, would be the heaviest ever lifted by a single motor of the horsepower of that in the Columbia.

PROGRESSIVE MEMBER ACCEPTS DENIAL OF CHARGES HE UTTERED

John Evans Hesitates When Ordered By Speaker to Accept.

SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS.

Speaker Calls Them Worst He Has Heard in 30 Years—Threatens to Use Powers.

OTTAWA, June 7. — (Canadian Press.)— "I accept." These words from John Evans, Progressive, Rosetown, Sask., terminated in the House to-day an incident which for a moment or two threatened alarming proportions. Yesterday, Mr. Evans made charges against Dr. Young, Liberal member for Saskatoon, which Speaker Lemieux to-day characterized as the worst he had heard in 30 years. Dr. Young today denied the charges intoto. Mr. Evans returned that he was of the opinion that his statements of yesterday were correct.

When Mr. Evans concluded Speaker Lemieux called upon Mr. Evans to accept the denial unreservedly. The Speaker added that he would be sorry to have to use the powers conferred upon him. Mr. Evans hesitated but then rose and uttered the two words.

Firemen Make Round About Run

The fire brigade took a roundabout route to answer a call last night about 8.30. First it travelled to the corner of Charlotte and Reid Streets, from which the call had come, and then had to turn around and speed to Charlotte and Louis Streets, near which a motor car had taken fire. However, the blaze had been extinguished without any appreciable damage being done.

DEVELOPMENT ALL IN CHARGE OF MINISTER

House Committee On Agriculture Proposes Organization of Department.

WITH TWO BRANCHES.

Colonization and Industrial Progress of Dominion Would Be Cared For.

OTTAWA, June 7. — Canadian Press. — An amendment recommending that Department of Immigration, Colonization and Industrial Development be organized forthwith was moved in the House of Commons to-day to the report submitted by the committee on agriculture respecting immigration.

The amendment was moved by C. H. Cahan, Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George) and set forth that the proposed department should be under the administration of a responsible Minister of the Crown, and consist of two branches, immigration and colonization and industrial development.

The duties of the immigration and colonization branch would be to procure co-operation of the provincial governments and co-ordinate the work of all other organizations in promoting immigration. It would also see that settlers were of a suitable type and look after settling them in this country.

The industrial and development branch would make a complete economic survey of the industrial resources of Canada, and advise in regard to future economic development in the provinces with a view to a rapid extension of industrial employment.

THE CHURCHES

GOSPEL HALL.

Last night again Harold P. Morgan held spellbound a large audience as he opened up the truth of the Lord Jesus meeting and delivering those who were afflicted with various ailments and not like so many fakers to-day who say they have healing powers. In every case the Lord was immediately forthcoming with no delay. Mr. Morgan showed the difference between Religion and Christianity. Religion is man-made, an assent of the will to certain rules and ceremonies—and no Christ, but Christianity is a life divine imparted to a poor sinner who acknowledges his need and comes in utter dependance to the Saviour of sinners. The person that does this with no one between invariably is made whole and rejoices in sins forgiven and security for the future against the devil and all his advocates.

Mr. Morgan is saying over next Sunday.

WATER SPORTS ARE ARRANGED

FIRST ONE JUNE 23.

A meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce last Monday night in the hope of stimulating water sports in Peterborough. A committee of representative citizens interested was elected with Jim Matthews as chairman.

The decision was then reached to hold a number of regattas throughout the summer in the city on Saturday and Wednesday afternoons, the idea being according to the chairman, to provide something in Peterborough on these various half holidays to put some life in the city.

The first of these regattas is to be held Saturdaoy, June 23rd. A motion was also passed to approach the council with the view to appropriate a fifty dollar grant for the erection of a permanent diving tower to encourage the sport in this feature.

There will be no entry fee for those desiring to participate at the first regatta and there will be no admission charge for the spectators. The idea is solely to work up enthusiasm in the line of aquatic sports.

The program is to be made up on races for all ages and sizes and different competitions in the water. Novelties such as speed boating, aqua-planing behind fast boats to provide a thrill for the most daring demonstrations in boom jumping by motor boats, and water polo will be indulged in and a lively competition is expected.

The committee is working very hard and are giving a lot of their time to this and it is hoped by them that there will be a real representative showing in the sport. The competitions are open to everyone and the novice is especially invited to make his appearance as there will be plenty for him to do. In fact, nearly everyone will be a new hand at most of the stunts planned as a novel program is being sought by the committee.

DEADLOCK DEVELOPS.

Mayor's Efforts To Arrange For Board of Conciliation Are Turned Down.

TORONTO, Ont., June 7 (Canadian Press). — The Dominion Government has taken a hand in an effort to avert the threatened strike on the Toronto Street Railway system. Controller Robbins, who is secretary of the Toronto Railway Employees' Union, announced to-day that he had received a message from Edward Compton, Dominion fair wage officer, that a conference had been arranged between the men's representatives and the Toronto Transportation Commission.

A deadlock has developed between the employees and the Commissioners over the question of increased wages and holidays, Mayor Sam McBride stated to-day. The Mayor made an effort to bring the parties together to discuss submitting the matters in dispute to the Board of Conciliation, but was told by the Commission that that body had said its last word.

The men meet on Saturday night to discuss what action they shall take.

MORE PAVING FOR HIGHWAY

Little Paving Company Will Do Work South of Rossmount.

STARTING NEXT WEEK.

Paving operations are to commence next week on the Peterborough-Port Hope Highway. The work will commence at Rossmount, where it was left off last year, and will be continued towards Port Hope. The Little Paving Company was to commence the work this week but the heavy rains have delayed paving operations, and played havoc with the road.

Under the plan, Aluminum, Limited, stock shares are distributable to holders of common stock of the Aluminum Company of America, of record June 4, the distribution being one share of Aluminum, Limited, to three shares of common of the parent company, held by stockholders of the latter.

CHINESE SUIT ENGAGES COURT

Laid Over For Some Weeks For Production of Plaintiff's Bookkeeper.

AT CAMPBELLFORD.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 7.—There were six cases on the docket for the division court held here yesterday afternoon before His Honor, Judge Huycke of Peterborough. Two of the cases were settled out of court, one was called three times, and the defendant did not appear. The case which required the major portion of the session took the form of a Chinese puzzle, which His Honor attempted to piece together and arrive at a satisfactory decision. This was not an easy matter, since one witness whose evidence was considered to be necessary was not present, and the case was laid over till June 29th, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The first case was Peake vs. Horseman. When called, neither party was present, and the judge proceeded to call the second and third cases. These parties were not present, and the fourth case was called, Fowlds vs. Duncalfe. This had been settled out of court, His Honor was advised. The fifth case was the second one to be dealt with. This was McArthur vs. Malm, an after payment garnishee. The money having been paid into court it was handed over to McArthur, and the sixth case was called. Bidgood vs. Bennett. This case had been settled out of court, it was explained.

McKelvie vs. Simpson was the first case to be heard. G. A. Payne was counsel for the defense while Mr. McKelvie elected to conduct his own case. The matter arose out of the sale of a car and a note which had been given in payment. This note had been signed by two men, Allen S. Simpson and J. Alfred Simpson. This note was not yet paid. It developed that Alfred Simpson was a minor and therefore his signature on the note was not legal. His Honor, after remarking that McKelvie should have retained a lawyer to attend to his interest in court, gave judgment to the amount of the note in favor of McIelvie.

The Chinese case was the next called. It was Quang Hi Chung, Toronto, vs. Lee Jung, Campbellford. D. J. Lynch appeared for the plaintiff and T. B. Hawkins, law student, conductd the case for the defendants. Since the Toronto Chinese did

WOULD LEAVE QUESTION UNTIL FALL SEASON

Lithuania Dictator Defies the League Council on Vilna Problem.

OPPOSES RESOLUTION.

Warned By France That Assembly Would Impose Own Decision.

GENEVA, June 7.—(A.P.) — The diminutive dictator of Lithuania, Augustine Waldermaras, successfully defied the entire council of the League of Nations yesterday, keeping alive his country's claim to Vilna, which Poland occupied with military forces in 1920. He blocked the council's attempt to secure passage of a resolution calling for urgent settlement of the Polish-Lithuanian conflict.

Resuscitating a practice which had not been followed since the early days of the council's existence, President Aguero, of Cuba, requested each member of the council in turn to vote on the resolution introduced by the council committee. Every member voted "Yes" except M. Waldermaras, who, sitting temporarily as a member of the council, voted "no." As unanimity for such resolutions is required, the motion was lost.

The sensational day was marked by a scarcely veiled warning from M. Paul Boncour, of France, that if Poland and Lithuania could not settle their differences within a specified period, the council should impose its decision.

Neither this threat of covenant penalties, nor fervid appeals from the representatives of all the great powers, was able to move M. Waldemaras, who doggedly fought every attempt to have a time limit put on to Lithuanian-Polish negotiations, and insisted that any resolution should not omit reference to the Lithuanian claims to the Vilna region.

Presents Substitute.

M. Waldemaras charged that the council by discussing the Polish question at a secret session had sealed his lips and prevented him from talking about the position of Lithuaniana in the district of Vilna. He presented a substitute resolution, which every member of the council rejected by a nominal vote.

It was that the council, believing that execution of its December resolution calling for the restoration of normal relations between Poland and Lithuania would powerfully contribute to the maintenance of peace in Oriental Europe, expresses the wish that this resolution be carried out in all respects with the briefest possible delay.

This kept the Vilna claim before the council, because the assembled resolution stipulated that it in nowise affected questions on which governments have differences of opinion.

M. Waldermaras demanded clarification of the rules of the council, insisting that there were cases where only a majority vote was required. Driven into the necessity for some action Sir Austen Chamberlain, Great Britain, said: "Well, I will introduce a motion, which is clearly a matter of procedure, and hence, needs only a majority, namely, that the council put the question of Polish-Lithuanian relations on the agenda of the September session.

BURBUT CAUGHT NEAR WESTWOOD

Anglers Much Surprised When One Pulls in Strange Fish.

WESTWOOD, June 7. — Westwood anglers were much surprised and puzzled on Tuesday when William Wilson landed a very peculiar fish. It was eighteen inches in length, with a head similar to that of a mudcat, having fins but no scales.

After it was carefully inspected and a Book of Knowledge consulted, it was found to be a burbut. This is the first of this species to be taken from the Ouse River here, although it is reported they are common in the Great Lakes.

MILLBROOK C.G.I.T. HOLD LAST MEETING

Good Meeting Closes Season of Wide-Awake Group.

MILLBROOK, June 7.—The Wide Awakes group of Canadian Girls in Training met in regular session on Sunday afternoon and decided to postpone further gatherings until after the school examinations are concluded. Most of the members are writing through out this month and the extra studying involved means that the girls cannot give attention to outside events while school claims are paramount.

The Bible fund collection was taken up, and attention was given the matter of subscriptions to the Girls' Own Number of the Torch" the official organ of the C.G.I.T. movement.

The topic for study was The Responsibility of Using Talents," the Scripture lessons read in unison being Matthew 25: 14-30; and Mark 10: 17-22. The talk was given by the group leader, and the hymn sung was, More Love to Thee, O Christ," a charter member of the group, and a former organist, Miss Hazel McMahon, who was home from Toronto for the week-end, being warmly welcomed and presiding at the piano.

The annual group picnic will be planned for early in the holiday season, as will also the group outing for a week or ten days when a cottage will be taken at some convenient point, and it is hoped all the members may have a holiday together.

Among those from Millbrook who motored to Uxbridge on Sunday, and attended the annual rally of the Men's Bible Class of the United Church were: Messrs. F. McMahon, Thomas Douglas, Chester Fee, H. Argue, Edgar Fallis, H. J. Anderson, W. Byam, E. L. Burnham, George Clarke, Arnold Fallis, Kenneth Fallis, Bruce Freelove.

Mr. Gould, the teacher of the Men's Class at Uxbridge, with the class orchestra, and several members of the organization, came here last Fall and conducted the evening service on Rally Sunday to the great pleasure and inspiration of the large congregation on that occasion.

The Men's Bible Class, of which Mrs. (Dr.) Rae is the teacher, extended the invitation and were hosts for the visitors on the Sunday in question.

Personal.

Lang and Tinney shipped a car-load of hogs to Peterborough from Cavan station on Monday, and on Tuesday morning Lang and Madill shipped a car-load of cattle to Toronto from the same depot.

Mr. Lang went to Toronto on Tuesday to attend to the disposal of the stock.

Mrs. E. Whyte is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Fitzgerald, in Toronto at present.

The Misses Marcella and Marguerite Lang have returned home after a pleasant visit with their sister, Mrs. Walter E. Wright, Peterborough.

KNOX UNITED ACTS AS HOST

Regent Street and Wesley Congregations Entertained at Lakefield.

NEIGHBORLY VISIT.

LAKEFIELD, June 7.—On Monday evening the elders, managers, trustees and officials of Knox United Church, Lakefield, and their wives entertained the corresponding officials and ladies of Regent Street and Wesley United Churches. Knox Sunday School room was prettily decorated for the occasion with lilacs and lily of the valley.

Rev. T. M. Wesley was in the chair and "Neighborliness" was the keynote of his address; neighborliness between families, communities, churches and nations.

Speeches by representatives of the three congregations were interspersed with delightful musical numbers by three Peterboro artists under the able direction of Mrs. Greenslade. Miss Hetherington delighted the audience with three piano solos, for she is a paragon at the piano.

Miss Stenton, who is a pleasing contralto, sang two exquisite solos of the lullaby order, and Mr. Harold Snelgrove's splendid voice was heard to advantage in two solos.

The speeches, aforesaid, that the chairman humorously likened to plain bread, while the music was delicious preserves, were really very palatable indeed. Mr. Northey of Wesley, newly home from the Bay of Quinte Conference, held at Smith's Falls, was not allowed to plead an inferiority complex because of the presence of ministers, mayor, etc., and escape a speech. He gave his message as only a good layman can. So also did Mr. E. A. Tanner, who looked forward to the Union of Lakefield's United Churches under one roof.

Rev. S. A. Kemp, although he said re came to listen and not to speak, expressed his pleasure at the unanimity of the congregations represented.

The keynote of all the speeches was the marriage of the two churches at the proper time. After all the important question is not so much where we stand as "what direction are we going," and after Monday night's speeches there is little doubt where Knox and Regent Street United Churches are heading.

Mr. J. H. Sherin caused a laugh when he said "Union was indeed in the air when the C.N.R. and C.P.R. representatives of our village were seated side by side."

Knox Church ladies served dainty refreshments and the meeting closed in a manner which echoed the sentiments of good loyalty so often expressed during the evening.

Shoot Changed.

The shoot arranged by the Lakefield Rifle Club for Thursday, June 14, will be held to-day, in order to avoid conflicting with the business men's excursion which has been arranged for June 14th.

Personals.

Mrs. Robert Bullock is visiting friends in Dummer.

Mr. Frank Edgar, B.A., of Toronto, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Langley.

Mrs. Joseph Harrison of Peterboro was in the village on Tuesday.

LAKEFIELD INN FORMALLY OPEN

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Strickland Mark Occasion With Informal 'At Home.'

A HOMEY HOSTEL.

LAKEFIELD, June 7.—The Lakefield Inn" was formally opened for business on Friday, after being closed for the past two months, while being renovated and many modern improvements added. On the eve of the opening, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Strickland held an informal At Home" for all the residents of the village who wished to attend and to look over the hotel which is a thoroughly up-to-date hostelry and with its new wall paper and paint, presents an especially attractive appearance.

More than one hundred people took advantage of the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Strickland and joined in a chorus of admiration and praise of the entire building. The rotunda with its home-like touches of blue madras curtains, rugs laid on the floor and cabinets with dainty ornaments which one observed in the corners, to say nothing of the radio which was in the writing room. The electric fixtures were of Mission design and corresponded with the dark woodwork and soft grey-toned walls.

A tea room has been added to the hotel equipment and is in charge of Miss Mary Mackenzie.

The dining room has soft cream-toned walls with gay chintz curtains and crystal and silver electroliers, the tables are attractive with the pretty dishes of a distinctly English pattern. A large pantry, which would delight any housekeeper with its convenient shelves and neat rows of glasses and dishes, and the airy kitchen in which a competent Chinese chef is monarch of all he surveys, were all open for inspection, and were all highly commended as being indeed the last word. Miss Florence Hewitt is the dietician. Upstairs the rooms are visions of comfort with chintz paper and white dotted swiss curtains in the bedrooms. The paper varies so that there is no monotony, but everywhere daintiness. The floor of the second floor are covered with a soft taupe carpet and those of the third floor with cheerful brown and tan linoleum.

Refreshments were served to the visitors, tea was poured by Mrs. O. A. Langley and Mrs. W. J. Charlton and the young people assisted in serving the guests.

It was a delightful social event, and its very homey" atmosphere was a happy omen of the future when much of the social activity of the village and community will centre, as it has done in the past, around the village inn, which is a very tangible link between the transient visitors and the residents of the community and has definite and distinct place in the village life.

CAVAN CHURCH HAS BIRTHDAY

United Congregation Marks Anniversary With Special Sunday Services.

CAVAN, June 7.—Very successful anniversary services were held at Cavan United church on June 3rd, when the Rev. Archer Wallace, Toronto, preached morning and evening to large congregations. The morning service was especially the children's service, it being the Sunday school anniversary. The choir was filled by members of the Sunday school, who sang two special numbers very nicely.

Mr. Wallace spoke to the children from the text in Mark, "Suffer the little children to come unto me." His address was appropriate for children and of interest to the older people as well.

In the evening the church was filled to capacity, many motoring from Millbrook and Bethany and other districts to hear Mr. Wallace, who has several times addressed congregations in this locality.

In the evening his subject was, "Right and Wrong Ideas of Religion." He commenced his topic by telling of a questionnaire submitted to a couple of hundred young people in New York, asking "What is Christianity and quoting some of the answers received. As he developed his subject he showed that Christianity is not a creed but an experience, and that God is not a detective to find out our sins and misdeeds, but rather a God of Love, seeing the good in each one and anxious to help each person in the better life. Just as an earthly father is anxious to help and encourage an erring child, so is God waiting to help those who put their trust in Him.

The choir's music added much to the enjoyment of the anniversary service. They sang the anthem "I will lift mine eyes unto the Lord," with Miss Annie Tunney, Mr. R. Sutton and Mrs. A. B. Kennedy taking solo parts. Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Staples also sang a duet. Mrs. Totten presided at the organ.

Supper-Entertainment.

On Monday evening an excellent supper was served in the Community Hall, after which Rev. Archer Wallace delivered a very interesting, entertaining and profitable lecture on "Is the world growing better?" Miss Daisy Murray contributed several solos in her usual pleasing manner, with Mrs. L. Winslow as accompanist. The Rev. J. O. Totten presided. There was a good crowd and both supper and entertainment were a success.

Chickens Stolen.

Chicken thieving is commencing early in Cavan. Mr. H. Dawson had his chickens stolen a short time ago. This is a line on the farm which requires a great deal of time and patience and when a farmer gets his fowl safely over the first few weeks, it is a great loss to be deprived of them.

The Borden Co. Limited

That the Canadian Mother May Have Quick and Ready Information On Feeding Her Child

BORDEN'S EAGLE BRAND MILK

In the following charts and data we provide the Canadian mother with the necessary information she may require for the use of Borden's Eagle Brand Milk for her child. You will note that the directions provide for a child from three days of age through until the child is 24 months old.

In addition to the directions for feeding Borden's Eagle Brand Milk, the mother should read carefully the suggestions which should be adopted in connection with the use of Borden's Eagle Brand Milk. The Borden Company Limited is proud of the fact that it has been helpful in the raising of many, many Canadian infants into sturdy boys and girls and men and women who are a credit to their country. For further information, do not hesitate to write direct to The Borden Company Limited—Montreal.

IMPORTANT.—In preparing feeding mixtures it is imperative that all utensils, bottles, nipples, etc., should be sterilized in boiling water before using. Use a dry spoon in removing contents from the can, and in measuring be careful to pour from can to spoon, allowing the milk in the spoon to level itself. Repeat this procedure with every spoonful measured, using the same spoon every time. This will insure accurate measurement and produce the best results.

DIET FOR CHILD DURING THE SECOND YEAR

Usually after the twelfth month, the mother should select a diet schedule. Every new article of food should be carefully prepared, and given at first in very small quantities. All meals are to be given regularly, with nothing between meals. With many children this expansion of the diet list is attended with considerable difficulty. They are thoroughly satisfied with milk, and refuse all other form of nourishment. In such cases, withhold the milk until the more solid articles of food have been eaten. If both are given at the same time, the child will prefer the milk and when he has finished drinking it he will refuse the solid food. The following diet schedule will permit the mother to select a suitable meal from the foods listed. It is never advisable to make a change in diet during very hot weather.

NOTE: One teaspoonful of EAGLE BRAND CONDENSED MILK added to one ounce of boiled water results in a mixture equivalent in nutritive value to whole milk. Whenever the word milk appears in the following diet, EAGLE BRAND should be diluted accordingly.

12th TO 15th MONTH---FIVE MEALS DAILY

7 A.M.—Oatmeal, barley, or wheat jelly, one to two tablespoonfuls in 6 or 8 ounces of milk. Stale bread and butter, or rusk and butter.

9 A.M.—The juice of one orange.

11 A.M.—Scraped rare beef, one to three tablespoonfuls, mixed with equal quantity of bread and moistened with beef-juice. Or a soft-boiled egg mixed with stale bread-crumbs; a piece of rusk and 6 or 8 ounces of milk.

3 P.M.— Beef, chicken, or mutton broth, with rice or stale bread broken into the broth. Six ounces of milk, if wanted. Stale bread and butter or rusk and butter. Many children at the above age will take and digest apple-sauce and prune pulp; when these are given, milk should be omitted.

6 P.M.—Two tablespoonfuls of cereal jelly in 8 ounces of milk; a piece of rusk. Stale bread and butter.

10 P.M.—A tablespoonful of cereal jelly in 8 ounces of milk.

15th TO 18th MONTH--FOUR MEALS DAILY

7 A.M.—Oatmeal, hominy, cornmeal, each cooked three hours the day before they are used. When the cooking is completed the cereal should be of the consistence of a thin paste. This is strained through a colander, which upon cooling will form a mass of jelly-like consistence. Of this give two or three tablespoonfuls, served with milk. 8 or 10 ounces of milk as a drink. Toast.

9 A.M.—The juice of one orange.

11 A.M.—A soft-boiled egg mixed with stale bread-crumbs, or one tablespoonful of scraped beef mixed with stale bread-crumbs and moistened with beef-juice. A drink of milk. Rusk or bran biscuit, or stale bread and butter.

3 P.M.—Mutton, chicken, or beef broth, with rice or junket or with stale bread broken in the broth. Custard, corn-starch, plain rice pudding, junket, stewed prunes, baked apple or apple sauce.

6 P.M.—Farina, cream of wheat, wheatena (cooked two hours). Give from one to three tablespoonfuls, served with milk. A drink of milk. Rusk or stale bread and butter.

18th TO 24th MONTH--FOUR MEALS DAILY

7 A.M.—Cornmeal, oatmeal, hominy (prepared as in the above schedule). Serve with milk, or with butter and salt. A soft-boiled egg every two or three days. Hashed chicken on toast occasionally. A drink of milk. Bran biscuit and butter, or stale bread and butter.

9 A.M.—The juice of one orange.

11 A.M.—Rare beef minced or scraped; the heart of a lamb chop, finely cut. Chicken. Spinach, asparagus tips, squash, strained stewed tomatoes, stewed carrots, mashed cauliflower. Baked apple or apple-sauce. Stale bread and butter. After the twenty-first month, baked potatoes and well-cooked strained beans.

3 P.M.—Chicken, beef or mutton broth, with rice or with stale bread broken into the broth. Custard, corn-starch, or plain rice pudding, junket, stewed prunes. Bran biscuit and butter or stale bread and butter.

6 P.M.—Farina, cream of wheat, wheatena (each cooked two hours). Give one to three tablespoonfuls, served with milk, or with butter and salt. A drink of milk. Rusk or stale bread and butter.

The following suggestions have proved to be helpful when properly used with bottle feedings, and they may be used in conjunction with Eagle Brand Condensed Milk.

Always pour the milk from the can into the spoon—allowing it to level itself but not run over. You can readily understand that by dipping the spoon into the can you get more than a level spoonful, because of the milk that would adhere to the bottom of the spoon.
When you have added the milk to the water stir thoroughly. This is important.
After opening, it is safe to leave the milk in the original can. We recommend that you cover the can tightly with an inverted cup, and keep it in a cool, clean place.

ORANGE JUICE

When baby is four months old, give one teaspoonful or strained orange juice, diluted with equal quantity of boiled water, once daily before feeding time. Gradually increase the amount until you are giving the strained juice of a half of an orange undiluted, once daily before feeding time. Orange juice may be continued until child is old enough to eat other fruits as well as oranges.

OATMEAL JELLY

When baby is five months old, add one teaspoonful of oatmeal jelly to each feeding. Gradually increase the amount until you are adding three tablespoonfuls of oatmeal jelly to each feeding. To make oatmeal jelly add four ounces of oatmeal to one pint of water; boil for three hours in a double boiler, and add enough water so when cooking is completed a thin paste will be formed. This while hot is forced through a strainer to remove coarser particles. When cold a semi-mass will be formed. Oatmeal jelly may be continued until child is old enough to eat well cooked whole cereals.

CONSTIPATION

Oatmeal water very often relieves this condition. To make oatmeal water add one heaping tablespoonful of oatmeal to one pint of water, and boil for three hours in a double boiler. This will make a little more than half a pint of thick gruel to which add one pint of water that has been boiled. After straining mixture through fine strainer, you should have a little more than a pint of whitish liquid. This should be used with each feeding instead of the plain boiled water. If you find that this makes bowels too loose, dilute oatmeal water with plain boiled water.

Barley or rice water may be used instead of oatmeal water. If necessary two to three drops of plain codliver oil may be given twice daily added to the morning and night feedings.

DIARRHEA

Give nothing but plain boiled water for twenty-four hours. Then start feeding with barley water, or rice water, to which has been added a little salt to improve the taste. If these feedings are retained, and bowel movements lessened, small amounts of very weak regular feedings may be started and gradually increased according to baby's condition. If your baby does not improve after trying the above suggestions, consult your doctor at once.

BARLEY WATER

Obtain the very best barley flour. Add one rounded tablespoonful to one pint of water. Boil for thirty minutes, strain; then add enough water to make one pint.

RICE WATER

Add one tablespoonful of rice to a pint of water. Boil three hours, adding water from time to time so that you will have one pint of rice water at the end of the three hours.

LIME WATER

It is seldom necessary to use lime water with Eagle Brand Milk but should there be undigested particles of food in the bowel movements (which seem to be otherwise normal) or should there be vomiting of large curds shortly after feeding—or colic—it would be then advisable to try lime water. Obtain freshly prepared lime water at the Druggists, of which add 1 to 2 teaspoonfuls to each feeding.

COLIC OR VOMITING

These conditions may be due to over feeding, or constipation. Reduce quantity of food and use constipation formula, or lime water formula, as given above.

not speak English, it was necessary to employ an interpreter, and Ernest Lan was sworn as such. All the Chinese called in the case said they were Christians and were sworn as such. The plaintiff, Lem Hong, trading under the name of Quang Hi Chung Company, 6 Elizabeth street, Toronto, claimed that the defendant owed him an account of $72.20, which dated back as far as 1921. The Chinese account and its English translation were both produced in court and subjected to a detailed examination. The evidnce that followed in the course of the hearing was very conflicting. Letters were produced which tended to establish that the money had been held in Campbellford for a certain period of time in order that the plaintiff might claim it. After this time, it had been used for other purposes. The defendant declared that he owed the Toronto man no money, saying "I pay him everything." In substantiation of this statement, he produced money order stubs for various amounts. These were addressed to the Quang Hi Chung Co. Lem Hong, manager of the company and plaintiff in the case, claimed that these orders were for other purposes and were not to be applied to the debt in question. Just what the money was intended for, he did not make very clear to the court, but explained that his book-keeper, a cousin of the defendant, could do so were he present. It apparently was to be paid in to some Chinse syndicate which functioned along the lines not much different from that of general banking.

Mr. Horkins, when he rose to question the plaintiff, asked if he were engagd in any other capacity than that of Chinese grocer, if there were no "amusements" at 6 Elizabeth street. The Chinese denied that were. "Sure you never were used as police look-out?" asked Horkins, and before the interpreter could put the question to his brother Oriental, Mr. Lynch rose to object and his objection was sustained.

Lee Sun, defendant, and a partner of Lee Brothers, Campbellford, told a round-about story. To Mr. Lynch he told one thing, and to his own counsel, Horkins, he told a different story. Horkins did not employ the interpreter since he said, "I know he is a good interpreter. I have heard him in Toronto. He is probably too good." This remark brought laughter in the court. In the end, His Honor said that he would give judgment on the evidence produced but it was not, he thought, in the best interests of the case for him to do so. The case had been presented very irregularly, and he was of the opinion that if the book-keeper from the firm in Toronto could explain the matter of the money orders and tell to what uses the money was put, he should be heard in court. At His Honor's suggestions, the principals and counsel retired from the court to consider the matter.

While they were absent, the case of Peake vs. Horesman was called and since Mr. Horseman was not present when his name had been called three times, judgment was given in favor of the plaintiff and the counter claim considered as non-suit.

Upon the return of the Chinese and their counsel to the court, the judge was advised that they were agreeable to call the book-keeper as a witness, and the date for the hearing was set as June 29th, at 2.00 p.m.

During the hearing, Judge Huycke checked Mr. Horkins several times for the manner in which he asked his qustions. "We must train you young fellows in the way you should go," said His Honor. Mr. Horkins replied that he appreciated this consideration from His Honor.

WEDDING BELLS

HARRISON—WANNAMAKER.

LAKEFIELD, June 7. — A pretty wedding was solemnized quietly in St. John's Church, Lakefield, on Wednesday morning, at ten o'clock, when Goldie Matilda, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wannamaker, was united in marriage to Gilbert Stephen Harrison, elder son of Mrs. Joseph Harrison and the late Joseph Harrison, of Peterborough. Rev. W. J. Creighton, M.A., performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked winsome in a midnight blue georgette French gown, with hat of blue and grey, grey shoes, hose, and gloves, and carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses and lily of the valley, and also wore the gift of the groom, a white gold wrist watch.

Miss Phyllis Morrison was bridesmaid, and looked pretty in a gown of rosewood satin-faced crepe, with hat of crochet straw trimmed with rosewood and ivory buckle, and wore black satin shoes.

Mr. Clarence J. Harrison, of Peterborough, attended the groom.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and wedding breakfast served at the home of the bride's parents on Chippewa Avenue. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a sterling silver compact and to the best man a pearl tie pin.

The young people enter their married life with heartiest good wishes of many friends in Lakefield and vicinity. They will reside on Antrim Street, Peterborough.

BEGLEY—WINN.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, on Monday morning, at 8 o'clock, when Miss Stasia Winn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Winn of King's Wharf, was united in marriage to Mr. Martin Begley, also of King's Wharf.

Mr. Joseph Winn, brother of the bride, assisted the groom, while Miss Irene Winn attended her sister as bride's maid.

After a dinner attended by the immediate families the young couple left for Hastings, where they will reside.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM LEWIS.

HAVELOCK, June 7.—The death occurred on Saturday in the hospital at Oyen, Alta., of a former resident of the Township of Belmont, in the person of William David Lewis of Benten, Alta., at the age of 44 years. Death followed an illness of about four weeks from blood poisoning and pneumonia. The body was forwarded to the morgue at Saskatoon, as his wife, who, before her marriage, was Miss Blanche Smith of Sheddon, Ont., is also critically ill, no hope being held out for her recovery.

Mr. Lewis was born in Strathroy, Ont., coming to Belmont with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis, when two years of age, where he resided until about fifteen years ago, when he moved to the West. Six children, five girls and a boy, the oldest of whom is twelve years of age, are left, namely: Wilma, Albertha, Dorothy, Madeline, Vera and Murray. One brother and five sisters also survive: Walter Lewis, Mrs. J. McMillan, Mrs. George Spencer, Mrs. Charles Spencer of Belmont, Mrs. B. Simmonds of Belleville, and Miss Blanche Lewis of the Forham Hospital, N.Y., who is at present in Oyen, Alta.

". . . IF YOU DON'T GET THERE."

"It is no use speeding if you don't get there. There is very seldom any reason for speeding save the pleasure of tearing along the road. The Minister of Roads wishes to inform the public that for its own protection excessive speeding will be strictly supervised this year. Roads must not become a public danger. They must remain a pleasant and rapid means of travelling."—Quebec Highways Department Bulletin.

There is much in this advice that can be followed with profit by motorists in this Province as well as in Quebec.

The week-end casualty list with nine killed and fourteen seriously injured shows the due necessity of caution and care, and as Quebec says, "roads must not become a public danger."

The reckless driver must be curbed; if appeals such as the newspapers are constantly making have no effect, then other methods will have to be followed.

But in the meanwhile it is a dull motorist indeed who cannot see the logic in that first sentence of the Bulletin, "It is no use speeding if you don't get there."

Such a slogan pasted on every windshield might be a much more potent reminder than those "care and courtesy" stickers.

NO EVIDENCE OF TRAFFICKING.

The Ottawa Journal has called attention to something that The Examiner agrees should have the widest possible publicity, namely, the fact that inquiry into the records of the Department of Immigration has shown that there is no foundation for suspicion that members of Parliament have been trafficking in immigration permits.

"Summed up," says the Journal, "the records prove that not only is there lack of evidence of wrong-doing among M.P.'s, but that the officials of the department have been scrupulously honest in safeguarding the public interests."

The Examiner, which with many other papers urged that the records should be examined so that rumors of trafficking in permits might be thoroughly investigated, gladly associates itself with the verdict expressed above.

It is clear that no person could have been making much money out of permit deals, and that many members of Parliament got no permits; those who did obtain them for the benefit of constituents have been able to satisfactorily account for such transactions.

The disposal of these rumors should be satisfactory to everybody.

SCIENTIFIC FLYING.

Sir Alan Cobham, British flyer, has once more proven himself one of the world's greatest aviators, and the successful completion of his 22,000-mile trip around Africa, on which he was accompanied by Lady Cobham, is a matter for general rejoicing among Britishers.

Cobham, like Lindbergh, who outside of his spectacular dash across the Atlantic has been noted for his carefulness, is a methodical flyer who believes that the greatest contribution to the development of aviation can be accomplished by removing as far as possible the chances of accident.

The British flyer, in short, regards aviation as a science, not as a circus stunt, and his flights to India, to Australia and to Africa have demonstrated the thoroughness of his methods as well as his personal courage and skill.

His most recent performance, which was designed to work out the possibilities of an air route from Cairo to the Cape, an all red line across Africa, has been an outstanding success, which has done as much for the progress of aviation along proper lines as a dozen spectacular flying stunts could possibly accomplish.

SAFE PLAYGROUNDS FOR CHILDREN.

It is a matter for satisfaction among parents that arrangements are being made for the opening of supervised playgrounds in Peterborough for the summer months.

More than ever is there need of recreation areas where the little folks can play in safety and where their games and exercises are under intelligent supervision, so that they are not only safe but are usual in developing character as well as muscle.

There are people who talk about the absence of such things in their childhood days, and who declare that because they got along without any playground but the street or the corner lot the feat should be still possible.

But they forget that there was no traffic problem in their days; they could play ball on the street with nothing to dodge but an occasional not-very-swiftly-moving wagon or an irate householder whose windows were threatened.

To-day the street as a playground is impossible, and the community that realizes that fact and makes adequate provision for safe recreation for its boys and girls is helping to save valuable lives.

Peterborough's playgrounds are not as extensive or as well equipped as might be considered desirable, but there are under the supervision of an enthusiast in James Abraham, who can be depended upon to see to it that children get the last ounce of benefit out of the accommodation.

A MILLION CANADIAN CATTLE EXPORTED.

To ascertain the number of dairy cattle exported from Canada during the year 1927 and to the period in 1928 for which figures are available, the Secretary of the National Dairy Council of Canada communicated with Washington—Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce—and received the following information:

"Imports of cattle (except for breeding) into the United States from Canada, during the calendar year 1927 and the first four months of 1928."

	Head.
1927	283,486
1928—January	403,707
February	104,878
March	379,132
April	242,668
	1,130,385

They further state that dairy cattle are not shown separate from other cattle. As there has been a big importation of beef cattle from the Prairie Provinces to the United States, we take it that a large number of these cattle are of the beef breeds. However, it will be safe to divide the dairy and beef cattle on a 50-50 basis, as we know that quite a percentage of cattle from the West were of dairy extraction, and the importation from Eastern Canada would be 100 per cent. dairy cattle, with 90 per cent. milch cows. The last figures issued by the Statistics Branch here gave a total of milch cows in Canada as 3,894,311 head, being 40.9 milch cows per hundred population. In discussing this question with several leading dairymen, they are of the opinion that the number of cows that have gone from Canada to the United States will cause a decreased production of dairy products this summer. Time alone will tell.

A DANGEROUS CALL.

People in calling children across a street or roadway should exercise the greatest care. They should make certain that there is no approaching auto or truck. As a rule, children, especially the very young, will start to cross as soon as they are called without taking the precaution of looking up or down. The other day in Toronto a five-year-old lad was killed while responding to the summons of a woman across the street. As soon as he was called he started and was run down by a car. Many other tragedies of a similar nature could be related. And they will continue so long as people keep on calling children across the street before making sure that it is absolutely safe for them to cross.

Where traffic is considerable and the children are very young, they should never be called across the street, if they are not accompanied by someone old enough to look after them. Even if they do get across they have often to come back again and run the risk of being caught then. The only safe plan is for those who want to speak to the children to cross to where they are.

There will, however, be thoughtless people who will call the young across the street, and parents should be especially careful to instruct their little children never to respond to such a calling before first looking to see if there are any cars coming. If they are very young and live on much-travelled streets, they should impress upon their minds by warnings, often repeated, that they must never cross alone, no matter who calls them. They should also make it clear to their older children that they must never call their younger brothers and sisters across the street, but to go and get them.

Finally, parents should set a good example by always going to and conducting their young children over the street. By doing this they will do more to convince them that they must never cross alone than constant admonition will do. This is a case where example is much stronger than fiction. — St. Thomas Times-Journal.

RADIO BROADCASTING.

Canada is to have another form of "Government control." This time it will be radio broadcasting, according to an intimation made in Parliament by the Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries. Mr. Cardin has lately been the centre of a great storm as the result of his action in cancelling the broadcasting license of the International Bible Students' Association. From some quarters the decision has been warmly commended. From others it has been attacked. In the latter case, of course, one must allow for the usual desire to make political capital out of any situation. So embarrassing and difficult is the matter, however, that Mr. Cardin is anxious to find a way out, not only for himself but for other Ministers of Marine and Fisheries who may follow. Accordingly, he suggests that Canada may decide to follow the British system, which is, in a word, a Government monopoly of broadcasting.

That there is much to be said for the British idea in this respect must be generally admitted. With the Government controlling everything that goes on the air—so far as British sources are concerned—there is a measure of assurance that objectionable features of all kinds will be eliminated. There are, on the other hand, two possible obstacles that might be mentioned. One of them is that lack of competition might mean dullness and a tendency to secure cheaper artists than private companies would engage. The other is that a Government, at election time, might endeavor to use the radio monopoly for its own good and the injury of its opponents. The last possibility seems somewhat remote, perhaps, but stranger things have happened. Of course, no administration would be so crude as to have the announcer say to the population: "Vote for Mackenzie King (or R. B. Bennett, as the case may be) or you won't get any more free entertainment over the radio," but there are insidious ways in which the party in power might use the "invisible wires" to its advantage.—Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Flying records are being broken so fast these days that it is almost impossible to keep track of the feats of the aviators.

Parliamentary proceedings are taking on the appearance of an endurance contest.

The bane of sane motorists, says the Globe, used to be the cut-out. Now it is the cut-in.

There is no use speeding if you never get there, Quebec's Minister of Highways reminds those who like to drive fast. And there is a lot in that one sentence.

In spite of the weather conditions, summer resort proprietors are consoling themselves with the thought, "It won't be long now."

Gasoline pumps, ordered off the streets ten years ago, are now ordered off again. How history repeats itself!

Mr. C. C. Pyle upset two predictions. A lot of his runners finished the cross-continent contest, and the prize-winners received their money.

Veteran politicians should have more consideration for veteran soldiers than the Senate's treatment of the pension amendments would indicate.

If the clearing of the streets continues automobile dealers will soon have more space in their out-of-door showrooms.

Never criticize anything at a charity bazaar. You can't tell who made it.—Sault Star.

The Question Box

M. B. Q.—(1) What was the decisive battle of the World War? (2) Did the Americans have any part in it?

A.—(1) A British authority claims that the battle of Cambrai, from September 27 to October 5 was the deciding battle. The advance was from 11 to 15 miles, and a big gap was made in the German rearward defences. The number of prisoners taken was 36,500, greater than in any other single Allied victory on the Western front, and 380 guns were also captured. Immediately, the German staff urged the opening of peace negotiations. (2) Yes. There were two divisions of the A.E.F. engaged, but the brunt was borne by the British Empire, with 30 divisions engaged. The Canadians played a leading part as spear-head troops. In fact, while Australians and Canadians are highly praised by the history, with mention of their individual exploits, the American divisions are only mentioned as being present.

C. B. Q.—(1) Where was Andrew Carnegie born? (2) What was his business? (3) Was he really very rich? (4) Did he endow libraries outside United States?

A.—(1) Dunfermline, Scotland, November 25, 1835. (2) He worked in a cotton factory, then as a messenger boy; studied telegraphy and became an operator and later superintendent of telegraphs; entered service of Pennsylvania Railroad Co. and increased his fortune by investments in oil. In 1868 he introduced the Bessemer process in the ironworks he established at Pittsburg; in 1889 the firms he controlled were consolidated and in 1901 became the U. S. Steel Corporation. In that year he retired and made Skibo Castle, in Sutherlandshire, his residence. He was relentless as an employer, with his mind set on speeding up production. (3) On retiring in 1901 he took as his share of the profits $500,000,000, but because of his benefactions there was only $25,000,000 left when his will was proved in 1919. (4) Yes, in Canada, Great Britain, and other English-speaking countries. Besides his other gifts, he left annuities of $10,000 to Lord Morley and Lloyd George, and of $5,000 to John Burns and Thomas Burt. A very good story of his life is to be found in "Andrew Carnegie, the Man and His Work," by B. Alderson.

GOD'S MINUTE

They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength. Isa. 40 : 31.

O God, our Heavenly Father, Who hast declared Thy love for Thy children by sending Thy Son Jesus Christ into the world to be our Redeemer, we beseech Thee to enable us to live to-day and every day in thankfulness to Thee for what Thou hast done and art doing for us. In all our temptations and trials, in all the duties that are to be performed, teach us to seek Thy grace, which is sufficient for us and seeking it, to use it so that we may not fall into sin, nor fail to fulfil the work that Thou hast given us to do. Grant us ever to keep in the forefront of our remembrance the fact that as Christ has enlightened us, so we are to be a light unto the world.

Preserve us from the sin of denying Thee by our lives while we confess Thee with our lips, and from bringing harm to others by our inconsistency and neglect. Increase our faith, our hope, and our love, and use us "just as Thou wilt, and when, and where," as instruments for the promotion of Thy glory, and for the salvation of the world.

We ask it in the Name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

BISHOP JOS. M. FRANCIS, D.D.
Indianapolis, Indiana.

A Thought

DISCONTENT

Disappointment, ailment, or even weather depresses us; and our look or tone of depression hinders others from maintaining a cheerful and thankful spirit. We say an unkind thing, and another is hindered in learning the holy lesson of charity than thinketh no evil. We say a provoking thing, and our sister or brother is hindered in that day's effort to be meek. How sadly, too, we may hinder without word or act! For wrong feeling is more infectious than wrong-doing; especially the various phases of ill-temper—gloominess, touchiness, discontent, irritability—do we not know how catching these are? —Frances R. Havergal.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, June 7.—After settling with the sellers of the heavy steer class on a basis of 25c to 40c lower than last week's top prices, and a small reduction of 10c to 15c off the light medium butchers, the market moved freely towards a good clean-up. The run of fresh cattle was light, but with a carry-over of around 1,500, there would be a total offering of about 2,200 cattle at the opening yesterday morning. There was no change in the handy weight choice butcher class, these clearing at steady prices.

Hogs were 25c higher.

Heavy steers, 25c lower. Best selections $11 to $11.75. Choice handy weight butcher, steady, $10.50 to $11.25. Light medium butcher, easier, 10c to 15c lower.

Choice fat cows in demand at $7.60 to $9.

Good choice butcher bulls, steady, $8 to $8.50.

Calves steady at $14 to $15.

Spring lambs sold by the pound weight at 19c to 20c. Sheep yearling wool, $9 to $10; clipped, $5 to $6.

Stockers and feeders, active demand, with small supplies; stocker steers, $8 to $9; short keep steers $9 to $9.50.

Hogs, 25c higher at $11.25 f.o.b selects, and $12.25 selects, off cars.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., June 7 (Canadian Press).—A good trade was worked by Montreal grain exporters with the United Kingdom and the Continent in both wheat and oats here yesterday.

On account of the above there was a good demand from local exporters for grain in the domestic market and a fair trade was done with sales of round lots of Manitoba No. 4 wheat at a flat price cif. and No. 3 Canadian Western oats at 6 cents per bushel over the Winnipeg July option, cif. Montreal. There was also an improved demand for car lots of oats for local and country account and prices were steady.

A feature of the local flour trade was the pronounced strength that developed in the market for Winter wheat grades and prices were marked up 40 cents per barrel. This was attributed to the increased demand for domestic account and the scarcity of offerings from Ontario millers for shipment in any position. A firmer feeling prevailed in the Spring wheat situation but prices were unchanged The trade was fair.

The demand for all lines of millfeed was confined to broken lots in mixed car orders to meet immediate wants. The undertone to the market was firm. The trade in standard grades of rolled oats was quiet and values were steady.

There were no new developments in the local egg situation, the undertone beig steady with fair volume of business passing in a jobbing way. The receipts were 2,339 cases.

The potato market was firm with a fair trade passing for local consumption, but the demand from outside sources was still of a limited character, and in consequence supplies were in excess of the daily requirements.

A fair business was done in imported beans for domestic and outside account with no change in prices to note. Sales of car lots of choice white hand-picked grades sold at $3.90 per bushel, ex-track, and smaller quantities at $4.10 per bushel, ex-store.

There was no further change in the condition of the local butter situation, prices being about steady at the late decline noted, but the volume of business showed no marked improvement. The receipts were 247 packages.

The trade in cheese over the cable was again quiet, but notwithstanding this fact and the more liberal supplies coming forward, the undertone to the market was firm and prices were fully maintained. There was some demand between houses. The receipts were 4,398 boxes.

Of 25,000 calls for help, 25% were due to tire trouble of which more than half the total number were caused by running with tires either under-inflated or over-inflated

Such is the report compiled as the result of an analysis of the emergency road service records of one of the largest motor clubs on the continent.

Other tests have proven that every 10% drop from the correct inflation causes a 20% decrease from the maximum mileage of tires.

Incorrect inflation of tires is costing the motorists of Canada thousands of dollars every year. This money might so easily be saved.

YOU should drop in at a Dominion Tire Depot once a week and have an expert put the gauge on your valves. Then, if necessary, he will inflate your tires to the correct pressure He will also make a quick examination for cuts, bruises and other signs of trouble.

Twice a season let him remove the tires from the rims and make a thorough examination of your tires inside and out.

That's the way to get all the mileage that was built into your tires.

DOMINION TIRE DEPOTS

There are Dominion Tire Depots in practically every town in Ontario and Quebec. Their aim is to increase the span of life of every tire under their supervision.

MUSEUM PLANS WORK IN FIELD

Experts to Make Collections in Western Canada This Summer.

FOR STUDY AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Ont., June 7 (by the Canadian Press).—The National Museum of Canada will, according to an announcement made by Dr. W. H. Collins, Acting Director, have several parties engaged in field work in Western Canada during the season of 1928. Collections will be made for exhibition and for study, and scientific investigations will be carried on that cannot be conducted except in the field.

H. I. Smith, who has been investigating the ancient village site, shell heaps and rock carvings of the Indians on the coast of British Columbia, will continue this work around Prince Rupert during the summer. During part of the season he will take motion pictures illustrating the manners and customs of some Indian tribes not represented in the four reels which he has already prepared for the National Museum, and which have proved so popular both in Canada and Europe.

J. C. Boileau Grant, Professor of Anatomy in the University of Manitoba, is undertaking for the National Museum a thorough examination of the Indians at Fond du Lac at the east end of Lake Athabaska. Besides making a complete series of physical measurements of both adults and children, he will carry out some blood tests, with the co-operation of the Department of Health, to investigate the theory that the Indians separated from the rest of the human race before the human blood underwent the two mutations that seem to have occurred in the Old World.

C. B. Osgood will spend a year on the lower Mackenzie river, in the vicinity of Fort Norman, studying the social and economic life, the religion and the traditions of the little known Hare and Mountain Indians who trade at the post. He will probably winter in the woods with the Indians, and return south in the summer of 1929.

Hugh M. Raup will make a botanical survey of parts of Wood Buffalo Park, south of Great Slave lake. With the co-operation of the Northwest Territories and Yukon Branch, Department of the Interior, he will investigate the forage plants and range conditions in certain areas in the park.

Hamilton M. Laing will continue collecting mammals in southern British Columbia in the region near the international boundary line, beginning at Princeton, just east of the Cascade mountains divide, in continuation of the work carried on by him and C. H. Young in 1927 just west of this point. A number of species reach their northern limit of distribution near this line, and the field work of 1927 brought in several specimens of the Oregon mole, not heretofore recorded from Canada, and several other species which are of great rarity in this country. This region is of particular biological interest because of the extraordinary and sharply defined variety of climatic and topographic conditions that occur from east to west, and because it differs also in these respects from the country to the north, and these differences are reflected in the fauna and flora. Birds and animals will also be collected.

C. H. Young will collect biological specimens in southern Manitoba, beginning at Treesbank, and working east near the international boundary line to Lake of the Woods. He will pay particular attention to the spread of certain species, as the Mississippi Valley pocket gopher, the Nebraska cottontail rabbit, and other forms which have been reported as extending their range into Canada from the states of North Dakota and Minnesota. He will also endeavor to obtain material for habitat groups of insects for exhibition in the museum.

C. M. Sternberg will collect fossil remains of dinosaurs and other extinct vertebrate animals from near Steveville, in the valley of Red Deer river, Alberta, and also from the Cypress hills, in the south-eastern part of Alberta. The Red Deer valley is exceedingly rich in vertebrate material, which is being slowly exhumed by erosion of the sides of the valley. It is the most productive collecting field in Canada, and has already yielded much new and well-preserved material to the museums of Ottawa, Toronto, Edmonton and New York.

Pontypool

PONTYPOOL, June 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hickling and Miss Gladys Hickling, of Toronto, spent the week-end at Mr. W. L. Rayfield's.

Mr. Ned Thompson, Mr. Garnet Goheen and Mr. and Mrs. Lorne McGill, all of Oshawa, spent Sunday with relatives here.

Miss Ida Payne and Miss E. Kirkton, and Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Eddy, all of Bowmanville, were Sunday visitors at Mr. Robert Payne's.

Rev. Mr. Boomhour, pastor of the United Church here, is attending the Bay of Quinte Conference at Smith Falls.

Mr. Ed. Youngman and Mr. Will Scott attended a meeting of I.O.O.F. in Millbrook, recently.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Bowins on Thursday afternoon.

The anniversary of the United church will be held on Sunday, June 10th. Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Janetville will be the pastor for the occasion, and there will be only one service at 7 o'clock in the evening. On Tuesday evening the Newcastle Dramatic Club will put on its play Kindling the Hearth Fire" in the Orange Hall.

The local young people have engagements for their play, Mama's Lil' Wild Rose" on Monday, June 11, at Cadmus and Wednesday, June 13, at Enfield.

Major M. R. Sloan, Peterborough, O.C. B Squadron, was in town recently, making preparations for Annual Training at Barriefield Camp, June 19-30. While here he visited at the home of Sgt. Major J. Payne.

Mrs. Albert McMahon, Miss Grace and Mr. Percy McMahon and Mr. Archie Masters motored to Kinmount, and spent Sunday with friends there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb, of Peterborough, while on their honeymoon visited at Mr. John Webb and Mr. Albert Stewart.

The Baseball Club has accepted an invitation to play ball at Devitt's Hall on Wednesday, June 13, under L.O.L. auspices.

AUTO RUNS 59 MILES ON GALLON OF GAS

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars. An actual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings but are also surprised to find quicker, pick-up, instant starting, smoother running motors and disappearance of carbon. E. Oliver, 999-2316 S. Third St., Milwaukee, Wisc., for a limited time is offering a free device to those who will help introduce it. He also needs men everywhere to make over $100 weekly in their own territory taking care of local business. Write him at once for free sample and big money-making offer. —Adv.

SEVEN IN TEN MEN PAST 40 NEED THIS SPECIAL TREATMENT

Writer Explains Wondrous Value of Doctor Southworth's "Uratabs" And Invites All to Try Them Without Cost Unless Pleased

With middle age ailments attacking over two-thirds of those past 40, every man who notices such distressing symptoms as Lameness, Pains in back and down through groins, scanty but frequent and burning Urination, "Getting-up-Nights", Nervous Irritability and Lack of Force—should at once try the amazing value of Dr. Southworth's URATABS.

While new to many, the truly remarkable value of URATABS has been proven by more than 40 years of successful use in the private practice of Dr. H. C. Southworth. Reports from Doctors and Users alike offer convincing proofs: "I have never found anything to help my case until I tried URATABS." "URATABS are the best thing for Bladder Weakness and Irritation I have ever used." "No more backaches, no more daily embarrassment or Getting-up-nights. I now sleep soundly and get up in the morning full of pep—thanks to URATABS."—This is amazing evidence!

No matter how long you have been troubled or how stubborn your case may seem to be, a ten-day test of Dr. Southworth's URATABS offers comfort and relief—and you can make the test without risk of cost for Bond's or any good druggist will supply you on guarantee of money back if not satisfied. Try URATABS today!

Miss Gudrun Tragstad, a 19-year-old girl of Oslo, has become a qualified sea captain. Only two other women, it is said, appear on the world's register of ship masters.

"Kruschen saved my life."

"Having been in Hospital for past six months suffering from acute appendix trouble with complications, and undergoing five operations for same, I thought it would be of interest to your firm to know that Kruschen played a great part in saving my life when other things had failed.

I returned home from hospital on 8th inst., and all my friends remark how merry and bright I am after undergoing such terrible ordeals, and say "Marvellous!" I reply, "Kruschen!"

Being connected with athletic club I have a large number of friends, and have already signed on several for "Kruschen." H.S.

A LESSON ON THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

It is very important that the food is very finely divided by the teeth so that the digestive juices may reach into the innermost portion of the food particles. Whenever there is an incomplete digestion; there is danger of food fermentation.

The food passes from the mouth down the throat, through the oesophagus, and into the stomach. The stomach is a highly elastic, muscular organ which will hold about three pints and when full is about a foot long and four inches wide. When empty, however, the stomach contracts and occupies very little space.

The stomach acts as a storehouse for food until it has been acted upon by the gastric juice which is secreted by glands within the stomach walls. These gastric glands secrete very powerful digestive juices containing hydrochloric acid and pepsin which not only kill the bacteria present in food, but are used to digest protein.

You will realize what a wonderful apparatus the stomach is when I tell you that the stomach glands will secrete from two and a half to five quarts of gastric juice each day. The stomach is lined with circular, longitudinal, and oblique muscular fibres. These muscles keep contracting in such a way as to thoroughly churn the food and mix it with the gastric juice.

After digestion has taken place, the pyloric musele relaxes slightly and allows the more liquid parts of the food to pass through into the duodenal part of the small intestine. The larger particles are usually held back until there is a good deal of surplus hydrochloric acid which has not been absorbed by the food. This produces a reflex nervous impulse to open the pylorus; allowing all of the food to pass through into the duodenum.

When the duodenum feels the food passing into it from the stomach, an impulse is sent to the liver, gall bladder and pancreas, and their yellowish green liquid mixture is formed and emptied into the partly digested food. The gall bladder, which is simply a storehouse for the liver's bile until it is needed, also empties into this duct.

The bile assists in rendering the food alkaline, and counteracts the acidity which was produced in the stomach. This assists in breaking up the fat globules, producing a kind of soap, and it also acts as a destroyer of bacteria, killing by its alklaine strength those bacteria which were not destroyed by the hydrochloric acid of the stomach.

The pancreatic juice is one of the most important secretions that are thrown into the intestines because it contains three powerful digestive ferments: trypsin, a substance which digests the proteins which remain undigested from the stomach; amylopsin, for digesting the starches which were not digested by the saliva; and steapsin, which digests fats. The action of these digestible fluids makes the small intestine of great importance to our being.

The small intestine is lined with glands similar in shape to the glands of the stomach. Their secretions assist in the digestive processes, and in addition they secrete a peculiar fluid which converts cane sugar into grape sugar, since cane sugar cannot be used by the blood until it has been converted into the latter form.

Questions and Answers.

Question: K. W. writes: "When changing from high-heeled slippers into low-heeled ones I seem to have a cramp in my foot and just before I get into the low-heeled slippers my foot seems to snap like when you try 'finger-breaking.' Can you tell me what causes this, and what to do about it?"

Answer: The change from high-heeled slippers to low-heeled ones must be made gradually. The unnatural position of the foot in a high-heeled shoe changes the positions of the bones of the foot, and it takes some time before they will return to their normal shape after such a shoe has been continually worn. The "cracking" is due to the bones or ligaments slipping into position.

Question: Mrs. S. L. asks: "With what foods may cheese be combined, and what particular kind of cheese do you think is best?"

Answer: The best way to use cheese is to make it the protein part of a meal, serving with it plenty of green vegetables, both cooked and raw. It also combines well with pineapple. No starches should be used with this meal. Fresh home-made cottage cheese is the most wholesome.

Question: J. F. writes: "My right hand and arm sleep so much I can hardly do any writing. What do you think is the cause of it? I am 63 years old, and had it a few years when I was about 40, but it left me. Please tell me what to do."

Answer: The numbness in your right arm is due to poor circulation and this in turn may be caused by pressure on the nerves which go from the spine to the arm. A chiropractor or osteopath may be able to help you in one or two treatments.

CHURCHES FREE FROM TAXATION

Cemeteries and Schools Also Exempt—Ministers' Houses Taxed.

Ontario's legislators have seen fit to deal very generously with churches and educational institutions in regards to granting exemption from taxation. Under the assessment act there are a number of exemptions from municipal taxation and included in this are public educational institutions, parks and churches.

Every place of worship and land used in connection therewith and every church yard, cemetery, or burying ground is exempt from ordinary taxation. This does not include the clergyman's residence, on which full taxes must be paid. In the case of cemeteries the legislature has seen fit to stipulate that where land has been acquired for the purpose of a cemetery or burying ground, but is not immediately required, it is not entitled to exemption until it has been enclosed and actually used for interment of the dead.

The interest of the Crown in any property, including property held by any person in trust for the Crown or in trust for any tribe or body of Indians is also exempt.

All school buildings, whether Collegiate, public or separate and the grounds, are exempt so long as the buildings and grounds are actually used and occupied by such institutions.

The City Hall, Court house, gaol and lockup, and the public hospitals and the land attached to the hospitals are exempt from taxation also under the Assessment Act.

The public parks and the public buildings owned by the city are also given exemption and all property of the Children's Aid Society which is used exclusively for the purposes of the society comes under the same clause.

ADDED DELIGHT FOR THE SUPPER DANCE

Player Piano From Heintzman Hall is Installed at Lakeview House, Young's Point.

Mr. H. Simons, proprietor of the Lakeview House, Young's Point, has purchased from Heintzman Hall, this city, a lovely player piano. The instrument is perfect in its mechanical construction and arrestingly beautiful in tone. Like all pianos sold by Mr. R. Haddow, the genial manager at Heintzman Hall, this "Player," backed by Ye Olde Firme Heintzman & Co.'s guarantee, will undoubtedly give many years of unqualified satisfaction. Mr. Simons has installed the piano on his dance floor at Lakeview House, where he intends featuring this season supper dances which should make his resort one of the most popular adjacent to Peterborough city.

Heintzman Hall's stock-taking sale has proved a musical instrument sensation the past two weeks, and extraordinary values in Pianos, Phonographs and Radios have been taken advantage of by buyers in this district pretty generously. Sale prices are still in force.

TROUBLE RUMORED.

TOKIO, June 7 (Canadian Press).—Japanese newspapers are filled with alarmist stories and predictions about anti-Japanese feeling in Manchuria, the movements of troops, and Soviet intrigues. The Foreign Office discounted press reports as without foundation, and professed to be unperturbed.

SAFETY COMMITTEE HOLDS JUNE MEETING

Delegate Tells of Hamilton Convention, Stressing Safety Devices.

Marmora, June 7.—The monthly meeting of Deloro Safety Committee was held at the Hub on Monday evening with another good attendance. For the first time since the inception of the movement, F. Paquet, secretary, was unavoidably absent, his place being taken by W. R. Reynolds. The flag and star was awarded to the General Department. Nine suggestions were received during May, four being deemed worthy of award.

J. Judge gave his report as one of the delegates to the recent safety convention held in Hamilton, expressing, among other things, his interest in safety devices on saws, belt-fasteners and arsenic workers' apparel as demonstrated there.

A. V. Yates was appointed floating member on the inspection committee for June. A new committee was formed, consisting of R. A. Elliott, chairman, with J. Hemphill, H. A. McNally, C. H. Buskard, and H. F. Berry as members. This committee will act as a jury to investigate every accident of consequence, and render a verdict as to whether the accident is the fault of the mechanical part of the machine or the neglect of the worker to use present safety devices.

F. A. Bapty, at the conclusion of business, gave a very instructive talk on his trip to the West Indies, describing principal places visited, and some of the industries and describing interesting information regarding the Panama Canal.

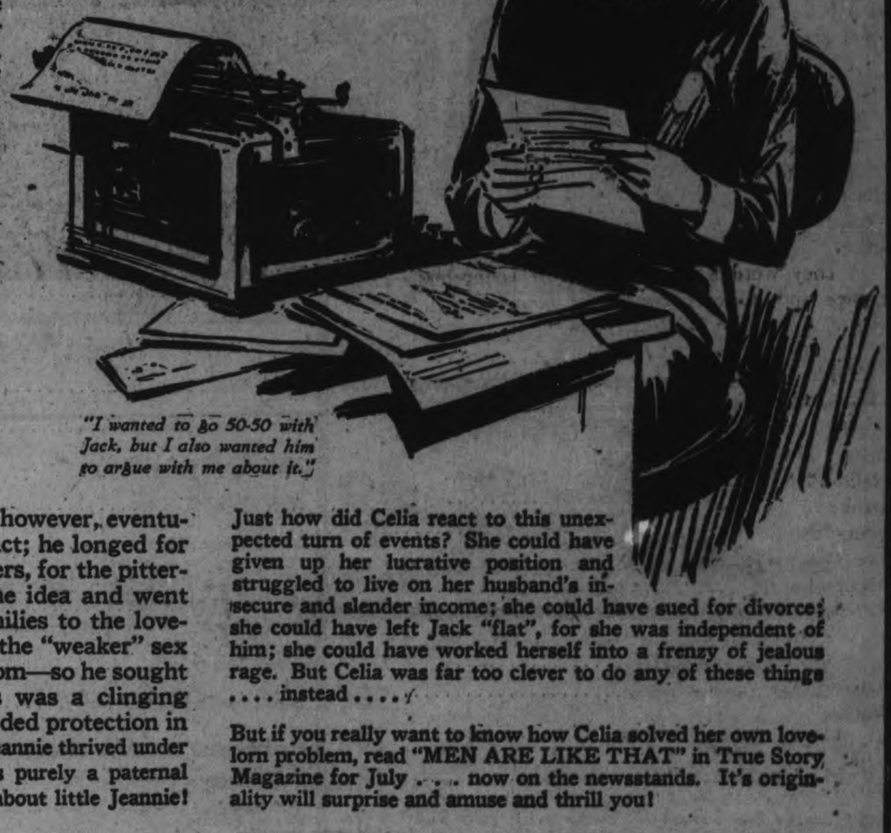
Should a Girl keep her Job after Marriage?

Should she marry a man whose income is less than hers?



"I wanted to go 50-50 with Jack, but I also wanted him to argue with me about it."

CELIA BLUE ran the "Advice to the Lovelorn" column in a Metropolitan Newspaper. She earned a bigger salary than the man she loved. Jack was always hunting for a job. He called his instability "temperament" — in reality it was lack of proper adjustment to his environment. And it was for this reason that Celia insisted that she continue working for the newspaper after their marriage — and that they go 50-50 on all their expenses.

Being a product of the new "environment," Jack lived up to the agreement. But, womanlike, Celia resented his cheerful acquiescence to her own plan. True, she preached the "new freedom" for women in her daily column, but to practice what one preaches is — well — "not being done"!

The monotony of this arrangement, however, eventually awakened Jack's paternal instinct; he longed for the quickening touch of chubby fingers, for the pitter-patter of . . . But Celia flouted the idea and went merrily on her way, dispensing homilies to the lovelorn! The natural desire to protect the "weaker" sex was starved within Jack's manly bosom—so he sought solace elsewhere. Jeannie Mathews was a clinging vine, a frail, timid little soul who needed protection in a wicked city. Jack protected her. And Jeannie thrived under his Platonic protection. To Jack, it was purely a paternal affair, so much so that he told Celia all about little Jeannie!

Just how did Celia react to this unexpected turn of events? She could have given up her lucrative position and struggled to live on her husband's insecure and slender income; she could have sued for divorce; she could have left Jack "flat", for she was independent of him; she could have worked herself into a frenzy of jealous rage. But Celia was far too clever to do any of these things .... instead ....

But if you really want to know how Celia solved her own lovelorn problem, read "MEN ARE LIKE THAT" in True Story Magazine for July .... now on the newsstands. It's originality will surprise and amuse and thrill you!

The Clinging Vine — By FANNIE HURST

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The World's Highest Paid Short Story Writer

Author of "Humoresque", "A President Is Born"

Eunice was a clinging-vine sort of girl who, without the warmth of Rollo's shoulder beside her, felt lonely and forlorn.

IT might be said of Eunice Tenfly that she was a sort of clinging-vine in modern dress, that is, she had none of the almost obsolete surface-mannerisms of the Victorian variety of female. In fact, at first sight, the label "flapper" might have been applied to her.

She was as slim as a young tree, wore her stockings rolled, her hair trimmed to a neat little boyish V in the rear, and her garments were exactly two. A flimsy little underthing that weighed an ounce and a flimsy little overthing that weighed an ounce.

At eighteen, she smoked cigarettes, exposed her knees, disdained chaperonage and drove her father's rickety little combination grocery-delivery wagon and sedan through the town with a charming recklessness.

As a matter of fact, however, Eunice was modern only by accident of the age into which she was born. With the girls with whom she had attended the local high school branching out into the art professions, teaching, and even adventurous jobs that had to do with big business, Eunice was content to remain at home, helping out her father occasionally by occupying the cashier's cage in his grocery store.

At heart, it was apparent that Eunice did not yearn to avail herself of any of the new emancipations of her sex.

When she was eighteen, she married a local boy named Rollo Seabree, of slightly higher social standing than her own. A fair-haired, rather too good-looking youngster, who from the first days of his return from college, had established himself as a Beau Brummel, desirable among the home-town girls.

His father was a Presbyterian minister and he married Eunice while he was clerking in the town's Union Central Bank, that had for its president a Presbyterian citizen of the first water. Rollo was an indolent, good-looking young fellow, full of charm and of a quality of sweetness that made him irresistible even to those who deplored the indolence.

They were a beautiful pair of youngsters, Eunice and Rollo, possessed of blonde youth; vitality; the lovely glamor of health.

THEN one day, during the very first year of their marriage, the Union Central Bank committed one of the most spectacular failures in the history of the state. Over night, as it were, young Rollo found himself out of a position. With one stroke of the hand of Fate, demolished was their young dream of a bungalow on the edge of town. For two subsequent months, they continued to occupy Eunice's little room in the household of her parents. A subdued pair of youngsters, dependent on the bounty of the older folks.

After intermittent positions here and there, none of them sufficiently compatible to cope with Rollo's college-trained demands, he finally made a connection, by correspondence, with a wholesale thread-and-sewing-silk concern in New York. Four weeks later, the Rollo Seabrees were ecstatically occupying a three-flights-up rear furnished-room in one of those New York slits ironically labelled "street."

Rollo's was a city-salesman job, covering a large urban area of petty notion-stores and small department shops. A two-seated sedan with the name of the firm printed in gilt letters on the door, was placed at his disposal.

From nine to five, Rollo literally might be said to have peddled his wares, soliciting orders for spool threads of cotton and silk from shop to shop.

Inevitably it was lonely for Eunice in a city of six million souls, among which she claimed not one friend, and yet there was something of glorious adventure and of sweetest intimacy in thus being thrust into a maelstrom of life where she was tucked away in isolation with a husband of her choice. It was also inevitable that she should find the bleak confines of a New York lodging-house chilling and unbearably lonely.

After the first week of it, she began to accompany Rollo on his territory, starting out with him at nine in the morning and sitting tucked in the sedan while he made his rounds of the petty shops. There was a certain monotony to it, but it was better than walking the city streets alone or sitting beside a window that boasted only a vista of stray cat and tin can.

Some of the "clinging-vine" characteristics with which Eunice's classmates had labeled her, began to assert themselves. Eunice frankly preferred being tucked-in alongside of Rollo during the long hours of his work-a-day to attempting anything on her own, even housekeeping. It was cozy to feel his shoulder so close and protecting beside her own. It was fun, waiting for him along the curbstones of the big city and knowing that among all the thousands milling around her, was one who would return surely and gratefully to the little coupe nest of their small sedan.

And in with all this, the natural indolence that was Rollo's, blended. Sometimes, at three or four o'clock in the afternoon, he was willing to call it a day, so that they might turn their way homeward or to a motion-picture theatre. Sometimes, it was Rollo's impulse not to venture forth at all if the weather were snowy or the prospect of the nerve-racking city traffic seemed too strenuous. But on this score, Eunice was adamant. From nine to five were Rollo's working hours. She saw to that, sometimes forcing him on in the face of his great reluctance to the one more visit that might carry him past his five o'clock quitting hour.

No day too blustery, no wait too long and tiring and cold in the little sedan. Eunice held Rollo sternly to the task and Rollo, like a naughty little boy, squirmed but obeyed.

THERE were bad, snowy days that winter and the kind of blizzards that tied up the city in a knot, paralyzing traffic.

Some of these days, in particular, Rollo rebelled, but in vain. Through one of the hardest, coldest winters in the memory of oldest inhabitants, Rollo missed not a day at his work, Eunice tucked beside him, holding him sternly to his routine.

It was in March, however, that Rollo came down suddenly, practically out of a clear sky with a grave case of bronchial pneumonia. Within twenty-four hours, the neighborhood doctor ordered his removal from the furnished-room to a hospital. For seventy-two hours, it was a battle to the death, so to speak. Rollo sank, rallied, sank and rallied again to his recovery, but it was a matter of nine weeks flat-on-his-back.

The first day that it became apparent that Rollo was on a slow road to recovery, Eunice took the wheel of their affairs as well as the wheel of their rickety two-passenger sedan with the name of the thread firm printed in gilt letters across its door.

The blizzards of March came in even more furiously than the blizzards of mid-winter. There were days when the snow blew in drifts up against the little sedan so that Eunice had to feel rather than guide her way through the bewildering maze of the city streets.

For nine weeks, including the storm-tossed ones of March, she carried on the job that was Rollo's, not only equalling his orders, but surpassing them, working grimly at the routine of her territory often until six and seven in the evening, when she barely had time to get back to the hospital before the conclusion of visitors' hour.

They were hard weeks and sometimes without the warmth of the shoulder she loved to feel beside her, tears blurred the vision of the little lady at the wheel.

IT was May by the time Rollo—a wan Rollo with faint blue circles under his eyes—took the wheel of their small sedan once more. Gratefully and with a sigh of enormous relief, Eunice relinquished it to him, snuggling up against the indolent shoulder that was so dear to her, as with a sense of righteousness and responsibility of a man of affairs, Rollo resumed his burden. All very well and good to have a woman manage things in an emergency. But here was man's work. Woman's place, at least his woman's place, was at his side, snugglingly.

Eunice still makes the rounds with him and Rollo, except for her relentless little hand on his elbow, is still inclined to surrender to his natural indolence and knock off an hour or two before the end of the day or when the weather looks unattractive, decide in favor of a complete day off.

Eunice is unrelenting. In the two years with his firm, except for the set-back of his spell of illness, Rollo shows a record of steadfastness and rigid adherence to the demands of his job. It is because of these promising characteristics that his firm has decided to promote him to the position of Sales Manager.

The Madrigal singers, of Peterborough, will provide the program for their garden-party to be held on the following Tuesday evening.

Among those present from Fairmount at Cavanville anniversary services were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McBain, Mrs. Ada McBain, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hooten, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooten, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Ball, Mr. J. F. Staples, Miss Helen Staples, and Miss J. Schaffer.

IT'S ALL IN FUN

PARIS, June 7.—He who expresses surprise that the soft-hearted French should favor the revival of bull fighting need only see a real French bull fight to understand the popularity of the sport. They do not kill the bull, nor let him gore helpless horses.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy is credited with being one of the world's highest authorities on numismatics. His personal collection numbers nearly 100,000 coins and he has written a ten-volume work on the subject.

CONTINUE TO HOPE FOR BEST

While the world awaits word of what happened to General Nobile and his dirigible, Italia, the wife and daughter of the explorer, shown in No. 1, refuse to give up hope. They are at Rome. No. 2 shows the supply ship Citta Di Milano, which has been scanning the Arctic wastes in the vicinity of Amsterdam Islands. No. 3 is Capt. Hjalmar Riiser Larsen, Norwegian aviator, who is organizing a relief expedition.

WORK ON HOTEL WELL ADVANCED

Big Banquet and Convention Hall and Roof Garden in Royal York.

Toronto, Ont., June 7.—Served by high speed elevators, twenty-five stories above Front, York and Piper streets, its broad windows overlooking Lake Ontario and the city of Toronto, the roof garden of the new Royal York Hotel of over 1,000 rooms, owned and operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, will have an area of 5,626 square feet and provide convention seating for 938 persons and banquet and dining seating for 945, according to the latest plans made public to-day at the offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway. These plans show a convention floor of monster proportions with a combined area of 24,679 square feet, providing convention seating for 4,070 persons and banquet seating for 2,720. Added features to this floor will be loud speakers and a mammoth organ, which will bear comparison in size, volume and beauty of tone with any on the continent. It is interesting to note that both the convention floor and the roof garden are fitted with separate kitchens and service rooms, thus making both these floors self-contained.

Work on the main mezzanine floor is making rapid progress. This floor will have features unique in the annals of Canadian hostelries. It will include a well-equipped hospital, children's playroom, lost and found office, and private dining-rooms of varying sizes, as well as a thoroughly up-to-date library leading out of a writing-room. The lounge, too, which overlooks the main lobby on the balcony on the balcony well system plan is very extensive in size and restful in atmosphere. The ladies' hairdressing parlors are on this floor and for convenience sake are situated close to the elevators.

Already the main floor shows advanced stages of construction, and with its wide easy entrances, spacious lobby, extensive lounge and monster dining-room will take its position as the main floor par excellence of Canadian hotels. On this floor will be found an elevator hall of fifteen high-speed elevators, in addition to the numerous service elevators placed at vantage points through the vast building. In addition, on this level there is a large cafe and writing-room, as well as a veritable battery of 'phones. Ample facilities for public stenographer service on a large scale have been provided for here. This floor is also self-contained as far as service is concerned as the main kitchen, as up-to-date as any in the world, occupies the whole of the space practically behind the main dining-room, lounge and lobby.

To the general public the basement and sub-basement will be of absorbing interest. Both are unique. Inside and outside entrances serve the basement with an avenue arcade running from side to side, the centre of which is placed the exhibition hall, a novel feature. A service kitchen, a coffee shop, a large grill-room and a barber's shop have been installed on this floor, in addition to a bank which is situated at the southeast corner. There are nine shops facing Front street and three inside the arcade at right-angles to the exhibition hall. The sub-basement is largely given over to the help and is planned on the most generous and up-to-date plans. On this floor is also a kitchen. The monster telephone exchange is being placed to the west of this area and already considerable installation work there to has been carried out.

In his last report, W. Orrock, engineer of Canadian Pacific Buildings, reports that construction work has proceeded rapidly with the structural steel in the wings completed to the third bedroom floor, all the large trusses now being in place. In the centre, steel has been constructed up to the ninth bedroom floor and in a portion of the west wing to the sixth floor. Considerable progress, he says, has been made in pouring concrete, all the floors up to and including the convention mezzanine being complete. Stone setting is proceeding with great progress and the granite base is complete and a large amount of the limestone up to the main mezzanine floor has been set in place. The stairs are being erected, following up the steel work, and are being used for interfloor travel. Mr. Orrock concludes by saying that the contracts for plumbing, heating, ventilation, and electrical work has been let and work commenced. Plumbing the steel in the elevator hatchways, preparatory to setting up of elevator guides, is now under way, he adds.

An under-street passageway, wide and brightly lit, will connect the Union station and the Royal York. Leaving the former beneath the level of the main entrance and coming up into the hotel at the east side. The hotel will open on May 1, 1929.

Young's Point

Young's Point, June 7.—Miss Hilda Bullock, nurse-in-training at Cobourg, is home on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Peter Bullock, Jr.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS— by John Hix

One single cord is made up of 15 small cords. These small cords are made up of millions of cotton fibres, all saturated in rubber by process of dipping cords in rubber solution.

Every Fibre Insulated with Rubber

Above you see one of the cords pulled from a Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloon Tire carcass. It is untwisted to show how it is constructed of fifteen smaller cords composed of millions of cotton fibres. There are thousands of cords like this in each tire.

Before building, Firestone dips these cords of the carcass in a rubber solution. Every fibre is saturated and insulated with rubber, adding great strength and enabling the cords to flex with minimum friction. To build a tire with such light, flexible walls and such a flexible tread, required a much stronger and more durable carcass.

This important advantage and the scientifically-designed Firestone Balloon Tire Tread, are accountable for the remarkable performance of Firestone Balloons.

REV. B. GREATRIX ORDAINED IN 1878

Former Methodist Pastor Now Superannuated, Celebrates Jubilee.

The recent sessions of the Bay of Quinte conference of the United Church of Canada were particularly interesting to the people of this city in that one of her most highly respected ministers celebrated his golden jubilee. Fifty years ago this month of June the Rev. B. Greatrix was ordained in the George Street Church to the work of the ministry of the then Methodist church. The Rev. Mr. Greatrix is one of the most highly respected ministers of his church, and at the recent conference a letter of congratulation was forwarded to him congratulating him upon this unique event in his ministry.

He came to this country from England in the midsummer of 1861 and settled upon a farm six miles east of Belleville in the Township of Thurlow.

At 16 years of age he was apprenticed to the trade of blacksmith, at which profession he was engaged for a period of over 18 years. In September, 1870, he was converted to God in a series of special services being conducted in Bridge Street Methodist Church in the city of Belleville.

In the year 1877 Mr. Greatrix began to prepare for the work of the ministry, entering Victoria University, then situated at Cobourg; he soon proved to be a hard-working and zealous student, and earned for himself the reputation of a good preacher, one whose future ministry was to be marked with very signal success. After his ordination he travelled upon the following fields, Atherley, South Monaghan, Cavan, Little Britain, Cannington, Trenton (Wesley), Campbellford, Port Perry, Belleville (Halloway street), Oshawa (Simcoe street), Peterborough (St. James). He superannuated after leaving St. James, and has since resided at 438 Park street, this city.

Mr. Greatrix, during his active ministry, was ever in labors abundant, and held in a very large measure the esteem and confidence of his brethren in the ministry. He held nearly every position in the gift of his church, chairman of district, secretary and president of conference, delegate to four sessions of general conference, Winnipeg, Montreal, Victoria, and Hamilton. He was an evangelical preacher, whose ministry was marked by many revivals, and hundreds during his long ministry were led to the higher life, and, as a result, several young men, through his efforts, entered the work of the ministry. Two new churches and one Sunday school were erected while he was in active service. The crowning work of his ministry was the building of the St. James Church in the south of the city.

This reverend and honored minister of the church now lives his life of retirement in this city, where he is surrounded by a large circle of friends who rejoice in his long ministry and join in wishing to him and his life-long partner the joy of eventide, and earnestly pray that he may be spared to enjoy many more years of rest and quiet.

THIS GREAT HEALING OIL MUST BANISH ECZEMA AND SKIN TROUBLES

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

You've probably been, like a lot of other people, convinced that the oply thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the big majority of cases these sticky salves simply clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same.

Go to Bond's Drug Store, C. M. Moncur, Bert McLeod, McDermid Drug Co. Ltd., McDermid & Jury, Nugent Drug Co. or any other good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.

IN PETERBOROUGH CHURCHES

GEORGE STREET UNITED.

On Sunday the pulpit of George Street United Church was ably filled by ministers from Toronto, during the absence of the Rev. J. E. Todd, who is attending the conference of the United Church at Smith's Falls.

At the morning service the Rev. Dr. Huestis, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance for Canada, was the special speaker, delivering a very earnest and impressive sermon.

He read as the lesson the second chapter of St. Mark, beginning at the eighteenth verse. In his opening remarks he said he had two main thoughts which he wished to instil and leave in the hearts and minds of the congregation.

"There has been a change in the centre of the Sunday problem in recent years. The tendency now is to turn Sunday into a play-day—a day of amusement.

"Do not think that the problem can be solved by legislation or the enforcement of laws. The question rests with sober minds of the people, and is a heart concern to observe one day of rest in seven.

"Perhaps the fact that this great principle has been accepted by the modern world has not impressed us. It is one of the principles of the League of Nations. 'Six days shalt thou labor.' The Soviet Government of Russia adopted this principle. Not religious are these brilliant men, who have been guiding the affairs of Russia, but they realized the benefit to the people of this great Mosaic law, that one day of rest is required in seven. Nearly every country in Europe gives the industrial workers one day of rest in seven.

"Not alone because I represent this body of worker, but because I am a student of history am I convinced that if, as a nation, we turn our Sundays into play-days we will lose our religion. This is our problem.

"Canada has the finest Sunday legislation found anywhere in the world. It is not based on the religious observance of the day but it says there must be one day off in seven. The government throws the responsibility on the people themselves as to how they shall spend that day. If they use it as a play-day there shall be no commercial aspect to their play.

"Canadian people as a whole are the best Sunday keepers of the world, with the exception of the alien element, who have not much respect for our national life and the greedy elements.

"But the tendency seems to be for the people to be searching for more and more Sunday amusements, and forgetting the traditions of worship which characterize our ancestors' lives. Bobbie Burns says, 'It tunes our hearts in far the noblest way,' and a day of rest, worship and family life makes strong homes, strong churches, and produces fine cities. Let us in Canada preserve Sunday for a day of rest and worship, and have a reverence for the old Scottish Sabbath for worship in place of the modern day of amusement. We can not solve the problem by more legislation; we must educate public opinion and pray for spiritual guidance to help us in solving the problem of 'Sunday at Home.' How fathers and mothers can assist in this respect! Many papers are being written on the subject, planning programs for Sunday school and church."

Evening Service.

The evening service was conducted by Rev. H. Storey, B.A., B.D., a returned missionary from South America. He preached an educational sermon, brimming over with heartfelt interest in the work of evangelizing the southern continent of America.

He reminded the people of George street United Church, of the wonderful privileges they have. It reminds him of the New Testament story of the rich man and Lazarus. People of Canada are like the rich man, dressed in fine linen faring sumptuously every day, with religious opportunities on every hand. Lazarus is at their very door in the people of South America. This large continent to the south, contains 70 per cent. of all the Indians of the world, composed of four or five hundred tribes, speaking different languages, has been neglected. The majority of these tribes have never been privileged to look into the face of a missionary or hear the Word of God.

This continent has been particularly blessed. Our ancestors came to North America with the open Bible. We had noble ancestors who came here to carve out homes for themselves and their descendants, where they might have religious freedom. A noble heritage, which many of us have never thanked God for.

South America has no such privilege. It was settled by Spanish and Portuguese adventurers, who went out to gain riches and return to their native land, having no vision for the betterment of the land or people."

He described the mission stations that have recently been established, among Indians of Brazil and Paraguay, and told of earnest converts who had gone from these stations into the Argentine Republic.

He described the conditions among these tribes. Their greatest drawback is their terrible fear of evil spirits and they will do anything to propitiate them. In one tribe nearly all the babies are smothered to death by the medicine man. In other tribes old people are got rid of in the same way. The women are great sufferers and are in absolute fear of the medicine man.

In conclusion he prayed for young men and young women to offer themselves for service, and go and help these people. God made us fishers of men and died to atone for our sins. Is it real to us that His precious blood was spilled? If so, should we not work to have the largest number of people receive the benefit of His sacrifice?" he asked in conclusion.

District Churches

Warsaw, June 7.—A special service was held in Carmel church, Clarina, on Sunday afternoon, May 27. This was the occasion of the presentation of beautiful brass collection plates by Mr. Harry Grubbe of Toronto, in loving memory of his parents.

The service was conducted in the usual way. After the singing of the anthem, the pastor, the Rev. H. B. Herrington, spoke of the gift which had been presented to the church, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Grubbe, in whose memory the gift was made, and who were well known to many people of Clarina. He told of their great love of nature, and of little children, and quoted from Kipling's poem:

'E'en as they walked that day to God.
So walked they from their birth,
In simpleness and gentleness,
And honour and clean mirth."

The following history of Mr. and Mrs. Grubbe was then read:

'Robert William Radcliffe Grubbe was born in India on April 27, 1844, the second son of Captain William Henry Grubbe, of the Honourable East India Company Artillery, and grandson of John Grubbe, Lord of the Manor of Horsendon, of Abbots' Hold and of Princes Risborough, or the King's Manor, Buckinghamshire, England.

'On June 11, 1868, he married Ada Louise Haselwood Wrighton of Peterborough, Canada, daughter of William and Maria Haselwood Wrighton, and great grand-daughter of the Baron de Codin. Mrs. Grubbe died in Peterborough on May 19, 1919, and Mr. Grubbe died in Peterborough on October 26, 1923."

Harry Grubbe was present and was asked to come to the front to receive a letter of thanks from the people of Carmel church.

The plates were then given to the stewards to receive the offering.

The hymns used during the service were ones which had been favorites with Mr. and Mrs. Grubbe. Special music was sung by the choir.

Mr. Grubbe has a cottage on Upper Stoney Lake, and spends the summer months here.

There was no service in the United church as the Rev. H. B. Herrington was at Smith's Falls conference.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson from Hastings conducted the service in the Presbyterian Church in the evening and administered the right of baptism to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bell's infant. After the sermon, the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. Two elders from Westwood, Mr. Hope and Mr. Harrison, assisted. The whole service was impressive and inspiring. Mr. Thompson spoke very quietly and earnestly. The church was well filled and the collection forgotten.

YOU CAN QUICKLY LIMBER UP SORE, STIFF, SWOLLEN JOINTS

Even Chronic Rheumatic Swellings in Knee, Elbow, Shoulder or Finger Joints Yield to the Mighty Powerful Influence of JOINT-EASE.

It's here, right in town and Bond's Drug Store and every live druggist has it.

It's a low price remedy, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, lameness or torture out of your troubled joints.

Joint-Ease is the name, so called because it is compounded solely for the purpose of relieving all joint ailments.

Just rub it on the tormented, lame joints and in just a few seconds it will penetrate to the bone and blessed comfort comes quickly.

It absorbs instantly and is a clean and stainless that you can rub it on often and get thereby results much more quickly, when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bringing speedy and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuralgia much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

But you must remember that it is for joint afflictions that it is mostly dispensed and its helpfulness will astonish you after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed.

Treble and Bass all There!

Fifes---clarinets and flutes,---as well as traps,---tympani---bass viols and gruff-throated tubas---all clearly heard.

Liquid trebles,—deep, low fundamentals,—these tones give Orthophonic Victrola music its beauty and color. So that today a public concert by famous artists and an Orthophonic Victrola performance by the same great artists,—are two things alike as twins,—and you need not stir from the lazy comfort of the fireside to hear the Orthophonic Victrola. It's really marvellous when you come to think of it. We moderns owe a tribute to the scientists who have contributed the rich gift of "matched impedance" or "smooth flow of sound" to the Victrola. To Victor was extended the privilege of developing this principle for your greater enjoyment.

As a result you may have beautiful, realistic music at home, and you may have it contained in graceful cabinets wrought in fine woods. Artistically designed models,—all equipped with a device which stops each record after playing. Electrical drive, if you wish,—at slight additional cost, eliminates winding. Prices from $1400 down to as low as $115,—on convenient payments from all His Master's Voice dealers.

DOCTORS SHOULD UNDERSTAND WOMEN

Doctor Commits Husband to Asylum Who After is Released.

MONTREAL, Que., June 7 (CP).—"A doctor, above all others, ought to know women," said Mr. Justice Boyer in giving judgment in a case where a man's liberty was at stake. "This doctor ought not to have accepted the version alone of the wife and mother-in-law."

Dr. Lucile Garand and Rev. J. E. Hebert, cure of St. Laurent, were among those ordered to pay damages of $290 to Leo Rodgers for their action in committing him to an asylum for the insane on insufficient evidence of insanity. There had been trouble in the Rodgers' household in 1927 and on Feb. 12 of that year an order for his committal to an asylum was signed at the request of his wife and his mother-in-law by the doctor, the priest and the secretary-treasurer of the town. Five days later habeas corpus proceedings were instituted and Rodgers was released.

Church on Sunday while Rev. W. J. Creighton was in Apsley and Rev. C. A. G. Spence took the Young's Point Mission. This exchange was in accord with the request of the Bishop that the 75th anniversary of the Synod of the diocese would be observed by a general exchange of the parish priests.

As it was Trinity Sunday there was a celebration of the Holy Eucharist at the morning service. At both services a verse of the National Anthem was sung, following the offertory, to honor his gracious majesty, King George, whose birthday it was; and at both services Mr. Dwelley, in his well-prepared, thoughtful sermons, referred to the founding of the Synod which was the achievement of that intrepid Scotsman, John Strachan, the first Bishop of Toronto, who has left the indelible mark of his consistent zealous interest in the Church on the history of the province and the diocese. The founder of the Synod, the founder of both the University of Toronto and Trinity College, he was untiring in his labours and rendered invaluable service to both Church and State in Canada, and especially in Ontario.

Mr. Dwelley spoke of the small beginnings most parish churches have and the possibilities of growth and development.

New Principal.

Mr. T. W. Chaplin, Principal of the Public School, Hastings, has been appointed Principal of the Lakefield Public School, his duties to begin in September. The resignation of Miss Duff made necessary the appointment of a successor.

Personals.

Mr. F. C. Marshall, of Barrie, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. Z. Webster for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Mackenzie were in Brantford on Saturday, attending the wedding of Miss Eleanor Cutliffe to Mr. H. H. Petry.

Mrs. C. J. Beauclerc, of Peterborough, was the week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Holmes.

Miss Virgo, of Toronto, a returned missionary from China, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Harrison.

The friends of Master Arthur Kingdon, who underwent a serious operation in St. Joseph's Hospital last week, will be pleased to learn that he is making satisfactory progress towards a complete recovery.

Professor William B. Scott, noted geologist of Princeton University, is a great-grandson of Benjamin Franklin.

SAYS POWER SOON TO BE BROADCAST.

By NEA Service.

London, June 7.—The trans-oceanic airplane hop of the future will be made without fear of running out of gasoline—because no gasoline will be used, Nicola Tesla, eminent electrical scientist and inventor, makes the prediction with perfect confidence, saying that electric power soon will be broadcast as radio waves now are.

Disclaiming his statement to be that of a visionary, Tesla offered as proof the fact that he already has succeeded in sending power through the air—nearly half way around the world—with a loss of less than 1 per cent of its strength. When this feat can be duplicated cheaply enough to make it applicable to practical use, power would be produced only at great central stations and there broadcast over a wide area for use in motor cars, airplanes, homes and factories.

Tesla believes he will live to see the plan in operation.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while bathing at Ocean Town, N.J. It is thought at first he is a stroke victim, but investigation shows he has been stabbed to death beneath the water.

Folsom's swimming companions had been ROGER NEVILLE, a business partner; MRS. HELEN BARNABY and CARMELITA VALDON. It is established that Folsom, just before his death, had been standing next to NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

ANASTASIA FOLSOM, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, arrives and takes command. At the inquest it is learned that the death weapon wasa pichaq, an Oriental knife, and that it had been bought on the boardwalk.

It is also established that one CROYDON SEARS is a fancier of curious knives. Anastasia engages TITUS RIGGS, an architect, to work on the case. DAN PELTON, the dead man's nephew, arrives, and notices the curious French dolls in Garrett Folsom's room. He tells Titus Riggs he believes his uncle had been guilty of blackmailing a number of people, and together they go through Folsom's papers.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVII.

But it was a thankless task. Mostly the documents were of no great importance and of no evidently suspicious character. It was plain to be seen that Garrett Folsom had packed the lot while in Chicago and brought them to New York, to be attended to there.

For there were various matters that concerned New York business men, and some contracts and estimates that had to do with New York firms.

But of anything touching on a nefarious pursuit, or unlawful bribery or corruption, they found no trace.

That is, until the very last, when Dan Pelton turned the little suitcase upside down and gave it a final shake, and an inconspicuous pocket in the lining flipped open. Out dropped a small memorandum book.

It was old and worn, and had evidently been hidden in the pocket purposely.

The two men pounced upon it and found it to be full of various notes and dates, which obviously referred to private matters.

"Whatever it's all about," Pelton said, "it's not meant for the general public. But many of the entries date back and many of the notes are crossed out. I fancy he had this book in use for years."

"Looks so," agreed Riggs, "but I can't see as it's going to mean much to us, unless we can make out who the people are."

"Well, here's one that seems familiar. Toward the last, note the initials C.R.S. And repeated several times."

"And who may C. R. S. be?"

"That's just it. He may be, possibly, Croydon Rochester Sears."

"Croydon Sears! Impossible! That man's white clear through. I don't know him very well, but I do know him, and I know nothing but good of him."

"That doesn't count, Riggs. If there was a black spot on his past, you wouldn't know it—but Garrett Folsom might have."

"Can you get head or tail to these notes about C. R. S.?"

"They are vague, and yet they are definite, too. Definite in expression, that is, though vague in meaning or allusion."

"Such as?"

"One says, 'C. R. S. Keep on tenterhooks.' Another, 'Screw a little tighter.' And another, 'Refer to secret, but lightly.' It seems to me such notes can only mean that uncle held a club over the head of Mr. Sears."

"Do you know Sears well?"

"Not so very. But I've known him in a general way for years. And I'd back him to the last ditch. His reputation is unassailable. But Uncle Garry may have known of some plot. Early indiscretion, or something. There's no use pretending uncle was perfect just because he's dead."

"Pelton, you use the word blackmail with a careless touch. It's a dangerous and uncertain game. More than in most ventures, if you push your victim too far, you come to a cropper yourself."

"Well, Garrett Folsom wasn't the man to come croppers. If that's the case, then I'll bet he never pushed a victim too far."

"He did—if he was murdered for doing so."

Pelton stared.

"Meaning, in plain English, the suggestion that he was hounding Sears about this 'secret' which unquestionably existed, and that in consequence, Sears bumped him off?"

"Meaning that it is certainly among the possibilities."

"Then, I say, as I said from the start, I'd rather let sleeping dogs lie, drop the investigation, and let the bones of Garrett Folsom rest in peace."

"The investigation will not be dropped!" cried a strident voice, and Miss Folsom stamped into the room. "I heard what you said, Dan, as I neared the door. And it's not up to you to say what shall be done. I engaged Mr. Riggs; he is working for me, and I forbid you to interfere in any manner!"

"Oh, come, now, Aunt Stasia," said Pelton, "you don't want to uncover a lot of stuff that would reflect on Uncle Garrett's character, do you?"

"Nothing like that CAN be unearthed! There is nothing in my brother's life that may not be shown to the light of day! Don't you suppose I knew my brother! And he has been murdered, and for some reason or other you are trying to hush things up! First thing you know you'll get yourself suspected!"

"Good Lord, auntie, how you do go on!"

Even in this serious situation Dan was amused, as he always was, at his aunt's vehemence.

"I'll thank you, Dan, to keep out of it all. You can't help, and if you could you wouldn't. Now take your finger out of the pie and leave the investigation to those who are capable of conducting it."

Her scorn, as shown on her haughty face, might have withered one less used to it, but it was old stuff to Dan Pelton.

All right," he said, but don't blame me when you find you have brought public ignominy and shame on the memory of the man you loved so well."

What do you mean?"

He looked at Riggs and shrugged his shoulders.

You see, madam," and Tite Riggs concluded frankness was his duty, we're run across some notes and papers that seem to show Mr. Folsom had some people at his mercy."

At his mercy? What do you mean by that?"

That their reputations were at his mercy. That he knew their secrets and it gave him a hold over them."

My brother knew the secrets of many people. He was the confidant and counsellor of many. If that gave him a hold over them it was the hold of gratitude and thankfulness for his assistance."

'Aunt, you're priceless! I think, Riggs, you'd better tell her all."

"Mr. Riggs will most certainly tell me all."

Miss Folsom's eyes began to glitter and her voice took on a dominating tone that had, nevertheless, Dan noted, a slight tinge of fear in it.

"Then, Miss Folsom, to put the matter in a few words, we have found some papers—"

"You told me that before."

"Some papers that indicate transactions or arrangements of a nature far from creditable to Mr. Folsom."

"Speak out more plainly. What are they?"

"I'll read you some, instead."

He opened the worn notebook and read:

"'F. L.: Positive of the perjury matter. J. N. S.: No doubt of the truth of K's report. T.C.: Have absolute proof of his guil'."

"Now, I'm sorry to hurt you further, but on another page a series of large numbers would seem to indicate sums paid by these individuals, as the figures are opposite the initials we have noted, and the dates are consecutive—and recent."

"I think, Mr. Riggs, you read a meaning into those notes to suit yourself. I think, if truth were known, they represent the friends who, as I told you, consulted with my brother and he advised and helped them. The figures, of course, we cannot understand, but none of it is one iota of proof or even an indication that my brother had any unlawful hold over these people."

"'I have not seen such great faith, no, not in all Israel!" murmured Pelton, who was fond of quotation.

"Be quiet, Dan," said his aunt. 'Now, Mr. Riggs, you seem extraordinarily blind to facts, as you call them. If these are facts, I mean in the way you interpret them, then it is clear that my brother's murderer must have been one of these victims, as you put it, of his tyranny. If so, I want that man found and hanged, and I will accept the consequences of any opprobrium that may bring to my brother's name."

"Then you want me to go ahead and investigate these notes, if possible, irrespective of the outcome?"

"Go ahead, full steam!" declared Miss Folsom.

NO REVISIONS AT MILLBROOK

Council Accepts Roll As Prepared By Assessor—Buys Fire Equipment.

CONSIDERS PAVEMENT.

MILLBROOK, June 7. — Council met as Court of Revision at 7.30 on Monday evening, Reeve W. T. Wood presiding, and present Councillors J. R. Eakins, P. Stinson, G. W. Sayles, T. J. Lang.

Assessor J. J. Clarke presented the assessment roll, and on motion of Stinson-Lang it was confirmed at $385,641, and no alterations made.

Harry Ryley appeared before the Court of Revision asking reduction of assessment on lot owned by him on Hunter street. Request was not granted but council consented to look into the matter of having this lot assessed with adjoining property which Mr. Ryley owns.

Council met in regular session at 8 p.m.

J. Greer, of the Canada Cement Company, Toronto, addressed council presenting quotations and other information in connection with cement required for concrete pavement.

Council was favorably impressed with the points Mr. Greer brought out, and consideration was promised.

M. McDonald, representing the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Company, Toronto, also addressed council regarding the purchase of Dunlop hose and fire equipment.

Council awarded this company an order for 150 feet of hose at $1.10 per foot; and one nozzle at $36.00; two dozen washers, one tap and dye for repairing threads and couplings of hose.

The following accounts were read and on motion ordered paid:

S. Donnelly, street watering, etc., $75.60; Millbrook Rural Telephone Company, $5.75; J. Hall, Peterborough concrete pipe, $30.90; Hydro-Electric, street lighting, $71.77; town hall current, $3.37; Workmen's Compensation Board, $22.50; Attwool & Sheppard, account, $14.72; H. Nattress, salary and labor, $28.70; F. McIvor, $1.25; Russell Smith, $4; H. Lord, $3; J. H. Peel, for right of way through his property for town drain, $100.

Councillor Sayles reported having visited the American La France Company, Toronto, and inquired into the quotations being: Nozzles from $36 to $75; tap and dye, $20; electric fire siren, to be controlled from telephone switchboard, $200. Information filed for further reference.

Reeve Wood reported result of conference with County Road Superintendent George Greer, of Cobourg, regarding the condition of the detour by way of Bank street, stating that the latter had promised it will be put in satisfactory order at once, the county road gang being sent here to make the necessary repairs.

Council adjourned to meet again on Thursday, June 7, at 4 p.m. to open tenders for drain construction.

Public Admitted Saturday.

The doors of H. LeBrun and Co., which have been closed pending the liquidation of that firm's affairs, will be thrown open to the public on Saturday, June 9th. United Selling System merchandisers have wrecked prices on this store's entire and complete $25,000 stocks of men's and boys' clothing and haberdashery and every last garment is to be sold to complete the settlement. The public is warned that the opening advertisement will appear in this paper to-morrow (Friday) night. Look for H. LeBrun and Company's colossal sacrifice offering and read every word of it.—Adv. 1d-134-2003

VALUE OF SONGS WAS KNOWN BEFORE

Mrs. J. W. F. Harrison Tried to Introduce Them Years Ago.

TORONTO, Ont., June 7.—"We can look upon the recent Folk Song Festival in Quebec as the seed of a national music," said Fred Jacob speaking to a very largely-attended luncheon, of the Heliconian Club. "It has turned people's thoughts to our own work and has given them a pride in it." Mr. Jacob mentioned the pleasure it had been to see that Toronto and Ontario had given to the Quebec festival the chief exponent of its songs—Madame Dusseau—and declared her singing to have been among the high spots of the affair.

"Mention was afterwards made of the woman, who, years ago, before folk music became popular, had discovered the songs of French Canada. That woman is Mrs. J. W. F. Harrison, better known to the literary world as 'Seranus.' Mrs. Harrison translated many of the songs and wrote many charming bits of the villanelle type. It was arranged that there should be a musical presentation, a matter over which Mrs. Harrison took infinite trouble, but she was a little ahead of her time, and it all came to naught.

URGES CHANGES IN REGULATIONS

Committees Report Follows Out Forecasts Issued Yesterday.

ON IMMIGRATION.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 6 (Canadian Press). — Recommendations for the improvement of Canada's immigration activities are made in the report of the parliamentary immigration inquiry tabled in the House of Commons this afternoon. They follow out the forecasts made yesterday and include a recommendation that a return be made to Parliament 30 days after the opening of each session, showing all special immigration permits granted.

Improvement is urged in the overseas medical inspection system of immigrants by providing for medical examination by British local doctors under the direction of the Canadian Government.

Extension by the Canadian Government of assistance to Canadian youths trained in agriculture equal to that given by the British Government to British emigrant boys is suggested.

"SALADA" TEA

One out of every five pounds of tea used in Canada is "SALADA"—the reason—it is more satisfying and better value than any other tea. Sales are the best proof. Brown Label Quality, 75c per lb. Orange Pekoe Blend, 85c per lb. Sold everywhere.

LITHUANIA'S VOTE DEFEATS MOTION

League Council Resolution Calling For Settlement of Dispute is Lost.

GENEVA, June 6 (Canadian Press).—A resolution in the League Council demanding quick settlement of the Polish-Lithuanian dispute was defeated this afternoon. Premier Waldemaras of Lithuania alone voted against it, but unanimity is required.

France joined Great Britain today in publicly stating before the Council of the League of Nations that non-settlement of the Polish Lithuanian dispute over the Vilna question is threatening the peace of Europe. M. Paul Boncour, French Socialist, who is taking the place of Foreign Minister Briand on the Council, went further than Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, by advocating the fixation of a definite period during which the dispute must be settled by direct negotiations, failing which the League Council would take a hand and seek a more rapid solution.

QUICK PILE RELIEF

Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid is guaranteed to banish any form of Pile misery, or money back. It gives quick action even in old, stubborn cases. Hem-Roid is a harmless tablet that removes blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. It brings joyful relief quickly and safely or costs nothing. McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell it with this guarantee.

THE MARKETS

ewes, medium to choice, 150 lbs. Winnipeg market was also a stimulus mon, $2.00 to $6.50.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, June 7 (Canadian Press).—With upward of 1,000,000 bushels of North American wheat announced as having been bought yesterday for shipment to Europe, wheat tilted upward again. Domestic Spring wheat crop advices meanwhile were persistently adverse.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1⅛ to 2c net higher. Corn finished ¾ to ⅞c up; oats at ⅜ to ⅝c advance, and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 7c.

Emphasizing improvement of European demand for wheat were the Liverpool quotations higher than due, together with news of unseasonable cold in Germany. Strength of the Winipeg market was also a stimulus to buyers of future deliveries here, and so, too, was the fact that the Chicago cash wheat trading basis was 3c a bushel higher yesterday for red Winter grades, and that available supplies of wheat in North America showed a decrease of 3,390,000 bushels for the week.

One of the most conspicuous bullish factors throughout the day in the wheat market was continuing drought complaints from the spring wheat belt this side of the Canadian boundary. In particular, the dearth of moisture was reported to be increasingly severe in the Red and James River valleys. According to a leading Chicago expert, the drought which started in South Dakota is spreading day by day into the best producing sections of North Dakota and Minnesota. Rain, he says, can check further damage but cannot overcome existing drawbacks that resulted from thin stands.

Corn was decidedly strong, the July delivery in particular. Wet, cold weather had a bullish influence, and there was considerable buying of July corn at times against sales of September. Country offerings were limited, and North American available supplies decreased 1,004,000 bushels for the week. Oats firmed up quickly with corn.

Provisions averaged higher, helped by an upward slant in hog values.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

FOR FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1928

Benefic aspects dominate today, according to astrology, which reads the signs as propitious for most human activities.

Women now may expect good luck in their public enterprises and the stars presage for them the power to turn the tide in the affairs of a national candidate for a political office.

There is supposed to be an especially promising sign for those who transact business with elderly women.

Gardening now comes into public notice as a tremendous interest that engages attention in all parts of the country.

The stars presage the development of new public gardens and parks. Women will promote many of these important movements in the cultivation of the and.

Men should push all constructive plans today and engineers should profit from this positing of the stars.

It is prognosticated that buildings more wonderful than any ever erected will rise in American cities and art will combine with mechanical supremacy in making them marvels that symbolize the age.

The planetary rule appears to encourage all sorts of military training. Army officers are to benefit greatly.

Movement of population will be marked toward the close of summer, it is foretold.

Southern states are to enter a period of tremendous prosperity that will engage world interest, if the signs are rightly interpreted.

Manufacturing interests are subject to the most stimulating direction of the stars. Both the Pacific and Atlantic coasts will extend operations on a large scale.

The evening of this day should be a propitious time for giving banquets and for entertaining persons of prominence.

Persons whose birthdate it is have a happy augury for their new year. The young will engage in romantic love affairs.

Children born on this day probably will have happy and fortunate careers. The subjects of this sign usually have great charm of personality.

Short of Breath
Dizzy, Sinking Spells
COULDN'T WALK FAR

Mrs. I. A. Oliver, Granville Ferry, N.S., writes:—"A few years ago I had dizzy, sinking spells so bad I could hardly stand up without taking hold of something to support me, and I could not walk any distance on account of being so short of breath.

"I had taken a lot of doctor's medicine, but it did me no good, only for the time being, so reading in the B.B.B. almanac about MILBURN'S HEART NERVE PILLS I decided to try them and found them to be just what they are recommended to be, and I feel that I owe my life to them."

LYRICS OF LIFE

JUST ENOUGH.

I want some wealth, I don't despise
What money is or money buys.
The only thing that puzzles me
Is just how much it ought to be.

I'm not so sure I want too much;
I get too nice a hoe to touch,
Too rich to common folk to talk;
Or, going out, too proud to walk.

The beggar friends who share a crust
Will only part when part they must,
But golden friendships often end,
For riches soon forget a friend.

So, if my friendships won't endure;
Then, God in heaven, keep me poor.
If I quit calling someone Sam,
Then, heaven, leave me as I am.

I want to have a little ease
In my old age, if heaven please;
But I don't want a lot-of stuff,
The rich are those with just enough—

With just enough so they don't fret,
Enough to keep them common yet.
Great wealth great joy will seldom bring.
But just enough is just the thing.

NEITHER ILL NOR WELL.

A Condition of Health Due To Weak, Watery Blood.

There are thousands of men and women to-day who are not sick enough to take to their beds, neither are they well enough to do a day's work or live a normal life. No particular organ seems to be at fault, yet the whole system lacks strength and vitality. They cannot get refreshing sleep and arise as tired as when they went to bed. They are nervous, have headaches and backaches, dizzy spells and pains that shift about. Appetite is lacking and digestion poor. Life has lost its zest.

Invariably these people are pale and the lips show white where carmine should be. This pallor betrays the cause of the condition, which is thin blood. When the blood is thin the whole system suffers.

Such people need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to send rich, red blood through the body and bring renewed vigor to tired muscles and undernourished nerves. The beneficial influence of this remedy reaches the whole system. These pills do more than relieve symptoms, they remove the cause of the disability.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. To any reader of this paper a copy of the medical booklet, "Building Up the Blood", will be sent free on request.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE ARE HAPPIEST WHEN BUSY

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.
(Author, The Springs of Human Action)

Happiness is like a coy maiden. The more ardently it is pursued the more coquettish and uncertain it becomes. A man may be overtaken by happiness but he can never overtake happiness. It will not be coaxed or bribed. Happiness cannot be made to order. It is distinctly a by-product.

If happiness could be bought in the market place or directly procured as men hunt big game, only the wealthy and the leisured could make a bid for it. The rest of us would be completely out of the running. But as it is we all have an equal chance if we get busy and lose ourselves in some worth while project.

We are happiest when busy because as pleasure seekers and idlers we cannot help but feel selfish and unnecessary. This attitude is unconsciously reflected in our innermost selves and prevents us from being happy, for happiness consists in the realization that by the sweat of your brow you are doing your bit in the world.

The direct pursuit of happiness defeats its own ends. It is too subjective and self-centered. No value is created. It is like expecting to get a lot of money for doing nothing but chasing after the money. Money is not secured legitimately in that way. Honest people work for it, they render a service or create an equivalent. The money and other rewards come as pay for service rendered.

We are happiest when busy because that is the way happiness is created and maintained.

If you really want to be happy the best thing to do is to forget all about it and lose yourself and your self-consciousness in some worthy undertaking. The more whole-heartedly you enter into your work and play the more likely you are to be overtaken by happiness. Selfishness and happiness can never live together peacefully.

FRECKLES

Tells How to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots and Have a Beautiful Complexion

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine from any drug or department store and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove your freckles.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Chosen for summer travel—this lightweight tweed suit has a matching cape appropriate for steamer wear.

For the European trip this summer I nominate a lightweight tweed suit—and I also recommend a cape of matching tweed. If you are not going to Europe but want a useful and smart travel costume I would also recommend this lightweight tweed suit—and the cape.

For the ocean trip itself I suppose few women wear their actual travel suit on board the deck, but the tweed cape would be most useful worn with separate skirt and jumper for lounging about. Then for motor trips and even for flying in passenger planes this tweed suit with the cape would be most convenient.

Some women look annoyed even at the thought of tweed suits for European travel. Haven't English women of the less attractive globe-trotting sort been known and laughed at for their everlasting tweed suits? Is there any reason why a traveler must wear tweed just because she is trying to stick to a prescribed itinerary?"

The best reason to select the tweed suit I think is because tweed suits really are very smart and continue to look smart after much wearing. Present tweed is quite different too from the stiff, baggy-looking tweed of those English globe-trotter's Norfolk suits that of course we don't admire. This tweed is very fine and soft and yet substantial.

The suit shown in the sketch has the fullness arranged in inverted box pleats at the front. Some of the new French suits have wrap-around skirts with the lap at the left front or the back.

French women never weary of their little jacket suit and the tailors who set the style in French suits always manage somehow to keep abreast of the mode without departing from the simplicity and convention of outline and finish. So you will see that in the new suits of the season there is almost never any sign of flare or fussiness.

HAVELOCK COUNCIL WILL BUY CHLORIDE

Decides to Use Fifteen Tons For Dust Prevention—Tuesday Clean-up Day.

HAVELOCK, June 6.—The regular meeting of the Village Council was held in the council chamber on Monday evening, with Reeve Curtis and Councillors Spencer and Gordon present.

A number of the business men of the village were in attendance to urge that immediate steps be taken to procure a dust remedy for the streets.

A. C. Denike stated that it was impossible for the merchants to keep their goods clean and that it was a matter which affected every resident of the village because each one carried away a share of the dust with every article purchased. The only criticism he had heard with regard to the calcium chloride was that it was put on too light on the corners. Owing to the removal by the Dominion government of $3.00 a ton tax on calcium chloride and the reduction in the price of the product, the council decided that they could procure fifteen tons for about the same amount as they expended last year for ten tons and the Reeve was authorized to purchase fifteen tons at the best possible price.

Tuesday Clean-up Day.

Tuesday, June 12th will be clean-up day for the village. A team will be available to cart away rubbish if deposited in boxes and placed on the streets. The citizens are also asked to rake up the streets in front of their residences.

A discussion took place with regard to starting work on the drainage system and it was decided to commence at once, the drain on George street to be completed first. A new drainage system will then be put on Ontario and Ann streets.

The following communications were received:

From the Ontario Department of Agriculture re the Weed Control Act, enclosing a copy of the Act.

From J. B. Nelson, of Department of Agriculture at Peterborough, requesting the name of the local weed inspector and asking that a representative be sent to the meeting in Lindsay on June 6th. It was moved by Councillors Squire and Gordon that Weed Inspector D. McAdam attend this meeting.—Carried.

From Mail and Empire requesting the village to insert an advertisement in their tourist number. No action was taken in the matter.

From Councillor E. J. Leeson, who is in the hospital in Peterborough, requesting that the following motions be put before the meeting:

First, that signboards be erected at the four roads leading into the village with the words "Welcome" on one side, and "Come Again" on the other. No action taken

Second, that the council purchase from ten to fifteen tons of calcium chloride for the streets.

Third, that George and Ontario streets be made through streets with stop signs at the intersections at Quebec, Oak and William streets. — No action taken.

Constable D. McAdam was authorized to collect the dog taxes.

On motion by Councillors Spencer and Gordon, the following accounts were ordered paid:

Provincial treasurer, war tax, $19.10; Provincial treasurer, town hall license, $3; Bank of Toronto, interest for May, $10.80; H. F. McNichol, balance salary as collector, $38; D. McAdam, salary for May, $60; school board, $1100; Hydro Commission, hall light, $33.69; E. Fennell, tax collector's bond, $10; John Kelly, streets, $5; E. Little, streets, $5.

D. Vansickle, $40; D. Fleming, $37; D. Vansickle (horse) $4; E. Youmans, $9; A. M. Buchanan, $9; R. Vansickle (team) $11; C. Graham $5.70.

Council adourned to meet July 9th on the call of the reeve.

A leisurely breakfast and plenty of SEAL BRAND Coffee — that's the way to begin the day!

"Saves the Clothes and Hands"
Mrs. ——, Weller Street, Peterborough

"I've been using Rinso for several weeks now, and I wouldn't think of doing my housework without a package of it on hand. Doesn't it get clothes white? And so easily! It's wonderful in our water—why just soaking the wash in the safe Rinso suds overnight gets all the dirt out. There's no real rubbing to do and, of course, that saves the clothes—and hands! With Rinso, clothes don't need to be boiled—that saves on my gas bill, too. Rinso is also just as good for cleaning woodwork, tiles, sinks, etc. It's a real worksaver."
Mrs. ——, Weller Street, Peterborough.

Yes! You can get whiter clothes in less time with less work

DOESN'T that sound welcome to you women who know what hard wash day work means? And Rinso does exactly what we say. Millions of women have proved it. They're using Rinso each wash day. And they are feeling better—feeling happier. Rinso saves them hours of hard work, yet they have the whitest clothes that ever gladdened a woman's eyes.

Rinso makes such rich, soapy suds that clothes are actually soaked clean. A little rub here and there perhaps, where the things are badly soiled—but that's all. No boiling—no other bar soap, chips or powder needed. Rinso does the work alone—and does it better—in hard or soft water. White clothes kept whiter. Coloured things kept brighter. Save your strength, your time, your clothes ..... Use Rinso.

SUNSET SOAP DYES

EVER TRY A DYE DAY?

You will be astonished at the amount of money you will save by intelligently and methodically devoting just one day to Sunset dyeing. And there will be no uncertainty as to results.

Make a memo of your own garments (outer and under), childrens' dresses and coats, draperies and curtains, pillow covers, bath mats and any other fabrics that need brightening in new colour to restore their freshness or extend their usefulness.

Get a supply of Sunset and without muss or fuss you will produce new-looking, colourful garments and draperies that will amply repay you in satisfaction and saving.

Sunset is easy—quick—clean to use. It fast dyes silk, wool, cotton, linen (or mixtures of these fibres) all in one dyebath. Cleans too as it dyes.

Murray Bay, the Lower St. Lawrence, and the Saguenay Canyon

THERE'S a new land calling you . . . a land of health . . . a land of energy and joy.

Sail down to it now . . . to quaint old-world Quebec . . . to Murray Bay and Tadousac . . . and the grandeur of the Saguenay Canyon.

That's where the breeze blows cool . . . crisp with the sea salt . . . and the scent of pines and balsams. That's where the trout bite . . . and golf is really golf.

Vacations are worth while in this cradle of old French Canada along the great St. Lawrence River.

WEDDING BELLS

ARMSTRONG—SCOPIS

At St. Johns Church at ten o'clock on Sunday night, June 3rd, Rev. Dr. Blagrave performed the marriage ceremony for Helen Scopis and Irving W. Armstrong, who were attended by Miss Veerda Graham and Eric Roberts, leader of Roberts Ohioans Orchestra, playing at Chemong Park.

The bride, who was prettily gowned in yellow georgette with large hat, is a popular member of the staff of the Elite Cafe, and the bridegroom is a member of the Ohioans Orchestra, and is a brother of Glen Allan of "Dumbells" fame, whose real name is Armstrong.

MONCRIEF—PRITCHARD.

CAVAN, June 7. — On Saturday, June 2nd, a pretty wedding was solemnized at "Fairview," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Pritchard, ninth concession of Cavan, when their only daughter, Elinor Catherine, became the bride of Kenneth J. Moncrief, of Fraserville.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. O. Totton, on the lawn in the presence of about fifty relatives and friends.

The lawn was prettily decorated and the bridal couple stood under an arch of white lilacs, ferns and sweet peas.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of white crepe de chene, with shoes and stockings to match. She wore a veil and orange blossoms and carried a sheaf of roses.

Little Rex Carr, dressed in a black velvet "Little Lord Fontelroy suit," was ring bearer.

Mrs. (Rev.) J. O. Totton played the wedding march.

A buffet luncheon was served.

The happy couple motored to Peterborough, where they took the train for Toronto, Niagara and other points.

The bride travelled in a navy blue ensemble suit, the dress being of navy blue georgette trimmed with sand, long blue coat, black shoes and sand stockings, and rose coloured hat.

The wedding gifts were many and beautiful, testifying to the esteem in which the young couple are held. They will reside on the grooms farm near Fraserville.,

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. J. Pritchard, Newark, Ohio; Mrs. Brethour and son Lloyd, Lindsay; Mrs. Parnell and family, Newcastle, and Miss Doan, St. Thomas.

TIPPETT—KENNEDY.

At George street Parsonage on Wednesday, June 6th, the marriage of Mary Lucinda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kennedy, of 334 Stewart street, and Herman Carlisle Tippett, son of Mrs. Willard Tippett of Ida, Ontario, was solemnized by the Rev. J. E. Todd.

The bride was attended by her sister, Candace, while the best man was Mr. Harry Tamblin.

The bride was attractively gowned in a dress of blue with coat and hat to match. She also wore a unique brooch that has been in the family for generations and that has been worn by grandmother, mother and daughter at their respective weddings.

A dainty buffet lunch was served at the home of the bride's parents, after which the happy couple left for Toronto and points west. Upon their return to the city they will reside at 219 Hunter street west.

OBITUARY

MRS. ARTHUR DUNSFORD

Failing health for the past three years finally terminated in the death of Beatrice McClure, beloved wife of Arthur Dunsford, the sad event taking place at the family residence, River road, on June 6, 1926. The late Mrs. Dunsford was forty-four years of age. She was born in Smith Township, the daughter of the late Mitchell and Mrs. McClure, and had resided on River road for the past two years. She had formerly lived in Douro Township and attended United Church at Bethel.

Left to mourn, besides the sorrowing husband are six sons, Howard and Leonard of Dummer; Marvin, Harry, Ivan, and Teddy at home, and also two daughters, Mrs. Wilfred Bolton of Warsaw and Velcta, at home.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, River Road (near the Golf Links) at 2 00 p.m. on Friday, June 8, the Rev. H. B. Herrington of Warsaw conducting the services at the home and at the graveside in Warsaw cemetery.

MRS. ERNEST HENRY

At nine o'clock on Wednesday evening, May 6, there passed away at the family residence, 556 Romaine street, Florence Marion Allison, beloved wife of Ernest Henry and a resident of this city for the past ten years. Word of her passing was received with deep regret among the congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, which she attended since coming here from Kingston, as well as among a large circle of acquaintances in this city and Kingston.

The late Mrs. Henry was born at Wolfe Island, Frontenac County, her parents being Mr. and Mrs. William Allison, who still reside there, and who mourn her passing, together with the sorrowing husband, four children, Jack, Edwin, Arnold and an infant baby boy. Four sisters and two brothers also survive, namely, Mrs. Captain Gradt of Kingston, Mrs. Stanley Winburn of Rochester, N.Y., Mrs. Fred Patterson, and Mrs. John James of Picton; William Allison of Wolfe Island, and John Allison of Cape Vincent, N.Y.

Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

Wheat Opens Weak And Falls Further

CHICAGO, June 7. Canadian Press—Decided set backs in the price of wheat to-day followed reports of rains in the northwest, especially in Canada. According to some advices, the Canadian crop is now two weeks ahead of time.

Opening 1¼c to 3c down wheat rallied a little and then dropped lower than before. Corn, oats and provisions weakened also, with corn starting 5-8c to 1¼c off and later continuing to sag.

Opening prices were: Wheat July, 143; September 144; Corn, July 106 1-8; September 104 1-8; oats, July 56; September 46¼.

Noranda Reaches New High In Heavy Trading To-day

TORONTO, Ont., June 7 (Canadian Press). — Noranda was the centre of attraction in this morning's active trading on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, heavy demand causing the Quebec stock to soar more than $2.00 a share. Following yesterday's advance, Noranda opened strongly at 30.10, and before noon sold as high as 32.25, where a gain of 2.15 was recorded. This figure constitutes a new high record since the stock was listed. More than 32,000 shares changed hands during the morning.

Other active stocks were Teck-Hughes, which moved up 10 points to 10.50, and Amulet, which lost five at 4.15. McIntyre was up 25 at 26.75. There was considerable trading in Pend Oreille and Sheritt-Gordon, both Western stocks being easier. Oreille lost 20 cents at 15.50, and the Manitoba stock dropped 7 to 6.03.

Toronto Prices Hold Firm In Dull Trading To-day

TORONTO, June 7.— (Canadian Press.)—Prices ruled firm in dull trading on the Toronto stock exchange to-day, gains outnumbering losses by a wide margin. International Nickel again provided the greatest activity, gaining ⅛ at 96¾. At one time in the morning the stock reached 97¾ but reaction set in before the noon close.

Canada Dredging and Mackay recorded the highest advances, the former on sales of nearly 1000 selling up to 40 for a gain of 1½ points, while Mackay gained a similar amount at 127. Alberta Pacific Grain was also 1½ points higher at 61½. Some demand developed for City Dairy and the price was advanced one point to 57. Elsewhere gains were fractional.

Winnipeg Railway led the few declines with a loss of three points at 121½ while losses of a point were recorded by Canada Dry at 79 and Canada Cement at 30.

BUILDERS OF HOMES

HOME builders naturally dream of their beautiful houses completed. In nightmares, however, they see walls cracking and crumbling, draughts, coal bills and discomforts. Eliminate all possibility of these by using TEN/TEST.

TEN/TEST sheathing, a Canadian forest product, is a manufactured insulating lumber 7/16" thick. Not laminated, but one solid piece, it is proof against every atmospheric change. Its fibres, interlocked as the result of 2,000 lbs. pressure, give utmost strength. Millions of sealed air cells give supreme insulating value.

TEN/TEST accomplishes its work unseen, as insulating sheathing between walls and roof, or, as a lasting base for cement stucco, plaster and other artistic finishes.

Your architect, contractor or builder will tell you more about TEN/TEST. Your lumber dealer — our local representative — knows its every point of utility and superiority. All these experts think highly of TEN/TEST because it has proved an economy in many homes, saving coal bills (and doctors' bills) and giving satisfaction during the life of the house.

TEN/TEST insulation sheathing pays a dividend of over 35% yearly in fuel bill saving. An even further economy may be made by installing smaller heat units in TEN/TEST Fuel Saving Homes.

TEN/TEST INSULATING BUILDING BOARD

TEN/TEST insulation sheathing is a sound deadener, cutting off from the home all outside noise. Used between dividing walls and ceilings, it makes of the individual room a sanctuary.

Play In Semi-Finals For Ontario Golf Honors To-Day

HAZEL HUDSON CONQUERED 3-1

Enter Finals For Ontario Ladies' Golf Championship On Friday.

AT ESSEX CLUB.

Essex Golf Club, Sandwich, Ont., June 7. — Three members of the Toronto Golf Club and the club champion of the Essex County Club, will fight it out for the 1928 championship of the Ontario Ladies' Golf Union in the semi-finals to-day and the final on Friday.

The semi-finals will see Miss Maud Smith and Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock, club mates in the Toronto Golf Club, paired in the upper bracket. The winner will oppose either Miss Cecil Smith, also of the Toronto Golf Club, or Miss Catherine McKay of Essex, who meet in the lower bracket.

Sensation of Day.

Miss Maud Smith supplied the sensation of the round yesterday when she conquered Miss Hazel Hudson, Toronto Ladies Golf Club, 3 and 1. She led twice on the first nine, but the match was all square at the turn. Again she took the lead at the tenth, only to have it all square when Miss Hudson took the twelfth. The thirteenth and fourteenth were shared but Miss Smith won the next three.

Essex Golf Club, June 7. — Canadian Press. — Following are the results of the championship flight, second round, in the Ontario ladies' golf tourney here yesterday.

Miss Maud Smith, Toronto G. C., defeated Miss Hazel Hudson, Toronto Ladies G. C., 2 and 1.

Mrs. Gouinlock, Toronto G. C., defeated Mrs. Fisher, Lambton, 2 and 1.

Miss Catherine McKay, Essex, defeated Mrs. E. Ellis, Hamilton, 5 and 2.

In the semi-finals to-day Miss Maud Smith will play Mrs. Guinlock, while Miss Cecil Smith faces Miss McKay in the lower bracket.

This rain may have been the answer to somebody's prayer, but it certainly put the crimp in the sporting activities of Peterborough for the past few days. Weather permitting, the Kiwanis and Moose Juveniles will clash to-night in a league game at the Riverside Park. The East City Whippets have dropped out of the group and while it is not known yet whether a third team will be entered, the Kiwanis and Moose will carry on for the present. A new schedule will be announced shortly.

Rain Dampens Ardor Connaught Race Fans

OTTAWA, Ont., June 7.—(Canadian Press).—The spring meeting of the Connaught Park was inaugurated yesterday in an incessant rainfall that slowed the racing strip and held the attendant fans down to 2,500 persons. Their Excellencies, the Governor General and Lady Willingdon turned out for the initial day's sport despite the sultry weather.

The Beaverdale purse event which featured the well filled card proved an easy victory for the public favorite, Willis Sharpe Kilmer's crack three-year-old colt Sun Roman. Under a well rated ride by Jockey Paumbo, the Kilmer entry pulled away in the home stretch drive from the others in the field of ten which contested the race, and won handily by four lengths. He covered the six furlongs route in 1:16 3-5 and returned his backers just less than even money $3.90 for the usual $2 investment. Pledge of the C. D. Cushman Stable was second and My Boy Friend, owned by Joseph Edwards, finished third.

Postponed games now mean plenty of work for Central League teams later on. And with the clubs already scheduled for two and sometimes three games a week it is going to be a tough task to work in these fixtures that have been rained out.

The Petes are scheduled to play a double header in Deloro next Wednesday. It would be a big help to grab off both ends of this twin bill.

They all do it sometimes. "Wicky" Ross, Belleville centre gardener, long recognized as one of the best outfielders in the Central loop dropped an easy fly in the first inning of the Belleville-Kingston game Monday. The error was made on a play that should have registered the third out and the Ponies went on and scored four runs in the frame after that.

Deloro are due to play a game in Kingston tomorrow and a victory for the Smelters would send them up to a tie for first place with the Oshawa gang.

To settle an argument it may be mentioned that Al. Heckman and Shiner Johnston have been with the Peterborough Central Ontario League club since 1922 and are thus in their seventh season. Hap Harrison has played here since 1920 and is in his ninth season as a Peterborough played. Ray Rose, Max Swanston and Tommy Holyman were with the squad in 1919 but Rose was out of senior ball for several years as a member of the C.G.E. intermediate team.

There have only been two home runs made over the left field fence at James Stevenson Park by amateur players. Peeney Mills, the Belleville catcher and Hap Harrison, the local third baseman doing the trick. Harrison's was the longer rap of the two, clearing the fence toward centre.

Sutton who will play second base for Oshawa on Saturday and McCullum who will likely be somewhere on the line up are about the only players Oshawa secured out of the winter drop of alleged stars.

Si Dell of Oshawa will likely be the umpire-in-chief here on Saturday when the Central League leaders clash with the Petes. Edgar Lebarr or Alex Kay will be on the bases.

With two games to play at Deloro next Wednesday it is up to the Petes to have a full team in action. The Smelters are a smart crew and the local gang will need all their reserves in this double-header.

CARDS TAKE FIRST GAME

Defeat Giants 11-6 in Initial Tilt of Their Series.

MAKE 17 HITS.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(Canadian Press).—The Cardinals waged a strong uphill battle here yesterday to defeat the Giants by 11 to six in the opening game of their series. St. Louis got 17 hits. The Giants knocked out the veteran Grover Alexander with five runs in two innings, but made only three hits off his successor, Clarence Mitchell, the southpaw spitballer recently signed as a free agent following his release by the Phillies. Vic Aldridge held the Cards well in hand until the seventh, when he was knocked out in the midst of a six-run rally. Holm tripled with two on against Jim Faulkner who succeeded Aldridge. Chaplin also was uncertain in the box.

The ninth straight defeat for the Nationals was chalked up at Philadelphia when the Cubs won the opening game of the series, 5 to 3. Neither of the starting pitchers finished. Pat Malone of the Cubs was relieved because of his wildness by Russ for a pinch hitter. For the second successive game, Cy Williams, going in as a pinch hitter, hit over the right field fence for a home run.

Brooklyn staved off two late rallies by Cincinnati to win the opening game of the Brooklyn series from the Reds, 8 to 5. Douglas McWeeny held the league leaders at bay until the eight when he gave up three runs. He turned over the pitching to Rube Ehrhardt, midway of the ninth when the Reds again threatened. Ray Kolp, Carl Mays and Jim Edwards were hit hard by the Robins. Del Bissonnette hit his tenth home run of the season with two on and Edwards pitching in the seventh, giving Brooklyn the margin of victory. Bissonnette's drive broke a triple tie which had existed among himself, Hack Wilson of Chicago and Jim Bottomley of St. Louis for National League home run honors.

Yanks May Purchase Jersey City Club

NEW YORK, June 7.—(Canadian Press).—Officials of both the New York Yankees and the Jersey City Black Cats of the International League admitted yesterday that they had discussed the possibility of the Yankees purchasing the Jersey City Club as a farm for surplus material, but all concerned said transfer of ownership, if any, would be delayed until after the close of the present championship season.

SKEETERS WIN 7-6 DECISION

Baltimore's Batting Rally in Finals to Hold Jersey City.

KEYS TAKE DOUBLE.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 7.—(Canadian Press). — Baltimore's batting rally in the final three innings was completely nullified by a pair of errors by Dick Porter and Leo Dixon in the seventh frame that enabled Jersey City to score three runs, thereby gaining a sufficient edge to take the contest by the score of 7 to 6, here yesterday. It was the second straight defeat at the hands of the Black Cats and the Orioles found themselves buried two games deep in last position.

KEYS TAKE SEVENTH.

NEWARK, N.J., June 7.—(Canadian Press).—The Reading Keys registered their seventh consecutive victory yesterday afternoon by taking two games from the Bears, 11 to 5, and 4 to 2. It was the fifth straight defeat for the Newarkers. The Keys came from behind in the first game and won by good hitting. In the second game, Manager Hinchman benched Pete Fowler when he showed signs of weakening and sent Pete Harrison to stop the rally of the Bruins. He was successful, Whitman was the batting star of the day, getting five hits, including a triple.

Buffalo at Rochester—rain.

Montreal at Toronto—wet grounds.

YANKS HOLD INDIANS 8-3

Champions Have Won Fifteen in Sixteen Games Played in West.

BROWNS WIN 5-2.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(Canadian Press).—The Yankees kept their slate clean in the west through their third game by winning at Cleveland yesterday, 8 to 3. The champions, who have won fifteen in sixteen from the west, yesterday avenged themselves against George Uhle, the only western hurler to defeat them this season. Uhle was knocked out in the fifth. Bayne and Levsen held the Yankees fairly well in check through the rest of the game, but Herb Pennock already had sufficient margin for his ninth victory of the season.

Lou Gehrig got a double and two singles, but Babe Ruth was held hitless by the Cleveland pitching trio-umvirate.

Pitcher Sam Gray yesterday won his ninth victory of the season against four defeats when the St. Louis Browns defeated his former team-mates, the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 2. Brannon hit a homer in the fifth with one on. The Athletics outhit the Browns, 8 to 7, but were not able to score until the eighth inning, when Cobb got his third single of the game to drive in a run. Their second run came in the same inning when, with the base filled, Blue fumbled a roller.

GARDEN HILL DEFEATED BY BAILIEBORO

Lose 6-5 Decision in Opening Tilt of East Durham Tuxis League.

FIELD AY HELD.

Many Attend Gathering Held Under Auspices of Young People.

BAILIEBORO, June 7.—About five hundred people attended the field day held on the athletic grounds, under the auspices of the Young People's League of the United Church and the Victor Tuxis Square on Monday afternoon.

The school children's softball teams opened the occasion when the local public school team played a snappy game against a mixed team from Bensfort and South Monaghan schools. The line up was as follows:

1 Mile Race.—1, J. Hall; 2, S. Greenaway; 3, W. Gowling; 4, R. Davidson.

Wins 6 to 5 Victory

The hardball game was the opening game in the East Durham Tuxis League, when Garden Hill was defeated by Bailieboro, 6 to 5. The game was a snappy one throughout the seven innings featured by few errors and heavy slugging made by the local team. Three home runs were made by M. Wood, A. Dawson, and H. Dean.

The line up was as follows:

Bailieboro.—M. Wood, ss; K. Barnard, 1b; A. Dawson, 2b; G. Dean, 2b; J. Barnard, cf; H. Dean, c; C. Barnard, lf; P. Barnard, rf; A. Deyell, p.

Millbrook.. .. ..2013304—13

Umpires—Vance on mound, and Davidson on bases.

A program of children's races also added greatly to the afternoon's events.

Play Presented

In the evening the young people staged a play in the United Church entitled: "Go Slow, Mary." The church was packed to the doors, many standing at the back throughout the entire program and scores were turned away as there was not sufficient room to accommodate the crowd.

Those taking part were Billie Abbey, young husband out of a job, Archie Deyell; Mary Abbey, his discounted wife, Miss May Earl; Mrs. Berdon, Mary's mother, Mrs. N. Thompson; Sally Carter, Mary's bosom friend, Miss Edna Wallace; Harry Stevens, Sally's sweetheart, Merdith Perrin; Bert Child, Billie's Boston friend, Fred Barnard; Bobby Berdon, Mary's nephw, a mischief maker, Joe Barnard; Dolly Berdon, Mary's niece, another mischief maker, Miss Ethel Falls; Katie, the Abbie's maid, Mrs. J. Jeurison; Danny Grubb, an iceman, Charles Barnard; Murphy, an officer, Will Lang.

The Millbrook Quartette was present and provided excellent numbers between the acts of the play. Each number received a hearty applause, showing the appreciation of the audience. Piano solos by Miss Viola White also were greatly appreciated.

A booth on the grounds operated by Messrs. R. P. Harper and J. Breckenridge was well patronized by the crowd.

The Y.P.S. and C.S.E.T. boys realized about one hundred and fifty dollars out of the sports day.

J. AKEY'S HORSES WIN AT BELLEVILLE

Jack Abbie, Alfred Elk and Eleanor May Finish in Running.

Jack Abbie, owned by J. A. Akey, Peterborough, captured the 2.13 class at the horse races sponsored by the Agricultural Society at Belleville on Monday. Over 3,000 persons attended the events.

Every heat was keenly contested, the 2.20 class going into five heats before Rose Grattan was able to gain the verdict. Jack Abbie, the pacer from Peterborough, accounted for the first class, but June Custer straightened him in the stretch a couple of trips. Davis Axworthy, owned by Sheppard & Fraser, was much the best of his field and simply romped to an easy victory. The time was exceptionally fast in all the classes. The racing strip was in good condition.

BIG SIX.

(Associated Press.)

Tyrus Raymond Cobb, who began to hit in earnest as soon as his batting average sagged below .300 for a day, again was the leading light in the Big Six yesterday. With three players idle, Cobb and Frisch divided six safeties evenly between them, while Ruth was going hitless in Cleveland. The Philadelphia veteran, however, was charged with only four times at bat, against six for Frisch, and this enabled him to catch and pass the Fordham Flash in the current race for fourth place.

OSHAWA GROOM PITCHERS FOR SATURDAY GAME

Coach Burgoyne Working Hard On Twirling Staff For This Battle.

LEAD THE LEAGUE.

Motorists at Present Head the Central Ontario Loop Race.

Reports from Oshawa are that Coach Stanley Burgoyne has been busy grooming his pitching staff for future games, figuring that his chief weakness so far has been in the artillery department and that instead of Duke Dainty being called upon to face the Petes here on Saturday some other heaver may get the call in the week end game at James Stevenson Park.

Stung at their failure to do any hitting against Shea of Deloro last Saturday the Petes don't care very much what pitcher is assigned to the mound by Oshawa, declaring that whichever member of the Motorists pitching staff goes to the mound will be in for a hot reception.

Oshawa come here leading the League but the Petes claim that don't mean a thing. The Oshawa crew will include Herb. Wolfe, McCallum, a new infielder from the Goodyear team, Sutton the Flint, Mich. second baseman, Young and Elliott graduates from Oshawa junior ranks, and Kellar, the Morrisons, Reg. Fair, Williams and other members of last year's team.

Saturday's game should be one of the most enjoyable of the season especially if the weather man relents and sends along some warm sunshine for the week-end fixture

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

"SPORTING GOODS" RICHARD DIX'S NEWEST COMEDY, WHICH OPENS AT THE CAPITOL TODAY, IS A SCREAM.

In "Sporting Goods" Richard Dix's new feature comedy which opens at the Capitol to-day, the popular star is surrounded by a cast of supporting players which include several well known comedy stars. Gertrude Olmsted, former Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer ingenue who is now freelancing, has the leading feminine role. Ford Sterling, veteran Paramount comedian, is the merchant whom Dix tries to argue into the big golf suit order, and Philip Strange, English actor, who has played in several Paramount pictures, is the "heavy." Other players are Myrtle Stedman, Maude Turner Gordon, Claude King, Wade Boteler, Harry Dunkinson and Ned Sparks.

The two last-named players, Strange and Dix, compose a quartet of players who provide one of the most hilarious sequences in the picture—the crooked poker game episode. In this sequence, the "heavy" and his two companions, without collusion, all cheat while Dix is temporarily away from the table with the result that each gives him a deuce in exchange for a card desired from his hand, and he wins with four deuces.

Another high spot in the golf court episode, in which Dix plays with Sterling to demonstrate his golf suit sample. The scenes were made on the course of the El Caballero Country Club, one of the sportiest and most beautiful courses in California.

The picture opens on the Mojave Desert near Victorville, Calif., where Dix, traveling cross-country in a battered roadster meets the other characters of the picture. Other scenes are hilarious farce laid in Dix's hotel suite.

AT THE GRAND.

"WINGS" COMING TO THE GRAND SATURDAY, JUNE 9

In "Wings", the spectacular aviation picture which is now playing its second and final week at the Vancouver theatre; the producers have set a new standard in motion picture photography. There are more wonderful "shots" taken in the film than in a host of the average, and "wonderful" is none too strong an expression to use in speaking of it.

"Wings" is a picture dedicated to and dealing with those who served in the various air forces during the great war. It is the epic story of the air told convincingly, graphically, realistically and forcefully. It deals with plain home truths and there is no attempt to work out a happy climax just to bring a smile at the end. Indeed, tragedy of the darkest and dimmest stalks through the story. But 'c'est la guerre'—it is war; and the bitter is taken with the sweet; the injured smile and the bereaved stiffen their upper lips and go on to the next task.

The story deals mainly with two young airmen and their career from the time their country calls them until they returned. Their training days, their first flight, their first "dawn patrol" with an unexpected encounter with a "flying circus", the ending thereof; their being decorated for gallantry; and their leaves of absence to gay Paree are all shown faithfully and truthfully. The pictures of the aerial flights are astonishingly realistic. There are thrills galore and get one almost as excited as the real thing did in the days of yore. To see these flights is to see motion picture photography as its best.

The story is so commanding in itself and is so perfectly acted that even the bravest heart must palpitate at the scenes enacted. There is much comedy relief of the best kind and there is ample tribute paid to the other branches of the service.

Scene from "Wings," at The Grand, Saturday, June 9.

AT THE REGENT.

Indian battles—perils of the frontier—adventures in a primitive land—these spell excitement, romance and thrills. Add to them an element of poignant heart interest—show an audience a glimpse into the heart of a motherless child, reared among rough frontiersmen, and without the feminine sympathy a child craves—only the memory of a dead mother—and a different combination results.

This is the unique blending of human emotions that makes Jackie Coogan's latest starring vehicle, "The Bugle Call," something apart in the drama of the screen.

It is one of the most gripping bits of entertainment in months—and it is more. Underlying its thrills, its laughs, and its tears is a mighty lesson—and every American parent should see this new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer triumph.

"The Bugle Call," now playing at the Regent Theatre, is a mighty lesson wrapped up in a mighty piece of drama. Laid on the American frontier in the '70's, when the cavalry carved a path for Western settlers through the Indian country, it tells the story of an orphaned child of a frontier cavalry captain—and of the problem he faced when a stepmother came to usurp the place in his heart occupied by his mother's memory.

Jackie Coogan, as the little bugle boy, is a figure both pathetic and heroic—and intensely human, and Claire Windsor plays the stepmother beautifully. Herbert Rawlinson is convincing as the cavalry-captain father, and some clever character touches are added by Tom O'Brien, Bodil Rosing, Sarah Padden and Nelson MacDowell. Johnny Mack-Brown is a dashing young lieutenant, and several troops of cavalry and tribes of Indians furnish a thrilling background. Edward Sedgwick, director of "Tin Hats" and other successes, handled the megaphone.

THRIVES ON LONG RACE

Physically well and eager for new conquests, Philip Granville, famous heel-and-toe man from Hamilton, Ont., returned to his home town on Monday, after finishing third in C. C. Pyle's transcontinental marathon. Granville won $5000 for his effort and finished as fresh as when he started, actually gaining five pounds on the long grind. In the picture are two views of the athlete snapped at the civic reception at his honor at Hamilton. In the inset is Mayor William Burton, who extended the official greeing. Granville is returning to New York for a 24 hour marathon in Madison Square Gardens.

DANCE HALL HOURS EXTENDED ONE HOUR

Seymour Council Will Allow Coral Gables Casino To Operate Later.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 7.—There were not many items of business to be transacted at the regular meeting of the Seymour Council, but there was a long list of accounts to be considered. All the members of the council were present with the exception of Councillor Peake. As a result of the meeting, Coral Gables casino at Trent River will be permitted to remain open for an hour longer on five nights of each week.

After the adoption of the minutes of the previous meeting, communications and accounts were read and laid on the table for further consideration. William Fisher brought to the attention of the council, certain repairs which he claimed were necessary to the Percy-Seymour boundary road. It was proposed to investigate the conditions there. J. R. Wilkins, town councillor, waited on the Seymour council to request a grant for the erection of a suitable fence around the war memorial. He was promised that his request would be considered. Just before the accounts were presented and passed, the council agreed to pay half the cost of the fence provided it did not exceed fifty dollars. Mr. Burgess, operator of Coral Cables casino, asked that the council grant him permission to extend the hours for dancing on certain nights during the season. On motion of Councillors Allan and Locke, the by-law was amended to permit Burgess to keep his pavilion open for one hour longer on five nights of each week. This will call for the dancing to be stopped before midnight on Saturday nights.

There being no further business to be transacted, the following accounts were presented by Councillors Allan and Innes, and ordered paid by the council: Lorne Hay, sheep killed, $325; Wm. Grills, $10; Garnet Redden, $6.64; T. S. Tait and Son, $67.39; H. Seaborne, $3.00; E. Brunton, road superintendent, $117.00; Alex Green, road gang, $109.00; Carmen Redden, $3.50; D. J. Petherick, road gang, $101.30; Arthur Brunton, road gang, $95.60; Huston Gibson, $39.10; John Couley, $33.70; Joe Bertrand, $35.10; Harold Rutherford, $35.75; Alex Tinney, $18.10; Melville Petherick, road gang, $107.10; John Grills, road gang, $132.80; Joe O'Brian, $72.85; Charles Lawrence, $26.00; Harry Saunders, road gang, $115.60; Angus Brunton, $11.00; John Dorrie, $17.75; James Greenfield, $6.25; George Saunders, $31.25; Douglas Rutherford, $5.00; Frank Dewey, $30.00; D. H. Brown, $14.05; W. T. Allan, $6.75; Victor Irwin, $11.00; John Free, $7.50; John Thain, $7.50; J. C. Birmingham, $6.90; A. W. Robertson, $5.50; T. J. Ketcheson, $9.00; J. Lewis, $24.25; J. Wilkins, $50.55; John Simmins, $10.00; Imperial Oil, $34.81; Ernest Haig, $51.00; Harry Grills, $15.00; Earl Turner, $10.13; Robert Bateson, $28.65; Joe Irwin, $6.50; J. N. Stone (Agricultural Society) $300.00. Total, $2167.37. The council adjourned to meet on Tuesday, July 3rd, rather than on Monday, July 2nd, which will be a holiday.

In North China's first large department store, recently opened in Tientsin, an admission fee of 20 cents is charged. If a purchase is made the fee is deducted from the price.

Uncle Wiggily — To-day's Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FLOWER GIRLS.

(Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Puzzle bugs or no puzzle bugs! I'm going to catch you!" cried the Pipsisewah as he lowered his head and pointed his tickling horns at Uncle Wiggily. The Bad Chap had started out of his cave to get the rabbit. But four jolly bugs flew on ahead to warn the rabbit gentleman and Mr. Longears made four puzzle pictures of the names of the kind insects. This was in the last story, you remember.

"Stop!" cried Uncle Wiggily, as the Pipsisewah was about to stick his longest horn out. "Tell me the names of the bugs from these pictures, or I'll call the Police Dog!"

Uncle Wiggily watched the Fox.

"Pooh! I'm not afraid!" sneered the Pipsisewah. He made a jump for the rabbit, but Uncle Wiggily blew a loud blast on a whistle and this so frightened the Bad Chap that away he ran, taking his horns with him.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, putting his whistle back in his pocket. "He needn't have run if he didn't want to."

"Why not?" asked one of the jolly bugs.

"Because the Police Dog isn't anywhere around here," said the rabbit. "I just made believe he was when I blew that whistle."

"Well, if the Pip hadn't run away when he did, we would have tickled him!" buzzed the largest of the four bugs. "Oh, look, there's my name; isn't it?" and he pointed to where Uncle Wiggily had made a picture of a June calendar.

"Yes, that's you, Mr. June Bug," said the rabbit.

"And there I am!" buzzed another bug, pointing to a picture of a potato. "Potato Bug, that's me. And that's for you, Lady Bug," he went on, pointing to the drawing of a lady. "And that must be you, Water Bug," and the Potato Bug pointed to the water pitcher and glass.

"Right—o!" joyfully shouted Uncle Wiggily as he danced about, glad that the Pipsisewah had run away. "You have guessed your puzzle names, my little buzzers—June Bug, Potato Bug, Lady Bug and Water Bug. And thank you for helping me."

Then the four jolly bugs crawled away to play tag in the woods and Uncle Wiggily started off after new adventures. He had not gone very far before he heard a strange noise in the bushes. It was a noise like a carpenter sawing a board.

"I wonder if this is some of the animal boys making a camp in the woods?" said Uncle Wiggily. "But I had better look before I pop out."

Taking a careful look, Mr. Longears saw where, on the bank of a brook, the Fuzzy Fox was using his teeth to gnaw a number of sticks. It was the grating of the teeth of the Fox on the sticks that sounded like sawing boards. And as Uncle Wiggily watched, the Fox, not knowing the rabbit was near, said:

"I'll gnaw these sticks until they are almost ready to break. Then I'll make a bridge of them over the brook. When Uncle Wiggily crosses the stick bridge it will break. He'll fall into the water and I'll get him. I'll surely get him this time!"

Uncle Wiggily was so surprised that, before he knew what he was doing, he sneezed loudly—"a ker choo choo!" and the Fox, hearing it, dropped his gnawed sticks, rushed out and caught the rabbit.

"Now I have you without the bother of building a bridge," snarled the Bad Chap. He was dragging poor Uncle Wiggily away when, all of a sudden, four little rabbit girls, whom Mr. Longears had never seen before, rushed out of the bushes.

"Not for you! Why should I?" barked the Fox.

"Listen," said another little rabbit girl. "If you can guess our names we will let you take us away in place of Uncle Wiggily. We are named after four flowers, like this": Quickly this rabbit girl drew on the ground four flower pictures that stand for girls' names. "If you guess them you can take us instead of Uncle Wiggily!" said the brave rabbit maidens.

"Oh, what a jolly puzzle!" thought Mr. Longears who knew the Fox would not bite him.

HUNT "WILD" CATS

ALBANY, N.Y., June 7.—Numerous cats of the domestic variety are roaming at large in New York game preserves, Secretary Jerome of the Game Protective Association reports. The cats are completely wild and are killing many quail and other birds. Farmers and game wardens are conducting a campaign of extermination. Last year they killed 68 "wild" cats.

TARIFF MATTERS DISCUSSED AT MEETING OF THE CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION

Report Shows Other Countries Had Continued Towards Higher Tariffs.

OPINIONS GIVEN

ON BOARD S.S. ST. LAWRENCE, Quebec, June 8 (Canadian Press). — Discussion of tariff matters occupied the session of the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association on yesterday when the report of the tariff committee was adopted. The report had stated that since the last annual general meeting the tendency of industrial countries other than Canada had continued toward higher tariffs.

T. R. Deacon, Winnipeg, expressed gratification that the annual reports of the Association Tariff Committee had never demanded extremely high tariffs. All sections of Canada were not acquainted with the need for industrial development, and it would take time to educate all sections to the need for a symmetrical development of the country. It would be a wise policy not to stress the tariff too much at the present time, Mr. Deacon believed. The Canadian Manufacturers 'Association, he said, could congratulate itself that the status was being maintained without serious inroads on the tariff or existing industries.

C. Howard Smith, Toronto and Montreal, held that Canada was defenceless against countries which created abnormally high tariffs, for the purpose of bartering with the Dominion for trade agreements, and he declared the Government should provide some means for dealing with the situation thus created.

Tariff From Politics.

A. B. Cushing, Vancouver, said that misunderstandings regarding the tariff were created because people were advised one way or the other by political interests. The tariff question should be removed from politics if people were to be educated to a proper economic policy.

R. P. S. Sparks, Ottawa, stressed the need for the printing and distribution of evidence taken before the Tariff Advisory Board at Ottawa. Conflicting views on this question developed and no action was taken by the convention.

N. G. Polson, Montreal, precipitated an extended debate on importations of American magazines, when he inquired how many delegates were aware that some Canadian magazines were printed on imported paper.

H. T. Hunter, Toronto, asked Mr. Polson whether he would rather have the country flooded with magazines printed in the United States and carrying the message of the United States manufacturer, or have Canadian magazines printed on imported paper carrying advertising of Canadian manufacturers. At present some Canadian magazines were printed on imported paper, but he had no doubt that the time would come when the publishers could obtain the proper paper in Canada, and when this could be done at proper cost they would be glad to use it.

Should Advertise.

The growth of United States industries had been aided through facilities for the dissemination of information, and Canada should develop strong publications carrying Canadian information, he said.

C. Howard Smith, Montreal, submitted that Canadian manufacturers of book paper were entitled to protection. At present it was a question of production. The Canadian manufacturer of certain classes of paper could not compete with the mass production in the United States though the Canadian manufactured paper was just as good. He suggested one remedy for the situation would be to tax United States magazines coming into Canada. American magazines, beside carrying the advertising of the American manufacturers, carried a much more serious message which "brings our children up as Americans."

J. J. Marpell, Gardenvale, Quebec, said Canadian manufacturers could not afford to be protectionist on the articles they wished to sell, and free traders on materials they had to buy. Protection had often created new industries to provide the wants of the country.

Consider Two Principles.

Elmer Davis, Kingston, said that two broad principles should be considered. (1) Canadian manufacturers could not hope to get every bit of the home market requirements; (2) the Canadian Manufacturers Association had vastly more to gain by the creation of a sound Canadian journalism than by encouraging the importation and circulation of United States magazines.

Magazines were implements in the production of sound Canadianism. He wondered how much the exodus of Canadians to the United States had been encouraged and how much the buying of American goods had been fostered through the circulation of American magazines.

Norman Holland, Montreal, held that Canadian magazines should feature the advantage of Canada more than they had done. Canada held vastly greater opportunities than the United States, and this fact should be brought home to the young people of the country.

Elmer Davis, Kingston, referred to the Tariff Committee report, and asked Mr. Bristol if Canada stood alone in reduction of tariffs. Was there any other country in the world which had not been increasing tariffs generally?

Mr. Bristol replied that he did not know of any other country with the exception of Canada which had reduced tariffs in recent years. Eighty-six countries in the world had been increasing tariffs, including Great Britain and British Dominions, South American and European countries.

Alberta Flooded By Recent Rainfall

CALGARY, Alta., June 8.—(Canadian Press.)— One of the finest rains ever recorded in Alberta has blanketed the whole of the province during the last twenty-four hours. At noon it was still coming down heavily at the majority of points. One of the most satisfactory features has been that the south country, which was beginning to be in need of moisture, has received a thorough soaking.

Disorganization of the street railway system and every subway in the city carrying from five to six feet of water, and hundreds of basements flooded was the net result of a 16 hour rain fall within the city limits. Hundreds of Calgarians were compelled to wade through streets inches deep in water when the flooded subways prevented the street cars from plowing through the subways.

CONCRETE BASE WELL ADVANCED

Paving Company Will Start To Lay Asphalt Next Week.

TENDERS CALLED FOR.

The Warrenite Bitulithic Paving Company is rushing the paving in this city and have already laid the concrete on McDonnell and Park streets and as far as Sherbrooke street on Aylmer street.

On Monday the company expects to commence laying the bitulithic surface on McDonnel streets and will then immediately follow up on the other streets where the concrete has been laid.

Tenders are now being called to [illegible] north, and the street railway strip on Park street. It has not been decided by the City Council whether the street railway strip on Water street will be done by the city employees or by the contractor who receives the contract for laying the concrete on Reid street.

T.T.C. WILLING TO ARBITRATE

Men Holding Mass Meeting To-night to Decide on Action.

LETTER BEING SENT.

TORONTO, June 8 (Canadian Press).—Arbitration of differences between the Toronto Transportation Commission and its employees is possible, according to a Toronto paper to-day. The newspaper states that it was learned this morning that the Commission would send a letter to the men agreeing to the establishment of a board to arbitrate the questions of wages and conditions.

In the meantime arrangements are being completed for the holding of a mass meeting of street railway men tonight, when it is expected definite action will be taken.

Later, Controller Robbins, secretary of the men's union, stated he would advise the men to accept the company's offer of arbitration. There seemed, therefore, to be a fair probability that the matters at issue would be settled and no strike take place.

SIX MARINES KILLED.

KIEL, Germany, June 8. Canadian Press. — Six marines were killed today when a mine exploded on board a mine layer. Four others were injured. The explosion occurred durmine laying manoeuvres in Kiel harbor.

Radio Messages Heard From Nobile

KING'S BAY Spitsbergen, June 8.—(A.P.)— Twice yesterday the radio operator on the Citta di Milano, base ship of General Umberto Nobile's lost polar expedition, heard weak signals which he was sure were from Operator Giagi, radio man on the dirigible Italia. The signals were too weak to decipher.

CHILDREN HAVE $6,914 IN BANK

Peterborough Pupils Stand Well Up, Though Depositing For Only Four Months.

DISTRICT RECORDS.

With $6,914.15 on deposit in the Penny Bank, the children of Peterborough's Public schools show that if they look after the pennies the dollars will look after themselves. Peterborough's schools show a record of 57 per cent. of the children depositors, during March and April, standing 12th in the province in this respect, and second among the cities, London, where the system has been in operation for some time, holding eleventh place among all the municipalities, and first among the cities. The system went into use here in January.

Peterborough runs well ahead of the Dominion average, which shows 32 per cent. of the pupils in all the schools using the system as depositors. Ridgetown leads all the municipalities with 94 per cent. of the pupils making deposits during the two months, while Braeside and North Mountain bring up the rear with one per cent. Toronto is right on the average with 32 per cent.

King George school leads among Peterborough schools, with 79 per cent. The next two, Central and King Edward, are right on the city average with 57 per cent, while Queen Mary is right behind with 56. Queen Alexandra school is fifth with 49 and Prince of Wales is sixth with 47 per cent.

Other places in this district where the system is in operation are Tweed, Campbellford, Port Hope, Bowmanville, and Belleville. Tweed's percentage is 19, Campbellford 16, Port Hope, 16, Belleville, 23, and Bowmanville 26.

There are now 352 schools operating under this system, with its motto of "Not how much, but how often?" as compared with 303 a year ago. Total deposits are $1,070,967.25, while a year ago they were $707,896.25. The average for each Peterborough school is $1,150. For the 352 schools operating under the system, some bigger and some smaller than Peterborough's, and most of them in the system for more than four months, the average is $3,042.49.

CHAMBER OPENS BIG CONVENTION

Canadian Chamber of Commerce Meets in Montreal To-day.

EFFORTS SUCCESSFUL.

QUEBEC, June 8.—(Canadian Press).—The third annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of Canada got underway here yesterday when close to 300 delegates registered for the three day session. About 150 of the delegates arrived here early this morning on the S.S. Tadousac following a three day cruise which started at Montreal on Monday.

William Clark, of Montreal, the secretary, in his report at the opening session yesterday morning impressed the fact that the policies of the Chamber had been carried into effect by the Dominion Government on five different counts. The report went on to say, "The Chamber takes some legitimate gratification in observing that its policy on scientific and industrial research, federal taxation, Canadian coal for Canadian people, further implementation of the Duncan report, and the diversion of water from Great Lakes by Chicago has been very appreciably advanced."

OPIUM CONVENTION COMES INTO FORCE

Ratification By Canada, Rumania and the Netherlands Make It Effective.

GENEVA, June 8. — (Canadian Press.)— In consequence of further ratification by Canada, the Netherlands and Roumania, the Geneva opium convention of 1925 will come into force next September.

This was announced by the Council of the League of Nations to-day after the Canadian representative had disclosed that the Canadian government had taken the necessary steps for ratification

TUMULT MARKS DISCUSSION OF IMMIGRATION

Prorogation May Be Delayed Because of Hold-up This Morning.

INACCURACY CHARGED.

Hon. J. A. Robb and Hon. R. B. Bennett Debate Heatedly During Morning.

OTTAWA, June 8 (Canadian Press).—With prorogation almost at hand the House of Commons this morning was in a tumult. The adoption of the immigration report yesterday had not ended Conservative criticism of the immigration department and the immigration estimates opened the way. Following a couple of Conservative speeches, Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, charged the Conservatives with sniping the Minister of Immigration. When he observed that the immigration report had been unanimously adopted, the Conservatives protested that it had been adopted only on division.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Opposition leader, declared that if Mr. Robb "proposed to make inaccurate statements," the House would not vote supply. The vote on the immigration report had not been taken to save time. "But there will be votes now if he wants them," he added.

The House was on immigration estimates all morning, and not a vote was passed. Talk is now common that prorogation will probably go over until next week.

DRAGOONS CAMP AT BARRIEFIELD

Local Cavalrymen Will Train With Other Units of Their Brigade

LEAVING JUNE 19.

Military camp for the Prince of Wales Dragoons will be held this year at Barriefield, commencing on June 19, and continuing until June 30.

The regiment will be under the command of Lieut-Col. H. W. Powell, with Majors M. R. Sloan and C. H. Stuart as squadron commanders. Other officers are Major W. T. Rogers, veterinar yofficer; Captain E. H. Wood, medical officer, Captain E. G. Johnston, Captain C. H. Cutmore, paymaster; Captain the Rev. J. D. Paterson, chaplain; Lieuts. D. A. Loomis, M.C., quarter-master, and Lieutenants R. Malane, H. G. Mason, E. . Sheehy and J. D. Fanning.

This is the first year since the war that the brigade will go into camp together, for formerly the Prince of Wales Dragoons held their camp at the exhibition park. The brigade consists of the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards, Ottawa, 4th Hussars, Cornwall, and the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, Peterborough.

Recruits for "B" Squadron will be taken on at Millbrook and Orono armouries, and for 'C" Squadron at the Peterborough armouries on June 15, 16 and 18, at 7.30 p.m.

BAND CONCERT

By permission of Lt.-Col. W. Gordon Hall, V.D., and officers, the Band of the Peterborough Rangers will render the following program in Victoria Park tonight, commencing at eight o'clock:

March, "BB".....Horne
Overture, "In the Land of the Missions".....Mustal

Synopsis—Early Dawn, the rays of the morning sun are beginning to flood The Land of the Missions with golden light. From everywhere the natives gather and join in singing their song of peace. A mighty ship is seen approaching and the natives, panic stricken, flee in every direction, except a few of the more brave ones who trembling await the coming of the strange craft. Landing of the white men; they greet the natives with friendliness and present them with wonderful gifts—the like of which they have never seen before. Ready to do battle, the natives now return in great numbers, but when assured mean no harm, again with a mighty that the strangers are friendly and voice all join in singing the song of peace.

COLORS DEDICATED

The King's Color, presented to the Peterborough Public School Cadet Battalion by the combined Home and School Associations of the city, is shown here, borne by Cadet Lieutenant Kenneth Whatley, escorted by Cadet Sergeants Jack Cullen and Sedrick Durst, after it had been dedicated by Captain the Rev. R. C. Blagrave, D.D., at the annual Cadet inspection last Friday.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR VISITS PETERBOROUGH KIWANIS CLUB

Kiwanian Andy Gaul, [illegible] Addresses Club on Ideals of Kiwanis.

INTERESTING ADDRESS.

New Member Received and and Many Visitors Welcomed at To-day's Meeting

The ideals of Kiwanis, with suitable emphasis on education and service, were ably outlined in a splendid address delivered before Peterborough Kiwanians by the District Lieutenant-Governor, A. G. (Andy) Gaul, of Hamilton, at the weekly luncheon held to-day in the Empress Hotel. The presence of Mr. Gaul was a special honor in that he had chosen Peterborough as the first club to visit in his official capacity.

Appreciation of this honor was indicated by a large turnout of members, while the meeting generally proved most interesting, including the reception of a new member, J. A. O'Brien.

Guests Present.

There was also a pleasing attendance of guests at to-day's meeting, including G. B. Yeager of Hamilton, Fred Allen of Peterborough, W. R. Rierdon of Belleville, H. M. Campbel of Peterborough, Mrs. C. W. Saunders of Peterborough, H. Sennett of Toronto, H. W. Greenleaf, president of Belleville Kiwanis Club, W. E. Kidd of Peterborough, A. D. Counsell of Peterborough.

Announcements during the noon hour were made by Jack Nelson, who reminded the members that as next week's meeting is being given over to Agriculture, each Kiwanian is expected to hunt up a farmer guest; by President Joe John, who called the executive to meet the District Lieutenant-Governor immediately following the luncheon meeting, and who also called the names of the winners of Jack Heron's booster prizes, namely Jack Nelson, H. M. Campbell, and W. J. Ellis.

J. A. O'Brien' welcome into the club was a cordial one, Frank Dawson introducing the new member and Charlie Cook speaking on behalf of the Kiwanians. The brief but quite impressive ceremony was followed by two particularly pleasing vocal numbers contributed by Mrs. Charles Saunders, whose accompanist was Martin B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O. Mrs.

Young Man Takes His Place In Cell

The police constable at the desk this morning got a surprise when a young looking chap from a nearby township walked into the police station and without saying a word to anyone marched down the corridor into the big cell and there sat down In a few minutes a second constable came in and seeing the man there he inquired at the desk who the stranger in the large cell was Nobody knew for the moment who he was and then one of the constables recognized him as a man who came up in county police court this week and was given three days to pay his fine or go to jail for one month. Evidently he had decided to take the month in jail.

SUPER SERVICE STATION READY

CARS MAY BE THAWED

H. C. Huffman and Sons have practically completed the first super-service station to be erected in this city. The new station is at the corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets and is operated by Allan J. Preston and Clifford Curtis. The station was formerly occupied by Mr. Preston, but this year he has built an addition which will enable the owners to render all kinds of service to cars and trucks no matter what the weather is like or how cold it is. A large building has been erected which is heated by steam. In it there are two pits, a washing station and the latest equipment for cleaning, greasing and oiling cars and trucks. In Winter the cars can be run in and there thoroughly thawed out before they are oiled and greased.

Revised Anglican Prayerbook Will Come Before Commons Next Wednesday

LONDON, June 8. — Canadian Press Cable. — When the revised prayer book of the Church of England comes before the House of Commons on Wednesday next the motion for the adoption of the measure will be moved by F. B. Merriam, Solicitor-General, and the debate will be concluded for the supporters of the revision by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin.

On Thursday the principal speakers for the opponents of the measure will be Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary, and Sir Thomas Inskip, Attorney-General.

Presiding last evening at a meeting in opposition to the revised prayer book, organized by the Worlds Evangelical Alliance, Sir William Joynson-Hicks referred to the booklet by Most Rev. Randall Thomas Davidson, Archbishop of Canterbury, published yesterday. He said the Archbishop defended the alternative communion service, though he had not referred to other matters which had been objected to, including the introduction of All Souls Day, with the implication of purgatory, the introduction of the Roman collect for the Corpus Christi Day festival which was noted in the dogma of transubstantiation, and in a large measure, prayers for the dead.

Sir William added that the Bishops of the church were endeavoring to restore certain features which had been eliminated at the Reformation. The activity of the bishops in advocating the new prayer book indicated there would be a solid episcopal pressure in favor of its use, and the ministers who desired to use the present book would have to abandon their hopes for official preferment.

TWO YOUNG GIRLS SUCCUMB TO BURNS RECEIVED WHEN KEROSENE OIL CAN EXPLODES

Baby and Mother in Critical Condition as Result of Explosion.

TURNBERRY TOWNSHIP

WINGHAM, Ont., June 8 (Canadian Press).—Terribly burned when sprayed by flaming kerosene from an exploding coal oil can, two Turnberry Township girls are dead, a four-months'-old baby is in the general hospital here in a serious condition, not expected to live; while the child's mother is in a critical condition, although hopes are held for her recovery.

The explosion came while members of the family of Alonzo Finlay, Lot 31, Concession 11, Turnberry, near here, were engaged in preparing the evening meal Wednesday night. One of the party took the kerosene can to pour oil on the kitchen fire, which flared up and the oil ignited.

Two of the Finlay girls, Velma, aged 17, and Laura, aged 15, died in the hospital here at midnight, six hours after the explosion, and Mrs. Percy Jarvis, their married sister, and her child of four months, were both badly burned in the explosion.

Attending Funeral

Members of the family, together with a number of relatives had gathered at the home to attend the funeral of Mrs. Finlay's father, Thomas Talvert, who died on Tuesday at the age of 84 years. His funeral was to be held from the residence yesterday afternoon.

The three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Finlay, Velma, Jean and Mrs. Jarvis, were gathered around the stove in the kitchen preparing the evening meal. The baby was also in the room. One member of the party —it has not been definitely established which—picked up a five-gallon can of coal oil and prepared to pour some of this on the fire, which had not been burning any too good.

As she poured the first drops on the coals, the fire started up and the can exploded. Its bottom was blown across the room and the three girls and the baby were covered with the drops of flaming oil. Their clothes were almost entirely burned from their bodies and all were horribly burned in the explosion.

Other members of the party in the home succeeded in extinguishing the flames and the four injured persons were rushed to the General Hospital here.

Velma and Laura died at midnight while early yesterday afternoon hospital attaches reported that the four-months'-old baby was in a serious condition. Its mother is badly burned, but will recover.

May Hold Inquest

Dr. Hedmond of Wingham, district coroner, has not yet decided whether or not an inquest will be held. It is understood, however, that no inquiry will be conducted.

The double funeral of the two sisters will take place to-day, according to present arrangements.

Friendship Plane Unable To Hop-Off

TREPASSEY, Nfld., June 8.—(Canadian Press.)— There was little possibility that the Fokker monoplane Friendship would get away last night on the flight to Europe. Three attempts yesterday afternoon resulted in failure of Pilot Wilmer Stultz to get the heavily laden machine off the water, owing to the almost complete lack of wind. The same conditions prevailed last night and to-day's forecast promised rain and a north-east wind, which renders chances of an early start somewhat hopeless.

Weather conditions at the time the postponement was decided upon remained the same as earlier in the day when the Friendship made three vain attempts to get off the water with her heavy load in light airs. The pilot said a fresh breeze was necessary to enable the Friendship to get her six tons of weight into the air.

ULTIMATUM ON DIVORCE BILL

Conservative Senators Will Demand That Commons Hear Half Cases

WANTS COURT FORMED.

OTTAWA, June 8. Canadian Press —Senator W. B. Ross, the Opposition leader in the Senate, at the opening of the Upper House to-day, announced that if the Commons rejected the bill for the provision of divorce courts in Ontario, then the Conservative members of the Senate, would ask the Commons to hear one-half of the petitions for divorce coming to Parliament. "Then," his statement adds, "in the event of the other chamber not dealing with this divorce bill I am in a position to state that the members of this side of the House will refuse to serve on the divorce committee, with this exception—they will as formerly hear any petitions that may come to the Senate from the province of Quebec."

"This is in furtherance of the declared intention of this Chamber not to interfere with the question of divorce so far as it relates to the province of Quebec."

The bill in question was passed by the Senate early in the session and then went to the House of Commons.

CARTERS FOUND WITHOUT TAGS

Police Department Checks Up Teamsters in the City To-day

DOZEN UNLICENSED

The police department made a check-up on the teamsters and carters operating in the city this morning and asked them to produce their tags More than a dozen teamsters were found to be operating without a license and they were told that they must immediately secure one.

The great majority of those who had no license were drawing gravel for the Warrenite Paving Company that is laying the concrete on Aylmer street at present The result of the check-up will mean that the city coffers will be enriched by more than $100.

PENSION BILL DISPUTE ENDS

House of Commons Accepts Revised Amendments By Senate.

COMPROMISE REACHED.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 8 (Canadian Press). — Threatened difficulties over the Pensions Bill ended to-day with the acceptance by the House of Commons of a new Senate amendment. When the Bill went from the Lower to the Upper House, it contained provisions, especially in regard to pensions to be paid to a widow who had married a returned soldier after the appearance of his disability, which the Senate radically amended. The House declined to concur in these amendments, and the Senate gave the Bill further consideration.

New amendments in the nature of a compromise were drafted and these the Commons accepted to-day.

CANTONESE KILL YOUNG COMMUNISTS

Fourteen Girls and Three Boys Meet Death Bravely To-day

CANTON, China, June 8. Canadian Press. — Fourteen girls and three school boys, all arrested in communist raids, and described as confessed "Reds," were executed to-day.

The group died bravely, firmly announcing their belief that the future success of communism would be aided by their martyrdom.

HEART DISEASE CAUSE OF DEATH

Jury Returns Verdict in Case of Man Found Dead at Brockville.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., June 8. Canadian Press. — The coroner's jury, which last night investigated the death of Stephen Vickery, aged 57, whose body was found in his bed on Wednesday morning, returned a verdict that death had been caused by heart disease.

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO KILL PREMIER

Japanese Politician's Bodyguard Prevents Assassination By Laborer.

TOKIO, June 8 (Canadian Press). —Members of his bodyguard to-day frustrated an attempt to assassinate Baron Giichi Tanaka, Premier of Japan. No political importance was attached to the attack, which was made by a man dressed as a laborer at the Uyeno railroad station.

LEGION PLANS BIG BANQUET

Campbellford Branch Will Celebrate Anniversary On June 19.

BUYS 20 CHAIRS.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8.—There was not much business to be considered at the Legion meeting in the Armouries last night, but whether or not a new broom sweeps clean will be seen at the next meeting since there has been a new one ordered purchased There was one application for membership presented, and accepted by the unanimous vote of the members present. Comrade Ironside, who had been commissioned to secure prices of suitable chairs for the Legion room, brought in a price list from various firms which ranged from ninety-five cents to two and a half dollars. The type of chair priced at $1.20 each seemed to suit the requirements, and the secretary was instructed to order twenty of them.

Among the communications was an invitation to send representatives to the basket picnic, to be held at Hanlan's Point, Toronto, June 16th. It was decided not to appoint any representative but to await developments at some nearer point. There had been some mention of a similar event in the Peterborough district and it was considered more businesslike to attend the latter. The communications were received and filed.

There was no written report presented by the social committee, but Comrade Free stated that arrangements were practically completed for the Legion Birthday Party, to be held in the Parish Hall, June 19th. The banquet will be catered for by the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church here, at a moderate price. The tickets will be sold for fifty cents each, and will be available for returned soldiers only. It is expected that there will be representatives from other branches, and that the initial birthday party of the Campbellford branch will be a success. The program is practically all arranged. Tickets are now on sale from several members of the Legion. In distributing them, it was explained that this was not a money-making scheme, since the branch would lose money on it. The idea was to sell the tickets to those who would attend, since it was their presence which was requested more than their money. The price per plate set by the caterers is greatly in excess of fifty cents.

The relief committee also reported briefly on the case in their hands at the present time, and the report was accepted. Under general business, it was requested that any person in the Legion who wishes to take the contract for the removal of the partition at the north end of the room, should speak to the president during the next few days. After that time the contract would be given to some outside person.

MILLBROOK HAS CLOSING BY-LAW

Stores to Close From Seven O'clock in the Evening.

MILLBROOK, June 8.—At a special meeting of the council held recently, Reeve Wood presiding, the following by-law, "determining the hours of closing the shops in the Village of Millbrooke," was passed under the Factory, Shop, and Office Building Act:

"Whereas it is expedient to pass a by-law to determine the hours of closing of all classes of shops within the municipality of the village of Millbrook at the hours and time hereinafter specified:

"Now therefore be it enacted by the municipal council of the corporation of the Village of Millbrook, and it is herein enacted:

1—All or any class or classes of shops within the municipality shall be closed and remain closed on each day of the week at and during any time or hours between seven o'clock in the afternoon of any day, and five o'clock in the forenoon of the next following day except:

(a) On Saturday evening of each week throughout the year on which days such shops shall close at 11 o'clock in the evening and remaining closed until five o'clock in the morning of the Monday following.

(b) On Wednesday of each week between the first day of May and the first day of October in each year, on which days such shops shall close at 11 o'clock in the evening, and remain closed until five o'clock in the morning of the day following;

(d) On the evenings of the ten days public holiday, and

(d) On the evenings o fthe ten days immediately preceding Christmas Day in each year, on which said days such shops shall close at 11 o'clock in the evening, and remain closed until five o'clock of the morning next following.

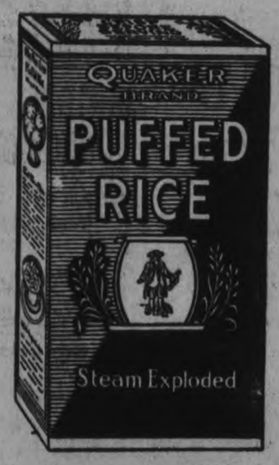
2—This by-law shall not be deemed to apply to the sale of fresh fruit;

3—Nothing in this by-law shall render unlawful the continuance in a shop after the hour appointed for the closing thereof of any customers who were in the shop immediately before the hour, or the serving of such customers during their continuance therein.

4—Any person who contravenes this by-law shall be liable to be summoned before a Justice of the Peace, or other officer having jurisdiction, under the provisions of The Summary Convictions Act, and, if convicted of the charge preferred, shall be fined the sum of not less than ten dollars nor more than twenty dollars and costs, and if such sum and costs is not paid at such time as the convicting judge shall direct, the same shall be levied by distress and sale of the offender's goods and chattels, and in default of such goods and chattels not being found, he or she shall be committed to the common gaol of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham for a period of not less than five days nor more than ten days unless such fine and costs and the costs of conveying such convicted person to such gaol be sooner paid. This by-law shall come into force on the eigth day of May instant, A.D. 1928.

5—Bylaws 117, 270, and 341, and all other by-laws inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

(Signed) W. T. Wood, Reeve; L. C. Russel, Clerk.



Lightest of Foods
YET IT SATISFIES

TIMES when you're hungry, but nothing seems to tempt your appetite. You long for something light, but satisfying . . . something the appetite really relishes.

Try Quaker Puffed Rice with milk, or cream, or fruit. Dainty morsels with a delicious, nutmeat flavour. Easy to digest because every starch cell is broken down. Their crunchiness ensures thorough mastication.

Quaker Puffed Rice is the rice grain, steam puffed to eight times normal size and exploded . . . thoroughly cooked and oven-crisped. Serve direct from the package, or warm if you wish.

Quaker Puffed Wheat, too

Whole wheat grains, also puffed and exploded. Its toasted, nutmeat flavour always invites the most finicky appetite.

SILVER GIVEN CAVAN COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Larmer Honored on Wedding Anniversary.

MANY PRESENT

MILLBROOK, June 8. — A very pleasant social gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Larmer, 7th line, Cavan, on Friday evening, when a large number of their friends and neighbors met to honor the silver wedding anniversary of the host and hostess.

The affair was planned as a complete surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Larmer, who welcomed warmly the self-invited "guests," and an enjoyable time was spent in music, social converse and other entertainment, Mr. James Roddy taking the position of chairman midway in the evening and inviting the "bride and groom" to take chairs in a prominent position before the company.

On behalf of himself and their many friends, the chairman in his usual genial manner, extended hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Larmer upon attaining the 25th anniversary of their wedding day, after which Rev. John Riddell read the following address, and Mrs. James Roddy presented them with a cabinet of community silver in the Adam pattern:

"Dear Friends: It is with mingled feelings of gratitude and rejoicing, that we, your many friends, have met this evening to do honor, and to offer our hearty congraulations on this, the twenty-fifth anniversary of your wedding day.

Together in happy fellowship you have journeyed these many years, sharing each other's joys and sorrows; you have been like two souls, with but a single thought.

It has been men and women like yourselves, faithful in the discharge of your religious duties, remaining loyal to God and your King, that have given our fair country the progress and the greatness which she has achieved.

We join with you on this happy occasion, and we are glad to have this opportunity of meeting you and expressing our appreciation of the many kind deeds that you have performed among us.

We desire you to accept gifts as a slight token of the affection in which you are held. We shall ever remember you for your many admirable qualities of heart and life, and we hope and pray that God may spare you for many years to labor for the welfare of the people among whom you live.

Signed on behalf of your friends: James Roddy, Mrs. Offa Williamson, Mrs. Harry Dawson."

Mr. Larmer, on behalf of his wife and himself, made suitable reply, thanking their friends for the beautiful gift, and the kind words which were its accompaniment.

All joined heartily in singing: "For He's a Jolly Good Milkman, and She's a Jolly Good Milkmaid," after which brief addresses of felicitation were made by Rev. Mr. Riddell, A. J. Fallis, former member for Durham County, James Roddy and others.

Dainty refreshments were later served by the committee in charge, Mrs. H. Dawson, Mrs. O. Williamson, Mrs. James Roddy, and others. A pleasing feature of the supper hour was the handsome wedding cake which centred the table at which the "bride and groom" were seated, and which was the gift of their daughter, Mrs. Melville Ball; the "bride" inserted the knife, according to the time-honored custom before the large cake was cut and served to the guests, its delicious flavor receiving well merited praise.

As the happy gathering reached its conclusion and the guests were leaving for home, with their "good nights" were reiterated wishes for "many happy returns of the day" and the desire was repeatedly expressed that theirs might be the privilege of celebrating with Mr. and Mrs. Larmer the golden anniversary of their wedding day.

RYLSTONE W.M.S. HOLDS A SOCIAL

One Hundred and Fifty Guests Enjoy Hospitality—$14.60 Taken.

BONARLAW, June 8.— The Rylstone W.M.S. held a social evening on Friday at the home of Mr. John S. McKeown 12th concession, which proved to be a decided success, with about one hundred and fifty guests present. The proceeds amounted to $14.60.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Matthews are in Hamilton spending a vacation.

Mr. William Stewart of the 9th concession has purchased a new car.

Mr. Manley Shortt of the 10th concession is on the sick list.

Mr. Stanley McInroy is sporting a new sedan.

Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8.— Mr. Clarence Massie is a temporary cripple as the result of a fracture of a small bone in his right foot, received at a recent softball game. The accident has removed him from the playing side of the sport to the spectators' benches for a few games.

Miss Grace Moore, R.N., returned to Montreal yesterday after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Moore, Second street.

The preparatory service in St. John's United church last night was conducted by the Rev. H. B. Neal of Wooler United church.

In reference to the Wardens excursion in connection with the council's invitation, the dates were given as June 15th to 17th. This is an error. The excursion does not take place till the conclusion of the June session of the Counties Council, which will be Friday, June 22nd.

SEWER WORK GOING SLOWLY

Rain and Rock Cause Delays —Paving Also Held Up.

BLASTING NEEDED.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8.—Rain and rock are largely responsible for the slight delay in the general trend of paving affairs. The concrete gang have been subjected to a slight delay on Sebastapol Street, while the excavator is working full blast on the Tice Street digging. The Front Street sewer system has not yet been started, and the workmen have struck rock in the Queen Street trenches. The result is that the excavation there has assumed unusually large proportions due to the shock of blasting.

This sewer will be from eleven to fifteen feet below the surface and will require the removal of some four feet of rock for some distance along it. The rock is being removed by means of a plugger and dynamite. The blasting is done by electricity and only very small charges of explosive are being used. Even so, the shock is sufficient to cause many tons of comparatively loose earth to slide off the walls of the excavation. Disregarding the residences which line the street on either side at this point, the scene might easily be anywhere in Northern Ontario. The small portable compressor, electrically driven, chugs away industriously in its effort to maintain the sixty-five pounds pressure required for the plugger drill in the "pit." The rock is soft and drills easily, making it a simple matter to mud a steel or make it cut too rapidly for proper rotation and result in a stuck steel.

Conversation with the road foreman revealed the fact that the paving contractors were not waiting for the work to be completed, but were not very far behind. He did not anticipate any delay on account of the rock encountered.

RAIN WILL HELP CROPS IN CAVAN

Gardens Needed Moisture — Potatoes Have Been Backward.

CAVAN, June 8.—The rain has been very beneficial. Many gardens are only just planted, while in others the plants were just coming through the ground. The rain was much needed.

Early potatoes have been very slow in coming up, on account of the lack of moisture in the ground, but will now doubtless soon appear.

Sunday School Meets in Morning.

Cavan Centre Sunday School will, commencing June 10, meet in the morning for the summer months.

Cavanville Sunday school also meets in the morning.

MOVIE ARTISTS ESCAPE DEATH

Leave Hollywood Cafe Few Minutes Before Explosion and Fire.

INCENDIARY SUSPECTED.

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—(Canadian Press).—Ten persons were injured, two probably fatally, in a fire and explosion which wrecked a Russian cafe in Hollywood at midnight, shortly after a party of film stars left the place. Authorities immediately began an investigation on the theory that the fire may have been of incendiary origin.

Charles Chaplin, the Marquis de la Falaize, Coleen Moore, Rene Adoree, and Jack Dempsey and his wife, Estelle Taylor, were among the guests whose timely departure probably saved them from serious injury.

LAWN BOWLING CLUB ORGANIZED

Norwood Men Take To Game With Enthusiasm—Preparing Greens.

NORWOOD, June 8.—Throughout the province, lawn bowling has enjoyed increasing popularity, and this year, Norwood enthusiasts, some of whom have and others who haven't bowled will have an opportunity of trying their skill as a result of a movement which began early this year following its inception by the Rev. R. F. Stillman and Dr. G. H. Carlton.

After working up considerable enthusiasm these gentlemen were instrumental in having a public meeting called at which organization, with election of officers and committees, took place. Since that time, the president, Dr. Carlton, the secretary-treasurer, H. Keefer, Mr. Stillman and others have been so enthusiastically carrying on the work of the Norwood Lawn Bowling Association.

Since the choosing of a site for their green was obviously the first essential, a committee was formed which has as its mission the fixing of the grounds, has had a squad of men busy on a large strip of land on Spring street.

This land, obtained from C. Davis has been drained and graded, some seventy-five loads of earth being required to fill in certain low parts while high places were being cut down. The result has been an area well suited to bowling for it is high and well sodded. There is still room for tennis courts as well as a softball diamond while the idea of a combination curling and skating arena has been discussed though without any action being taken as yet.

Will Hold Tournament.

When the green has been made ready for use, with electric lights installed as well as numerous other features, the Bowling association will hold a gala opening tournament, extending invitations to various clubs throughout the district. Norwood will be well represented as many citizens have already signified their intentions of joining up with the association. There will be further announcement of progress on the green and tournament plans.

BARN DESTROYED AT SPRINGVILLE

Fred. Wilson Suffers Heavy Loss—Partially Covered by Insurance.

SPRINGVILLE, June 8.— A valuable barn owned by Mr. Fred Wilson, of Springville, was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday evening. The fire began around ten o'clock and within ten or fifteen minutes the whole building was in flames. A large crowd of neighbors rushed to the scene, but nothing could be saved. The building was comparatively new, being built in the year 1921.

A number of hens were the only live stock in the barn at the time, but it contained a quantity of hay, straw and mixed grain, also many pieces of machinery, among them being a mower, disc, scuffler and two fanning mills. A wagon, democrat and buggy were also burned.

Mr. Wilson was carrying only a small insurance on the building, so suffers heavy loss. He was in the barn with a lantern and discovered that a pig with two little ones had worked its way into the granary and was trying to get out. He opened the granary door to free them and at the same moment his dog that was at his side bounded through the door and sent the pig out so quickly and with such force that it knocked Mr. Wilson to the floor and broke the lantern chimney. The lantern exploded and before he had sufficiently recovered from the shock to regain his feet the chaff and straw around him were in flames. He tried to check their advance by carrying the burning straw outside and was burned on the arms and wrists. The explosion occurred near the centre mow that was filled with dry straw, so no efforts on Mr. Wilson's part could save the disaster.

Fortunately for the people of the village there was very little wind and everything was wet from the day's rain or other property would have been endangered.

PETERBOROUGH HAS MANY FINE AUDITORIUMS

Lectures, Dances, Amateur Plays, Etc., Can Find Suitable Accommodation.

IN GREAT DEMAND.

Halls Large and Small Are in Frequent Use, Especially During Winter.

Peterborough is quite fortunate in the number and variety of halls which she already has, while the new collegiate auditorium will be one of the finest in the district for entertainments, lectures and gatherings of any kind.

This new auditorium will have capacity for seating nearly a thousand people. Seven hundred down stairs and three hundred up stairs are the approximate figures. The hall will have a theatre-like appearance when finished, with ample exits, front and rear. A regulation orchestra pit is being built as well as an up-to-date stage, which will have scenery, footlights and drop curtains. There will be regular theatre seats in the auditorium.

There is a beautiful arch around the stage and the windows are being paneled in the same style. The ceiling is a beamed design. A very up-to-date feature about the hall is the introduction here of acoustic plaster. Professor Johnson of Toronto University is the greatest authority on acoustics in the country and acting on his report it was decided to use this in the new hall. To make a hall a perfect sounding auditorium there have to be a certain number of spaces which absorb the sound waves, and a certain number that will reflect these waves to give a true reproduction. The same principle is employed in broadcasting for the elimination of echoes and overtones. This new plaster manufactured by the Canada Gypsum and Alabastine company successfully overcomes this difficulty and is being used on both the main and the gallery ceilings as well as on the walls. In the new hall there will also be provision made for the showing of moving pictures.

The Paragon Hall is first-class, and is easily accessible in one of the best situations in the city, on the corner of Brock and George streets. It has a seating capacity of 300, with 150 for banquets and will accommodate about 80 couples for dancing. It is complete in every way with kitchen and washrooms. The hall is decorated in green and gold. The tables around the sides, also decorated in green, blend well with the surroundings. Modern ventilation is used. This hall was one of the popular ones in the city last year for private parties, dances and banquets. The management entertains the idea of an ultra-modern place for amusements for next year. In the hall there is also provided a piano and Orthophonic Victrola.

The Downyflake tea room over the Downyflake restaurant on George street is one of the prettiest in the city. The scheme of decoration is carried out in the Bird of Paradise design with black and gold outstanding. The lighting effect is carried out by soft centre lights and harmonizing side lights. The tables correspond with the scheme of decoration in gold and black. Rose draperies take away the glaring effect of the windows. Singing canaries give the place a distinctive atmosphere. It has all modern conveniences, with accommodations for banquets with capacity for about 150 people. It is popular with clubs and lodges, for receptions, and for private parties and dances. There is also soda fountain service in connection with it. It also has a piano and victrola.

The Canadian Legion hall is perhaps the best known to dance lovers as nearly all the big public dances of the city are held here. It has an excellent hardwood floor for dancing with a raised moveable platform at one end. There are many windows around the hall assuring ventilation. The walls and ceilings are carried out in cream, with a high oak-stained wainscotting. The lighting is carried out by ten inverted lights. There are ample exits at each end. In the rear of the hall there is a spacious kitchen and cloak rooms, also a rest room. The stage can be curtained off for plays and recitals. There are all modern conveniences that are connected with the hall.

Above the dance and concert hall there is a banquet hall which will accommodate about three hundred. This is used also for card playing in connection with many of the dances. The dance hall will hold about 125 couples and about five hundred at lectures.

The Knights of Columbus Hall, one of the more recent additions to the city's list, is rated among the best. The dance floor is of excellent hardwood material, and has accommodated about 200 couples. The decorations are carried out in the club colors of purple and gold and the eight windows are draped in the same colors. Off the main hall there is a recreation room with easy chairs and a huge fireplace. There are all the modern conveniences and accommodations for kitchen.

The Conservatory of Music hall is another, and has been during the past years the favorite place for musical recitals and small dances. It will accommodate about 300 persons for recitals, etc., and about 100 couples for dancing. The raised platform at one end makes a very suitable place to accommodate orchestras, and to hold recitals. There are ladies' and gentlemen's cloakrooms and a kitchenette.

Victoria Hall, the old Opera House, is very spacious with a good floor for dancing. The hall is gaily decorated with flags, and bunting, and will accommodate around 500 persons. It is a favorite place for amateur plays.

The Knights of Pythias and Sons of England hall over the Toronto Savings and Loan offices has a raised platform at one end with a good hardwood floor for dancing. It is lighted by indirect lights and the walls are decorated with tinted paper. Off the main hall there is a billiard room.

The W.O.W. have a splendid hall which will accommodate around three hundred. It has a kitchenette and all the modern conveniences. The floor is hardwood and is very good for dancing. The decorations are carried out in blue wall paper relieved by small side lights. The main lights are of the drop light effect. Practically all the halls are provided with a piano.

PLAINTIFF RECEIVES JUDGMENT FOR $80

Guiry Recovers Damages From Mrs .B. Byles For Fixtures Removed.

His Honor Judge Huycke in the First Division Court of the County of Peterborough gave Judgment for the sum of $80.00 in favor of J. Guiry and against Mrs. Bertha Byles, the defendant in the action. John R. Corkery acted for the plaintiff and R. R. Hall, K.C. conducted the case for the defendant.

When the case was heard last Monday J. Guiry, the present owner of the what was formerly the Munroe Hotel claimed damages from Mrs. Byles for fixtures that he alleged she removed when her lease expired this spring.

In giving judgment His Honor ruled that the defendant was entitled to remove such fixtures as were hers and could be removed without doing any damage to the building.

In the case of the electric wiring and switches which had been installed at the convenience of the defendant in the floor and wainscotting, His Honor was of the opinion that they could not be removed without damaging the flooring and hence allowed $20 damages. With regard to the swinging doors, lattice work in the dining room, and bath tub and basin in the defendant's room, His Honor ruled in favor of the defendant, but in the case of the two bath tubs and sinks that were removed from other parts of the building by cutting the piping instead of screwing it out in the usual way, His Honor ruled that they were part of the freehold and hence he allowed the plaintiff $60 for them.

The Court was unable to find the defendant in any way responsible for the damage done to the wall paper, and he allowed Mrs. Byles the keys which she took with her as she claimed they were her property.

THIRD EXPEDITION TO VISIT ANTARCTIC

Busy Summer in Prospect, With Three Parties Flying South

NEW YORK, June 8.—(Canadian Press).—A busy summer in the Antarctic is promised with the announcement of plans for a third aerial expedition to explore that little known region.

Douglas George Jeffrey, retired British naval commander and veteran of one of Shackleton's south polar expeditions, has announced he would head an expedition of about 25 men and two planes, leaving for the Antarctic in September and after spending the south polar summer in exploration return in May.

His expedition would in no way conflict with the expedition of Commander Richard E. Byrd and Captain George Wilkins but would complement them, Commander Jeffrey said. He expects to number among his expedition four other members of Shackleton expeditions. The four are: Captain Arthur Argyles, navigator for Mabel Boll's projected flight to Europe, George V. Douglas, of McGill University, Montreal, geogolist, Dr. A. H. Macklin, of Dundee, Scotland, surgeon, and J. W. S. Marr of Aberdeen, Scotland, biologist.

Cloves are the dried flower buds of a tree native to the Dutch East Indies.

BOYS WELL TRAINED.

Quebec Catholic Boys Are Well Disciplined, Says Montreal Speaker.

MONTREAL, Que., June 8.—A comparison between the English-speaking Catholic boy and other lads when they began to work was made lately by A. A. Gardiner, Knight of the Order of the Holy Sepulchre, in an address at a session of the tenth annual convention of the Montreal Catholic Teachers' Association. A survey made in many business firms had brought forth the fact that children from the Catholic schools in general, and the English Catholic schools in particular, were better disciplined than children from other schools, Mr. Gardiner stated. On the other hand because of the fact that Catholic lads had been brought up in an atmosphere in which everyone had the same ideas, they sometimes found it difficult to adjust themselves when they entered a large office with many different types of persons. French boys were found to be, on the whole, more polite than the English ones.

Both English and French-speaking Catholics were reported by many employers to be very good at routine jobs which they performed with the utmost conscientiousness, but when asked suddenly to do something else in an emergency they frequently fell down, said Mr. Gardiner. As a result their lack of initiative was apt to keep them at the same routine job until the end of their days. Boy scouts were found to have more self-reliance and initiative than other boys. A point in favor of Catholic boys was the fact that they were almost always bilingual.

Employers who marked boys on a regular point system when they applied for jobs gave them a lower rating when they came accompanied by their mothers, Mr. Gardiner announced. He felt this was rather hard on the boy, however, as some mothers were of the type who would not be left at home.

HARVEY ADVOCATES BORSTAL SYSTEM

English System For Training of Young Criminals Instead of Reformatory.

TORONTO, June 8.—Adoption of the Borstal system, which is in use in England in connection with young criminal offenders, in place of the Reformatory system used in Ontario, was advocated by Allen Harvey, District Governor of the Optimists' Clubs of Alberta, in an address here. It provides a training for young people who have received sentences of from one to three years at an institution conducted similarly to a boarding school." Different classes are made up, concentrating on vocational education, with their own school colors, teachers and headmasters. The headmaster is trained in the handling of this class of boys, one who can act as an adviser and counsellor, and who in addition to obtaining the boys' confidence will act as an inspiration for them. At the end of the two-year detention, they are graduated" and remain on parole for one year. Work is obtained for them, and they have an individual mentor, to whom they report weekly.

CARNIVAL TILL MIDNIGHT

West Montreal Celebrates Postponed Celebration.

MONTREAL, Que., June 8 (CP).—Crowning the Queen O' The May and with hours of entertainment for young and old, Montreal West celebrated Victoria Day on May 26 when the town tossed care to the winds and held carnival in the grounds of the Montreal West High School from noon till midnight. The postponement of the event from the 24th, on account of the weather, had not been an ill omen. The most picturesque event of the day was the maypole dance in which girls in white frocks and wreaths wound up the pink and blue ribbons making up the traditional maypole, the whole dance having its proper and colorful setting with green grass and trees.

THE IMMIGRATION QUESTION.

It is gratifying to note that the Parliamentary Committee on Immigration in its report has stressed the desirability of concentrating upon settlers from the British Isles, and of confining immigration from Central and Southern Europe to farmers, domestics and the relatives of people from those countries living in Canada.

The committee is in line with public opinion in putting emphasis upon the wisdom of doing everything possible to secure more citizens from Britain, and in the recommendations it has made with a view to facilitating the coming of Britishers.

Among other things are urged a reduction in steamship rates, the use of British doctors in rural sections of the British Isles, better co-operation between Provincial and Federal Governments for the placing of new citizens.

All these suggestions are of interest, and while there is nothing in the report to show that the committee has discovered any plan for immigration into Canada on a large scale, the attention that has been given this important question should be profitable.

NATIONAL DAYLIGHT SAVING.

The Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, in fostering a resolution before the annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce calling for a Federal daylight saving law, is undoubtedly right in its argument that "daylight saving as now experienced is conductive of embarrassment to commerce and to the travelling public."

The checkerboard system now in force by which one centre uses fast time and another operates on standard time, is a nuisance that would be done away with by the adoption of Dominion-wide daylight saving.

Unfortunately, you have the old problem of an irresistible force meeting an immoveable body on your hands.

On one side there are the farmers solidly opposed to any interference with standard time; on the other, the majority of residents of large cities who want an extra hour of daylight for recreation.

Fear of losing the farmer vote killed national daylight saving in Canada, as it has done in the United States, and there doesn't seem very much that can be done about it.

THIS WEEK'S WARNING.

The fact that over a dozen citizens appeared in Police Court this week for breaches of the traffic regulations should have a decidedly beneficial effect upon motoring conditions generally.

The activity of the police in these and other cases is a plain warning that the regulations must be lived up to, and the inference is justified that should motorists who have been flaunting the traffic laws continue to disregard the hint they have been given this week, the penalties will be made more severe and the number of offenders appearing before the magistrate will show a decided increase.

The police have been most reasonable in their treatment of motorists, but it has been evident for some time that some drivers given an inch would take a mile, and that such people could only be taught to obey the regulations by being shown that it is expensive to do anything else.

Drivers who do not profit by the warning afforded by this week's traffic court cases may discover that the penalties for infractions of the traffic laws are heavier than they thought.

THE SCHOOL BANKS.

Figures issued as to the operations of the Ontario Penny Bank system during March and April indicate that the pupils of Peterborough's Public Schools have been taking a commendable interest in this form of saving.

Peterborough's schools stand twelfth in the list for Ontario in the average weekly percentage of pupils making deposits in the school banks, the percentage for the local schools being 57 per cent., while the average for the whole is only 32 per cent.

At the end of April, although the system had only been in operation here for a few months, Peterborough school children had very close to $7,000 to their credit in the Penny Bank, a total that shows that the school bank idea has been thoroughly sold in Peterborough's schools.

The value of the plan is not, however, to be found in the total deposits, but rather in the thrift complex that is developed as the result of a weekly deposit in the Penny Bank.

The youngster who in his first years at school learns to save a little money each week is acquiring a habit that he is very likely to retain for the rest of his life, and that will prove of the greatest benefit to him.

It will be accepted as an axiom, too that, on the whole the people of this country are sorely in need of thrift education, and it is well, therefore, that a start should be made in the schools.

THE PROTEST OF THE FARMERS.

Comments of eastern newspapers on the proposed "march," or demonstration, of discontented farmers of the central west furnish a striking illustration of the provincialism of the east and its inability to give sympathetic attention to the needs of the basic national industry. Those comments are a compound of irony, flippancy and cynicism. Some of the writers lash themselves into indignation while making not the slightest attempt at reasoned argument.

The marchers, it is declared by some of those preposterous critics, should be received as Coxey's army of unemployed was received at Washington. One New Hampshire politician rushes into print to assert that the Kansas City jail is the proper place for the "bums" from the farms who are planning to invade that municipality and create disorder or intimidate a peaceful convention. Lack of comprehension greater than this is difficult to conceive.

The truth of the matter is that in the eastern cities the farmers who are planning a demonstration at Kansas City at the time of the republican convention are regarded either as simpletons misled by clodhopper politicians or as prosperous but perverse grumblers who talk of a march when they mean a picnic, with thousands of motor cars to convey them comfortably to the scene of the demonstration. And it is true that the farmers who go to Kansas City will not be hungry tramps and many of them will go in their own motor cars. For to the farmer a motor car is much more of a necessity than it is to the average city mechanic. But is extreme poverty the only element of a farm problem that the east can understand?

The so-called "second caravan of covered wagons" will move on Kansas City "to protect the agricultural empire" founded by the pioneers of the first caravan, as Gov. McMullen of Nebraska phrases it. The need of protection is demonstrated not by rags on farmers' backs, but by foreclosed mortgages, abandoned farms, inadequate returns on the farmer's investment of money as well as of toil—pitiful pay if it were for arduous labor alone.

The east's supercilious treatment of the discontented western farmers is the sort of thing that wrecks historic parties, produces grave sectional conflicts and imperils national unity.—Chicago Daily News.

RUSSIA'S FOOD CROPS.

A startling change in Russian grain conditions is made public by Joseph Stalin, who is the supreme power in the Soviet Union. The amount of grain available for the domestic market has fallen to one-half of the pre-war stocks. The grain exports have fallen to one-twentieth of the pre-war figures. This has occurred in face of the fact that the total grain production almost equals the pre-war yield. If the mujik raises as much grain as ever while the cities face a 50 per cent. cut in supplies and the exportable surplus almost disappears, it would follow that the peasant is consuming his own products.

Mr. Duranty cites detailed Soviet figures to show that this has actually come to pass. Before the war the poorer peasants grew half of the crops and consumed seven-eighths of that amount without rising far above a semi-starvation level. The huge Russian grain exports of those years, running from eight to twelve million tons annually, were drawn from the richer peasant farms and the landowners' estates. To-day the poorer peasants raise 85 per cent. of the crops and consume an even higher ratio than before the war. The figures given by Mr. Duranty would work out to the following effect: Before the war 100,000,000 Russian peasants had to maintain life on less than 40 per cent. of the crops. To-day they consume nearly 75 per cent. of them.

In this fact Stalin finds compensation for the difficulties he faces as the result of the vanishing export surplus. The Soviet Government's foreign trade difficulties are immensely increased, but the mujik is much better fed. It remains to develop a system of large State farms, growing food for foreign exports, to take the place of the surplus formerly supplied by the rich peasants and the landowners. That, admittedly, is a question of several years, and meanwhile the Soviet Government must find other export commodities. It is known that the production and export of oil has been speeded up. But as late as the financial year 1926-27 grain constituted more than two-thirds of Russia's exports. Whether oil production can be forced to make up the disappearance of grain and whether the foreign markets can absorb the oil no one can yet say.

Actually, there is ground for believing that Stalin's explanation does not tell the whole story. The change, to the extent it has taken place, must have already been in effect a year ago. Yet in the first half of the year 1926-27 the grain exports were about 2,000,000 tons, or 25 per cent. of the pre-war exports, whereas now they are reported down to 5 per cent. The more potent reason lies in the chronic problem of grain prices in relation to food prices. The peasants as a whole now eat their grain or feed it to live stock or turn it, in immense quantities, into bootleg vodka, because they are unwilling to hand over their grain at one and a half times the pre-war price in return for manufactured goods that fetch four times the pre-war prices. Rather than be "done" the mujik eats and drinks more and chooses to go without boots and clothes and household utensils.

Whatever may be the situation in the villages, the fact that only one-half the pre-war amount of food is available for the industrial population constitutes a formidable problem for the Soviet Government. If the cities are to be fed, the peasant must be induced by some means or other to give up his grain. This brings up the possibilities of forcible requisition and the "war-communism" of seven years ago. Requisition was brought to bear last winter when the grain collections took an alarming drop. Mr. Duranty then stated that the peasants might resort to confiscation by refusing to plant. He now speaks of the "uncertainty" of the coming harvest.—New York Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Question Box

A.—No. It is Sheraton style, probably English of the late 18th Century.

F.T. Q.—Where is Charleston?

A.—There are two cities of the name—one in South Carolina and one in West Virginia. The former was formerly the principal cotton port of United States. It was settled by the English in 1680, followed in 1685 by Huguenot refugees. The latter has no such interesting history. It is a centre for export of timber, coal and salt.

Q.—What does this mark (an anchor surmounted by a crown) on the bottom of a saucer mean?

A.—It is the mark of Chelsea-Derbyware, 1769-1780.

E. H. Q.—Who put the Bibles in the hotels in the city?

A.—The "Gideons" first put a Bible on every hotel room in August, 1911.

A.—Meadow hay: water 17.90%; albuminoids, 7.25%; digestible carbohydrates, 46.13%; fibre, 22.62%; ash, 6.10%.

Clover hay: water 18.60%; albuminoids, 12.50%; digestible carbohydrates, 36.33%; fibre, 25.65%; ash 6.92%. Grass: water, 73.67%; albuminoids, 2.15%; digestible carbohydrates, 15.02%; fibre, 7.36%; ash, 1.80%.

GOD'S MINUTE

That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in Heaven and things in earth, and things under the earth. And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father. Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure.—Phil. 2: 10-13.

* * *

Merciful God, our Father, we thank Thee for health, and life, and every good gift. Thou hast created us in Thine own image, and highly endowed us as thinking creatures. We recognize Thy divine right to the rule over us, and we pray that we may be kept true and right before Thee. Give us grace for this day's duties, and make us kindly disposed toward our fellowmen. Support Thy people everywhere in the midst of difficulties, and bring this world to Thyself. Regard with much mercy the poor and unfortunate. Redeem men from the sins that beset them. For our selves, our loved ones, our community, and our nation, we make our humble prayer.

Mercifully grant unto us all those blessings Thou seest we need, through the merits of Jesus Christ, our adorable Saviour. Amen.

A Thought

HOMAGE TO DUTY

Creeds shift and change, and light fades here and flashes there in broken gleams on nebulous faiths and hopes which are not steadfast. But in their midst stands one rock—solid and fast-footed, and he who sets his foot thereon is blest, even though he be not happy.

The name of that rock is Duty; and who walks the harsh and difficult way which lies along it, gathers no clogging load from quagmire, dies no soul's death by the miasma of that murky world which swelters below it. We slip, we fall, we bemire ourselves, we choke in the deadly fog; but to the sincere soul the hand of guidance comes, and the weak feet find a standing-place again, and the cruel road seems lovable, although the feet bleed and are weary.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, June 8. — Receipts at the stock yards for yesterday's market were practically nil, consisting only of one car of mixed stock, with a deck of 56 hogs.

A holdover of about 250 cattle, mostly heavy steers, gave a semblance to a market, but with little interest to general buyers outside of one or two of the big packers' representatives.

The whole of the small offering was cleared with no change in the general price list, which remained as at Wednesday's closing quotations. Heavy steers averaging 25c to 40c below last week's general average, while choice handyweight butcher steers and heifers remained steady and unchanged from a week ago.

In Wednesday's active market, a feature transaction was the sale of a special consignment of heavy steers which, for weight, quality, and general finish, were in a class by themselves. The bunch consisted of 23 steers, averaging 1,480 pounds, finished and sold by George Rowntree to the Harris Abattoir Co., at $13.25 per cwt.

Hog prices for yesterday were steady at this week's advance to $12.25 ,selects, off cars. Prospects, however, are for lower prices over the week-end, with packers bidding 50c lower. Hogs are comparatively scarce, but there is an easier tone to the outside markets.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., June 8 (Canadian Press). — With the exception of a few sales of wheat, oats, and barley, the export trade in Canadian grain here yesterday was quiet.

In the local market there was some demand from exporters and sales of odd fair-sized lots of Manitoba No. 3 Northern wheat were made at ½c to ¾c per bushel over the Winnipeg July option c.i.f. Montreal, and some oats also changed hands on a c.i.f. basis. There was also some demand from country buyers for oats.

Prices for all grades of spring and winter wheat flour were well maintained from country buyers under a limited demand.

The inquiry from the United States millfeed was fair, but as the prices bid were $2.00 per ton below the local level, no business resulted. The trade for domestic account was also limited but prices were steady.

Owing to the decline in prices for oats of late a weaker feeling developed in the local market for rolled oats and prices were reduced ten cents per bag.

A moderate amount of business was done in all grades of eggs, and the undertone to the market was firm. The receipts were 2,258 cases.

The local and outside demand for potatoes continued of a limited character, and values were unchanged.

The trade in imported beans was fair and prices ruled firm. Choice white hand-picked beans sold at $4.10 per bushel, ex-store, and car lots to arrive were quoted at $3.90 per bushel, ex-track.

A feature of the local butter trade was the firmer feeling that developed, and prices scored an advance of ½c to ¾c per pound, which was brought about by holders not being disposed to sell, and in consequence buyers in order to fill their requirements were obliged to bid up to secure sufficient supplies. The receipts were 1,795 packages.

The cheese trade was inactive, but values were firmly maintained. The receipts were 3,105 boxes.

THE GREAT MAN - By FANNIE HURST

The World's Highest Paid Short Story Writer

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Author of "Humoresque", "A President Is Born"

THERE was no mistaking who was the head of the Schneider household. Schneider was. In a feudal fashion that was startling to behold in this day and age of the alleged equality of the sexes, Schneider literally sat at the head of his table and in stentorian tones with which the timbers of the little frame house on the outskirts of Jersey City must have vibrated, conducted his affairs of state. And Schneider had affairs of state, consisting chiefly of the workings and the playings of his little household. Not such a little household after all.

There were Greta, his wife, and four youngsters ranging from a beautiful, husky boy-baby of two to a lanky little fellow of nine. Greta, who at thirty was still blonde and beautiful after the manner of a Marguerite, carried on her lovely shoulders the work-a-day burdens of this little household, but it was Schneider who ruled it.

Schneider paid the bills. Schneider drew up the daily menus. Schneider catechized his children, disciplined their habits, punished them when necessary and overruled Greta's importunings in their behalf. It was Schneider who accompanied Greta when she shopped for her modest wardrobe. It was Schneider who still kept Greta a little dowdy-looking in ankle-length dresses and cotton stockings in a day when fashion decreed it differently.

Schneider's children, who were fond of him when he was genial and who feared him when he disapproved of them, were reared rigidly in the mould of his demands.

They did what he expected of them, what he demanded of them. With all of the child's natural intuition, emphasized by constant watchfulness of Schneider's domineering personality, they had come to feel his moods with almost uncanny correctness. Schneider's children and his wife paid him the homage he demanded.

SCHNEIDER was a great man, all right, within the domain of his little home. If Greta sometimes secretly almost hated him and cried secret tears that stung her blue eyes as she felt the procession of Life marching past her, outwardly, at least, she was the protected and respected wife of a bass-viol player, who for fifteen years had wielded that sonorific instrument in a New York Symphony Orchestra.

One of these huge instruments, almost as tall as Schneider himself, stood in the corner of the little parlor, shrouded in a black sateen cover Greta had made for it. Sometimes Schneider played on it, pulling the great bow ponderously across its wide expanse. Then every member of the household, from the baby up, was expected to sit tense and listening while Schneider played.

Listening to the deep tones that vibrated under the touch of Schneider's competent hand—deep tones that hummed and murmured and muttered vibrantly through the small room, that growled and rumbled and grumbled from the deeply colored sides of the great bass viol when it was taken out from under its shrouding pall of black.

To Greta, there was something abyssmal and terrible in the sounds that came from Schneider's bass-viol. She had learned a device, however, of shutting off the sight and sound of Schneider straddled around his instrument. Sometimes, sitting on the edge of the stiff chair and holding her youngest in the cradle of her arm, Greta could close her eyes and let forbidden thoughts creep out of the little attic places of her brain.

THERE was a tall, yellow-haired young giant of a fellow, for instance, who lived next door with his parents. He was a printer by trade and although they had never even met, time and time again, if they passed each other on the sidewalk, the bachelor's blue eyes had met and magnetized the blue eyes of Greta. Sometimes it could seem to her that something in those eyes of his had melted into her very being, so that it was part of her own eyes. Often as she sat listening to her husband as he assembled his family around him, thoughts that had to do with the young printer next door danced across her consciousness.

But in the main, there was little time for reflections of this kind in the busy life of Greta. It was a household of constant chore, planning and catering to the demands of the head of the house.

Within his home, Schneider was a great man. He had built there, for himself and his family, a kingdom which he ruled. He had spread a large and private heaven like a canopy over his life.

When Schneider, the great man within the domain of his little home, demanded homage, his wife and their four children gave it to him.

Within the domain of his home he was king.

It must be said for Schneider that he was able to produce an effect. About every one of his children, there was something pompous; a pomposity that was the result of the psychological effect of being offspring of the great Schneider.

The little boys attended school and attained a certain local authority because of a background that had permeated, as it were, into their very souls. Schneider's children bragged about him; about his musical eminence about his omniscience. Schneider's children were children of a great man.

It did not matter that when Schneider walked out of his universe of the little frame house on the edge of Jersey City, almost immediately, he became swallowed up in a maelstrom of which he formed an infinitesimal and highly unimportant particle. When Schneider walked into the stage-entrance of the concert-hall where the Symphony Orchestra held its rehearsals, he became a member, and an obscure one, of an oragnization that regarded him merely as an unimportant cog in the wheel. It is doubtful if the various conductors even knew his name.

At rehearsals he had neither personality nor recognition. At public performances he was an unhonored and unsung part of the whole. From his rear position in the orchestra, he was scarcely visible to the audience.

Once out of his kingdom, the great man became a nonenity. The boor became a puppet. Greta knew this and it was part of the loathing that sometimes used to creep into her heart.

It was as if when Schneider left the house for the city, after he had been pampered with foods especially prepared for him, curtsied to in a dozen different ways by his children who feared him, shampooed by one of them, massaged by another, shoe-blacked by still another, she could see his great, broad figure begin to shrink as it walked down the street until when he was only a few feet away, Schneider, the great, became a pin-point; the pin-point he represented to the outside world.

AS Schneider's children grew older and their lessons in adulation of their father drew them more and more under his spell, the fear in Greta rose and rose. Her sweet children were harboring a fetish. Sooner or later, when the awakening came, there would be bitterness injected into that sweetness.

It was little wonder that in those long hours when the Schneider family sat grouped around their hero listening to his playing on the bass-viol, there was something of relief and beauty in conjuring up the nice, clean, young manhood of the fellow next door.

The awakening of the Schneider children to the fetish in the house did not come gradually. It came in the manner that Greta dreaded most. It came when their eldest son Jasper rushed into the house one afternoon with a broken front tooth and a tear-smeared face. With the cruel frankness of youth, someone had called his father a hand-me-down butcher of a fiddler.

That was the beginning. Greta succeeded in chasing that idea out of the boy's head, but two weeks later, Neal, the second boy, stood up before his father after the chastisement of a rod which Schneider did not spare his children and dared to face him back.

"You're a hand-me-down fiddler and a great big bully," screamed the youngster and went into a paroxysm of nervous hysteria that alarmed even Schneider himself.

It was as if the large and private heaven which Schneider had spread like a canopy over his life had suddenly and without warning, collapsed. Here was his family regarding him with new and insolent eyes. With one blow, the Buddha had been kicked off its pedestal and in the most devastating way. By a child. Schneider's children were on to him.

There was no dinner in the household that evening. It took all of Greta's time and energy to quiet her son Neal, who could not seem to come out of the hysteria of horror that his temerity with his father had planted in him. Neal was in paroxysms of fear at the mere sight of Schneider attempting to enter the little room where he lay in his bed. The other children of Schneider shrank from him, too, instilled with that same sense of fear of the ultimate punishment that their brother's betrayal of his state of mind was sure to bring on them all.

After a while, Schneider slunk out of the house. His children were on to him.

SUDDENLY, horribly, Schneider was on to himself. At four o'clock of a misty morning, he was still wandering about the dock sections of the city, filled with the horror of being on to himself. At five o'clock, the blue-eyed young man who lived next door to the Schneiders, coming home from his position on the night-shift of the printing establishment, stumbled across a dead figure, lying face-down in only three inches of water. "Schneider!"

It was the young printer who carried the news home to Greta.

LOCAL DOG WINS FURTHER HONORS

Gloria's Sensation, Owned By D. C. Grant, Has Wonderful Record.

Gloria's Sensation, red and white cocker spaniel, owned by D. C. Grant, again won honors at the recent Montreal dog shows. She again made good in competition with the best cockers in North America. There were dogs represented from Texas, Maryland, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, all over Canada and the United States. Gloria's Sensation was the only Peterborough dog to be honored and she captured third place. In Montreal there were two shows on two consecutive days, the Ladies' Kennel Club shows, at which a second and third were taken, and the Montreal Kennel shows, when she won two thirds. Mr. Grant was unable to get to the show, so his entry had to be shown by a strange handler.

Gloria's Sensation is just at the entrance of a very promising career, being just fifteen months old. She started when six months old at Ottawa, and since has been shown at all the leading shows in Canada and has never yet failed to be in the money. She is practically perfect in type when compared with the perfect cocker spaniel.

Gloria's Sensation was bred from a New York dog, Mitzie's Gloria, of Pine Kennels, North Collins, N.Y., by the Canadian dog, Lakefield Beauty, of this locality, both of which are always winners and pedigreed with the finest cocker spaniels in the world.

Gloria's Sensation is also bred with Midkiff's Miracle Man, which is considered the best cocker spaniel in America. This dog is also pedigreed with practically all the dogs in Mr. Grant's kennels.

She has no fear of a show but enters without a leash and walks proudly to her place. In the ring she is shown without collar or leash, acting promptly at a word from her master.

Also, she is a wonderful pet. Children play with her as if she were a doll. In the woods she is also a remarkable sporting dog, treeing birds with ease. She is known as Mary Lou around the house.

A few of the honors she has to her credit are: First at Ottawa at the age of six months, in 1927; first and second at Peterborough; two firsts at the Royal Winter dog show at Toronto; also two at the International Good Friday and Saturday show, with an additional reserve prize. This last was the Kennel Club show of Toronto. At Brantford she took two firsts, and she took a winner's, a second and third at the Ladies' Kennel Club at Montreal.

Mr. Grant has twelve dogs, all cocker spaniels, and calls his kennels the Rose Garden Kennels of Peterborough. This is quite natural as he has 400 rose bushes on his place and soon expects to have 12 or 15 dozen blooms. The roses are the very best in the city, imported direct from Holland to Mr. Grant.

He believes, he told The Examiner, that the cocker spaniel is one of the best all-round dogs. They are very intelligent and very gentle dogs, making wonderful house dogs and very good children's dogs. In the woods they cannot be surpassed as bird dogs. They are steadily becoming favorites among dog fanciers of this continent. The cocker spaniel, he continued, is one of the oldest breed of dogs in the world, dating practically from civilization. There are no cross breeds in it and it is no novelty dog. He believes that the long history of the dog is responsible for its remarkable intelligence. All of Mr. Grant's dogs are pedigreed with prize dogs of North America.

Roses and dogs are a hobby with Mr. Grant. He does all the work himself and has all the dogs named so they understand their names, each acting at a word from their master.

INVENTOR OF PAINT IS AMONG VICTIMS

Dr .Von Soslocky Is Dying As Result of Radium in System.

NEW YORK, June 8. Canadian Press. — The New York Times says to-day that Dr. S. A. Von Soshocky, the inventor of radium paint, which is said to have doomed five New Jersey women to a slow death, is a victim of his own invention.

The paper says that although the doctor was reticent to talk about himself, marks of the inroads of the illness were plainly evident. His front teeth are gone and his fingers up to the second knuckle are black, as a result of radium necrosis.

RAILWAY PRESIDENT ISSUES A STATEMENT

President Downs of Illinois Central System, Says That "Every Passenger Counts" —Long and Short Distance Travel.

The President of the Illinois Central Railway System, L. A. Downs, has recently issued a monthly statement which has had very wide distribution, the title of which "Every Passenger Counts."

Mr. Downs, while pointing out that the larger items in passenger service, such as excursions and long distance travel, attract the most attention and provide the bulk of present day passenger revenue, he also draws attention to the fact that smaller items—the movement of individual passengers for short distances also play an important part in the success of railway passenger business.

He states that both kinds of patronage are needed and wanted.

In his statement he goes on to say that while trains are just about indispensable in carrying of mail, baggage and express and for the carrying of passengers they have no equal in safety and dependability, but lack of patronage would imperil not merely one but all of the above advantages. He is advocating the using of railroads for long or short passenger trips, showing where the railroads are providing the traveller with every modern comfort.

The statement of President Downs would no doubt apply to other railroads as well as to the Illinois Central.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

FOR SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1928.

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

This is an uncertain day, according to the reading of the stars. Astrologers find that both benefic and malefic aspects are active.

The morning is not a time to deal with one's bankers, especially if a loan is the objective.

It is not an auspicious date for signing contracts or leases. Deceit and misrepresentation may be prevalent today.

Neptune frowns on many ambitions, it is forecast, making it easy for men to deceive themselves and to prepare for disappointment.

The planetary rule encourages vanity and egotism and both men and women are supposed to be peculiarly susceptible to the sinister influences of the stars.

While those who plan big enterprises may be inclined to be too sanguine during the prevalence of this sign, the rule should be good for merchants and manufacturers.

Money will be spent extravagantly all through this year in which the conception of what are the necessaries of life includes all the luxuries.

The forecast seems to presage the purchase of airplanes and automobiles in unprecedented numbers.

New multi-millionares are to multiply this year when co-operation in business is to be extended to the extreme world ilimit.

Some sort of international scandal is to be uncovered by the newspapers, but the seers warn editors to beware of libel suits more bitter than any in history.

At the end of this month there is likely to be another great flurry in stocks and many will rise rapidly in values.

Health should be watched at this time when many sudden deaths are prognosticated.

Persons whose birthdate it is should beware of insignificant losses which aggregate good-sized amounts.

Children born on this day probably will be keen of mind, imaginative and fond of adventure.

Be Everlastingly on the Alert When you drive a Motor Vehicle

Statistics show that inattention of drivers is the cause of many highway accidents

Carelessness of the person at the wheel is directly to blame in many cases, according to accurate investigations into the causes of automobile accidents.

You must watch your wheel and the road ahead. Let someone else point out the scenery. Let someone else pass the cigarettes and chocolate bars. If you value your own safety and that of your friends, you will concentrate on driving safely and take good care to avoid other drivers who may be reckless.

Conditions on the streets and highways have changed with a huge increase of motor traffic. You must become conscious of the new dangers thus created. You cannot neglect your wheel for even a moment.

The Highway Safety Committee again urges that all motorists co-operate in the effort to lessen the number of accidents. Ontario's highways can be made safer if all drivers obey the traffic rules and exercise Care, Courtesy and Common-sense. The roads have been built as safe physically as possible and they are well supplied with caution signs. Traffic officers and municipal police are vigilant. But the human element must be attuned if accidents are to be avoided.

When you are driving, keep everlastingly on the alert.

CARE COURTESY COMMON SENSE

7 Rules for Safety

1. Have your car in perfect mechanical shape—particularly Brakes, Steering Gear and Headlights.
2. Give your undivided attention to your driving. In passing traffic, be sure there is a place for you in the traffic line ahead.
3. When other motor vehicles try to pass you—let them pass.
4. In entering main streets or highways, or in approaching a railway crossing where a clear view of the track is obstructed, stop and look.
5. Don't "loaf" where traffic is heavy.
6. Always signal before you slow down, stop or change your course.
7. Never back up before ascertaining that the road behind is clear.

CRUELTY CHARGE JUDGMENT GIVEN

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8. — The finale of the case of Rex vs. Redden, which was heard in Police Court here on Monday, May 28, has been reached in the form of judgment which dismisses the case with costs, but no witness' fees to be allowed. The charge was laid under a section of the Criminal Code relating to cruelty to animals, and arose out of the killing of a horse by the defendant which, it was claimed by inspectors of the Humane Society from Toronto, was cruel. In his written judgment Magistrate Payne said: "The charge against the accused is that he wilfully and cruelly caused unnecessary suffering to a horse, beating it with an axe and leaving it in a dying condition on the 13th May last, in contravention of Sec. 542 of the Criminal Code.

"This section was amended in 1922 and 1926, but the amendments do not apply to the charge against the accused.

"In order to succeed against the accused, I think the prosecutor must show that the horse suffered unnecessarily by reason of the beating it received from the axe in the hands of the accused. There is no evidence that the horse suffered after it received the blows from the defendant. I am of the impression that the horse was quite unconscious after being struck by the accused. The beating was done with the intention of putting the horse out of misery, and the accused says he supposed he had acomplished what he set out to do, but on returning to the barn found the horse still living. It has been suggested that the accused could have taken other means of disposing of the horse, but I doubt if the other means is more common than the means that was employed. I think it is common knowledge it is a difficult matter to kill a horse by striking it on the head, and they do not always die immediately after being shot, though I doubt if they continue to suffer. The accused supposed after he inflicted the blows on the horse's head, that it was dead. His conduct throughout shows an intention to destroy the animal. As soon as he saw the police he told him what he had done, and asked him if he could kill the horse.

"I do not see any wilful or unnecessary suffering, and I think the charge should be dismissed, with costs, but no witness' fee allowed."

In this case, N. Alec MacColl appeared for the defence, and Inspector Alliway of the Humane Society, Toronto, elected to conduct his own case.

WEDDING BELLS

BARBOUR—THOMPSON.

A quiet wedding took place at St. Paul's Manse, June 2nd, when Gretchen Thompson became the bride of Alex Barbour, of Toronto. The bride looked very sweet in a frock of powder blue flat crepe and carried a bouquet of pink roses, maiden hair fern and lily of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Marie Thompson, sister of the bride, wore a frock of rosewood crepe romain and corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses. James Barbour of Toronto, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After a buffet luncheon served at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Alex Irwine, 335 Sherbrooke street, Mr. and Mrs. Barbour left for Toronto, where they will reside.

GRAHAM—FAUX.

The wedding took place at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, at George street church parsonage, of Mrs. Mary Faux and John Graham, both of Otonabee township. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. E. Todd.

The bride wore a pretty gown of beige georgette and was attended by Miss Bertha Elmhirst, in orchid georgette. Mr. John Breckenbridge acted as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham left on the afternoon train for Toronto and points west. On their return, they will reside in Otonabee.

BLACK—BREDIN

The following notice, taken from the Mail and Empire of Tuesday's issue, refers to the wedding of Miss Jessie Bredin, sister of Mr. Mark Bredin of this city.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bredin the wedding is to take place at half-past six this evening of their daughter, Miss Jessie Irene Bredin, to Mr. Russell T. Black, son of Major and Mrs. A. S. Black. Ven. Archdeacon Cody is to perform the ceremony. The bride's father will give her away, and she is to be gowned in bridal satin and Chantilly lace, with veil of tulle and lace, arranged in cap effect and caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet is to be Ophelia roses and lily-of-the-valley. Miss Olive Bredin will be maid of honor, while Miss Hazel Bredin and Miss Kathleen Bredin, sisters of the bride, and Miss Betty Holmes, her niece, will be bridesmaids. Their gowns are to be in period style, each a different color, one yellow, one orchid, one green, and one pink, made with tight bodices with shoulder brooches and many-tiered skirts. They will carry bouquets of roses and lilies. Mr. Wilfred Bredin, brother of the bride, is to be best man, and Mr. Pat Bunting is to sing. A reception is being held after the ceremony. Mrs. Bredin will wear black lace over porcelain blue crepe, with corsage of roses and violet. Mrs. Black, mother of the bridegroom, will wear beige lace with corsage of vari colored sweet peas. The bride and bridegroom will motor through the States, the bride wearing a Nile green and pearl grey ensemble, with grey fox fur, and small hat of grey trimmed with the green. They will live in Porto Rico.

HARRISON—CRAIG.

A very pretty wedding took place at seven o'clock Friday evening, June 1st, at St. Paul's Church, Avenue Road, Toronto, when the Rev. Harold Young united in the bonds of holy matrimony, Mr. W. H. Harrison and Miss E. Irene Craig.

The bride looked charming in a beautiful gown of beige georgette and lace with shoes and hose to match. She wore a large picture hat and carried a lovely arm bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley. Mr. and Mrs. W. Mein, cousins of the bride, were the attendants. Mrs. Mein wore a lovely gown of powder blue cut velvet and large hat and carried mauve and pale pink sweet peas. The mother of the bride wore black satin with touches of grey, and wore a corsage bouquet of purple sweet peas with roses.

The gift of the groom to the bride was a white gold wrist watch, to the attendants a pair of gold cuff links and silver vanity case. A wedding dinner was served at the Falcon Inn for the immediate friends of the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison are both well known in Peterborough. They will make their future home at 234 Montrose avenue, Toronto.

KINGSTON MAN KLLED BY GAS

Daniel Ahern Found Dead In Dining Room of His Home.

PREPARING MEAL.

KINGSTON, June 8.—(Canadian Press).—Daniel Ahearn was found dead in the dining room of his home at noon yesterday from the effects of illuminating gas. Beside the body was found the pet cat of the deceased, also dead.

Ahearn had apparently been preparing his noon day meal, for part of it was found on the table. The centre jet of the gas stove was found to be turned on full. An autopsy was performed on the body.

At one important police centre in London more than 200 reserve officers are ready, day or night, for emergency service.

Singapore Man Claims To Have Drawn Ticket On Felstead.

BELIEVED FOR FRIEND.

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlement, June 8 (Canadian Press).—W. H. Webb, an Anglo-Indian employee of a Calcutta business firm, said to-day that he drew Felstead's ticket in the Calcutta sweepstakes but that he would not profit by his luck. It carries a prize of $1,310,000. It was believed Webb had drawn the ticket for a friend.

Seth's Hope First Capital City Race

OTTAWA, Ont., June 8 (Canadian Press).—Seth's Hope carried the pink and blue silks of the J. A. Parson stable to a close victory in the Capital City Handicap, feature offering of yesterday's racing at the Connaught Jockey Club plant. The four-year-old son of Seth-Bardora set all his own pace over the six furlong route and won in a drive over clearance. Amen Ra was a close third while Patricia J., the heavily backed favorite, finished behind the money division.

The winner was overlooked in the betting and returned 17.55 for $2 straight wagers.

In the Belcourt Purse event for two-year-olds contested over five furlongs, Willis Sharpe Kilmer's crack filly Reightol led from barrier to finish wire, and thus captured the first race in which she started.

Brilliant sunshine marked the second day's racing of the Connaught Spring meet and brought out some 4,000 fans. His Excellency Lord Willingdon was in attendance.

CLERKS DEFEAT ELECTRICS 25-12

Take League Leadership As Result of Victory Last Night.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8.— As a result of last night's game, the Clerks will have the honor of being at the top of the list for almost a week. Monday night's game can not possibly wrest the top place from their camp. The Tuesday game may prove more disastrous to their interests. The game last night was the snappiest played so far this season and shows that the teams are getting back into something like their last year's form. With the schedule well under way, the Clerks are beginning to look like possible winners of the trophy for the third consecutive season.

Blute, pitching for the Clerks, fanned eight men in the nine innings, while Coulter struck out two for the Electrics. There was only one home run, that came in the third innings when Reynolds, the second man to bat in the frame, clouted the ball for a complete circuit. Another feature of the game was McArthur's catching for the Clerks. In the fifth innings he caught three consecutive men out on foul ticks. The scoring for the Electrics was done in three innings, one run in the first one in the third and five in the eighth. The Clerks managed to count in four innings, four in the second, two in the third, five in the seventh and two in the eighth.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 8 (Canadian Press). — Rains in Dakotas and showers in the Dakotas and Minnesota with unexpected lower quotations at Liverpool, gave the wheat market here a decided jolt yesterday.

Government crop report to-day ...red likely also to indicate a ...ield of domestic winter wheat ... suggested by recent unoffi... estimates.

...ces for wheat were unchanged to 3 cents net lower. ... cent to 1⅞ cents ... to 1¼ cent down; ...rying from unchanged cents decline. ... that at some ... been fallen... prices were ... spring ... ahead ... the ...owed this and other bearish news, export demand yesterday for wheat from North America proved slack, and with optimistic reports at hand from winter wheat territory south-west, Kansas in particular, bears had the advantage throughout the day, especially as authoritative summaries from spring wheat states said a good average crop north-west can still be secured if there is sufficient moisture within a short time.

Late rallies, however, in wheat values overcame a substantial part of yesterday's extreme losses which on some transactions amounted to 4⅞ cents a bushel compared with Wednesday's finish.

The buying that brought about recoveries toward the last was based for the most part on assertions that wheat production of the northern hemisphere this season is now figured by some experts as 240,000,000 to 300,000,000 bushels smaller than last year.

Improved weather conditions dominated corn and oats as well as wheat. Country offerings of corn were a little larger, and notice was taken of the fact that the Iowa State report made the June 1 condition of corn 85 against 73 last year and a ten-year average of 89.

Provisions were weaker on account of selling ascribed to packers and carriers.

Warsaw

WARSAW, June 8.—A very pleasant social evening was spent on Monday evening at Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crowe's home, when they gave a kitchen shower for their niece, Miss Cressa Crowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crowe, who is to be married next week.

The bride-to-be and her parents were invited to spend the evening and were quite unsuspicious until they saw neighbor after neighbor arrive. There was music, led by Dr. Munro, with Mrs. Munro, Miss Anna McMurray, and Gerald Crowe assisting.

A contest with the word "green" was entered into with zest.

Miss Verna Miller read an address to Miss Crowe which was full of good wishes, and expressed sorrow at losing her from the community. She is a popular young lady, and one who was always willing to help. Indeed, if she knew of any one who needed help she was there.

The address was tied with green ribbon. Two young girls, Anna McMurray and Lyall Miller, dressed in white with green and white sashs, and bandeaus carried in a large basket, trimmed with white and green; which was piled with gifts, it did not contain all. Miss Crowe was surprised, but gracefully thanked the donors, and hoped all would come to see her and see the use she made of the gifts. There were several envelopes containing money. Other gifts were pillows, blankets, bath towels, brown betty tea-pot, pitchers of all sizes, cooking utensils for various uses and many other things, all useful and good. Someone started For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." Dr. Munro made a short speech. One thing he mentioned that if he and some others were only able to begin again with the wisdom they had gathered from experience they would be better able to meet things, but it might be hard for others. Auld Lang Syne" was sung. Lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Little, accompanied by Mrs. Northey, and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Miller, motored to Mariposa on Sunday to spend the day with friends.

Hiram Anderson, accompanied by two friends, Mr. McWilliams and Mr. McDonald, motored from Toronto on Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunford and Mr. Somers left at four o'clock on Monday morning for a motor trip to Niagara, where they will visit Mrs. Duckworth (nee Helen Dunford).

Miss Della Tucker is having her holidays, and will spend the first week at Keene.

Vivian Jackson has decorated the front part of Robert Matthew's shop and is moving there this week.

Cash and Co-operation

There was a time when buying and selling was a war of wits between merchant and customer. Prices and values were uncertain and disappointment in purchasing was a part of the fortune of war.

For this waste of effort, time and money, C. D. S. cash pricing—one price to all—substitutes co-operation. The cash customer co-operates with the C. D. S. by transacting his business on the most economical basis. The C. D. S. co-operates with the customer by offering him the lower prices resulting from his cash transaction.

Every visit to the C. D. S. will show you new ways in which cash pricing means co-operation between you and the store which serves you.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while swimming at Ocean Town, N.J. It is thought at first that he is a stroke victim, but investigation shows he has been stabbed to death under the water. Folsom's swimming companions were ROGER NEVILLE, a business partner; MRS. HELEN BARNABY and CARMELITA VALDON. Folsom, just before his death, had been standing next to NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

ANASTASIA FOLSOM, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, arrives and takes command. At the inquest it is learned that the death weapon was a pichaq, an Oriental knife, and it had been bought on the boardwalk.

It is also learned that one CROYDON SEARS, who was in Barron's party, is a fancier of curious knives. Anastasia engages TITUS RIGGS, an architect, to work on the case. DAN PELTON, the dead man's nephew, arrives and is intrigued by the curious French dolls in Folsom's room.

He believes his uncle had been blackmailing several people and he and Riggs discover suspicious documents in Folsom's effects. Anastasia tells Riggs to go ahead; she is not afraid of her brother's name being smirched by a full investigation.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Stop at nothing," commanded Anastasia. Tell any one who cares to know the fullest details of Garrett Folsom's life. Show him up entirely, and you will be pleased with the result. I haven't lived with that man half a century for nothing. He was as incapable of conscious wrongdoing as I am myself. And I assure you I would do an injustice to no one."

I believe you implicitly, Miss Folsom, but I want to warn you once more, that you may be mistaken. That, blinded by love for your brother, you have misread some signs or indications, and that, in his love for you, he may have kept from you some details of his life that must have distressed you."

You make him out worse with every word you utter. If you are working for me, Mr. Riggs, you are working at my orders, and those are for you to go on the lines I lay down for you and no others. Will you do this?"

I will," said Tite Riggs, gravely, now that I have carefully warned you of the calamities you invite."

They are my calamities. I will meet them should they come. First, then, Mr. Riggs, you will investigate such cases as you can get further details about from that notebook—"

There are many definite dates and names of places, Miss Folsom. Shall I go right through the list?"

By all means."

Hold on, auntie," said Dan Pelton, you may get yourself involved in libel suits and all sorts of horrible things."

For heaven's sake, Dan, remember that I ordered you to keep out of this. You have no regard for your uncle's good name, no care for his unjust arraignment, but at least you may keep quiet and let me go my own way."

As if I could stop you!"

And here's another thing," the lady went on. As I came in you two mentioned the name of Croydon Sears. Is he in your precious book?"

The initials C. R. S. occur a few times," Riggs told her.

Very well. That's Mr. Sears. And, of course, he is the murderer. Don't you remember he was at the auction where that knife was sold?"

But he didn't buy it!"

We don't know that he didn't. He's the man, I tell you."

Then you must admit that Folsom had such a stranglehold on him that Sears went to the length of murder to be free from him!" exclaimed Pelton.

Shut up!" said his aunt. Oh, Dan, do go away! Go and bathe or something; I can't stand another minute of you!"

Dan went.

I will, Miss Folsom, but I must work in my own way. You've laid down laws which I will obey. Now I must make stipulations which you must regard. You are not to take any active or open part in this investigation. Are the regular detectives, as you call them, making headway?"

I doubt if they're doing anything. The police are on what they call a still hunt, but I think it will be kept so still we never shall hear of it at all."

Very likely. I heard Mr. Neville say he thought the affair would blow over as an unsolved mystery."

Oh, he did, did he? Well, it will do nothing of the sort! It may be an unsolved mystery, for we may not succeed, but it won't blow over! It will take more than Roger Neville to blow over any enterprise on which I am embarked! Go to it, Mr. Riggs. Do your darndest!"

Tite Riggs was always amused at the sudden lapses from dignified diction to less formal phrases, and walked smilingly away.

For the first time she regarded them with interest, and, as she gazed at them, her interest increased.

My heavens and earth!" she ejaculated. That one is the very image of Jeanie Frew! Poor little Jeanie. Garry wasn't very good to her. But bless his heart, he couldn't be tangled up with a stenographer! I wonder if he bought that doll because it looks so like Jeanie!"

And that one," she went on, communing with herself, is Kitty Leigh to the life! I believe the boy did buy these puppets when they looked like the girls he admired. For that blond one is enough like May Farmer to be made for her. Yes, and this is like Loo Bailey—though not so much so. Well Garry, dear, you were always a boy! How well I remember you as a baby. Fond of dolls even then."

Her loving eyes saw only an innocent exhibition of romance—but it was romance that had represented to Folsom's mind the number and quality of his conquests.

He had had many and various sorts of "romances" and when he could find a doll which looked like one of his favorites, past or present, he bought it. And this occurred more often than one might think likely, and there were at least a dozen dolls in his collection, though not all here present.

And then Miss Folsom had another thought. A gruesome one. Was it possible her brother had had any—unpleasantness or upset with any of the girls he had known, and that such a one had killed him?

But it seemed to her too preposterous—she knew so little of that sort of thing. Garrett had been her idol and the sole human interest in her life.

The only love she had ever given had been to him; the only jealousy she had suffered had been of him.

So she knew naught of any other varieties or degrees of love or jealousy, and the thought of a girl murderer was vague indeed.

She ranged the dolls on a sofa, in a straight, even line, all sitting in prim, decorous positions, which spectacle sent Myrtle, the chambermaid, off in peals of laughter the next time she entered the room.

Not all were recognized by Miss Folsom, but at least six she was sure of, two pretty confident, and the others reminded her of no one she knew.

Tite Riggs went from the presence of his employer, as he amusedly called Miss Folsom, and sought the society of Robin Sears.

He found him idle, and proposed a stroll on the boardwalk, which Robin accepted gleefully.

Where's the inamorata?" asked Riggs.

Dunno," Robin said. She's getting sort of elusive."

Had a mad?"

No, nothing of the sort. But Madeline is weedy. They want to go home, at least Maddy does, and what she wants Angel generally wants, too."

And Barron?"

He's all for staying down. Says the weather is perfect and the kiddy is doing fine, and there's no place where there are more diversions and wetter water and rollier chairs and no mosquitoes, and he just wants to stay. So, whatever Madeline wanted or however much she craved it, she'd give in to old Ned."

So they're staying on?"

For another week or two. My old man loves it, too. Dad is in his element down here. He loves the water, and even more, he loves to potter about the shops."

Odd taste, that."

Oh, I don't mean the catchpennies. He never bothers with cheap stuff. But you know the boardwalk has displays in some instances that are among the best ever."

Yes, I know it. Robin, have you dropped out of our detective collaboration?"

Are you still at that?" He looked his surprise. Why I thought it was past history. The inquest—"

Oh, the inquest isn't the be-all and end-all of a murder case."

What can I do to help?"

Nothing, if you ask in that lackadaisical way."

Now there's a word I've always enjoyed. Don't know how to spell it; don't know how to pronounce it, but I just adore that word."

Stalling!" Riggs thought to himself, amazed. Whatever ailed the chap?

COAL OIL ON FIRE KILLS TWO GIRLS

Two Others Badly Burned When Volatile Fluid Explodes.

STRATFORD, Ont., June 7 (Canadian Press). — Velma Finley, aged 17, and Laura Finley, aged 15, are dead and a married sister, Mrs. Percy Jervis, and her four-months-old daughter, are in a serious condition in Wingham Hospital, the baby perhaps fatally burned, as a result of an explosion last night at the home of Alonzo Finley, Turnbury Township, near Wingham.

The family were gathered for the funeral of Mrs. Finley's father to-day and the girls were preparing supper when one of them poured kerosene from a can on to the fire in the kitchen stove. The four were rushed to Wingham Hospital, where Velma and Laura succumbed.

L.O.B.A. JUVENILES VISIT KEENE LODGE

Initiate 18 Young People Into Order in That Village.

About 40 members of the Juvenile Lodge, L.O.B.A., of District 3, Peterborough, motored to Keene last evening and initiated eighteen young people as members of the order in L.O.B.A. Hall, Keene. The work of the lodge was beautifully exemplified by the degree team. Miss Genevieve Foster is Worthy Mistress.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, supper was served, with a fine program of toasts and music.

T. B. Horkins Takes On Difficult Case in Division Court.

CHINESE INVOLVED.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8.—Division court here on Wednesday before Judge Huycke of Peterborough was not the usual uninteresting procedure. Nor did the gray hairs of the law frown down from the lofty heights of years of experience on a young man who has chosen the legal profession as his vocation. Nor did the young lawyer enter the court room with a well-prepared case which he felt certain he would win. He displayed none of the self-assurance sometimes found in such cases, but neither did he appear daunted by the years of experience of the opposing counsel. As soon as he had asked one question of a witness, he had another at hand.

Occasionally the judge interrupted, but not in a stern manner, as might have been the case had the young man been an experienced lawyer. Instead, Judge Huycke remarked that he must "train you young fellows in the way you should go." T. B. Horkins, a Campbellford boy who is registered at Osgoode Hall, was the young man referred to. When he attempted to show that there was more going on at 6 Elizabeth street, Toronto, than a Chinese grocery business, D. J. Lynch objected, and his objection was sustained by the judge, who later told Horkins to proceed but not to wander too far afield.

Several of Mr. Horkins' school class mates were present in court and displayed keen interest in their legal friend to be. They expressed the opinion that he sounded like a regular lawyer. In conversation after the case was laid over, it developed that Mr. Horkins had not known anything about it till just after lunch when the Chinaman had come hurrying to him to ask him to plead for him. Mr. Horkins elected to do his best and with what little data he could gather on the case in the brief interval of time went into court to match his wit against one of Campbellford's oldest and most experienced lawyers. He said he would have things in better shape for the next hearing. In consideration of the fact that Mr. Horkins has an examination to write toward the end of the month, the hearing was set for the second last day at which time the examination will have been written.

T. B. Horkins was born in Campbellford and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Horkins, Bridge street. He is a brother of William Horkins, a lawyer in Toronto and Harold Horkins, a doctor in the same city. For some time T. B., as he is generally known, has been famous in sporting circles here. Last year his name was mentioned wherever fast hockey was the subject under discussion. In both soft and hard ball he has established a reputation as a star player. If these accomplishments may be taken as an indication of success in his chosen profession, T. B. is due to become a prominent lawyer, of which Campbellford has produced several.

VIMY RIDGE LODGE ELEVEN YEARS OLD

Birthday Banquet Held in Victoria Hall to Mark. Anniversary.

The members of Vimy Ridge L.O.B.A. celebrated their eleventh anniversary on Tuesday evening in the Orange Hall. About three hundred people were present including visitors from Oshawa, Lindsay, Havelock, Keene and Stirling besides those taking part in the program.

The guests were received by Mrs. F. Millard, Worthy Mistress of Vimy Ridge, and conducted to their seats by Mrs. E. Delong.

The work of the first degree was beautifully exemplified by a degree team composed of past worthy mistresses of Oshawa lodges. They looked charming, each dressed in a white gown adorned with a single orange chryanthemum and all did their work exceedingly well. Several candidates were initiated into the order.

At the conclusion of the lodge meeting a very sumptuous banquet was served in the large hall which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with large flags, pennants, palms, ferns and spring flowers.

The guests were seated at four long tables, which ran the entire length of the hall. These looked very attractive being decorated with orange and red fluted runners and red candles in brass candle holders and vases of orange tulips. The head table was centered by a fine three storey birthday cake surmounted by eleven small orange candles. At this table were seated the Grand Lodge Officers, the Worthy Mistresses of all visiting lodges, Rev. and Mrs. J. Douglas Paterson, Rev. J. L. and Mrs. Harton, Ensign and Mrs. Green, W. H. Bradburn, M.P., Mr. and Mrs. Neil Porter and George Porter who acted as toastmaster.

A toast to the King was proposed by Mrs. F. Millard, Worthy Mistress of Vimy Ridge, and responded by singing "God Save the King." A toast to the Grand Lodge, proposed by Mrs. C. Wright, grand treasurer, and responded to by Mr. Carrol of Stirling, Grand Lecturer. A toast to the Province of Ontario was proposed by Rev. J. D. Paterson and responded to by W. H. Bradburn, M.P., who made a very patriotic speech, eulogizing its wonderful resources and referring particularly to the opportunities available in New Ontario and what that will mean to the country when more fully developed.

A toast to Vimy Ridge Lodge was proposed by Fred Brown, Past County Master and responded to by Mr. Spence.

A toast to the visitors was proposed by Mrs. L. Campbell and responded by by Ensign Green of the Salvation Army, Miss Flossie Brown, Worthy Mistress of Eastern Star L.O.B.A. and Mrs. H. Tate, Worthy Mistress of "Star of Bethlehem."

A toast to "Our City" was proposed by Rev. J. L. Harton and was responded to by Neil Porter.

Community singing was a feature of the program with Nell Porter presiding at the piano and leading the singing.

Mrs. Brown was convenor of the refreshment committee and deserves great credit for the way the affair was handled. Those assisting in serving were Misses Bradley, Jean Murray, Ruth Murray, Tranter, Meeks, Mesdames Campbell, D. Manley, G. Foster, F. Manley.

DRESS
By MARY MARSHALL

Beach pajamas may follow the new fad for yachting and middy fashions. This shows a combination of black satin trousers with a white linen jacket, with anchor emblem on the sleeve and regulation sailor collar.

The joy of adventure seems to be taken out of the lives of some women—all because of the ever-recurring question, "What shall I wear?" They seem to live in a constant dread of some time appearing wrongly dressed. If they had an invitation to dine at the White House or when in England to have tea with the Queen I believe they would hold back, not quite enjoying the prospect, because they didn't know what to wear. They seem to feel that in an enormous book somewhere is written precisely the right costume with full description of all accessories to be worn on every conceivable occasion.

A young bride wrote to me the other day describing all the gowns of her more than adequate trousseau. She was going to live with her husband in a large city and she wanted to know precisely which gown and which wrap and which hat to wear for every possible occasion that might turn up.

A woman we know was going across the continent by rail the other day and she also was very fearful lest she might not wear the right clothes. Someone told her that she should get a pair of black silk sleeping pajamas with a black dressing gown to wear over it—very good advice, it seems to me. But she shopped all day for several days and couldn't find what she wanted. Then at last she came home with a charming little pajama set consisting of flaring black trousers and a short middy jacket of white linen. She had found them at a very smart shop, and as the little jacket was long sleeved and quite substantial she didn't think she would need the dressing gown to go over it.

As anyone but that particular woman might have guessed the pajamas in question were not the sleeping or negligee sort. They were beach pajamas of middy design. Someone did insist that this young woman would need a silk dressing gown beside, but no one had the courage to tell her that those flaring black trousers and the rather stiff linen jacket were not intended for hours spent in a sleeping berth.

LYRICS OF LIFE

THRILLS

Looking for a thrill today?
Well, they're never far away.
In whatever place we found us,
We shall see them all around us.
On the way to work—who knows?—
One perhaps may pass a rose,
In the dust its beauty keeping;
That will set the pulses leaping.

At a desk or at a bench,
With a needle, pen or wrench,
Where the voice of commerce thunders
We shall help to work man's wonders,
Thrilling with the thought that we
Send these goods across the sea,
Or perhaps, for nearer neighbors,
Make life sweeter with our labors.

Then the greatest thrill of all
Comes when evening shadows fall.
Father, husband, sister, brother,
Coming home to one another,
To the greatest thrill in life,
Youth to mother, age to wife.
Looking for a thought to thrill you?
Well, you won't need look far, will you?

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE LAUGH

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.
(Author, The Springs of Human Action)

Why do you laugh when you are tickled? Why do some situations make one person laugh and another cry? Why are some jokes too painful to be funny? Why should any joke provoke laughter? What is a sense of humor?

According to one view we laugh because we feel superior. When we tease or poke fun at another person we place him in an embarrassing and hence in an inferior position and at the same time elevate ourselves to a higher level of security and superiority. We can afford to laugh because we have everything to gain and nothing to lose. The one who is the butt end of a joke does not usually laugh because the situation is too painful for him. He is made self conscious and confused. He experiences a sense of loss, the loss of dignity and poise. And the greater the dignity at stake the more laughable becomes the situation.

Another explanation of why we laugh is that the sudden release of tension brings a sense of elation and safety which relaxes the erstwhile tense muscles into a smile and we laugh to work off the pent-up emotions caused by the previous moments of strain. Suspension leading to an anti-climax is funny because the ending is trivial. These moments follow each other in dramtic succession. First there is a tense moment of expectation and possibly fear. Then we suddenly realize that nothing serious is going to happen and we are tickled into laughter. We feel safe and can well afford to relax and enjoy ourselves.

We laugh from a sense of superiority and safety, we also laugh to work off emotional steam as the result of some tension.

YOUR HEALTH

A LESSON ON THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

Most of the absorption of this digested food material takes place in the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food all through the body, and each cell takes from the blood that food which it requires.

The small intestine is lined with little finger-like projections which contain blood vessels. They stand up into the digestive food fluid and absorb it. So abundant are these villi that they give the inner surface of the intestinal wall a velvet-like appearance. They absorb food much more rapidly than a smooth wall could do, since they have from four to eight times as much absorbing surface.

The caecum forming the bottom of the ascending large colon seems to be a pouch for the purpose of breaking down the cellulose, and the vermiform appendix which empties into it produces a kind of digestive fluid which assists in slowing down putrefaction. Its secretion is very similar to the secretion of the intestine.

The large colon has none of the finger-like villi of the small intestine. It has a number of glands which secrete mucus and throw into the colon some of the waste poisons of the body. This mucus acts as an intestinal lubricant. The fluid which has not been absorbed by the small intestine is mostly absorbed in the ascending and transverse colon. In the descending colon and in the rectum the feces becomes hard in the characteristic form.

The whole digestive tract is lined with circular muscles which contract and push the food forward. If this food material is retained longer than it should be, excess fermentation and putrefaction occur which form powerful poisons. These poisons are absorbed by the blood and are known as toxins. From this we get the word "autointoxication" which means "self-poisoning."

If any of the digestive fluids are too weak to properly digest the food that they were intended to work upon, there will occur a fermentation and decaying of the undigested food particles. This is the principal reason why it is important to properly balance and combine your diet so that there will not be too much conflict in the digestive processes.

The whole digestive tract is about thirty-two feet long, and that it can be contained in so small a cavity is a wonderful illustration of the adaptive powers of nature. Doctors are coming to realize that most of the diseases of the body originate from poisons that are produced by putrefaction in this tract that we have just studied. I hope that you will resolve to study so much about dietetics that you will avoid those diseases which are caused in this manner.

Questions and Answers.

Question: G.K. asks: "Will you please tell me how to rid my eyeballs of a yellow color? Have tried a fruit fast for three days and felt very bilious and depressed. I am bothered also with a gaseous stomach and am very much underweight."

Answer: A three-day fast is just enough to stir you up and make you feel more bilious and depressed. Keep up a fruit fast for at least ten days if you want to get rid of the jaundice which is causing your eyeballs to become yellow. The tendency to a gaseous stomach will disappear after such a fast if you will afterwards use the proper foods in correct combinations.

Question: I. M. writes: "I have been on an orange juice fast for two weeks for anemia. What diet should I follow?"

Answer: Follow the general plan of the weekly menus which I prepare for you every Saturday. No special food is required—just the same kinds of wholesome food which everyone should use. The fasting will get rid of the poisons which are the cause of the anemia, and your blood will then build up on a sensible, well balanced diet.

Question: Mrs. A. J. B. writes: "I have to clear my throat real often, although I do not bring up any phlegm. It doesn't seem to be a habit. Could you tell me what causes this?"

Answer: Such symptoms are often forerunners of tuberculosis or bronchitis. Any irritation in the lungs may create the desire to cough, even when there is nothing to cough up. If the cause of the irritation is not removed, there may finally develop enough degeneration so that phlegm and pus will gather in quantities large enough to be coughed up. Every tickling cough without phlegm should be carefully considered and the cause removed.

The London Hunt and Country Club is widely known for the excellence of its afternoon teas. For several years this progressive club has used no other tea but Red Rose Orange Pekoe—a blend that leads all others in flavor and full-bodied richness. Put up only in bright, clean aluminum packages. 182W

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain. How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble; indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

WINDOW LENGTH

If your windows are small, length can be gained by having your overdrapes extend clear to the floor. Plain color adds to length also.

GUAVA DESSERT

Canned guavas, procurable anywhere on the market, make a fascinating dessert served with heavy cream, or plain, with cheese crackers.

SLIP COVERS

Slip covers, with narrow, pleated flounces, add to a room a dressy touch that makes for coziness. They also hide bad chair legs.

The Secret of Sunlight's Magic Lather

THE secret is told in two words—told on every mellow bar of Sunlight Soap.

Millions of women know it.

Mothers tell daughters .. and daughters tell friends.

The words are "GUARANTEED PURE." Here then, is the secret of Sunlight's Magic Lather.

The $5,000 Sunlight Guarantee means Absolute Purity. Kindness to your Hands. Longer Life for your Clothes

Sunlight, being all pure soap, dissolves quickly. No hard rubbing to work up the lather, but plenty of bubbly, lasting suds at once.

And this guaranteed purity is why Sunlight never harms fabrics or hands, why it is the best value your money can buy. And why millions of women are never without it.

In your own home you will enjoy discovering the secret of Sunlight's Magic Lather for yourself.

Noranda's Activity And Rise Continue

TORONTO, June 8. — (Canadian Press.)—The spectacular movement in Noranda showed no signs of abating in trading on the standard stock exchange this morning, when on transactions of more than 60,000 shares the Quebec issue reached a new peak for all time at 36.85, or about $20 share above the price that the slump carried it to at the beginning of the year. Some selling occurred around noon which sent the price back to 35.65, where it showed a gain of $2.04 over last night's closing quotation.

Strength in Noranda was imparted to other leading issues in the list. Teck Hughes forging up to 11.50 and settling at noon to 11.45 for an advance of 50 cents, while Lake Shore was up 35 at 23.35. Sudbury Basin was another leader, selling 30 cents higher at 10.35. Hollinger gained a similar amount at 14.70, with Pend Oreille up 15 at 15.50. Dome Mines led the declining stocks, sagging 50 cents in fairly active trading to 8.50. Wright Hargreaves and McIntyre dropped 10 cents each to 4.35 and 26.65 respectively.

Increase In Brokers' Loans Causes Losses in New York

NEW YORK, June 8 (Canadian Press).—Speculative uneasiness over monetary conditions, which was intensified by the increase of nearly $100,000,000 in brokers' loans last week, was reflected in a sharp downward readjustment of prices in today's stock market. Extreme losses in active issues ranged from two to nearly ten points, although some recoveries took place during the afternoon.

In view of the sharp decrease in prices last week, the huge expansion of loans came as a surprise and was generally attributed to heavy financing of new securities offerings. Call money was in such plentiful supply that the renewal rate was fixed at 5½ per cent. as against six yesterday and 6½ the day before.

There was little in the day's trade news to influence the price movement. Strong buying support for Radio, which rallied from a low of 191½ to 195¼, stimulated the afternoon recovery.

Selling pressure was most effective against the high-priced specialties. Case Threshing broke 9½ points, Wright Aeronautical eight, Archer Daniel Midland 7¼, and International Harvester seven, and declines of four points or more were recorded by more than a score of issues, including A. M. Byers, Delaware and Hudson, Atlantic Refining, Frank G. Shattuck, Packard Motors, Adams Express, and Midland Steel Products Preferred.

Rains In Northwest Offset Liverpool Rise

CHICAGO, June 8 (Canadian Press). — Further rains northwest more than offset the influence of higher cables to-day, and caused wheat prices early to average lower. With a government crop report, however, due after the close, some evening-up was in progress and selling was restricted. Opening at ⅝ cent decline to ¼ cent advance, wheat later underwent a sag all around. Corn, oats, and provisions were likewise easier, with corn starting unchanged to ⅝ cent off, and subsequently showing decided general downturns.

Nickel Leads Trading On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, June 8. Canadion Press. International Nickel led both in activity and weakness on the Toronto stock exchange this morning, when a general downward tendency was shown in moderately active trading. Nickel, on a turnover of more than 5000 shares, softened 2 full points at 94¾. Brazilian weakened a point at 55. Most losses were small, Kelvinator losing 1¾ at 75. Consumers gas lost 3 at 205, Massey-Harris softening fractionally at 39 -38, and Canada Dry in the unlisted section easing 1½ at 77½.

Northern Bakeries was another easy spot on the curb, selling one lower at 41½. The oils generally were steady, with British American at 38. Half point recessions occurred in Imperial at 66 and International Petroleum at 39½.

RUM RUNNERS SCUTTLE BOAT

But Coastguardsmen Dive and Bring Up Case of "Evidence."

MEN RESCUED.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., June 8 (Canadian Press).—Two alleged rum runners were fished from the waters of Lake Ontario to-day after they had scuttled their cabin cruiser, while a coastguardsman dove into the lake, swam to the sinking vessel and salvaged a case of alleged gin for evidence.

U. S. coastguard cutter, No. 211 was ten miles off Charlotte Light before daylight, when its crew sighted a boat running without lights. The craft sped away when ordered to halt, but after a race of a mile the cutter overhauled the slower boat. As the guardsmen prepared to board the craft it started to sink. Sheldon and Simpson ran on deck, donned life preservers and leaped into the water. While the guardsmen were pulling them aboard Machinist Dudley Currier swam to the sinking motor boat and supported a case of liquor until his companions could come to his aid. Sheldon and Simpson said their boat contained 150 cases of gin.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE ARE EASY MARKS

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.
(Author, The Springs of Human Action)

The credulous person believes everything he hears. He is too easily and too quickly persuaded on insufficient evidence. He is an easy mark to the schemes of others in many ways.

Extreme credulity is the sign of a weak mentality, inability to test a proposition in the light of related facts. None of us cares to be classed as gullible. And yet we are easily persuaded in some things.

We are forced to accept without proof many important items of our daily life. If we ate only the things we could test in a laboratory we would all starve to death. The same holds for our intellectual food. We accept our political candidates as we take over our religious ideas and the weather report—ready made. This sort of thing becomes a habit and we take over everything on no evidence at all or on the most flimsy pretext.

The extent of our credulity depends on our ignorance and the prestige of the source. The less we know about a thing the more gullible we are concerning it. The more confidence we have in the source of our information the easier we fall.

The unsuspecting type is more credulous, while the person who has a skeptical, not to say a cynical, mind doubts everything on general principles. Similarly, people who are thoroughly honest and truthful are more likely to assume the same motives on the part of others and hence fall an easy prey for the unscrupulous.

Flattery is a great aid to credulity. If a bit of propaganda fits in with our prejudices we swallow it whole. If some outlandish proposition is eased with a little soft soap we fall for it quite readily.

Our credulity is due to the habit of accepting a thousand proposals without the slightest vestige of proof. This establishes a permanent attitude of mind, the mind of the easy mark. The extent of our credulity depends on our ignorance, our temperament, our personal honesty, and in the last analysis, the degree of intelligence and ability to measure facts in terms of reality and experience.

ATLANTIC HOP STARTING SOON

Plane Friendship May Start Across Ocean This Afternoon

PACIFIC HOP NEARLY OVER.

TREPASSEY, Newfoundland, June 8 (Canadian Press).—Repairs to the monoplane Friendship were completed to-day and it was stated that the trans-Atlantic flight of Miss Amelia Earhart and her two companions, Pilot Stultz, Mechanic Gordon, would start this afternoon if the wind freshened and other conditions remained favorable.

This morning the lubricating tank of the plane was found to be badly in need of repairs. Had the plane hopped off yesterday before its condition was discovered, the oil would have been exhausted before it was half way across the ocean.

Cruiser Posted

HONOLULU, June 8 (Canadian Press).—The Radio Corporation of America picked up a message broadcast from Noumea, New Caledonia, to the monoplane Southern Cross last night advising the fliers that the Australian gunboat Anzac was proceeding to a point 400 miles off Brisbane to aid in guiding them to Brisbane.

The monoplane was bucking headwinds 700 miles off Brisbane, a message received here at 3.25 a.m. (5.55 a.m. Pacific Coast time) to-day stated.

It was 489 miles from Brisbane, said a radio message received from it at 9.15 a.m. (Pacific coast time) to-day.

Plan Flight to Japan

CHICAGO, June 8 (Canadian Press).—Eugene McDonald, Arctic explorer and president of the Zenith Radio Corporation, and U. J. Herrmann, sportsman and theatre owner, both of Chicago, to-day revealed plans for a trans-Pacific flight to Japan this Summer.

If authorized, the flight would be made in a Zenith Albatross. Charles F. Rocheville and Albin K. Peterson, the designers, would be the pilots and its was said both McDonald and Herrman might accompany them as passengers.

May Fly Tomorrow

CURTISS FIELD, N.Y., June 8 (Canadian Press).—The monoplane Columbia with Miss Mabel Boll as passenger will probably made a second attempt at dawn tomorrow to fly from here to Old Orchard, Maine, the first leg of a trans-Atlantic flight.

Capt. Arthur Argles, of Toronto, the co-pilot, said that no attempt would be made to-day.

JOHN R. BONE DIES SUDDENLY

Managing Editor of Toronto Star Dies After Attack of Indigestion.

IN 52ND YEAR.

Toronto, June 8.—John Rainsford Bone, managing editor of the Toronto Star for some twenty years, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his home, 82 Spadina Road. Death resulted apparently from a failure of the heart, following an attack of acute indigestion, with which he had been troubled for several years. He had been at his office in the morning, and his death came as a great shock to family and friends. He was in his 52nd year.

Feeling fatigued after a sleepless night caused by indigestion, Mr. Bone went home from the office yesterday and slept quietly for some hours. He had just awakened, soon after three o'clock, when he was seized with a heart attack, from which he died almost immediately. His wife and young son, John, a student at Upper Canada College, were with him at the end. The family physician was summoned, but although he arrived within five minutes of the call, Mr. Bone had passed away.

Although still a comparatively young man, Mr. Bone had been managing editor of The Star since 1907, and was recognized as one of the outstanding newspapermen of Canada, well known also in the United States and Great Britain, through membership in press associations and his contributions to leading papers in various countries. For many years he had taken active interest in the affairs of Toronto University, of which he was a graduate.

The late John R. Bone was born in East Wawanosh Township, Huron County, February 25, 1877, son of John Bone, a native of Scotland, who had been one of the pioneers of the county. His mother before her marriage was Miss Mary Oaks. The father had a hundred-acre farm near Belgrave, and John R. as a boy went to School Section No. 8, East Wawanosh. From the beginning he showed special aptitude for mathematics, in which he proved a brilliant pupil at high school in Clinton and later at London Collegiate, where he was awarded a gold medal in this subject. At the University of Toronto he was graduated B.A. in 1899, winning first-class honors in his chosen subject and several scholarships as well.

Joins Star in 1900.

After leaving college, he turned to newspaper work, joining he staff of the Star as a reporter in February, 1900. The same qualities which made him brilliant in mathematics brought him success in newspaper work, where his keen, logical, enquiring mind and splendid memory found ample scope. As the years went by, Mr. Bone's interests widened, embracing a close knowledge of a great variety of public affairs, but his mathematical mind was always a great asset, leading him to examine critically and effectively whatever news was before him for his judgment.

As a reporter on the Star, he filled in turn the usual cycle of assignments, including the Press Gallery of the Legislature and various important traveling commissions. Among the older members of the staff, it is recalled that he was one of the best all-round reporters ever on the staff of the newspaper. After six years, he was made assistant managing editor, and in 1907 became managing editor, a post he had held ever since.

Mr. Bone was secretary of the Canadian Press Association, 1905-7, and also some years later. He was elected first vice-president in 1911, and subsequently became president. As a member of the executive of Canadian Press, Limited, he contributed to the building up of this Dominion-wide news-gathering organization. During the British general elections of December, 1910, he acted as correspondent in London for a syndicate of Canadian newspapers. At the time of his death he was a director of the North American Newspaper Alliance.

He was a member of the University Club, of which he had been president, and was also an ex-president of University College Literary and Athletic Society. While at the University he was president of the lacross club, which he took on a tour of the United States in 1899. He had been prominently identified for years with the Alumni Associations of the University of Toronto and of University College, and was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

A past president of Toronto Canadian Club, Mr. Bone was also a member of the Masonic Order, belonging to Ionic Lodge. He attended the Church of the Redeemer.

In 1899 he married Miss Edith Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Evans, of Spadina Gardens. There are four daughters, two of whom, Miss Grace and Mrs. J. P. Walwyn, are in the city. Miss Ruth and Miss Eleanor, attending a wedding in Baltimore, were notified last evening of their father's death and left at once for home.

The funeral will be held privately from the family residence, 82 Spadina Road, on Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

MANY TRIBUTES.

TORONTO, Ont., June 8 (Canadian Press). — Messages from public men and prominent journalists in all quarters of the world are reaching the Toronto Daily Star to-day expressing sympathy for the sudden death of its managing editor, John R. Bone.

In telegraphing his sympathy to Mrs. Bone, Premier Mackenzie King said: "My colleagues join with me in deploring the loss of one who has been a trusted and helpful friend of the party. Liberals, especially in the Province of Ontario, share your loss."

Douglas Crawford, foreign editor of the London Daily Mail, cabled the sympathy of that newspaper for the loss of one of its oldest and ablest correspondents, and there are many tributes from American newspapermen.

The funeral, which is to be private, will be held to-morrow afternoon.

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town, and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

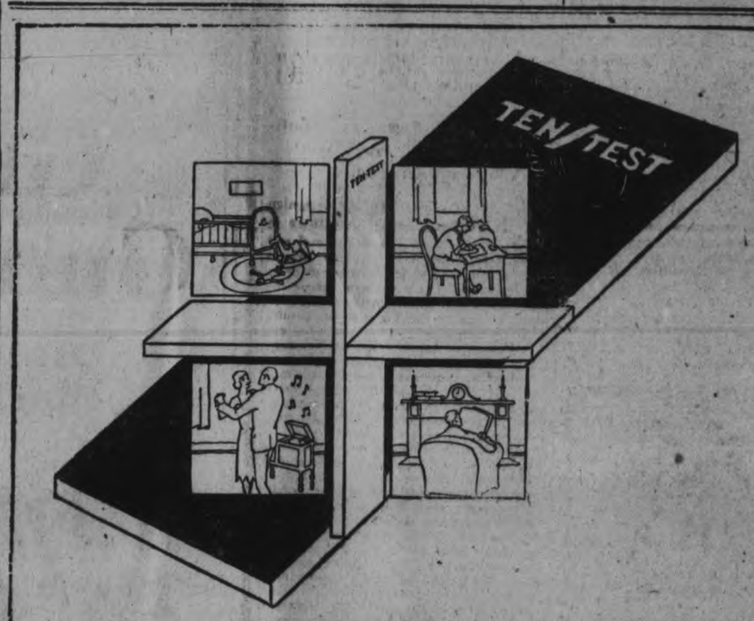
EXAMINER



. . . and soundproof

YES, sound proofing is one more use for TEN/TEST Insulating Building Board. On with the dance . . . baby sleeps . . . father reads undisturbed . . .

TEN/TEST sheathing is, first and foremost, a non-conductor of heat and cold. A home insulated with TEN/TEST retains uniform indoor warmth.

TEN/TEST is made by submitting wood pulp to 2000 lbs. pressure. Fibres are interlocked in a non-laminated, solid piece. Millions of tiny new air cells, surrounded by non-conducting material (the secret of insulation) give this lumber supreme insulating value.

TEN/TEST gives a four-fold construction saving. Uniformity in sizes saves material. Cost of erection, labour and costly time are saved by the speed with which TEN/TEST can be handled.

TEN/TEST pays a yearly dividend to the home owner of over 35% in fuel-bill saving. This explains the saying "A TEN/TEST Fuel-saving Home."

A TEN/TEST dealer does more than sell our product. He thoroughly understands its various uses and is qualified to explain these to the consumer. Consult him.

SOME BUSINESSES ARE RESTRICTED

No Business Allowed in Western Area—Butcher Shops Barred From One Block.

Peterborough has restricted areas for business, according to City Clerk S. R. Armstrong. The area in which a business of any kind is forbidden is in that territory west of Park street between Weller and King Streets. Outside this area business of any kind can be carried on, and there is nothing to prevent a person from having a workshop in his yard. There is one exception. No butcher shop is allowed between Hunter and Simcoe streets on George street.

Before an eating house or a billiard parlor is opened for business, any place within the city, the owner must apply to the city council for a license.

The by-laws also state—No permit shall be issued for the erection of a garage until the building inspector shall have examined and approved of the proposed location of the same.

Article 67 reads—No person shall establish or set up a dangerous business within the city of Peterborough any plant or business, which, from its nature or from the materials used therein, will be dangerous in causing or promoting fires until he has obtained from the city council a permit to do so, the plans of the same to be subject to the approval of the Building Inspector.

Under the law placed on the statute books in 1692 a man has been arrested in Brockton, Mass., for working on the Sabbath.

CONVENTION TO REPRESENT ALL THE WORLD

Baptist World Alliance Convention Will Be Held in June.

100 DELEGATES

Toronto, June 8 (By the Canadian Press).—The Baptist World Alliance convention which will be held here in the latter part of June will be a universal gathering, delegations from far-off countries—including Australia which will send about 100 delegates—being expected. In view of the diversity of languages among the delegates the services of interpreters will be necessary, and provision to thi end has been made by the local Baptist leaders. It is expected that 65 countries will answer the roll-call of nations and every continent will be represented. The convention will open on June 23 and close on June 29.

The president of the Baptist World Alliance is Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky.

The delegates will be formally welcomed to Toronto by Mayor McBride, who, with the chief of police, General Draper, has offered many courtesies to the Alliance people in connection with the forthcoming convention and will do everything possible to make the visit of the delegates something to remember with pleasure.

The convention will be held in the Coliseum, Exhibition Park, and will open at 2 p.m. on June 23 with a roll-call that will include representatives of almost all the countries in the world. Rev. Dr. Mullins, president of the Alliance, will preside at the convention, but for the opening ceremonies Albert Matthew, chairman of the Canadian committee, will occupy the chair. The opening prayer will be given by Rev. J. J. Wiens, of Khabarovsk, Siberia.

An open meeting will be held the first evening of the convention and it is expected that Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada; Rev. T. C. Bau, of China, and Rev. San Ba, of Rangoon, will be the speakers.

NEW CANADIAN CRAFT EXHIBIT

Folk Music and Folk Lore To Be Included in Winnipeg Program.

Winnipeg, June 8.—What the Old World is contributing to the new in handicrafts, folk music and folk lore, will be demonstrated in the new Canadian folk song and handicraft festival being held in the Royal Alexandra Hotel in Winnipeg from July 19 to 23, preparations for which are now under way.

Flemish craftsmen gave birth to England's great spinning and weaving industries, and many of her other outstanding trades to-day were introduced into the country by migrant workers. Canada in the present day is in a position to benefit of the musical talent and craftsmanship peculiar to many countries. That these national characteristics are being respected and appreciated by Canada in her assimilation of foreign peoples, is shown in the forthcoming festival, the handicrafts connected with which are being exhibited under the auspices of the Canadian Handicrafts Guild, and the folk songs and folk music under that of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Towards the concerts of folk music and dancing, Poland, Iceland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Czecho-Slovakia, Holland, Hungary, Roumania, Jugo-Slavia, Don Cossacs, Ukaraine, Schwarzwald (Black Forest), and Finland are all contributing. In the exhibits of handicrafts these, together with Sicily, Russia, and other countries are participating.

The new Canadian festival will be followed by the spectacular gathering of Stoney Indians and other tribes from the foothills of the Rockies and the prairies, being held at Banff from July 23 to 28. This is succeeded by the Highland festival, also at Banff, from August 31 to September 3, when the sport- and music-loving Scots of the West meet in competitions and entertainments. The final festival, for the particular benefit of jolly, jolly mariners, is known as the sea-music festival, scheduled to take place in the Hotel Vancouver, at Vancouver, B.C., from September 20 to 22.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN GETS GOOD START

Minister of Highways Confident Good Results Will Be Attained.

TORONTO, June 8—The campaign of the Highway Safety Committee in Ontario is now in full swing, and will continue throughout the summer. So far as is known in no other province or State is such a drive being made for accident prevention with respect to motor traffic. Judging from the results of the campaign last fall, and the experiences so far this year, Hon. George S. Henry, chairman of the committee, and his associates in the executive, are certain that Ontario will be a safer place in which to drive, and confidently hope that the accident ratio will be considerably lowered this year.

Every tourist driving a car entering Ontario this year is being given a folder welcoming him to the Province, but at the same time informing him of the efforts to make the highways safe. In this folder the Ontario Motor laws are summarized, and emphasis is placed upon the well-known motto, "care, courtesy and common sense." The folder gives the tourist practically all the motor law information he needs in a few short paragraphs.

In every garage and filling station posters will shortly be displayed, showing the committee's seven rules for safety. Another poster for the same places reminds motorists to make certain that brakes, steering gear and headlights are in perfect mechanical condition. Red and blue stickers of neat design, about care, courtesy and common sense will be used on car windshields. These efforts, together with the advertising now appearing in the newspapers, are calculated to create a traffic consciousness in the mind of every driver using the streets and highways in Ontario.

Hon. Geo. H. Ferguson as Minister of Education has sent a letter and suggestions for safety talks to every school principal. It is hoped by the Department of Education to enlist the aid of the teachers in this campaign. In this connection the Highway Safety Committee has had several hundred thousand blotters printed with the children's six rules for safety. Return cards are sent all School Principals, so that they ma obtain the blotters for free distribution among their pupils.

FIVE-FOOT TICKETS ARE NOT UNCOMMON

Route Chosen By Purchaser Determines Number of Coupons Needed.

To the average person, a railroad ticket of five feet in length seems to border on the ridiculous, but to local uptown ticket agents of both Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways, the issuance of such a ticket is only considered unusual for they occasionally have to do so.

One member of a local ticket agency had his attention drawn to the fact that with a railway ticket over five feet long, which will carry him on 26 railways to 44 cities in the nine provinces of Canada and 21 states of the Union, D. McDonald, retired Sydney, Australia, contractor left Vancouver for a tour of the continent. The agent, in explaining this, stated that there is a regular ticket which carries one to the Pacific coast, south to California and homeward, and which is composed of sixteen coupons. However, the places to be visited and the route chosen largely determines the length of the ticket and he had, at one time, studied a route which would necessitate formation of a ticket of twenty-three coupons, considerably over five feet, in length.

To illustrate the fact that the length of the ticket is determined by the route chosen, another agent explained that in going from Peterborough to Chicago, one might go from Peterborough to Toronto by C.P.R., from Toronto to Windsor by C.N.R. and from Windsor to Chicago by Michigan Central railway, which would require a ticket considerably longer than if one went direct by Canadian National to Chicago.

Just last month there was a ticket issued here of considerable length. It represented transportation for its holder to Winnipeg, thence to Prince Rupert, B.C., thence by boat to Vancouver and down the coast to Los Angeles, thence by direct rail via Salt Lake and Denver to Chicago and Peterborough.

OLD COLLEGE NOW HISTORY

Large Part of Trinity College to be Torn Down in Near Future.

REGARDED UNSAFE

Toronto, June 8 (By the Canadian Press).—Historic old Trinity College, Queen street west, Toronto, will soon be in the hands of wreckers, as the Parks Commissioner, C. F. Chambers, has asked for tenders for the demolition of the wings of the college and the students' residence. Only the central wing of the old college building will remain when the wreckers have finished their work, and playgrounds will take the place of the building torn down. The demolition of a large part of the original building has been decided upon as a measure of safety to children playing in Trinity Park, the former college grounds.

On St. Patrick's Day, 1851, the first sod was turned on Trinity College grounds by Bishop Strachan in the presence of a large number of citizens. The college was built "by the munificence of those who, both in Great Britain and in the Diocese of Toronto, gave with willing hands gifts of money and land for the accomplishment of the object aimed at by the founders." Bishop Strachan was the first president. A portion of the building was completed in 1852. This is the main building, which will be the only part left standing after the present wrecking is completed.

The materials used were white bricks made in Yorkville, then a village on Yonge street north of Bloor street, now part of the city of Toronto, and stone from Cleveland, which harmonizes in color with the brick. In 1884 the chapel on the east side was opened, and was spoken of by competent authorities as a gem of ecclesiastical architecture.

The west wing was added in 1891, and the eastern in 1894. These buildings are now to be torn down.

New Trinity College is situated near the University of Toronto, with which it is affiliated.

Taxicabs are now about twenty years old.

POLICE CHECK SPEEDERS.

Westmount Force Clocks the Speed of Cars With Good Results.

Montreal, June 8. — Westmount's campaign against automobile speeders has been fruitful of results. Two weeks ago notice was served on motorists generally by the city of Westmount through the medium of the newspapers and motorists' organizations, that Westmount police were being assigned to different thoroughfares for the purpose of "clocking" cars; that is, timing them in their passage from one point to another, thus showing up those travelling at excess speed. In this two weeks a total of 125 motorists have been summonsed. Not one was travelling at less than 30 miles an hour, while others were caught going at 45 miles an hour. The speeders were fined from $20 to $35 each.

Two Sisters In Final For Ontario Golf Championship

SMITH SISTERS PLAY IN FINAL

Misses Cecil and Maud Smith Defeat Opponents at Windsor.

PLAY STEADY GOLF

WINDSOR, Ont., June 8 (Canadian Press).—Two accomplished young Toronto ladies, who are accustomed to giving exhibitions of fancy skating and dancing, will offer another sister act for the entertainment of a gold gallery here to-day. It will be Miss Cecil Smith versus Miss Maud Smith in the 18-hole final for the Ontario ladies' championship.

The girls made the final a family affair by conquering two formidable rivals yesterday in Mrs. R. W. Gouinlock, also of the Toronto Golf Club, and Miss Catherine McKay of Essex County Club. The former fell a victim to the consistent play of Miss Maud Smith at the twentieth green; the latter bowed to Miss Cecil's equally steady golf on the sixteenth.

In addition to offering the extra hole feature, the Gouinlock-Smith semi-final brought out some of the best golf of the tournament. The winner had to shoot a 44 on the first nine including one birdie two, to make the turn one up. She came back in the same figures, but that wasn't good enough for Mrs. Gouinlock was home in 43, and squared the match with a four on the eighteenth. The nineteenth was shared in fives, but Mrs. Gouinlock ran into a flock of trouble on the second extra hole and finally conceded it, after playing six strokes while her opponent was sitting near the pin for a cinch fire. Throughout the game the loser had an edge in distance off the tee but was not as steady through the green or on the green.

Cecil Smith had just enough advantage in length and accuracy to take an early lead and hold it against the best efforts of the home club champion, Miss McKay. Losing the first and ninth holes, Miss Smith was still three up at the turn, where she had used up 45 strokes. Miss McKay rallied to take the thirteenth, where her opponent twice hit the trees after a hooked drive but was three down again by losing the fourteenth. The local player again cut the deficit to two by taking the fifteenth but foozled her drive on the next, failed to recover with a brassie and left Miss Smith a position where she had only to play safe for a five which gave her hole and match.

Eight clubs are represented in the five finals to-day, and honors are likely to be scattered far abroad throughout the province. With good weather promised, the course will be in perfect shape for the deciding fixtures.

Draws for to-day, the last day of the Ontario Ladies' Golf Union tournament, are as follows:

10.00—Mrs. McPhee, Beach Grove, and Mrs. Lefroy, Rosedale (final of championship consolation).

10.05—Mrs. W. S. Hunt, Sarnia, and Mrs. W. L. McGregor, Essex final first flight).

10.10—Miss M. Mills, Hamilton, and Mrs. Crerear, Hamilton (final second flight).

10.15—Mrs. Mulholland, Summit, and Mrs. Grant, York Downs (final third flight).

2.00—Miss Cecil Smith, T.G.C., and Miss Maud Smith, T.G.C., (final championship).

5.00—Presentation of prizes.

Driving, approaching and putting competitions, postponed from Wednesday and held yesterday afternoon, attracted large entries and large galleries. Honors were well distributed among visiting and local ladies. In each competition there were two classes, for silver division and for bronze division players. The winners were as follows:

Driving (Silver Class).—Best aggregate yardage for three drives: Mrs. Lefroy, Rosedale, 531 yards. Longest single drive, Mrs. Gouinlock, Toronto G.C., 225 yards.

Driving (Bronze Class).—Best aggregate, Mrs. McKeough, Chatham, 495 yards. Longest drive, Mrs. A. B. Holmes, Essex, 196 yards.

Approaching and putting (Silver division).—Mrs. J. M. Lyle, Toronto G.C., 9 strokes; 2nd, Miss McKay, Essex, 9 strokes (decided by play-off).

Approaching and putting (Bronze division).—Mrs. Crerear, Hamilton, 9 strokes; Miss Margaret Smith, Essex, 10 strokes.

All prizes were donated by the Essex Golf Club or by members of the club.

Phelan Soccer Final On Saturday Afternoon

Canadian General Meets the Quaker Oats On King Edward Park at 3 O'clock.

The first local soccer cup final takes place on Saturday afternoon between the Canadian General and the Quaker Oats on King Edward Park. Kick off at three o'clock prompt.

In the semi-finals the C.G.E. defeated the Thistle and the Quakers eliminated the DeLaval. All the players are out to give their best, so as to carry off the trophy for the season.

J. C. Russell has been appointed the official referee. As in previous years, the collections will be handed over to charity after all the expenses are paid. Both charitable institutions received a handsome sum last year through the Phelan Charity Cup, and it is the desire of the executive that the fans should respond heartily again.

The Petes expect to have Red Legon out with them as soon as he arrives home from Toronto.

Peterborough will play a double header Saturday, one game with Oshawa and the other with the Central League executive.

LEAGUE BOSSES WILL SEE GAME HERE TOMORROW

Central League Executive to Watch Oshawa-Petes Clash.

BIG CROWD LIKELY

First Appearance of Motorists This Season Creates Interest.

The Central Ontario League executive will be among the crowd that will see Oshawa and Peterborough battle it out at James Stevenson Park tomorrow afternoon. There is an executive meeting scheduled here for Saturday and the delegates will get a chance to watch the ball game.

They and the Peterborough customers should see a merry battle. With a drop out of first place as a penalty for a loss the Oshawa gang will fight it out until the last man is retired while the Petes on the other hand need a win and they will make it lively for the invaders.

The pitching selections look like Dainty or Matthews for Oshawa and Heckman for Peterborough but the final choice will not be known until the batteries are announced.

Both teams expect to be at full strength and there will be no alibis on that account.

The first appearance here of the Oshawa team this season is expected to draw a big crowd especially as good weather is expected. The conditions on the last two Saturdays were more suitable for football than baseball.

Tomorrow's game will be called at 3 o'clock sharp.

SPORT CHATTER

(By F. D. C.)

The controversy over the Kingston-Peterborough fiasco of last week will be settled here tomorrow, when a meeting of the Central Ontario League executive will be held to discuss this and other business. The failure of the Petes to go to Kingston was the sole topic of conversation in the Ponies' town this week until the announcement that Prescott had been selected as the Great Lakes terminal gave Kingstonians a real grievance over which to worry.

Herb. Wolfe will play centre field for Oshawa against the Petes here tomorrow and his work will be watched with interest by Peterborough fans.

Stan Burgoyne, the coach who will be here with the Oshawa crew tomorrow, is one of the best known hockey experts in Ontario. Burgoyne has coached some crack teams and developed some real stars. But baseball is another thing again.

Al. Heckman is likely to be given the task of pitching against Oshawa tomorrow. It will be his first home start of the season and local fans will welcome the chance to see him in action on the mound.

Deloro and Kingston hook up tonight in the Limestone City with Von Jack likely to do the heaving for the invaders. The Ponies claim that in Buck, Britton, Elliott, Cherry and Ada they have the greatest wrecking crew in the League and that their victory over Belleville has started on a winning streak. Tonight's game will show how much there is in that statement.

This column made a third baseman out of Hap Harrison last night. Well we all boot one sometimes.

Fugazzy To Stage Middleweight Battle Between Walker and Lomski On July 4

NEW YORK, June 8. — Humbert J. Fugazzy the promotional thorn in Tex Rickard's side, pushed a little deeper yesterday as the master of Madison Square Garden announced details of Gene Tunney's heavyweight title defence against Tom Heeney that everyone has known for some time.

Fugazzy received sanction of the New York State Athletic Commission to stage a 10 round bout between Mickey Walker, champion of the middleweights, and Leo Tomski, the smiling Aberdeen assassin, who nearly knocked Tommy Loughran from the light heavyweight throne, at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

Although Walker has been under suspension here for some time the commission approved the bout because of the toy bulldog's title defense against Ace Rudkins in Chicago June 21, and his agreement to make the middleweight limit of 160 pounds for Lomski.

Some of the steam was taken from Rickard's announcement that the heavyweight title affair will be staged July 26 at the Yankee stadium by general knowledge beforehand that it would not be held anywhere else. Staging of a Walker-Lomski duel July 4, only three weeks before Tunney's embroglio, irritated Rickard for it threatens to steal some of the spotlight and clutter up the ballyhoe for the major outdoor battle of the season.

RUTH MAKES TWENTIETH

Yanks Rally in Finals to Take 8-2 Decision From Indians.

ANOTHER FOR GEHRIG

NEW YORK, June 8.—(Canadian Press.)—The big guns of the Yankees, silent for seven innings before the pitching of Joe Shaute, broke loose with a roar in the eighth and the ninth at Cleveland yesterday to boom out an 8 to 2 victory over the Indians. Babe Ruth's twentieth home run and Lou Gehrig's twelfth capped the ninth inning rally, which made George Pipgras' tenth victory more certain.

The Yankees had collected only five singles when they came to bat in the eighth, but the heavy firing set in then. Four runs were scored on Ward's fumble, Durocher's double, Ruth's intentional pass, Gehrig's infield out, Paschal's sacrifice fly and Tony Lazzeri's fourth home run.

Single's by Pipgras and Durocher set the stage for Ruth's homer, which sailed high above the right field screen and settled between two houses across the street from the park. Gehrig followed immediately with his drive over the right centre field fence.

Owen Carroll, former Holy Cross right-hander, held the Boston Red Sox to six hits yesterday and Detroit took the first game of the home series 5 to 2. After the first inning, when each side scored two runs, the game resolved into a pitching battle between Carroll and Jack Russell until the eighth when Russell was relieved by a pinch hitter and Detroit scored its last two runs.

Manager Bucky Harris returned to the Washingtotn line-up at Chicago yesterday and helped hoist his team out of the American League cellar as they took the opener from the White Sox, 7 to 5. Chicago fell into last place.

Kenna, former catcher of Minneapolis of the of the American Association, caught his first full game for the Senators, made two hits, one a double, drove in one run and played faultlessly.

Alvin Crowder gave up but four scattered hits while his team mates collected eleven and the Browns defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, four to one at St. Louis yesterday.

All of the Browns' runs came in the third when Grove was nicked for five straight hits, one a homer by Brannon. A base on balls and a triple by Hauser gave the invaders their single score. The three times Ty Cobb faced Crowder yesterday he fanned.

National Club Owners Turn Down Proposal to Open Season on May 1st.

NEW YORK, June 8.—(Canadian Press.)—Despite chill and rainy weather this spring which has caused sickness among big league ball players unparalleled in the history of the game and close to a record number of postponements, National League club owners in session here yesterday turned down a minority proposal that the next season open as late as May 1, in the hope of more favorable conditions.

Final agreeing that "it is just a gamble anyway," the magnates decided to make the opening date "about" April 16, which is some five days later than this season's opening and so recommended to the schedule committee, unless the American League subsequently expresses a preference decidedly different it is practically certain that the openers of 1920 will be played April 16.

In spite of the generally bad weather, President John Heydler declared the attendance has been remarkably good.

DE LAVAL WON LEAGUE POINTS FROM QUAKERS

Surprise Goal By Ward Upset the Quakers in Early Stages.

DE LAVAL 2, QUAKERS 1.

Quakers Dominated the Play, While Winners Gained Decision On a Penalty.

De Laval soccer team won a brace of league points from the Quaker Oats last evening at King Edward Park before a good crowd of spectators by the score of two goals to one. A penalty kick gave the De Laval the decision. It was a great battle from start to finish Cross and Downer of DeLaval were the stars of the game while the latter gave an outstanding display when hard pressed.

Ward Opened Scoring.

The De Laval won the toss and decided to kick with the wind and sun at their backs. James kicked off and Logan worked inside to give his team a chance to score when Fowler let the ball slip through his hands. Dyer cleared up field to cause the Quakers a lot of anxiety when the goal was peppered from close range. The Quakers raided the other end until Cross relieved, then Mitchell carried the sphere into his forwards, Ward accepted the opening quickly to evade the two full-backs and touch the ball into the net.

Repeated raids continued upon the respective goals without anything dangerous resulting therefrom until Fowler, the De Laval custodian, run out of his goal to assist his full-backs when they misjudged the play, but he failed to be back in goal again to stop James from equalizing.

Tactics Very Interesting.

Mid-field tactics continued to be the order of play, with very smart combination manoeuvres being indulged in by the forwards who found the defense replying with legitimate tactics. There was no choice in which was giving the best display but the break went in favour of the De Laval when H. Curtis conceded a spot kick.

Penalty Awarded.

Two minutes from the interval Ward put his team ahead again from the penalty kick. The Quaker goalkteper had no chance to stop the fast rising ball that landed into the rigging in below the cross-bar. De Laval 2, Quakers 1.

HALF TIME.

The players changed ends and resumed the game with unusual vigour. Twice in succession the Quakers losing two nice openings through offsides in fact, it was over-eagerness on the part of the forwards. A few minutes later, Strudely missed an open goal from the Quakers extreme left winger. They continued to press without any result because the shooting for goal was far too wide of the mark.

Downer's Great Defence.

No player deserves credit more than Downer at left full-back for the De Laval, throughout the entire play, he tackled fearlessly, beat his opponents cleverly, but he received very unfair taps on the heels when not in the possession of the ball. At this point the Quakers were unlucky in not scoring because they held the upper hand in the De Laval territory while the latter full backs never faltered.

F. Dyer Hit the Upright.

A break-away by Hanson terminated in F. Dyer breaking through the defence, he breasted the ball forward to his left foot that found the upright of the Quaker's gaol, then a De Laval player was judged offside.

A Great Finish.

As the tussle progressed the Quakers initiated various movements to gain the equalizer. Repeated offside decisions against the losers deprived them of many openings, in fact it was pleasing to witness the two full backs spoil the opposing inside play and still take care of the wing men, while the centre half kept in touch with the attacking centre forward in well planned raids. No matter what the Quakers tried to accomplish, the winners upset their intentions accurately to hold their two gaol lead—De Laval 2, Quaker Oats 1

KIWANIS WIN FROM MOOSE

Combine Heavy Hitting and Base Stealing to Take 27-7 Decision.

JUVENILE LEAGUE

The Kiwanis Juveniles swamped the Moose aggregation 27 to 7 at Riverside Park last night. Bill Carey's crew proved to be heavy hitters and combined this with their base stealing to score more than half of their runs in the first two innings. Collins pitched the first innings for the Moose and was replaced by Kay in the second. With the bases loaded in the first frame Braund was hit by Collins and a run was forced in. Another was scored by the same play when he walked a batter. The Moose didn't seem to hit Braund's pitching for the first few innings, but started a little rally in the fifth, which netted them two runs. Kay, in the box for the losers, showed plenty of speed but was wild at times.

No homer unsw ere registered although Cuthbertson secured a triple while Sproates, Whately, McCullough, Dallin and Dunkerly each got a double. Adamson secured the only double for the Moose. Jones replaced Braund on the mound in the sixth and the Moose went out in order. Fitzgerald went in the box for the Moose in the last innings and with Marocco behind the bat. He held the Kiwanis scoreless by having three strikeout to his credit out of four men who went to the plate.

BRITISH MAGAZINES ON LIBRARY TABLES

Canadian Publications Also There in Great Numbers—Some From United States.

The flood of American papers into Canada is a question that is taking place in discussions everywhere. The way they are displayed in magazine stalls, in railway stations and bookstores throughout Canada, causes comment but it is interesting to note the number of Canadian and English magazines there are in the Public Library. The number of magazines devoted to literature and art is increasing, and they are of the most interesting type.

The Canadian magazines cover a wide range of interesting subjects, from art to fiction. The British ones cover the same wide range. The American magazines in our Public Library are entirely devoted to art, science, literature, current events, and high-class fiction. They are not the class of American Magazine that has caused such an outcry, nor are they magazines that one could afford to ignore, inasmuch as geographically, and in trade, Canadians have many interests in company with their American neighbors. Especially is this true now, with so many tourists coming here to visit.

F. M. Dela Fosse, the Librarian, explained the situation in the Public Library to The Examiner. Canada has not enough magazines to fulfill the needs of a modern library catering to the various tastes and desires of the reading public. There is a small list, not covering all the subjects of interest to all readers. The magazines in the library are not at all sensational and cover as wide a range of subjects and different places of interest as possible.

The Library Board has catered to the intelligent portion of the community and has stressed higher reading, recognizing Peterborough, with its schools and normal schools as a centre of education, with the Library being greatly used by the students. It is especially well equipped for reference work, having very excellent sections in literary history and religious subjects. Peterborough Public Library has The New Oxford Dictionary, only a few of which are in Canada. This enormous dictionary comprising many volumes took seventy years in the making.

A few of the outstanding magazines in literary interests are—Atlantic Monthly, Bookman, Current History, and Literary Digest. Those on sport—The Canadian Golfer, which is one of Mr. Dela Fosse's contributions to the Library, and Forest and Outdoors. There are few real worthy magazines on sport in this continent as the newspaper gives all that is of current interest.

The magazines of scientific nature are The Amateur Photographer, Popular Mechanics, Scientific American and Radio Broadcast.

Those most interesting to the ladies are The Ladies' Home Journal, Hygeia, Woman's, Good Housekeeping, and Pictorial Review.

Those of general interest are The Saturday Evening Post, London Illustrated News, Home and Garden, Financial Post and Life.

A list of the magazines in the Library, classified from the countries where they come, reveals the true state of the number of Canadian and British Magazines in relation to the American.

English magazines—Home Magazine, Amateur Photographer, Boy's Own Paper, Little Folks, Daily Mail Overseas, Daily Mail Weekly, English Bookman, Strand, Girl's Own Paper, Nineteenth Century, John O'London, Windsor, My Magazine, British Weekly, Daily Telegraph, Illustrated London News, British Weekly, British Times, British Times with Literary Supplement, Punch, Chamberlain's Journal.

Canadian magazines—The Canadian Bookman, The Financial Post, The Canadian Magazine, Montreal Daily Star, Canadian Forum, Willison's Monthly, Canadian Homes and Gardens, Goblin, Canadian Defence Quarterly, Sentinel, Globe, Mail, MacLeans, Canadian Historical Reviews, New Outlook, Farm and Dairy, Saturday Night, Canadian Forum, World Wide, Canadian Gazette, Canadian Congress, Musical Canada, Canadian Machinery, House of Commons Debates, Canadian Patent Office Records, Canadian Book Seller and Stationer, Northern Miner.

American magazines — Atlantic Monthly, Literary Digest, New York Times with index (very valuable as the bound Times is a huge paper), Saturday Evening Post, Radio Broadcast, Modern Priscilla, Delineator, Outlook, Living Age, The New Republic, Electric Journal, Hibbert's Journal, American Bookman, Life, Ladies' Home Journal, Hygeia, National Geographic, Travel, Asia, St. Nicolos, Current History, McCall's, Vogue, Good Housekeeping, Century, Popular Mechanics, Scribners, Etude, Independant, Building Age, Youth's Companion and Electrical World.

Magazine lovers have a wide variety of choice in such a complete list as there is in the Public Library.

ARCHBISHOP GIVES HINT OF RETIRING

Says He Will Not Be Chairman of Next Lambeth Conference

LONDON, June 8.—(Canadian Press Cable).—"When the next Lambeth Conference of Bishops assembles in 1930 it will be under another chairmanship", declared the Most Rev. Randall Thomas Davidson, Archbishop of Canterbury, speaking at the Canterbury Diocesan Conference of the Church of England yesterday.

This is the first occasion on which His Grace has ever alluded definitely to the possibility of his retirement, although rumors of such have arisen frequently, especially in the last year. He is 80 years old.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

RICHARD DIX IN "SPORTING GOODS"

The happy-go-lucky Richard Dix is the star of the feature picture, "Sporting Goods," at the Capitol for this week-end. He acts the part of Richard Selby, inventor of the famous Elasto-Tweedo suit, which is guaranteed to make happy the heart of the "slicing" golfer. He is making a journey across the Mojave Desert in a flivver when he encounters Mr. and Mrs. Stanfield, wealthy citizens of Pasadena. Through an unlucky accident to his car, which disappears in a mudhole after Stanfield has asked him to navigate a bad portion of road, Richard comes into possession of the Stanfield car, its owners making the rest of the journey by train and asking him to leave it at their hotel in Pasadena. Selby gives a lift to Miss Elliott and her mother and they think him a man of means. They persuade him to take a suite at the millionaire hotel, which is their home and he runs up a huge bill after his available cash of four dollars has been expended in tips. An order for flowers for his lady love results in a futher bill of $120 for a dozen orchids and the distracted high-flyer is at his wits' end when Fate intervenes and makes him sit in at a game of poker that, through unforeseen circumstances, allows him to win a pot of $4,000 with a quartette of deuces. His luck with the Elasto-Tweedo suit has some bad twists until kindly Fortune again smiles upon him and he makes a cheerful exit at the end of a cheerful picture.—Jeanette.

AT THE REGENT.

BOY'S INNER SELF

A look into the heart of a child—a glimpse of the mother-instinct of every woman—and, beyond this, as a gigantic background, the surge and thunder of battle as civilization presses Westward—these are the elements that make "The Bugle Call" great.

The new picture, now playing at the Regent Theatre, is a starring vehicle for Jackie Coogan—but it is more than that. It is the triumph of a Jackie Coogan new to the screen —Jackie Coogan in a new role that establishes him as not only one of the greatest child actors in history, but as one of the greatest of actors regardless of age or time.

The story is laid in the thunderous days when the United States cavalry hammered back the Indian hordes from the Boseman Trail in 1870 to open a gateway to the West for settlers; one of the historic struggles to aid the onset of civilization. Jackie plays a bugle boy—son of a cavalry captain, on the frontier.

His adventure, in which his bugle saves the fort, is a thrill; the Indian battles are spectacular settings for the story—but—after all—the real story is not in the mighty march of civilization.

It is the story of the heart of a motherless child—and a stepmother who tried to win his love and supplant the mother who lived in his memory. This is a poignant touch to the story that Jackie handles with consummate skill—in fact, in which he achieves one of the acting triumphs of screen history.

Claire Windsor is charming as the unwelcome stepmother — and one can't blame Jackie for capitulating in the end — and Herbert Rawlinson gives a splendidly balanced performance as the father. Harry Todd, Bodil Rosing and Sarah Padden add a deal of clever character work. Edward Sedgwick directed the picture with his usual skill, and others in the cast worthy of mention are Johnny Mack-Brown, Nelson MacDowell, Russ Powell, Tom O'Brien as the corporal, and Sam Borg. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer gave the new play a magnificent production, scenically and technically.

AT THE GRAND.

WINGS COMING TO THE GRAND

Signs are not lacking that the so-called legitimate theatre of the big cities have capitulated to motion-pictures. There are not less than seven theatres in New York at the present times showing big features—theatres that hitherto have been almost exclusively the home of the spoken drama and musical comedy, and the theatre-going public are not a bit averse to paying two dollars for the best seats, and consider themselves fortunate if they can get them weeks in advance. This is especially the case at the Criterion Theatre, now entering its twentieth week in the presentation of Paramount's spectacular aviation photo-drama 'Wings' which begins a limited engagement at the Grand Opera House for a matinee and evening showing on Saturday.

"Wings" is reputed to be the most extraordinary photo-play ever filmed, and probably the most spectacular. In order to present this much-talked of aviation special the use of a seventy-foot baggage car is required to carry the specially designed projectors, amplifiers, loud speakers and other complicated accessories made use of in order to produce adequate effects. The usual method of having the sound effects come either from the orchestra pit or worked by hand back of the curtain has no place in the presentation of "Wings". Two distinct films run concurrently in showing this picture; one throwing the picture on the screen and the other film furnishing all the sounds and effects, which are actually photographed on the film thereby insuring perfect syncronisation. Every presentation of "Wings" and it is now being shown to capacity audiences in New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia requires a working force of seven men comprising three electricians, two operators, a carpenter and a property-man. An orchestra of twenty pieces accompanies the picture which is shown with the use of a remarkable magnascope on the largest moving picture screen in the world.

FIRE LOSS UP DURING 1928

First Four Months Show Increase in Number of Fires in Ontario.

BARN LOSSES DOWN.

The report of the Ontario Fire Marshal for the month of April has arrived at the office of Fire Chief George Gimblett and in it are to be found some interesting comparisons and general information.

For instance the largest fires in the month of April, it states, occurred at Ottawa where the Russell Hotel and stores were damaged to the extent of $143,820.00; at Toronto where $99,188 damage was done at 30-34 Duncan Street; at the Miller Tannery, Orillia, with a loss of $85,997.00; a Guelph theatre where a $64,842.00 loss was sustained and at Wallaceburg where stores were damaged to the extent of $50,584.00.

There were 1,201 fires in April as compared with 1,140 in the same month of 1927 while the loss was increased by $533,502.00, the insurance loss by $470,437 and the loss not covered by insurance by $63,065.00.

Taking the first four months of 1928 the number of fires was larger by 232 than in the same period of the preceding year and increases are consequently noted in the loss, insurance loss, and loss not covered by insurance. The increase in the first of the three was $1,896,314.00; in the second $1,699,487.00 and in the third $196,827.00.

In the division showing the four leading classes of risks for the first four months of the two years, the fire marshal's statistics show that in 1928 there were 126 barns burned as compared with 106 in 1927 but the loss decreased from $299,100.00 in 1927 to $203,065. However, the number of dwellings burned this year is set at 3,129, an increase of 193 over 1927 and the loss, $1,052,300 represents an increase over 1927 of $45,177.00.

Stores damaged or destroyed during the first four months, 427 in number as compared with 420 in the same period of 1927, represented $1,339,581.00 of the total loss and an increase of $125,175.00 over the loss in the same division during this period of 1927.

The factories division shows 132 fires representing a loss of $1,174,408.00 and though the number of similar fires in 1927 was larger by ten, the loss this year is larger by $592,861.00.

Uncle Wiggily

Today's Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE POODLE'S PUZZLE

Uncle Wiggily was hopping and skipping along over the fields with four little rabbit girls. At first Mr. Longears thought they were some of his own forty 'leven little bunnies, but a second look made him sure that these rabbits were strangers.

"We only moved here last week," said one of the rabbit girls.

"But I'm sure we are going to like it," said another.

"Cause Uncle Wiggily is here," spoke the fourth.

"Well, I'm sure I'm as glad to see you as you are to see me," chuckled Mr. Longears. "That was a clever trick of yours to save me from the Fox."

"He didn't guess that we are named after four flowers," said the first little rabbit girl. "We are Daisy, Violet, Pansy and Rose."

"No, the Fox couldn't guess your flower names from the puzzle pictures you drew," laughed Uncle Wiggily, "and so he had to let me go and he couldn't nibble your ears, either."

"We're so glad!" shouted Rose. "For now we can go adventuring."

As I told you, in the story before this, Uncle Wiggily had been caught by the Fox. Then, all of a sudden, the four little rabbit girls appeared and drew a puzzle picture of four flowers, which were their names. They said if the Fox guessed the names of the flowers he could take them away instead of Uncle Wiggily. But the Fox couldn't guess the puzzle, though I am sure you did, and so all the rabbits hopped safely away.

"Where are you going now?" asked Daisy as she saw Mr. Longears hop over a fence like a rubber ball.

"I am going to look for an adventure," was the answer. "But don't you think you had better go on to school?"

"We can't go to school today," said Rose with a laugh.

"Why not?" Uncle Wiggily wanted to know.

"Because," explained Violet modestly hanging her head, "there aren't enough desks for us, the Lady Mouse Teacher said. We went to school before we ran off to find you, but Miss Mouse said for us to come tomorrow when she would have new desks for us."

"Well, then I suppose it is all right for you to come adventuring with me," spoke Uncle Wiggily. So he and the four little flower bunny rabbit girls hopped over the fields and through the wood until, all of a sudden, they reached a place where there was a hole in the ground.

"Is this the burrow house where you live?" asked Mr. Longears of the four bunny girls.

"Oh, no!" answered Rose, Violet, Daisy and Pansy.

And then, all at once, up out of the hole came a grilling, growling noise as the rabbit girls started to hop away.

"Maybe that's one of the Ba Chaps!" cried Violet.

"I think not," said Uncle Wiggily. "It sounds more like a jolly dog. Maybe it's Jackie or Peetie Bow Wow down in that hole."

"Oh, then it's an adventure!" exclaimed Daisy.

"It may so happen," said the bunny uncle. The grilling, growling noise sounded louder and louder and, all of a quickness, up and out popped a fluffy white dog.

"There's no need to be afraid of him," said Rose.

"Who is he?" asked Violet. "Is he Jackie or Peetie?"

"I'm neither one," barked the white fluffy dog. "I'm a puzzle poodle and if you can guess the puzzle I am going to make for you I'll tell you where there's something good to eat."

"I like puzzles," said Uncle Wiggily. "What kind are you going to make for me to solve?"

The fluffy poodle drew three pictures on the white bark of a birch tree near by, using his toenails for pencils. Near each picture he wrote a sentence, leaving out two words in each.

"There you are!" barked the poodle. "There's my puzzle. Put in the missing words. The pictures will help you. So the bunnies began to do the puzzle as I suppose you are doing now.

"Is this the burrow house where you live?"

SELF-DENIAL WEEK COLLECTION $2,429

Final Summing Up Takes Place at Temple on Wednesday Evening

A goodly audience gathered in the Temple on Wednesday evening at the self-denial ingathering and there was considerable jubilation at the announcement of the full results. Ensign Green, in addressing those present, primarily emphasized the fact that there had been a spirit of co-operation by the members of the local corps, which had assisted considerably in the triumph of the effort, but he could join St. Paul in his letter to Timothy and declare, "Thanks be unto God who gaveth us the victory."

It was interesting to hear how this world wide effort, the Salvation Self-Denial originated. The late founder, William Booth, had been expressing the urgent need for money to some of his officers many years ago, and one of those present, Commissioner Carleton, made this suggestion: that he would deny himself of his daily dessert or pudding at dinner, and calculated that he would save one shilling per week, and offered to William Booth, fifty-two shillings in advance, being one year's saving. A friend of the Army hearing of this and knowing that the salaries of Army officers were very small, offered to pay this sum instead of the Commissioner, but the offer was not accepted as the officer wished to deny himself. William Booth then said, "If only we could get all our people to do this for a short period," and right then the first self denial effort was organized.

The evening's proceedings were enlivened by music by the Band, Songsters, and Young People's Singing Company, while Mrs. Mendel Braund sang solos.

Senior Corps. — Band, $108.70; Brothers, $128.56; Songsters, $14.55; Sisters, $90.90; Home League, $13.35; League of Mercy, $13.25.

Young People's Corps.—Brownton $84.26; Company Guards, $447.48; Singing Company, $15.02; Life Saving Guards, $47.23; Band of Love, $34.03; Young People's Legion, $23.10; Corps Cadets, $20.05; Young People's Band, $15.80; Scouts and Chums, $12.09; Cradle Roll and Primary Class, $9.30; Boys (unattached) $9.65; Girls (unattached), $5.95.

Tag Day, $552.055.

Ensign Green, $762.00.

The Totals

Senior Corps	$1,578.90
Young People's Corps	750.60
1928 Grand Total	$2,429.50
1927 Grand Total	2,33.00
Increase	96.50

To Ensign and Mrs. Green, considerable credit must be given for their labors, $762.00 and $177.00 being the respective amounts they collected.

To the citizens of Peterborough who so readily aided the efforts and to The Examiner for its publicity, Ensign Green tendered hearty thanks on behalf of the local corps.

THREE DAY EVENT HAS GROWN POPULAR

The Grafton Store, Running Another of Their Successful Week-end Sales.

The popularity of the Grafton three-day sales has been so great on the different occasions on which they have run them, that it was no surprise to find the response to Wednesday's announcement of another such event to be really remarkable. The main feature of this sale, is the number and range of the specially priced items, as well as the astonishing values presented. Coming right at the same time as the firm's annual June Suit Sale, naturally men and boys' suits are strongly featured, and the prices make one feel that the good old days of low priced men's clothing have come back.

Nor is the furnishing section one bit behind in value giving, when $3.00 Forsythe Shirts are offered at $1.75, and ties that were a big dollar's worth are reduced to 75c.

The sale keeps up its merry pace all day, and up to closing time tomorrow, night, every special holding out a pressing inducement to men and boys in need of wearing apparel.

TOBOGGAN WINS OAKS.

EPSOM, Eng., June 8.—(Canadian Press.)—Lord Derby's Toboggan won the 146th renewal of the Oaks Stakes to-day. King George's Scuttle, the favorite, was second, and S. Tattersall's Flegere third. The betting was 100 to 15 against Toboggan ,even money on Scuttle and 100 to 9 on Flegere.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR VISITS KIWANIANS

Saunders is gifted with a nicely modulated voice, and her numbers were well chosen.

Speaker Introduced.

J. J. Turner, on behalf of the club, welcomed the distinguished visitor, expressing the hope that his impressions of Peterborough city would be pleasant. Mr. Gaul, in turn, voiced his appreciation of the cordial welcome, saying in part:

"When I learned that I was coming here, there were many Hamilton Kiwanians who wanted to come with me. This is the first visit that I have made in connection with my office, and I have always have a very fine feeling toward Peterborough. But in coming as a district officer, I shall talk along Kiwanis lines, for after all the district work is to promote and increase interest in the various clubs.

"In this district we have 38 clubs, Peterborough being in the central of the four divisions making up that number.

"When you go back into the history of Kiwanis, there is no doubt that it has been and is recognized as a service organization giving service to its members and to the community. Real happiness is found in friendship which helps to make success easier, and when we really know folks, we find them like ourselves and we like them. Kiwanis opens a field for the cultivation of friendship among men of all walks of life!

Education

"Until recent years education has been considered something to be gained in child life. Education has been defined as 'the training of the whole man for efficient living' Most of us, however, are more or less busy with our own work and perhaps our later education comes only through newspapers, for instance. But Kiwanis is educational—speakers at the luncheons present that which it would otherwise be necessary to read volumes to gain.

Service

Rockefeller, on his 85th birthday, voiced his gratitude for the privilege of serving his fellowmen and in this respect, Kiwanis gives its members an opportunity of giving service such as they could not give otherwise.

"The latent talents of men are brought out and members become better fitted to give service. In the community where, say, 60 men are bound in friendship, that community is bound to feel the helpful influence of that group which may form a nucleus for co-operative efforts.

The inter-city meetings also break down barriers and encourage wider acquaintanceship.

Perhaps the greatest service of Kiwanis is that of helping under-privileged children. We are living under different circumstances than were our parents, and my theory is that the opinion you put upon an erring person is probably the opinion you measure up to.

"That is what Kiwanis is endeavoring to do for the underprivileged child—trying to show him that someone is taking an interest in him.

"Let us analyze Peterborough and the relation of the club to its members and community." The speaker read attendance records showing that the members of Peterborough club are trying to put into and get out of their club, the best there is, and referred to its various activities.

"You have here a club that is trying to give the utmost in service, and though it is not a luncheon club snappy meetings and good speakers are essential. Though someone may suggest that the time might be more profitably spent in private business, success may not always be measured by dollars.

"He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, poem or rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beautiful, or failed to express it; who has looked for the best in others, and given the best he had, whose life was an inspiration and whose money a benediction."

Harry Boyle ably moved the vote of thanks to the speaker and to Mrs. Saunders for her musical numbers.

Obituary

BRITAIN LEADS IN THIRD ROUND

Gains Second Victory Over Germany When Player Retires.

BIRMINGHAM, England, June 8 (Canadian Press). — Great Britain scored its second straight victory over Germany in the third round of the European Davis Cup competition to-day when J. C. Gregory defeated Otto Froitzheim, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0, retired. Froitzheim retired because of an injury to his right foot. Britain now needs only one more victory to clinch the series.

DIES SUDDENLY

ST. CATHARINES, June 8 (Canadian Press). — William H. Young, a commercial traveller, with headquarters of late at Detroit, but formerly of Brockville, expired last evening while reclining in a chair in his room at a local hotel, where he was found by the hotel manager, who called about twenty minutes after Young had sent word to the office that he would "be right down." Coroner Curry gave the cause of death as heart failure. A widow in Detroit and a father and mother in Ottawa survive.

WEDDING BELLS

BAIRD—BAKES

Grace United Church, Toronto, fragrant with white and mauve lilac, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, when Edith Evelyn, daughter of Mrs. Margaret E. and the late Charles Bakes, was united in marriage to Mr. George Alexander Baird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baird. Rev. G. W. Barker officiated, and Mr. J. W. Ross presided at the organ. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. R. J. McAlpine, of Havelock, Ont., wore a lovely gown of white georgette with a long net veil caught to her head with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of butterly roses and lily of the valley. Miss Florence Winn was her bridesmaid in a frock of pale pink chiffon with large pink mohair hat and bouquet of Premier roses. Mr. A. E. Bakes, brother of the bride, was best man, and Mr. Victor Bracken ushered.

A reception was held later at the home of the bride's mother, who wore a gown of black lace with mohair hat and corsage of mauve sweet peas Mrs. Baird, mother of the groom, wore a biege lace gown with biege hat and corsage or roses. Later the bride and groom left on a motor moneymoon, the bride travelling in a French blue ensemble, with small blue hat to match, and grey shoes and accessories.

Dirigible Italia Reported In Desolate Region

TOWN TOPICS

Another requirement has been added to the list of "musts" and "must nots" of motoring. The driver of an automobile must now be able to read.

Signs by the dozen have been displayed on city streets during the past week, telling drivers this, that, and the other thing. They are dry—and probably they will fail to interest a great many drivers of automobiles. On Monday, one such, a little mouse-colored man of marked convictions and a tobasco temperament, could not be convinced that even when there was no traffic north and south he should not drive east on Charlotte if the red lamp was blazing "stop." Others, who didn't read, or didn't believe, the warning given in The Examiner, paid the price in traffic court—thirteen of them. It was, indeed, a week of automobile traffic cases, with a district man fined $25 for reckless driving; and breaches of the city by-laws; and warnings by the police; and sign posting.

The burbot caught at Westwood on Tuesday is described by Harmsworth as an "Eel Pout," a fish about a yard long and somewhat eel-like in shape. The Westwood specimen must have been young, only 18 inches long.

What woman has done to many long-established industries is a tale to make bankers weep and economists tear their hair, but one industry that has not suffered through her devotion to fashion is that of the Bell Telephone Company. In Peterborough, for instance, 200 phones have been added since January 1, and some of them are apparently designed to encourage long conversations. The new type enables the lady to sit back in an easy chair and rest one hand at a time. Hairpins and hatpins and petticoats may go out of style, but talking, never.

Ten years ago last Monday The Examiner told about people trying to buy sugar and flour by the hundred-pound bag. Nowadays if the family can get enough to lunch on in five-cent lots, it does it.

A he[illegible] in The Examiner this week seemed [illegible]ive Johnnie an excuse for not washing behind his ears. "Use of Water is Restricted," it said. But it didn't mean to be so sweeping, Johnnie. The article (which was rather dry in spite of the topic) merely pointed out that gardens and lawns may be watered legally only between 5 and 9, morning and evening. You'll have to seek another excuse.

It's no wonder there's a howling in the air occasionally with 701 radios in Peterborough all trying frantically to pick up something from somewhere. When to these are added the rackets of battery chargers, curling irons, vibrators and electric razors, it is recognized that there is real work for the radio inspector, or dog catcher, or someone else in authority.

It may cost a lot, but some Peterborough children are thinking of drawing $45 from the penny bank to have the privilege to calling Germany by phone and the satisfaction of telling, in three minutes, what they think of the last Christmas crop of toys.

Forecast for next week. Oily, very oily. A note a few days ago said the city has hired a contracting company to do the street oiling this year. And spring cleaning just finished, too!

COTTAGE LOTS AT CLEAR LAKE

Charles Rishor Opens Up Shore Line North of South Beach.

An extensive shore line development has just been made on the east side of Clear Lake, that beautifully wooded shore so familiar to all Stony Lake frequenters who travel up and down in the Stoney Lake Navigation Company's steamers. The entire front for half a mile north of the South Beach Hotel, has been laid out in lots for cottagers having an average depth of 150 feet and a frontage of 50 to 60 feet. At their rear is a roadway, already made fit for automobile traffic and a double row of lots back of it. Allowance has been made for driveways every two lots, so that each lot has a side right of way. In all, about 130 cottage sites are provided for, making this the most extensive subdivision yet exploited in the Stoney Lake district. Lots are for sale by Charles Rishor, 168 London street, and W. E. Brooks, South Beach Hotel.

TREE OWNERSHIP IS NOT DEFINITE

Lack of knowledge of any clearly-defined rule regarding the cutting down or trimming of trees on boulevards or on the inside of sidewalks, has caused more than one Peterborough citizen to either extend his trimming or cutting too far or to neglect this work when he would be quite justified in carrying it out.

According to City Clerk Armstrong, the regulations, such as they are, vary depending upon the streets. For instance, on some streets, the city owns the trees on the inside of sidewalks as well as those on the boulevards in which event, citizens would be wise to obtain permission from city authorities before proceeding to cut or trim trees in front of their property, while on other streets, the trees inside the sidewalks are on the property of the citizens living thereon, and are therefore not under the city's supervision. A call to the city engineer's department will usually clear up any uncertainty.

NON-CONFIDENCE MOTION BEATEN 79 TO 38 BY COMMONS TO-DAY

Resolution By R. B. Bennett Censuring Expenditures Fails to Pass.

DEBATE IS SHORT.

Two Progressives Support Conservatives—Remainder Vote With Government.

OTTAWA, June 9 (Canadian Press).—After debate of scarcely a couple of hours, the House to-day defeated by 79 to 38 a Conservative amendment to supply, censuring the estimates as excessive and extravagant. The amendment came unexpectedly with the members preparing for the usual rush of remaining business before prorogation. Two Progressives voted for the motion, but all the other Progressives, with Labor and Independent members, voted with the Government.

The amendment was moved by the Hon. R. B. Bennett and seconded by the Hon. Hugh Guthrie, and read:

"This House is of the opinion that the expenditures for the year ending March 31, 1928, and the proposed expenditures for the year ending March 31, 1929, are excessive and extravagant, and that the country has not received and cannot expect to receive any adequate returns therefrom."

An amendment to supply is equivalent to a motion of non-confidence.

No Apologies.

Mr. Bennett said he has no apologies for moving an amendment of this kind. The members of the House who had the main estimates before them would observe that $366,071,314.22 had been voted last year for the main estimates, in addition to which certain supplementary estimates had been voted. This year, however, although large sums of money had been voted for public service, sums which Mr. Bennett considered to be extravagant, a further amount of $7,777,749.89 had been voted in two supplementaries in a bill before the House.

The country's expenditures were beyond what they should be at the present time, and vindication for this statement was contained in a speech made on expenditures by Former Minister of Finance Fielding several years ago.

ORANGE WALK HERE TH IS YEAR

Peterborough Orangemen Making Preparations For Big Day Here.

MANY LODGES COMING.

Peterborough Orangemen are making elaborate preparations for the 218th celebration of the Battle of the Boyne, to be held here on Thursday, July 12th. Visiting lodges are expected from Kirkfield, Hartley, Fenelon Falls, Lindsay, Omemee, Reaboro, Bethany, Millbrook, Port Hope, Bowmanville, Cobourg, Campbellford, Pontypool, Hastings and all intervening points. The Prentice Boys from Toronto will be here. The Peterborough Rangers Band has been engaged for the day and a contract has been let to J. J. Turner and Sons for decorating the principal street of the city. There will be a softball game in front of the armouries in the morning and a wreath will be placed on the cenotaph at 11 a.m. The monster parade will start at 12.30 noon and will proceed to the Exhibition Park, where a program of sports, vaudeville, baseball, and games will take place. Prizes will be given for the largest lodge on parade, the largest ladies' lodge represented, the largest juvenile lodge, the best dressed ladies' and gentlemen's lodges, the oldest Orangeman on the grounds.

All Orangemen on parade will be admitted to the grounds free while the general public will be charge 25 cents. There will be no grandstand charge. Posters will be published in a few days telling all the details.

EMMET F. SHEEHY OPENS LAW OFFICE

Well Known Peterborough Young Man Begins Practice Here.

Emmett F. Sheehy, barrister, son of the late Richard Sheehy of this city and a graduate of Osgoode Hall in 1926 has taken over the law office in the Bank of Commerce Building on the corner of Hunter and Water streets which was at one time occupied by C. R. Widdifield, a former solicitor for the City of Peterborough.

Mr. Sheehy was formely associated with the practise of law with the Toronto legal office of Holliss, Wilson and Company and with R. R. Hall, K.C., of this city, and although he will be permanently in Peterborough he will still retain a connection with Holliss, Wilson and Company, who are his Toronto agents.

NURSING CLASS OF ST JOSEPH'S GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Five Young Ladies Graduate From Hospital Training School.

PRIZES PRESENTED.

Miss Marguerite Hogan, of Lindsay, Leads Class—Dance Follows Exercises.

Five members of the Training School for Nurses at St. Joseph's Hospital formed this year's graduating class at the Exercises held last evening in he assembly hall at St. Alphonsus Lyceum. They were Miss Helen Mary Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox, of Nassau; Miss Rosaleen Curtin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Curtin, of Lindsay; Miss Marguerite Hogan, daughter of Mr. M. Hogan and the late J. Hogan, of Lindsay; Miss Kathleen Norine Doherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Doherty, of Hastings; and Miss Margaret Mary Charlton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Charlton, of Lakefield.

The big hall, with a seating capacity of nearly fiv hundred, was filled to overflowing, and the stage presented a brilliant setting for the graduates, clad in their white uniforms, with bouquets of pink roses. It was backed with masses of mauve and white lilac, wild cheery blossoms, palms and ferns, with an upper trellis of white, covered with artificial flowers, while the front of the stage was arranged with tall wicker baskets holding pink roses and lighted floor lamp. A number of the Sisters from the Hospital made this their special work, and their efforts were amply rewarded by the beautiful appearance of the stage.

Dr. E. H. Wood made a very efficient chairman and carried out his duties in a genial, friendly way. After the Entrance March, played by Miss Agnes Grant, Dr. Wood opened the program with the following appropriate address:

"My Lord, Members of the graduating class of St. Joseph's Hospital, ladies and gentlemen. It is fitting that such an occasion should be graced by this wonderful gathering. We are all here to-night to do honour to these young ladies of whom we are all justly proud.

"None, not even the members of their own families, are prouder of them, than the hospital staff and may I speak for the sisters and doctors alike in congratulating the members of our class of 1928.

"Each class has its outstanding features and I would say for this one that painstaking obedience stands out as its sterling quality. Obedience is also the first requisite of a nurse. Obedience to orders and instruction. I can speak genuinely, when I say that from my own observation and experience our graduates of this year are highly endowed with such a virtue, and with thi as a foundation they have builded well in their chosen profession.

"It might be interesting on this occasion to go back into his ory and search out the orign of this beautiful profession of charity to suffering mankind.

"It seems that about the middle of the 4th Century A.D., when Christianity was still in its infancy and after the great Constantine had approved of the teachings of the new religion in the Roman Empire—there lived in the City of Rome a wealthy patrician woman called Fabiola.

"She embraced Christianity and in its unselfishness found great solace. There was no existing activity in which she would give expression to the beautiful impulses and influences of her new found religion. Soon, these bore fruit, and she conceived the idea of attending the needy sick In order to do this

Rob Messenger Of $30,000 In Gold

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 9 (Canadian Press). — Two men with sawed-off shotguns held up a bank messenger of the Canal Bank and Trust Company in front of the American Railway Express Company here late yesterday, and seized a shipment of gold amounting to between $25,000 and $30,000 destined for an up-state bank. The bandits escaped in an automobile. No shots were fired.

HAMILTON FIRM STRENGTHENED

Kenneth T. Dawes Becomes Chairman—New Financing Successful.

P. P. WESTBYE PRESIDENT.

William Hamilton, Limited, has made another step forward. At the semi-annual meeting of the board of directors, P. P. Westbye, well-known in Peterborough, is president and L. A. Potvin, is secretary-treasurer, men well known in business circles, as Kenneth T. Dawes and Colonel John H. Price, have been elected to the board. These two men greatly strengthen the board.

At the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Directors, in Montreal Mr. Dawes, who is vice-president of National Breweries Limited, and a director of The Title Guarantee and Trust Company, and is well known in Montreal business circles, was elected chairman of the board. Col. J. H. Price, president of Price Brothers Company, Limited, and a director of the Royal Bank of Canada, was elected a member of the board. B. W. Coghlin, president of the B. J. Coghlin Co. Limited, is already a member of the board. The board is now composed of Kenneth T. Dawes, chairman, P. P. Westbye, president, L. D. Palmer, vice-president, L. A. Potvin, secretary-treasurer; the directors are: Colonel J. H. Price, Bernard W. Collins, S. T. Bethune, Theodore Kipp, Jr., Winnipeg, and B. F. Kaufman, director, James Leffel Co., of Springfield, Ohio.

Re-financing has been done which puts the company in a proper position to carry on the large amount of business now on hand, and to handle far bigger contracts than in the past, made necessary by the increased volume of business and the new patents developed for the company by Mr. Westbye.

In addition to mining and hydraulic equipment, William Hamilton Limited has produced and patented nine different types of equipment during the last eighteen months, eight of which are already in successful operation in the pulp and paper industry.

This energetic and progressive organization has formed a number of sound connections for the purpose of manufacturing under Canadian license, products which have been accepted as standard in other countries, notably among which are their connection with the Mine and Smelter Supply Company of Denver, Colorado, Southwestern Engineering Corporation of Los Angeles, California, and the James Leffel Company, of Springfield, Ohio.

The long engineering experience of William Hamilton Limited, combined with the full resources of their associates, places the firm in a very strong position in Canadian industry.

Mr. Westbye's patents are a very important feature in the strength of this company.

MEN IN FAVOR OF ARBITRATON

Toronto Street Railwaymen Vote Against Strike After Exciting Meeting.

REPORTERS BEATEN.

TORONTO, June 9 (Canadian Press).—By an overwhelming majority Toronto Street Railway employees at a mass meeting early this morning, decided in favor of accepting the Toronto Transportation Commission's offer to arbitrate their differences and against calling a strike. The vote, taken at 4 a.m., resulted in 1,727 in favor of settlement by arbitration, and 116 against.

The points which the men's committee asked the union to arbitrate were: Eight hour day; equal wages for motor coach employes; recognition of their union, and two weeks' holidays with pay.

The meeting was not without its exciting moments and the climax came when two evening newspaper reporters were discovered hiding behind an organ. The men were severely beaten before police could aid them to escape, but they were able to go home after being treated in a hospital. Newspapermen were excluded from the meeting.

Japanese Immigrants To Canada Will Not Exceed 150 Mark Annually

OTTAWA, Ont., June 9. — Canadian Press. — The practice of sending for Japanese picture brides is to end, Premier King announced in the House yesterday. The Prime Minister announced further that following conferences, the Japanese Minister for Foreign Affairs had informed the Canadian Government that the Government of Japan did not contemplate that the total number of Japanese emigrants to Canada under new administrative measures to go into force on September 1 would exceed 150 annually.

The Prime Minister's statement reads:

Following conferences with the Japanese Government, in which the Canadian Government made clear difficulties created in Western Canada by the economic competition of Japanese immigrants, the Japanese Minister for Foreign Affairs has informed us through the consul general of Japan at Ottawa that the government of Japan does not contemplate that the total number of emigrants to Canada, including agricultural laborers and domestic servants and in addition wives and children of Japanese emigrants resident in Canada will exceed 150 annually. We have further been informed that steps will be taken to terminate the practice of sending for so-called 'picture brides.' The administrative measures directed to this end will go into force on September 1st.

"The Canadian Government has indicated to the Government fo Japan, that hereafter in the case of immigration from Japan, as from other countries, the Immigration Act and procedure, including the provisions for viseing of passports and pre-investigation of applications will be administered by Canadian officials."

SOUTHERN CROSS FINISHES OCEAN PORTION OF FLIGHT

Fliers Battle With Heavy Gales in Flight Over South Pacific.

HAZARDOUS JOURNEY.

American Members of Crew Will Not Accompany Plane To Sydney.

BRISBANE, Australia, June 9 (Associated Press).—The monoplane Southern Cross arrived here from the Fiji Islands to-day.

The Southern Cross had bridged the Pacific by air, and Australia and America clasped hands across the water.

In the pilot's positions were Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and Charles Ulm, sons of Australia; the navigator was Harry W. Lyon and the radio operator James Warner, sons of America.

Gales that threatened destruction were fought by the plane and its four men much of the flight of 1,762 miles over the South Pacific.

Sydney, 500 miles to the south, beckons the Southern Cross onward to complete the triumphant flight of 7,800 miles. Lyon and Warner, the American members of the crew, are not expected to be aboard when the plane takes off on the final stage.

In coming to Brisbane, the Southern Cross passed over Moreton Bay, receiving the siren salute of steamships in Brisbane River, and alighted after sailing over the city of more than 200,000. The city's noisy acclaim was scarcely heard by the fliers, their hearing deadened by the many hours' roar of the three motors of the plane.

Hazardous Journey.

The flight stage ended to-day was the third great journey over the Pacific Ocean by the Southern Cross in its air passage from Oakland, Cal., toward Sydney. Radio messages from the aviators described it as more hazardous, because of the storms encountered, than the two longer ones that had preceded it.

At times during the 1,762-mile flight from Fiji, the plane dropped 400 feet as it battled the storm. But always, at the end of their radio messages, came a cheery word from men with courage that never faltered. They defied with jest the anger of the wind that threatened to hurl them into the waves below.

Signals Fade Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., June 9.—(Associated Press).—As the Southern Cross approached Brisbane, Australia, yesterday, the distance and sunlight caused its radio signals to fade out for listeners in Hawaii, Samoa and the United States.

No word of her exact position had been received since 10 a.m. yesterday on the Pacific Coast, when the plane radioed it had 498 miles to go to reach Brisbane.

Radio messages received later by Brisbane, however, reported that the plane was flying steadily toward that city and that "everything OK. Exact position at present unknown."

Congratulations From Canada.

OTTAWA, June 9 (Canadian Press).—On behalf of the Government and people of Canada, the Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, cabled congratulations to-day to the Southern Cross fliers at Brisbane.

Message from Premier.

CANBERRA, Australia, June 9. — Canadian Press. — "You have accomplished the seemingly impossible. You have once again demonstrated that the spirit which animated our troops in battle still survives."

MILITARY MAPS BEING PREPARED

Surveyors From Department of National Defence in City This Week.

TOPOGRAPHERS NEXT.

The survey control section of the Geographical Department of the Department of National Defence, which is camped in Peterborough's Exhibition Park, is doing preparatory work in the mapping of this section of the country.

It is the Department of National Defense Military survey whose purpose is to make maps of the district. These maps will show when completed all the ground features of the country. The hills, valleys, cleared lands, wooded lands, the roads and their condition, the streams and their size will be shown in every detail when the map is finished.

Last year this survey was working in the vicinity of Lindsay, where the topographers are now actually in the district making maps. When this section of the work is complete, maps complete in every detail will be made at Ottawa and will be available next year.

The party here has a personnel of ten men, consisting of one party which is getting the heights above sea level. The white marks painted on the sidewalks on the boundary of the city indicate the various heights above sea level. These are noticed along Smith street and on Monaghan Road. The red numbers painted are merely references for the control party on survey.

The instrument they use to get the height above the sea level is a powerful telesoope with a bubble attachment. This instrument swings freely in all directions.

The transient being used is most remarkable. There are only a few in Canada. It is of unique and

Strenuous Efforts To Reach Dirigible Made at King's Bay

Base Crew Prepares Citta di Milano To Go To Aid of Hobby and Braganza In Voyage to Source of Signals.

ALL MEN ON BOARD BIG AIRSHIP ARE REPORTED AS BEING ALIVE

Feared That Shifting Ice May Prevent Smaller Steamers From Reaching Italia—Rome Convinced Messages Received Are Genuine.

KING'S BAY, June 9 (Canadian Press). — Every resource of King's Bay was strained to the utmost to bring help to the Italia, which was thought down in the desolate ice-covered region north of the easternmost tip of North-East Land.

While the base crew was rushing preparations to send out the Citta Di Milano in case it should be necessary to help the sealer Hobby and the ice cutter Braganza, now approaching the scene of the Italia's supposed descent, every effort was continued to catch some signal, however faint, from the dirigible.

Although some hope and optimism prevailed here, there was some fear that it would be difficult for the Hobby and the Braganza to find the Italia since the ice is subject to frequent movements, the districts off North-East Land being just along the approximate limit of open water.

It is reported that it has been established that all aboard the dirigible Italia are alive.

There were eighteen men on the Italia when she left King's Bay for the North Pole. Several dogs, including Titana, the little terrier mascot which flew with the Norge across the Pole in 1926, were also aboard.

ROME, June 9 (Canadian Press).—Several factors were considered to-day as making it almost certain that the radio messages received yesterday by the base ship Citta di Milano were from the missing dirigible. The messages were sent in perfect Italian, ended with the proper recognition signals, and were sent in the Italian way, every nation having a special style of transmitting.

It was believed certain that General Umberto Nobile and his crew were on Cape Leigh Smith, 220 miles from King's Bay. The Citta di Milano immediately upon receiving the messages, sent orders to the steamer Hobby to proceed to the cape.

CITY TERMINUS OF HIGHWAY '7'

Trans-Provincial Road From Sarnia Ends Here For Present.

PORT HOPE ROAD NO. 28.

Peterborough is designated as the eastern terminus of the Sarnia-Ottawa Highway by the Ontario Highway Department. According to this week's bulletin, highway No. 7 connects Peterborough and Sarnia, via Lindsay, Brampton and St. Mary's, the distance being 285.2 miles. The Department proposes to extend the highway to Ottawa, but up to the present only as far as this city has been taken into the Provincial system. The building of this road opens up a second trunk line running from one end of the province to the other and from the tourist standpoint it ought to make Peterborough a very popular point on the highway.

The road in many places is under construction this year, and detours are necessary. The following bulletin has been issued by the Highway Department, showing the exact route the highway takes and the towns and cities it passes through:

"Highway No. 7.—Sarnia to Peterboro (285.2 miles—Three detours. Paved Sarnia to Warwick Village. Road closed owing to paving operations. Warwick Village five miles east, local detour to the north in fair condition. To St. Mary's, fair gravel road. Balance to Brampton paved except three miles west of Guelph and Rockwood to Acton, fair gravel. Road under construction Guelph westerly; no detour. Road somewhat rough. Traffic is requested to drive carefully. Construction of concrete pavement proceeding east of Acton. Traffic asked to detour on Fifth Concession Road northerly two miles to the first side road, thence westerly one mile to the Fourth Concession Road, thence southerly two miles to the highway. Acton traffic is asked to take a short detour of several blocks in length. Construction of macadam pavement Acton to Rockwood in progress; no detour. Traffic is requested to drive slowly. Brampton-Thornhill—road in fair condition. Paved Thornhill to Green River, good gravel to Brooklin; paved to Manchester. Manchester to Greenbank under construction. A detour may be established between Manchester and Greenbank near the end of the week. Detour will be via Port Perry, returning to highway at Greenbank. Signs will be erected to direct traffic. Greenbank to Lindsay, gravel road good. Lindsay to Omemee macadam and gravel road in fair condition. Sections of gravel road rough. Omemee to Peterboro—this section still under construction; 1¼ miles east of Omemee, detour south one mile, thence easterly four miles and north one mile to highway at Fowler's Corners. Detour is two miles longer than Provincial Highway. Fowler's Corners to Peterboro, fair condition."

The Peterboro-Port Hope highway, which was previously designated as highway No. 12A, and was part of No. 12, which ran from Whitby to Lindsay, has been now changed to No. 28. It is 29.1 miles in length. This week's bulletin reports no detours Port Hope to Davidson's Corners and Welcome to Dale, gravel road under construction. No. 12 now runs north from Whitby to Orillia.

BASEBALL

The Kiwanis Juveniles will practise on Monday night at the King Edward school grounds at 3.30. All players are requested to be present.

TINY SPEEDERS DASH OVER LAKE

Little Lake and River Present Scene of Activity in Evening.

Little Lake, opposite the George street wharf presented a busy scene last night with three or four of the Peterborough speed boats dashing through the water at a fast clip. The whirring noise attracted hundreds of spectators who watched the speedy craft performing various hair-raising turns, and narrowly missing each other by inches. Many people all over the city were anxiously scanning the [illegible] airplane, so plain could the noise of the boats be heard [illegible] the city.

The Sea Fleas should have a good representation in Peterborough, according to the remarks offered by the spectators.

D'Arcy Carter of this city built one of these odd crafts, which was taken to Toronto, where he received many compliments.

MARKET LIGHT THIS MORNING

Butter Only Commodity Present in Large Quantities To-day.

SELLS AT 38 TO 40.

Except for butter, which was plentiful, the farmers' market was light this morning. Chickens were more plentiful than last week, while there were no broilers noticed. Butter ranged from 38 to 40 cents a pound, eggs from 32 to 35 cents a dozen, and chicken from 25 to 30 cents a pound. Potatoes were steady throughout the market at the price of $1.50 a bag. Young tomato plants sold for 20 cents a box of a dozen plants.

NINETY-ONE YEAR OLD MAN STILL WORKS IN HIS GARDEN

Edward Tapp is the Oldest Resident of Tudor Township.

NEVER SAW MOVIES.

Reads Life of Queen Victoria —Born in Year of Her Ascension.

Marmora, June 9.—Half a mile south of the picturesque Pinery Hill on the old Hastings Road at the residence of his deceased wife's brother and sister, William and Elizabeth Dalton, lives the oldest resident of Tudor township in the person of Edward Tapp. This veteran settler, on May 29th, quietly observed the ninety-first anniversary of his birth. A man of simple habits, faculties have been wonderfully preserved to him. This year he was able again to plant corn and potatoes, and when visited by The Examiner representative on Sunday afternoon was thus interrupted in the reading of "Queen Victoria, Her Life and Reign," by J. Castel Hopkins, a publication of 1901. Singularly, he was born in the year 1837, the same year as the beloved Queen ascended the throne, and this fact seemed to afford Mr. Tapp a certain amount of pride. London, England, is his birthplace, but when he was a year old his parents moved to Gloucester, England, where for twenty-two years they resided. In 1860, when Edward was twenty-three, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tapp, Senior, emigrated with Edward, Junior, and another son to this country. The rest of the family followed later.

Crossed Atlantic in 1860.

The subject of this sketch clearly remembers the crossing of the Atlantic on the SS. Jura from Liverpool. Detraining at Belleville, Madoc was reached by team. Making arrangement for household effects to follow by ox-cart, the Tapp family reached their destination, Millbridge, by foot. Mr. Tapp relates that horses were rarely seen in Tudor in those early days, oxen being the only beasts of burden. Though a good shot in his day, he is too modest to enlarge on successes. A chance remark on porcupines brought the statement from him that he had shot fourteen one year. A swelling in his right hand deprives him of the pleasure of milking, but he does the next best thing—he carries in the laden pails. His late residence, which he has rented to Cecil Armstrong, has figured as a polling booth in many an election, but the fever of the contests never pervaded for, as Mr. Tapp smilingly stated, "There were never many voters up here to get us very excited."

Confederation is well remembered by him, but he cannot recall any of his district attending the big celebration that year in Belleville. Asked if ever in a tight corner with any wild animals, he replied in the negative, adding that he could always dispose of them before they became dangerous. He has never attended a picture show and confesses that his main hobby has always been reading. In taking farewell, Tudor's veteran expressed the hope that another welcome visit might be made him, and impressed his visitor with the thought that he had made the acquaintance possibly of one who might be a future centenarian.

MADOC PREPARES TO ERECT MEMORIAL

Companies Will Be Asked For Designs Suitable For Memorial Park.

MADOC, June. — A meeting of the Memorial Committee was held on Wednesday evening in the Community Hall to consider the situation and to make preparations if possible to make arrangements for the speedy completion of the project, now that the Thompson Memorial Park is rapidly being put into shape for the placing of the monument.

A committee was formed of Messrs Wallbridge, Connor, Whytock, Burnside and Rollins to interview the companies interested and secure necessary information regarding the monuemnt, sizes and designs appropriate for the proposed site, reports to be made at as early a date as can be conveniently possible, when canvassers will be secured and the work put on a definte basis.

ONTARIO AMIESITE COMPANY AWARDED PAVING CONTRACT

Tenders For Work Accepted at Meeting of Millbrook Council.

PROMISE GUARANTEE.

The Work To Be Completed Not Later Than September 1st, 1928.

MILLBROOK, June 9. — Millbrook Council met in special session on Thursday, June 7 at 4 p.m., to open tenders for draining and paving contract, members all being present and Reeve W. T. Wood presiding.

Separate tenders for drain, supplying all material complete, were as follows:

J. H. McNabb Company, Trenton, $7,708.80.

Curran & Briggs Company, Toronto, $7,899.75.

Warren Paving Company, Toronto, $8,181.25.

Ontario Amiesite Paving Company, Toronto, $8,272.00.

W. H. Lytle, Peterborough, $8,290.25.

Towland Construction Company, Toronto, $9,416.40.

Wilford Company, Lindsay, $11,771.

Separate tenders for the paving contract were:

Wilford Company, Lindsay, $36,107.

Curran & Briggs, Toronto, $37,288.

Towland Construction Company, $40,226.

Ontario Amiesite Paving Company, asphalt on macadam, $31,326.

Warren Paving Company, sheet asphalt, $33,408; bitulithic finish, $36,076.

Standard Paving Company, Ottawa.

Wilfrid Company, Lindsay, cold asphalt, 3 inches thick, $28,209; 6 inches thick, $32,938.

As there is no pavement of this nature, up to the present, in Ontario, and but a limited amount of it in Quebec, though it is claimed that it is used extensively in England, Council thought it not wise to consider this tender since the experimental stage, so far as Canada is concerned, according to their viewpoint, is not yet passed.

Council met again at 7 p.m., a large number of those interested in the awarding of the contract being present.

Reeve Wood explained the necessity of requesting the representatives of the companies which had submitted tenders to retire, leaving the Council free to consider all phases of the various tenders.

After full discussion and consideration the Council unanimously agreed to accept the tenders from the Ontario Amiesite Company for both drain and paving, the figures mentioned being practically $2,000 lower than any others submitted.

Lang-Eakins: That the clerk be instructed to return cheques and bid bonds to the unsuccessful competitors.

Messrs. Raynor and Reddick, representing the Amiesite Company, were called into the Council Chamber and informed that their tender had been accepted, and the contract awarded to their company.

They agreed to make every effort to have the work completed within two months, and in any case not later than September 1, 1928. The work will be commenced as soon as the material can be ordered and on the ground.

They also agreed to use all available local labor, and to purchase all the material required, prices being satisfactory, from local firms. The Amiesite Company promised a five-year guarantee with its type of pavement.

Among other officials present were: Mr. Fellowes, C.E., of the Ontario Department of Highways; George Greer, road superintendent for the Counties of Northumberland and Durham; and A. W. Connors, C.E., of Toronto, who is the engineer engaged by the Municipal Council in connection with the contract.

OMEMEE CHILDREN GIVE FINE RECITAL

Pupils of Miss E. Isobel McKee Show Careful Training and Practice.

OMEMEE, June 9.—The Omemee pupils of Miss E. Isobel McKee, A.C.A.M., of Peterborough Conservatory of Music, were heard to good advantage in their piano recital in Coronation Hall, on Wednesday evening. There was a very good attendance and the generous applause which followed each number was an evidence of appreciation. The selections were all given from memory, which showed the ability on their own part and the excellent tuition on the part of their teacher. The stage was artistically decorated with a profusion of purple and white lilacs, and red tulips. Miss Marion Dickson, a pupil of G. F. Liddle, also Donald Greene, Jack Thackeray, and W. Townsend, of Peterborough, assisted on the program and their splendid numbers which they generously contributed were heartily received. Rev. E. W. Rowland and Rev. A. T. Weir gave short talks relative to music, with kind reference to the good work of the teacher. At the conclusion of the recital, Miss Betty Deyell, on behalf of the class, presented Miss McKee with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

The following is the program: Conservatory Trio— Violin, 'Cello and Piano. American Folk Song—Betty Deyell. Violet, Graham—Lloyd Rowland. Gavotte, Geibel—Jean Parsons. Dancing in the eMadow, Sanderson—Lorraine Irwin. Red Rose, Graham—Charles Weir. Violin Solo, Donald Greene. Fairy Fingers, Slater, Phyllis Morton. Haymaking, Slater—Mildred Jones. A May Day, Rathburn—Jean McGinness. A Country Dance, Sartorio—Frances MacPherson. Soldiers' Chorus, Gounod—Floyd Parsons. 'Cello Solo—Jack Thackeray. Conservatory Trio, Violon, 'Cello, and Piano. Vocal, The Fairy Pipers, Baby; Poor Man's Garden—M. Dickson. Goblins' Frolic, Heller, Donald Mahood. Elfin Dance, Jensen—Audrey Weir. Melody of Love, Englemann—Morgan Rowland. Gipsy Rondo, Haydn—Ruby Windrim. Shadows on the Water, Loumey—Mabel Thorn. Pleasures of Spring, Merkel—Gertrude Pogue. (a) Gavotte in B flat, Handel; (b) Ecossaises, Chopin—Evelyn Rea McPhee. (a) Polonais, Chopin; (b) Prelude, Rachmaninoff—Lenore Jamieson. (a), Norweigian Bridal Procession, Grieg; (b) Ecossaises, Beethoven — Jane Earle. Piano Solo—W. Townsend.

Presentation Made

On Monday evening, the members of the Adult Bible Class of Trinity United Church, gathered at the home of Mrs. D. Rea, to do honor to the marriage of her daughter, Mrs. McPhee, and Dr. W. H. McPhee, who are faithful members of the class. Accompanied by a brief address, they were the recipients of a casserole and plate as a token of the personal esteem and good feeling which exists among the members toward Dr. and Mrs. McPhee. Following the presentation, a contest was engaged in and later short speeches were given by Messrs. T. C. Ivory, D. Weir, A. Scott, A. Stinson, and S. D. Vaughan, to which Dr. McPhee replied. Ice cream and cake was served by the hostess and a social time enjoyed.

W.M. SOCIETIES MEET AT MADOC

United Church Ladies Study Temperance—Fine Programs Given.

MADOC, June 9. — The W.M.S. of St. Peter's Church met at the home of Mrs. A. Cochrane, for the June meeting with the usual good attendance. After the interesting program, lunch was served, and a social half hour spent.

The W.M.S. of Trinity United Church met in the ladies' parlor for the June meeting on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. L. Ashley, president, in the chair, and all officers present. The suggested Temperance program was followed and the Watch Tower was answered by representatives of the different provinces.

The devotional leaflet was read by Mrs. Rivers, followed by prayer by Mrs. Henderson.

Little Miss Helen Wellman gave a very pleasing solo. Plans were made for the summer meetings, and for a lawn tea at the home of Mrs. F. Dafoe.

A brief review of the missionary talk given by Miss Mitchell, at a previous meeting was taken by Mrs. Nickle, and the meeting was closed by a consecration hymn, and the Lord's prayer in unison.

CHANG UNCONSCIOUS.

Chinese Leader Still Suffers From Effects of Bomb Explosion.

TOKIO, June 9 (Canadian Press).—A despatch from Mukden, Manchuria, to-day said the condition of Chang Tso-Lin was still serious, and that he was unconscious most of the time. Chang was wounded when the train in which he was fleeing from Peking was bombed.

FEW CHANGES MADE IN ASSESSMENTS

Omemee Court Makes Alterations to Roll Recently Returned.

OMEMEE, June 9.—Court of Revision was held in Omemee on Wednesday, May 30. The following assessments were fixed: J. Poyser's assessment to be confirmed and remain as on the assessment roll of 1928. Leslie Parker's assessment on buildings be lowered $25.00, land to remain at $75.00 making the total assessment $325. Harold Laidley's assessment on property was changed to W. Connell, the present owner, and dog was struck off. W. Moncrief's property and W. Wilson's property are to be inserted vice versa owing to their recent exchange.

At the regular council meeting on Monday evening the following accounts were received an ordered to be paid:

Street lights, $79.54; J. Williams, assessor, and postage, $60.80; T. J. Parsons, account, $1.65; W. H. Kennedy, $1.40; H. McGinness, account, $6—total, $151.39.

LUMBER MILL EMPLOYS 25

H. O. Buck and Sons Provide All Material Needed For Building.

NORWOOD, June 9.—A large, attractively designed sign placed advantageously near a splendid two story cement block building tells the story of industry within—that H. O. Buck and Son are manufacturers or dealers in everything that pertains to house building; that lath, sash and doors, oak flooring, cement, lime and roofing may be obtained here together with gasoline and oil and that other wood products such as cheese and butter boxes are manufactured speedily with quality the motto of the firm.

The Buck plant is situated on Peterborough street and is one of the village's leading industries. The building itself is 137 feet by 56 feet and is surrounded by a lumber yard as well as lumber drying sheds. Electric and steam power is utilized. About twenty-five men are employed and the annual business is estimated at $10,000.

As well as supplying materials, this firm has, at its command, plans and equipment for the erection of houses and other buildings and there is one residence designed and built by Messrs. Buck, which has attracted no little attention from architects throughout the province. It, also is situated on Peterborough street and immediately noticeable for its unusual appearance. The interior is even more strikingly unique.

GIFT PRESENTED TO PASTOR'S WIFE

Mrs. E. W. Rowland is Leaving Omemee Shortly For New Charge.

OMEMEE, June 9.—The Women's Missionary Society of Trinity United church, motored for their regular meeting on Thursday afternoon to the home of Mrs. McConnell. There was an attendance of about fifty, including visitors and children. As this was Mrs. Rowland's farewell meeting, the first vice-president, Mrs. H. Lamb, presided. Following the opening hymn, Mrs. R. Poaps led in prayer. The Scripture lesson found in Proverbs xx was read by Mrs. W. Brandon. Misses Florence Rutherford and Lillian Race rendered a pleasing vocal duet. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Bradburn and was followed by the treasurer's report by Mrs. J. Shield, the latter showing 11 life members and 35 paid members. Miss Eva Rave gave a report of the systematic givings thus far.

At this juncture, the presiding officer gave opportunity to Rev. E. W. Rowland to say a few words, which was his pleasure, as it was the last gathering of this sort which would be his privilege to attend before going to his new charge.

Miss Eva Race read the devotional leaflet on Temperance Issues, after which a piano duet was much enjoyed. Four short readings were then given on "Christianity and the Liquor Traffic" by Mrs. R. H. Williamson, Mrs. Overholt, Mrs. J. Bushnell and Mrs. R. Bradley. Prayer was offered by Mrs. E. W. Rowland, with a special appeal for temperance. Correspondence included a letter of appreciation for a remembrance during illness, also an announcement of the W.M.S. sectional meeting to be held in Queen street church, Lindsay, on June 21st. Miss Eva Race was appointed a delegate from the society. Mrs. Overholt kindly consented to be responsible for the missionary story or talk in Sunday school the first Sunday in July. It was decided to hold the July meeting on the church lawn in the form of a picnic.

A motion was carried to have the names and the amount contributed towards systematic giving, printed on the annual financial report of the church.

Mrs. Lamb then extended a hearty welcome to the visitors and gave an opportunity to any who cared to unite with the society to do so.

Following the offering which was lifted by little Barbara McConnell, a brilliant address read by Mrs. Bradburn, accompanied by a beautiful string of pearls was presented to Mrs. Rowland by Mrs. W. Henderson on behalf of the W. M. S. and Ladies' Aid Society.

A social hour was enjoyed when Mrs. C. Rutherford, Mrs. W. Moncrief and Mrs. T. A. McConnell served elaborate refreshments as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Rowland.

PURRR

The sleek complacent cat pur-r-rs out her tune of drowsy happiness; a soothing song of feline satisfaction. Contentment is her theme, the rhythmic ripple of her throat the measure.

Hear your Engine "purr-r-!"

Hear that Motor "H-u-m-m"

Sweet Music!

It's worth a lot to keep the old engine purring. It's worth making sure what kind of oil goes into the crankcase.

Thousands upon thousands of car owners, the kind that listen to their motors, won't have anything but Red Indian—won't take a chance.

Whether your car is just off the floor or has turned its first 50,000 miles, it should have good oil.

I WONDER if you have ever heard of a Miff tree? Or, do you know what sort of a tree the Miff tree is? My good friend, John Plane, was telling me of an interesting time he had listening to a sermon by an eminent preacher. This sermon was entitled, "The Miff Tree—A Pictorial Sermon." John told me that the preacher had a large chart or sketch of a tree. As a tree it was not much to look at. There wasn't much bark on it, and it was almost destitute of leaves. It looked to be at the point of death, and seemed ashamed of the use to which it was being put. On its branches were perched some strange looking birds. While they looked like birds they had also a sort of a human look to them. Each bird represented some church member or official who had got out of sorts and taken to the Miff tree because of some real or fancied wrong inflicted upon him or her!

A Queer Assortment.

John said that without the sketch it was almost impossible to get a proper idea of what the various birds looked like. The artist, he said, had puts lots of expression into the face of each occupant of a place in the tree. He said: "Talk about strange birds! These were the strangest birds I ever set eyes upon. If any one of them could have seen himself or herself—for they were there of both sexes—as that artist had made it possible for me to see them they would have been so ashamed of themselves that they never could have been got into that Miff tree again!"

Where the Miff Tree Is.

The Miff tree is found in the garden of the Lord, but is not of the Lord's planting. The tree itself does not thrive very well as the soil is not conducive to its growth, although the birds which lodge in the branches thereof are quite numerous. Thus spake the preacher!

The tree bears no fruit. In appearance, it very much resembles the stumps put in eagles' cages in zoological gardens. Its branches support on only the miffers and guano. As the Miff tree is not of the Lord's planting but transplanted into the Lord's garden by the great enemy, the devil, it is doomed to destruction, for the Master said: "Every plant which my Heavenly Father hath not planted shall be rooted up."

The miffers which lodge in this tree are neither beautiful nor useful birds. They are very much like "hospital ducks" — ducks which, because of infirmities, flock together but are not sought after by hunters. They are not desirable as food, being as a great nuisance. Their continued senseless cawing is exceedingly disagreeable.

Some of the Birds.

The first one we shall look at is not dead, but sleepeth. He has found a place in the topmost branches of the Miff tree, and at present is dreaming of the "good old times twenty years ago" when the sound advice of a pious deacon was not ignored in the management of the church.

It is to be hoped that when this old bird awakes he shall have fallen from his lofty perch never after to find a place in the Miff tree.

Just look at the other one away up near the top of the Miff tree. You cannot see the face of this brother; he has, according to his own words, "turned my back upon the whole business." He does not know how things are getting on down below, and what is more, he doesn't care to know either!

Number three is not crazy, although he looks suspiciously like it. He flew up into the Miff tree during an "unpleasantness" in a business meeting, and has been "jawing" ever since. At present he is wildly holding forth against the pastor, elders, managers, trustees, sexton, organist and most other people. He declares that the whole "caboodle" is a rotten ring, and that "the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint."

Not a Duck.

That bird over there is not a duck, although it might easily pass for one. It is only her "stuck-up-ishness" that makes her look so. It is "Birdie Soprano." She flew up the Miff tree because some member of the choir objected to her singing "Nellie Gray" at the memorial service of a deceased brother.

Three of a Feather.

Those three on that lower branch belong to the crank tribe, sometimes called "kickers." Do not think, although their heads are together, that they are making love to each other. They never make love to anybody. Naturalists tell us that they hate even themselves. There is to be a church business meeting and that is why these three crows have got their heads together. Their general plans are to join loudly in singing: "Blest be the tie that binds," and then to "caw" against the existing order of things, whatever that order may be, and to oppose every measure, good or bad, that may be proposed. Whether they know much about grammar or not I cannot tell, but I do know that they were born or hatched in "the objective case."

An Unlucky Bird.

If all the birds in the Miff tree were to be given a number, as sure are you are alive, this one would get 13. She very much resembles an owl, although she is more foolish than wise, but, like the owl, she has acquired the habit of moping, and of pecking at any one who may venture to approach her. She remained away for two Sundays, and when she came back no one asked her where she had been. When her children were sick with the measles nobody, not even the minister, called. Did she notify anybody? "No, indeed; it was their business to find out." When she changed her residence, nobody had cared enough about her to find out where she lived. The people down below were so "stuck-up" that "they did not care a fig whether she had a soul or not." So it came to pass that the poor bird flew away on one wing of bitterness and the other of sourness to find a place on one of the topmost branches of the Miff tree.

An Open Season.

The birds in the Miff tree are so numerous and make themselves so mueh of a nuisance to well-behaved people that it would be a good thing to have "a shooting match" and give the best shots lots of ammunition. Until we can have such a time may the Lord give us a good stock of what most of these birds seem to thrive on—soft soap, whitewash, and other people's patience.

John Plane told me that this sermon finished with this direct appeal which everybody was made to feel was a personal one: "Are you up the Miff tree? If so, I say unto you as the Lord said unto Zaccheus: Make haste and come down."

—Allan Fairbairn.

The Minister Remarks--

Those who depend upon luck to help them on their way don't often get very far, and they have themselves to blame for it!

Some men have no sense of humor and others can't help taking themselves seriously.

When is somebody going to start an Old Men's Christian Association? There's enough to do!

If the minority did not sometimes rule some concerns would be run by the fools.

Few men find time to come round the next day and tell you they were wrong. Yet some of them call themselves Christians!

Ingratitude is the meanest of human traits. And there's a lot of it in this good old world, too.

—A. F.

WEALTH

WEALTH consists, said Voltaire, in the abundance of useful and agreeable things. True, but well-being in a state, which is of more importance than wealth, consists in the abundance of healthy, happy, and normally well-conditioned human beings.

There was a time when no one thought of going to a dentist until he had a toothache. Yet, we are told on good authority, that those who go regularly to the dentist for examination spend less money with him than those who wait for a toothache to bring them in.

SCHOLARSHIP

THE claim that all scholarship is on the side of Modernism is nothing but brazen insolence and pompous assertion. With a superciliousness sufficient to discredit it, Modernism claims the earth in the matter of intellectualism, and has given no slightest evidence that its claims are true. We hear over and over again, ad nauseam, that "all scholars" have repudiated the Deity of Christ, the Inspiration of the Word of God, Miracles, Redemption, and all the rest that is held dear by those whose transactions with God make sure the everlasting foundations.—"Jesus Christ at the Crossroads." A. Z. Conrad.

Children's Corner

TELL US A STORY

THE early religious sculptors, preparing themselves for their task by prayer, by communion with the saints, by meditation or unearthly beauty, would put no imperfect work out of their hands, even when so placed that it could not possibly be seen; and when questioned why the concealed parts of statues, removed from human sight, should be so exquisitely wrought, they said that the eyes of the gods were there. Their own eyes were there, and they loved their work for their own thought of it, not for what men would say of it. This love of perfection for perfection's sake, in imitation of the workmanship of God, is the secret delight and sustaining strength of every worker whose faithfulness is great.

A Pen Picture

ANXIOUS watchers are on the city walls. Well may they be anxious, for whither can they look for help? They are hemmed in by a cruel and relentless foe. See the campfires twinkle all around in the darkness, and the neighing of the chariot horses can at times be distinctly heard.

Few slept that night in the city, except the little ones who lay down in happy ignorance of what might be on the morrow. Not that the inhabitants were stricken with terror; no, many of the besieged could rest in confidence: all were given the same promise, and some heartily believed.

Still, it was an anxious time at the best, and so they watch and wait, guarding the walls and peering into the darkness for fear of sudden alarm. But even then when they most feared there was least cause for terror—one was moving around and about them whom they saw not—and when in the dawn the watchers were joined by those who had risen early to look for the coming help, as they looked—O, wonder! it had already come when least expected, and in a manner exceeding abundantly above all they could ask or think.

What Faith Will Do

FAITH is the highest energy of the soul. It brings spiritual things into full view, so that we can see what is called the unseen; it enables us to climb to the mount of God's vision and value things as He, the eternal one, values them.

Faith lays hold of things hoped for, and attaints the unattainable. It leads from shadows to realities. It drinks where there is no water. It achieves success where failure lives. It endures in the vision of the invisible.

Faith leads to light which shines out the darkness of hopelessness—where faith is exercised sorrow and gloom flee away. It leads the soul to lofty living and generous giving. Believing God is, it rests in the smile of His approval.

Faith is the venture of the soul on God, on His word. It appropriates all essentials to teach men the reality of religion. It lives "Breast Forward" with God.

The human factor will always be the dominant factor in industry, because it is the creative factor. Machines may be made to do anything—except think!

What's The Difference!

WHAT an interesting study in contrasts many of us present to ourselves. Sometimes our work seems so easy. It just dashes itself off our hands and brain. We feel so light of spirit and so full of energy. There is an almost indescribable joy in mere performance. Life opens up new vistas before our wondering gaze. Difficulties seem easily conquered, and the world looks like a little bit of Paradise.

And then there comes a change! We experience weary, dreary hours, when we have to literally drag ourselves to our work. Like a balky mule, we can't get it to go forward. Nothing seems to come right, and we just long for the end of a miserable day!

It is in the first mood that we do our best work. And we are doing our biggest and most brilliant work because we are drawing upon the vast reserve forces which lie buried deep in every human organism.

No doubt it is because of indifference, wrong living, or downright laziness, that some people are in the second mood most of the time. As they miss that whole-hearted joy which only work well done can give they wonder why they are glued to the same spot while others pass them by! A little more reflection would explain a whole lot to such people.

Every man may, if he chooses, penetrate to that reserve supply of hidden vitality, and get all that life can offer.

Here is the secret how:

When work seems hardest, work your hardest! You will soon find yourself filled with a sense of liberation and power which makes everything possible.

Try it and you will find that it works. —A. F.

CHARACTER

IT is new circumstances that try a man, develop what is in him, and form his character. Therefore, the surest way to stunt your growth as a moral being, and make the formation of a manly character impossible, is to remain through life under the influence of the same narrow surroundings amid which you were born.

My Strong Aversions

A GREAT scholar who smells of Greek grammar, a small poet who parades his verses, an ignorant man who pretends to know, a deaf person who pretends to hear, and a woman who lets nothing alone.

You Are Welcome—Come! Come! Come!

The Prisoner at the Bar

HE had been sent out to get a check cashed and didn't bring back the money. And so he was there in the dock charged with the crime of grand larceny. As he stood up his head was about on a level with the judge's desk. It was his first contact with the majesty of the law and the strangeness and solemnity of it all were too much for him. He began to cry. You see he was only twelve years old.

But grief is no defense at the bar of justice. Tears don't wash away guilt; anyhow they don't restore money. And the law is implacable. But it happened in this instance that the minister of the law was first a man and then a judge. So he took the case under advisement, remarking, "I have had many kinds of criminals before me, but never a mere baby like this one," and turned the boy over to the truant officer pending decision.

Of course, there is nothing to be said for the boy's breach of trust. Nor can it be offered in extenuation that the boy used the money to make a visit to his grandfather. Nevertheless, the boy was not the only person at fault in this delinquency. The business man that sends a mere child of twelve out to get a check cashed may know a lot about business, but there's a lot about boys he doesn't know. There is a more or less familiar supplication, too, about leading us not into temptation. The business man might ponder those words in their application to everyday affairs.

SOPHISM

THERE is no social machinery so absurd and no political abuse so gross, as not to be able to boast of some secondary advantage arising out of its continuance.

I WONDER if you have ever heard of a Miff tree? Or, do you know what sort of a tree the Miff tree is? My good friend, John Plane, was telling me of an interesting time he had listening to a sermon by an eminent preacher. This sermon was entitled, "The Miff Tree—A Pictorial Sermon." John told me that the preacher had a large chart or sketch of a tree. As a tree it was not much to look at. There wasn't much bark on it, and it was almost destitute of leaves. It looked to be at the point of death, and seemed ashamed of the use to which it was being put. On its branches were perched some strange looking birds. While they looked like birds they had also a sort of a human look to them. Each bird represented some church member or official who had got out of sorts and taken to the Miff tree because of some real or fancied wrong inflicted upon him or her!

A Queer Assortment.

John said that without the sketch it was almost impossible to get a proper idea of what the various birds looked like. The artist, he said, had puts lots of expression into the face of each occupant of a place in the tree. He said: "Talk about strange birds! These were the strangest birds I ever set eyes upon. If any one of them could have seen himself or herself—for they were there of both sexes—as that artist had made it possible for me to see them they would have been so ashamed of themselves that they never could have been got into that Miff tree again!"

Where the Miff Tree Is.

The Miff tree is found in the garden of the Lord, but is not of the Lord's planting. The tree itself does not thrive very well as the soil is not conducive to its growth, although the birds which lodge in the branches thereof are quite numerous. Thus spake the preacher!

The tree bears no fruit. In appearance, it very much resembles the stumps put in eagles' cages in zoological gardens. Its branches support only the miffers and guano. As the Miff tree is not of the Lord's planting but transplanted into the Lord's garden by the great enemy, the devil, it is doomed to destruction, for the Master said: "Every plant which my Heavenly Father hath not planted shall be rooted up."

The miffers which lodge in this tree are neither beautiful nor useful birds. They are very much like "hospital ducks" — ducks which, because of infirmities, flock together but are not sought after by hunters. They are not desirable as food, being as a great nuisance. Their continued senseless cawing is exceedingly disagreeable.

Some of the Birds.

The first one we shall look at is not dead, but sleepeth. He has found a place in the topmost branches of the Miff tree, and at present is dreaming of the "good old times twenty years ago" when the sound advice of a pious deacon was not ignored in the management of the church.

It is to be hoped that when this old bird awakes he shall have fallen from his lofty perch never after to find a place in the Miff tree.

Just look at the other one away up near the top of the Miff tree. You cannot see the face of this brother; he has, according to his own words, "turned my back upon the whole business." He does not know how things are getting on down below, and what is more, he doesn't care to know either!

Number three is not crazy, although he looks suspiciously like it. He flew up into the Miff tree during an "unpleasantness" in a business meeting, and has been "jawing" ever since. At present he is wildly holding forth against the pastor, elders, managers, trustees, sexton, organist and most other people. He declares that the whole "caboodle" is a rotten ring, and that "the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint."

Not a Duck.

That bird over there is not a duck, although it might easily pass for one. It is only her "stuck-up-ishness" that makes her look so. It is "Birdie Soprano." She flew up the Miff tree because some member of the choir objected to her singing "Nellie Gray" at the memorial service of a deceased brother.

Three of a Feather.

Those three on that lower branch belong to the crank tribe, sometimes called "kickers." Do not think, although their heads are together, that they are making love to each other. They never make love to anybody. Naturalists tell us that they hate even themselves. There is to be a church business meeting and that is why these three crows have got their heads together. Their general plans are to join loudly in singing: "Blest be the tie that binds," and then to "caw" against the existing order of things, whatever that order may be, and to oppose every measure, good or bad, that may be proposed. Whether they know much about grammar or not I cannot tell, but I do know that they were born or hatched in "the objective case."

An Unlucky Bird.

If all the birds in the Miff tree were to be given a number, as sure are you are alive, this one would get 13. She very much resembles an owl, although she is more foolish than wise, but, like the owl, she has acquired the habit of moping, and of pecking at any one who may venture to approach her. She remained away for two Sundays, and when she came back no one asked her where she had been. When her children were sick with the measles nobody, not even the minister, called. Did she notify anybody? "No, indeed; it was their business to find out." When she changed her residence, nobody had cared enough about her to find out where she lived. The people down below were so "stuck-up" that "they did not care a fig whether she had a soul or not." So it came to pass that the poor bird flew away on one wing of bitterness and the other of sourness to find a place on one of the topmost branches of the Miff tree.

An Open Season.

The birds in the Miff tree are so numerous and make themselves so much of a nuisance to well-behaved people that it would be a good thing to have "a shooting match" and give the best shots lots of ammunition. Until we can have such a time may the Lord give us a good stock of what most of these birds seem to thrive on—soft soap, whitewash, and other people's patience.

John Plane told me that this sermon finished with this direct appeal which everybody was made to feel was a personal one: "Are you up the Miff tree? If so, I say unto you as the Lord said unto Zaccheus: Make haste and come down."

—Allan Fairbairn.

The Minister Remarks--

Those who depend upon luck to help them on their way don't often get very far, and they have themselves to blame for it!

Some men have no sense of humor and others can't help taking themselves seriously.

When is somebody going to start an Old Men's Christian Association? There's enough to do!

If the minority did not sometimes rule some concerns would be run by the fools.

Few men find time to come round the next day and tell you they were wrong. Yet some of them call themselves Christians!

Ingratitude is the meanest of human traits. And there's a lot of it in this good old world, too.

—A. F.

WEALTH

WEALTH consists, said Voltaire, in the abundance of useful and agreeable things. True, but well-being in a state, which is of more importance than wealth, consists in the abundance of healthy, happy, and normally well-conditioned human beings.

There was a time when no one thought of going to a dentist until he had a toothache. Yet, we are told on good authority, that those who go regularly to the dentist for examination spend less money with him than those who wait for a toothache to bring them in.

SCHOLARSHIP

THE claim that all scholarship is on the side of Modernism is nothing but brazen insolence and pompous assertion. With a superciliousness sufficient to discredit it, Modernism claims the earth in the matter of intellectualism, and has given no slightest evidence that its claims are true. We hear over and over again, ad nauseam, that "all scholars" have repudiated the Deity of Christ, the Inspiration of the Word of God, Miracles, Redemption, and all the rest that is held dear by those whose transactions with God make sure the everlasting foundations.—"Jesus Christ at the Crossroads." A. Z. Conrad.

TELL US A STORY

THE early religious sculptors, preparing themselves for their task by prayer, by communion with the saints, by meditation or unearthly beauty, would put no imperfect work out of their hands, even when so placed that it could not possibly be seen; and when questioned why the concealed parts of statues, removed from human sight, should be so exquisitely wrought, they said that the eyes of the gods were there. Their own eyes were there, and they loved their work for their own thought of it, not for what men would say of it. This love of perfection for perfection's sake, in imitation of the workmanship of God, is the secret delight and sustaining strength of every worker whose faithfulness is great.

ANXIOUS watchers are on the city walls. Well may they be anxious, for whither can they look for help? They are hemmed in by a cruel and relentless foe. See the campfires twinkle all around in the darkness, and the neighing of the chariot horses can at times be distinctly heard.

Few slept that night in the city, except the little ones who lay down in happy ignorance of what might be on the morrow. Not that the inhabitants were stricken with terror; no, many of the besieged could rest in confidence: all were given the same promise, and some heartily believed.

Still, it was an anxious time at the best, and so they watch and wait, guarding the walls and peering into the darkness for fear of sudden alarm. But even then when they most feared there was least cause for terror—one was moving around and about them whom they saw not—and when in the dawn the watchers were joined by those who had risen early to look for the coming help, as they looked—O, wonder! it had already come when least expected, and in a manner exceeding abundantly above all they could ask or think.

What Faith Will Do

FAITH is the highest energy of the soul. It brings spiritual things into full view, so that we can see what is called the unseen; it enables us to climb to the mount of God's vision and value things as He, the eternal one, values them.

Faith lays hold of things hoped for, and attaints the unattainable. It leads from shadows to realities. It drinks where there is no water. It achieves success where failure lives. It endures in the vision of the invisible.

Faith leads to light which shines out the darkness of hopelessness—where faith is exercised sorrow and gloom flee away. It leads the soul to lofty living and generous giving. Believing God is, it rests in the smile of His approval.

Faith is the venture of the soul on God, on His word. It appropriates all essentials to teach men the reality of religion. It lives "Breast Forward" with God.

The human factor will always be the dominant factor in industry, because it is the creative factor. Machines may be made to do anything—except think!

What's The Difference!

WHAT an interesting study in contrasts many of us present to ourselves. Sometimes our work seems so easy. It just dashes itself off our hands and brain. We feel so light of spirit and so full of energy. There is an almost indescribable joy in mere performance. Life opens up new vistas before our wondering gaze. Difficulties seem easily conquered, and the world looks like a little bit of Paradise.

And then there comes a change! We experience weary, dreary hours, when we have to literally drag ourselves to our work. Like a balky mule, we can't get it to go forward. Nothing seems to come right, and we just long for the end of a miserable day!

It is in the first mood that we do our best work. And we are doing our biggest and most brilliant work because we are drawing upon the vast reserve forces which lie buried deep in every human organism.

No doubt it is because of indifference, wrong living, or downright laziness, that some people are in the second mood most of the time. As they miss that whole-hearted joy which only work well done can give they wonder why they are glued to the same spot while others pass them by! A little more reflection would explain a whole lot to such people.

Every man may, if he chooses, penetrate to that reserve supply of hidden vitality, and get all that life can offer.

Here is the secret how:

When work seems hardest, work your hardest! You will soon find yourself filled with a sense of liberation and power which makes everything possible.

Try it and you will find that it works. —A. F.

CHARACTER

IT is new circumstances that try a man, develop what is in him, and form his character. Therefore, the surest way to stunt your growth as a moral being, and make the formation of a manly character impossible, is to remain through life under the influence of the same narrow surroundings amid which you were born.

My Strong Aversions

A GREAT scholar who smells of Greek grammar, a small poet who parades his verses, an ignorant man who pretends to know, a deaf person who pretends to hear, and a woman who lets nothing alone.

The Prisoner at the Bar

HE had been sent out to get a check cashed and didn't bring back the money. And so he was there in the dock charged with the crime of grand larceny. As he stood up his head was about on a level with the judge's desk. It was his first contact with the majesty of the law and the strangeness and solemnity of it all were too much for him. He began to cry. You see he was only twelve years old.

But grief is no defense at the bar of justice. Tears don't wash away guilt; anyhow they don't restore money. And the law is implacable. But it happened in this instance that the minister of the law was first a man and then a judge. So he took the case under advisement, remarking, "I have had many kinds of criminals before me, but never a mere baby like this one," and turned the boy over to the truant officer pending decision.

Of course, there is nothing to be said for the boy's breach of trust. Nor can it be offered in extenuation that the boy used the money to make a visit to his grandfather. Nevertheless, the boy was not the only person at fault in this delinquency. The business man that sends a mere child of twelve out to get a check cashed may know a lot about business, but there's a lot about boys he doesn't know. There is a more or less familiar supplication, too, about leading us not into temptation. The business man might ponder those words in their application to everyday affairs.

SOPHISM

THERE is no social machinery so absurd and no political abuse so gross, as not to be able to boast of some secondary advantage arising out of its continuance.

AQUATIC SPORTS.

The attempt that is being made to arouse interest here in aquatic sports is a movement that deserves support.

It is a mystery to newcomers to Peterborough why in a place so fortunately situated as this city is and so widely known as the home of some of the finest small boat manufacturing plants in the country there should be such little development in aquatics.

There is no rowing, no organized paddling, and while a very large proportion of our young people have learned to swim, we have really no racing swimmers, and there is a total lack of expert drivers.

We have no rowing club, no canoe club, no swimming club—yet we make some of the best small boats in the world, and we have a splendid river flowing through the city and available for all forms of water sports.

This campaign to stir up enthusiasm for aquatic events deserves to succeed, for it will not only provide entertainment for occasions when there is usually little sporting activity, but it may succeed in starting a drive to put Peterborough on the map from the viewpoint of water sports.

MAKE IT A SAFE WEEK-END.

With fine weather to-morrow the traffic on Ontario's highways will be at its peak for the present season, and while the number of cars on the road will not approach the total that will be reached next month when the full flood of tourist traffic will be felt, there will be enough traffic moving to demand careful driving from everybody to prevent accidents.

Last Sunday nine people were killed and fourteen injurd in motor accidents in this Province.

It is as true as it is horrible to reflect upon that as many or more lives will be snuffed out to-morrow if people have not learned something from the tragedies of a week ago.

An analysis of those tragedies shows that practically all of them could have been averted by care, courtesy and common sense.

Few of them would have occurred if somebody had not taken a chance.

Hundreds of Peterborough citizens will be driving on the highways to-morrow.

May we appeal to them to remember the need at all times of cautious driving and to endeavor to see to it that no lives are jeopardized by careless or reckless handling of their machines?

And recall to them the Quebec Highways Department warning: "It's no use speeding if you never get there."

A GREAT NEWSPAPER MAN.

The sudden passing of John R. Bone, managing editor of the Toronto Star, has removed from the Canadian newspaper field one of its outstanding members.

Mr. Bone, for twenty-one years the Star's managing editor and for some time before receiving that appointment a member of its editorial staff, was a great newspaper man whose work was known and whose value was appreciated not only in his native country but in the British Isles and the United States.

He played a great part in the unique development of the Toronto Star, but found time in the midst of all the demands made upon him by his responsible duties with that newspaper to take a prominent share in wider fields of newspaper endeavor, particularly in connection with the Canadian Press Association, of which organization he was for some years secretary and afterward president, and the Canadian Press United, of which he was an executive member.

His friendship was esteemed, his counsel appreciated and his work admired by newspaper men in all parts of Canada with whom his activities had brought him into contact, and the tidings of his quick taking-off in the prime of life and at the peak of his career has been received with deep regret everywhere.

SECOND TO NONE IN ONTARIO.

It must have been with a feeling of much satisfaction that citizens of Peterborough read the tribute given the teaching staff of the local Collegiate Institute in the report of Inspector A. J. Husband.

The praise alloted by the inspector to Principal Kenner and the members of his staff was deserved and unstinted, who commented upon the fact that the whole personnel was composed of experienced teachers, a condition rarely found and reflecting upon the happy relationships between principal and staff.

The providing of educational facilities costs a lot of money, and is responsible for tax bills over which we are inclined to grumble.

But after all the thing that matters is whether or not we get value for our money, and the tone of the inspector's report leaves little doubt of that.

The community that fails to provide proper educational facilities is a second-class community, and we in Peterborough can take pride in the fact that we are in the first division when this department of municipal activity is considered.

Inspector Husband's report makes that clear.

He says, and his words should be gratifying to the whole community, "The Peterborough Collegiate, under the inspiration and guidance of Principal Kenner and other gifted teachers, has enjoyed an enviable reputation among the schools of the Province. When the building under construction is completed and equipped the boys and girls of Peterborough will enjoy opportunities in the matter of getting an education that are not excelled in any part of Ontario."

That's a sentence that should find a place in any Peterborough advertising propaganda that may be sent out.

THE LINDBERGH HALO.

Col. Lindbergh's place as a public idol of the United States has endured far beyond the period accorded most of those who win sudden and widespread fame by an outstanding achievement, and the reaction to the statements of a Texas editor that the celebrated "Lone Eagle" was guilty of discourtesy indicates that the American public is not yet prepared to choose his successor.

Gene Howe, editor of the Amarillo (Texas) Globe, declared in an editorial that Col. Lindbergh suffered from "grinned" when he read the editorial and remarked philosophically that he was surprised the public had not sooner "started backsliding." "If," he commented, "this is the beginning of the end I am more or less ready for it."

But in the meantime harsh telegrams have poured upon the editorial head condemning his attitude—with a few which commend his stand. He is attacked vigorously as "a cheap publicity adventurer who has attacked a public idol for the purpose of attracting attention" and members of his staff asked police protection in the fear that an attempt might be made to do him bodily harm.

Editor Howe refuses to retract anything he has said, and there the matter rests. "I had no intention of stirring up this ruckus," he said, "but now that it has started it is perfectly all right with me."

Then he continued:

> "Lindbergh is only a boy, still moist behind the ears, and even if he has flown to Paris there is no reason why he should be permitted to be discourteous to those who have a natural and wholesome impulse to see him."

This may not improve the situation greatly with the Colonel's worshippers, but it is getting Amarillo and Editor Howe some more publicity. As a matter of fact if Col Lindbergh has gone through the past thirteen months without acquiring what Gene Howe calls a swelled head that in itself is an achievement little less remarkable than the flight which brought him fame and acclaim.—Ottawa Journal.

TAKING THE GLAMOR FROM CRIME.

The maxim "Honesty is the best policy" has often been adversely criticized as immoral, emphasizing expediency instead of right in contrast with wrong. Of course, the moral appeal is the finest. But those who suffer from wrongdoing will hardly object to the use of any argument which will restrain the criminal. After all, what is the purpose of arresting criminals and putting them in jail, except to show them that crime does not pay, and that honesty is the best policy? Furthermore, it is useful to remove the false glamor that sometimes surrounds a life of crime. The Recorder of Manchester is authority for the statement that the average earnings of a burglar in England are about three dollars a week. An American journal makes this comment:

> "The amounts gathered in by burglars in this country may average higher than the estimate for England, but it is safe to say that they are too small to justify the risk and dangers involved. Sooner or later, almost invariably, the criminal gets caught and finds that whatever success he may have had in gathering money in the past is worth nothing to him when he has to answer for his misdeeds.
>
> "Sometimes a burglar or hold-up man gets away with a large sum of money. These cases are the exceptions rather than the rule, though, and the occasions when they make large hauls are rare. And in nearly every instance, the law finally wins and the criminal must pay his debt to society in hard work, misery and mental suffering—full measure many times over for all that he has taken by unlawful methods. All in all, crime never pays."

Confinement in jail can hardly be described as an exhilarating experience. But even when at liberty the life is hard and filled with sordid anxieties. The repentant criminal, on regaining his freedom, finds it difficult to obtain honest work to do. The unrepentant is like a hunted animal. Stories of gentlemen burglars who live a double life, mingling in fashionable society and enjoying luxury, are largely fanciful. When a crime is committed, the detectives usually go to certain well-recognized haunts of criminals, places not noted for luxury, refinement or comfort, knowing that criminals are likely to drift into such places. A lawbreaker who "put on airs" might be hunted down and blackmailed by old associates in crime.

Such considerations may be regarded as on a lower plane than that of morals, but the warning must be addressed to persons whose moral sense is already blunted and who might scoff at an appeal to conscience.—London Advertiser.

The Question Box

B. M. Q.—Has mica ever been found in Peterborough district?

A.—Yes. In 1920 mica was mined at the head of Stoney Lake.

T. W. Q.—(1) What was the population of the city in 1905, 1925 and last year? (2) What was the tax per head in these years?

A.—(1) 1905—14,175; 1925—21,726; 1927—21,519. (2) 1905—18 mills; 1925—36 mills; 1927—36 mills.

W. E. Q.—Is there an organization of grocers in the city?

A.—The Retail Grocers' Association was organized in November, 1912.

A. D. Q.—Was Princess Patricia ever in Peterborough?

A.—Yes. She visited the city with the Duke of Connaught, then Governor General, in June, 1914.

R. B. Q.—Where is Brobdingnag?

A.—This is an imaginary country described in Swift's Gulliver's Travels as peopled by a race of men as tall as a church spire.

T. F. Q.—Who painted the picture "Christ Washing Peter's Feet"?

A.—The British painter, Ford Madox Brown, in 1851. The picture hangs in the Tate Gallery, London. It has been often repainted.

G. W. Q.—Is the Golden Rule a Scripture text?

A.—"The Golden Rule" is the name given a precept of Christ appearing in Matthew 7:12: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them."

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, June 9. — Cattle prices barely held steady this week. Packers buyers started out in Monday's market with a strong attempt to put the prices down a notch or two, and after a stubborn fight which partly held up trading for a while, did succeed in getting a quarter knocked off top prices in the heavy steers class. Deliveries of heavy steers were increased beyond the usual proportion by the delivery of cattle bought earlier in the season for feeding. Except for special fancy quality steers, the market remained draggy all week, and at the close there were still a number of the coarser heavies unsold.

The drive on the heavy steers did not affect the general tone of the market for the handy weight finished butcher class. Trade in fact became more active in the mid-week market, and prices were well maintained, with the exceptions already referred to.

As regards the future trend of the market, and survey of the situation by Secretary S. C. McKee, of the Live Stock Branch of United Farmers' Co-operative, affords some interesting information. Mr. McKee points out that while in the Ontario Province there is a fair supply of cattle, in other provinces there is a scarcity. The statistics for the years 1926-27 show that in 1926 there were marketed in Canada 1,362,287 cattle. The number marketed in 1927 was 1,162,826, a decline of 199,461. In the year 1927 the number of calves marketed in Canada was 373,480, most of these being Durhams, Polled Angus, and Herefords, the breeds usually kept for feeding for beef cattle.

It is the heavy drain on the supply of calves that accounts for the present threatened scarcity of beef cattle for marketing. From that premise it is argued that cattle prices will remain at comparatively high levels for the next year or two.

This week's market closed steady to firm in the small meat sections. Hogs showed signs of weakening a little, with packers bidding 25c to 50c lower for next week.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., June 9 (Canadian Press). — A feature of the local grain trade yesterday was the marked improvement in the demand from both export and domestic buyers with the result that an active business was done. Sales were estimated at half a million bushels, which consisted largely of No. 1 feed oats at four cents per bushel over the Winnipeg July option, and No. 3 Canadian Western at six cents per bushel over, while No. 3 barley sold to New York exporters at nine cents over, and the sales of No. 2 Northern and No. 6 wheat were made all c.i.f. Montreal. A fair trade was also done in car lots and prices were firm.

The demand for spring and winter wheat grades of flour was of a limited character, but values were unchanged.

The millfeed trade was quiet, but values were firm. An easier feeling in the market for rolled oats at the late decline in prices with a moderate amount of business passing.

There were no new developments in the local egg situation, the undertone to the market being steady, but the volume of business was not large owing to the fact that buyers only purchased sufficient to meet their week-end requirements. The receipts were 2,679 cases.

The condition of the market for potatoes was unchanged. The demand was steady for odd cars for local account to meet immediate wants and a moderate trade was done.

There was a good inquiry for imported beans, but owing to the small arrivals of late and the light stocks on spot, buyers had some difficulty in filling their wants, and the volume of business was small. The tone of the market was firm, with car lots of choice hand-picked grades quoted at $3.90 per bushel, ex-track, and smaller quantities at $4.10 per bushel, ex-store.

The firmer undertone that developed in the butter market on Thursday was more pronounced yesterday, and a further advance of ¼c per pound was established, which was attributed to the increased demand and the fact that holders were not free sellers. The receipts were 3,256 packages.

The demand from English importers for cheese was again somewhat indifferent, and the volume of business in this direction was reported small. The tone of the spot market remains very firm, with some trading going on between houses. The receipts were 7,238 boxes.

GOD'S MINUTE

Then will I hear from Heaven, and forgive their sins.—II Chr. 7:14.

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the way of approach to Thyself through the rent veil of the flesh of Jesus Christ, Our Lord; for the efficacy of His most precious blood, which cleanseth from all sin; for the promise of help through the Holy Spirit, when we know not what we should pray for; for the assurance that Thou hearest us, and dost delight to answer our prayers when they are in accord with Thy Holy Will. We bless Thee for Thine unspeakable Gift, for the matchless expression of Thy love in the Sacrifice of Christ, and for the grace so freely bestowed upon the sinful sons of men. Accept the homage of our hearts, the surrender of our wills, the consecration of our powers, and help us in all circumstances to be true to Thee. Deliver us in the time of temptation. Keep our feet so that our steps may not slide, and help us not to sin against Thee. Enable us to realize that sin is our enemy, that it hides Thee from us, and will, if indulged in, ruin us in time and eternity. Fill us with the spirit of Jesus, that all our speech and conduct may reveal His life in us, and that we may constantly glorify Thee, our adorable God. Graciously accept us and our petitions in the name of Jesus our Lord. Amen.

A Thought

SILENCE AND SPEECH.

A young man who was an inveterate talker was sent by his parents to Socrates to learn oratory. On being presented to Socrates the young man spoke so much that Socrates was out of patience. When the bargain came to be struck Socrates asked him double the price. "Why charge me double" asked the young man. "Because," said Socrates, "I must teach you two sciences; the one to hold your tongue and the other how to speak."—Selected.

THE ARRIVAL OF KITTY

Havelock, June 9.— The Arrival of Kitty," a delightful three-act comedy, was presented in the town hall on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Dramatic Club of the Havelock United Church choir to a capacity house. The play was under the direction of the Rev. W. R. Archer, and his fine directing ability was manifested in the production. Every member of the cast was well chosen and is to be congratulated because of the feeling of naturalness which they managed to convey in the portrayal of their allotted roles.

H. McGill, as William Winkler, a bachelor, gave a capable performance of an interesting role. The difficult part of his sister, Aunt Jane," who was eager to secure a husband, was admirably sustained by Miss Lucy Wing. Miss Ina Morrison, as his niece, Jane," was well suited to her part, and carried it through in splendid style. The role of Bobbie Baxter, Jane's suitor, was ably taken by Wallace Denike, and later he scored heavily in his impersonation of Kitty," an actress. A favorite always with the local audience, Joseph Faulkner, in his role of Benjamin Moore from New York, lent the greater touches of humor. Miss Gladys Bell, as Kitty," an actress, was well suited to her part. The remaining roles were carried out in splendid style—Miss Bessie Roberts as Susette, ladies' maid; Robert Archer as Ting," proprietor of Tranquility Hotel," in the Catskill Mountains, and Grenville Thompson as Sam, the colored porter, the latter also causing much laughter by his witticisms.

The symphony orchestra, under the leadership of R. Bonney, played while the audience was gathering and between acts, and the excellence of their performance was much appreciated.

The members of the cast were entertained by the choir to a banquet held in the basement of the church after the performance.

LEBRUN'S SALE CAUSES EXCITEMENT

It has been many a day since so many people turned out to a sale in Peterborough. Men came from all the nearby towns as well as from all over the city. It is rumored that something unusual is going to take place at the above store on Monday, and no doubt a curious crowd will gather. It seems rather out of the way for such new and up-to-the minute stocks to be sold so ridiculously cheap, but United Selling System representative claims he is only carrying out orders which cannot be rescinded.—Advt.

MOTHER'S LOVE NOT MEASURABLE

Mother Travels Far to See Wayward Son.

TORONTO, Ont., June 8 (CP).—Editorial references are being made in city papers under the heading "A Mother's Love for a Wayward Son" to the story of Mrs. Peter Storms' journey from Saskatoon to this city. The 'Mail' thinks her exploit "deserves to be recorded o n something more lasting even than brass. The physical strain upon the woman can easily be imagined, but the strength of a mother's love is not to be measured. It truly passes the understanding."

The 22-year-old youth had left the farm last year when work was scarce and came to Toronto, where he drifted into bad company. Hearing of his plight, his mother travelled 2,675 miles, with only two nights' sleep, to take her boy back home. "I pushed along pretty hard," she said, "but I will take it easier going back. It has been worth while to get the boy home."

It was no mere flight of poetic fancy that found expression in Kipling's well-known poem, "Mother O' Mine," says the 'Globe.' The debt that the world owes to the steadfast love of the mothers of men is incalculable.

KING AND QUEEN VISIT GALLERIES

Central Figures Among Picture Lovers at London Exhibits.

LONDON, June 8.—The King and Queen were the central figures in a very interesting group of picture-lovers whom the president of the Royal Academy, Sir Frank Dicksee, escorted through the principal galleries at Burlington House recently. Prince George accompanied his parents, and Queen Maud of Norway, Princess Victoria, the Princess Royal, and Princess Beatrice met their Majesties there during the afternoon. Lord and Lady Harewood and Lord Lascelles were other visitors.

LITTLE LAMB IS USED.

Only Nine Pounds a Year Is Average Consumption.

TORONTO, Ont., June 8. (CP).—With high quality spring lamb as tasty as chicken, and almost as cheap as good beef, there is no reason why the consumption of it should remain around nine pounds a year when Canadians are eating 75 pounds of beef.

On an average, the Canadian household disposes of 80 pounds of pork per capita, but only 10 pounds of lamb and mutton. It is the tourist who seems to appreciate it most, and who calls loudly for it. The consumption of lamb is gradually increasing, and with beef scarce at present and likely to remain so, for at least several years, this demand will increase. Furthermore, there has been very rapid improvement in the quality of Canadian lamb recently, and this meat is beginning to receive an honored place on the menu.

Miss Margaret O'Donohue was home over the holiday visiting her parents.

Mrs. Eustacia McColl spent Tuesday in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Putnam, of Brighton, are spending a few days with their son Ray and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Stillman Herrington, of Frankford, called on Mrs. Herrington's sister, Mrs. Kell Terrill.

The Women's Missionary Society met on Tuesday afternoon in United church parlors with twenty members present. The president, Mrs. S. L. Terrill in the chair. The opening song service of temperance hymns, followed by prayer by different members, the Scripture lesson, then the minutes read and adopted. The president of Baby Band, Miss Frances Terrill, presented the problems of entertainment and proper lunch to serve to the babies and their mothers on the day of their party, which will be held at Miss Terrill's home. The members of the Auxiliary are to be present and serve the lunch. The suggested temperance program was presented by the president, Mrs. F. A. Darland and Mrs. C. R. Terrill. This opened a discussion and many incidents were related and statements read from the latest reports. Then the Watch Tower was read by ten heralds, relating to the temperance question in each of the provinces of Canada and in Newfoundland. Mrs. C. R. Terrill and Miss Frances sang "The army of temperance is gathering its men." The meeting then closed with prayer by Mrs. J. W. Lawson.

Rev. and Mrs. Mutton of Cambray, called on Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Down on Tuesday.

PLANT IS LIVING GAS WORKS

A plant that is a living gas works has been discovered by Dr. W. A. Hamor, Assistant Director of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research. It generates gas which can be lighted with a match. This plant, the dittany, grows in southern Europe and central Asia. Its generating volatile oil. In warm weather the oil evaporates, making the air about the plant inflammable.

One night Professor Gasor, the great astronomer noticed through his telescope that various stars in one of the great constellations had different numbers of points to them. He was able to group these odd stars. This discovery so startled the scientific world that it was decided to find out what it all meant. After tremendous research it was decided that one of the planets was using this method to send the world an important message. By mathematical calculation Professor Gasor was able to decipher the message. His colleagues naturally wanted to know all about it, but he would not give them the message. He told them to work it out for themselves.

How He Did It

"You will notice," the professor told them, "some stars have three points, others four points, some five, or six points, etc. The number of points each star has determines what letter of the word of the message that star stands for. For instance if a star has three points it is the letter a. However, if it has four points it is either d, e, or f. Some stars represent only one letter, some 2 letters and some 3 letters. I have worked out the table code for you, now you count the number of points on each star and try to find what letter each star stands for, by referring to the table code. I have correctly arranged the stars so that each row of stars spells a word of the message. In order to help you a bit the first word is "Greatest."

BREWERY GRAIN CONTRACT LET

Garnet Stalker, R. R. 4, Will Draw Away By-Product as Food For Cattle.

EXCELLENT RATION.

The Peterborough Brewing Company has let the contract for brewery grains to Garnet Stalker, R.R. No. 4, Peterborough. The brewery grain has been considered for a number of years as an excellent feed for dairy cattle. During the latter days of the Calcutt Brewing and Malting Company the grain was in great demand by the dairymen of this district. For a great many years it was not known that the brewery grain was such an excellent feed for cattle and it was taken out and dumped in the river. Mr. Stalker intends to conduct the resale of the product from the Peterborough Brewery to the farmers of this vicinity.

Woman's fondest hope is that she will be weighed and found wanting.

Wheat Taks Record Jump Spring Crop Is Only Fair

CHICAGO, June 9 (Canadian Press).—Big jumps in wheat values took place early to-day as a result of the government crop report and of the advances of immense export trade. Official figures indicating that the condition of domestic Spring wheat is much lower than was looked for were construed as radically bullish. Starting at 2¼ to 4¼ cents advance, wheat held near to the initial range. Corn, oats, and provisions likewise advanced, corn opening ⅞ cent to 1⅜ cent higher, but afterward reacting.

RIVAL ARMIES NEAR PEKING

Clash Between Two Factions of Nationalist Forces Not Expected.

PEKING, June 9 (Canadian Press) —Uncounted thousands of troops of two factions of the Nationalist Army, those from Shansi Province and those commanded by General Feng Yu-Hsiang, were close to Peking on three sides to-day. It was believed, however, that there was no danger of a clash at present, as Feng was expected to turn his attention to Tientsin and try to drive out the Northern forces there.

NURSING CLASS GIVEN DIPLOMAS

she opened her largest villa, expended her fortune in properly equipping it, obtained the services of the best physician and surgeons of her day and personally nursed and attended the sick and trained slaves to assist the doctors and herself in the work.

"Thus in 390 A.D. was opened in Rome the first general public hospital and our first nurse appeared—and this as the result of Fabiola's conversion to Christianity.

"Is it not fitting that these, her successors, should have received their training and instructions in a hospital sponsored by a Christian Church?

"Since the day of Fabiola tremendous advances have taken place in medicine, surgery, hospitals and nursing. I will not attempt even to touch on these, but I would like to just call your attention to some of the many fields of activity that are open to our graduate nurses to-day. Private nursing; private nursing to-day is taking a continuously lessening percentage; institutional nursing—all hospitals and similar institutions have to be staffed by a competent and goodly number of trained nurses; industrial nursing,—many of the larger factories have one or more nurses in attendance at all times.

'District nursing: here the nurse has probably the best chance to do the greatest good for the largest number, social hygiene, red cross, school nursing.

'There are many others, and just now has come a new sphere.

'The training and instruction of nurses has been, up to now, in the hands of practical workers, the doctors on the hospital staff, and the hospital superintendent and her staff.

'The sisters of St. Joseph have been indefatigable in their efforts along this line and they have accomplished wonders.

'However, suppose a young woman wished to become, say, a stenographer, would she go to some one who was most capable along this line and busy with her typewriter for eight hours a day? I think she would put herself under the tuition of a teacher of typing. Before we are satisfied to let our school teachers undertake the training of our children they must go to Normal school and so those who have at heart the best teaching of nurses have felt that those entrusted with this important task should be specially trained as teachers of nursing. There is now a course in Cornell, McGill, and Toronto Universities, which is open to graduate nurses. Such trained teachers are needed. I suppose all of us know how to subtract, but I think if we were confronted with a class of eight-year-old boys and girls and asked to teach them how to do it, we would fail miserably. That's where the Normal schools come in and so also the training school for teachers of nursing. I would commend to this class such a course."

Address to the Class.

His Lordship Bishop O'Brien gave the address to the graduating class, a brief speech worded in the Bishop's usual interesting, friendly style, with a humorous touch in an introductory anecdote. Congratulating the graduates and their parents on this attainment of a desired goal, His Lordship referred to the nursing profession as one of the most beautiful avocations for women.

'The nurse, like the doctor, has a great deal to do with the preservation of human life and comes closely in contact with the laws of Nature. I do not see how a nurse or a doctor, engaged in this work of healing, can be anything but virtuous, nor fail to be impressed by the existence of an All-Wise Being.

"A nurse, besides being of great assistance to the physician in his work, can also help the family of the sufferer. Service is the popular catchword of the day but it applies admirably to the work of the nurse, who should be just as eager in rendering service to the poor as to the wealthy, when called upon to do so."

The Bishop thanked sincerely the doctors of the hospital staff who had given so much time in lecturing to the nurses and spoke of the co-operative manner in which the physicians, nurses and staff of the hospital worked together for the good of the patient. Alluding to the rules and regulations, the Bishop said they were made exacting so that all things might be done properly for the benefit of the patient in the hospital.

The distribution of diploma and medals to the graduates was made by Dr. F. C. Neal and the distribution of special prizes was made by Dr. F. O'Reilly, both physicians, in brief speeches, congratulating the graduates on their perseverance during a difficult course of training and adjuring them to carry the knowledge thus attained into practical use in their future life.

A prize given by the Hospital Board for highest marks was awarded to Miss Marguerite Hogan, who also received the prize given by the staff for bandaging. Miss Kathleen Doherty received the prize given by the Alumnae Association, for deportment.

Rev. K. Corkery, present on the stage with His Lordship, also added a few words of congratulations to the graduating class.

The musical program of the evening was heartily applauded. It included a piano duet, 'If I Were King," by the Misses Agnes Grant and Mary Reynolds; a piano quartette, 'Galop Marche," by the Misses Veronica Scollard, Hilda Sullivan, Mary Reynolds and Helen Archambault, and a reading by Mrs. Hazel Davidson McClelland, whose vivacious rendition of 'Peace Night in London," brought her much applause and resulted in a funny little encore. Joseph Nolan played a violin solo, 'Liebestraume," with accompaniment by Miss Mary Reynolds, and Miss Agnes Grant played the accompaniment for the part song in which six young ladies took part, the Misses Noreen MacPherson; Hilda Sullivan, Veronica Scollard, Mary Reynolds, Irene Hourigan and Helen Archambault.

The Catholic Women's League was in charge of arrangements last night and gave very efficient service during the program and the reception which followed, described more fully in another column. A dance in the assembly hall wound up the entertainment of the evening.

very sturdy build, surpassing anything before in compactness. The instrument is manufactured by Whild, a Swiss make. This instrument now does the work that up to two years ago was done by an instrument weighing one hundred and twenty-five pounds, while the present one weighs about twenty-five. It is carried in a very strong metal case that has a shell-like appearance. It will read angles up to the very fine measurement of one-tenth of a second.

The tape being used is the very expensive invarnon expanding type, of 200 feet. This tape will not expand with the heat and cold, giving a very great degree of accuracy.

The area to be covered this year extends from Pigeon Lake to Trenton and from Crow Lake to Lake Ontario. The control party will be followed by a party of topographers next year. They moved here from Lindsay two weeks ago and will remain here for three or four weeks, then going to Lakefield for their headquarters.

The maps will be available in three years time from the Department of National Defence, Geographic section, at Ottawa.

STOCKING A FISHLESS DISTRICT

According to all available reports and information no species of trout has ever been found in the waters of southern Saskatchewan. Beginning in 1924 the Dominion Department of Marine and Fisheries planted brown and Loch Leven trout fry in several streams in the Cypress Hills district and closed these streams to fishing. Up the present the fish have done very well. They have survived three winters; some reproduced last autumn in their third year; and specimens have been caught nearly a pound in weight and over a foot in length. While it is too soon to form an opinion regarding the final outcome of this introduction, the evidence to date is causing much local interest and enthusiasm, as the prospect of angling in a district that has hitherto been devoid of such sport is viewed with pleasure.

A STATEMENT

RELATING TO THE FUTURE OF THE CHRYSLER CORPORATION and DODGE BROTHERS, INC.

The widespread public interest in recent events affecting the Chrysler Corporation and Dodge Brothers, Inc., deserves an authentic and official statement and an assurance regarding the future of these two corporations.

Subject to the approval of stockholders, Dodge Brothers, Inc., will be acquired by the Chrysler Corporation, the plan of amalgamation having been recommended by their respective boards of directors.

Each of these great institutions will retain its identity, and will continue, as heretofore, to produce and market its own product in accordance with the high and progressive standards from which motor car buyers the world over have previously benefited.

Each will benefit from the consummation of a plan which unites such tremendous resources in material, manufacturing facilities, financial power and manufacturing genius.

Dodge Brothers will continue to be Dodge Brothers, and Chrysler will be Chrysler. Their products will be separate and distinct and will be continued in production without interruption. Their sales organizations will be unrelated except as they shall mutually share in the advantages of the consolidation.

Both public and dealers may look forward to the greater benefits which the consolidation of such tremendous resources will produce—and the men identified with these businesses may be assured of a stable and definite future, inspired by the progressiveness which has been responsible for this uniting of two great companies.

HUDSON On the Open Road

Where great performance is Master Indeed!

Its performance has centered on Hudson the most dramatic public interest ever extended any car. Thousands, riding daily, are carrying the story world-wide.

They tell us that they travel faster in city traffic, because of flashing getaway, swift, smooth acceleration and instantaneous control that easy steering and four-wheel braking give.

This extra range and activity of Hudson power, as everyone knows, are advantages exclusive to the Super-Six principle and to its companion invention on which patents recently were granted.

In every phase of performance there is effortless ease, from its smooth, swift getaway, to sustained high speed, and back to the soft instantaneous stopping action of its four-wheel brakes. Power is so smoothly delivered in all ranges of performance that you are scarcely conscious of it.

With the development and increased capacity of the Super-Six principle came also the creation of a chassis engineered in every detail to provide safely, continuously and economically for the speed, power and safety of the motor.

A thrill, never to be forgotten, is in store for you when you take your first ride in the new Hudson Super-Six.

Leeds County Organization To Recall First Ontario Temperance Speech.

BROCKVILLE, June 9 (by the Canadian Press).—The centennial of the delivery of what is reputed to have been the first temperance address in Ontario, as well as of the foundation of the first temperance society in the Province of Ontario, is to be celebrated on Sunday, June 10, in the village of Delta, formerly known as Beverly, under the auspices of the Prohibition Federation of Canada, and the Ontario Prohibition Union, acting in conjunction with the Brockville and Leeds Prohibition Unions.

The address was delivered by Dr. Peter Schofield at that time a physician practising in the vicinity of Delta, and was followed not long afterwards by the organization of the Brockville Temperance Society, the first in Upper Canada, which was fathered by a Rev. Mr. Christmas, of Montreal, and which had as its original members Luther Houghton, afterwards a minister of the Wesleyan Methodist Church; Stephen Skinner; Billa Flint, later a Senator belonging to Belleville, and an ardent upholder of temperance legislation; Stephen Richards, father of three Cabinet Ministers, one of them also the first Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada; and Adiel Sherwood, for many years sheriff of Leeds and Grenville.

Descendants of several of these pioneers in the realm of temperance reform are expected to be in attendance at the observance of the centennial, to the programme of which a number of distinguished speakers have been asked to contribute.

NO BETTER MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Is What Thousands of Mothers Say of Baby's Own Tablets.

A medicine for the baby or growing child—one that the mother can feel assured is absolutely safe as well as efficient—is found in Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are praised by thousands of mothers throughout the country. These mothers have found by actual experience that there is no other medicine for little ones to equal them. Once a mother has used them for her children she will use nothing else. Concerning them Mrs. Charles Hutt, Tancook Island, N.S., writes:—"I have ten children, the baby being just six months old. I have used Baby's Own Tablets for them for the past 20 years and can truthfully say that I know of no better medicine for little ones. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise all other mothers to do so."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or will be mailed upon receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WAR NURSE DIES.

Was Connected With First Contingent Near the the End.

MONTREAL, Que., June 9.—Nursing Sister Yvonne Lucie Doucet, daughter of Theodore Doucet of this city, has just died as a result of malaria contracted in Salonica while on active service with the first Canadian contingent during the Great War. She remained with the first contingent during the War until shortly before the signing of the armistice and also served the disabled soldiers at the military hospital at Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

STUDEBAKER FORMS CANADIAN COMPANY

WALKERVILLE, Ont., June 8.—(Special)—With the announcement of a far-reaching reorganization of both administrative and manufacturing policies, the Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Ltd., assumed a front rank position among the Dominion's largest independent manufacturers. The announcement, which indicates a friendly divorcement of the Canadian Studebaker organization from the Studebaker Corporation of America, was issued by A. R. Erskine, president of both industrials.

The announcement met unusual interest in Canadian financial centers today. The new policies outlined indicate that Studebaker's demands upon Canadian raw materials and labor will be greatly increased. Greater values in Studebaker built automobiles and greatly increased exportation of Studebaker and Erskine cars is also forecast.

The new Studebaker organization will be directed by D. R. Grossman, formerly sales manager for Stydebaker in the Dominion. Mr. Grossman's title will be vice-president and general manager. Having been associated with Studebaker in Canada for the past six years, Mr. Grossman is well known to the Dominion's automotive leaders.

The details of the new Studebaker organization's plans were not made known in today's statement. However, those acquainted with Canadian manufacturing will be greatly interested in the general statements.

"The motive behind the reorganization is to be found in our desire to build Canadian Automobiles for Canadians,' says the statement. "The Studebaker Corporation of Canada, Ltd., is Canadian. We will use more and more of Canada's great supplies of raw materials. Not only will our consumption of these commodities be increased, but new commodities will be added to our purchasing agent's order lists.

"The expansion of the Walkerville plant is a further step towards the Canadianization of Studebaker in the Dominion. We will hire more skilled and more unskilled labor. We hope to build and sell more automobiles than we have in the past. Directly, this plan contributes to greater Canadian prosperity by reason of increased employment given Canadians in the Walkerville factories. Indirectly, many others in Canada will benefit by reason of more extensive purchases of materials and equipment produced in Canada, to be used in the Walkerville factories.

D. R. CROSSMAN.

"For a number of years, Studebaker's Canadian policy has been directed towards this more with the idea of ultimately Canadianizing our automobiles. In other words, we feel that American methods of building automobiles are unusually good, but this does not mean that every American plan and style of building meets every Canadian demand. We want to build automobiles for Canada and we want Canadians to approve of them. It is felt that the time has come to go ahead and no time will be lost in increasing the number of cars actually built in Canada. We hope to secure greater efficiency than has been possible in the past, which will result in greater automobile values for Canadian purchasers.

"The expansion of our manufacturing program in Canada will also include a considerable increase in export shipments from the Walkerville plants. With the accumulation of more Canadian element in our Walkerville built cars, we will be enabled to ship automobiles to Great Britain under the preferential tariff, as well as to New Zealand and certain other British possessions overseas. On export shipments from Canada into British possessions giving a preferential duty on Canadian built cars, owners in these countries profit directly by the increase of Canadian element in the cars.

"Continuing the precedent already established, the personnel of the Canadian organization will be almost exclusively Canadian. In addition, present plans contemplate that advertising and printed matter shall be prepared in Canada and, in short, a large percentage of every dollar spent in connection with the Canadian business shall be paid to Canadian individuals and Canadian firms.

"The new arrangement will mean a gradual increase in the number of employes at the Walkerville plant. Branches are now maintained at Montreal and Calgary. These will also be greatly increased. The administration offices will continue to be located here.

"This move is a result of Studebaker's faith in Canada," said Mr. Grossman today. "We believe there will be wonderful developments in this country and thru this expansion program, we will naturally become a part of those developments."

UNIQUE CELEBRATION.

Golden Wedding Celebrated By Second Marriage of Aged Toronto Couple.

TORONTO, Ont., June 9 (CP).—A unique ceremony marked the celebration of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Fieldman, who have completed half a century of married life. What really took place was, in effect, another wedding in the synagogue.

Thousands gathered around the procession as the "bride" and "groom" left their store on Queen street East and proceeded toward the Berkeley street Synagogue. Under a canopy went the principles, the poles of the canopy being, in turn, held by different friends of the couple. The canopy covered a scroll containing the Ten Commandments, which many took turns in bearing. This was an honor due the Feldmans' for their lifelong devotion to their religion. It constitutes also a memorial to them.

The original marriage took place in Breslau, and at that time the whole town turned out to see the ceremonies, which subsequently lasted for a week in the bride's home.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS— by John Hix

CUTTING THE CORNER

You May Rush Past the Traffic Light at George and Charlotte and Save 30 Seconds Out of the 50,900,000 such Periods You Have to Expend.

It's so foolish—and yet hundreds are doing it in Peterborough every day.

Corners are cut by drivers of automobiles and by pedestrians; by women with baby carriages and by boys with scooters.

It's dangerous and it's useless, but it keeps on—and is getting worse.

A car comes to a street intersection and, instead of making a wide turn, hugs the sidewalk on the left. Pedestrians who are doing what everyone says they should do are forced to jump from the safety zones" and are encouraged to cross in the centre of the block, whereupon the corner-cutting motorist rises in wrath to denounce jay walking.

Or take the case of the pedestrian who cuts across lots to save two or three steps. What corner lot has escaped being cut by a hard-beaten diagonal path? Look at the south-west corner of Park and Charlotte for an outstanding example—a good lawn ruined by selfish people to save a few steps.

But corner cutting is mental as well. To cut a corner off a minute both motorists and pedestrians race trains to railway crossings, disregard traffic and stop" signs and fly in the face of fate a score of times a day.

A motorist going from one end of Peterborough to the other at a sane speed of 20 miles an hour can do it in six minutes. If he steps on the gas just a little, and jumps to 30 miles an hour he can save two minutes in the trip. But he has added a hazard to himself and to every child, grownup and vehicle he passed—all for two minutes which he will waste telling someone how good his car is, or honking outside a house to save the trouble of going to the door.

Or a motorist or pedestrian will run against the traffic signal to save thirty seconds. If he lives to be 50 he will have 50,900,000 periods of thirty seconds each to dispose of—and to save one of the 50,900,000 he will risk his life and the lives of others.

Is it because they appear smart that speeding and cutting corners are indulged? Logically, they are dumb. Legally, they are reprehensible.

The person who persists in cutting corners at his own risk or at the risk of others cannot be a good citizen.

PRESENTATON MADE.

Dr. A. E. Marty Leaving For South Africa.

TORONTO, Ont., June 9 (CP).—When Dr. A. E. Marty was being presented with a wardrobe trunk on the eve of her departure for South Africa, she said:—

I believe I'm the first in this exchange of inspectorates under the League of Empire scheme," she said. But I mustn't be proud. No less a person than Mr. Wilson Macdonald reminded men, the other day, that there was very little in being a pioneer. Look at Adam and Eve,' he said. They were first and see what they did"

So, you see," added the first Canadian woman school inspector, it's never too late to learn, even from poets."

WE ALL WALK IN CIRCLES

If we couldn't see where we were going, we'd run in circles. Persons lost in the woods often turn completely around.

Experiments with blindfolded persons, Prof. A. A. Schaeffer on the University of Kansas recently discovered that our natural tendency is to walk in narrow spirals, like a clock spring. Some people, he says in Popular Science Monthly, turn to the right; others to the left. Just why we have this tendency the psychologists are seeking to explain.

AT THE REGENT.

HAINES TRIUMPHS IN HIS NEWEST PICTURE

Every new picture brings William Haines nearer to being an all round athlete—and every picture establishes him more firmly as one of the leading screen attractions of to-day. 'Spring Fever," his latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle —and incidentally his bow to the screen public as a full-fledged star—makes him a golfer. Also it provides him with the biggest laughing hit of his eventful though brief career. It is at the Regent Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Haines romps through a series of hilarious adventures as a youth who becomes a golf celebrity—he beats a champion and he wins the affection of a golf-mad boss—he wins a pretty bride and a big job—all after a series of hilarious complications in which he is the centre.

A Great Cast.

The cast is a splendid one. Joan Crawford, statuesque beauty of "The Unknown," "The Taxi Dancer," "The Understanding Heart" and others, plays the heroine, and Eileen Percy, one of the screen's most famous beauties, is her rival for the affections of the volatile William.

George Fawcett plays the golfing millionaire, Haines' boss, and Edward Earle is putted against him as the golf champ in the big tournament. The inimitable comedy of George K. Arthur is seen in the role of Tewksbury who fights a golf duel with Fawcett, and Lee Moran as the caddy lends a few hilarious moments to the general collection of giggles, grins and guffaws.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND.

WHAT "HARRISON'S REPORTS" REPORT ON "WINGS"

"Wings" can be safely put in the class of "The Big Parade" and "What Price Glory." It is a war picture, but entirely different from other war pictures—even different from "The Big Parade," and its sister, "What Price Glory." Its author utilized the airplane, this modern invention, to build up his dramatic situations. And, indeed, he has succeeded. The spectator is thrilled almost throughout the entire length. It is difficult for one to describe the thrills one feels in the sight of one plane attacking another plane; of one group of planes attacking another group, and later seeing one or two more planes, downed, and falling to the earth in flames. They are magnificent sights—they are, in fact, so magnificent, so impressive, so thrilling, that it is doubtful if one could feel more excited even if one were to watch actual airplane battles.

There is one situation where a giant plane, supposedly German, takes part in the battle; the equal of it has not been seen in other picture sor even in real life. It is a monster. For this reason, the battle in which it takes place is made more impressive.

The plot has been founded on a story by John Monk Saunders; it has been directed by William Wellman most skillfully.

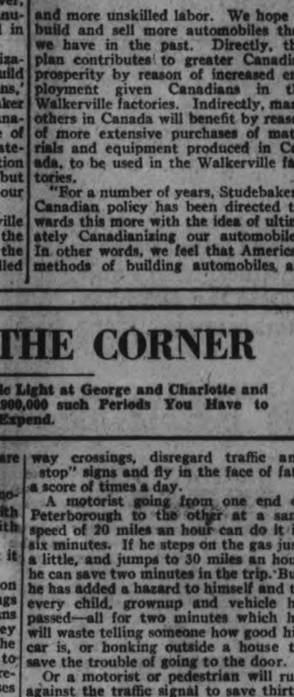
AT THE CAPITOL.

CORINNE GRIFFITH IN "THE GARDEN OF EDEN" COMES TO THE CAPITOL MONDAY, TUESDAY, AND WEDNESDAY — THE CAST INCLUDES LOUISE DRESSER, LOWELL SHERMAN AND CHARLIE RAY.

Corrine Griffith makes her United Artists debut in "The Garden of Eden," a comedy romance film based on the stage play of the same name, her picture coming to the Capitol Theatre, Monday. Louise Dresser, Lowell Sherman and Charles Ray head a distinguished supporting cast. Lewis Milestone, who made "Two Arabian Knights," directed "The Garden of Eden."

Apples, serpents, fig leaves and Paradise are only symbolically present in this "Garden of Eden,"—for it is a modern clothes version of the oldest story in the world. It is at the Hotel Eden, outside Monte Carlo, that many humorous and romantic adventures befall Toni LeBrun, French shop-girl off on a lark with her friend, the Baroness Rosa de Garcer. The startling climax to those adventures is a wedding which ends in a riot.

Rudolph Bernauer and Rudolph Oesterreicher, two Austrians, wrote the stage play, "The Garden of Eden," which has been continuously on the boards in Germany for three years. In England Tallulah Bankhead played the stage Toni; in New York, Sylvia Field. Corinne Griffith and Walter Morosco (Corinne is Mrs. Morosco in private life) were in Germany last year and there they saw "The Garden of Eden,"—cabling Joseph M. Schenck promptly that they would like that play purchased, to be Miss Griffith's first United Artists vehicle. Hence it was that while the stage play was being acted in London, and even before it was shown in New York, Corinne was well into production on her film.



Westwood

WESTWOOD, June 8.—Rev. J. O. Totten of Cavan supplied the pulpit in St. Andrew's United church on Sunday morning, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. S. H. Moyer who took charge of the service in Norwood United church.

The evening service was conducted by Rev. P. L. McLennan of Norwood Baptist church.

Rev. John Archibald of Keene will preach in the United Church on Sunday morning, June 10. A special evening service will be held commemorating the date of the union, the pastor to be in charge.

TAILORS KNOW: FAMILY MAN

Usually Brings Wife Along to Choose Suit—Cleaners Also Know.

SINGLE MEN UP-TO-DATE.

Tailors in Peterborough say that they know whether a man is married or not when he comes into their shop. The young bachelor enters the shop in a very business-like way; he knows the style, the size, the shape, and the color of suit that he wants to see, and when shown a suit it does not take him very many minutes to say whether he wants it or not.

But the man who has entered the matrimonial world is quite different. In nine cases out of ten (and this city is no worse than any other) the wife comes along, and if there is a family they all have to pass on the kind of goods and their style and cut. If he comes in alone he usually goes home with a few samples and it will be more than likely that his wife will come back with him when he chooses the suit, she always having the last word.

Cleaners and pressers also say that they can tell whether a man is married or single by the condition his clothes are in when brought in to them. The young bachelors' suits usually follow the year's style. The suit is never as badly in need of pressing and is quite often wrinkled about the arms. But the surest way of telling is by what is found in the pockets. In the pockets of the married man is the ever-occurring dunner, and in the others money is often found. Just the other day one city cleaner found thirty-five dollars in a man's pocket, and when the wife was called up and told that the money had been found she replied that she never searched the pockets and hence did not know there had been any money left in them. The husband was then called up and said, 'Has that suit been sent to the cleaners? Why I left $35.00 in it."

In the pockets of the suit sent in by the young man who is not married there can be found all kinds of articles that belong to the feminine sex. Combs, compacts, vanity cases, hairpins, and bobby pins are some of the articles that are usually found in the pockets. Money is seldom found and quite often the trouser pockets are full of holes.

SOUTHERN CROSS FLIERS WELCOMED

This was Premier Stanley Bruce's message to-day to the successful Southern Cross trans-Pacific fliers.

Tumultuous Welcome.

BRISBANE, Australia, June 9. — Canadian Press). — Home again, a hero in his own land, Charles Kingsford-Smith, pilot of the trans-oceanic monoplane Southern Cross, today enjoyed the tumultous welcome of the citizens of Brisbane and all Australia. For he had brought the huge tri-motored monoplane to a perfect landing at 10.10 o'clock this morning, completing the last and the most dangerous leg of his trans-oceanic flight, from Suva, Fiji Islands, a distance of 1762 miles.

The flight was made in less than 21 hours at an average speed of 86 miles an hour.

Showered with gifts, including $25,000 in gold from the Australian government, Captain Kingsford-Smith gave credit for the success of the flight to his three associates, Captain C. T. Ulm, the co-pilot, a fellow-Australian, and two Americans —Harry Lyon, the navigator, and James Warner, the radio operator.

After a round of receptions and welcomes here, the Southern Cross will make the final hop off of the flight of 500 miles from Brisbane to Sydney. Warner and Lyon will not accompany the plane on the final trip.

Great Enthusiasm

BRISBANE, Australia, June 9 (Canadian Press).—Wildest enthusiasm marked civic reception this afternoon to the four members of the Southern Cross crew which flew from Oakland, California, to this city over the Pacific Ocean.

Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, flight commander of the Southern Cross, wore as a mascot a scarlet monkey, fashioned of silk. Captain Charles Ulm, co-pilot, carried his goggles and helmet. Navigator Harry Lyon and Radio-man James Warner were dressed in their ordinary street outfits.

When a telegram from Premier Bruce was read announcing the Commonwealth's intention of granting $25,000 to Kingsford-Smith, enthusiasm ran riot.

The Queensland Governor said the aviators had successfully completed an achievement which had been watched with breathless interest by the whole world. He said it was more than a personal triumph, marking the commencement of a new era in aerial navigation that would remain throughout all future periods as a great event in history.

"Without flattery to the honored guests here," the Governor said, "the flight was the greatest of all flights."

ADVANCED PIANO RECITAL PLEASES

Vocal Pupils of Mrs. W. A. Greenslade Assist in Program.

A very large and appreciative audience listened to a very varied and interesting recital in the Green Room of the Y.W.C.A. last evening, given by the advanced piano pupils and a number of vocal pupils of Mrs. W. A. Greenslade, assisted by Miss Evelyn Miller, elocutionist. The room was prettily decorated with tulips. During the course of the program Mrs. Greenslade was presented with two lovely bouquets of flowers by Nancy Hopwood, one of her younger pupils, and little Joan Eldred, who looked sweet in a dainty pale green frock.

Applause was general for the many bright instrumental numbers, all playing their selections with smoothness and exhibiting technical skill which reflected great credit to their teacher. Her outstanding pupils in instrumental are Miss Mildred Hetherington, Miss Dorothy Finnie, Jack Cuff, and Ashton Fife.

Miss Marion Armstrong and Miss Ida Park, two beginners in junior vocal, sang well, having promising soprano voices, while Miss Alma Beavis, Miss Annie Burns, Miss Fern Stenton and Mrs. Elmer Frost deserve special mention, all having sweet voices, with no harsh notes. Mrs. Frost has a rich soprano voice, and delighted the audience in her solo, "Break of Day," and in her duet with Mr. Clark, "Out of the Dusk."

Miss Fern Stenton has a rich contralto voice of good range and power, and in her group songs, "The False Prophet" and "Rosebud," exhibited her ability to handle both heavy and light types.

Miss Alma Beavis and Miss Annie Burns have splendid lyric soprano voices of great promise.

Mrs. Mendell Braund possesses a wonderful dramatic soprano voice, with artistic enunciation and beautiful bird-like notes, that exhibits splendid technical proficiency.

Charles Clark's numbers received a great deal of praise. He has a fine lyric tenor voice of great sweetness and power.

Miss Evelyn Miller delighted the audience with her readings, "Madeline Vercheres," by William Henry Drummond, and "Limitations of Youth," by Eugene Field.

The following is the program:

Piano duet—"Fan Dance" (Boggetti), Genevieve Price and Margaret Curtis.

Piano solo—"At Evening" (Sartorio) Marion Downing.

Vocal solo—"Fairy Bells" (M. L. Test), Marion Armstrong, soprano.

Piano solo—"Rondo Villogois" (Dennee), Genevieve Price.

Piano solo—"Valsette" (Brown), Helen Veitch.

Vocal—"The Valley of Laughter" (Sanderson), Ida Park, soprano.

Piano solo—"Valse" op. 64 No. 1 (Chopin), Helen Crearer.

Piano solo—"Moonbeams" (Vincent) Margaret Curtis.

Vocal solo—"Thank God for a Garden" (Del Riego), Alma Beavis, soprano.

Piano solo — "Silver Nymphs" (Heins), Nancy Hopwood.

Piano solo—"Valse" op. 70 No. 1 (Chopin), Bob Maybee.

Vocal solo—"Break o' Day" (Sanderson), Mrs. E. Frost, soprano.

Piano solo—"The Butterfly" (Merkel), Ruby Jackson.

Piano solo—"La Coquette" (Bohm), Hudson Hall.

Reading—selected, Evelyn Miller.

Vocal duet—"Out of the Dusk" (D. Lee), Mrs. Frost and Mr. Clark.

Piano solo—"Edelweis" (Lang), Marion Deyell.

Piano duet—"Coquettish Smile" (Englemann), Betty and Nancy Hopwood.

Vocal solo—(a) "Rosebud" (Drummond), (b) "The False Prophet" (Pringle Scott), Fern Stenton, contralto.

Piano solo—"To Spring" (Grieg), Dorothy Roberts.

Vocal solo—(a) 'The Morning Wind' (Branscome), (b) "Last Night" (Kerjulf), Annie Burns, soprano.

Piano solo—"Two Larks" (Leschetsky), Dorothy Finnie.

Piano solo—"A Toi" (Ringuet), Ashton Fife.

Vocal solo—"Come Into the Garden Maud" (Balf), Charles Clark, tenor.

Piano solo—"Andante and Rondo Cappriccose" (Mendelssohn), Jack Cuff.

Vocal solos—"Song of the Robin" (Anna Case), "Loves a Merchant" (Molly Carew), Mrs. Mendel Braund, soprano.

Piano solo—"Valse Chromatic" (Goddard), Mildred Hetherington.

Piano duet—"La Chasse Aux Gazelles" (Calvini), Jack Cuff and Ashton Fife.

Eat Salads in Hot Weather is Advice of Food Experts

Make It a Rule to Eat Salads Every Day, Say Dieticians—Heavy Food Not Needed in Summer—Scores of Inexpensive and Delightful Salads May Be Easily Made—Recipes Given.

"Eat more salad", says a prominent physician and dietetic expert. "As the hot weather approaches I can only repeat what I have said many times before. Every person should eat at least one green salad every day. Fresh vegetables and greens supply the roughage which is so valuable if good health is to be enjoyed during the warm summer season".

On Mixing Salads

A skilful housewife can work wonders with lettuce, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, parsley, shallots, potatoes, endives and artichokes. With regard to the mixing of salads, the best plan is to keep them mild and have a delicate and appetizing blend of all flavours. All salads should be handled gently; they should not be put into the desired shape by heavy pressure. The approved way of mixing them is by running a fork and spoon down the side of the dish and then gently tossing the salad with an upward movement, letting it mix as it falls back.

Much Depends on Dressings

The success of this dish depends a great deal on the dressings and the housewife of originality can do a little experimenting of her own in this field. Some of the finest dressings ever served have been the inventions of housewives with the distinct touch of individuality that makes for success in any line. A relish and piquancy can be achieved with the addition of dry mustard, and it is healthful. Mustard is a great aid to digestion and its healthful, volatile oil, which is released when the mustard is mixed with cold water, contains one-third of its weight of sulphur, the common and effective blood cleanser. Salads are easy and inexpensive to make and it is remarkable what a woman can do in the way of pleasing her family with dishes of nice, fresh salad, served with her own homemade dressings. A clear brain, steadier nerves, greater energy and heightened resistance to illness of any kind are the ordinary rewards of keeping salads to the fore in one's diet.

LIST OF SALADS

(Where French or Mayonnaise dressings are recommended to be served with a salad, they should be made according to the following recipes).

French Dressing

½ cup of oil; 2 tablespoons vinegar; 1 teaspoon paprika; 1 teaspoon powdered sugar; ½ teaspoon Keen's Mustard; 2 teaspoons salt; dash cayenne.

Place all the ingredients in a bottle or cruet, chill, shake vigorously just before serving. A little onion juice, garlic or Worcestershire sauce may be added if desired.

Mayonnaise Dressing

2 teaspoons Keen's Mustard; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon powdered sugar; 2 egg yolks; 2 tablespoons lemon juice; 1½ to 2 cups salad oil.

Into the well-beaten egg yolks stir the dry ingredients, then the lemon juice. Add the oil gradually, beating the mixture constantly. Add a little more lemon juice if it becomes too thick to beat, then add the remainder of the oil.

Plain Lettuce Salad

Dress clean, crisp lettuce with French Dressing. For the sake of convenience the dressing is put on the lettuce unmixed. Mix a tablespoon of oil with a saltspoon of salt and one of Keen's Mustard and scatter over the lettuce. Pour yet three more tablespoons of oil and toss about until every part of the lettuce is covered with oil, then add a tablespoon of vinegar and mix gently, scattering a saltspoon of pepper evenly over it.

Endive Salad

Endives should be well blanched and crisp. Serve the same as lettuce with French Dressing (see recipe above).

Lettuce and Tomato Salad

Arrange the lettuce on a salad platter. Put slices of tomato on top. Serve either with French or Mayonnaise Dressing (see recipes above) just before eating.

Plain Celery Salad

Cut stalks of celery into pieces not quite an inch in length and serve with Mayonnaise Dressing (see recipe above). French Dressing is not as good. Always have the salad cold.

Plain Cucumber Salad

Place the cucumbers on ice before preparing. Cut off the bitter ends and slice very thinly and serve with French Dressing (see recipe above). This can be given a slightly varied taste by adding a few drops of onion juice to the Dressing.

A salad recipe book will be mailed on request to Colman-Keen (Canada) Limited, 1019 Amherst St., Montreal.

CAVAN COUNCIL

Millbrook, June 9.—Pursuant to statute Cavan Council met May 30, at 10:30 a.m. to hear and determine appeals against the assessment roll of 1928.

The members made and subscribed to the requisite oath after which, on motion of Deputy Reeve McKnight and Councillor Ball, the Reeve was appointed chairman.

Keith Sisson appeared before the court asking for a reduction in his assessment, claiming that as compared with the neighboring farms he was assessed too high.

Thorne-Ball, that Mr. Sisson's assessment be reduced $200. Carried.

An appeal was received from W. Moore asking to be struck off the roll, being assessed for the property of F. Elliott, which he had not rented.

Ball-McKnight, that Mr. Moore's appeal be received and the assessment of this property changed to Frank Elliott. Carried.

McKnight-McGill, that the court adjourn to 4:30 p.m. and that the assessor be instructed to make the necessary changes in the roll. Carried.

The court resumed at 4:30 and the assessor reported that all the necessary changes in the roll had been made.

McKnight-Thorne, that the assessment roll as now revised be the assessment roll for 1928 and that the clerk do certify the same as being correct. Carried.

A regular meeting of the council was held May 30, the members being all present and the Reeve presiding.

The minutes of the last meeting were read, and on motion of Deputy Reeve McKnight and Councillor McGill were adopted.

Communications.

From the District Representative of Agriculture, advising the council that there would be a meeting of all the weed inspectors of the counties of Peterborough, Durham, Ontario, and Victoria held in Lindsay on Wednesday, June 6, and asking Cavan to have their inspector attend.

From the Department of Agriculture, calling the attention of the council to the amendment of the "Weed Control Act" respecting the cutting of weeds on the highways, which simply means that the authority which is responsible for the maintenance of the highway is responsible for the cutting of the weeds on the highway. The cost of this work can be considered in the same way as maintenance and a grant received for it. If neglected the grant can be withheld by the department for all work done on the township roads.

From Sawyer-Massey, asking the reeve to have his order given over the telephone for a backsloper for the grader confirmed by letter.

Thorne-Ball, that the clerk be instructed to write Sawyer-Massey confirming the reeve's order for the backsloper. Carried.

Messrs. L. Fallis, G. Jones and T. Haseman waited on the council asking that certain repairs be made on the road on the 13th concession west. This work was promised consideration by the council.

Ball-McKnight, that the reeve sign the following orders (carried): Counties' Treasurer, $24.50; Richards and Richards, $51.96; Imperial Oil Co., $128.08; Steve Morton, $14.75; Austin Thorne, $6; J. Patton, $9.50; H. Hubbeard, $7.25; J. Kennedy, $6; H. Argue, $81.30; J. H. Sanderson, $250; G. H. Hooton, $8.80; J. H. Paul, salary $150, postage, $5, $155; W. Hamilton, $16.27; Service Oil Co., $31.06; L. H. Gibson, $646.80; Sawyer-Massey, $8.24; R. Wood, $25.63; Council, $34.

Local Improvement Notice

Take Notice That—

1. The Council of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough intends to construct as a local improvement the works on the following streets or parts of streets, and intends to assess part of the cost of the said works upon the lands abutting directly on the said works respectively. The estimated cost of the works, the portion to be paid by the corporation, the estimated cost per foot frontage, and the number of annual instalments are set out below:

2 Asphalt Pavement, on Reid street, from Hall street to McDonnel street; estimated cost $17,069.67; to be paid by the Corporation, $9,597.25; estimated cost per foot frontage $3.79; and the special assessment to be paid in ten annual instalments.

Concrete Sidewalk, on O'Carroll avenue, east side, from Benson avenue to the north side of Lot No. 25, Plan No. 140; estimated cost $322.50; to be paid by the Corporation $189.30; estimated cost per foot frontage $0.90; and the special assessment to be paid in twenty annual instalments.

3. A petition to the Council will not avail to prevent the construction of the said works, or either of them, but a petition against the works, or either of them, or the manner in which it has been undertaken, may be made pursuant to section 8, of The Local Improvement Act, to the Railway and Municipal Board, by a majority of the owners representing at least one half of the value of the lots which are to be specially assessed therefor.

4. A by-law for undertaking the said works will be considered by the Council at a meeting thereof to be held on the 3rd day of July, 1928, at 7.30 o'clock p.m., or at a regular or special meeting thereof to be held thereafter.

Peterborough, June 8, 1928.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Death strikes GARRETT FOLSOM while swimming at Ocean Town, N.J. It is thought at first that he is a stroke victim, but investigation shows he has been stabbed to death under the water.

Folsom's swimming companions were ROGER NEVILLE, a business partner; MRS. HELEN BARNABY and CARMELITA VALDON. Folsom, just before his death, had been standing next to NED BARRON, known as the copper king.

ANASTASIA FOLSOM, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, arrives and takes command. At the inquest it is learned that the death weapon was a pichaq, an Oriental knife and it had been bought on the boardwalk.

It is also learned that one CROYDON SEARS, who was in Barron's party, is a fancier of curious knives. Anastasia engages TITUS RIGGS, an architect, to work on the case. DAN PELTON, the dead man's nephew, arrives and is intrigued by the curious French dolls in Folsom's room.

He believes his uncle had been blackmailing several people and he and Riggs discover suspicious documents in Folsom's effects with the initials of Croydon Sears.

Riggs gets hold of Sears' son, ROBIN, and reminds him of his promise to assist in the case.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIX.

Unostentatiously, Riggs steered their steps to the shop where the antique auctions were held.

"Come on," Robin Sears said, drawing away.

"Wait a minute, can't you? I want to see what they've on today."

"Oh, all right," and Robin lit a cigaret and showed no interest in the window exhibit.

"I say, Robs, there's hijacks—I mean pichaqs, like the man was killed with."

"I don't want to look at it; come along, Tite."

"No, I want to look at it, if you don't. Humor me."

"I can't think what you see to look at in a mess of old junk."

"Valuable antiques, you mean. Funny about that dagger, wasn't it? Sold the very night your father was in here. Wish it had been while he was here. With his keen notice of anything of the sort, he might have remembered what the man looked like who bought it."

"But he didn't," the boy almost groaned. Then he went on, earnestly. "You see, Tite, dad came out long before that jigger was put up, and he was up and down the boardwalk all the rest of the time till he went home to bed."

"Yes, I know. I was only wishin'. He might have given us a steer."

"Not he. Dad has an eye for good pieces, but that tin stabber wouldn't hold him for a minute."

"Oh, come now, it wasn't so bad."

"Yes it was. Dad said so afterward. He knew all about it. But then he knows all such things, as you and I know jazz music."

"I waive the palm to you in that matter, Robin. Where were you that night?"

"Dancing with Angel in the Majusaca. Oh, Riggs, that girl dances like a—"

"Like a thistledown, a wave of the sea, a gossamer-winged fairy, a—"

"Oh shut up, girls don't dance like that nowadays. She dances like—oh, well, like most all of 'em do. Only it's nicer to dance with her than the others!"

"What time did you turn in?"

"My word! Is this an inquiry meeting? 'Long about one, I guess. Not much later anyway. We're not the real thing in night club work, you see. Madeline wouldn't stand for it. She's conservative and correct, first, last and all the time."

"Mighty fine woman. Well, you're not much good, Robbie, as a helper on the great problem."

"No. I say, Tite, why don't you chuck it? You'll never get at the truth, and why do you want to?"

"Why do I want to!" Tite Riggs stared.

"You heard me."

"I sure did. Well, I want to, ostensibly for the sake of justice. And that's a big part of my reason. But also because I love the game."

"Hounding down a man?"

"Yes, if he's a murderer."

"If," said Robin Sears.

* * *

Threatening clouds had sent many scurrying indoors, and the lounge of the Hotel Majusaca was like a great cauldron of color, sound and fragrance.

Under the tall palms sat groups of laughing, chattering young people; among the massed flowers stood smiling, happy pleasure-seekers; here and there sat those who quietly listened to the music drifting in from the next room where there was dancing.

Tea tables were all about, and, though a few bored, weary faces might be seen, for the most part all was life, light and laughter.

Tite Riggs and young Sears made their way to a table where Robin's searching eye had at once spied Angelica Fair.

"Blessed boy," she called out, "we have missed you at home, we have missed you. Where you been?"

"What a speech! When you fired me yourself. Said you had to stay with Maddy."

This was an unfortunate remark, and Robin should have known better than to make it.

Madeline Barron turned on him with quick resentment.

"Nothing of the sort!" she said. "Angel insisted she didn't want to go out this afternoon. It looked like rain, she said."

"Did look like rain, too," Angel said gaily, determined not to stir up a discussion. "We both wanted to rest. Now I'm fit again and dying to dance. Come along, Bobbin."

The two went off toward the dancing room, and Tite Riggs dropped into the chair the girl vacated.

"Flirt with Maddy," she turned back to say to him. "She wants to go home and the bad, naughty crowd she has with her won't agree. Help us out, Mr. Riggs. Get her a new sheik or buy her a doll or something!"

The pair went off, laughing, and Riggs gazed after the lovely vision.

"How did they know enough to name that girl Angel?" he said. "And Angel Fair, of all things."

"Yes, it just suits her," and Madeline Barron looked affectionately after her friend. They couldn't help the Fair, of course, and it was clever to add the other. Though, as she was christened Angelica—"

All the same, they must have known she was to be called Angel. She looks like a doll. And by that I mean no disparagement. The dolls of today are often more lifelike than some human beings."

Riggs had no thought in his mind save an intent to amuse or divert Madeline, who certainly did look what Robin had called weedy."

Beautiful as ever, perfectly dressed as always, she had a new look in her eyes, a sort of restlessness that he had never seen there before. And then, to his amazement, she spoke with real pettishness:

"Don't harp on dolls! The world seems mad on the subject!"

"Don't you like them? That settles it. Suppose I try Angel's other bit of advice and find you somebody new to flirt with. Hello, Pelton, come over here."

Laughing at Madeline's sudden start, Riggs motioned Dan Pelton, who chanced to be passing, to a chair at their tea table and nodded to a waiter.

The man was an utter stranger to her. She braced up and smiled cordially when he was presented.

And then the observant Tite saw a queer look come into Pelton's eyes.

It passed in a moment; so quickly that Riggs doubted it had been there at all, but, he thought afterward, there was certainly a surprise of some kind that brought about that expression.

Pelton appeared to better advantage than Riggs had hitherto seen him, and Madeline revived under his compliments and seemed almost gay again.

She was beautiful in an almost opposite way from Angel.

Ned Barron's wife was dark, olive-skinned, and brown-eyed. Her hair showed the newest thing in bobs and her clothes were inconspicuous, so perfectly did she dominate them by her own personality.

Vivacious yet quiet, charming—luring even—yet reserved.

Somehow Riggs found himself comparing her to Carmelita Valdon, whom he also admired.

But Titus Riggs' admiration of women was entirely superficial. He regarded them as pictures, meritorious or otherwise, only as they pleased his eye and his taste.

Carmelita was far more provocative, far more self-conscious, but Madeline was of a higher type of attractiveness and Riggs almost gasped as he turned suddenly to find her smiling at Dan Pelton, as if with a new interest in life.

Good heavens!" thought the apprehensive bachelor, she mustn't fall in love with him!" and then laughed at himself for the fleeting whim, for the devotion of the Barrons was the jest of their merry friends.

But I don't get it," he went on with his ruminations, finding his participation in the talk was not necessary. There's something wrong with Madeline—something more than homesickness, and it can't be that a new sheik to flirt with is going to cure it!"

(To be continued)

OBITUARY

MISS E. L. JONES

WINNIPEG, June 9 (Canadian Press).—A nationally known educationist and an active worker in many Dominion-wide women's organizations, Miss E. L. Jones, aged 59, principal of Rupert's Land College, Winnipeg, died at La Jolla, Calif., yesterday.

MAURICE O'BRIEN.

The death occurred yesterday, in St. Joseph's Hospital, of Maurice O'Brien, a lifelong resident of Douro, in his 75th year. He had been ailing for some time, but death came as a shock to his many friends.

Mrs. O'Brien died two and a half years ago, and one son, George Frederick predeceased him six years ago. He leaves five daughters and two sons, Mrs. Augustus Conlin, Peterborough; Mrs. John Barry, Edmonton, Alta; Mrs. James Conlin, Peterborough; Mrs. Michael Leahy, Douro, and Lorrine, at home. The sons are Joseph of Calgary, Alta., and Stephen, at home. There are four sisters and four brothers, namely, James of North Dakota; William E., of Peterborough; Frank, of Salt Lake City; George, of St. Louis; Mrs. Eugene Torpey, Toronto; Mrs. Michael Coughlin, of Woonsocket, Neb.; Mrs. William McNorton, St. Louis; Mrs. Michael Hatterick, Seattle, Wash.

The funeral will take place from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Conlin, 491 Romaine street, on Monday morning, to St. Joseph's Church and cemetery, Douro, where Mass will be said at nine o'clock.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, June 9 (Canadian Press). — Lower prices for wheat yesterday went hand-in-hand with news of additional relief from drought north-west. Values declined, notwithstanding some estimates that exporters had taken 1,000,000 bushels of wheat yesterday for Europe. Trade comment last night on the Government crop report emphasized that the official forecast of winter wheat production is exactly as indicated by the average of private returns.

Closing quotations on wheat were weak, ½c to ¼c net lower, with corn ¼c to 1c to 2¼c down; oats ¼c to ½c off, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 20 cents.

Nervousness pervaded the wheat market yesterday pending receipt of the Government crop report due after the close. Numerous traders incorrectly expected the report to suggest a probable larger yield of domestic winter wheat than did recent unofficial summaries.

A bullish showing on spring wheat, however, was looked for in most quarters. Meanwhile, news of good rains in the Red River Valley and in Canada, together with more optimistic current field advices generally from the spring wheat belt, tended to give an advantage for at least the time being to the selling side of the market.

The Government crop report, which did not become available until long after trading had been over for the day, was generally regarded as a standard-off as to winter wheat, neither bullish nor bearish. The report on rye, however, was declared by the leading authorities to be rather bullish, being lower than the latest unofficial estimates and also indicating the smallest domestic yield of rye since 1912. The Government report on spring wheat was well below the average of recent private reports, and showed the lowest condition on record with the exception of 1926.

Corn was weak from the start, July delivery in particular. Enlarged receipts and favorable weather had a decided bearish influence. Cash houses were on the selling side of July. Oats eased down with corn and because of better weather conditions north-west.

Provisions turned weaker on account of scattered selling and owing also to a downward slant in the hog values.

HOW TO REMOVE SPOTS

Among cleaning agents, carbon tetrachloride is one of the most generally used. It has the advantage of being non-inflammable, but it has a tendency to leave a ring on fabrics unless it is throughly evaporated by friction while being applied. In the dry cleaning trade it is customary to use solvents that do not "wet" the material, and among these is a product known as xylene or naptha solvent. It will remove almost any kind of a spot—grease, tar, paint, and other substances which do not actually stain the goods. — Popular Science Monthly.

TEACHERS MEET WITH HARDSHIPS

No Church Service in Some Parts For 20 Years.

EDMONTON, Alta., June 9 (CP).—Undaunted by encounters with bears, precipitous mountain roads, and muddy trails, the Anglican Sunday school caravan teachers are starting out through the western diocese in increasing numbers, and this year will see nine vans, with eighteen teachers bringing the message of the Gospel to the furthermost parts of the western mission fields.

Miss Eva Hasell, the pioneer of the movement, who operated the first van in Qu'Appelle diocese in 1920, is leaving Edmonton for the frontier diocese of Caledonia, at the request of the Archbishop of New Westminster and Archdeacon Rix, with her co-worker, Miss Sayle. Lecturing in England on the work of the Sunday school caravans, during the past five months, this little band of workers realized $8,300 for their summer equipment and literature, and the new van for the Caledonia diocese, which will cost about a thousand dollars, is now being built. Last year one van working in the Kootenay diocese secured 2,400 pupils for the mail course. Besides the actual lessons for the juniors, the four papers sent monthly included Bible stories for the very small children, to be read to them by their parents, Bible studies for those over 14, and serial stories to provide entertaining reading, of which a great dearth is found by the caravan workers on their rounds. Demonstrating the interest taken by children, Miss Hasell told of a small boy who walks nine miles to post his Sunday school lessons.

In some parts of the country where there have been no church services sometimes for 20 years, or three times in 30 years, elements of atheism and lack of teaching of the Christian principles of honesty and truth are leaving in their trail an increasing measure of juvenile crime, and from a source difficult to discover comes seditious literature inflaming the minds of children and parents alike against God and the principles of lawful government. Miss Hasell feels that the danger is grave. The southern European settlers populating the country at such a rate much greater than British settlers are being established, are found most susceptible to this bolshevik teaching and in the course of her work she has had quite young children tell her with all earnestness that "God is a myth invented by the bosses to keep down the working people."

Wooler

WOOLER, June 8.—On Saturday evening Rev. Raymond Booth and Andrew Dorland of Toronto spent the evening dinner hour with Mr. and Mrs. Esli Terrill.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dafoe of Belleville spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Cronk and Miss Davidson of Wellington spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Asseltine of Zion spent the week-end with Mrs. Lydia Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kirk of Toronto spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crowe of Trenton called on Mr. and Mrs. Esli Terrill on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haines of Castleton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Forbes.

Mrs. J. J. McColl, Doris and Helen spent the week end in Toronto.

Friends' Meeting.

The Friends quarterly meeting, held at the Friends Church was largely attended by friends from Wellington, Bloomfield, Toronto and Wilfred Hate of California. Other visitors from the different churches. Rev. Raymond Booth of Toronto was minister in charge. On Saturday evening the missionary program consisted of choruses, monologue, dialogues, recitations and an address by Rev. Booth.

Sacred Concert.

On Sunday evening in the United Church the Trenton Band gave a sacred concert, the Band playing sacred music, and vocal numbers by Mrs. Sprentall, Mrs. Simmonds, Dr. McQuade; violin solo, Mr. White, Mrs. Galna at the piano.

Rev. H. B. Neal gave a message on the "Ministry of Music". Various items of service of worship through music dates back to Egyptian civilization. We find emblems of instruments, but Christianity provided the harmony. The Psalms are expressions of the Hebrew race, music has a beautifying force, it appeals to every class or individual and has a mighty power among various people and races. Queen Victoria was invited to attend a great concert of Hallelujah choruses. All the people would stand and as the music filled the air with familiar hymns even the Queen herself rose to her feet to dedicate the harmonies of music to the Lord of Lords, and King of Kings.

The closing hymn "Abide With Me" was played by the Band. Rev. Neal expressed the appreciation of the sacred concert and Mayor Fraser of Trenton replied in a few chosen words, and Rev. H. B. Neal said: You are gratified, we are satisfied.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Wessels spent Sunday afternoon in Belleville with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Nailer.

Mrs. Esli Terrill is gaining very slowly and still has Nurse Snider of Trenton in charge.

Miss Pearl Sharpe, graduate nurse of Whitby, is home with her parents.

Miss Edna Richards and Leonard Perry were united in marriage at the parsonage by Rev. H. B. Neal, on Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weese of Albury called on Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terrill on Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Locklin of Smithfield spent Sunday with Mrs. Esli Terrill.

Mrs. John Dinner, Mary Dinner of Codrington, Charles English and Miss James of Peterborough called on Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Terrill on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sebrin Cronk of Wellington, called on Mr. and Mrs. Esli Terrill on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Purdy, Marion and Mrs. Mary McColl of Trenton spent the tea hour with Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Wessels on Sunday.

Mr. Hate of Hollywood, California, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McColl.

Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Dorland and infant son motored to Peterborough and back on Sunday.

Trent River

TRENT RIVER, June 8.—Mr. Harold Burgess held a successful community party Monday night at Coral Gables Casino. Guests from the immediate vicinity to the number of about fifty responded to the invitation. Tables were placed for cards and dancing was participated in to the enjoyment of all with music supplied by Trent River three-piece orchestra. A delightful lunch was served during intermission, the party broke up shortly after midnight.

NOVA SCOTIA'S SALT DEPOSITS

In Nova Scotia many attempts had been made to turn to commercial use some of the various parts of the province, but until the discovery of valuable salt beds near Malagash, in Cumberland County, no important salt industry had been developed. Since 1919 there has been an important and growing production of rock salt from the Malagash mine, which finds a ready-curing industry of the Maritimes and of Newfoundland.

IT is doubtful if any automobile ever received as much "verbal advertising" as the Durant "65". Every new owner starts to talk about its remarkable performance, long before his car has gone the usual slow mileage . . . the first 500 miles.

So great and so powerful is this "verbal advertising" that the demand for these fast, economical cars promises to exceed all expectations.

You, too, will want one . . . and today is the day to order it. But whether you are ready to order one, or not . . . see it . . . . drive it . . . and prove to yourself that the good reports you are hearing are true.

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE CRY.

We laugh when we feel elated. We cry when we feel blue and depressed. Laughing and crying are both emotional reactions and are very closely related. There are tears of joy as well as tears of sorrow. In hysteria the person laughs and cries almost at the same time or in rapid succession, showing how easily one shades off into the other.

The cry is a signal for help. The baby gets what he want: by crying. Every animal has a cry of some sort when he is hurt and in need of help. The cry is also a warning to other members of the species to be on the lookout for trouble. The cry of the frightened animal is quickly communicated to the rest who take up the cry and intensify it: recall the terrible racket a flock of guinea hens will make when one of them becomes scared and lets out a quack. This may have originated as an effective means of scaring off the enemy.

Shedding tears is the result of an emotional upheaval. The tear glands are connected with the other glands which become very active in fear, anger and rage. A jolly good cry is often a first class emotional laxative. Fear caused by pain or bad news or sudden fright causes chemical reactions in the body which find outlet in tears. The excess energy supplied by the glands must be worked off in some way and if muscular action is blocked it runs out of the eyes in the form of tears.

Tears also act as an effective eye wash. They dissolve foreign substances in the eye and help to keep the eye clean and moist.

We cry because we are descended from ancestors who had more uses for crying than we do. Nevertheless, we also find a few uses and excuses for crying, chiefly as an outlet for the release of emotional poisons accumulating through sorrow, fear, anger, and rage. Another modern use for crying is to work on the sympathies of others.

AVOID THE PAINS OF RHEUMATISM

This Trouble Comes Through Weak, Watery Blood.

Many people suffer rheumatic pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. Rheumatism comes with thin, watery blood, and can only be driven out of the system by enriching and purifying the blood. To make rich, red blood no medicine equals Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new blood, driving out all poisonous secretions, and creating a condition of robust health. Thousands of rheumatic sufferers can testify to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Among them is Mr. Jos. A. Tully, Bobcaygeon, Ont., who says: —"As a worker in the woods for years I was exposed to all kinds of rough wintry weather. The result was that I was finally laid up with rheumatism. I could hardly stir, and was confined to bed. Medicine seemed to have little or no effect and the best encouragement the doctor gave me was that with the coming of warm weather I would be better. But instead of getting better, I grew worse. My joints were so badly swollen, and my legs so stiff they would hardly support my body. At this stage I read that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended for rheumatism and decided to try them. The results were beyond my expectations. After a few weeks the swelling had disappeared, and the stiffness gradually wore away, and much sooner than I expected all traces of rheumatism had disappeared. The next winter when I went into the wood I took a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with me, and they kept me in the best of condition. My experience should give encouragement to other rheumatic sufferers."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Tourists From States Becoming Numerous

The tourist season is well under way. The Examiner noticed in two blocks, between Charlotte and Hunter streets on George street, fifteen cars bearing United States license plates. New York State was the most popular, while there were also cars from Connecticut, Florida, Ohio and Michigan. Canada was also represented by cars bearing Quebec, Manitoba, and a New Brunswick license.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

In place of the scarf little capes are sometimes worn with summer evening or afternoon frocks. This is made of printed silk, mounted on a plain silk tie.

There are all sorts of scarfs nowadays, and is the popular use of the word it seems to apply to any garment or accessory used to cover the shoulders that is not large enough to be called a cape or a shawl. The fox skin that is hung unevenly across the shoulders is a scarf, and so is the present version of the old-time ostrich boa. The folded square of embroidered silk that is almost but not quite large enough to be a shawl is a scarf and so is the very small folded square that is just large enough to knot about the neck.

There are long narrow scarfs and short wide scarfs, square scarfs and triangular scarfs. Many persons use the word scarf to indicate the accessory that is more popularly known as a necktie. There are innumerable little caplets of the sort shown in the sketch to-day that may also conveniently be listed under the head of scarf. It would indeed be hard to find a word that worked harder at present than scarf.

Scarfs of one sort or another are indeed a warm-weather blessing to the woman who holds to the old prejudice against going out without some sort of "wrap" about her neck and shoulders. Many women have some sort of scarf or other to go with all their outdoor frocks. In some sections of the country, ostrich scarfs have come into prominence as accompaniments to light summery frocks.

For the woman who wants to make the most of a small wardrobe the scarf should be given special consideration. One gown not too pronounced in cut or color may be made to play several roles if there are several possible scarfs to wear with it.

The scarf shown in the sketch made of printed pleated silk makes of a very simple sleeveless frock a most distinctive afternoon ensemble. It really would not be a difficult matter to make a scarf of this sort at home, and I should suggest a thin printed silk or chiffon for the purpose. Remember that you will need three times as much material as you want for the completed garment. It should be straight across the back and then allowed to slope down at the front. The straight piece upon which the pleating is mounted may be taken from one side of the figured material.

GOITRE NOT A DISEASE.

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery.

MILWAUKEE, Wisc.—It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. 730, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wisc., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The Doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Write him today.—Adv.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

For Sunday, June 10, 1928.

(Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Contending planetary aspects rule this day, according to astrology, which finds strong benefic influences active.

The stars are friendly to whatever concerns the family and its interests to-day. It is a first-rate time to visit relatives.

There is a sign of promise for philanthropies and charities. Church collections should be substantial to-day.

Sermons are likely to be well received for there is a sway making for religious interest.

The rule of the stars is especially favorable to letters and especially to those that seek to heal misunderstandings.

It is a first-rate day for students who write home for money. They may expect quick and generous response.

Women should be careful to-day, for the stars frown upon their interests and particularly upon their love affairs.

Wooers should be viewed with the mind's eyes instead of the heart's vision to-day, when the seers counsel a mixture of logic with love.

Religious prejudice and bigotry are supposed to be encouraged by the configuration, which is not favorable to political wisdom.

The clergy are subject to rather unfavorable aspects to-day which should be employed by them in strictly impersonal pursuits. It is not a lucky aspect for furthering vacation plans.

There is a sign of great promise for the building of churches and for the finishing of those already started.

Accidents and explosions are presaged by the stars and well to exercise all possible precautions.

Persons whose birthdate it is probably will enjoy travel in the coming year.

Children born on this day probably will be industrious and reliable. The subjects of this sign develop into valuable employees.

For Monday, June 11, 1928.

Menacing aspects rule this day, according to astrologers who advise the most conserva ive policies in all important business transactions.

The sway seems to be adverse to the interests of ambitious and successful men.

If the stars are rightly read there will be surprises and disappointments for persons who appear most lucky.

Even though it is Monday it is not an auspicious time to seek new employment of any sort. A day's delay may mean better pay.

Controversies and dissensions flourish under this planetary government which encourages tenacious opinions and unreasoning loyalties.

Under this direction of the stars the best laid plans may prove to be the least practical, the seers declare.

Deception and double-dealing of every sort are supposed to be encouraged while this configuration prevails.

Astrologers foretell for to-day and to-morrow aspects that seem to thwart effort and to prevent the fruition of high hopes.

Speculation may now become a pastime for many who can not afford it.

The sway of the planets which stimulates business ventures also awakens a desire to bet, it is said, and for this reason many foolish persons will lose money on election wagers.

Men are to become newly desirous to attain beauty of face and physique, it is forecast, and theirs will become a new cult as wide-spread as that which has enlisted the interest of women in recent years.

America is to produce a race of magnificent beings, if the stars are rightly read, but it will evolve only after years in which vices are eliminated.

Persons whose birthdate it is should be slow in changing employment or environment in the coming year.

Children born on this day probably will be quick-witted and adaptable, but too easily led. They should be taught self-reliance.

ST. JAMES' LADIES HAVE SOCIAL EVENT

Meet Together For Afternoon of Music, Followed By Refreshments.

The Ladies' Aid of St. James United Church held a delightful social afternoon on Thursday at the home of the president, Mrs. A. Wilson, Westcott street.

A splendid program was given during the afternoon and was as follows: Piano solo, Mrs. E. Rowe; reading, Mrs. Bennett; vocal solo, Mrs. W. McLaren; reading, Mrs. Barton; vocal colo, Mrs. Rathbone; piano solo, Miss Valeria Wilson; vocal solo, Mrs. E. Rowe; reading, Mrs. McAdams; vocal solo, Miss Ethel Kennedy; vocal duet, Muriel Byers and Dorrie Elliott; accompanists, Mrs. E. Wood, Miss A. Ross, and Mrs. Elliott.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served, ladies in charge being Mrs. Drysdale and Mrs. Sloane.

The program committee consisted of the leaders of the groups, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. Rooke, and Mrs. Armstrong, with Mrs. Elliott as convenor.

CONVENORS NAMED FOR GARDEN PARTY

Annual Y.W.C.A. Event Will Be Held at Mrs. R. Neill's Home.

A special meeting of the Y.W.C.A Swimming Pool and Executive Committees was held on Tuesday afternoon to make arrangements for the annual garden party and high tea, which for several years has proved a special feature of the Y.W.C.A. year's program.

It was decided to hold the garden party a week from next Tuesday, June 19th, and Mrs. R. Neill kindly offered her lawn and home for the occasion. Mrs. L. J. St-Clair and Mrs. J. Harkness of the Social Committee were appointed joint convenors. One of the most enjoyed features of the garden party is the high tea and this year promises to be even better than ever before. Mrs. R. J. Kidd and Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner and the Social Committee of the "Y" assisted by interested friends will be in charge of the dainty provisions and Mrs. H. Beal with a splendid committee of helpers will arrange the tables and serving. Other special attractions will be the Ice Cream Booth in charge of Mrs. W. R. Widdess, the Fish Pond with its wonderful surprises in charge of Mrs. J. A. Robinson, and a group of girls with pretty baskets of home-made candy for sale convened by Miss Daisy Davidson and Miss Amy Beal. There will also be Fortune Tellers in charge of Mrs. J. J. Craig, and pretty decorations around the grounds will be arranged by Miss E. Morrow and committee. Mrs. E. E. Harvey is convenor of the Advertising and Ticket Committee.

Meetings of various committees will be held during the week and all final arrangements for a bigger and better garden party than ever will be completed.

LYRICS OF LIFE

BACK TO THINGS

We think of grief as something strange,
Yet joy may cause the greater change.
Yes, pleasure leads the feet afar,
Leads sons from where their mothers are,
Takes wives from husbands, men from wives,
Creates the chasms in our lives;
And then some grief may come to seal
The wounds that joy could never heal.

Although great fortune, much success,
Should never make us love God less
But rather make us love God more.
What prosperous lands have gone to war,
What prosperous men have turned to sin!
There may be more of blessing in
A little grief than more of joy
Than men can properly employ.

We think of grief as some event
Unneeded, and unkindly meant;
Yet folly on some foolish day
It is that leads the heart astray,
Parts sons and mothers, wives and men,
Oh, what shall call them home again?
Joy rigs us up with gaudy wings,
But sorrow brings us back to things.

RAYBESTOS WIN 3-0 SHUTOUT FROM COGS

BRAKELINERS HOLD LOSERS TO FIVE HITS

Scully's Two-Base Clout Scores Three Runs in the Third.

INTERESTING CONTEST.

Errors Play Big Part in Failure of the Cogs to Come Across.

Edward Egerton Maudsley, also known as Scotty and Sailor, and called a lot of other names during his baseball career, hooked the Cognawagas to a standstill at Exhibition Park last evening, scoring his first shut-out in history, the Raybestos gang winning in one big innings by 3 to 0. Maudsley was good all the way, refusing to ascend in the sixth when Cogs had the bases loaded with two hands down. Corbett, usually a hitter on such an occasion, struck out.

The Rays' left-hander had a good night all round, getting a pair of singles and a run. He also fielded everything his way.

Raybestos were on their toes most of the time, with Art Primeau, newly-appointed manager, in charge. It was Frank Scully who figured in the role of the clean-up kid, his long two-base clout which sailed far beyond centre fielder Cripps, scoring three runs in the third.

The game drew a big crowd of fans, who saw an interesting contest, with flashes of high class fielding. Johnny Wilson showing some fine work in the fifth when he threw out Rogers after knocking down a speedy drive that almost sent him off his balance. Jack Billingsley pitched well enough to win any ordinary game, but he did not get any breaks. Errors, while not figuring in the three runs, did not help him, the Cogs having four, including a muffed fly by Rooke.

All the excitement was packed into two frames. Maudsley started things in the third with a single to left. Hillier rapped one to middle for two bases, and H. Nicholls drew a pass, filling the bags. Cripps, who was playing in close, saw Scully's fly go soaring over his head and when he retrieved the spalding, three runners were in and Scully was resting on second. Corrin's third strike was missed by Baker and the throw to first allowed Scully to make third. Rogers popped to Rooke, who dropped the ball, and Scully scooting for home was thrown out by Rooke. Moore ended it by grounding to Crary.

Cognawagas had their big chance to get some runs in the sixth, but failed to connect. With Baker gone on a fly to Scully, Rooke drove one between first and second, Scully juggling the ball on the run. Rooke made the bag and Cripps moved up to third. Scully fumbled Wilson's drive but recovered in time to throw out Cripps at the plate. Crary was passed, loading the bases, but nothing happened, as Corbett struck out.

The Cogs got a pair of counters on in the seventh with one gone, Baker tried hard, but his long fly was taken by O. Nicholls and Cripps fanned.

VIEWS ON SPORT

Kiwanis Juniors and the Royals will clash for the second time this season on Monday night at the Exhibition Grounds.

* * * * * * *

Crary will take the box for the Kiwanis in the junior league fixture slated for Monday night. The Royals have been putting in some good practices and are out to take revenge from Deannard's crew for the 4-3 defeat suffered by them in their first game on Victoria Day.

* * * * * * *

Deannard now has his full quota of fifteen players allowed by the city league rules, and all are eager to take part in the race for the junior group honors. The team is composed of Crary, Howden, Keannelly, Cotton, LeBarr, Hall, Walton, Starr, Dormer, Carroll, Deannard, Graham, Allin, Gillespie and Goodson.

* * * * * * *

Riley and Hickey's bantam crew came across with another victory last night by defeating the Beavers 10-4 in a league tilt at the Sacred Heart grounds.

* * * * * * *

Gatfield, for the winners, pitched a good game and aided by free passes and numerous errors on the part of East City, the Clothiers had no hard task in winning an easy victory.

* * * * * * *

"Sailor" Maudsley scored his first shut-out game in baseball last night when the Cogs lost a 3-0 decision to the Raybestos. "Scotty" was good all the way, holding the Cognawagas to a fade-out in the sixth with all the bases loaded.

* * * * * * *

To Frank Scully goes the credit for the win, his long two-base clout over the centre-fielder's head in the third, scoring the three runs for the victors.

The E..L. teams are playing bood ball, and those who witnessed the game last night saw an interesting contest. Errors on the part of the losers, while not playing a part in the three runs scored by the Brakeliners, did not help the Cogs any.

REGARDED AS POINT-WINNER

Walter Spence is regarded as a sure point-winner for Canada in the swimming events at the Olympics. Although he lives at Brooklyn, N.Y., he is a native of British Guiana. The latter has no Olympic team, so Spence will sport the Maple Leaf at the world's games at Amsterdam. He is the holder of several swimming titles, and with the silverware of one of them is shown here.

ST. LOUIS IN SECOND PLACE

Win 8-3 Victory From New York Giants in National League.

REDS WIN 5-3.

NEW YORK, June 9 (Canadian Press).—The St. Louis Cardinals seesawed into second place in the stirring National League pennant race here yesterday, winning easily 8 to 3. Wee Willie Sherdel, pony lefthander of the Cardinals, had the Giants shut out until the eighth, when Mel Ott broke the spell with his seventh home run of the season. The Cards drove Virgil Barnes to the showers in the third, when St. Louis bunched five hits for four runs after two were out. Oscar Roettger hit a home run in this inning with Harper on base. A leaping one-handed catch by Taylor Douhit off Freddy Lindstrom in the first was the fielding gem of the week.

Fancy batting by Curt Walker enabled the Cincinnati Reds to score at Brooklyn, 5 to 3, in 11 innings in a game otherwise featured by the fine relief pitching of Pete Jablonowski. Walker's triple in the ninth and a wild pitch by Dazzy Vance gave the Reds a tie, and his home run over the right field fence with one on in the eleventh settled the issue in favor of the visitors.

Jackie May's wildness gave Brooklyn an early lead, and he retired in favor of Jablonowski, who pitched splendid ball for more than ten innings. Bisonette got three of Brooklyn's six hits.

The Braves found their batting eyes yesterday, driving out 17 hits at the expense of three visiting Pittsburgh pitchers, and winning the second game of the series, 9 to 5. Pete Scott made two of the Pirates' seven hits, each with a home run into the new left field bleachers. His second came in the ninth with a mate on base. All of the Pittsburgh runs came from homers, as Barnhart brought home a runner ahead of him with a circuit drive in the fourth. In the fifth, Hornsby also knocked out a home run with one on. Every Brave made at least one hit. Brown, who has played 618 consecutive big league games, a league record, was benched yesterday. Jack Smith, who took his place, had a perfect day at bat.

The Nationals won the second game of the series at Philadelphia yesterday by defeating Chicago six to five. Virgil Davis, Phillies' catcher, recently obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in a trade that involved Jimmy Wilson, made his first appearance behind the plate and won the game with a home run with two on in the eighth inning. Cliff Heathcote hit a homer for the Cubs in the fifth inning with the bases bare.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By a Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, it rained again Wed., Mac, so once more the Petes didn't have to make no mid-week trip This time it was Belleville fans what didn't get a chance to look at our lads in action, but they ain't likely to be any trouble over this postponement, seeing the Belleville club is managed by reasonable folks what won't expect the impossible of the Petes. Down in Kingston they'll still be tearing their hair about last week's fiasco. In spite of the fact the Petes told them Wed. a game Fri. couldn't be done and told them again Thurs. they was no chance of a team going down, the Ponies went right ahead and billed the game. And they had to give the fans their money back. That musta been tough, for if they's two things the Kingston management don't like letting going of any jack they get in the treasury is both of them. They look closer at the box office than they do at the score board down in Joe Daley's town, and they do say more than 1 Pony dropped a fly because he was so busy trying to count the No. of paid customers on the side lines. Which sort of reminds me, Mac, of the old story about the ball player that got the signal to steal 2nd and he didn't respond. What you waiting for, sez the coacher. For the 1st and 15th, sez the fellow on first, meaning pay day, of course.

The Kingston papers sez the Petes should oughta be dropped outa the league. Well, I want to tell the cock-eyed world right now that if the Deloro gang had got their application for membership in the Central loop in on time the Ponies wouldn't be in the circuit at all. The league got along quite comfortable before they ever broke into the loop, and could do very nicely—thank you—without them now.

Enough of that, Mac. Sat. the boys hooked up with Mister Bob Elliott's Delorites and took the count. Why, I'll never tell you. Our Mister Hardill held the invaders to 1 rather tainted run, and the lads should have galloped in looking backwards with that kind of pitching, but their own attack was altogether missing. 1 bingle was all they could collect off of a bird what was simply slinging them in there when he could, which was only about 1 ball in 3. It looked so soft to our guys that they wouldn' let Mister Shea fill up the cushions on passes, and they simply took a cut at the 1st ball that came near them. They might of got 18 hits that way, of course, but, sad to relate, they only got 1—that young fellow Johnston, who is breaking into the game at 3rd base, spoiling a no-hit game. I'm satisfied that if the lads had gone up there without no bats for about 3 innings this Mister Shea woulda passed enough to beat himself. But the Petes is kind-hearted birds and they helped him out.

Well, Mac, you can take it from me, this Central League race is going to be a pippin all season. The teams is well matched, and there is enough rivalry among them to make a fight outa every ball game. The way the teams is beating each other any 1 club is going to have a heck of a time pulling very far clear of the bunch, and it won't be for weeks yet that you can take a chance and name the teams that'll get in the play-offs. Already 3 of the teams has lost 2 games inside 2 weeks, and Oshawa, Kingston and the Petes has dropped a home fixture at that. Keep your eye on the Central, Mac, they'll be fireworks all the way round the track.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

BIG SIX.

(By the Associated Press.)

A home run blast which helped Boston defeat Pittsburgh, 9 to 5, and placed him in a tie at ten with Bissonette of Brooklyn, and Wilson of Chicago, was the only dynamite in Rogers Hornsby's bat yesterday, and the Big Six leader fell off two points to .421. He remained far ahead of Paul Waner, who got only one hit and dropped three points to .356. Babe Ruth was kept idle by rain. Ty Cobb and Frank Frisch enjoyed a good day together, each getting two hits. Cobb increased his lead over Frisch slightly as he was charged with only four times at bat against five for Frankie. Heielman again was idle.

PONIES POUND DELORO CREW FOR 8 TO 3 WIN

Jamieson Pitches Perfect Ball To Allow Smelters Only Three Hits.

GIVEN GOOD SUPPORT.

Kingston Overcomes Early Lead of Miners in Fifth Inning.

KINGSTON, Ont., June 9. — Kingston defeated Deloro by the score of 8 to 3 in the O.O.B.L. game here last evening, pounding both Von Jack and Leal hard, while they were given sensational pitching by "Tammy" Jamieson, erstwhile junior. Jamieson restricted the Deloro team to three hits in eight innings, allowing two more in the ninth. He had perfect control throughout, not issuing a walk, putting the ball where he wanted it every time he chose.

Kingston slammed the ball hard in the pinches, and played good ball in the field, except for third base where Arneill had a decidedly off night. Deloro were for the most part helpless before Jamieson's pitching and only a couple of times looked dangerous.

The Smelters went into the lead at the start when they scored a run in the second on G. Arneill's error and Hughes' three-bagger. Kingston came back with a run the second, and then got two on hits by Buck, Ada, and J. Arneill in the third. After getting one in the fourth, they filled the bases in the fifth, and G. Arneill cleared them with a double to left. Jack was derricked and Leal took his place. One more run came in, and after that Leal held the locals safe.

Deloro got a run on an error, a sacrifice and a hit in the sixth, and in the ninth staged a rally when Regan singled and later scored after a double steal, when Elliott dropped the throw to second and Regan scored.

Ladies' Ontario Golf Final Decided At 16th Hole

CECIL SMITH DEFEATS SISTER

Favorite Comes Through With 3 Up and 2 to Play Victor.

PLAYED DURING RAIN.

Essex Golf and Country Club, June 9. — Miss Cecil Smith, Toronto Golf Club, is the new Ontario ladies' golf champion, defeatin gher sister Maude of the same club, two up, in the final for the championship here yesterday afternoon.

Miss Cecil got away to a good start being four up at the fourth and although her sister rallied later she always had a good margin of the play

Played in Rain.

Miss Cecil Smith, younger of two sisters, who gave up tennis four years ago to play golf, was crowned queen of lady golfers in Ontario on a rain-swept course here yesterday afternoon.

The 19-year-old Miss defeated her sister Maud four up and two to go in a hard fought and well played final.

Despite a steady downpour from first tee to sixteenth green, where the match ended, the Toronto golf club girls played splendid golf.

Neither one missed more than one drive on the sixteen holes and their long brassie shots and consistent approach delighted a gallery of spectators who braved the storm to be witnesses of the coronation. Cecil won because she was naturally the longest hitter, both off tee and through the green, while her approaches were a little more accurate.

The game ended when Maud got into a trap with a long drive on the sixteenth, pitched out short, rolled far over the pin and failed to get down in four. Cecil was four feet from the hole in two. Maud here conceded hole and match.

BEAVERS LOSE 10-4 DECISION

Riley and Hickey Strengthen Lead in the Bantam Group.

PITCHERS GOOD.

Riley and Hickey's Bantams defeated the East City Beavers 10-4 at the Sacred Heart grounds last night. Gatefild, on the mound for the winners, pitched great ball, fanning the first five men who went to the plate at the beginning of the game. The Beavers failed to connect with his speed ball and for the first two innings none of their team reached first.

The winners hit consistently and aided by four free passes and the numerous errors of the Beavers, they counted up the runs. Dennison went the full course on the rubber for the losers, allowing four walks, hitting three and having nine strikeouts to his credit. His team mates gave poor support to his work in the box.

The Beavers managed to get two men on bases in the third, but failed to score until the next frame, when Murdock's single sent in Curtis for their first run.

In the fifth Jones replaced Gatfield on the rubber but he himself was relieved by Duffus after he had struck out two of the five opposing players at the plate. Duffus fanned the next man up, leaving two of the Beavers on bases. In the sixth Duffus was pulled out after striking out two men, and with the bases loaded Gatefild took on the Hurling again and retired the side by the strike-out route. Gatfield struck out twelve batters during the game and also secured a couple of good hits. Summary:

Score by inning:
Riley and Hickey 404101x
Beavers.. 0001211

Struck out—Gatfield 12, Dennison 9, Jones 8, Duffus 2.

Line-ups:

Riley and Hickey—Kay, Price, 1b; Davern, 3b.; Reynolds, r.f.; Levine, m.; Asquith, s.s.; Cadd, c.; Gatfield, Jones, Duffus, p.; Braund and McAuliffe, l.f.; Bailey, 2b.

Beavers—Legon, 2b; Curtis, c.; Houlihan, s.s.; McCarthy, 1b.; Maudaley, 3b.; Murdock, l.f.; Halpin, m.f.; McGraw, r.f.; Dennison, p.

Mr. F. Moore of Stirling was in town on Tuesday.

Catchacoma News

A well-known northern village doctor and his chauffeur should have stopped at the entrance to a narrow road through a short swamp but finding out the difficulty too late graciously turned out too far and went down badly into the water. It took a block and tackle to get the car out.

A government surveying party under Mr. Filton, P.L.S. of Toronto is here laying out the 66-foot strip along the shore reserved by the government for the public and also establishing roads and laying out the small area of government land still remaining, in lots for sale. Cathacoma is now "on the map."

MILLBROOK FAIR BOARD HOLDS SUCCESSFUL SPORTS PROGRAM

Fine Weather Favors First Sports Day of 1928 Season.

ATTENDANCE LARGE.

Competition is Keen in All Games and Contests—Dance Ends Day.

MILLBROOK, June 9.—Fine weather favored the annual sports' day, under the auspices of the Agricultural Society, held at the fair grounds on Thursday, June 7, opening with a softball tournament by four of the teams in the local league.

This was the initial sports program here for this season, and the attendance, which, was good, together with the atmosphere of general good feeling which prevailed throughout, gave evidence that the "day off," including a half holiday for the schools, was appreciated.

There were two booths on the grounds, both doing a flourishing business throughout the afternoon, among those in charge being P. I. Bentley, R. I. Fallis, H. R. Scott, and Douglas Sheppard.

The line-up for the opening game between the Clerks and the Scouts, was:

Clerks.—Howard Lancashire, p; W. Gray, c; Arnold Armstrong, 1b; J. Larmer, 2b; E. G. Britton, 3b; W. Skitch, rf; A. Johnston, lf; C. Ingram, cf; P. Bingham, ss.

Scouts.—Gerald Raper, p; Laird Bothwell, c; Eddie Nattress, 1b; Gordon Armstrong, 2b; Garnett Russell, 3b; B. Raper, rf; B. Russell, lf; E. Budd, cf; Henry Gray, ss.

Umpires.—V. R. Hunter and H. Jordan.

Score—10 to 4, favor of the Clerks.

The Cadets and the Town Team next took the diamond, the former winning out by a score of 20 to 8, with J. A. Vance and W. E. Ball as umpires. The line-up was:

Cadets.—B. B. Dawson, p; A. Todd, c; George Sayles, 1b; K. Donnelly, 2b; J. Hutchison, 3b; G. Gray, rf; G. Harkness, lf; D. Hutchison, cf.

Town Team—G. W. Sayles, p; E. C. Richards, c; Ross Edmunds, 1b; Foster Russell, 2b; H. Nattress, 3b; H. A. Fallis, rf; H. Ball, lf; Cameron Vance, cf.

The winners in the series, the Clerks and the Cadets, then played off with a resulting victory for the former, the score being 15 to 6; Vance and Ball acted as umpires.

Girls' Softball

A girls' softball team from Mount Pleasant competed with the local girls' team, honors remaining with the home town, the score being 15 to 12; Hunter and Jordan umpiring. The teams were:

Mount Pleasant.—Alma Downer, p; Sisson, c; B. Jamieson, 1b; Helen McLean, 2b; Olive Bryan, 3b; D. Morden, ss; Myrtle Hootan, rf; A. Graham, lf.

The Races

Directors: I. W. Larmer, L. W. Smith, and J. A. Vance were in charge of the races which were the next feature of interest. The prize winners were:

Boys Free for All race.—1, James Larmer; 2, Arnold Armstrong; 3, Rob Larmer.

Boys under 16 (100 yards).—1, Laird Bothwell; 2, Jack Hutchison.

One Mile Relay.—J. Larmer, Charlie Larmer; Laird Bothwell.

Little Girls' Race—1, Dorothy Hoad; 2, Lenore Lambert; 3, Kathleen Smith.

Boys, under 8.—1, Lawrence Hawken; 2, Arthur Richards; 3, Gordon Widdis.

Boys under 10.—1, Reg. Edmunds; 2, Elwood Fallis; 3, Kenneth Little.

Boys under 12.—1, Buster Raper; 2, Dalton Brown; 3, Owen McCarthy.

Boys 14 and under.—1, Garnet Russel; 2, Henry Raper; 3, Clifford Larmer.

Horseshoe Pitching

Quite a number of the men enjoyed horseshoe pitching while the other games were in progress, and a slow auto race was a novel feature of the program, the winner being Harold Tate, with J. Mcnight a fairly close second. Probably ten cars started in the competition, three of the drivers, H. Tate, Henry Lancashire, and J. McKnight having to make the round a secon dtiime to determine who could hold his car down to the slowest pace, the start being made in high gear.

Visitors Win Baseball

The final game of baseball between Millbrook and Nestleton aroused keen interest, the visitors carrying off the higher score, the figures being 17 to 8. Oaler, of Toronto, was umpire at the plate, and H. R. Edmunds on bases. The teams were:

Nestleton.—Heaslip, p; C. McGill, c; F. Philp, 1b; Malcolm, 2b; P. Philp, 3b; Jones, rf; Marlow, lf; Edwards, cf.

Millbrook.—Foster Russel, p; A. Todd, c; F. Gray, 1b; W. Skitch, 2b; H. Lancashire, 3b; P. Bingham, rf; Donnelly lf; W. Budd, cf.

The town hall was filled to capacity for the entertainment at night when the Dramatic Club of Bailieboro presented the play "A Rustic Romeo," every character taking his and her part in a most creditable manner. Mrs. Allen presided at the piano as accompanist for the many attractive dances and solos which interspersed the play. Between the acts, solos were sung by Mrs. F. Waterman, "Weave a Crown for England," and "Tap, Tap, Tip a Tap"; and by Mrs. Lunney, whose selection was "Side by Side with You." Piano duets were given by Mrs. Allen and Miss Hazel Armstrong, and by Mrs. Allen and Mrs. L. H. Winslow. J. L. McCamus was chairman.

A dance in the armouries concluded the day's program, and was evidently a very popular feature judging by the large number of couples filling the floor, and by a gallery overcrowded with spectators. Music was furnished by the Stewart-Moncrief orchestra.

Financially, the Agricultural Society came out well on the right side as a result of the various events, which filled out the time from shortly after the noon hour until long past midnight.

WILL REPRESENT CANADA

Joe Wright, Jr., and Jack Guest, who will represent Canada in the Olympic sculling double, as well as in the singles. They leave for England this week and will compete for the Diamond Sculls, which Wright would have won last year but for a mishap when his boat fouled a log. Barring accidents, he is regarded as this year's victor in the greatest rowing event in the world. Wright is seated at the stern.

SPORT CHATTER

(By F. D. C.)

Bill Carey's Kiwanis Juveniles say that when bigger scores are made they'll make them. The youngsters ran up a total of 27 counters in a League game the other night.

They do say that Elliott, the youngster who has been playing great ball at second base for the Kingston Ponies also plays for a Kingston Junior team entered in the Junior O.B.A.A. series. If this is the case it might be interesting to know how a player can be a member of teams in two different series of the O.B.A.A. at the same time. He can try out in the senior ranks and go back to the junior series but unless the two teams are under the one management he cannot jump back and forth from one series to the other. Elliott by the way is a son of the famous "Chaucer" Elliott, one of Kingston's greatest athletes in yester years.

The writer was among those who travelled to Toronto last week to see Babe Ruth do his stuff. And of course the Babe, Columbia Lou Gehrig and Push-em-up Tony Lazzeri didn't contribute a hit among the three. Thursday all three of them crashed out home runs in a league game. We never did get any breaks anyway.

The Kingston Ponies won their second game of the week last night when they easily defeated Deloro by 8 to 3. The victory pulled Joe Daley's men up a notch, yanked Deloro out of third place, and further tightened up the Central Ontario League race. Already four of the five teams have been beaten twice and the season is only two weeks old yet.

Jamieson, the Kingston Junior pitcher, gave the Ponies the best twirling they have had this season. Kingston has plenty of batting strength and so long as they get fair pitching they will be dangerous, especially at home.

Jack the Deloro ppitcher, infielder and outfielder, has been beaten his first two starts, losing to Belleville and Kingston.

Hec Boudreau, the husky Deloro outfielder, who used to bust them on the nose regularly but has been on the bench so far this season, was called upon as a pinch hitter in the ninth last night and came through with a hit.

The Smelters don't look like a strong aggregation offensively, and unless they get first class pitching and airtight defence generally, they're going to have their troubles. They have scored only four runs in their first three games.

A MOTOR CAR BUILT TO SKID

Designed to skid as often as possible, a novel automobile built by the National Physical Laboratory in England, is being used in experiments to make motoring safer. By driving the car over diferent types of road in all sorts of weather and changing the types of tires, says Popular Science Monthly, the investigators hope to determine the best tire equipement and pavement to prevent accidents.

Large Crowds Attend Connaught Park Races

OTTAWA, Ont., June 9 (Canadian Press). — With no feature event on the program Real racing conditions prevailed yesterday at Connaught Park and the largest crowd of the meeting, about 5,000 persons, attended.

Favorites fared badly during the afternoon, only two, Support in the fifth and Meister in the seventh races, rewarding their backers. Blue Rose, winner of the second events, a 5½ furlongs' dash for 3 year olds and up, returned a dividend of $71.30 for each $2 mutuel ticket to win, and Occokeed, winner of the sixth, returned $37.65. The Seagram stable's Irish-named horse, Dilleas Gu Brath, was the favorite for the sixth, but was unplaced.

The Lord Willingdon Cup race will be the feature of to-day's program.

OVER FIFTY MINERALS BEING PRODUCED

A notable feature of the progress of the Dominion as a mining country is the diversity of lines along which Canadian mining has advanced. Some fifty different minerals, metallic and non-metallic, are listed in the production figures for 1926, and this number includes a variety such as nickel, cobalt, asbestos, gold, lead, silver, copper, and zinc, in which Canada either leads world production or ranks among the greater producing nations.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE LOST BALL.

(Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Let's have a game of ball, Uncle Wiggily," barked the white, fluffy poodle dog, who was trotting along beside the rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, I'm afraid I'm too old to play ball," said Mr. Longears with a smile.

"No you aren't!" barked the white poodle. "I've seen lots of rabbits older than you. Come on—let's play ball."

"But we haven't a ball or bat," said Uncle Wiggily. "Besides, it takes more than two for a ball game. But wait a minute. I see some friends of mine coming along. There's Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, and Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, and Toodle and Noodle—"

Uncle Wiggily sat down on a toadstool.

"Say, there's a lot of boys!" exclaimed the white poodle, looking at the puppy dogs, the squirrels and the beavers who were hurrying along the woodland path. "And one of them has a bat and another has a ball, so they must be going to play a game. Oh, I hope they are!"

"It looks so," said Uncle Wiggily. And when Jackie and the other animal boys came nearer, Mr. Longears introduced them to the white poodle, who was a new dog around there.

"He wants to have a ball game," said the rabbit gentleman.

"But who is he?" asked Toodle Flat Tail, the beaver boy.

"I'm a puzzle poodle," answered the white dog. "I made a puzzle for Uncle Wiggily, didn't I?" he barked.

"That's what you did," agreed Mr. Longears. Then he told how, when he was out adventuring with the four little flower girl rabbits, they had met the poodle, who drew three puzzle pictures with sentences that had words left out.

"I'll show them," offered the poodle.

Again he drew the puzzle which I suppose you children solved last night. But this time the white dog put in the missing words, so the three sentences read:

"There is something in my eye," said the needle.

"My head is cold," said the pin.

"Please scratch my legs," said the table.

"Ha! Ha!" chattered Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boy. "That was a good puzzle, little poodle!"

So the white dog and the other animal boys became good friends then and there. The four little flower rabbits had hopped home and Uncle Wiggily sat down on a toadstool to see what would happen.

"Have any of you a ball and bat?" asked the poodle.

"Sure!" barked Jackie Bow Wow. "We were going to play when we met you and Uncle Wiggily."

"Play ball!" cried Sammie Littletail. "I'll be pitcher."

The animal boys began to scramble about and Uncle Wiggily was making himself easy on the toadstool, for he loved a good ball game, when, all of a sudden, Noodle, the other beaver boy, slapped his broad, flat tail down hard on the ground, which was a signal for danger, and Noodle called:

"Look out, fellows! Here comes the Bob Cat!"

Now there were so many of the animal boys that, with Uncle Wiggily there to help them, no one was afraid enough to run when the Bob Cat slunk out of the bushes and came toward the tree under which the ball players had gathered.

"Oh, here you are!" snarled the Bob Cat at Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes, here I am," bravely answered the rabbit. "Did you come for my ears?" Uncle Wiggily made up his mind that he wouldn't give the Bad Chap his ears no matter what happened.

"No, I didn't come for ears!" yelped the Bob Cat. "I came for a ball and bat!"

"Ha! Ha! You can't find them! I hid them!" barked Jackie Bow Wow. Surely enough the ball and bat seemed to have disappeared, though they were in plain sight. See if you can find them in the puzzle.

Find the ball and bat.

WEDDING BELLS

CAMPBELL—ACKISON

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, fragrant with lilacs, tulips and ferns, decorated by her fellow workers of the Sun Life Office, was the scene of a charming wedding this afternoon at one-thirty o'clock, when Hazel Martha, daughter of Mr. J. J. Ackison and the late Mrs. Ackison, became the bride of Mr. Harry Ross Campbell of Bailieboro.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Riddell of Millbrook. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of white satin, veiled in white georgette; the skirt being trimmed with a deep, graduating flounce of French fringe. A large white mohair picture hat, with white kid shoes and stockings completed the charming ensemble. The bride carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Emma Lou Chenhall presided at the organ, and the register was signed by Miss Kathleen Isbister and Mr. Clifford Hall. Miss Isbister wore a gown of French blue georgette with matching hat, blonde shoes and hose, and corsage bouquet of roses.

The groom's gifts to the witnesses were a cameo ring and gold cuff links, and to the organ a white gold pin.

Immediately following the marriage ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left on a motor honeymoon through Western Ontario, the bride travelling in a dress of rose biege coin-spot silk, with smart, small, matching hat, brown suede shoes and stockings. Her coat was of navy silk-lined tricotine, with moleskin collar.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will reside at their home in Bailieboro.

HOOPER—KEMP

The wedding took place very quietly to-day at eleven o'clock at George Street Church Parsonage, of Anne Isabel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kemp, and Mr. William Henry Hooper, B.Sc., of Peterborough, only son of Mrs. Matilda Hooper and the late James Hooper of May, Idaho. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. E. Todd. Witnesses to the signing of the register were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Convery.

Mr. and Mrs. Hooper left on the noon C.P.R. train for Ottawa and Montreal. On their return, they will reside in Peterborough.

HYATT—ALLEN.

A lovely house wedding took place at one o'clock to-day at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Allen, 597 Charlotte Street, when their youngest daughter, Grace Hilldane, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Frederick Earnest Hyatt, of St. John, Quebec, son of Mrs. H. E. Hyatt, of Windsor, and the late Mr. Frederick Fowler Hyatt, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Gordon, pastor of St. Andrew's United Church, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom, and took place in the living-room, under an arch of white and mauve lilacs, pink cherry blossoms and honeysuckle.

Mr. John Crane played softly during the progress of the ceremony, and Mrs. J. W. McKay of Windsor, sister of the bridegroom, sang two charming solos, "At Dawning" and "O Promise Me." Mrs. McKay wore a dress of crepe Elizabeth in two shades of pink, and corsage bouquet of Columbia roses.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, wore a beautiful French gown of ivory crepe-faced patin charmeuse, made in sleeveless style. The bouffant skirt was formed of two scalloped tiers of the satin, with deep flounces of Chantilly lace, and was centred at the waistline by a chou of the lace and a cluster of artificial orange blossoms, with pendant streamers of narrow white ribbon held with orange blossom petals. A scalloped yoke of the Chantilly lace had a collarless neckline edged with satin, and was outlined with seed-pearl passementerie. A lovers' knot of ribbon appeared beneath the lace in the front of the gown.

An exquisite long veil of ivory silk tulle had petalled edges and was embroidered in silk in a floral design. It fell in cascades at either side in the front and had a Juliet cap effect for the head, with clusters of orange blossoms over the ears and a streamer of narrow silver ribbon at the right side.

Long white kid gloves, white kid slippers with tiny silver buckles, and white silk hose, were worn, and a bracelet of ivory and rhinestone. Pendant from white silk ribbons the bride carried on her arm a satin and marabou fan with hard-carved ivory sticks which were worn by her mother at her wedding. Her bouquet was of Claude Pernet cream roses, lily of the valley, and maidenhair fern, with streamers of narrow white satin ribbon.

The only attendant as a dainty little flower girl, small Muriel Donaldson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Donaldson, Monaghan Road. She was in a short frock of cornflower blue flat crepe with frill of gold lace and hair bandeau of blue and gold edged with French roses, which also formed a shoulder knot. She wore gold slippers and hose and carried a basket of pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

A dainty wedding breakfast was served in buffet style after the ceremony, the bride's table done with the wedding cake topped by a quaint little ornament in ivory and silver used on her mother's wedding cake, and surrounded by white tulle festooned with maidenhair fern. Silver bud vases held lily of the valley and honeysuckle.

Mrs. Allen, mother of the bride, wore a lovely gown of beige georgette combined with beige-colored silk radium lace. The deep cuffs and surplice front of the bodice were of the lace, which formed the inner slip, posed over rose pink silk. With this were worn beige kid slippers and matching hose, a long string of pearls and a corsage bouquet of Madam Butterfly roses and maidenhair fern.

Mrs. Hyatt, mother of the bridegroom, was in rose beige georgette with corsage bouquet of mauve sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt left later in the afternoon for a motor trip to Ottawa and Montreal, en route to St. John, Quebec, where they will reside. The bride travelled in a gown of bisque Celanese silk with tiny vestee and collar of white. Her coat was of natural kasha lined with blonde silk crepe, its deep cuffs of blonde moleskin and its long scarf ends ornamented with red poinsettia design embroidery. A small linen kasha hat was faced with red and embroidered with silk thread and a purse of blonde kid, with blonde kid shoes and matching hose, completed the costume.

Take 3 Hyatt and Allen

The bride received a large number of beautiful gifts, including several cheques, a silver tea set from the Chamber of Commerce and a silver tray from the automobile dealers of the city, a silver bread tray from St. Andrew's church choir, of which she was a member, and a walnut-cased Heintzman piano from the bridegroom.

The gift to the little flower girl was a white gold bracelet set with a tourmaline and to the soloist an enamelled gold bar bin.

Guests present at the wedding were the mother and sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. M. E. Hyatt and Mrs. J. W. McKay of Windsor, with Mr. McKay and daughter Eileen, two brothers, Mr. James S. Hyatt of Windsor and Mr. W. R. Hyatt of Toronto, with Mrs. W. R. Hyatt, a brother of the bride, Dr. Norman M. Allen of Windsor, and a sister, Miss Meta C. Allen of Regina, also Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Donaldson and daughter Muriel and Mr. John Crane.

IN MEMORIAM

SCOTT.—In loving memory of Mrs. William Scott, who died June 10th, 1927.

We miss her when we need a friend,
On her we always could depend;
She cheered us in sickness and soothed our pain;
God grant some day we'll meet again.
—Inserted by May Caird.

IN MEMORIAM.

MACK—In loving memory of Mrs James Mack, who died June 9, 1926.

Yes, she sleeps, but not forever,
In a lone and silent grave,
Blessed promise she shall waken,
Jesus died the lost to save.
In the dawning of the morning,
When the troubled night is o'er,
All the buds in beauty blooming
Will rejoice to see her more.
—Inserted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heggadoren.

IN MEMORIAM.

POWELL. — In loving memory of Gladys Leeta Powell, who died June 10, 1922.

The depth of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well;
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears of sorrow often flow;
Memory keeps our loved one near us,
Who God claimed six years ago.
—Sadly missed by her Father, and Mother, Sisters and Brothers.

CREW OF LOST DIRIGIBLE ARE ADRIFT ON ICE FLOES. PROVISIONS FOR SIX WEEKS

Revealed By Radio Messages All Members of Italia Still Alive.

DIVIDED INTO GROUPS.

(Copyrighted 1928, by the Associated Press).

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 11. Divided into two groups and drifting aimlessly on ice floes is the condition of the eighteen members of the crew of the dirigible Italia as revealed by a radio conversation early yesterday.

The two groups at times are out of sight of each other. Open water prevents them from joining forces, and also bars them from making their way to land.

Boats to rescue them from their predicament constitute the need of the moment. They have provisions sufficient for six weeks.

Captain Romanga of the Citta di Milano, the Nobile base ship here, was sure last evening that all the missing members of the expedition were alive. This, however, was before a later conversation over the radio revealed the peril of the men.

Aid Asked of Russia.

In the face of this condition aid has been asked of the Russian Government which possesses the most powerful ice breakers in the Arctic. Word has also been despatched to Milan to hasten the departure of the big Italian seaplane, the Savoia-55.

Captain Riiser-Larsen, Norwegian naval ace, explains that the planes which he and Lt. Holm brought to Spitzbergen have not space to carry supplies sufficient for 18 refugees. He and the lieutenant, however are making every effort to get in touch with the marooned men.

Captain Riiser-Larsen yesterday flew his plane from Spitzbergen, and joined Lieut. Holm on the sealer Hob by. But ice packed in and around the vessel and prevented them from taking off for the spot in the Arctic ocean where the Italia's crew is stranded.

He also recalled the ice breaker Braganza to King's Bay so that it might fit out as a base ship for the Norwegian aviators. But ice conditions have also prevented that vessel from making headway.

The Citta di Milano has received no definite word as to the actual condition of the dirigible itself. It can only be conjectured that she was not totally wrecked, this theory being based upon the fact that solar observation and radio instruments were saved. Otherwise Nobile's men could not have communicated their position to this harbor.

Captain Romanga in his appeals to the Italian Minister at Oslo emphasized the need for haste. In conversations here he also dwelt on the difficulties that confront rescuers. He agrees with Captain Riiser-Larsen that a big Russian ice breaker is the best hope for success.

The Italian commander has asked a local dog driver if he could make his way over the ice to the Italia's crew. The latter, whose name is Smith, said he could probably do it, but the trip would be very dangerous and prolonged. In his opinion the best chance of rescue by dog sled would come if the Italia's men succeeded in reaching the coast of North East land. They could be fetched by dogs from that place.

Soviet Lends Aid.

MOSCOW, June 11. — The Soviet Rescue Commission, organized to give to the polar expedition of General Nobile all aid possible, yesterday ordered the ice cutter Malagin held in readiness for sailing orders to Spitzbergen.

It was announced that the vessel, which the Soviet authorities believe to be the most powerful Arctic boat afloat can be started into the Arctic the moment that the formal request is received from the Italians.

Other rescue plans initiated by the Russians have been postponed pending coordination of the Russian efforts with those of General Nobile's countrymen.

PLAN ADDITION TO HOSPITAL

Trustees Studying Plans To Provide More Room For Patients.

CONGESTION GROWING.

A large addition is expected to be built this year to the Nicholls Hospital. The Board has contemplated taking this step for some time and is expected to make a definite announcement within the next few days. Plans have been submitted to the Board and carefully studied at several meetings.

The hospital has been found to be too small to meet the demand put upon it to house the sick. The building of the addition to the Nurses' Home over a year ago relieved the congestion for some time, but it failed to allow adequate space in the hospital for patients.

London Comments On Immigration Debate

LONDON, June 11 (Canadian Press Cable). — Commenting on the recent debate in the House of Commons at Ottawa, over the recommendations of the Canadian parliamentary committee on immigration, The London Sunday Observer expresses the opinion that the debate turned rather on the competence of a minister than on the principle of immigration policy.

The debate revealed, however, continues The Observer, that there is a certain uneasiness prevailing regarding the type of British immigrant now being attracted to Canada and also regarding the means adopted to attract him.

"The excellent system of examining immigrants on this side is to be maintained. British doctors will faithfully execute the duties which Canadian authorities assign them," says the paper.

BENNETT MOVES FOR SALARY CUT

Would Reduce Amount Paid Chairman of Tariff Board.

C.N.R. VOTE PASSES.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 11 (Canadian Press). — Hon. R. B. Bennett moved an amendment to the Supply Bill in the House this afternoon, calling for a reduction of $10,000 in the salary of W. H. Moore, chairman of the Tariff Board.

The House passed the $39,000,000 vote for the Canadian National Railways before the luncheon adjournment, but the business was still unfinished. The Supply Bill itself had to run the gauntlet.

All day Saturday, right on till the clock recorded a few minutes of Sunday, the House was in almost continuous session. It was a long day, generally of wearisome discussion, now and again of lively scrapping, with the hour of prorogation mentioned, only to be deferred again and again. His Excellency the Governor-General was on hand through the evening, waiting for the call. Senators met but, pending the supply bill, had nothing to do but adjourn.

Supply moved slowly, with occasional spurts of speed. Immediately the supply motion was moved in the morning, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Opposition leader, moved an amendment censuring the Government for extravagance in the estimates. As the amendment was defeated, M. E. Lavigueur, Liberal, of Quebec-Montmorency, put in a plea for increased sessional indemnity for members. That passed without comment from either of the front benches, and subsequent discussion ranged an extensive field. Traffic in narcotics; criticism of the post office for the way in which air mail contracts had been granted; grants to class A Fairs; the Winnipeg strike of 1919; the C.N.R. Hotel at Halifax, the latter leading to a snappy tussle between Mr. Bennett and the Minister of Railways—all crossed the stage. Within a minute of eleven, the 11 o'clock rule was suspended. Still the House talked and wrangled till the hour hand touched midnight, and the House decided to call it a day. The Commons went over till 11 o'clock to-day.

Long Session.

The four months of session now drawing to a close have been productive of few dramatic situations. They have not brought forth any legislative enactments of outstanding importance. Like the briefer session of last year they witnessed something of a return to the normal session of a few years ago, but with the difference that the House worked under new rules, modifying its procedure and changing its methods of work. The all-night sittings went with the old rules. In the session now about to close the House, with the exception of a couple of days automatically adjourned exactly as the clock began to strike eleven. With the eleven o'clock closing came the time limit on speeches sometimes abruptly concluding orations at the end of forty minutes.

THE WEATHER

Highest temperature yesterday 66 degrees; lowest last night 43 degrees. At noon to-day the temperature was 71 degrees. In answer to several enquiries it might be mentioned that the straw hat season has already been officially opened, and that it is quite in order to don summer headgear. While the weather in this section has been quite cool, reports from the western provinces are to the effect that growth is two weeks ahead of the average. Some showers are probable to-night or to-morrow.

Farmer Found Foully Murdered

CORNWALL, Ont., June 11 (Canadian Press). — Albert Laflamme, 42-year-old farmer of this district, was found dead in his yard with a bullet wound in the back of his neck yesterday morning. The body was discovered by Eugene Laflamme, son of the dead man.

When found, Laflamme was lying stretched on his face on the ground with both hands in his pockets as though he had been shot from behind while walking from his house to the barn.

Provincial police are investigating.

GALT WOMAN BADLY INJURED

Mrs. Henderson Severely Cut and Shaken When Car Runs Into Ditch.

THREE OTHERS SHAKEN.

(Examiner Staff Correspondent.)

CAMPBELLFORD, June 11. — When a motor car in which four persons were riding on Saturday afternoon took to the ditch on the Trent River road about three miles north of here, all four passengers were more or less shaken up, and one was severely injured. She is now in the hospital in Havelock undergoing treatment for severe cuts in one arm and one leg. The injured woman is Mrs. Henderson, Galt, who with her husband and two other friends, was motoring to Trent River to visit friends there and in that district. There had been a short rain shower, which was sufficiently severe to cause the roads to become decidedly slippery in some places. This is thought to have been the cause of the accident.

The car was travelling at a moderate rate of speed, somewhere in the neighborhood of twenty miles an hour, when it suddenly ran off into the ditch at the right of the road, and partially overturned, throwing Mrs. Henderson against the windshield. Her right wrist was severely cut, and there was also a deep gash in her right leg just above the knee. Medical aid was summoned from Campbellford, and everything possible done for the injured woman before removing her to the hospital in Havelock. Thanks to her husband's presence of mind, she did not lose an excess of blood. When the doctor arrived he found that Mr. Henderson had managed to keep pressure on the several blood vessels. Of the two cuts, the one in the wrist is considered the more serious since the blood vessels and tendons have been severed. The other occupants of the car suffered only minor injuries which did not require their admittance as patients to the hospital.

The car is a 1927 model and has been driven slightly less than 4,000 miles, according to the speedometer, Although it is somewhat the worse for the accident, it is not as seriously damaged as might be expected. The front bumper has been pushed out of shape. The headlights have been bent back and their lens shattered. The radiator is jammed out of shape. The windshield is broken on the right side, as are the windows along that side of the body. The two fenders on the right side are dented, but are by no means beyond repair. The tire on the left rear wheel is flat. The car is bluish-grey in color, with green trimmings and has disc wheels. It had marker number 92-001.

DR. BLAGRAVE RECEIVES GIFT

Congregation Makes Presentation in Honor of His 25 Years in Ministry.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE.

Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave, on the completion of 25 years in the Christian ministry, for seven of which he has been vicar of the St. John's Anglican Church of this city, was honored last evening by the congregation, which presented him with a beautiful silver tray. Dr. Blagrave graduated from McGill University in 1902, and the Montreal Diocesan College in 1903. Since then he has been in charge of churches at Coe Hill, Rawdon, Belleville and Toronto.

The presentation took place after the evening service, when a large number of the congregation assembled in the new Sunday School Hall. Dr. Blagrave was completely taken by surprise, as it had only been announced at the morning service that the wardens were calling a special meeting of the congregation that evening after the service.

W. J. Kent, on behalf of the wardens and congregation, made a short speech, and A. Stevenson made the presentation. Dr. Blagrave made a short reply, thanking the congregation for their gift. He was deeply touched by the kindness of the congregation and promised that their kindness would be an inventive to him in his work. He said that he and Mrs Blagrave, as long as they lived, would not forget the kindness of the St. John's congregation.

VOCATIONAL COURSES DESCRIBED BY PRINCIPAL H. R. H. KENNER IN TALK ON SECONDARY EDUCATION

Rotary Club Hears of Advantages That Will Be Offered Pupils in New School.

FRESH FIELDS.

Vocational Courses Will Provide Training For Those Not Going to College.

Most interesting and valuable information in regard to the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Vocational school was imparted to the Rotary club at to-day's luncheon by Rotarian H. R. H. Kenner principal of the Collegiate who in addition to giving a splendid address upon developments in secondary education discussed the courses that are to be offered in the local school next term.

Mr. Kenner pointed out the Collegiate Institute and Technical school would provide five main courses. For those who wished to become teachers, or who wished to enter university. For the purpose of training for a profession the Collegiate Department was available. In the Vocational department which differed from a trades school in that fifty per cent. of the time was devoted to academic subjects, there would be an industrial course for boys, a household-arts course for girls and a commercial course, which was available for both boys and girls.

Commenting upon the selection of a staff, Mr. Kenner explained that the requirements called for applicants having had a course in the college for technical teachers, which barred out nearly all Peterborough applicants,even though many excellent mechanics had applied. He announced, however, the son of Chris. Rutherford of Peterborough, as a member of the staff.

Before explaining the courses to be provided here, the speaker gave a splendid address upon the subject of secondary education.

"By way of introduction," said Mr. Kenner, "I purpose giving you the sum and substance of a paper written by Principal Gavin of the Ontario Training College for Vocational Teachers. The paper is entitled 'Some Tendencies in Secondary Education.'

"Any one who is familiar with educational work in Ontario during the first quarter of the twentieth century will readily call to mind certain developments in the secondary school program of the country. He will think of the remarkable increase in the number of pupils in the schools, the widening range of subjects, the growth of evening classes, the improvement in school buildings and accommodations, and of other less conspicuous changes. These are the signs of the times and are evidences of an interest in education never before so great.

"The first quarter of the century has seen a world-wide realization of the need for education beyond the elementary stage. The elementary schools provide the tools of education, the secondary schools use the tools to educate the youth. This demand for more education is related to the remarkable social, economic, industrial and scientific developments of the last fifty years. Preventive medicine and modern surgery have added nineteen years to the average age since 1900. The products of science and invention are changing our domestic lives. Telephones, automobiles, radios, mechanical refrigerators, electric cooking and power plants in the home are becoming common necessities. The cable companies are reducing their rates to meet the competition of beam telephony. Television is possible. Flying machines transport freight and passengers on a regular schedule. Mass production is making possible to common people much that heretofore only the well-to-do could afford. Enormous concentrations of capital in vertical as well as in horizontal trusts are changing ownership from the few to the many. A doctrine that high wages and short hours bring about low costs is believed by many industrialists. Shorter hours are giving workers more time for recreation and self-improvement. Higher pay is providing them with more comfort in their homes. More people than ever read newspapers and magazines, and are interesting themselves in social, political and economic questions.

"The schools have not escaped the effects of these stirring influences. People have come to realize that to adapt themselves to this new social and economic world they must have a better education. An elementary school education is no longer sufficient. The realization of this is the cause of the great movement to continued education. Just as the nineteenth century was the century of the child, so the twentieth century is becoming the century of the adolescent.

"In 1902 out of every 1,000 of the population, 11.6 pupils were in the secondary schools. In 1925 the number was 28.2. The proportion of the population in secondary schools in 1925 was 243 per cent. of what it was twenty-five years ago. A much larger proportion of the people are receiving a secondary school education.

It has been stated that the war was the cause of the sudden rise in the attendance at school of adolescent youth. Statistics show that the movement had started before the war.

Nationalists Want Soldiers Removed

SHANGHAI, June 11 (Canadian Press)—The Nanking Government Council, the Nanking Government official news agency says, has drawn a manifesto addressed to the Powers having treaties with China, which states:

"Foreign troops must be withdrawn from China immediately."

"The presence of foreign troops is causing mutual suspicion. The practice of the powers in sending forces to whatever part of Chinese territory in which the Nationalists happen to reside, will compel the Nationalists to exclude foreigners from the interior of China."

TEACHERS HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

Secondary School Staffs of District Visit Stoney Lake On Saturday.

ENJOYABLE OUTING.

The Secondary School Teachers of the Port Hope District and their families and friends, held their annual outing on Saturday, June 9th, with an attendance of about seventy.

Meeting at the Peterborough Collegiate at ten o'clock, from Oshawa, Bowmanville, Port Hope, Cobourg, Millbrook, Port Perry, Norwood and the P.C.I., the party motored to Lakefield. Here they were met by the Stoney Lake, which had been chartered for the day to make a cruise of a portion of the Kawartha Lakes.

While passing through Katchiwano and Clear Lakes, attention was divided between basket lunches and the beautiful scenery. At Burleigh Falls a stop of an hour was made, and during this time Jupiter Pluvius kindly withheld the threatening rain. The afternoon's cruise covered the greater part of Stoney Lake, and its varied beauty was a delight to all. On returning to Lakefield at 5.15 p.m., the party motored to Peterborough, where they enjoyed a splendid dinner at the Empress Hotel.

President W. J. Morrison of Bowmanville, presided at the after-dinner program, which was quite brief and informal. The secretary, V. R. Henry, reported a paid membership of 118 for the district this year, an increase of five over last year's total. A check up of the day's attendance showed the Port Perry teachers to be present 100 per cent. strong, while unfortunately Lindsay, Campbellford, Whitby, Colborne and many of the smaller schools were unrepresented. Mrs. Bentley of Port Perry, kindly consented to give two readings, and they were very much enjoyed and appreciated. An outstanding item of the program was an expression of appreciation of T. H. Follick, M. A. of Port Perry, on his completion of forty years of service, the last thirteen of which have been spent in Port Perry. Mr. Follick intends to retire at the close of this term, and he and Mrs. Follick received the heartiest wishes of all present for continued health and happiness in their retirement.

A. E. O'Neill, principal of the Oshawa C. I., on behalf of those from outside of Peterborough, expressed his appreciation of the part the Peterborough teachers had taken in planning the day's outing.

Stratford Resident Takes Own Life

STRATFORD, Ont., June 11 (Canadian Press). — Ald. Paul Billger was found dead yesterday morning, having ended his life by cutting his throat and hanging himself at the old stove factory on Perth Street. He was a Canadian trustee of the L. R. Steele, Co., Limited, and it is believed that financial worries in connection with this caused his act. He is survived by a widow, two daughters, and one son.

ENGINEERS VISIT CEMENT WORKS

Peterborough Men Enjoy Trip Through Big Plant at Lakefield.

SPORTS TO FOLLOW.

The Peterborough Branch of The Engineers' Institute of Canada held its annual picnic this year at Lakefield. Two and a half hours were spent in taking a trip through the Canada Cement Company's plant there, the rest of the time being spent in various sports.

Despite the threatening weather there was an excellent representation, fifteen cars and fifty-four engineers were present. This body represented every University in Canada and several American Universities.

The tour of the Cement works was conducted by E. W. Bailey, the superintendent of the Lakefield plant. The party first was taken to the quarries by means of the electric railway of the factory, travelling a distanec of approximately a half mile. Here the quarry was shown. Mr. Bailey had two dump cars loaded with rock to demonstrate how the electric shovel worked. From the quarry the party returned to the crusher, the first operation;; then to the hammer-mill where the rock is crushed to a finer degree.

The party broke up, and under several guides, followed the process of manufacture, from the various drying, crushing and bagging operations until it was loaded into the car for shipment.

The Electrical engineers were especially interested in the various motors and electrical controls of the plant.

The other branches were then visited,—the locker rooms with with hot and cold showers; the complete blacksmith and tool shops, the storeroom, and the complete first-aid room.

Then came the turn of the chemists, when the party assembled in the laboratory, where hourly tests are made of the cement. The samples are taken before the product is finished and made into cement here in small pats. Also samples of every carload shipped are tested for defects.

The electrical engineers then came in for their share once more, when all moved over to the power plant, and the visitors examined very minutely its electrical equipment.

The dam came in for inspection especially by those interested in hydraulics.

After the tour, came the sporting events of the day. Some went to the Lakefield Inn's tennis courts and played several fast sets of tennis, while the majority went to the Lakefield fair grounds to see a real game of softball between a team of the Cement Works and a team of picked Engineers. Lakefield lined up the following team: Gray, p; Stables, 1b; L. Sabatino, ss; Payne, c; Briant, 2b; Blewett, 3b; Wannamaker, lf; J. Sabatino, cf; Morin, rf. The Engineers varied their lineup considerably, making changes with each innings. The original line-up was: Hedger, p; Lowe, c; Gate, 1b, later p; Foulkes, ss; Ryan, 3b; Cameron, 2b; Hinton, lf; Carruthers, cf; Flitton, rf. The game was rather one-sided in the first few innings, the experience of the Cementers playing largely in their favor. They

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIERS MAKE RECORD TIME IN FLIGHT FROM CALIFORNIA TO AUSTRALIA

Crew of Monoplane Given Huge Welcome On Arrival at Sydney.

WOULD CIRCLE GLOBE.

Make Hop From Brisbane in Little Over Five Hours.

SYDNEY, Australia, June 11 (A.P.). The 7,800 mile flight of the monoplane Southern Cross across the Pacific Ocean from Oakland, California, to Sydney, was completed when the plane and its crew of four arrived here at 3.08 p.m. yesterday (9.08 p.m. Saturday Pacific Coast time).

The plane covered the last leg of its epochal air journey, 500 miles from Brisbane, Australia, on schedule time, landing at the local field after following the coast line of Australia for five hours and eight minutes.

The arrival of the two Australians and two Americans, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, Charles Ulm, Harry W. Lyon and James Warner, was marked by wild enthusiasm on the part of thousands of persons who had watched and hoped as the huge trimotored craft fought its way through storms and hours along the 7,800 mile path over the sea.

Ten Day Flight.

The flight from California to Sydney was accomplished in less than ten days. There were halts of many hours on the Hawaiian island of Oahu, where the plane landed from Oakland. Another short delay was experienced on the island of Kaiau, across the channel from Oahu, whence the plane took off from the Barking Sands course for the Fijis.

Again at the island of Viti Levu the fliers were forced to wait for an opportune moment to hop off from Naselai Beach for Brisbane where they landed Saturday. Then they took to the air again at Brisbane at 10 a.m. yesterday (4 p.m. Saturday, Pacific Coast time) for the final lap to Sydney.

Continue Flight

SYDNEY, Australia, June 11 (A.P.). Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and C. T. Ulm, co-pilots of the airplane Southern Cross on their flight across the Pacific, announced yesterday that they plan to continue their air journey and make the circuit of the globe. They expect to get away from Sydney in a few days.

Duchess To Attempt Flight To India

LONDON, June 11 (A.P.). — A round trip flight to India within eight days is the goal of Mary, the 62-year-old Duchess of Bedford, who hopped off yesterday with Captain C. D. Barnard. They are in the airplane Princess Xenia, the machine in which Captain MacIntosh was forced down in Poland when he attempted a non-stop flight to India as a prelude to a trans-Atlantic hop.

Yesterday's hop to Sofia, 1,300 miles, is the longest of the present journey. Other halts are to be made at Aleppo, Bushire and Karachi. The plane carries the first air freight from England to India. Her munitions consist mainly of food and cigarettes.

CAR HITS POLE; BADLY CRUSHED

Five Men Have Narrow Escape From Serious Injury on Saturday Night.

NEAR FLYING FIELD.

A car driven by Harry R. Haines, a taxi driver of this city, took the ditch on the Wallace's Point road on Saturday night and broke off a telephone pole and a mail box post. The accident occurred at the four corners north of the Aviation Field. Mr. Haines was coming from the north on the River Road, taking four linemen back to their work near Keene. He intended to go down the flat road past the Aviation Field, but as he neared the corner a second car approached him on the wrong side of the road. He took the ditch to avoid a head-on collision and struck the mail post and the telephone pole, breaking about six feet off the latter. The car turned over in the ditch with a broken windshield, right running board and fender damaged and the side driven in. The five men escaped with only a few cuts. In a few moments several other cars came along and the car was righted and completed its trip. County Constable R. C. Smith investigated the accident.

Two in Hospital

Mrs. A. Clarke, of Toronto, and Edith Lowe, aged four years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Lowe, who formerly lived in Peterborough, are in Bowmanville Hospital to-day, while other members of a motor party, proceeding from Toronto to Peterborough for the week-end, are suffering from a severe shaking up as a result of a motor car accident which occurred on the Kingston road, 3 miles east of Bowmanville, at 4.30 on Saturday afternoon. The car was from Peterborough, being driven by G. Carter, of 60 Murray street, while the others involved in the accident were:

Mrs. P. H. Lowe, of Toronto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scates, Division street, Peterborough; cuts about head, and shaking up;

Doreen Lowe, aged one year, who was thrown clear of the car, and sustained slight injuries to her arms;

Miss Ethel Carter, daughter of the driver, shaking up.

Mr. Carter received injuries to his chest due to striking the steering wheel, while Mrs. Clarke, his daughter, received a severe scalp wound which will require her confinement to the Bowmanville hospital for at least a week. Edith Lowe may leave the hospital in a day or so.

The accident resulted when Mr. Carter's car, in attempting to pass two cars which were following, one behind the other, was crowded toward the ditch on the left side of the road by the second car the driver of which pulled out to pass the front vehicle at the same time. When his car struck the gravel, Mr. Carter apparently pulled it up, with the result that it shot into the opposite ditch without turning over. Edith Lowe was throw through the windshield, while the others sustained slight injuries from flying glass, all save one of the side windows having been up.

Doctor on Scene

Fortunately for the Carter party, Dr. Beery of Oshawa was following close behind in his own car, and he immediately gave what assistance he could. Dr. Slemon of Bowmanville was also called and the two most seriously injured were taken to the hospital.

INTEREST IS SHOWN IN LOCAL CAT SHOW

The committee in charge of the Cat Show to be held in connection with the Made-in-Canada Exhibition is leaving no stone unturned in preparation for the event. A quite lively interest is being taken in the show by local cat fanciers and owners, and rivalry is expected to be keen this year. There will be a meeting of the committee in Dr. J. J. Craig's office on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock and every member is asked to be on hand promptly, so that all can get away, after a brisk handling of the business on hand.

FIFTEEN PERMITS ISSUED LAST WEEK

Total Estimated Cost of New Buildings and Repairs is $8,398.

Fifteen building permits amounting to $8,398 were issued last week by City Engineer Parsons. Permission was granted to build two houses and nine garages, to re-shingle four buildings, and to make repairs and alterations to four others. Fred. H. Rowan is building two houses at 222 and 224 Aylmer Street, across from the Utilities Commission sub-station. The houses will have six rooms each, with an exterior finish of brick stucco and the interior finished in pine.

The estimated cost for the two houses is $6,000, and they are to be completed about September 1st.

A. A. McIntyre has received the contract from Schneider Brothers to divide the store at 406 George in two. A. A. Fowler, who is vacating his present premises on George Street, is expected to take one of the new stores and the Howden shoe store will occupy the other half. The estimated cost is $800.

H. Wills is erecting four garages at the rear of 147 Park Street at an estimated cost of $200.

FARM RESIDENCE BURNS TO GROUND

Dennis O'Toole Suffers Heavy Loss in Sunday Morning Fire.

A fine residence on the Keene road, owned by Dennis O'Toole and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Redmond, was completely destroyed by fire on Sunday morning at nine o'clock. The furniture was saved, but there was only light insurance carried on the house. The fire started in the roof while the family was at breakfast. There is considerable doubt as to how the blaze originated as there was very little fire in the stove which was being let die out, so it could be carried out of the house for the summer.

There was a high wind at the time but the fire was held under control for an hour. The water supply then gave out, and the lack of water and the high wind and the lack of help as the majority of the men were at church, were instrumental in allowing the fire to gain headway and destroy the house.

MASONS ATTEND UNITED CHURCH

Campbellford Brethren, With Visitors, Hold Annual Church Parade.

INSPIRING SERMON.

(Examiner Staff Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, June 11.— St. John's United church was filled to capacity last night when the brethren of Golden Rule Lodge, 126, A. F. and A.M., G.R.C., attended divine service there. About two hundred members of the order were in attendance and of these, some thirty were visiting brethren from Havelock, Warkworth, Stirling, Hastings, Norwood and Belleville. The brethren met at the lodge rooms on George street and paraded to the United church, Tice street. Arriving shortly before the hour of service, and entering the church according to the Masonic custom, the visitors occupied the centre aisle of the auditorium. The remainder of the seating accommodation was taxed to capacity by the members and adherents of the church.

Chosing as his text, the question from the fourth chapter of the book of Exodus, and the second verse, "What is in thine hand?" the Rev. Ernest Harston delivered a sermon which will not soon be forgotten by those who were present. Himself a member of the order, Mr. Harston's sermon, while it was of interest to everyone, was especially so to the brethren of the Masonic order.

Under the direction of A. Hazell, organist and choirmaster, special music was included in the order of service.

Organ prelude, (a) Pilgrim's chorus (Tannhauser), Wagner; (b) Adagio (violin suite, Opus 34),, Ries.

Anthem, "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing"—Minshall.

Hymn—Day is Dying in the West.

Prayer.

Male quartette, God Is a Spirit (Bennett)—Messrs. J. M. Bygott, A. Hazell, W. Henson and H. O. Richardson.

Scripture lesson, Ecclesiastes 12, verses 1-7, inclusive.

Offertory and announcements.

Hymn, Breathe On Me, Breath of God.

Violin solo, Estrellita, Ponce—Hartman, Cecil Searles.

Sermon.

Anthem, "The Lord is My Light," Fletcher. Soprano solo sung by Miss Cherry Turner.

Hymn, 'Lead On, O King Eternal.

Benediction. Vesper. Organ Postlude, "Overture in C. Minor" (Hollins.)

OBITUARY.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM EYRES.

Word has been received of the death of Captain William (Billy) Eyres, in his 75th year, at the Marine hospital, San Francisco, Cal., on May 21st, and his remains were cremated on the 23rd. His ashes will be transferred here for burial in the family plot, St. John's cemetery, Cavan, near Ida.

The deeceased was born in Cavan and was the eldest son of the late Thomas Eyres, a former merchant at Millbrook.

Surviving him are his sorrowing wife, who was Josie Graham, a former resident of Millbrook, and one sister, Mrs. E. O. Harkset of Minneapolis, Minn. His sea-faring career was wholly confined to the Pacific ocean service. He has many relatives residing in this district.

WARSAW W.M.S. HOLDS MEETING

Mrs. Herrington Presents Report of Convention Held at Lindsay.

WARSAW, June 11.— The United Church W.M.S. met in the basement on Thursday afternoon. Owing to her husband's illness Mrs. Moore could not have the gathering at her home. Cottesloe branch ladies were to have been guests, but illness or other things which could not be avoided made it that only four could have come.

Mrs. Herrington, delegate to the convention at Lindsay, gave a very comprehensive report of the three day convention. Perhaps the most interesting part was the synopsis of Dr. Florence Murray's talk on her work in Korea. The work in Trinidad, too, was interesting, and the need of both money and helpers in all mission fields was stressed. She spoke of the missionaries going back to China. She spoke of Mrs. Tzen, the Chinese christian woman, who came to Canada just to thank the Canadian women for what they had done. She spoke through an interpreter, her only English words are "Thank you." Mrs. Tzen was in Lakefield.

Mrs. Foster sang "My Task." After the Mizpah benediction, lunch was served by 'B' group.

Mrs. Charles Foster entertained the Anglican Ladies' Guild, which held its annual meeting on Tuesday last. The officers for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. Vivian Jackson, re-elected; vice-president, Albert Cooper; secretary-treasurer, Miss Marion Pogue. It was decided to carry on the meetings during the summer and sew for the bazaar.

At the close the usual social half-hour was spent over the tea cups.

Personals.

Mrs. Robert Bullock, Lakefield, is visiting her daughters, Mrs. Joe Tedford and Mrs. Thos. Cooper.

A government sheep dipping tank has been installed at Fred Clifford's.

A certain lady planted her dahlia roots; her hens persisted in scratching them up. She is a resourceful woman and placed a large mounted owl in her garden. The bird is a perfectly efficient guard. That same mounted owl, when on duty once before, was nearly being shot by a neighbor, who thought the bird was very bold to come where it was.

There are many people laid up with the flu.

Ivan Drain returned home on Thursday evening.

WEDDING BELLS

RUTTAN—McQUIGGE.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TRENT RIVER, June 11. — The marriage took place at the parsonage, Norwood, on Friday, June 1, of Mrs. Lavinia McQuigge, of Marmora, and John A. Ruttan, Trent River. Rev. Forbes Stillman performed the ceremony. The bride's dress was of blue flat crepe trimmed with lemon crepe de chine, hat lemon shad with mother of pearl pins and gold veil, coat of navy blue tricotine trimmed with black satin. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ruttan left for Marmora, where, at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. Bert Robson, the wedding dinner was served. Only the immediate relatives and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carnrite were in attendance. The newly-weds returned on Sunday to reside at Trent River.

SMITH.

SMITH, June 11.—Miss Mary Dever of Lakefield, spent the past week with Miss Grace Darling, Young's Point.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. William Robison, Bridgenorth, Saturday, June 2, a daughter.

Miss Jean MacMoyle of Selwyn is spending a few days with Miss Olive Sidey, Bridgenorth.

The mony friends of Miss Daisy Metcalfe, R.N., are pleased to learn that she is recovering nicely at her home in Smith.

Use it in the kitchen, bathroom, laundry.

CLAIM AGAIN PUT FORWARD

The claim of Madame Tchaikowsky Russian refugee, that she is the Grand Duchess Anastasia daughter of the late Czar of Russia, is once more under investigation. Grand Duke Andre (No. 1) is sailing to America at the request of Mrs. W. B. Leed (No. 2) whose guest Mme. Tchaikowsky (No. 3) is, in an effort to determine her identity. No. 4 is the last photograph of the Grand Duchess Ahatasia before her reported death at the hands of the Bolsheviks ten years ago.

CAMPBELLFORD WINS AT TENNIS

Defeats Peterborough Five Matches to Two in League Tournament.

(Examiner Staff Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, June 11. — With a victory of five points to two the local tennis club is off to a good start for the season in the Central Ontario Lawn Tennis Association. The visitors were from Peterborough and were successful in the ladies' doubles and the men's doubles. The honors in the other five events remain in Campbellford for the present. This is the first of the tournaments in the association this season.

In the men's singles, Clifford Weston won from J. Hall, Peterborough, 6-1, 6-1, and Harry Free from F. Dunfield, Peterborough, 6-0, 6-1. Hilton Beatty and Wilbert Kingston won form G. R. Langley and W. A. Jackson of Peterborough, in the men's doubles, 6-8, 6-4 and 6-3. J. H. Bell and Walter Henson lost to Dr. G. D. Hewitt and F. Bowness, Peterborough, in the second Men's doubles by the score 0-6, 4-6. Miss Josephine Longmore captured the honors in the ladies' singles from Mrs. H. Jackson, Peterborough, 6-1, 6-1. The ladies' doubles event went to Peterborough when Mrs. C. D. Hewitt and Mrs. J. A. Dewart won from Miss Dorothy Linton and Miss Eleanor Ferris, Campbellford, 8-10, 6-1, 4-6. Dr H. B. Longmore and Miss Jessie Weston won from R. Chestnut and Mrs. B. Moore, 6-2, 6-4, in the mixed doubles.

Mrs. J. C. McDonough Addresses Meeting—Hear Talk on California.

BIBLE SOCIETY MEETING.

MARMORA, June 11 (Examiner Correspondence).—The June meeting of Marmora Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. E. C. Prentice on Friday evening, the roll call being "Don'ts" for the sick room.

The summer speaker, Mrs. J. C. McDonough, addressed the meeting and Mrs. W. F. Bowen gave a talk on her recent trip to California.

Bible Society Meets.

The annual meeting of the Marmora branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society was held in the United Church on Friday evening, the attendance being small. Reeve G. B. Airhart presided. Prayer having been offered by the Rev. A. B. Caldwell, minutes were confirmed and the treasurer's report received.

Officers were then elected as follows:

President—Rev. A. B. Caldwell.

Vice-Presidents—Dr. H. Crawford and D. E. Bell.

Secretary—F. S. Pearce.

Treasurer—W. J. Cottrell.

The executive also includes Rev. C. J. Beckley, ex officio member.

The representative of the society, Mr. H. E. Webb, gave a very telling address, narrating at the outset the story of Mary Jones, then showing how the circulation of the Bible has broken down prejudice and superstition and assisted missionary labors in Bible and modern days. He also mentioned in dealing with the especial activities of the society, that there were 110 different translations of the Scriptures in Canada, 46 of which were to be met with in Ontario, and, further, that up to the present the British and Foreign Bible Society had published over four hundred million books.

The meeting closed with the benediction being pronounced by Rev. C. J. Beckley.

Personals.

Rev. E. N. Grant of Flinton visited friends in town on Friday.

F. C. Lewis of Indianapolis registered at the Royal Hotel on Friday as the first American tourist of the season.

Mr. H. E. Webb of Toronto was the guest of Mr. F. S. Pearce over Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Berry visited Belleville on Friday afternoon.

WEED INSPECTORS DISCUSS MATTERS

Men From Four Counties Meet in Lindsay to Study Weeds.

A further step in the effort to control the weed situation in the district was taken on Wednesday when the municipal weed inspectors for the counties of Peterboro, Durham, Victoria and Ontario met in the Town Hall, Lindsay, to discuss matters in connection with the enforcement of the Ontario Weed Act.

Professor John Buchanan of the O.A.C., representing Ontario Department of Agriculture, was the main speaker. He discussed the new Weed Act and explained to the inspectors what was required of them this year, and also made them acquainted with the weeds named under the Act and some methods of control for each.

Professor Buchanan stressed the point taht the Department is determined to get the weed situation under control in Ontario. Weed inspectors are to be particularly careful to see that the Act is enforced on road allowances and to a certain extent in fields. He made it clear that the inspectors were to give advice regarding identification of weeds and the control of infested areas and to work toward the control of the weed situation.

H. W. Pearson, of the Dominion Seed Branch, spoke of the weed menace in this district as it affects the production of clover seed. The agricultural representatives of the counties of the district also spoke briefly.

LAKEFIELD LADIES WARSAW MEETING

Women's Institute District Session Was Interesting and Enjoyable.

LAKEFIELD, June 11—The following members of the Woman's Institute attended the district meeting of the Institute held in Warsaw on Wednesday: Mesdames J. H. Payne, E. Cameron, A. E. Higgins, T. B. McMaster, H. Kidd, C. Foster, N. S. Higgins, Bell, J. Murphy, H. Kemp, Arthur Carveth, W. Frankish, C. Frankish, A. Davis, E. J. Sanderson, O. E. Kingdon, J. Northey, and E. Blewett; Misses M. Sanderson, L. Frankish, M. Adams and E. Blewett. From the Junior Institute went Misses Lulu Darling, Pearl Mullen, Mabel Mullen, D. Dunford, Ora Dunford, E. Dunford, Grace Bickell, Irene Northey, Genevieve Armstrong, Marjorie Frankish and Edna Frankish.

Mrs. Cameron contributed a short address to the program which was both humorous and practical, on "The Importance of Little Things,' stressing the value of a smile, which costs nothing and does so much to make life more worth living.

Mrs. Cameron received hearty applause and was urged to speak again.

Mrs. Kemp sang sweetly "In the Gloaming," and the Misses Mullen played a piano duet extremely well.

Mrs. John Northey was elected district director.

It is of interest to Lakefield that the district president, Mrs. J. A. Sexsmith (nee Buchanan) was formerly a teacher in Lakefield school.

The June meeting of the Woman's Institute will be held in the Memorial Hall on Wednesday afternoon, June 12, at 2 o'clock. This is an open meeting, to which all the ladies of the village and the district are welcome. Mrs. Yates of Athens, Ontario, will be the special speaker.

Public School Board

The regular meeting of the Public School Board was held on Monday evening, June 4th, in the council chamber, with the chairman, J. W. Ridpath, in the chair, and Trustees Charlton, Dench, Lingwood, Spence and Wagar present.

The principal's report was received and showed a total attendance for May of 263.

It was moved by Trustees Lingwood and Spence, that the principal be given permission to dismiss all the pupils but the Entrance class on June 15th.

Several account were passed and the board adjourned.

High School Board

The regular meeting of the Lakefield High School Board was held in the council chamber on Monday evening last with the chairman, J. W. Ridpath in the chair. There were present, Trustees Rev. J. J. Creighton, Dr. S. J. Gibson, Dr. J. C. Smith, E. H. Northey, and H. R. Wagar.

The principal's report for the month of May was received.

The resignations of the three high school teachers, Mr. J. M. Simpson, Miss Curtis and Miss Connall were received, and the secretary instructed to advertise for a new staff.

The board adjourned.

WESTERN HORSES SOLD BY AUCTION

Good Crowd Attends When Duncan Loggie Offers Carload of Fine Stock.

MILLBROOK, June 11. — An auction sale of a carload of Western horses was held at the C.N.R. stock yards here on Friday at 1 p.m., and was largely attended, though all of the twenty-two horses in the consignment were not disposed of.

Duncan Loggie was offering the stock, Clyde colts from one to two years old., for sale, George Jackson & Son, of Orono, being the auctioneers, and A. J. Staples, clerk.

The stock was only in fair condition after the long trip from Calgary, and was not either lead or halter broke; evidently some of the buyers had a rather lively time taking home the animals bought.

Bidding did not remain brisk throughout, and Mr. Loggie disposed of some horses by private sale when the auctioneer had completed his work. The highest price paid was $135; I. W. Larmer, of Cavan, bought two horses, paying $130 for the pair; other bids were considerably lower.

Mr. Loggie will have six consignments of these horses in all for sale throughout the province.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, But Do Not Compel

(Copyright, 1928, McClure Syndicate.)

TUESDAY, JUNE 12, 1928

This is read as another adverse day in planetary direction. Astrologers counsel thought before action in small as well as large things.

All through the day there may be a tendency toward depression and a general pessimism, which should be combatted.

The mind may be unusually sensitive to impressions that are discouraging and should not harbor even the least destructive idea.

The configuration appears to encourage the contemplation of what is sad instead of what is good. Suicides are numerous when the stars are posited as in today's aspects.

The sears point out that thought is so potent it should be kept positive and never permitted to assume the negative form except when it is important to obtain the right stamp.

At the time of the ingress of the summer quarter, June 21, Saturn in the house of money may encourage financial anxiety, especially among those who have wasted their substance.

The aspects are not promising for domestic felicity and many divorces may be expected among persons who are believed to have weathered early difficulties.

Much romance will mark the entire summer, for men will be ardent suitors, but difficult to fetter in the bonds of matrimony.

Again the seers foretell a new motive power that will take the place of gasoline in automobiles and airplanes.

A new ray of devastating possibilities will be numbered among the provisions for war, it is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have unexpected changes and many surprises in the coming year.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly progressive. Many idealists who get into trouble are born under this sign.

WEDDING BELLS

LISTER—MEEKS

The marriage took place quietly on Saturday morning at the home of Ensign Green of Mrs. Minnie Meeks to Mr. James Lister, both of this city. Mr. and Mrs. George Foster attended the bride and bridegroom and Mrs. Ensign Green and Mrs. J. T. Braund acted as witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Lister will reside at 332 Euclid avenue.

McKIRDY—GOODWIN.

A pretty wedding was solemnized by the pastor, the Rev. J. L. Harton, B.Th., at the Park street Baptist church, at 2.30 Saturday afternoon, June 9th, when Doris Mary Goodwin, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goodwin, became the bride of David D. McKirdy, Peterborough, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKirdy, of Dalmuir, Scotland.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father looked very dainty in her lovely gown of grey crepe-de-chene embroidered in blue and silver, with gray hat, shoes and hose to match, and bouquet of pink Ophelia roses and maiden-hair fern.

Her sister Marjorie (Mrs. Walter Townsend) was maid of honor, wearing a very pretty dress of Swiss honeymoon. A large number of friends assembled at the station gave the young couple a hearty send off amid showers of confetti and good wishes for their future.

Mr. and Mrs. McKirdy will reside for a time at Niagara Falls, Ont. and corsage bouquet of sweet peas.

Mr. Walter Townsend, brother-in-law of the bride, acted as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. McKirdy left on the afternoon C.P.R. train for their rose crepe and large picture hat,

Why We Do What We Do.

WHY WE ARE MORAL

By Mehran K. Thomson, Ph.D.

(Author, The Springs of Human Action)

The moral nature of man is one of the greatest mysteries in the whole universe. The great philosopher Immanuel Kant, used to marvel at "the starry vault above and the moral law within."

No man has explained nature till he explains human nature, and he can't explain human nature without understanding the moral impulse which is the unique thing about human beings. No other animal is moral or immoral. None outside the human family has the ability to blush, the capacity to distinguish right from wrong, or to choose between truth and falsehood.

Some writers call this moral impulse conscience and regard it as an instinct charged with the function of making us walk the straight and narrow path, just as the instinct of curiosity leads a man to explore. If conscience is an instinct then it is one of the important instincts we do not share with our animal relatives.

Others regard conscience not as an instinct but as a composite moral judgment which we acquire through social contacts and education. Regardless of the source of conscience we are all more or less sensitive to truth and honesty and right.

Perhaps morality is the result of certain other capacities in man such as the ability to use language, to talk, to think, to reason, to have insight into the future through the power of imagination and hence to foresee consequences.

If we could not see the relationship between fact and fiction we could never distinguish truth from falsehood. Some children and not a few adults acquire a reputation for lying when in reality they are merely lacking in ability to distinguish imagination from fact.

DO YOU KNOW THE RIGHT WAY TO WASH SILK STOCKINGS?"

by HILDA DORAN ROSS
Home Economics Counselor

"YOU should always use tepid water (95°), not hot water, when washing silk stockings. This saves colored hose from fading and white hose from turning yellow. Never rub silk stockings unless absolutely necessary—it tears the fine, soft fibres. Rinse them in water of the same temperature and squeeze the water out or roll in a dry towel—don't wring. The secret of cleaning lies in the soap you use. My experience has taught me to depend on Princess Soap Flakes. They are so effective that you won't need hot water, and the rich suds foam through and through the silk fibres and quickly, but gently, remove dirt, without rubbing.

"You can use Princess Soap Flakes for every household washing task. They contain no harsh chemical filler or harmful free caustic which rot delicate fabrics and are so hard on your hands."

THE C. N. R.'S GOOD SHOWING.

The Canadian National Railways continue to give ample proof of able and shrewd management, and to make a showing that must be gratifying to the people of this country, knowing as they do the burden these railways have been and the desirability of improving their financial position as rapidly as possible.

At the present time, basing the prediction on the record of the last few months, a prohecy that the National Railways will finish the present year with a net operating surplus of around $50,000,000 is justified.

Some weeks ago a statement showed that the net operating income of the C. N. R. for the first four months of this year was $2,395,000 greater than for the same period in 1927, and now it is announced that the gross earnings for the week ending May 31 were $1,045,730, or 16 per cent. greater than for the corresponding week of last year.

These figures indicate that if this progress continues 1928 will be a red-letter year in the history of Canada's public-owned railway system.

A RECORD FLIGHT.

The triumph of the Australian-American crew of the monoplane Southern Cross in bringing their wonderful flight from California to Brisbane, Australia, to a successful termination has added another important page to the history of aviation, and the world rejoices that the intrepid four are safe.

Their three-hop flight, with stops at the Hawaiian and Fiji Islands, was one of the most notable achievements accredited to airmen, inasmuch as it was the longest flight yet made over the sea, a total of 7,300 miles.

The skill of the Australian pilots, Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and Charles Ulm, the wonderful navigating ability of Harry W. Lyon and the successful work of James Warner, the radio operator, all combined to make this epic passage possible, and all four share in the glory of the achievement.

It required flying technique of the highest order and expert navigation to complete this series of three long jumps over the Pacific, and the feat must rank as one of the outstanding developments in aviation.

FLAG INCIDENTS.

The discussion in the House of Commons in regard to a flag incident at Montreal and the announcement from the Prime Minister that conversations with the United States in an effort to prevent trouble over such cases are to be inaugurated, are of interest.

There are flag incidents every tourist season, and until visitors recognize the discourtesy that is involved in the display of their own flag unaccompanied by that of the country whose guests they are it is to be feared that such incidents will continue.

Just why Canadians visiting the United States or citizens of the Republic visiting our Provinces should want to flaunt the Union Jack or the Stars and Stripes, as the case may be, is difficult to understand, but in either case they should be courteous enough to fly the flag of the other country with their own, if they must have flags.

It is probably because Canadians realize that a British flag flown alone across the border would have a short existence that such incidents as that reported from Montreal occur on this side of the line.

They are unpleasant these flag incidents, and they could be avoided by a little tact and judgment.

Perhaps a hint from a customs officer or some other official on duty at border points might prevent the possibility of any trouble over such matters.

THEY GO ON MAKING—AND BREAKING—THEM.

It is no wonder that the Ottawa Journal is constrained to remark that "this continent has now probably more laws, boards, commissions, departmental bureaus and so forth for controlling domestic, professional, educational and industrial affairs than all the rest of the world put together."

Of the making of laws there is no end, and while we on this side of the international line are not quite so prone to seek to control, as the Journal puts it, "all matters concerning even the domestic relations of the citizen, from the pre-natal period to that of embalming," we have no reason to boast—we have far too many statutes, many of which mean doing and achieve nothing.

Our neighbors set the pace for the universe.

It is announced that the 70th Congress of the United States in its first session has passed 1,000 new laws.

Moreover the State Legislatures have been contributing their share of restrictions and prohibitions.

California, with 896 new laws; Florida, with 1,757; North Carolina, with 1,249; Tennessee, with 923; New York, with 731.

So the process goes on.

Everywhere there seem to be certain people with irresistible urge to control the activities and conduct of the rest of us by legislation—an operation that very rarely succeeds—and thus the statute books are cluttered up with all kinds of laws, many of them nonsensical when they are not fanatical.

SOME PHILOSOPHY ON THE WEATHER.

It was John Ruskin who said: "There is no bad weather, just different kinds of weather." As far as that pertains to Canada it is true over the greater part of this Dominion year in and year out, because we have no such visitations as they have in the mid-west or Southern States of the Union. We shall always have with us, however, people who will declare that the weather is "beastly!" "atrocious!" and so on, but these people do not realize that in the balance of nature the inclemency of one season brings on the glories of the next. Weather, it has been pointed out by scientists, is a result of all that has gone before. Nor is there much in the statement that the present spring has been unduly backward. A study of the mean temperatures will show only a slight difference over the average in the ten years past. It doesn't do the slightest bit of good to be weather complainers, and the cheerful optimism that one inclement week will surely bring a good week in its turn is far better than chronic grumbling.

The weather, as it was and is and will be, has been the all-pervading master influence that has modified and developed the surface conditions of our planet since it first took form and individuality from its original star dust. To have been different in any particular would have caused all things to be different. The weather will be what it will be. But how can it in its apparently ugly moods be "good?" We do not know, but we do know that somehow, somewhy these days and dates we call "bad" contribute to the perfect days we call good. We may not pretend to know or understand. We may even be glad that there are some things we do not know—some things we do not understand. The best things of life after all are not the things we know, they are the things we only believe. So perhaps Ruskin was right, and the better way is to live in harmony with the weather—enjoy to the full the perfect day we like, and feel that the day we do not like is contributing in some unknown but necessary way to produce another perfect day.—St. Catharines Standard.

CROPPING TIMBER FOR PROFIT.

All the sentiment connected with the preservation of Canada's wonderful timber tracts has not been powerful enough to prevent their depletion. Even the oft-repeated warning that the supply of Canadian timber for industrial purposes is past the first stage of exhaustion has failed to check the demands of commerce upon the stands of spruce, pine, oak, ash and maple that have been, and should continue to be, the country's crowning glory. Efforts at reforestation have not been lacking in recent years, but they have been along lines of public ownership; municipalities in some of the Provinces are now being urged to replant forest areas with seedlings supplied free by Government nurseries. Great areas that were enormous assets when they supported growing timber, and are now valueless deserts, await the tree-planters and the Government-assisted reforestation campaigns. It may be that these areas will fall, before long, under the eye of private capital, and that commercial timber may be grown as a crop, on a scale far beyond the powers of municipal foresters. That is what is being done in New Zealand, and it has been found profitable. Canada is better adapted for a venture of this kind, and private capital will not likely wait long before it takes a leaf out of New Zealand's book.

Here in Western Ontario the forest has been closely bound up with progress. A hundred years ago the hardwoods supplied some of the outstanding household necessities, such as maple sugar and dyes for clothing. One of the first revenue-producers on pioneer clearings was that potash from the ashes of the hardwoods. The first timber sold was in the form of staves, and many an ocean cargo floated down the Thames to Chatham and thence to the Lakes for export to France. Later the virgin oak woods supplied sticks of timber for ships, sticks that varied in length from 50 to 85 feet, and were from 16 to 30 inches square. Finally came the sawmills and facilities for making lumber. The prices which were available, from that time on, for fuel and timber for industrial purposes, were a sore temptation to sacrifice the timber areas, and sacrificed they were. With them went a great deal of the country's beauty, a certain measure of security in the matter of water supply, and an excellent climate stabilizer, all sorely missed at present. Then there was talk of reforestation; reforestation on many areas up and down the Province that should never have been so completely denuded of their forest covering. The counties of Northumberland, Simcoe, Durham; the districts of Camp Borden and Oliphant; and sandy ridges in Bruce, Huron, and even Middlesex, are ripe for reforestation. Will the foresight of private capital finally result in energetic action where public enterprise has been slow to develop?

Down in New Zealand there is no question about it. In that Dominion, which is only 103,000 square miles in ext ent, no fewer than sixteen corporations are engaged in growing trees commercially and over 200,000 acres of suitable lands are held by forest development companies. One-third of that area is already producing. Government-controlled areas and smaller parcels planted by individuals are only one-half the extent of the areas controlled by private capital. Yellow pine and Douglas fir are two of the varieties being grown commercially in New Zealand, some of them already being of marketable size. During 1927 no less than 50,000 acres were planted with young trees, and the total plant ed acreage owned or leased by such commercial companies was 67,700. In the previous year planting was done on 16,000 acres only, showing the rapid development of the new commercial enterprise.

If it is profitable in New Zealand, why not in Canada? It is with softwoods that New Zealand is finding best results, and it is in softwoods that Canada's timber supply is dwindling most rapidly. The area of waste lands, suitable for retimbering and very little else, amounts in Canada to probably more than the total area of New Zealand. There is an established market in the British Empire and in the United States for Canadian softwoods, and this market is bound to increase. A few pulp and paper companies see that Canada's wood requirements cannot be based on her own population, and have adopted programs of reforestation on a commercial basis. But there is room for such enterprise on a large scale. With all indications pointing to a steadily rising market for wood, we may yet have the small Canadian investors taking part in corporate timber-farming companies such as have proven successful in our sister Dominion.—London Advertiser.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Fortunately, the June wedding crop does not seem to be affected by weather conditions.

That fellow "Detour" is beginning to plaster his name on Ontario highways again this summer.

One mystery that has always baffled us is where they get those strings of fish that are used in illustrations in railway folders.

With the annual picnics drawing near, city Sunday schools doubtless notice the attendance is picking up.

And now it will be necessary to teach motorists that those "no parking" signs mean exactly that.

A lot of trouble might have been averted if street gasoline pumps had never been permitted.

Anyway, the Bell Telephone Company must admit that it has received a lot of free publicity.

Judging the way Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., has been talking, there is no Earlscourt in her constituency.

Complacently we note the fact that Great Britain concedes that the Kellogg dove of peace is some bird. —Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Question Box

T. W. Q.—In answering my question on population and taxes you show the tax rate the same in 1925 and 1927, but I paid more last year than in 1925. How is this?

A.—The figures which we gave were those for which you asked, but they do not show all the picture. While the tax rate has remained at 36 mills since 1925, the assessment has gone up from $22,243,920 to $22,791,567, or from $1,024 per head of population to $1,059—an increase per capita of $35. The increase in taxation is 50 cents per capita.

N. E. Q.—(1) What was the weight of Hackenschmidt, the famous wrestler? (2) Where was he born? (3) Did he take any part in the Great War?

A.—(1) 206 pounds. His height was 5 ft. 8 ins., his neck measured 22 ins., chest 52 ins., biceps 18 ins., calf 17 ins. (2) Russia. (3) He was interned in Germany. Georges Hackenschmidt had a brilliant career on the continent and crossed to London in 1901. In 1904 he beat Jenkins at Albert Hall, and in 1906 won the championship from Madrali, the Turk, at Olympia. Two years later he lost it to Frank Gotch at Chicago.

H. R. Q.—What is the meaning of "Habeas Corpus"?

A.—Latin, "Have the body." This forms the opening of several writs, the most famous of which is that safeguard against arbitrary imprisonment, the high prerogative writ of "Habeas Corpus ad subjiciendum." It is addressed to one who detains or imprisons another, commanding him to "have the body" of the person in a certain court on a certain day, together with the cause of his detention. If the court decides that the cause shown does not justify the detention, it orders a release.

S. A. Q.—Can you tell me to whom I should write to find out what is market day in Galashiels, Scotland, to settle an argument?

A.—It is unnecessary to write, though if you desire confirmation from official sources you may write the pa ish clerk. Market day is Tuesday.

GOD'S MINUTE

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart.—Deut. 6:5.

Gracious Father in Heaven, admit us as a family into the secret of Thy presence, that we may worship Thee in spirit and in truth.

Accept our grateful praise for all that Thou art, and for all that Thou hast done for us and our fellowmen. Especially do we thank Thee for our redemption through Thy Son, Jesus Christ.

Father, reveal to us our sins and faults, that we may repent and forsake them, and that Thou mayest forgive us and cleanse us from all unrighteousness. And let Thy Holy Spirit dwell within us to-day, restraining us from all wrong-doing, and directing us into paths of truth and peace.

Guard us in those points of our characters that are most weak.

Keep us from vanity and pride, from evil thoughts, and from unkind speech. Help us to love Thee with all our hearts, and to cordially love one another. Aid us as we try to serve Thee by ministering to our fellowmen. And grant us at last a home with Thee in Heaven, through our Saviour, Christ. Amen.

Jesse Thompson Whitley, D.D., Norfolk, Virginia.

MOON'S "RAYS" A PUZZLE

Mysterious bright "rays" observed whenever telescopes are pointed at the moon are puzzling astronomers, says H. G. Tomkins, English scientist, in Popular Science Monthly. He is building a special reflecting telescope in an effort to determine their significance by photographing them at all possible angles. That they may be light lines of whitish dust, shallow cracks in the ground, or sulphur streaks from extinct volcanoes has been suggested.

SCHOOL SPIRIT IS SHOWN HERE

Colors of Various Phases of Education Supported By Their Scholars.

MANY COMBINATIONS.

Colleges in Canada are not the only institution that can boast of that bond in fellowship known as School Spirit which causes a crowd of students to cheer their team to victory and to stand up for their school against untold odds. Peterborough has it in her schools. The Collegiate Institute will cheer her Garnet and Grey to victory in football, basketball and hockey. The Normal School will cheer her Green and Gold warriors in baseball, basketball and hockey until the last minute, and then they will not lose faith in their team if they lose the game.

Among the public schools there is great enthusiasm. At Cadet inspection, in baseball and hockey, the small rooters will yell themselves hoarse and often little scraps will arise between the various pupils in defense of their colors. The schools are all represented by their distinctive colors. There are five pairs of colors and four tri-colors. King Edward is represented by the Blue and White, and will support their flag as keenly as Varsity with the same colors. Queen Alexandra, the Orange and Black; P.C.I., Garnet and Grey; Normal School, Green and Gold, and St. Peter's, the enthusiastic supporters of Garnet and Gold.

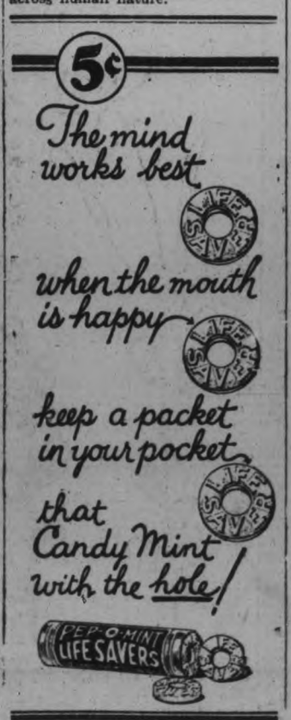
The supporters of the tri-colors will support their emblem with the same spirit as Queen's students support their Red, Yellow and Blue tri-color. Queen Mary School has its Orange, Red and Green; Central has Red, Green and Black; King George has Purple, Gold and Silver, and the Prince of Wales, Black, Brown and Gold.

Various pupils of the different schools insisted to The Examiner that their school was the only one worth while, and their color combination was the best in the city, in Canada, in the world.

A Thought

PUNISHMENT.

"Every man is a dispenser of justice; but there is one wrong that he is not bound to punish—that of which he himself is the victim. Such a wrong is to be healed, not avenged," says Amiel. Usually we are sadly willing to let any injustice go unavenged except where we suffer from it ourselves. To punish wrongs done to others, to bear and forgive those done to ourselves, is the gospel way, though, however much it cuts across human nature.



CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., June 11 (Canadian Press). — The demand from exporters for grain here on Saturday was again good and quite an active business was done including sales of Manitoba No. 6 wheat at 27 cents per bushel under the Winnipeg July option, while No. 2 Canadian Western oats sold at 10½ cents per bushel over July, and No. 1 feed oats at 4¾c to 5c per bushel over July, c.i.f. Montreal. There was also a good inquiry from New York interests for Canadian Western barley and some round lots were sold at 9c per bushel over the July option, c.i.f. here. A fair trade was also done in car lots of oats and prices ruled steady.

A moderate amount of business was done in spring and winter wheat flour, and prices were firm.

Prices for all lines of millfeed were well maintained under a quiet demand from all sources. Little business was done in standard grades of rolled oats, but values were steady.

The egg trade was moderately active and prices for all grades were firmly maintained. The receipts were 5,656 cases.

A fair volume of business was done in butter, and the undertone to the market was firm. The receipts were 3,755 packages.

The export trade in cheese was quiet, but spot demand was fair. The receipts were 9,935 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, June 11 (Canadian Press). — Wheat scored 4¼ cents a bushel sudden advance in price on Saturday on flurried buying because of the Government crop report and big export demand. Afterward, however, selling broadened out, and much of the gains were wiped out.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1¼ cent to 1⅞ cents net higher, corn ¼ cent to ½ cent off, oats unchanged to ¼ cents up, and provisions at the same as Friday's finish to a rise of 30 cents.

Biggest jumps in price for wheat on Saturday came right at the opening. Liverpool quotations received beforehand were much higher than due, and cable advices said the United States Government crop report was construed as bullish by traders abroad. There were also early reports that the Canadian growers' pool had disposed of 5,000,000 bushels of wheat to Europe.

With offcial figures showing the domestic spring crop to be at the lowest condition ever known, with one exception, and that rye and oats were the lowest for June on record, a general rush to buy ensued. Assertions which were current that Kansas was getting too much rain gave a further incentive to purchase wheat. It was pointed out that if such conditions extended into harvest, the effect would be serious, especially where farmers are depending on combines. Persistent selling to realize profits, however, wore down the market toward the last, and there was also considerable speculative selling on account of unofficial reports that Canadian wheat is in vigorous condition, with sturdy root growth, and is four to six inches high. Latest estimates of Saturday's export dealings in North American wheat ranged all the way from 2,000,000 to 5,000,000 bushels.

Corn at first sympathized with wheat strength, but later gave way under selling pressure from pit traders. Favorable weather in the corn belt was an advantage to bears. Oats held comparatively steady.

Foreign buying of lard helped give an upward slant to most of the provision market.

BIG GAME

BRITISH Columbia is the finest hunting country in North America" . . . remarked a noted big-game hunter during his trip to this province, last year! Sportsmen from all parts of the world trek towards the vast forests of British Columbia, which have become Canada's big game preserves. Through southern British Columbia and the Kootenays, and northward through the Caribou district, game varies from caribou, moose, deer, wapiti, grizzly, cinnamon and black bear, mountain sheep and goats, to the game birds, geese, ducks, grouse, partridge and ptarmigan. On Vancouver Island, black-tailed deer, pheasants, grouse, quail, geese, ducks, brant and shore-birds abound. The open seasons, of course, vary . . . but, moose, bear, mountain sheep and goats are the earliest, in many districts opening around September . . . the others following shortly.

QUALIFY FOR THE TYEE CLUB

British Columbia is famed as the largest fresh and salt water fishing area in America. There is fishing in some lake or stream, every day in the year. From July to September, schools of game Tyee Salmon, ranging in size to fifty-pounders, swarm at the mouth of Campbell River, Vancouver Island, luring anglers to try for membership in the famous Tyee Club!

VARIED VACATIONING

After you've roamed the wilderness for game, and thrilled with the angler's glee over a brimming creel, plan to enjoy a few rounds of golf on sporty fairways, a plunge in the warm Pacific, a bit of boating and excursioning on the beautiful coastal waters, or, perhaps a few weeks of scenic motoring over British Columbia's 18,000-mile chain of splendid highways.

LOOK AROUND!

And while you're enjoying this ideal vacation land, let your eye take in its business potentialities! You'll feel strangely stirred as you watch the pulsing throb of an empire expanding on the shores of the Pacific . . . you'll long to get into the swing of things . . . to help the mighty wheels of Progress revolve to the betterment of your own future.

You can bank on British Columbia's future! Here are a few of the solid reasons why:

TIMBER WEALTH

The lumber industry of British Columbia has grown to 84 million dollars a year. In this province Canada has more than half its commercial standing timber . . . one-third of the timber in the British Empire. Owing to equable climate, new growth is greater than the annual cut.

AGRICULTURE

British Columbia, in 1927 producing more than 73 million dollars from her agricultural industry, has to her credit: The highest average farm income and the highest average yield and value per acre of farm and orchard lands in Canada; the highest average wheat and oat yield in America; the highest awards for apples at Wembly Exposition, and numerous other world records and prizes for almost every branch of agriculture.

MINING

1927 saw the greatest quantity production in British Columbia's mining history. The value of which totalled in excess of 62 million dollars.

FISHERIES

1927 was the fifteenth successive year in which British Columbia's fisheries produced more than any other part of the Dominion, amounting to 27 million dollars. British Columbia fish and fish products are shipped to seventy countries.

MANUFACTURING

Its tremendous waterpower, equable climate, strategic location, excellent transportation facilities, and the fact that it has been found necessary to import no more than 1 per cent. of raw materials, have combined to make British Columbia the third manufacturing province in the Dominion.

FOX TERRIERS MOST POPULAR

Sixty-one of This Breed Among Peterborough's Dog Population of 500.

COLLIES COME SECOND.

There are over 500 dogs of all kinds in Peterborough according to the police records of licenses issued. These cover all kinds of animals from those classified as mongrels to the aristocratic Spitz and Newfoundland, and from the perky Pekinese to the massive Great Dane, but the Fox Terriers are by far the most popular dogs. Many a boy and girl who appears at the police station to register his or her dog of unknown ancestory is every bit as proud of them as others are of their setters and prize Boston Bull dogs.

Sixty-one fox terriers have been registered this year but these are not the only ones of the terrier family to be found in this city for there are six wire-haired terriers registered, four of Irish descent, two Scotch and a Yorkshire terrier.

For many years it has been proven that the dog is the most suitable and most useful animal as a companion for man. He has been claimed to be the most intelligent animal next to man and although this is open to doubt there is no question that his intelligence is of a very high order. The value of this is greatly augmented by the fidelity of the dog which has often been known to sacrifice its life in defence of its master. The Romans classified dogs as hunting dogs, sheep dogs, and watch dogs and to a great extent the classification stills holds good, but it is more usual now to classify them as hounds, sheep dogs, terriers, spaniels, mastifs and lap dogs.

Dog breeding is now an important industry. Unfortunately the tendency has been too often to breed for the purpose of intensifying eccentricities, as in the case of the modern bull dog, rather than to develop qualities of modern utility. Still much has been done to improve the hunting varieties and by skillful crossing some useful new breeds have been evolved. A remarkable example of what can be accomplished by scientific breeding is seen in the reappearance of the once extinct Irish Wolf Hound.

In the city the collie which held first place for a number of years has to step into second position with 55 registered, spaniels which may be of various kinds come third with 54. Boston Bull terriers are well up in the list with 51. The Pomeranian which were registered as 24 in 1923 now numbers 49 and stands fifth in the list. There are 30 Airedales and the Hounds have decreased from 73 in 1923 when they were second highest to 27 and are now in seventh place. Dogs for which no classification can be given number 23 and the police dog appears with a force of 22. Ten dogs are put down as Boston terriers and the French Poodle is not far behind with 8. The aristocratic Spitz which only number two five years ago has increased to 7. The Scotch Collie and the Pekinese number six. There are seven Newfoundlands, and three each of Beagle Hounds, Great Dane and Pitt Bull. Setters, German Police and Scotch Terriers muster two each while there is only one each of the following: Chinese, Belgian Police, Retriever, Alsatian, French Blue Nose, Huskie, Chespeake, and Yorkshire terrier.

In all, 513 licenses have been taken out for dogs in this city this year, of these 448 are classed as males and 65 as females. Five kennel licenses have also been registered. In securing a kennel license the owner must produce the registration certificate of his dogs and show that he belongs to some duly registered Kennel Club.

5,759 CALLS FOR MAILMEN

City of Peterborough and Brownton Divided into Seventeen 'Walks."

LARGE AREAS COVERED.

Boasting seventeen "walks" during which 5,095 householders, and 664 business places, or a total of 5,759 calls may be made daily, or twice daily, the mail service of Peterborough city post office is one of the largest and most efficient to be found in any city of its size in the province, and yet there is no very comprehensive appreciation of the extent of this service, in the mind of the average citizen. Somehow, one fails to realize that "the mailman for our street" is also the mailman for other streets and that on an average, each mailman, in the course of his route covers many block with an almost incalculable number of steps to climb or private walks to cover in those blocks.

A study of the various routes and number of calls made by the mailmen may be made of the following:

Walk No. 1—Between Sherbrooke and Albert streets, and the east side of Reid to Monaghan Road; Rubidge street south of Dalhousie, west to Monaghan Road. 330 householders, 10 business places.

Walk No. 2—South of Lake, east of Park, to Lansdowne street. 358 householders and ten places of business.

Walk No. 3—South of Dalhousie to Lake street, east of Rubidge to George. 329 householders and 32 places of business.

No. 4—Dalhousie to King, from Reid to George streets. 244 householders and 47 places of business.

Walk No. 5—Charlotte street to Bolivar, from Park west to Monaghan Road. 342 householders and 5 places of business.

Walk No. 6—West of Park, Gilroy to Murray. 339 householders and 3 places of business.

Walk No. 7—Business section, south of Simcoe to King, from Aylmer to Water. 127 householders and 204 places of business.

Walk No. 8—Business section, from Water street, west to Bethune and north to Brock. 127 householders and 185 places of business.

Walk No. 9—From Murray to Dublin between George and Aylmer. 341 householders and 29 places of business.

Walk No. 10—From Bethune west to Park, north between Brock and Dublin. 340 householders and 8 places of business.

Walk No. 11—North of Dublin to Smith and Victoria avenue, between George and Park. 316 householders and 9 places of business.

Walk No. 12—North of Smith to city limits, from Benson avenue east to river. 243 householders and 12 places of business.

Walk No. 13—East city, north of Hunter. 325 householders and five places of business.

Walk No. 14—East city, south of Hunter. 278 householders and 37 places of business.

Walk No. 15—King street north to Brock from Bethune to Park. 348 householders and 40 places of business.

Walk No. 17—South from Chamberlain to Lansdowne, Park street west to High street. 300 householders and 16 places of business.

THE HEATING SYSTEM MORE THAN A FIRE

Buying a heating plant is not unlike buying a watch; the inside is more important than the outside. The actual appearance of the furnace is no criterion of how it will work, and in order to save trouble and expense it is worth while giving a little study to the question of heating. Your plant should give no trouble if, first, it is properly installed according to the suggestions offered by the manufacturer, and second, if it is properly conducted by the owner according to the directions.

Climate, of course, has a bearing on the selection of a heating system, and so also has the exposure of your home and its size. Steam vapor or vacuum systems and hot air furnaces are best in districts where changes in temperature are frequent and sudden. Hot water, on the other hand, requires a long time to heat up, and of course, cools less quickly. For a long winter in which few marked variations occur, radiator heating will give you equable warmth at very reasonable cost, and especially if the home is exposed to sweeping winds on all sides, no other system will distribute and maintain heat in all parts of the house so efficiently and economically.

If the home is small and the plant centrally situated there is not much difference in the cost of efficiency of upkeep in either of the various systems. Hot air heats the home quickly, but requires constant attention. This is also true of steam, whereas with hot water your system will maintain a good heat without attention for several hours. Combination hot air and hot water systems are practicable, some furnaces being constructed with coils which pass over the fire and force the heated water through pipes to your rooms. Hot air furnaces should be located as centrally as possible in the basement, so that the cold air return pipes operate equally all over the house. Radiators should be situated near windows, wherever possible, so as to prevent draughts reaching the floor. Your boiler and pipes should be covered with insulating material, both as a matter of economy, and also as a prevention against fire.

ABOUNDING IN SPECIAL DETAILS

F. H. Portnall, Architect.

From the West comes this pleasing example of the high standard of quality being achieved by Canadian architects in small house design. It has, in full measure, all the qualities which have brought the English Domestic style to its present popularity among architects and home owners. Outside is an engaging appearance of charm and character, while inside comfort and convenience reign.

The exterior abounds in details worth special observation. Notice for example the bold treatment of the chimney as it breaks back above the roof into two octagonal stacks, the distinctively designed oak entrance door, and the interesting projections of the wall stucco to form brackets under the eaves.

Similar features, indicating a house on which thought and designing ability have been expended, are also very much in evidence in the interior. An unusual feature is the total absence of plaster; all walls and ceilings being covered with high quality building board finished with plaster paint of old ivory shade. Distinctiveness is also gained by arching the ceiling over the various recesses indicated by dotted lines.

Special mention must be made of the living room. With its large bay window, oak floor and trim, mahogany finish doors, bookcases, and fireplace with tiled hearth, it exemplifies the utmost in desirability.

This house contains 19,500 cubic feet, and with hot water heating cost approximately $8,500.

Readers desiring further information regarding a house of this design should communicate with Home Building Information Service, 345 Adelaide St. West, Toronto, Ont., who will see that it is supplied. When writing please mention design number 128. Copyright, 1928.

EATING FOR BRAIN POWER

Successful business men have undergone a remarkable change in personal appearance within the past two generations. A few years ago a man was not considered a capitalist unless he was fat, but now, with scarcely an exception, the keenest minded industrial leaders and those who have captured the greatest fortunes are lean individuals.

The older generation of moneyed men was inclined to be corpulent, such as the elder Morgan and Diamond Jim Brady. Henry Ford, Andrew Mellon, and John D. Rockefeller are examples of the modern industrial leader.

At one time it was the custom of the business man to dose away several hours of valuable time after his hearty noon dinner, but these old fashioned, easy going habits will not fit in with the changes of this age of keen competition.

It is interesting to inquire about the diet of those who are in the ranks of the foremost thinkers. Almost without exception they are the light eaters. They may smoke to excess—they may drink themselves under the table—but they have learned from experience that eating rich food cuts down their earning capacity.

Almost everyone has experienced that drowsy feeling after eating a heavy meal. While it does not make much difference to the average person, it is of the utmost importance for one who lives by his brain, to be clear and wide awake during his working hours. Heavy meals make such a great demand upon the alimentary organs that the nervous system must be robbed of the blood which would be used in thinking processes. All vital functions that are not essential to life are suspended, and a state of body and mental lethargy ensues. In other words, we become logy."

If by a supreme effort of will, one were to force mental activity immediately after a heavy meal, he would be very apt to suffer indigestion. It is possible to indulge in mental activity for a limited time with the use of stimulants, but this is only a spur on the already over-taxed nervous system and if continued, will eventually result in a nervous breakdown.

Mental power should improve with age, and if a light, non-starchy diet is adhered to, this will be the natural happy result.

The diet of a brain worker should consist mainly of fresh fruits, non-starchy vegetables, protein and small amounts of fat and natural dried fruits. The starch should be closely restricted, the amount used depending on the exercise.

The man who wants to be a success cannot afford to burden himself for the day with a breakfast of sausage, sinkers, and hot cakes; he will very likely be out-distanced by his keen-minded competitor who has eaten a simple, wholesome breakfast.

The amount of bread and cereal foods that a brain worker uses should be kept at a minimum. The idea of eating for efficiency may seem a bit restricted, but you will be richly repaid by an increased mental and nervous energy.

Try it, and you will be able to pluck the plums of success; and those who are too lazy to change their habits of eating, exercising, and thinking will wonder why you are so lucky" or how you get your pull."

Questions and Answers.

Question: Mrs. H. G. writes: I have read with interest your various articles, and especially have watched for an item on gaining instead of reducing. I think there are just as many slim people who need advice as there are fat ones. Do you think malted milks all during the day will make me take on flesh? I want to gain just a little—I am so thin."

Answer: I have written many articles on the subject of gaining weight and will be glad to send some of them to you if you will give me your name and address. You will not gain any good weight by stuffing yourself. A reasonable amount of wholesome food is all that is necessary, if you will take proper exercises and build a strong muscular body.

Question: Mrs. J. L. asks: Living in a small town it is not always possible to get fresh vegetables; still, we wish to follow your menus exactly. Would it be all right to use canned vegetables?"

Answer: There is a widespread belief that canned foods are unwholesome, but with our modern methods of canning, this is not true at the present time. Also, there are arguments about the vitamin content being lowered by food standing in a can for very long before being used, but there is no evidence to show that this decrease is very great. By all means use the canned foods if you cannot get the fresh ones, and I especially suggest spinach, asparagus, string beans, corn, French artichokes, ripe olives and pineapple. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my article Substitutes for Fresh Vegetables."

Question: Mary S. writes: Am troubled with stomach and intestinal gas. Would yeast be apt to cause more gas?"

Answer: Yeast will cause more gas if used with a meal. If you want to experiment with the yeast treatment, take it when the stomach is empty.

JACKSON PARK MOST POPULAR PICNIC GROUND

No Motor Cars Or Firearms to Disturb Those Enjoying Sylvan Beauty.

IN NATURAL STATE.

Sighing Pine Trees and Babbling Brook Provide Soothing Music After City's Noises.

Jackson Park, in the west end of the city, is perhaps in the eye of the picnicker the mos tpopular resort in Peterborough. When one visits the park this can be readily understood. The park is absolutely free from the artificial touches of the day and affords a relief to the busy rush of the modern business. People of Peterborough well know the majestic pines through which the wind makes such music, the winding shady roads so delightful to stroll around in the heat of summer, and the cool picturesque stream that winds through the leafy banks of the park. The combination of all these and the desire to be close to nature with many other factors to be mentioned are the reasons that the many picnickers use this beautiful park.

Throughout the park, benches, tables, and swings are placed in convenient spots and are used a great deal, according to the caretaker. The people appreciate the thoughtfulness of their being placed there. The placing of these alone is ample proof that the park is the resort of picnic seekers. R. L. Orde, the caretaker of the park, who kindly looks after the picnicker and keeps a keen eye open for any infringements of the park regulations, will supply hot water to the various parties at a nominal charge for the trouble.

Mothers feel perfectly safe in the park with their children as there are no careless persons with guns hunting within its domains because firearms are strictly forbidden. This was a step in the interests of those using the park.

Not only are firearms restricted, but to the great relief of the Health Association, who have many children in their care in the park during the summer months, the automobile has been barred from the picturesque but dangerous roads. They are excellent foot-paths but dangerous motor-roads. Usually,picnickers wish to get away from the buzzing auto and this affords a pleasant retreat.

When The Examiner visited the park there were a large number of families gathered there for lunch. The children and their fathers were all joined in a game of baseball, each playing as if life depended upon the game, with more enthusiasm than many league games arouse, but on the call to supper the ball, bat and score were forgotten as the hungry folks gathered around the lunch prepared for them.

The park is livened in the summer by the children under the supervision of the Health Association, whose buildings are located there. They all look forward to the time when they can go and take a dip in the wading pool so kindly built by Kiwanis. This is one of the most popular among the younger bathers in the city. Indeed, the other day, as The Examiner was strolling past this pool, attention was attracted by childish laughter in the direction of the stream and here were several children who, with shoes and stockings off, and a guilty look, were taking their first taste of forbidden fruit in the way of an early bathing season.

Across the stream, and across the railway track, that unfortunately runs through the park, there lies in the hollow between the hills a delightful artificial lake, surrounded by cool shady banks. In the years past this has been a mecca for model yachtsmen. Here the store model yachts competed with home-made yachts and many a keen race resulted between full rigged yawls, sloops and schooners.

Not only is the park visited by those of Peterborough, but already this year, according to Mrs. Orde, on the 24th of May a bus load of visitors from Belleville came to spend the day in the park. The visitors are often struck and remark on the untouched natural beauty of the park, its outstanding feature.

It is also a rendezvous for afternoon strollers, especially on Sunday afternoons. Those not fortunate enough to have cars find it a delightful place to spend a Sunday afternoon when the weather becomes very warm. The beauty of the place is always changing with the seasons and bright and dark days. It is a scene that one never tires of, and which always seems to hold a fascination for everyone.

The park is by no means a summer resort only, as in the winter the ground is covered with snowshoe and ski tracks, and is the favorite spot for winter recreation. The steep hills provide excellent snowshoe slides and thrills for the more daring skiers who wish to test their skill at the steep slides and tree-covered hills.

So Jackson Park, being free from firearms and motor-cars, and with accommodation for picnicers, benches, tables, and with hot and cold water available, with its natural beauty, is a most popular resort for picnicers, according to those who use it.

WILLIAM KIDD.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, June 11. — One of Dummer's best known farmers passed away suddenly on Saturday when William Kidd fell dead while plowing. Mr. Kidd had seemed in his usual health at dinner time and went back to his work in the field. Shortly afterwards it was noticed that the horses were standing in the field and Investigation showed Mr. Kidd dead on the ground between the handles.

Mr. Kidd, who was 66 years old, is survived by his wife, one son, Roy, at home, and one daughter, Mrs. Russell Jenkins, of Dummer. The funeral takes place this afternoon at 3.30, with interment in Warsaw cemetery.

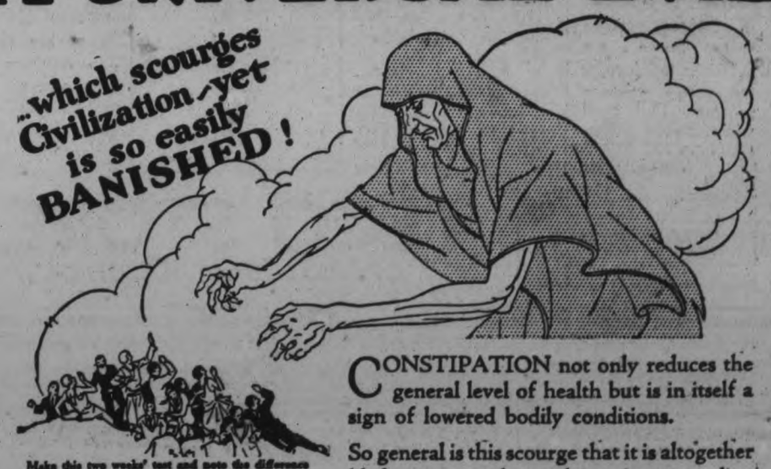
A UNIVERSAL EVIL



CONSTIPATION not only reduces the general level of health but is in itself a sign of lowered bodily conditions.

So general is this scourge that it is altogether likely you need roughage in your diet. Modern eating habits tend to neglect sufficient roughage in the food we eat. Post's Bran Flakes provides necessary food roughage. More, it is delicious to eat.

Make this two weeks' test and note the difference

Constipation must not be neglected. Start a two weeks' test now. Order a package of Post's Bran Flakes from your grocer.

Start by eating a dish of Post's Bran Flakes for breakfast. Eat it as a cereal with milk or cream. You will find it as good as any cereal you ever tasted.

Do this every day for two weeks. We predict you will find a real difference in the way you feel, and that you have been "regular" all the time.

But don't stop at the end of two weeks. Eat Post's Bran Flakes every morning for health and regularity.

Post's Bran Flakes is sold by all grocers in a wax-wrapped package. Ready to eat.

It is dangerous to experiment with patent medicines and drug laxatives. They bring only temporary relief and may make matters much worse. Ordinary cases of constipation brought about by too little roughage in the diet should yield to Post's Bran Flakes. If your case is abnormal, don't experiment. Consult a competent physician.

DEPARTMENTAL EXAMS JUNE 18

Middle and Upper School Exams Start Then—Lower School June 22.

ENTRANCE JUNE 25.

The following time-table governing departmental examinations has been issued by the Department of Education and, among other information given, shows that throughout the province, the examinations will start on June 18 when Literature and Composition will be the subjects written upon by both Middle and Upper School candidates, while the final day of examiantions will be on Tuesday, July 3, when Greek authors and Greek accidence will occupy those writing Middle School examinations and Greek authors and Greek composition those in the Upper School division. The schedule reads as follows:

Lower School — June 22, agriculture, first and second year; June 25, physiography, English grammar and Latin grammar; June 26, arithmetic and history; June 27, art and zoology; June 28, French grammar, botany and geography.

Middle School—June 18, Literature and composition; June 19, physics and British history; June 20, algebra, ancient history and music; June 21, French authors and French composition; June 22, Geometry and chemistry; June 25, Latin authors and Latin composition; June 26, French literature, arithmetic and French composition. French literature and French composition in this case, are provided for French speaking pupils who, as candidates for admission to the University of Ottawa Normal school, are required to take this subject in lieu of science or agriculture.

June 27 Agriculture (first year), Agriculture (second year); June 28, German authors and German composition; June 29, Spanish authors and Spanish composition; July 3, Greek authors and Greek accidence.

Upper School.

Literature and composition will be the first subjects written on by Upper School candidates on June 18, while on the following day problems and history will be the subjects confronted. Algebra will be lone examination in the morning of June 20, leaving the remainder of the day for brushing up on French authors in the morning and French composition in the afternoon of June 21.

Friday, June 22 will bring something more to the liking of those with heads for mathematics and formulae, for on that day geometry and chemistry will be the subjects. The week end over, Upper School candidates will be greeted on blue Monday with Latin authors and Latin composition, followed by zoology and physics on Tuesday, June 26. Trignometry and botany are scheduled for June 27; German authors and German composition for June 28; Spanish authors and Spanish composition for Friday, June 29 and Greek authors and Greek composition for the second day of the following week, July 3.

High School Entrance.

Public school pupils will make their bid for entrance into High school during the week of June 25 to 29 and on the following Tuesday, July 3. English grammar, writing and history, examinations will be held on Monday, June 25; English composition, English spelling and English literature on June 26; arithmetic and geography on June 27; French grammar, French spelling and French composition on June 28; French literature on June 29. The subjects in French on June 28 and 29 are provided only for French-speaking pupils who may desire to obtain credit in these subjects in lieu of standing in the subjects of Group 1.

black hat, for when not on the beach or boardwalk, Mrs. Valdon affected picture costumes. The touch of contrast was supplied by some large jade buckles on both hat and gown.

Her brilliant coloring, not all due to her makeup box, was accelerated by her quite evident agitation at Riggs' question.

He resolved to take it up boldly.

"What's the matter, Mrs. Valdon?" he asked, smiling at her. "You look as if some one had kissed you!"

"I wish I looked like that!" cried the Duchess, trying to look wistful.

"Can I help?" said Riggs, solicitously, bending so near that the Duchess moved back in alarm, while the others laughed.

"Do you, Mr. Riggs," she said, in a low, steady voice, "do you know anything of the private business of Garrett Folsom?"

"Why—I do," he said, slowly. "Suppose we have an exchange of confidences all round."

He looked straight at Neville, who said, simply:

"It would be no confidence on my part; I mean no betrayal of confidence. Whatever I know about Folsom and his business is, and always has been, at the disposal of those investigating his death. It is an utter mystery to me, and I'd be glad to give any information I can, as well as to get any I can."

Tite Riggs looked at him. His words were fine. His manner and tone were unassailable, yet Tite wondered if he spoke the truth.

"What I want to know," Carmelita's soft, low voice went on, "is whether I can find—can regain possession of some letters of mine that he had. While not of the sort that is termed by the reporters 'incriminating,' they are not the sort that I wish to have fall into alien hands."

"What do you mean by alien?" asked Riggs, with his disarming smile.

"Nothing, exactly," and Carmy pouted, "but any hands other than my own I consider alien in this situation. It's only that they were—well, that is —" she hesitated, and the Duchess said, placidly:

"Let's say indiscreet."

"But that's just what they weren't," protested Mrs. Valdon, "and unless you take that back, Duchess, I shall cry."

"Where do you think those letters are?" asked Riggs, determined to press his advantage.

"I have reason to think he brought them down here with him," and Carmelita also seemed determined to get the matter over with.

"Then wouldn't they have been found among his things?"

"That's just it; I'm afraid they were."

Tite Riggs laughed. "Then set your mind at rest, dear lady. If they had been indiscreet, or incriminating, you would have heard of the matter before this. Either he did not have them here or the authorities considered them only the regulation mash notes—"

Riggs had used the annoying term for the sheer purpose of rousing Carmelita's ire, and he succeeded beyond his intentions.

Without a word she rose, gathered up her scarf and strolled away.

HUSBAND AND WIFE RECEIVE DEGREES

Former Peterborough Girl Becomes M. A. of University of Buffalo.

BUFFALA, N.Y., June 9 (Special to The Examiner).—For the first time in the history of the University of Buffalo the degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon a man and his wife, who graduated in the same class. They are Mr. and Mrs. James Alfons Schied, of No. 188 Dodge street, this city; both teachers in Technical High School here. Mrs. Schied was born in Peterborough, Ont., and came to Buffalo with her parents as a child. She was graduated from Lafayette High School here and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Buffalo in 1922. She has studied also in Buffalo State Teachers' College, Albright Art School, Canisius College, Cornell University, and Columbia University. Mr. Schied was born in Alsace and received his earlier education in Straussberg. He came to this country in 1912. In 1921 he began his course at the University of Buffalo and was awarded his degree, Bachelor of Arts, in 1925. Both Mr. and Mrs. Schied carried their university work in addition to full time teaching in Technical High School here. Mr. Schied teaches physics, and his wife teaches American history. Mrs. Schied has been taking work toward her Master's degree since 1922, while Mr. Schied began his graduate work in 1925. Mr. and Mrs. Schied are planning to continue their studies. They can not get any higher degrees in the University of Buffalo, but they plan to study in European universities within a few years.

Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion, By Following This Simple Rule In Skin Care—Night and Morning

IT'S not only in the thirties and the forties that Youth Preservation presents itself as a problem. It starts in the late 'teens and early twenties, with the admonition of experts that the time to safeguard youth is in youth.

The rule for so doing, according to the day's most eminent specialists, is the most simple of all rules in modern beauty culture—the skin cleansed thoroughly of beauty-destroying accumulations every morning and every night.

That means soap and water; but NOT just "any" good soap. A true complexion soap is meant. Others may prove too harsh. So, largely on expert advice, thousands use gentle Palmolive in this way.

In the morning and at bedtime—this

Wash your face gently with soothing Palmolive Soap, massaging the lather softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Avoid this mistake

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or one represented as of olive and palm oils, is the same as Palmolive.

And it costs but 10c the cake! So little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain a cake—then note the difference one week makes.

CHAPTER XXX.

As a matter of fact, Madeline Barron took not the slightest interest in Pelton; she had merely responded to his pleasant courtesy, and felt a momentary relief in the way he picked up the responsibility of the situation.

Intuitive himself, Dan saw her gayety was superficial, and wondered what ugly fears had stirred her soul's depths.

For he read fear in the haunted eyes, apprehension in the quivering lips, and realized that whatever else she was, Madeline Barron was a strong, self-controlled woman, who was in deep mental distress.

"I wonder if you'd like to meet my aunt," Pelton said. They had been talking of eccentricities in general. "She is the most eccentric person I know, and the strangest combination of gentleness and ferocity."

"That sounds delightful," Madeline smiled; "rather like the lion and the lamb in one identity."

"That's just what she is. Here she comes now—"

"Why that's Miss Folsom!" said Madeline, astounded.

"Yes, she's my aunt. Hello, Aunt Stasia, take my place. This is Mrs. Barron, Miss Folsom."

"Oh, we're not entire strangers," Anastasia Folsom said, sitting down. "How do you do, Mr. Riggs? Now I bet you two'll march off—see!"

And they all laughed, for even as she spoke Tite Riggs had risen and he and Pelton were just about to fade away.

They had the grace to redden a little, but Madeline Barron only laughed.

"Let them go; we don't want them," she said. "It's quite all right, Miss Folsom. A man wants to talk to a woman about so long, then he wants his own kind again."

She smiled gaily and Anastasia Folsom nodded her head.

Meantime Dan Pelton was asking, excitedly:

"Good heavens, Riggs, who is that woman and how did you happen to run me up against her?"

"You ran yourself; I didn't do it."

"Well, who is she?"

"Mrs. Edward Barron. If you think she's mixed up in the case, she isn't. Her husband stood next your uncle at the rope when your uncle went under. And Mrs. Barron stood the other side of her husband. But neither of them knew Mr. Folsom or had ever seen him before. That all came out at the inquest. Not picking her for the murderer, are you?"

No, don't be silly. But I've seen her before, only I can't place her. Seen her under some strange circumstances or in some queer surroundings."

Not questionable, I hope?"

Of course not." Pelton spoke quite seriously. I mean when I saw her it was she and yet it wasn't she. Her face haunts me—"

It would. She is a raving beauty, you know."

Go away and let me alone. I want to think this thing out."

"All right, Pelton. I suppose you know your own business."

Miss Folsom's tete-a-tete with Maddy Barron. Dan Pelton stirred up over some memory or reminiscence, mistaken or otherwise, of Maddy.

Madeline herself, upset and worried, taking a short respite of gayety when Pelton proved entertaining, but sad at heart for some reason.

Could it, he wondered, could it all hark back to Croydon Sears?

For the Searses and the Barrons were always together, and Madeline was fond of the older man in a gentle, motherly way. Could she be alarmed for him?

Was she just clever enough to try to learn a little from the relatives of the dead man, whom she had just now met by chance?

For she and Miss Folsom were certainly hitting it off. He turned to look back at them, and they were hobnobbing over their tea like neighbors.

Tite Riggs was astute and clear-headed, but sometimes he let his vivid imagination run away with him.

He came to port next at a table where sat the Duchess and Carmelita with Roger Neville.

"Come home, truant," the Duchess bade him. "You've deserted us, and one more absence from school makes you liable to expulsion."

He sat beside her and began to pay her compliments.

"I say, Riggs," Roger Neville said, abruptly, "what's doing in the Folsom matter?"

"Not much," was the guarded reply. "By the way, do you know anything of Garrett Folsom's private business, or only the ones where you were more or less partners?"

And this time Carmelita Valdon gave a sudden quick movement, that in a less graceful woman would be called a start, but with her was a mere sinuous quiver, such as a beautiful python might make.

Riggs glanced at her.

What ailed the women today? Madeline Barron all upset, Angel Fair disturbed sympathetically, and now Carmy Valdon throwing a shiver!

She was in black, with an enormous

Seniors Lose 3-1 Decision To Motor City Crew

PETES TOSS AWAY BALL GAME DESPITE HARDILL'S FINE WORK; MOTORISTS GRAB SOFT VICTORY

Hardill Allows Oshawa Only Two Hits, But Loses Verdict 3 to 1.

WEAK HITTING.

For Second Game in Succession Petes' Offensive Lacks Punch.

(By F. D. C.)

After Saturday when the Petes absolutely insisted upon presenting them with a 3-1 win in the C.O.B.L. fixture at James Stevenson Park, you'll never be able to convince the Oshawa ball club that there isn't a Santa Claus.

The presentation came in the eighth frame of the battle when the Motorists scored all their runs on two cheap hits, their only safeties of the game, some slow fielding and a decidedly costly fumble by Manager Tommy Holyman.

In view of the superfine pitching of Jeff Hardill for the Petes Oshawa had as much license to win that ball game as Shiner Johnston would have to enter the Olympic sprints.

Mixing a smoking fast ball with a sharp breaking hook and a puzzling cross fire Hardill had the Oshawa hitters tied in a knot. Until the eighth they got nothing that looked like a hit and the two they were finally credited with might have been cut off with smarter fielding. The Petes twirler fanned ten of the enemy and allowed but one base on balls and it was a crime that victory did not crown such an outstanding exhibition of pitching skill.

The Petes, however, fell down behind him on the attack all the way through and defensively in that terrible eighth inning. The chief trouble of course is that the home talent are not hitting the size of their collars. They have scored only one run in their last two games, in fact their record is worse than that inasmuch as they have been able to cross the plate only once since the third inning of the game with Belleville two weeks ago, which means one run in twenty-three innings.

This failure on the attack has tossed away two games that the fine pitching of Hardill should have made easy wins.

The old timer, Duke Dainty, showing very little that looked puzzling went the full distance for Oshawa and got by with only six hits registered against him, the Petes only run coming when Swanston punched a timely single through the box after Harrison had ripped a triple down the first base line. There were other spots when a hit would have meant runs but it was never forthcoming.

Oshawa, who increased their hold on first place as a result of the win, did not look particularly strong and were helpless on the attack until that disastrous eighth. Even then it was not their hitting but the Peterborough defensive slips that turned the trick.

That inning deserves a paragraph or two by itself.

It all started when Kellar got Oshawa's first hit on an easy pop fly back of second which Rose might have got but left for Ash who was playing too deep to make the catch. Wolfe hit to Holyman who fielded the ball slowly and lost the decision at second and Young's safe bunt filled the bases. Matthews hit one to Holyman and a double play at the plate and first was an easy possibility but the ball oozed out of Holyman's glove, and there was a run in, nobody out and the bases still filled. McCallum bunted and it looked as if a fast throw to the plate would have cut off a run but Hardill threw to first and Wolfe carried the winning run over. A long fly to Heckman made Oshawa's lead two before Holyman finally retired the side by pegging out Elliott.

That was a terrible inning and unfortunately the Petes could do nothing with their bats to offset the effectiveness of their sloppy defence.

The fielding features were supplied by Williams, the Oshawa left fielder, who made two fine catches in the sixth, going back to the fence to pull down a long smash from Harrison's bat and then coming in fast to take a hit away from Swanston. Williams got a big hand from the crowd on these two plays and deserved it.

The Story of the Game.

In the first frame Wolfe was thrown out by Hardill and Young fanned. Matthews got a life on Holyman's fumble but McCallum struck out.

The Petes started better when Rose singled through the box and was sacrificed to second by Johnston. Ash rolled to third and Heckman fanned.

Williams struck out in Oshawa's second, Elliott hoisted one to Johnston and Dainty gave Heckman a fly.

Harrison was tossed out by McCallum. Swanston's grounder got away from Morrison but Holyman rolled to McCallum and Bert Hall missed three.

In the third Morrison was thrown out by Holyman, Kellar fanned and Wolfe grounded to Rose.

Hardill opened the Petes half with a single to right centre. Rose struck out. Hardill was forced at second by Johnston. Ash got a life when Kellar missed Young's throw but Heckman was called out on strikes.

Oshawa were easy in the fourth. Young and Matthews fanned and McCallum fouled to Swanston.

The Petes put over a run in their half. Harrison ripped a triple past Kellar and scored on Swanston's clean single over second. Holyman sacrificed Swanston to second but Hall and Hardill both fanned.

The game was called for a few minutes in Oshawa's half of the fifth because of a brief shower. When play resumed Williams rolled to Holyman and Elliott fanned. Dainty reached second on Hardill's high throw after fielding his bunt but Morrison fanned.

In the Petes half Rose struck out, Johnston lined to McCallum and Ash flied to Williams.

A couple of errors gave Hardill some trouble in the sixth. After Swanston had tossed out Kellar Wolfe and Young got on through fumbles by Holyman and Johnston. Matthews forced Young at second and McCallum fanned.

Heckman rolled to Dainty and Williams retired the side by making two fine catches on smashes by Harrison and Swanston.

In the seventh Hardill knocked down Williams' rap and tossed him out. Rose threw out Elliott and after Dainty had drawn the only walk of the game, Morrison rolled to Harrison.

The Petes got nowhere. Holyman rolled to McCallum. Turner, batting for Hall, was tossed out by Dainty, and Hardill rolled to Morrison.

The sad doings came in the eighth. Kellar got the first hit, a high fly into short centre field. Wolfe rolled to Holyman and Kellar was safe at second. Then Young bunted safely down the third base line to fill the bases. Matthews' bounder to Holyman looked like a double play, via the plate and first but the Petes' manager lost the hopper and everybody was safe, Kellar scoring. Wolfe put the Motorists ahead when he came in on McCallum's sacrifice bunt and Williams cinched it with a sacrifice fly to Heckman on which Young scored. Elliott rolled to Holyman.

Rose struck out in the Petes' half. Johnston singled past first although Matthews nearly threw him out, but Ash lined into Young's hands for an easy double play.

In the ninth Dainty rolled to Rose and Morrison to Hardill. Kellar fanned.

For the Petes Heckman flied to McCallum and Harrison rolled to Dainty. Swanston raised a little hope when he doubled sharply to centre but it was oil over when Wilgar, batting for Holyman, popped to Morrison.

VIEWS ON SPORT

The City Softball League will hold its official opening to-night at 6.30 in Confederation Square.

After an absence of one season, Curve Lake Indians will be seen in action here this evening in an E.P.L. game with the Lock Works. The game will be played at James Stevenson Park, and if the fans at the Exhibition Park, for the City League contest, notice any stray Spaldings about, the pellets should be returned to the gladiators at the up-town ball yard.

* * * * * *

Lock Works are a new entry in the League, and gave a good account of themselves in their opening game at Keene, when the Otonabee team won a 4 to 1 victory. Several veterans on the Curve Lake team have been replaced by youngsters and the batting punch of the Indians remains very much in evidence.

Bethany is all het up over the game with Crescents at Bethany this evening, and a big crowd is assured for the contest. The home team's fine win over Raybestos has the fans of the district in great excitement and another well-played game will bring baseball back strong on the Durham map.

* * * * * *

Raybestos and Cogs, who put over a tidy battle last Friday night, will go at it again to-morrow evening, and with Masterson and Vannest as the choices for the pitching assignments, the fans are in for an interesting bit of pastiming. On Wednesday evening Bethany meet Crescents here.

The Canadian General and Quaker Oats Soccer teams played to a 1-1 tie in the final of the Phelan Charity Cup on Saturday afternoon. Both teams showed an excellent display of the soccer code, Mitchell scoring the goal for the C.G.E. in the first minutes of the play, while Buchan did the honors for the Quaker Oats.

According to the information given to the press at the last regular meeting of the soccer association by the C. G. E. representative, the Canadian General would play the Toronto team on a certain date, has been repudiated, and the reporter regrets the inconvenience caused the club. The proper date and time will be given when arrangements are completed.

HASTINGS WIN HOME GAME

Defeat Curve Lake 18-8 in Initial Tilt of East Peterborough League.

TAKE EARLY LEAD.

HASTINGS, June 11. — Hastings kept the honors at home on Friday afternoon when the Curve Lake team played their first game here in East Peterborough League. The home team were in good form and played a snappy game of ball, while the invaders were more dependent on their heavy hitting. They went to bat first, but the first three men up were put out without even being permitted to get as far as first base. Hastings scored five runs in their first trip up to bat, and Cowell was responsible for three of them when he hit a homer with two men on bases. This was the only home run of the game, although there were two three-baggers and eight two-base hits.

In the second innings there was some difference of opinion as to whether the balls coming in were strikes or balls. The umpire maintained that they were balls since they were being caught wide of the plate. Ibey walked five men in succession, and then changed places with Stevenson at second base. Stevenson is a southpaw, and pitched a good game for the remainder of the innings and also for third when he changed places with Scriver at right field. If the Curve Lake players had not been over zealous, things might have been different in the third. C. Zufelt caught Beaver trying to steal second and Cowell put the ball on Coppaway for trying to steal home. This made three out with Jacobs still at bat. In the fourth, Taylor retired from the Curve Lake team, and Beaver replaced him on the mound. Ibey and Zufelt at second and first made a snappy double play that seemed almost impossible. It was not a matter of seconds, but fractions of seconds that counted. In the sixth innings, Ibey came back to the pitcher's mound and settled down to play the game in earnest. The visitors got two runs from him that innings, but none in the seventh. Coppaway, of Curve Lake, took a hand at the pitchend of it, and Taylor went out to centre field.

Five minutes less than two hours was the time required for the seven innings to be played. But the game did not start till 4.30. There was some delay in selecting an umpire, since Curve Lake had not brought one with them. It was finally decided that W. Crow, Curve Lake, would officiate at the plate, with S. Spooner of Hastings on the bases. Although there were some spectacular catches made in the outfield, the two features of the game were Cowell's homer and the double play between Ibey and C. Zufelt from second to first.

Curve Lake — W. Beaver, p; A. Johnston, c; G. McCue, 1b; A. Taylor, 2b; W. Jacobs, 3b; R. Muskrat, ss; E. Coppaway, cf; P. Knott, rf; Z. Taylor, lf; M. Taylor, p sub.

OTTAWA DEFEATS LACHINE 3 TO 0

Victors Play Good Game in National Soccer League Fixture.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 11.—(Canadian Press.)— Giving a much improved display to that of their first two starts in the National Soccer League, Ottawa defeated Lachine here Saturday by a score of three goals to nil in a game that was marked by the large number of stoppages due to injuries. Both teams suffered in this regard but the home side came off second best as it lost Campbell, outside right, before half time when that player's ankle was broken when accidently kicked by McLean, and was forced to play the balance of the game with ten men. Previously, Linford, the visitors' centre forward was injured and while he played out the game, he was transferred to outside left where he was practically a passenger and of little use to his side.

Ottawa scored the first goal eight minutes after the kick-off when Doig, headed through from a nicely placed free kick taken by Lorente. At half time the score stood at one goal to nil.

In the second half Ottawa scored twice, Torrance heading through after a melee in front of the Lachine net and the same player by a brilliant individual run, in which he broke away from his own half and beat both the opposing backs, scored the home team's third goal. The teams were:

Lachine — Ferguson, goal; Moon and McLean, backs; Bradley, Bridger and Kerr, halves; Saunders, Connelly, Linford, Robertson and Davies, forwards

Ottawa—Frame, goal; Potter and Calderwood, backs; Dunkerley, Laverie and Lorente, halves; Campbell, Doig, Torrance, Macdonald and Stewart, forwards.

Referee—Mr. J. Graham, Ottawa.

SPORT CHATTER

(By F. D. C.)

That eighth inning causes a headache just to read it over in the score book.

* * *

Hardill has turned in about the two finest pitching performances of the Central League season and both games were lost because the Petes could not hit and because of defensive slips.

* * *

One bright spot from a Peterborough viewpoint beside Hardill's great pitching Saturday was the fact that Max Swanston showed that he had found his batting eye. He was the only player in the game to get two hits, his first single driving in the only Peterborough run.

* * *

The Petes will get going all right when they start to hit. Rose, Ash and Heckman have not struck their stride yet and their failure to come through is reflected in the scores, while the others are not clouting as they did last season.

* * *

As a result of Saturday's game the Petes have dropped down to the bottom of the Central Ontario League ladder. The standing is as follows:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Oshawa	3	1	.750
Belleville	3	2	.600
Kingston	2	2	.500
Deloro	1	2	.333
Peterborough	1	3	.250

Games this week:

Wednesday—Peterborough at Deloro (two games); Belleville at Kingston.

Friday—Peterborough at Kingston.

Saturday—Deloro at Oshawa; Kingston at Peterborough.

* * *

The Petes have a busy week ahead of them with a double header at Deloro Wednesday, a game in Kingston Friday and a return battle with the Ponies here on Saturday. A funny break in the schedule is that while the Petes are playing four games and the Deloro and Kingston teams three Belleville only go into action once this week.

* * *

There were only two extra base hits Saturday and the Petes got both of them. Harrison's triple in the fourth blossomed into the only Peterborough run but Swanston's double in the ninth was good only for his average.

* * *

Shiner Johnston came within an ace of being thrown out on his single to right field in the eighth. The play was closer than the next second.

* * *

Sutton, the Flint infielder, was out of the Oshawa line up Saturday and will be for some time. Sutton hurt his leg in the opening game against the Petes and although he figured in the next couple of games, the leg is now in bad shape.

* * *

Claude Wilson, the Oshawa umpire who worked behind the bat in Saturday's game was making a comeback after being out of the Central Ontario League for a number of years. Wilson, who is a veteran of the Central umpiring staff made a pretty fair job of it at that.

DEFEAT PRO. TEAM.

RYE, N.Y., June 11 (Canadian Press). — Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen defeated Walter Hagen, the British open champion, and Archie Compston, crack British pro., 5 and 3, in an eighteen-hole exhibition match played on Saturday over the Westchester-Biltmore Club course.

BREAK WORLD'S RECORD.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11 (Canadian Press). — The four-man team of the Illinois Athletic Club on Saturday broke the world's record for the 880-yard relay by winning the event in 9 minutes 32⅘ seconds in the National A.A.U. swimming championship.

The old record, 9m. 35s., was held by the same club.

Great Toro First In American Derby

ARLINGTON PARK, Chicago, June 11 (Canadian Press).—The great Toro, a 7 to 1 shot, came back Saturday and won the American Derby over ten fast three-year-olds at the gigantic Arlington Park course while 50,000 spectators, the largest crowd to see a turf event in Chicago's history, roared their tribute.

The entry of Edward B. McLean, Washington and Cincinnati publisher, ran a wonderful race over the fast mile and a quarter course, finishing five lengths of the favorite, Miss-step. His time was 2:04 5-5 and his victory won $22,175 for his owner.

PETES HAVE TO PLAY KINGSTON FRIDAY NIGHT

C.O.B.L. Executive Sets Date For Postponed Pony Fixture.

FOUR THIS WEEK.

The Kingston-Peterborough argument over the failure of the Petes to play in Kingston on Friday, June 1, the date decided on by the C.O.B.L. executive for the playing of the game postponed from the Wednesday previous was threshed out at a meeting of the Central Ontario League executive held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms here on Saturday night.

The decision ultimately arrived at was that the postponed game should be played in Kingston on Friday night of this week and that the Kingston Club should be paid $52 out of the League funds to recompense them for expenses arising out of the fiasco.

President H. T. McFadden was in the chair and others present were Secretary Newton Thompson of Belleville, Messrs. Chester and Luke, Oshawa, R. A. Elliott, Deloro, W. Kennedy, Kingston, and Vice-President Vic Hamilton, Secretary F. J. A. Hall, Manager T. H. Holyman, Jack Pilling and F. D. Craig, Peterborough.

The Kingston Club, through Mr. Kennedy, declared that before their team would play a game in Peterborough, the postponed Kingston game must be played and Kingston must be reimbursed the loss sustained as a result of the failure of the Petes to put in an appearance. In this loss they claimed 85 rain checks which were honored at the next game, as well as their advertising, police and other expenses, the total being $135. Mr. Kennedy declared that the last word received from Peterborough on the day before the game was supposed to be played was that if the Petes couldn't come they would let Kingston know by 7 o'clock that evening.

Secretary F. J. A. Hall of the Peterborough Club declared that he had informed Mr. Kennedy over the telephone that there was no possibility of the team making the trip but that he would see what could be done and would inform the Ponies if it were round possible to send a team.

Secretary Thompson, Mr. Chester of Oshawa and R. A. Elliott of Deloro emphasized the desirability of harmony in the League ranks and urged that the financial side of the matter should not be too strongly stressed.

Finally President McFadden appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Chester, Thompson and Elliott to consider the question and bring in a recommendation.

Their report which was accepted was that Peterborough should play the postponed game in Kingston on Friday night of this week and that the League should pay Kingston $52 to meet the expenses caused by the postponement. Peterborough were given the choice of playing their home game with Kingston Saturday or postponing it until August 18th as they saw fit and they decided to stick to the schedule and play here Saturday.

Mr. Elliott informed the meeting as a member of the O.B.A.A. executive that the Central Ontario League would be granted another two weeks to complete its schedule. This will help to take care of postponed games.

It was decided that the question of whether the second game of a double header should consist of nine or seven innings be left to the home team who must, however, notify the visitors as to their decision before the first game.

President McFadden announced that the next meeting of the League would be held in Oshawa.

COUNTY SECTION SCHEDULE DRAWN

Lakefield is New Entrant in East Peterborough League.

Keene, Hastings, Curve Lake and Lock Works were represented at a meeting held on Saturday night, when several matters concerning the county series of the East Peterborough Baseball League were decided. The Lakefield club communicated with the secretary and will be included in the group of five teams.

Playing dates were revised and the schedule for the week follows:

June 11—Curve Lake at Lock Works.
June 11—Hastings at Keene.
June 13—Lakefield at Hastings.
June 15—Keene at Lakefield.
June 16—Lock Works at Curve Lake.

The remainder of the schedule will be drafted this week. A single series of games will be played, the first and second teams to meet in home-and-home games for the right to meet the winner of the city series. The two clubs within the county standing first and second will play a series for the league trophy.

The Hastings club is drawing players from Campbellford and Warkworth, as is quite proper under the O.B.A.A. constitution, and Secretary Runnels claimed the club found this to be necessary in order to muster a team. The other clubs were of the opinion that the Hastings team would prove too strong for the series. However, the decision arrived at was unanimous.

PETERBOROUGH C. C. IS BEATEN

Toronto C. C. Wins Out By Eleven Runs in Game at Armour Heights.

FINAL SCORE 92-81.

The Peterborough C. C. gave a brilliant display in Toronto on Saturday against the strong Toronto C. C., being defeated by the narrow margin of 11 runs. As a matter of fact if Peterborough had got the breaks that the Toronto club got, they would without a doubt have won the game; three or four sharp catches were missed by the Peterborough fielders, which ultimately assisted in their defeat. The Toronto club included many fine batsmen, including their veteran captain, T. G. Venables. They also had the assistance of H. T. Biggar and C. F. W. Burns, ex-Trinity College cricketers, both brilliant batsmen. Biggar is also a good bowler. The Peterborough club was without the services of Dunkerley, Monkman and Hammond, who were unable to make the trip. Frank Wade of the C.G.E., assisted Peterborough.

Toronto won the toss and put Peterborough in to bat first on a splendid wicket. Thorpe and Stuart opened to the bowling of Catto and Demack. The score was taken to 12 when Stuart was bowled. Thorpe punished any loose balls and received splendid assistance from Dyer and Elliott, who, although not making a great number of runs, kept up their wickets. Thorpe was eventually caught out in the slips, having made 40 runs out of 69. He gave only one chance, and never appeared to be in any difficulties. Elliot ,the Peterborough captain, batted well for 12 runs, the innings closing for 81. This was not a big score on a good wicket, but a good one against the team of Toronto's calibre.

Burns and Biggar opened Toronto's innings again the bowling of Wade and Dyer. Runs came very slowly at the start, as both bowlers kept a good length. With the score at 18, Wade clean bowled Burns, a dangerous man got rid of cheaply. Biggar scored steadily, but was very lucky, being almost run out and also being missed in the field twice; costly mistakes for the Peterborough team. He was finally out after scoring 29. Venables, the Toronto captain, forced the pace and made some brilliant cuts on the off. Finally Jefferson got him lbw. None of the other batsmen reached double figures; the innings closing for 92.
